"Freedom of speech, freedom of the press, freedom of minorities to walk the street and reside in their homes in peace and security, freedom of labor to organize, of political minorities to their right of dissent, are meaningless on paper if they are meaningless in fact," states the conference call.

The all-day meeting will be held Sunday, April 30, starting at 9 a.m. at 607 S. Western avenue. Delegates and observers as well as individuals are invited to attend.

National Music Week, May 8-11, will be observed at North Carolina College with the Annual Festival of Music to be marked by concerts by the college band and choir and recitals by outstanding students in the music department.

Ask Dismissal Of Denham Over Weyand Firing

The Los Angeles Civil Rights Congress has sent a protest to President Truman over the dismissal of Ruth Weyand, brilliant government attorney who was dismissed because she married Leslie S. Perry, national NAACP leader.

Miss Weyand who is white, had been assistant to Robert Denham, general NLRB counsel. Denham said he dismissed her "for the good of the service."

A copy of the telegram follows:

President Harry S. Truman,
White House,

Washington, D. C.:

Urge dismissal of Robert N. Denham as general counsel of NLRB for his un-American act in dismissing his office assistant, Ruth Weyand, for her marriage to Leslie S. Perry, an official of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. Such action cannot be condoned and is directly contrary to the stated anti-Jimcrow policy of the administration.

Labor Dep't. Report Hits Unfair Hiring

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Discriminatory employment practices based on factors of race, color, religion, or national origin are contrary to principles of freedom and equality, the U. S. Labor Department emphasizes in its recently released annual report for the fiscal year ended June 30, 1949.

"The principle that a person shall have economic opportunity in accordance with his individual ability and qualifications is basic to democratic theory," the report points out, adding: "Many of our people, however, are restricted in their opportunity to earn a living by discriminatory employment practices."

MORE THAN 34,000 TREATMENTS GIVEN IN MY OFFICE IN 1949

January, this year, 9,884 Treatments and Laboratory Tests
February, this year, 15,122 Treatments & Laboratory Tests
March, This Year 18,433 Treatments & Laboratory Tests

ENTIRE COST OF TRIAL TREATMENT IS $3.00

This method is endorsed by leading medical authorities of the world

RESIDENTS OF LOS ANGELES are fortunate in having an office that practices New Yorker Technique—a haven for those who suffer—where the cause of Toxic Poison may be removed—where relief of constipation—an elimination, may be obtained in 20 minutes.

NOTE: Toxic poisons cause practically all ill of mankind. When toxic poisons or that which causes disease is removed the result is so effective in producing quick results that the change experienced by the sufferer is hardly less marked than that felt by the prisoner when the ball and chain have been removed from his ankles. It has to be experienced to be properly understood and appreciated.

New Yorker Technique is a scientific method of bringing about a state of erosion to impactions and the slate-like fecal content of the large intestine. In simple language—it reduces solids to a state of solution, so that the contents may be passed by normal effort.

Dr. Brinkley D.C., has the only office that is permitted to practice New Yorker Technique. He has no branch offices.

DR. BRINKLEY HAS A STAFF OF MORE THAN 120 PEOPLE. IS LICENSED DOCTORS AND MORE THAN 60 SPECIALLY TRAINED NURSES AND TECHNICIANS. He has his own private laboratory and complete laboratory facilities, the finest equipment—30 private treatment rooms. IT IS THE LARGEST INSTITUTION OF ITS KIND IN THE ENTIRE WORLD—NO EXCEPTIONS.

This notable organization is outstanding—without equal—and must be seen to be appreciated.

Dr. Brinkley says: To protect the sick against the wrong diagnosis, it is my belief that no doctor should diagnose or treat any illness without and until certain scientific laboratory tests are made. In all cases tests should include complete blood count, urinalysis, microscopic examination and study of stool. If diabetes is suspected a fasting blood sugar test should be given; for liver disorders—various liver functional test given; for infectious diseases—sedimentation rate given; plus other laboratory procedures.

ALL OF MY PATIENTS, UNDER TREATMENT, GET LABORATORY TESTS AT NO EXTRA CHARGE. I will enjoy explaining New Yorker Technique to you without obligation, 8 A.M. to 8 P.M. For my trial treatment I charge $3, which includes various laboratory tests.

Call or write for FREE 120 page book. This book is outstanding. It is a most comprehensive explanation of "the true cause of disease." Book will be sent by mail—no salesman—no phone calls—no obligation. No follow-up letters.

Loyalty Board Member Biased Says Wilkins

NEW YORK—Appointment of Harry Blair to the President's Loyalty Board of Final Review was protested last week by Acting Secretary Roy Wilkins of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People in a wire to President Truman.

"Mr. Blair's record," the NAACP official charged, "indicates bias against Negro citizens and a tendency to classify their legitimate and justifiable protests against racial discrimination and segregation as disloyalty. The record in the Dorothy Bailey case clearly indicates that he regarded a protest against the obnoxious Red Cross policy of segregating Negro blood as a point tending to support a disloyalty charge."

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

The American people—diplomats, statesmen, politicians, and even the common man—are given to making fine speeches that too often are meaningless, except that they excite the people to fear or hate or sometimes both. Of such a nature was the speech given by Secretary of State Acheson last weekend.

In one breath the Secretary made a plea for National Unity, and in another he declared "We are faced with a threat not only to our country, but to the civilization in which we live."

"But," said Secretary Acheson, "if all Americans unite to demonstrate a burning and fighting freedom, we can carry the free world forward to strength and security."

In the same speech and at the same time the good Secretary, in a somewhat pathetic mood says, "We will go on trying to find a common ground for agreement with Russia, but no agreement is possible until the Soviets abandon 'the idea of aggression.'"

The only understanding I have of the term, "aggression," is what I find in the dictionary. It gives as the definition for aggression: "An unprovoked attack; encroachment; aggressive action or practice."

Well, Secretary Acheson in his rather lengthy speech does not cite one specific instance of unprovoked or even provoked attack by Russia on our American domain, or any part of it. Yet our worthy Secretary of State, as I see it, to keep Senator McCarthy and the other provocateurs

JUANITA JACKSON MITCHELL, who will receive her law degree from the University of Maryland Law School in June, was presented the Maryland Law Review Scroll of Honor by Dean Roger Howell at the Annual Alumni Banquet of the Law School held last week in Baltimore, at which U.S. Atty. General Howard McGrath was guest speaker. In 1948, she was the first colored student elected to the Editorial Board of the Law Journal, which is composed of top scholarship students. The Law School was opened to colored students by NAACP court action in 1935. A graduate cum laude of the University of Pennsylvania, B.S., M.A., she is the wife of Clarence Mitchell, National NAACP Labor Secretary, and the mother of three sons. She is also the daughter of Mrs. Lillie M. Jackson, president of the Baltimore Branch NAACP.

Two Confabs Set at ELAJC To Further Gov't Service

East Los Angeles Junior College will be the scene of two conferences in the next few days, with the fourth annual Joint College-Federal Service Council meeting to be held there Thursday, and the third annual Publications Roundup set for Saturday.

Representatives of 18 universities, colleges, and junior colleges and seven federal departments will take part in the Joint College-Federal Service Council gathering, which will be addressed by Robert E. G. Harris, contributing editorial columnist for the Los Angeles Times.

Purpose of the group is to advance the common aims of colleges and federal agencies in this area, with special attention to recruiting the best qualified individuals for careers in government service.

Journalism and photography students from fifty high schools in southern California have been invited to attend.

Fourteen youthful singers, finalists in the city Bureau of Music's fifth annual "Artists of the Future" contest, will compete for top honors Saturday afternoon in the Mayor's conference room at the City Hall before a board of noted musicians. Among contestants will be Robert Hayward, baritone, a 20-year-old Negro student at Belmont Evening Adult High School, who won second place in the same contest last year.

Prizes of $500 and $250 in voice scholarships will go to the two boys and two girls who are named as first and second place winners.

United Nations Charter Cited In Ruling Against Land Bias

A precedent-shattering decision that may pave the way for Negroes and other minorities to gain freedom from United States Jim Crow laws and practices through the United Nations, was handed down by the State District Court of Appeals this week.

The court held that California's Alien Land Law is unenforceable because it conflicts with the United Nations Charter.

The ruling was made in an opinion written by Justice Emmet H. Wilson, who wrote: "The United Nations charter is a treaty between the United States and other nations, and the federal constitution provides that all treaties take precedence of state law."

Alien Land Laws in California were passed in 1920, and were designed to prevent Japanese and other Asiatic nationals from owning land in the state because they are not eligible for citizenship. The laws have been previously declared unconstitutional under the state and United States charter.

The court's decision was made in an appeal made by Sei Fukii, a Japanese who sought to prevent the state from seizing land he had purchased. Justices Minor Moore and Marshall F. McComb concurred in Justice Wilson's opinion.

Attempts by the State of California to seize land purchased by Japanese are equal to the restriction.

Paul Robeson Sings In Los Angeles May 12, Auspices California Eagle

Paul Robeson, the great Negro leader of ALL the people, will come to Los Angeles again, and will be presented in concert at Elks Temple, 4016 S. Central avenue, under the auspices of The California Eagle, Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m.

It will be remembered that the last time Mr. Robeson appeared in Los Angeles, it was at the observance of the 70th anniversary of The Eagle in Wrigley Field, and thousands from far and near came to hear his strong voice lifted in the songs of freedom, and to be inspired by his message of faith that the things we believe in and are working for, will surely come to pass.

Mr. Robeson has appeared in all the principal cities of Europe. He has sung before kings.

He has sung for working people, for those on the picket lines, struggling for better things for themselves and their families. He has put his message into song, and he has spoken too in those cities in Europe and in the cities of America, unafraid, of those things that need to be done to make this world a decent place for everyone to live in.

Following his appearance in Los Angeles, Mr. Robeson will go to San Francisco where he will be presented in concert at the Coliseum Bowl, Sunday evening, May 14. His appearance at San Francisco is sponsored by a committee co-chaired by Dr. Carlton Goodlett, local physician, and Germain Bulcke, of the Longshoremen and Warehousemen's Union.

NAACP Membership Campaign In Full Swing With 20,000 Goal

The 1950 NAACP Membership Campaign of the Los Angeles Branch went into full swing this week as hundreds began canvassing the city. The drive was launched with the endorsement of labor, church and business organizations by Postmaster M. D. Fanning, April 16. The NAACP is seeking 20,000 members locally.

The Central Labor Council, AFL, in its endorsement of the NAACP fund-raising campaign, urged all its locals to make a contribution to the Association's efforts to build a war chest against racial discrimination here.

Both the Inter-denominational Ministers' Alliance and the Baptist Ministers' Union, pledged their active support. Campaign workers within the ranks of the Dining Car Waiters union, are

She asked why none of the white children and their parents had been summoned, and was told by principal Bauer that he could not find out who the white girls were.

Pointing out that the principal was showing discrimination in holding the Negro children responsible for an outburst without investigating the actions of the white girls, Mrs. Clack persisted in her demands that the statements be returned to the parents. This was done, and the principal said he would "give the children one more chance." This was objected to since it had not been proven that the girls were guilty of any wrong-doing.

There have been several outbreaks of racial antagonisms in the school, due, it is believed, to the failure of principal Bauer to practice and teach racial democracy. Last week, a Negro girl was slapped by a teacher because she objected to the rough manner in which the teacher was handling a younger girl. "Shut up or I'll slap you," the teacher reportedly told the girl. When the girl insisted that she not handle the younger child in a rough manner, the teacher did strike her.

The girl, who was 14, slapped the teacher back, and proceeded to defend herself when the teacher continued to hit her. Another teacher joined the fray, and the teen-ager gave a good account of herself. It was learned that the parents of the girl will bring suit against the teacher. Some of the parents plan to lodge a protest with the board of education against the manner in which racial tensions are being built up by the discriminatory practices in the school.

It was about 48 hours later before she recovered sufficiently to be questioned. Young Mills is represented by Atty. Leonard Richardson and will get a hearing today.

Juvenile officers Coffee and Shelton, who are working on the case, plan to get a statement from the girl on details of the party and the persons who were with her when she left. They have been told by the girl's mother about certain men who have been involved with her on other occasions.

Both the girl's mother and police believe she has been intimidated into silence about the drinking and dope habits practiced by teen-age boys and girls at parties. Despite her reluctance, however, police are confident that they will get sufficient information to expose the situation and make arrests.

EDITORIALS

Is This the Kind Of Support We Need?

We want, especially our Negro leaders, to get wise to what is actually happening to us, the Negro people. And what we say here is not intended to be a bitter criticism.

The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People is our biggest and best arsenal of defense. We look to it for organizational leadership.

We have built the NAACP into a giant weapon of defense against such forces as the KKK, the Gerald L. K. Smith white supremacist body, the advocates of restrictive covenants, who work like termites gnawing at the very foundation on which democracy is grounded.

The Negro people, mostly in leadership control of the NAACP, nevertheless invites the assistance and support of all the people who believe in, advocate, and support a truly democratic way of life. But does not mean that support is accepted at any price.

To be specific and yet not call names—just thinking in the open—we refer to and suspect the motive of a big publisher of a widely circulated newspaper who employs hundreds of people in his newspaper plant—not a Negro with a pencil back of his ear at a desk among them—now comes forward and offers wholehearted support to this year's NAACP membership drive.

The editor and publisher of this paper a few years ago went all-out in his efforts to defeat the FEPC initiative measure on the ballot, at that election the most important on the ballot. He not only wrote editorials condemning it as being "impossible to enforce," but urged all the readers of his paper to vote against it, and in the sample ballot, which he usually gives before each election, he had a cross very carefully marked after the word "No."

A few months prior to the real opening of the present campaign, a representative number of Negro leaders in the 14th Congressional District met and decided that the opportunity to get Negro representation in the U. S. Congress had arrived. The committee's first thought was that the Hon. Augustus Hawkins from the 62nd District, was the logical choice. But Mr. Hawkins refused to run. The next person who came forward for the committee's consideration was the Rev. Atty. Vince Monroe Townsend.

Mr. Townsend has come out with a platform that is commensurate with the wishes of the committee and the people.

It has been observed that the newspaper owned by the editor offering his support to the NAACP membership drive, has withheld support of the Negro candidate in the 14th District. As a matter of fact, but casual mention of the Townsend campaign has been made.

The California Eagle is supporting Mr. Townsend, not because he is a Negro, but because he was the choice of the committee.

The 14th Congressional District in our Los Angeles is being eyed by other states. The politically-minded realize that the electorate in the 14th has its first real opportunity for representation in Congress.

At the Chicago meeting of the Independent Progressive Party held recently, the Negro Vote Committee held a session on the Los Angeles situation in the 14th District, and urged its members present from the 14th to bend every effort to send a Negro representative to Congress in 1950.

We are not critical of our leaders in the local branch of the NAACP. Except to advise them to become harmless as doves but wise as serpents.

Where was this editor when we needed his support so badly for the passage of the FEPC? It could have been passed with just a little help. We had se-

"Let's Make This His Last Filibuster!"

American People Can Do No Wrong

For the past several years, ever since the beginning of the "cold war" shortly after the end of the Second World War, this country has taken the attitude that we can go anywhere, do anything, insult our neighbors, patronize friends—and everything we do is "Kosher."

We are the greatest nation on earth. WE are the richest, the most powerful people. WE can do anything. And we don't want anyone over in Europe try to stop us.

That attitude was somewhat modified when we learned that Russia had the atom bomb. The same as we had. We had been banking on that bomb to keep everyone in line, but now that we know another nation, as well as we, possess this deadly weapon, we draw in our horns a little bit. But not much.

We are still boasting about our power, our military might, our wealth. We still think we can do anything, and like the Divine Right of Kings, we feel the American people can do no wrong.

That attitude has expressed itself in the recent incident of a bomber flying over Latvia and being shot by USSR airmen. The bomber, it is believed, has sunk in the Baltic Sea without leaving any trace. And of course we have sent a very "firm" note to Russia, asking for an apology, for the punishment of the men who fired on the bomber, and for indemnities.

Whether or not the situation will grow any worse, remains to be seen.

But just suppose a Russian bomber had flown over our territory! Suppose our people had heard, day in and day out, about the atom bomb Russia was planning to use some day on our cities! Suppose the Russian government had permitted its senators and representatives to say openly that "We ought to send a few atom bombs over there, and wipe them right off the face of the earth."

And then suppose one day we did see a bomber flying over our cities! Wouldn't we have lauded to the skies the brave men who dared to fire upon it? Who saved our cities from certain destruction!

Yes, the king can do no wrong. And if anyone dares to defend himself against our prowess, away with him. Attacking us, he could have no rights, of course.

If You Can't Make It, Don't Drink It

A news release from Milwaukee last week in the J. R. Eggleston column brings to light that Jimcra is on the march in the great beer-making city.

Employment managers in the beer production plants will not allow Negroes to fill job application blanks. And Negroes who insist upon applying for work in the plants are called "Communists."

But even in Milwaukee, in one respect, Negroes share equality with other citizens. They may buy and drink all the beer they can hold. But help to make it? No!

There is one way out of such a situation. Clip this editorial, put it in your pocket, and when you go beer-buying, read it.

"We demand that 15 million Negroes in the United States neither buy nor drink beer produced in Milwaukee until the ban against Negro workers is lifted."

cured the required number of signatures—a Herculean task in itself. Just a little boost, a little support, would doubtless have put it across. But this editor who now comes forward with his munificent support of the NAACP NOW, not only did not help us. He deliberately did all he could to frustrate our hopes of years.

Do we want the support of such turn-coats in our NAACP drive?

Vigilante Giannini Rides Again

There is no excuse for ignorance now about who advocates the use of force and violence.

There is no longer any mystery about who seeks the destruction of academic freedom at the University of California, and for what sinister reason.

We have it straight from L. M. Giannini, the mightiest banker in the West and perhaps in the country.

"I want to organize 20th century vigilantes who will unearth Communists and Communism in all their sordid aspects, and I will, if necessary," said the great financier who reigns over the Bank of America.

That was what Giannini said when the Board of Regents was considering the so-called compromise which substitutes an anti-Communist contract provision for an anti-Communist oath.

It was Giannini who had from the beginning been in the forefront of the fight to impose a "loyalty" oath on the university. And now he was unwilling to grant even the shadow of a concession to the faculty, to permit a substitute for the oath which was the same thing in somewhat different form. He is accustomed to having his own way down to the last detail.

So he offered to resign from the Regents if his will were not imposed on the university in ev-

ROBESON VS. FLAGSTAD

Paul Robeson is not acceptable to the management of the Philharmonic Auditorium—and the engineers of the cold war—but Kirsten Flagstad is. The man who represents the bravest and best in American democracy is hated by those who proclaim themselves the embodiment of Americanism, and shower their applause on the woman who collaborated with European fascists. Is it to be concluded therefore that their concept of Americanism and the ideology of fascism are similar?

Last week the management of the Philharmonic refused to rent their auditorium for a concert by Robeson, one of the great singers of all time. Have you heard any outraged protests by those who consider themselves the leaders of our community? Why are the voices of our civil and religious leaders still at such brazen denials of our traditional rights and privileges? With the honorable exception of Charlotta Bass, Carey McWilliams, Reuben Borrough, Paul Major and Thomas Mann, why don't they protest, as decent Americans have done for generations?

And therein is evidence of one of the major purposes of the cold war, of the onslaught of loyalty oaths and witch hunts and war scares—to divide and intimidate and silence the people, especially those who could and should give leadership in so critical a time. For this is primarily a cold war against the American people, not the Soviet Union.

A Kirsten Flagstad, friend of fascists, is persona grata with the misleaders of our country—and a Paul Robeson, friend of democracy, they fear insanely. This is logical—for those who are rebuilding a Nazi Germany where only five years after the war's end the Jewish people are again forced to form self-defense organizations! This is very logical—for those who contemptuously destroy legal guarantees to persecute the Hollywood Ten, the leaders of the Communist Party, the incorruptible Bridges, exemplars of the people's determination to safeguard America. This is certainly logical—for those who uphold a Parnell Thomas and a Jack Tenney and a Mundt-Ferguson as "100% Americans," and offer shelter to every European and Asiatic traitor who flees the wrath of his own people.

What a desecration this is of the deaths thousands of Americans in the war against fascism! What a betrayal this is of the sacrifices of millions of Americans on the home front and in the lands and armies of our allies! Followed to its logical conclusion this insanity will soon label as "un-American" every American who contributed to the defeat of the German and Japanese fascists. I predict that those who are guilty of this sell-out of our great victory will be damned by history as the most obscene and treasonous traitors of all time.

Called to account they will be, as they must. Called to account they will be by the never-ending struggles of the courageous democrats in our land—by the people who after 300 years of oppression not only still fight back but produce a Robeson and a DuBois, by the people who can produce a Wallace and a Marcantonio, by the people in the progressive ranks today.

We are the guarantee that American democracy will survive and flourish—not the bi-partisans who doublecross the people, not the university regents who fear democracy and the people's knowledge, not the elite who fawn on a Flagstad and are revolted by a Robeson.

It is we who are the inheritors of the ideals of Jefferson and Lincoln—we who fight against Mundt-Nixon and for FEPC, we who defend the right of everyone to speak and teach, including the Communists, we who fight restrictive covenants and police brutality, we who fight for full employment and for world peace.

We are the true Americans, who think and act like Robeson. They have lost faith in America, who prefer the fascists. We belong here—and America belongs to us!

ery particular. He warned "flags will fly from the Kremlin" if the oath is revised. He said that "everyone is underestimating the Communist threat to our economy," and he proposed to organize vigilante bands.

Of course, vigilante bands are not a new idea for Giannini or for the Bank of America. And if sure as my name in California means force and violence, it is the name of Giannini.

The portly and well-groomed Gianninis were behind the vigilantes who broke agricultural strikes during the bloody thirties up and down the great valleys of our state.

And A. P. Giannini, the founding father of the Bank of America, was a profound admirer of fascism in Italy, helped the Mussolini regime with funds and with speeches and was decorated with medals by that regime.

Now the fascist-minded son of a fascist-minded father seeks to organize vigilantes to stamp out what he terms Communism, and he apparently includes within his definition of the menace any criticism or opposition to that vast corporate empire which is the Bank of America.

For him, a "loyalty" oath straitjacket for professors is only a beginning to be followed up by destroying all democratic liberties and finally by the concentration camps of fascism a la Mussolini.

And while the professors bow to the argument that Communism means advocacy of force and

Civic Leader Heads College Fund Campaign

SAVANNAH — Miss Madeline Shively, prominent civic leader, and William K. Payne, president, Savannah State College, heads the United Negro College Fund drive which opened here Monday, April 24.

violence and agree to exclude Communists as teachers, the real advocate of force and violence remains on the Board of Regents.

Giannini is not investigated, criticized or purged for urging force and violence. Instead, the other Regents grovel at his feet. The governor of California, sworn to uphold the constitution, does not rebuke Giannini but begs him to reconsider his resignation.

What a pitiful spectacle these political and business leaders make in their abject obedience to Giannini! But if the spectacle is ugly, it is also revealing.

It should help illuminate for the people in our state the real issues involved in the battle over the "loyalty" oath at the university.

And it should spur a nationwide demand for the removal of L. M. Giannini as a fomentor of fascist force and violence unfit to serve on the Board of Regents. (From Peoples' Daily World.)

LABOR ON THE MARCH

THIS MEASURE OF FREEDOM

The courts are the refuge of freedom and of those who must seek freedom. When the courts considered striking workers as lesser men with no rights that had to be respected, the injunction became a weapon to be wielded by the privileged employers against the simple rights of every man and woman who works.

JOHN M. LEE

Pressure of public opinion, stimulated by the solidarity and righteous aggressiveness of organized workers brought the injunction and its accompanying police terrorism into disrepute, and the courts settled down to judge labor disputes and the right to strike and picket peacefully in a fair and impartial manner. Injunctions are still sought and too frequently granted, but they are the exception and not the rule.

Consider what would happen to the whole concept of freedom in this nation were the lowest courts to decree they would not hear the issue of a case brought by any person from any station in life. The utter lack of determination of an issue that concerned parties with opposing points of view on a legal matter would weaken the foundation structure of the nation. Such an act would create and establish a bias against the petitioner and every other person similarly placed.

It would likewise give by default and undemocratic privilege, a great advantage to those who held the view opposing that of the petitioner. While it is not unusual, in the South to find the courts acting to serve only the interests of white Americans, it is still possible for Negro Americans to hope that some measure of the freedom they seek will come from the courts.

However, the Negro people can find little to hope for in the recent decision of the United States Supreme Court which is the highest tribunal in the land. That body refused to hear the appeal of the ten Hollywood screen writers who were sentenced and fined by a Congressional committee for standing on their rights and not answering questions about their political opinions and affiliations.

To say that the signified and respected Supreme Court dodged considering an issue that vitally affects the future of political freedom and civil rights in this nation, is to utter words that inspire fright and the feeling of abandonment, but that is just what happened. The negative action of the high court places Congress above the people, and the totalitarian practice of inquisition above the constitution. The Supreme Court has, in effect, closed its eyes and said, "no comment" while the Congress of the United States moves to set up its own private concentration camp.

There are some of us who do not believe that a Congressional committee or any other committee has the right to probe into the minds of the people. We have reason to believe that the United States Supreme Court would uphold this view. We want to know what the high court determination on this question is. We believe it is too important an issue to be settled by indifference. We fear that action by no action is too dangerous a practice in a court where almost daily, Negro citizens must appeal from inhuman Jim Crow laws and practices supported and many times fostered by men who make up Congressional committees.

It is impossible to ignore the realities of the situation. Today it is the Hollywood Ten because they dare to resist an invasion of their rights; tomorrow the United States Supreme Court could close the door in the face of a Negro petitioner who came seeking another measure of freedom. There is little difference, at the moment, between the Hollywood Ten and a second-class Negro citizen.

Clearly it is necessary that the United States Supreme Court be requested to reconsider its decision no to hear the appeal presented by the Hollywood Ten. Those of us who realize how important it is to keep the freedom road open and clear of all blocks and obstructions, must notify the Supreme Court that we want an answer in this case . . . not an avoidance.

Two of the Justices of the high court voted to consider the appeal. On the basis of the constitution, they represent the overwhelming opinion of the mass of the American people. We must let them know that, and we must bring their associates into closer touch with the people through letters and telegrams.

This Changing World

By CYRIL BRIGGS

The bestial jimcrow oppression of the Negro people in the United States has emerged, at long last, on the world stage as a global issue of tremendous importance.

The shameful story of jimcrowism and segregation, of lynch terror and job discrimination is being told not only in the Soviet Union, where it long has been a subject of shocked discussion and condemnation; it is being told today in every country of Europe, and in China, India, Burma, Viet Nam, Indonesia, the Malay states and throughout the length and breadth of Africa.

This development is causing grave concern to the propagandists on the Voice of America programs, according to Doris Fleson, a white columnist. It's rather difficult, it seems, to sell "the American way of life" to Europeans and others who are familiar with its anti-Negro, white supremacist character.

"A 1949 trip around the world discloses an America on the defensive on the color question in virtually every country visited," Miss Fleson explains. "What she does to the American Negro is well advertised. . . . Other people of color have made the American Negroes' cause their own to a degree startling to the traveler . . ."

This rallying of other people of color to our cause would be highly significant in itself, since the darker peoples make up the vast majority of the 2,250,000,000 inhabitants of the world and are today successfully challenging the white supremacists in many quarters of the globe. But it is not only the darker peoples who today are one with us in angry condemnation of American jimcrowism. This is admitted by Miss Fleson in her opening sentence. It is emphasized by the weekly newsletter In Fact (March 27, 1950) which warns Washington that its cold war propaganda is getting a hostile reception in Europe and Asia and attributes this fact to European and Asiatic resentment against the treatment of the Negro people in this country, as well as to the related growth of American fascism.

According to In Fact, the American doctrine of white supremacy is under a constant barrage of attacks from the governments and peoples of the Soviet Union and the new democracies of Eastern Europe. In those countries the press and radio, unlike their counterparts in our country, consider as "news fit to print" and to broadcast far and wide every act of violence against Negroes, Jews and other minorities in this country, every assault on their civil rights and on their right to gainful employment. Eastern editors and commentators show constant concern over the failure of congress to pass FEPC legislation. (Nor are they unmindful of the achievements of the Negro people.) Further, comments In Fact, "Hardly a day goes by without one of the Eastern voices repeating the fact that Washington is a Jim Crow town."

This world-wide concern with the fate of the Negro people in the U. S. has put Washington on the spot throughout the world and is a slap in the face of American racists. America's treatment of its Negro citizens has become the criterion of American democracy, the acid test of Washington's propaganda claims to superiority of "the American way of life" over the democracies of the East which rigorously outlaw and punish race hatred and all forms of racial discrimination and persecution.

And it is not only America's treatment of the Negro that has caused Asia, Africa and Eastern Europe to reject the so-called American way of life. The peoples of those areas are adamant-

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

A little booklet, "The Time of the Toad," by Dalton Trumbo, is based on a story told by Emile Zola, the noted French writer, as he told it to a young friend who wondered how in the world any one in his right mind could stomach the times as they were then in France.

Zola told his friend that every morning he went out and got a toad, and ate it alive! He said after he'd done that a few mornings, he could stomach anything, even the diet the newspapers offered him at that time together with the utter hypocrisy of the men in high office, and the complacency and indifference of the French people toward their government.

Dalton Trumbo says that's what's happened to the people of America. We've had a diet of live toads for some time, he says, and now nothing can faze us.

Dalton Trumbo is one of the Hollywood Ten, those men who were brought before the House Un-American Activities Committee as to whether or not they were members of the Communist Party.

Mr. Trumbo says that the mere fact that Un-American Committee is still in existence after more than eleven years of defiance of the American Constitution and of all the freedoms American people protest they hold dear (the Un-American Activities Committee was created by the House of Representatives June 7, 1938, by a vote of 181 to 41) is pretty good proof that the American people have been eating very many toads for breakfast.

If the American people had been really alert to the dangers inherent in such a committee, it would have died before it was born. But since it is still very much alive and active, and actually growing in stature, Mr. Trumbo and the nine other members of the Hollywood Ten decided to offer themselves as a sacrifice to end it.

"The only way to get rid of the Un-American Activities Committee," says Mr. Trumbo, "is to defy it. Placed on the stand before this committee, a man must either collaborate with its members in their destruction of civil rights, or by his refusal attempt to destroy the committee's fraudulent power and mark out its limitations."

So the Hollywood Ten refused

ly determined that fascism shall have no second chance to enslave the world. They well remember Hitler's characterization of Negroes as beasts and savages, the extermination of millions of Jews by the Nazis in their mad drive to impose the rule of the Herrenvolk, of the white supremacists, on the peoples of the world. And they are painfully aware of the sorry fact that U. S. policy today, both foreign and domestic, is deliberately directed toward a revival of fascism. They have seen how American occupation authorities in western Germany halted the denazification process, returned Nazi leaders to positions of power, took steps to revive the German war potential. They know of the witch hunts instigated by President Truman, of the government-sponsored onslaughts on the Constitution and the Bill of Rights, the indictments of progressives and anti-fascists, the attempts to silence Paul Robeson and other courageous leaders of the Negro people.

If America's racist policies and practices are under attack throughout the world today, its intentions towards other countries evocative of alarm and distrust, the American people can blame only those reactionary forces in our country who are intent on maintaining jimcrow and job discrimination, and on reviving fascism and bringing other countries under Wall Street's domination.

to collaborate. They refused to answer the questions put to them and they were cited for contempt of Congress. Their case will again be heard by the United States Supreme Court. They hope, and all America that has not subjected itself to a diet of toads hopes with them, that the Supreme Court will outlaw this truly Un-American Committee by upholding the Hollywood Ten and declaring the Committee unconstitutional.

The Time of the Toad manifests itself in other ways, too, as Mr. Trumbo points out, than in the quiescent assent to the continuance of the Un-American Committee. It colors our entire political life. In the way we accept the loyalty tests. In the fact that the trial of the twelve leading Communists in New York, and their conviction, has caused scarcely a ripple of protest on the quiet smooth lake of our complacency.

The diet of toads is shown in the way we crawl at the mention of the USSR. Or of that dread word "Communism." We're scared to death of what Russia is doing. Or has done. Or may do. We have permitted our representatives in Congress to spend billions of dollars of our money, fighting a shadow which is one of our own making. We say we don't want Russia to rule over us. But the fear of Russia is already ruling us, and forcing us to act like scared rabbits.

We don't want Communism in the United States, we say. But our actions are controlled by the fear of Communism. Even our good acts. We'll have slum clearance because "the slums of America are breeding spots of Communism." The people walking the streets in search of a home don't matter. We'll give them homes just to prevent Communism.

Even Mrs. Roosevelt falls a victim to this diet of toads now and then, Mr. Trumbo believes. In her comment on the Peekskill riot she remarked that it gave "the Communists good material for propaganda." Other commentators said exactly the same thing, however. They were not concerned that human lives were endangered, that people were injured, that American liberty was being trampled under foot. They were just afraid it might give the Communists some additional facts to use in their cold war against capitalism!

WHEN are we Americans going to quit eating toads for breakfast, and go back to the good old ham and eggs of sturdy freedom of speech, of the right of assembly, of going where we please when we please to listen to whom we please?

That booklet, "The Time of the Toad," makes very interesting reading indeed. You can get it by writing: The Hollywood Ten, 1574 Crossroads of the world, Hollywood, Calif.

CASING THE KIDS

CHARLES LLOYD

BACK TO THE SERIES

Got back to the series after a week's absence. Didn't sit in the press though. The boys barred me from that distinction. Said that those choice seats are reserved for officials; gentlemen of the press not allowed. Frankly it didn't matter. We probably wouldn't have watched both games from the press box anyway. Had other more important things to do up in the stands.

Like holding hands with the illustrious Kathy Keys, Lady of the nite; and getting a good gander at our surroundings for the first time. Good Lloyd! We grossly under-wrote those Kappa cheer leaders the other week. Didn't know they put on those weird little dance numbers which make the guys sitting 'cross in front of them jump and holler. That's why you hear so much commotion in the section opposite them. That's why that section is always full.

Needless to say, our prediction that the Omegas would spank the Kappas turned out to be very correct, indeed. (Though, you should know by now that we are 99 9/10 per cent correct on all predictions.) We'll have to throw some flowers at the Omegas, 'cause they played one of the best games ever performed on the Loyola hardwood.

IN THE GRANDSTAND AND DANCE HALL: Muriel (Mo Mo) Arnaud came all prettied up in a fabulously beautiful party dress and looking like a flower girl... Lorenzo Hoard is making a good habit of playing escort to Shirley Turner, who is a beauty of no little report... There was our candidate for City College Executive Council, Vera Lee, giving with a luscious smile which is befitting a lady of her standing... Robert Andrew made a million dollar discovery when he came out with Francine Fortier... Lorenzo Wallace was taking all Omega money.

From Pasadena came: Charming Charlotte Johnson with Harold Jordan; Izella (Junior) Cantrell with Joe Mims and Mary Cantrell with someone whom she shouldna been with; Charlene Henderson, PCC deb, with Arthur Lawson; Luscious Lela Bailey saying that she and Nelson Alexander called it quits for good over a long distance phone call; and "Dumplings" Denzille Taylor, darling little dish.

There were loyal scrollers, Everett Brandon and Elmer Layne, sticking with the Kappas to the end; and Chuck Neal, the baseball man. Joanne Riddle was asking "How did you know?" and Mike Williams said "It isn't true." Gorgeous Gloria Person held forth with legal Leon Thompson and radiant Flora Tryon tipped in with militant Milford James. There was "little dog" Lee Stuart, and "big dog" Arthur Lewis, alone after Zoe Wise went touring the state as a member of U.C.L.A.'s Panel for Americans.

Pauline Smith came with a surprise package in the person of Winston McKesson, and Mildred and Alice Walker walked right into the midst of things. There was "Honest" John Cope, bow tie and all; and Lillian Williams wiggling with Melvin Mansfield. Mary Burnley and Delores Twine revealed some mighty great plans, and Vaal the Frenchman had little to say. Of course there was "earnest" Ernie Powell with magnificent Miss Monna Jones, and "georggous" George Murray. On the other hand was Ernie Bond, denying our allegations of last week, and Ruth Vernon, star of the Sigma cheering section.

BENEFIT DANCE

Elvira Redd and band gave generously of their time and efforts to make music for a benefit dance given for the Working Handicaps at the Alpha Friday nite. Along with the First Lady of the Sax and her troupe, a brilliant songster from South America let go with a couple of folk lores from her native land. The crowd was small but the music was great, which goes to show what a lot of folks miss for so little and such a worthy cause.

Earl Griffin not only gave cheerfully to the wonderful cause himself, but led several other of us guys in who otherwise would have gone across the street. Anyway, there was all the Foster sisters, all darlings, all sweet. From oldest to youngest they answer to: ambitious Annabelle, kind Cora, and merciful Margaret. Pat (Matricia) Chatman is their sister, too, but her last name ain't Foster. Betty Dorsey was being admired by Frank Coleman, and Big Boy Montgomery took up with Tony Taylor.

Little Kathryn Allen, who claims that she is now free from the ties of a boy friend, was outstanding in the shape department, though, you can never count her sister Pat out. Josephine Yarboro returned to the society page with Bernard Williams. Lawrence Hicks was going strong with his little string of pearls, Thelma Brown, and Bernadine Francis and her lover were coming on strong. There was petite Dolores, McCrimmon, who hasn't put that call in yet, and Billie Gued donating to a worthy cause. Andy Allen and Joe Johnson were at the Alpha and 'cross the street at the same time, while Gifford Montgomery more or less stayed put.

Cliff Allen put on a dancing show such as we haven't seen in decades, and Mitzi (Legs) Nelson put her charms on display. There were the Crawford duo of Joyce and Jean, and Miss Gaines in the person of Marlene.

FROM WESTERN TO CENTRAL

Certain little girl tried to sound on us last week and make something out of nothing when she knew that what was said here was never meant to do harm and really didn't do any. After all the great things we've said about her, too. She attempted to turn a couple of her good buddies against us and went so far as to say that we have made an enemy. For this chick's benefit: If we have made an enemy so have you. Didn't say nothing when you were sounding off Thursday, but we formed our own opinions. Certainly aren't the girl we thought you were... N.A.A.C.P. Youth Council is in the midst of its membership drive and all of you are invited to join... Finally got a close-up view of Julie Walker, the classy little dish who is tormenting Artis Rhodes' heart. You picked a good one there, Artis... Tried all we knew to end the cold war, but certain parties insist on holding out with a sense of false pride. Of all things, vanity we do despise. Good nite, all.

Sowing and Reaping

Probably the most notable single feature about William Henry Huff's collection of verse, "Sowing and Reaping" (The Hamlet Press, Avon, Illinois, $2.50) is its singular directness and simplicity. It is written entirely in the vernacular; a style much favored by poets like Edgar Guest and James Whitcomb Riley. And who can speak against it? If there is a place in poetry for the high-flown and somber intellectualizing of the New Critics, then there is also a place for the simple and the unadorned.

Huff's range of interest is wide. He sternly admonishes the neglectful in a poem like "O," (Continued on Page 25)

Wings Over Haiti

By OWEN TROY

(Ed. Note: This marks the beginning of a series of informative and interesting articles by Rev. Owen A. Troy.)

As soon as your Pan American clipper raises its majestic wings to soar into the free air high above Miami, Florida, and the giant four-motored plane points its nose toward the Caribbean, a colored American passenger immediately realizes that from this moment on he is a free American with the equal and unseparated rights that all Americans are supposed to have. He knows that from this time on his color and racial background will not be a handicap. In fact, in some places, they will be definitely to his advantage.

After having our plane tickets validated and our tourist cards filled out at the Miami International Airport, Mrs. Troy and I experienced this full-American feeling when our 9 o'clock plane left the ground and we began our journey to the beautiful islands of the Caribbean where friendly peoples do everything they can to make your visit the trip of a lifetime.

Haiti was the primary objective of our journey, so we shall write of it first. This intriguing and beautiful "magic isle of Haiti," with its colorful population of 3,000,000, located in the warm waters of the blue Caribbean about 700 miles southeast of Miami, is of particular significance and interest to the readers of the California Eagle because it was the first Negro nation in the world to throw off the yoke of European supremacy and emancipate itself.

Ever since its discovery by Columbus in 1492, Haiti has had a rather turbulent history. The Spaniards exploited the native Indians on sugar cane plantations so thoroughly, they were soon exterminated. Then African slavery was introduced with its terrible atrocities. In 1697 Spain was forced to cede the western part of the island to the French who continued to exploit the island until it became France's richest colony. However, numerous slave insurrections kept the wealthy white owners in constant difficulty.

In 1798 the Negroes, united under Toussaint L'Ouverture a freed slave, rose up and seized the whole colony and established a virtual republic. The French had to flee. Later Napoleon sent 70 warships and 25,000 men to recapture Haiti. Although General Toussaint was treacherously trapped under the guise of negotiating for peace and was taken to France where he died a prisoner, his generals Dessalines and Christophe continue to fight until the French were driven from the land.

On January 1, 1804, independence was declared, and Haiti became the second republic to be established in America.

Dessalines, whose imposing statue now stands in the Champ-de-Mars near the National Palace in Port-au-Prince, became the new ruler. His constitution gave the name, "blacks" to all Haitians of all colors and included a precautionary article which remained in all Haitian constitutions for more than one hundred years, declaring: "No white man shall set foot on this territory as master or land owner."

Naturally Dessalines faced opposition from imperialist Europe and the United States. At home, jealous groups plotted against him. In 1806 he was assassinated. Petion then became president of the southern part of the country. Today one can see his statue in the plaza in front of the so-called New Cathedral of Port-au-Prince. Also a delightful town in the hills back of Port-au-Prince is named Petionville in his honor.

The results of that policy (Tsarist) was indicated by the description of the Ukraine on the eve of the war. They become clearer if comparison be made with the Ukraine of 30 years ago. At that time only one child in four was in school; today all are. The number of college students was one-fifth of the figure in 1913 was one-eleventh of the for 1940. Industrial production 1940 output. Formerly industry was one-sided, producing only coal, steel, and the ores needed to make it, for the people had not the means to purchase manufactures. Now it is highly diversified. Even the wheat crop increased forty per cent over its previous high level.

The reaction of the Ukrainians to their changed status was evidenced by the part they played in World War II. Its first unfolding brought them the short-lived joy of peaceful unification with some ten millions of their fellows east of the Curzon line in Poland, and also in Rumania. Lloyd George, World War I Prime Minister of Great Britain, wrote of this action at the time (September, 1939):

"... Russian armies marched into territories which were not Polish and which were forcibly annexed to Poland after the Great War despite fierce protests and armed resistance by the inhabitants."

In those areas the Ukrainian government proceeded to carry through as many as possible of the measures which had been effected in the Soviet Ukraine during the preceding generation. 400,000 landless peasants were given holdings from the estates of the dispossessed large Polish landowners. The 139,000 urban unemployed were given work.

Wages were raised 50 to 150 per cent. Paid vacations, the eight-hour day, and other provisions of Soviet labor law were placed in effect. Schools were opened for the 400,000 children who had been out of school. There were 5596 Ukrainian schools, 922 Polish, 131 Jewish, and 63 Russian. Salt, matches, kerosene, and tobacco were shipped in to provision the peasantry. Official Polish Catholic journals had described them as habitually boiling empty fish barrels to get salt water, and keeping fires burning perpetually because salt and matches were beyond their purse. This was now ended.

When Hitler attacked the Soviet Union he brought into the Ukraine former officials of the Rada of 1918 whom he had prepared for this day. He set them up again as a quizzing government but abandoned this device within a few months when it became evident that it only served to crystallize Ukrainian sentiment against him the more strongly. The clearest indignation of the peoples feeling was the immense guerrilla movement, reported extensively in the world press during the war. This is significant, for it is a law of military science that guerrillas can function effectively in occupied territory only if the populace supports and provisions them, and if traitors willing to reveal them to the invaders are few and far between. This is particularly true in the Ukraine, which is chiefly open and flat, offering none of the advantages of the Belorussian swamps or the Yugoslav mountains.

There were 200,000 guerrillas, organized in groups averaging 100 each. German archives reveal that the Nazis had to divert 786,000 troops to keep them in check. The Germans lost 464,000 killed and wounded in combat with these hit-and-run fighters.

Thus the Ukrainian people took a major part in the war, exclusive of the fact that one-fifth of the troops in the regular Red Army, and 250 of its generals were Ukrainians. Among them were Marshal Malinovsky, who advanced from Stalingrad to Vienna, and then smashed Japan's Kwantung Army in Manchuria; Army General Cherniakhovsky, who first broke onto German soil; and such rank-and-filers as the famous woman sniper (and historian) Liudmilla Pavlichenko, who was officially credited with 309 notches in her gun.

Perhaps the greatest tribute to the people was the fact that although the Nazis were able to cart 3,000,000 away to unskilled slave jobs in Germany, they were unable to get them to use their skills to operate the factories of the Ukraine in two years of occupation.

The wartime demonstration of the strength of the individual republics, and of the durability of the federation, resulted in the amendment of the Constitution of the Soviet Union in February, 1944, restoring to the constituent republics the right to maintain their own diplomatic services and armed forces. On this basis the Ukraine and Belorussia were admitted to the San Francisco Conference, and thereafter also to the United Nations Organization, and the UNRRA. The New York Tribune commented in this regard:

"Within the vast domain of the Soviet Union there are the beginnings of real federalism; it is different from the federalism of either the American Union or the British Commonwealth but it is no less interesting to a world which must, unless it is to perish, find broader federal solutions to the problems of nationalism. All men of good will have a real interest in encouraging the individuality of the Ukrainian, White Russian, and other constituent Soviet peoples, because in the Russian principle of autonomy within a wider union there lie the seeds of significant advance in the organization of peoples."

The end of the war saw the complete unification of the Ukrainian people within a single state for the first time in their turbulent history, when the 700,000 inhabitants of the Carpathian Ukraine chose voluntarily, according to the Czechoslovak government, to leave that country and join the Ukrainian Soviet Republic. By March, 1946, 148,000 acres of landed estates had been distributed among the peasantry. There were 686 schools as against 12 urban schools and 3 "gymnasiums" (high schools) a year earlier. A university had been established.

Since liberation, the problems facing the Ukraine have been two-fold. Internally, there has been the job of repairing the most thorough destruction to which the territory of any large nation has been subjected in all its history. At least two million inhabitants of the Ukraine, Jewish and Slavic alike, were murdered, exclusive of casualties from warfare, general malnutrition, and disease. (Jews who were evacuated to Central Asia have returned to the chief cities in the following numbers: Kiev—50,000; Odessa—45,000; Kharkov—25,000; Vinnitsa—14,000; Berdichev—10,000.) Some three million Ukrainians were driven into slavery. They had to be brought back, in the largest population movement in history. 2700 miles of flooded mines had to be pumped out—a process which

Keep America Free

NEW YORK, April 23—A middle aged woman in one of New York's department stores sold me a pair of boy's shoes last Saturday. She has a lot to do with John Foster Dulles and he doesn't know it.

While writing the ticket she got my address backwards and stumbled over the telephone number, too.

"What's the matter?" I asked, lots of people do the same as you—in other stores, banks, offices. The street address and phone number are easy, you got the atom-fever?"

"I don't know, irritations here and there, I guess," she didn't look up but kept erasing.

She stopped—looked full at me.

"You know, I'm sick to heart of the cold war and war news," and words bubbled out with indignation—"I raised my boy in the first one, glad he didn't have to go, but he went in the second. Now there's to be a third—what's the matter?"

Behind the counter the shoe buyer and her assistant listened, the department was not busy—it was quiet and the woman's words did not falter.

"Some people come here and say war makes business, they make me sick. If war makes business, somebody must get rich."

I'm not usually stuck for a word, but she went past me and fast.

"I read the Bible, it says there'll always be wars and rumors of wars, and I hold to my Bible, I want it. But somebody must be getting rich—it's the capitalists, I suppose."

She pondered a moment and doggedly added:

"I guess I ought to get a soapbox. I don't want war, I don't get rich—I want my Bible, but those capitalists must get rich, who else?"

John Foster Dulles doesn't know many Americans like this woman, or the two small store officials who listened and whose faces showed it. Mr. Dulles is featured in LIFE writing of peace as if it were war—"How to Take the Offensive for Peace"—"A General Staff for Peace" and now his number one boy Dean Acheson adds "Total Diplomacy."

Both the State Department and "unpartisan" Truman Administration have fears and worries because the people are apathetic to the cold war. One politician said, "the cold war is a poor vote getter." More Washington press reports show Americans are not only apathetic to war, but do not want one. All over America there are lots of women like this one who sold me the shoes. When she said, "I oughta get a soapbox," my heart went out to her. When the American people and the American women especially, take to the soapbox, become articulate and demand peace, and begin leading as did the 50 Minute Women for Peace from New England who came to New York last week by auto caravan, there is hope for America, for peace.

This caravan had slogans wrapped around the cars. Wherever it stopped enroute, people signed petitions for peace and an understanding with the Soviet Union. I met these women, the finest out of New England's American traditions—of families that first came upon the rocks and wilderness that was the land of America's first settlers. These women had many stories to tell, of how people in towns and cities responded to peace, and later they presented their petition to the UN.

I wished I had had one to give to the saleswoman. She would not only have signed it but circulated it for more names. In her words and heart was an urgency for peace, something millions of our women feel and which we American progressives must encourage and reach.

No matter what Dulles says, does or writes—no matter how many military or naval exhibitions Truman visits—our people are holding to peace, just as this American working woman who said to me, out of the urgings of her heart for peace—"I ought to get a soapbox." And a soapbox is as American as apple pie.

Speak up for peace—Americans will listen and join. And do it now.

will not be completed until the end of 1947. 668 railway bridges have had to be rebuilt. Of the 12,000 miles of track in the Ukraine, 11,000 have had to be repaired. At the end of 1945 Ukrainian pig-iron output was only one-fifth of normal, power less than a fourth, coal one-half, and overall industrial production just above one-fourth of pre-war. Yet the Fourth Five-Year Plan provides that the former level in these fields, and in housing and agriculture as well, be passed in 1950. A third of the rural housing and three-fifths of the urban must be rebuilt. However, 318,000 homes and 72,000 farm and public buildings had been erected by March, 1946. Livestock losses were half of the cattle and hogs, three-fifths of the horses, and four-fifths of the sheep. It will be 1950 at least, before this is made good.

The progress that has been made is symbolized by the fact that some light was provided to every Ukrainian city in 1945, although the Dnieper dam was still out of production and every plant had been damaged to a greater or lesser degree. This reconstruction is largely a result of the system of "Lend-Lease" to the less fortunate nationalities. If the Ukrainians had not helped the Kazakhs of the Asian steppes to establish modern agriculture a decade ago, Kazakhstan would not be able to ship tractors and agricultural exports to the Ukrainians, as it has been doing.

This policy is no wheing applied in an entirely new sphere, outside the Soviet Union, where the Ukraine is seeking to win the goodwill of the neighbors along its 800-mile frontier.

Kiev is keenly aware of the deeprooted mistrust of all things Soviet in Poland. A century and a quarter of Tsarist oppression left deep furrows in the Polish mentality. The liberation of Poland from Germany by the Red Army did much to overcome old suspicions. So did the participation of Polish armies, equipped by the Soviet Union, in that campaign. Nevertheless, the war itself added fuel to the fire of ancient enmities. Hitler pursued, within the boundaries of pre-war Poland, a policy similar to that he followed in Croatia and Slovakia. He encouraged nationalistic Ukrainians in the Lvov area to give vent to their hatred in wild reprisals against the Poles who had ruled them even longer than Russians had dominated Poland.

But mutual interests in peaceful relations demanded that obstacles be overcome. The Soviet Union is demonstrating its intentions through the concrete material assistance that Poland now needs more than anything else. This comes mainly from the Ukraine, Belorussia, and Lithuania, which border Poland. These republics, and the Ukraine first of all, as it recovers its own economy, are playing the prime role in Soviet-Polish relations. Nikita Khrushchev, the Ukrainian Premier, headed a delegation of Soviet experts cooperating with the Poles in rebuilding Warsaw. The Soviet Union has undertaken to meet half the costs of rehabilitating the Polish capital. The future course of these efforts can be expected to be directed toward eliminating remaining hostility, while striving to convince at least the Poles and other Eastern European peoples that the Ukraine and the other Soviet republics do exercise indea mountain near Milot. It stands there overlooking the sea and ready to protect the people should be French return. This mountain-top citadel, "the eighth wonder of the world," was garrisoned by 10,000 men, gun turrets mounted with 365 heavy bronze cannons and provided provisions and water to withstand a siege for a year or more.

As our American-trained Haitian pilots flew our DC-3 around this great fort which is so large that it appears to be part of the great mountain from a distance, we could see why so much has been written and said about this mammoth stronghold. Its walls are 80 feet high and are 16 feet thick. Almost inaccessible, one can readily understand how it was that thousands of lives were lost in building the fort and transporting almost entirely by man-power the materials and cannons to this great height.

Christophe was ruthless in his demands upon the people, but the people admired him despite his cruel tyranny and his program of endless, unrelenting toil. For the sugar lands flourished again, the bridges, roads and schools were built and towns prospered.

The many turbulent years which even included occupation by the United States marines seem to have come to end when the rioting mobs in Port-au-Prince in 1946 forced President Eli Lescot to resign and leave the country.

His fall brought to an end the caste system rule forced upon the masses by a so-called elite group which composed 3% of the population and which had little interest in the welfare of the poor and the common man. This group had established a virtual dictatorship based on skin color and economic position.

With the revolution of 1946 the masses assumed power. A new constitution was drafted and Dumarsais Estime was elected president. He is a man of vision who came up through the ranks. His slogan has significance: "Estime is for the people and the people are Estime."

In a previous regime those expecting to qualify for queens of festivals or beauty contests had to be definitely on the light side of the color spectrum. But a change is quite evident in Port-au-Prince today. Even in government positions this change is evident.

When we arrived at the Pan American airport at Port-au-Prince, the immigration officer, Oge Casgar, who speaks English fluently, and who was meeting the incoming passengers, is definitely of Negro extraction. Introducing ourselves, he courteously told us the procedure and then placed us at the head of the line of American tourists entering the country. This was one of the many times that we found out from personal experience that white skin is of no particular advantage in that and many of the other countries in the Caribbean.

out the great importance of selecting members of Congress and of the State Legislature in the coming election who will have the welfare of the people of the State at heart, and not the great financiers.

The Congressional and the Assembly districts will be reapportioned, following the taking of the 1950 census. This should be done fairly. The appointment is not fair today. For example Los Angeles County which has a population of 4,190 has one State Senator. So also does the Mono-Inyo district with a population of only 16,920. As a consequence the little counties with the same number of senators as the larger counties, have complete control of the Senate. And that control isn't always for the best interests of the people of California.

Big industrial interests can more easily influence a fewer number of voters to vote for their men, than they can a population of several millions.

UDC HAILS UC PROFS

The United Defense Committee Against Loyalty Checks hails the determination of the faculty of the University of California in their resistance to the demands of the regents that they sign "loyalty oaths."

"Academic freedom either exists or it dies," said a statement. "The fact that a thought, idea or conclusion which is prohibited may seem undesirable in no way alters the issue."

The UDC, with offices at 919½ West 6th Street, Los Angeles, is an organization composed of city and county employees who were discharged for refusal to submit to loyalty checks and surrender their rights by our Constitution.

DR. BUNCHE SPEAKS

ATLANTA, Ga.—Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, department of Trusteeship, United Nations, delivered the fifth John Hope lecture at Atlanta University last Sunday, April 23. Dr. Bunche was the first Negro to receive a Ph.D. in political science, the first to receive a "desk job" in the State Department, and the first to achieve an international reputation as a diplomat, resulting from his success as UN mediator in solving the problems of Palestine.

The John Hope lecture series was inaugurated in November 1938, as a memorial to the fifth president of Atlanta University.

O. R. Angelillo, Democratic candidate for governor, will return to Los Angeles by plane to perfect his Southern organization and open state headquarters this weekend at the Stowell Hotel, 416 S. Spring St.

Young Minister and Bride

Bride Chooses Golden Theme As Wedding Reception Color

A host of friends and well-wishers attended the beautiful wedding reception of Rev. G. Mansfield and Alesta Carey Collins last Sunday at dusk in the reception suites of Ralph Porter's Casa Raphael, 453 East Adams blvd.

The lovely bride chose a gold taffeta Cecile Chapman Original etched in tiny daisies around the shoulder line with a captivating matching stole. She carried a bouquet of stephanotis and orchids.

The bride's mother wore blue chiffon with insert lace complimented by pastel accessories and an orchid corsage. Imported French black lace with a brown orchid corsage was the choice of the groom's mother. Miss Fay Hill, sole attendant of the bride, carried a bouquet of sweetheart roses and gardenias while the junior hostesses accented their gowns with white gardenias.

The reception scene, attuned to a background of golden magic, was a profusion of golden iris, tulips, delphinium and white stock 'n' gladioli.

The table was centered with a huge wedding cake set off with pineapple frappe punch on a gold punch. A large array of presents were received by the newlyweds.

The couple were married in Mexico March 19 and repeated vows in a private ceremony one week later with Rev. H. Mansfield Collins officiating.

The popular daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Carey is a music major at USC while the groom is his father's assistant at Neighborhood Community Church. He, too, attended USC. They are at home to friends at 320 East 47th Place.

Through its public functions a better understanding and closer relationship between the profession and public has been established.

Medical Auxiliary Work in Community Establishes Rapport

Mrs. Joyce Cockerell directed the annual fashion show of the Auxiliary of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical association last Tuesday held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Eugene Hardimon. Hostesses for the outstanding affair were Mmes. Clara Webb, Geneva Wallace, Glenna Hayes, Mildred Hawkins and Georgia Hardimon.

The Auxiliary, since its origin in 1927 under the leadership of Laura Smitherman, has worked in community affairs to the present day. Its program has included furnishing toys for the children at Pilgrim House, sending girls to camp, supporting the PTA milk fund, furnishing a play therapy table for the Camarilla State hospital, providing a set of dishes to the Woodlawn Branch YWCA and working actively in its annual membership drive. In 1947 the Auxiliary received a cup for bringing in the highest number of memberships under the chairmanship of Mrs. Edith Bailey.

Langston Registrar Attracts Membership At Local Meeting

Professor C. D. Batchlor, Registrar and former Professor of English at Langston University, spoke to the University's Los Angeles Club at their regular monthly meeting Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. K. L. Smallwood, 1209 S. St. Andrews Place.

Prof. Batchlor spoke of the many improvements at the University and the plans for the future. He also spoke of the many Negroes now attending the University of Oklahoma and the Oklahoma A & M College. There was a large group of Langstonites present to greet Prof. Batchlor, and they were all glad to know that at last equal educational opportunity is a reality in Oklahoma.

Miss Jean Smallwood reported on the progress of the annual spring dance that is to be held at the Zenda Ballroom, June 2, 1950. The next meeting will be held Sunday, May 28, 1950, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Chapman, 1230 S. Wilton Place.

Clifford Van Hargis To Chair Kappa Guide Right Program To Be Held May 5-21

The Los Angeles Chapters of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity will observe the 28th Anniversary of the National Guide Right Movement May 5 to 12 inclusive. Clifford Van Hargis, vice president of the Alumni Chapter and Chairman of the local Guide Right Commission announced this week.

The Guide Right Movement is a plan to aid high school senior boys in making vocational choices in line with their aptitudes and abilities with the assistance of well trained and successful men representing these various trades, businesses and professions.

The movement is both inspirational and directive and was begun as a result of work of such nature which was performed among the youths of this city in 1920. Many of those same youths now among the outstanding men of the city. At present the movement serves youths in many cities over the nation according to the announcement. Van Hargis stated that Guide Right conferences will be held at 28th Street YMCA on May the 5th and 12th and a public meeting will be held Sunday, May 7th at Holman Methodist Church, West Jefferson at Cimarron Street.

A DREAM IN SILHOUETTES was the magnificent production presented by Eadward, noted hair stylist, last Sunday afternoon for the benefit of the Outdoor Life and Health Association. Against the plush background of the swank Ciro's nitery, models made dazzling entrances. Fotoviewed are Jessemer Boyd, one of the more statuesque models appearing in the show, Margaret Knox, another lovely mannequin, and director, Eadward.—Tommyfoto.

Socialites Solidly Support Outdoor Life 'n Health Assn. Ciro's Benefit Fashion Show

One of the most spectacular fashion reviews ever staged in Los Angeles was the beautiful production of Edward's "Dreams in Silhouettes" last Sunday afternoon in the plush setting of the famed Hollywood night spot, Ciro's.

More than four hundred guests viewed the well-produced, well-timed benefit for the Outdoor Life and Health Association. The program was overtured with Adinsell's "Warsaw Concerto" by Samuel Brown and the ensemble, followed by Edward's "Now Look" scene in which six lovely models featured the Voguish gowns of Don Loper and hair-styles of the noted hairstylist.

Each of the five succeeding scenes were just as distinctive and interesting. In the evening wear scene beautiful Dot Spencer modeled a delicate pink dancing dress from the Pearl White estate with sapphire jewels and a pink frou-frou fan of Marie Dressler's. This ensemble showed the influence of the 1920 designers upon today's fashions in fairly definite lines.

The Fabulous Hats of Harriet Wadley and Bettye Clark won plaudits as did the poised, statuesque Jessemer Boyd, who modeled Meyer Berliner's Silver Blu Mink and Don Loper's deep bosomed cocktail dress to great advantage.

Unique and fantastic feature of the show were Eadward's three decorative hairstyles, more French in taste than American. His "Snake," "Keeper of the Forest," and "Woman of Tomorrow" were strangely fascinating yet grotesque but with a definitely creative flair for the bizarre. Another of Eadward's features was his jeweled skin that sparkled brightly, accenting lady's makeup and costume.

The gown of the evening was Don Loper's rainbow green marquisette over which layers and layers of deep ruffles fell. The top featured a deep bosom neckline encrusted in white roses, a Silhouette in Dreams.

The show was a magnificent success and would have been complete had the management of Ciro's fully cooperated in the matter of providing five hundred seats promised the Outdoor Life and Health Association for reserved patrons. Because only three hundred seats were set up, OLHA had to turn away many paid guests to their embarrassment.

New York Executive To Broadcast Sun.

Miss Alma Vessell Johns, executive secretary of the National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses Inc. from the national headquarters in New York City, will speak at Independent church, Sunday, April 30 over the broadcast at 10 a.m. station KOWL and the morning service at 11 a.m.

This program is being given under the auspices of the Los Angeles chapter of the Nurses Sorority, Chi Eta Phi, of which she is honorary member. Miss Johns is enroute to the Bi-annual convention of the American Nurses Association in San Francisco. Fay Wilson, president, Delta chapter.

Youth Rampages

By NELLIE BECKER

If some one said school teacher to you, you would envision a bespectacled old maid with a stern expression on her face dressed in a loosely fitted drab colored garment. The school teacher back in the early part of the 20th century, couldn't really enjoy herself because the community restricted her activities. In some states they wouldn't even hire married women to teach their children. The teacher whose duty it was to educate the masses was just as underpaid then as she is today. But lets take a quick peek at the school teacher of 1950.

THE NEW LOOK

Dorothea Fearance one of Los Angeles glamorous school teachers left teaching temporarily to model in Paris and created quite a sensation. The svelte, sauve milady, Lenocia Boggs (home economics teacher) was arming it into one of the downtown theaters with Alphonso Tripplett. Pat McCloud looked real sharp at the Doctors Wives Fashion Show given last Tuesday. Leola Beavers drove up to the Iota's unique Coffee Hour and Fashion Show in her 1950 Ford. Church activities filled the weekend of the 21st for the fashionable Lucille Bonnet basileus of Alpha Kappa Alpha.

Teachers taking advantage of the hours spent at home like Mrs. George Garner who can cook the most delicious lemon meringue pie when she isn't correcting papers. Marion Patterson brightens up her home with sprigs of flowers cleverly arranged in different parts of the house. Albertina Robinson sports a fine knitting bag while she knits for the expectant heir to the Robinson family. The Clayton Russells no longer expecting are now three.

AFTER HOURS

Ciro's slightly altered its complexion last Sunday afternoon when the O.L.H.A. presented "Dreams in Silhouette." Mrs. Margery Malone nursery school teacher watched the parade of beautiful Negro, Oriental and White models trip across the stage featuring the smartest look in furs, gowns and hair styles. As she turned around she saw Yoland Stovall and Arthur Burris (down from Berkely Medical School) Grace Dyson, Dr. Ennis, Judge and Mrs. Jefferson, Haroldine Browning and Ruth Epps (in a pearl studded hat) hurrying past crowded tables. Attractive schoolmarm Willa Waters and Ruth Johnson overheard socialites discussing whether or not they should have their hair bobbed close to their heads like Edwards models.

Earline Shaw forgot the classroom as she yelled her lungs out in favor of the Alpha's at the Inter Frat game. Alas, in the last two minutes of the game the Sigma's broke the tie. Those personable twins Ella Redman and Eva Johnson were right there when Omega's "stomped" all over the Kappa's. Verna Dauterive looked very chic in her oriental flared skirt stepping between the shoulders of the folks trying to get to her seat. Johnny Merrill (counselor at Hooper) was at the door collecting tickets. The Interfrat games wouldn't be complete without Lloyd Thomas, counselor at Jefferson High.

Cultural activities are a part of every teachers program. Pert Edna Desvignes and Mary Frances Wells attended the premiere of Angel Street given by the Negro Repertory Theatre with their club the Merry-Go Rounders. You shouldn't miss it. Jean Watkins went backstage with Clara Fentress (designer) to congratulate the group on their superb acting. Hazel Whittaker Moore first Negro school teacher in Los Angeles to teach in the high schools, teaches music after school. Sanola Maxwell Green has a little theatre built right in her mansion. Here young people are trained to act in serious and musical plays. Ah yes cocktails—Frances Drye and Connie Harper were two of the charming Comradette hostesses to serve cocktails to their guest at Lena Torrences abode last Sunday evening. As you can see the teachers enjoy much more freedom today than they did in 1910 but what about the pay?

Returns From Extended Trip To Mardi Gras

Mrs. Odessa Carrington of East 49th Street, arrived in Los Angeles Monday, ending a nine weeks vacation during which she witnessed the New Orleans Mardi Gras and modeled in a fashion show for a church benefit.

In Houston, Texas, Mrs. Carrington appeared as soloist at one of the leading churches. She also visited Dallas and Fort Worth.

With Mrs. Carrington is her God-child, three year old Nedra Ann Moore of Houston, Texas. Active in social and civic affairs, Mrs. Carrington is an active member of the Second Baptist Church.

Membership Drive Kickoff Meeting Of Sojourner Held

The annual membership of the Home got underway yesterday when a very fine kick-off meeting was held from 2-4 p.m. Mrs. Laura Forester, second vice-president and chairman of the regular membership of the Home, presided. Mrs. Laura Armstrong is acting as co-chairman for this year.

A fine program was the feature of the evening, with Mrs. Esther T. Greenly as the guest speaker. Community singing was conducted by Mrs. Wilma Chapman who also presided at the piano. The aim this year is three hundred members. Many persons present consented to be captains and attempt to retain the older members along with obtaining as many new ones as possible. affair. Mr. Kirkpatrick will include in Sunday's program compositions by Beethoven, Schuman, Brahms, Debussy and others. The place of the recital is the auditorium of Pepperdine College, 1121 West 79th Street, (Vermont at 79th Street), and the time is next Sunday afternoon, April 30th, at 3:15 p.m.

Iota's Auxiliary Club is sponsoring the affair in behalf of the Iota Scholarship Fund. Eunice Evans, the energetic President of I.A.C., the recital committee, Alpha Jackson, Olva Ellison, and Pauline Yarbrough, and all the Club members have worked tirelessly and confidently expect a full house to reward their efforts. Tickets may be purchased at Harriett's Hat Shop, Southern California Music Co., West Coast Agency, or from any member of I.A.C. or Iota Phi Lambda.

Harmony Bridgees Joins Westsiders In Regional Tournament

The Harmony Duplicate Bridge Club met as is usual each Thursday night at the club house, 2711 South San Pedro. Seven tables were present, with the play for the night being directed by Timothy Burris, the newly appointed assistant director. Winners for the evening were Mrs. Gertrude Settles and Mrs. Mattie Trent. Mr. V. B. Connor and Mr. C. Harris were second and in third place were Mrs. Lene White and Mr. McKinley Nelson.

Dr. Darthula Matthews and Mr. Ellis Veil were the trophy winners for the month of March.

The club is sponsoring a bridge tournament at the 28th Street YMCA, May 29 at 8 p.m. This tournament is open to the public and is for a very worthy cause; that of helping send underprivileged children to camp.

Congrats to the Westsiders on their record breaking Regional held at the Crystal Tea Room. Many of the Harmony group were present, lending their support.

Trophies were presented to Mr. Steed and Mr. Andrews, the winners of our recent Regional, by Mrs. Daisy Watson, our club proxy.

Mrs. Marion Porter entertained the Friday Nighters by taking them to the Dance Theatre in Hollywood, where they enjoyed Carmen DeLavallade in "Salome" returning to the Porter's home for supper and to watch Mmes. Charlen Johnson, Florence Atkinson, and Bernice Boddie open their baby gifts. Guests were Mmes. Elois Davis, Clara Webb, Emily Portwig and Davine Carney.

Mr. and Mrs. Fernandel White of 3624 West Adams Blvd. are making it very pleasant for their houseguest, Mrs. E. W. Sorrell of New Orleans. Sightseeing and country trips have been enjoyed.

Dr. and Mrs. Thomas Green entertained the Add Club Saturday evening with a bridge dinner.

Mrs. Emma Holt was hostess to the Just For Fun Club Friday with a bridge luncheon. Club prizes were won by Emily Portwig and Margaret Moore. Guest prizes were won by Etta Sherman and Zora Williams.

Mrs. Hortense Alewyne entertained the Bib and Tucker club Wednesday at the Crystal Tea room. Mmes. Sydneta Smith, Mary Ellis Johnson and Dorothy Rowland were added to the club.

Mrs. Helena Smith gave a pantry shower Saturday for her grand-daughter, Miss Norma Winston, who will marry Tony Robinson in May.

The tea given by the Inter-cultural committee of the University Religious Conference Sunday at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. J. A. Somerville for Stevens House, an interracial home for the students of UCLA, was a financial success.

Wadsworth PTA Chooses Delegates To State Confab

Wadsworth Parent-teacher Association's regular monthly meeting held Wednesday, April 19, 1950 was highlighted by a playlet by the kindergarten classes. Good health habits, the beginning of good housekeeping and graceful folk dancing was beautifully demonstrated.

The paper and rag drive for April 26th was discussed and an apron (waist line) measurement drive was planned.

The association voted to send the outgoing president, Mrs. H. L. Austin, and the president elect Mrs. Alfred Ligon to the State Convention which will be held at Santa Cruz, California.

A "Name the Newsette" contest was announced to find a name for the P.T.A. newsette to be published monthly. The contest is open to all but only one name may be submitted by each pupil. An award will be given the pupil submitting the winning name.

PRESIDENT AND MRS. G. L. HARRISON of Langston University held "open house" last Friday for more than 200 delegates who attended the state convention of the Oklahoma Congress of Parents and Teachers convening at Langston. Pictured above is the charming Mrs. Harrison who... greeted the group with a warm welcome. A graduate of the Ohio State University, Mrs. Harrison is a member of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority and president of the Book Lover's Club.

Jack 'n Jill April Events

The 14-17 group of the Jack 'n Jill club enjoyed its April event last Friday with a dancing party held at the home of Mrs. Esther Rogers, 1928 West 21st street. Chairman of the affair was Mrs. Bernice Lawson. Others helping to make the affair a success were Ida Miller, Esther Taylor, and Myrtle Dunn.

The 7-10 group, according to Carolyn Shifflet, were entertained with a roller skating party this month. The mothers of the 11-13 age group will discuss last minute plans for the coming hayride at a special call meeting next week. Sue Jackson was elected chairman for another term.

Josephine Smith, heading the 2-6 group, reports that her group is planning something unique for their May event. The entire group is headed by Elois Davis, retained for another year; Charlene Johnson, vice-president; Emily Portwig, second vice; Sydneta Smith, secretary; Ann Smith, parliamentarian; Dot Rowland, financial secretary; and Eloise Carr, treasurer.

October Club Swells Roster At Regular Meet

The Los Angeles October Club held its regular meeting at the residence of Mrs. Fred Watkins, Sr., 2148 West Thirtieth street, with the president, Mrs. McClinton Davis, at her post. It was a joy to have Mrs. Claude Devers in the business meeting for the first time.

The afternoon was further sparked by highlights and comments concerning the recent soiree given at the Tenth Avenue home of Mrs. George Williams. All the members were recipients of gratitude from the president, with Mesdames Samuel Hamilton and William Tatum receiving appreciation from the rest for their efficiency in chairing the social and program committees, respectively, for the affair.

The club feels deeply grateful to Mr. Millard Lacey, Miss Edith Carr, Mesdames Samuel Barnes, Melvin Bowdan, Earle Munford, Coral Johnson and Frieta Shaw Johnson for their participation in making the soiree successful and enjoyable.

Adding the names of Mrs. P. J. Daniels and Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Francis to the club roster and partaking of the delicious refreshments prepared by the hostess concluded a most delightful session. The next meeting will be in July with Sergeant Samuel G. Barnes as host.

Bob Boyd and Jerry Pease, second and third string centers for the University of Southern California cagers, both starred 1948.

Mine Mill Local Trounces CIO Union-Busters at Local Plant

In the first test of strength between the long established Mine Mill Local 700 unit at the Adams Campbell Co., Ltd., and the UAW CIO, assigned by National CIO to raid the membership of the IUMMSW, the UAW was soundly trounced by the workers in an N.L.R.B. vote, held last Friday.

Final tabulation of the vote showed 33 votes for Western Mechanics 700, International Union of Mine, Mill & Smelter Workers, and 10 votes for the UAW. Of particular interest in the repudiation of the UAW by the Adams Campbell workers is the fact that it was in this plant that the UAW had alleged to have its strongest hold on the membership of the Mine Mill Union.

Jack C. Marcotti, International Representative of the IUMMSW, who led the defense of the Mine Mill bargaining rights at the Adams Campbell plant stated:

"This is a significant victory for the democratic, rank and file trade unionism of the IUMMSW. Despite smear attacks, red baiting and splitting tactics employed by the UAW CIO, the workers at Adams Campbell defended their own Union, Mine Mill, which has won steadily increasing benefits for them during the 9 years of bargaining rights in the plant, and successfully beat off the raiding UAW."

The Mine Mill union is now moving to consolidate its victory in the election by opening a drive for improved wages and working conditions for the workers.

Mother's Dinner Planned By Chrmn. For Sojourner Truth

A very fine Mothers' Day Dinner will be held at the Sojourner Truth Home on May 14 beginning at 1 p.m. This affair is being given by the Ways and Means Department of the Home, Mrs. Florence Carter, Chairman.

A featured program is being planned by Mrs. Estella Blodgett, Chairman of Education and will begin at three o'clock. A fine menu has been planned and a special feature is the honoring of two mothers, both of whom are pioneers in the city. They are Mrs. E. A. Johnson, and Mrs. Georgia Robinson.

Mrs. Robinson will have a very special occasion in that the month of May is her birthday and wedding anniversary as well. The public is invited to attend this very unique affair and either bring a mother or daughter.

"It's not the game itself, it's the spirit behind that counts most," Rev. John J. Birch of the Catholic Youth Organization told an assemblage of CYO athletes and athletic directors recently.

Hazel Scott Wins Bias Suit

SPOKANE, Wash.—Hazel Scott, pianist and wife of Congressman Powell of New York wins $250 damages of her $50,000 suit against a Pasco, Wash., restaurant for refusing to serve her because she is a Negro. Sued were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Utz, former owners of the restaurant. Miss Scott's complaint was based on a Washington law enacted in 1909 which forbids operators of certain public places to refuse service to persons because of race or color.

Carmen DeLavallade Makes Debut In "Salome"

By Gertrude Gipson
Carmen De Lavallade, Lester Horton's newest exponent of Modern Ballet, charmed her audience last Friday evening at the Dance Theatre when the beautiful seventeen-year-old Negro girl made her debut in the title role of Salome.

A first cousin to Janet Collins, noted dancer, it can be truthfully written that this lovely girl is following in the footsteps of her cousin.

Lady Day Thrills Quaker City

PHILADELPHIA — Plaudits again and again is the inimitable record of Billie Holiday, the nation's most sensational vocalist. Starring in an extraordinary stage show at the Earle Theatre, she was terrific, and that's putting it mildly. It was the greatest attraction here this season, drawing capacity crowds at each performance.

This engagement is her first appearance at the Earle in nearly three years, although she did appear at a local night club last season.

As usual, her Philadelphia fans were loyal and grateful, and showed their appreciation with enormous applause; and she was besieged by autograph seekers and requests for pictures, besides fan mail, backstage.

Ruth Brown Marries Member Of The Ravens

NEW YORK CITY (CNS) Exclusive—Wedding bells rang this week for luscious Ruth Brown, the popular songbird, who is doing a love duet with her new husband, Leonard (Zeekie) Tuzcy of The Ravens, one of America's leading quartets. The two were secretly married a few hours before Ruth flew to Chicago for a Regal Theatre engagement. Her new husband is enroute to Las Vegas with The Ravens. So—no honeymoon.

The wedding itself came as a surprise for the 21-year-old lass who wears all her gowns off the shoulders, was thought to be stealing the heart of heavy-weight champion Ezzard Charles. The two made a guest appearance on the Apollo stage last month. She sang "I Can Dream Can't I" and Ezz accompanied her on the bass fiddle.

But last week during her own Apollo engagement billed with the Ravens, Ruth wore a huge sparkler on the third finger, left hand, a gift from the "lucky man."

Ravens In Las Vegas

LAS VEGAS, Nev.—The Ravens, outstanding quartette, have arrived here for their two-week engagement at the Thunderbird Hotel which, began Thursday night.

The Thunderbird, which has established an enviable record for presenting top name attractions, is housing the singing foursome after nearly three years off and on negotiations. The booking schedules of the hotel and the singers have always conflicted, making it impossible to present them here.

In this instance, the local spot nabbed the Ravens on their way to engagements in Los Angeles and later, Honolulu.

Larry Darnell Newest Bobby Soxer Target

Riding high on the crest of the wave of popularity due to his smash record hits, "For You My Love" and "I'll Get Along Somehow," and fresh from a sensational long run on Broadway at New York's Birdland, including a string of record-breaking Midwestern one-nighters, Larry Darnell heading the Darnell-Chubby Newsome-Paul William package, returned to his hometown, Columbus, Ohio, amid a thunderous ovation for his opening at the Lincoln Theater last Sunday.

The reception was so tremendous an extra squad of policemen were called in to restore order among the overflowing mob, and to quell the antics of bobby sox fans and autograph seekers. The crowd congregated two hours before the box office opened, tying up traffic and establishing an all-time attendance record for the house.

Physicians Meet In San Diego

More than 2,500 physicians from all over California will meet in San Diego April 30-May 3 to hear reports on the latest scientific developments in the treatment and prevention of human disease and to discuss problems of the practice of medicine under threatened political domination.

The occasion is the 79th annual session of the California Medical Association, which includes in its membership 10,500 doctors of medicine in the state.

This year Dr. Donald Cass of Los Angeles, who was elected president-elect at the 1949 meeting, will be installed as president, succeeding Dr. R. Stanley Kneeshaw of San Jose. A new president-elect and other officers will be named by the delegates representing the county medical societies which make up the state association. More than 200 papers on medical subjects will be read at the scientific meetings during the convention.

Lecture at Jefferson

Narcotics demoralizing effects on modern civilization will be pointed out by Lt. John Bigham of the Los Angeles Police Department, in a lecture to be given at Jefferson High School on Friday, April 28, at 7:30 p.m. Also to be discussed is the notorious marijuana evil.

This is another of a series of five lectures designed to acquaint citizens with the activities of the Los Angeles Police Department. Classes are part of the adult educational program and are free to holders of student admission cards. These cards cost 25 cents and admit the bearers to any class during the semester. Classes are held in Room 103, Jefferson High School, at 7:30 p.m. every Friday.

"All States Tea" At Elks Auditorium, Sunday

The California Association Colored Women presents the "All States Tea" Sunday, April 30th, at Elks Auditorium, 4016 So. Central Ave.

There will be a varied program of music, songs and fashions, presenting some of Los Angeles' most talented pianist, soloist and models. It will be interesting to see what the well dressed club women will be wearing this spring featuring sizes 16-24. Miss Jessie Mae Brown will be mistress of ceremonies assisted by Mrs. Winifred Orr Smith and outstanding model and at one time an instructor in one of the Fashionable Modeling Schools.

This unusual Fashion Review is under the supervision of Mesdames Wilma Chapman and Benester Fisher. The Celebrated Elks Band will furnish background music. Leading politicians of each party will be represented for a two minute talk. This, however, is a non-partisan organization.

Free Chest X-Rays For All Students

Four mobile units of the Los Angeles County X-Ray Survey moved onto the USC campus this week in the largest single undertaking in the campaign to date.

Goal will be to x-ray free of charge more than 19,000 students, faculty and other university personnel. It will be one of the largest mass chest x-ray surveys ever held in any educational institution.

An important part of the survey, the schools department plans to bring x-ray equipment into every university, college and high school—both public and parochial—in the county.

Eleven public schools are being x-rayed this week. They include Hollywood, Bell, Southgate, Hamilton, Manual Arts and Marshall high schools. First high school to be complete, Fremont, sent 2,875 students and other school personnel through the x-ray machine. School officials said this represented more than 98 per cent of those eligible to be x-rayed.

Ibanez Urges Prevention Not Jailing

Richard A. Ibanez, well known Los Angeles attorney, and candidate for Judge of the Superior Court, this week stated his belief that the rising juvenile crime wave in Los Angeles can be curbed.

"The answer to this serious problem lies in prevention, in diverting the energies of juveniles into constructive channels, not in wholesale arrests and punishment," Ibanez said.

"The breeding places of crime are known; these can be eradicated by intelligent concerted action by interested citizenry. The Judge of the Juvenile Court of this county, better than anyone, can put into effect such a plan. Lives of young citizens, taxpayer's money, would be saved by such an approach to this problem.

"If I replace the present incumbent as Judge of the Juvenile Court, I pledge myself to formulate and put into effect such a plan for juvenile crime prevention," declared Ibanez.

NNIA $50,000,000 DRIVE

Each year in the month of May, member companies of the National Negro Insurance Association participate in what is known as National Negro Insurance Week. Next week, May 8-13 inclusive, is the national observance.

B. G. Olive, Jr., Memphis, president of NNIA, pointed out some of the things the insurance companies are doing for the public at large: Mortgage loans for better homes; job opportunities; higher education and everything that goes to make better living conditions; all of which have made better communities. Mr. Olive further stressed the importance of adding an additional $50,000,000 of insurance coverage so that more people may enjoy the American way of life.

Thousands of men and women of the field force with plenty of drive, energy and enthusiasm representing more than 62 insurance companies will be engaged in friendly but serious competition in servicing the public toward their goal. These salesmen can easily be identified since they are wearing a blue button with the inscription "See Me During NNIA Week."

The campaign will be climaxed with the national meet held in Los Angeles with great promise of 1950 being the biggest year in insurance history.

Screw worm flies apparently are starting their most destructive and widespread year, entomologists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture say.

"I Am With You All The Way," Mrs. Bethune Wires Douglas

"I am with you all the way."

In those words, Mary McLeod Bethune, outstanding Negro woman leader of the United States, this week declared her support of the candidacy of Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas for the U. S. Senate.

The declaration came in a telegram from Mrs. Bethune to Congresswoman Douglas, who is an old friend of the eminent Negro educator.

Mrs. Bethune, who founded and is president of the National Council of Negro Women and is also founder and president of Bethune-Cookman College in Florida, had previously endorsed Mrs. Douglas in each of her three campaigns for Congress and once came to California to make a campaign speech for her.

This time the contribution of Mrs. Bethune to the campaign will be to take part with a number of other distinguished women in a half-hour radio broadcast that will go out over a network of 48 stations in California on the evening of May 14.

High school students from various parts of the country spent two days in a journalism workshop at Lincoln, April 24-25, under the guidance of visiting journalists.

Bread & Butter Conf. Demands More For Children Peace

In a call to the White House to give children's needs top priority, the National Bread and Butter Conference on Child Welfare at Hull House this week declared that children can be secure only if they are assured of a stable peace and a responsible community.

"We are not giving enough of our national wealth to our children. Too much is being spent for the military," said Dr. Gene Weltfish, author and educator, who was one of the sponsors and a main speaker at the Saturday night meeting. "I cannot believe that if the real aspirations of the 46 million women who can vote were carried out we would be spending our money on military rather than educational services."

The conference called for specific social measures, such as federal aid to schools, child care centers, and expansion of facilities for psychiatric services to children as an integral part of community institutions.

Pointing out that everything that affects the community affects the child, the conference also asked for fair and full employment practices, an adequate housing program, and the immediate outlawing of the H-bomb and A-bomb.

Over 200 delegates attended the parley, which had developed out of 12 local conferences held throughout the country. Among the groups represented were church, teachers, trade union, social welfare, tenants, youth and parents.

Resolutions were passed asking:

"That this conference strengthen the nation-wide demands for peace, without which the adequate care of children cannot be guaranteed, and

"That minimum wages be established, that migrant farm labor camps be licensed so that they will maintain proper sanitary conditions, that a 'positive' schooling program be established that will meet the special needs of the children of migrant workers" and

"That a federal budget of 40 billion dollars, 70 per cent. of which is allocated to war purposes, can reasonably provide for adequate funds for such a program in the interests of peace."

Exposition Park's famous sunken rose garden has come into full bloom with thousands of multi-colored flowers and should be at its annual best for a period of three weeks.

Central Ave. Resurfacing Finished Soon

The resurfacing of Central Avenue from 61st Street to Vernon Avenue will be completed very shortly, according to Councilman Kenneth Hahn.

The Street Maintenance Department's General Manager, Mr. L. Miller, informed Councilman Hahn that the work on Central Avenue is being carried forward as rapidly as possible and will be completed to Vernon Avenue by May 6th, in time for the huge Youth Day Parade which will march down the new Central Avenue to the opening of the new playground and swimming pool at South Park.

Councilman Hahn has actively worked for early completion of both the new swimming pool and the program to make Central Avenue one of the finest streets in the city.

A vesper program was sponsored at the First AME Church by Viva Culpepper last Sunday evening. A union fellowship service was held Sunday afternoon. Rev. Parker, of the Salem Baptist Church, was the principal speaker at this service, held the fourth Sunday in each month. They are bringing about a great spirit of cooperation among the people in the community.

LAUL To Grant Awards For Outstanding Services At Annual Meet

The annual meeting and awards program of the Los Angeles Urban League will be held tomorrow, Friday, April 28, at 8 p.m. in the Polytechnic High School auditorium.

Awards for outstanding services in the community will be given to 33 men and women, including four motion picture producers. "The contacts we have made in this regard," says the league, "have convinced us that Hollywood is keenly sensitive on the matter of a fairer approach to our problems, even to the possibility of complete integration of our artists."

The producers are: Darryl F. Zanuck, 20th Century-Fox, producer of "Pinky"; Clarence Brown, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, producer of "Intruder in the Dust"; Stanley Kramer, Motion Picture Center Studios, producer of "Home of the Brave"; and Louis de Rochemont, Nassour Studios, Inc., producer of "Lost Boundaries."

"These productions reached a new high in interpretation and for the most ignored 'stereotyping,' the method long used in depicting the Negro. The Los Angeles Urban League is proud to honor these men for the foresight, honesty, and courage exemplified in departing from the mores of stereotyping a race, and expanding into an area of more complete truth, wherein lies true greatness."

Among the others so honored are: Clinton M. Arnold, Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, Miss Evelyn Burwell, Jester J. Hairston, Dr. M. B. Hickman, Herman Hill, Edwin L. Jefferson, Mrs. Faustina Johnson, William B. Jones, Miss Dorothy Locke, Sherrill Luke, Rev. Jesse Moses, James A. Robinson, Dr. Clayton D. Russell, Christopher C. Scott, J. Robert Smith, Dr. Adolphus R. Traylor, Miss Yvonne Watson, Johnny Wing, Rosa Mae Johnson Young, R.N., J. Horace Hampton, Mrs. E. G. Arbuckle, Miss Clara Fontress, Buddy Harper, Joseph Parker, Cecil M. Price, Retail Clerks Union, Local 770; Golden State Co., Ltd.; and Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co.

The annual observance of Men's Day at Lincoln University (Mo.) was held last Thursday.

Hails Court Victory

NEW YORK—The decision of the Court of Appeals of Maryland upholding the right of Miss Esther McCready to admission to the University of Maryland School of Nursing clearly demonstrates that "the regional education compact cannot be used as an excuse for excluding qualified Negro students from existing educational facilities within a state," Thurgood Marshall, NAACP special counsel, said last week in commenting on the court's unanimous decision.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

SPRING FOOTBALL—Spring football drills in a 40-degree temperature greeted Coach Herman Riddick's 1950 prospects in Durham, North Carolina, recently. While Coach Riddick thought the play was spotty in places, he seemed generally pleased with the performance of several footballers.

BASEBALL TALK—Booker McDaniels, Negro pitcher with the Los Angeles Angels, seems to be holding his own with a standoff of one won and one lost. . . . Artie Wilson of the Oakland Oaks is batting .311. Last year he won the loop batting championship. . . . Other Negroes batting well are Johnny Ritchey of Portland with an average of .296, and Luis Marquez, also of Portland, who is hitting .267. . . . Don Newcombe of Brooklyn was credited with his first victory in a hurling assignment which saw him defeating the Boston Braves, 6-4, Monday, although he had to be relieved.

BOXING—Johnny Duke, Chicago slugger, had his wits frightened out of him last Friday when the judges and referee at Hollywood apparently suffered temporary blindness, and came through nobly to present him with a 10-round decision over Milo Savage at the Legion Stadium, after Savage had won from here to Hawaii. Savage, who cared absolutely nothing about Duke's fearful rep as a puncher, raked the visitor from pillar to post and yet wound up on the end of a typical Hollywood fight decision. It is my honest opinion that favorites do not lose at Hollywood if they are able to crawl feebly back to their corners at the end of the scheduled 10 rounds. Oh, you boys, that sport the long green, how I envy you.

I'VE GOT TO TELL YA—It really looks like Luke Easter will be named "Rookie of the Year" for 1950. As you probably know and don't want to be told again, Luke, now with the Cleveland Indians, was a star with San Diego's Padres last season, early in the season, and gave the Pacific Coast League outfielders a fit with his long hits, in addition to slamming out a lot of home runs to lead the league before he was snatched by Cleveland before the season ended. This year Luke is showing great promise to get that coveted honor of "Rookie of the Year." . . . Ezzard Charles, the NBA heavyweight champion of the world, is slightly peeved because one Dr. Levy sent him a $500 bill for one medical exam.

Said Charles: "Do they think I'm a millionaire?"

Will Crown L.A. Bronze Queen At Ball Game

So great has been the interest in the bathing beauty parade to be staged between halves of the Oaks-Los Angeles doubleheader on July 4th that a number of gorgeous girls from Oakland and San Francisco are to be entered. Word of this came from Walter Dix, prominent Oakland business man, who is bringing in a special train of excursionists for this Fourth of July event. The girls taking part in the parade will be contestants in Sid Hazeur's famous "Miss Bronze Pacific Coast" contest which is held annually. This will be the first time that the septa beauties have ever appeared at Wrigley Field. Presents donated by Oakland and Los Angeles merchants will be presented to the teams by the girls as lovely committee members between the halves of the game. Another reception committee, organized by Miss Laura Clayton, will meet the

Garfield Easy for Democrats

The high-flying Jefferson High spikemen won the Southern League track title for the fourth straight time last Friday when they defeated Garfield, 80-24, in a runaway. The Democrats are now favored to again take the city title.

Other teams to win loop championships were Huntington Park in the Northern League, who defeated Poly, 65-23 to 38-1-8, and University in the Western loop. The latter tied Los Angeles to finish undefeated and earn the league trophy. The final score was University 52, Los Angeles 52.

Harold Jones to Face Newcomer Friday Night

Harold "Baby Face" Jones, rugged Detroit southpaw now making his home in Hollywood, hopes to earn a match with Art Aragon by taking newcomer Johnny Forte into camp at Hollywood Legion Stadium Friday night. The two light-weights are to headline a fine card of fistic action at the cinema city sock center.

Jones and the sensational Aragon have met previously and a great battle it was. The final duke went to Art by a split margin, with many of those witnessing the fight conceding the triumph to the cherubic Harold. The meeting took place last July 8 and since then Jones has been in hot pursuit of the rapidly ascending Latin for a showdown match.

In Forte, Jones will find a veteran ring activity who has notched no less than 60 wins during his pro career. Johnny has scored 23 knockouts, the most recent being one of his most impressive; he stopped Hy Melzer, considered quite a comer in the east, in five rounds last January 5. It was only the third loss chalked up against Melzer in his 37 pro bouts.

Because of his willingness inside the ropes, Jones is being kept busy by California promoters. He'll be making his third start of the year at Hollywood Friday and is being mentioned as a possible toe for Aragon on the "Fight for Lives" show scheduled for May 19. A win over Forte—an impressive win, that is—and Jones may find himself factoring Artful Art. He is also boxing Johnny Golzaves in Oakland, May 10.

At this writing Jones is a slight choice, 10-7, to hurdle past Johnny Forte.

Lonnie Hudson and Ray Perez, who meet in the six round semi-final, head the list of preliminary bouts backing up Friday's Jones-Forte match.

Rams to Play On Sept. 2

The Los Angeles Rams test competition from the defunct All-America Conference for the first time September 2 when they meet the Baltimore Colts in a non-championship game in San Antonio.

The Rams will also meet the Colts in Los Angeles during the regular season on October 22.

The San Antonio game is the first road game of the Rams' pre-season schedule, following closely upon their game with the Philadelphia Eagles in the coliseum on August 30.

The game is sponsored by the San Antonio Express-News Athletic Association and will be played in Alamo Stadium. It is a night game. The Rams defeated the New York Bulldogs, 21-14, in San Antonio last year.

Morehouse College Takes On Joe Echols as New Grid Coach

ATLANTA, Ga.—According to a release from President Benjamin E. Mays of Morehouse College, Joseph G. Echols has been engaged as coach of the Morehouse football team, beginning in September, 1950. The new mentor of the Maroon Tigers has served for the past two years in the physical education department of the North Carolina A. and T. College, where he was baseball coach and assistant football coach.

Coach Echols was born in Athens, Georgia, and is the son of Mrs. Daisy Echols, of Englewood, N. J. He attended the elementary and high schools of Englewood. While in high school he earned varsity letters in football, basketball, and track; and he was captain of the basketball and track teams and co-captain of the football team. He was an All-State football player for two years.

Finishing high school in 1936, Mr. Echols entered Virginia Union University, from which he was graduated with the B.S. degree in 1941. He played halfback on the varsity team for three years while in college, during which period he was high scorer for two years. He was a member of the team which broke Morgan College's 54-game winning streak. Coach Echols also played semi-professional football in New Jersey, as well as professional baseball with the Newark Eagles, of the Negro National League. He played baseball, also, with the Union City Reds, New Jersey's leading independent baseball club.

Morehouse's new coach served approximately five years in the United States Air Force as physical training officer, Special Service officer, and coach of baseball and football teams. He was honorably discharged with the rank of first lieutenant.

Coach Echols has worked at Kentucky State College as assistant football and baseball coach. At A. and T. College, where he has been employed for the last two years, he served one year as basketball coach, in addition to being baseball coach and assistant football coach.

Mr. Echols has done graduate work in physical and health education at New York University.

Men, Women! Old? Get New Pep, Vim Feel Years Younger

Do you blame yourself for not feeling as young as you look? If so, you're not alone. Millions of men and women are suffering from the same thing. They're tired, they're nervous, they're not getting on with their lives. They need a little pep and vim. They need a little of the old "Pep and Vim" that makes you feel like a new man or woman. They need a little of the old "Pep and Vim" that makes you feel like a new man or woman. They need a little of the old "Pep and Vim" that makes you feel like a new man or woman.

ON THE TURF

GEORGE RAMSEY

CALIENTE, Old Mexico — A chilled crowd of 5000 lovers of the sport of kings were on hand Sunday at the home of Sunday racing and witnessed the former state horse, Perfecto, capture the main event, called "The Joe Grut" at 11-16 miles, in the good time of 1:46 2-5, paying in the mutuels $6.00. Perfecto took the lead from Ramsey's U. S. Salute at the three-quarter pole and never looked back, winning by three lengths. The secondary feature was won by Count Recess, good son of Reigh County School, who broke very fast and made it a wire to wire win, scoring by six lengths and paying in the mutuels the big price of $10.00. His time for the six furlongs was 1:12 flat.

Jockey E. Gifford was thrown from Twilight Blues in front of the grandstand in the first race, when his mount stumbled. He was rushed to Mercy Hospital in San Diego where it was revealed he had sustained no fractures, although he was struck by his mount's heels as he went down. A 30 to 1 shot was disqualified for swerving over on the favorite, Sincere, in the ninth race. Jockey J. Sherman, who had the mount on Novelito, admitted his horse swerved into Sincere as the latter was going to the front. The daily double combination of Sharp Edge, winner of the second race, and Ararat, victor of the third, paid $60.00, while the quinea backers received $110.40 when Flying Colonel was first and Fleeta finished second.

This Sunday's special attraction will be Wantha Davis, champion girl jockey, known as the riding queen of the turf, against Jockey Jack Westrope, now riding at Tanforan. He was the American champion of 1933. General Manager Walter C. Marty has lined up another great 12-race program for this Sunday. Two big feature attractions will support the special event. The main attraction will be "The Kentucky" at six furlongs. Secondary will be "The Churchill Downs," 1 mile and 70 yards, and "The Lexington" at six furlongs, will bring some of the best three-year-olds together now at the border course.

This Sunday also starts the $5,000 free cash program award contest. Anyone picking seven straight winners from the third race through the ninth, will be awarded the "Pot of Gold." After 10 weeks if no one picks the seven straight winners the $5,000 will be divided into 14 prizes of which the capital will be $2,000. Post time at Caliente Sunday is 12:30 p.m.

Madrid Mixes Potent Punches; Sublett Socked

Manuel Madrid, 138½, used everything to make a punching bag of Detroit's Hugh Sublett, 138½, for seven rounds in the main boxing bout at Ocean Park Monday nite and Referee Frankie Van walked in and called it a t.k.o. in the eighth.

The bout was slated for 10 rounds.

Sublett had the edge in height and reach, but that was all as the Los Angeles socker got inside and punched him about at will.

In the four-round semi-wind-up, Jim Howard, 205, and Jimmy Rouse, 180, fought a draw.

Omegas Lead Field in Cage Meet

By CHARLES LLOYD

A high class Omega quintet was secure in first place and championship bound after winning a clean cut and decisive victory over a stubborn Kappa team Saturday night as the frats came into the stretch drive of their basketball war. The Kappas were turned back 40-32 while the Sigmas broke into the win column against the upset-minded Alphas, 58-51, in an overtime match.

Ivan (The Terrible) Robinson and Vernon Riggins and West Slade, Fresno State College's twin gifts to the Omegas, all got hot at once and produced such ball as frat fans hadn't seen all year. They not only furnished the big scoring punch for their team, but it was their superb control of the backboards and their tricky ball handling which enabled the Omegas to stall off an Kappa threat in the last quarter, and thus win the game. Dave Williams, Harold Garrison, and Gene Williams were chief standard bearers for the red and white.

Ivan The Terrible drew first blood with a free throw after a lapse of two minutes in the contest. The Kappas went ahead once at 6-5 and the count was soon tied at 8-9. From that point on the Omegas proceeded to walk away, especially in the second quarter when the score was Omegas 23, Kappas 9 at the half.

The two Williams along with Garrison and Nate Shaw put on a last quarter scoring spurt but were not able to get within 10 points of the Omegas until the last minute. With three minutes to play in the game, the Omegas put on an amusing and skillful floor show while freezing the ball. Slade, Riggins, and Robinson passed the ball so tricky that the crowd applauded in response.

Sigmas Score

Determined yet to score that big upset over one of the power houses of the tournament, the A's almost had their game with the Sigmas won after both teams put on one of the wildest scoring sprees of the season. The game was tied, 51-51, at the end of the regular game, but the Sigmas connected with five free throws and a field goal in the five minute overtime period and won the game just that lucky.

Unlike the course of their other games this year when they washed out in the last stages, the Alphas set the pace throughout and never let up on their aggressiveness until the fatal five minute period when their hearts were broken with free throws.

The Hill Twins continued to shine as work horses for the losers, and Clayton Moore enjoyed a very prolific night. It was the same crew doing most of the work for the Sigmas, too.

Savannah State to Enter Drake Relays

SAVANNAH, Ga.—Coach Ted A. Wright's high flying Savannah State College Tigers are slated to hit the big-time track circles this week-end when they compete in the famed Drake relays April 28 and 29 in Des Moines, Iowa. The Tigers are expected to shoot for the mile, distance-medley, and two mile titles at the Drakes.

The cagey mentor will field a five man squad which lived up to pre-season expectations in its first 1950 outing as it racked up 26 points to place third in the Alabama State relays. This team looms, upon the basis of this performance, and in comparison with times of other meets, as the south's top middle-distance outfit.

as Bobby Pounds, Fred Bluett, Doug Shaw and Howard Holt made the most invasions of enemy territory.

The Alphas went out front early and the score stood 30-25 in their favor at the half. The Sigmas made up the deficit immediately after the second stanza began and knotted the count at 30-all. The two teams then conducted a see-saw match in which the lead changed hands more than ten times with neither team being able to go out front more than two points.

From their superb showing Saturday night, the Alphas will be boiling and ready for their arch-adversaries, the Kappas this week. The first place Omegas will attempt to continue their championship march at the expense of the disappointing Sigmas.

SUGAR RAY ROBINSON, 155, New York, stopped Cliff Beckett, 157½, Sunbury, Ont., in the third round of a non-title bout at Columbus, Ohio, last Friday night.

MORE SPORTS

FISHERMAN'S CORNER

SAN FRANCISCO—Trout fishing—California's most popular outdoor participation sport—will lure an estimated half-million anglers to lakes and streams in 50 counties which open Saturday, April 29, for a six-month season.

One hour before sunrise on the same date also marks the opening of a 10-month warm water fishing season in northern and central California counties.

According to the Division of Fish and Game, licensed anglers may go after trout, salmon, and Rocky Mountain whitefish from April 29 to October 31 in most of the State except ocean tributary streams in Humboldt County; and the Pit River and its tributaries, Tuolumne, Alpine, Calaveras, Amador, El Dorado, Placer, Nevada, Sierra, Plumas, and Lassen Counties, where the season opens May 27.

The April opening will also apply to Tahoe, Donner, Boca, Pillsbury, Almanor, Butt and Ducks lakes; Big Stone, Clam Beach, and Freshwater lagoons on the coast of Humboldt County; and the Pit River and its tributaries in Lassen County.

After a two-month closure, waters in all counties north of San Luis Obispo, Kings, Fresno, Madera, and Mono Counties will be opened for the taking of black bass, sunfish, crappie, and Sacramento perch. There is no closed season elsewhere for warm water fish angling.

Bag limits remain the same as in 1949: 15 trout, salmon, or whitefish, but not more than 10 pounds and one fish; five black bass; and 25 crappie, sunfish, or Sacramento perch combined.

In District 22 of the Colorado River area, bag limits are: 10 trout, 10 bass and channel catfish, six mullet, 20 crappie and bullheads.

Fish and game wardens issued a warning that a recent Legislative law requires a trout shipping tag to be attached to each daily possession limit of trout offered for shipment by common carrier. Three tags are included with each 1950 angling license.

The Division of Fish and Game reminds California sportsmen of the following general regulations which apply to current hunting and fishing:

TROUT—April 29 to October 31 in Tahoe, Donner, Almanor, Pillsbury, Butt, Boca, and Bucks lakes, and in all counties except Del Norte, Lassen, Plumas, Sierra, Nevada, Placer, El Dorado, Amador, Tuolumne, Calaveras, Alpine, Mariposa, and waters tributary to Pacific Ocean on coast of Humboldt County, where season opens May 27. Bag limit: 15 trout, salmon, or Rocky Mountain whitefish, but not more than 10 pounds and one fish.

BLACK BASS, SUNFISH, CRAPPIE, SACRAMENTO PERCH—April 29 to February 28 in all counties north of Mono, Madera, Fresno, Kings, and San Luis Obispo. No closed season elsewhere or in Clear Lake. Bag limits: 5 black bass, 25 sunfish, crappie, perch. Local exceptions. No size limits.

CLAMS—Ends April 30 in Humboldt and Monterey Bay areas. No closed season elsewhere. Bag limits: 30 razor; 10 big neck; 10 Pismo; 10 Washington. No limit on jack knife clams.

COCKLES—Ends April 30 in counties north of San Luis Obispo County. No closed season elsewhere. Bag limit: 50. Minimum size limit: one and one-half inches in diameter.

PREDATORY ANIMALS—No closed season. No license required for taking of moles, shrews, opossums, gophers, wolves, coyotes, raccoons, weasels, skunk, mountain lions, etc.

ELAJC to Vie For Honors in Gym Meet Fri.

East Los Angeles Junior College, Los Angeles City College, and Pasadena City College, will enter as favorites when the nation's top junior college gym men and teams vie for top honors in the National Junior College Gymnastics meet, Friday, April 28, in the Montebello high school gym.

The meet will be under the direction of East Los Angeles Junior College.

Since this is the highest of all junior college gym meets, the competition should be heated. Virtually every event will be a toss up, with outstanding clashes coming in the rings, rope climbs, and free-ex.

JEFF HIGH SPORTS

Jeff High's track juggernaut continues to ramble on but not without some signs of wear and tear. Tomorrow's Southern League preliminary races for the varsity (at Jefferson) will show whether or not the pace has really had any detrimental effect on the Demos. Big problem for any coach at this point in the cinder season is to keep his charges on a physical and psychological edge.

There won't be any walkaway for Jefferson in the All City Championships on the night of May 19th. Jordan is ready to make a comeback, and Graffio plus Huntington Park isn't to be sneezed at. Lang Stanley is within reach of two of Jeff's records . . . he's already approached the 1:57.9 mark for the half mile, and is rapidly chasing after that 4:30.5 jaunt hung up by Louis Beadle (remember that boy?) in 1944 for the mile run. Larry Williams' rest has given the lad a new lease on life . . . he's raring to go again.

The tennis team has hung on to its lead in the net wars and may be able to latch on to another league title this year. Dangerous Manual Arts is next on the Demo list of victims. . . The Jeff student body is yelling for at least one baseball victory in the So. League massacre . . . come on you Demos!!

Champions In Billiard Match At Clarence Moore's Academy

The exhibition games at Clarence Moore's Billiard Parlor, 4207 Central Ave., last Thursday afternoon, April 20th, started with a Billiard Match at 2:30 p.m. between Braxton Berkley and Louis Yager, City Champion. After getting off to a bad start in the first 100 points, Yager was leading a 135 points to Berkley's 68, in the second hundred Berkley overcame the lead and went on to win 200 to 174.

Among those present were: President of the Brunswick Association, Joe Percida who refereed the Billiard game, Howard Ermsley, score keeper, Mr. M. Nelson, proprietor of the Dunbar Hotel, Clarence Jones, proprietor of the Watts Recreation, Ellie-hugh McGee, and many prominent sports men, too numerous to mention.

The afternoon crowd was over four hundred and fifty spectators, who were amazed at the elaborate setting and enormous expense Mr. Moore has gone to to set up this most modern Billiard Parlor on the Pacific Coast.

In the evening, Pocket Billiard match with a crowd of over 950, Robert Woods defeated Joe Percida, who finished third in the world tournament by a score of a hundred and fifty to a hundred and thirty-two. Mr. Woods a local boy, went off in front and it was never any doubt from the time he ran 53 in the 8th, inning as to what the outcome of the match would be.

Woods by defeating Percida, proved that he has the makings of a great player, one who must be reckoned with whenever he goes into tournament play.

Berkley made a grand slam by defeating Joe Kowasakio in the final game of the evening, by a run of 26, to win the game after Kowasakio ran 48 and needed 2 to finish the match.

So both the Mr. Moore's prodigy's proved that he was right in trying to convince the National Billiard Player's Association, that Woods and Berkley, both are of Tournament Caliber and should be admitted into the Tournaments.

RETIRED after 46½ years of service with the Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company, Miss Laura Pickle was feted by 2500 employees of the company last Thursday. Miss Pickle was an Assistant Vice President at the time of her retirement. She started with the company as an operator in Riverside in 1903.

A total of 328,814 drivers who disregarded the rights of others or operated their vehicles unsafely were cited last year by the California Highway Patrol. Included in the citations were 6,904 arrests for drunken driving, 72,868 for speeding violations and 2,577 arrests for reckless driving.

"The figures appear large," Commissioner Peterson commented, "but considering the more than 5,000,000 registered California drivers and the thousands of out-of-state motorists, they lose some of their impact."

Last year a total of 243 persons lost their lives crossing streets at intersections without signals. And 3,376 more were injured.

Naval Reserve Training Plan For Enlistees

Acceptance of applications by eligible enlisted men of the Naval Reserve to attend the basic summer training course of the Reserve Officer Candidate Training School at the U. S. Naval Station, San Diego, has been extended until further notice, it was announced this week by Capt. N. A. Lidstone, USN, director of training, Eleventh Naval District. The previous deadline was April 1 for the six weeks' course which begins about July 10.

Candidates must be members of the Naval Reserve, be attending an accredited college in the freshman or sophomore year, and be at least 17 years of age but not more than 27 by July 1 of the year graduating from college.

Urban League Awards

George Murphy and Allen Mobray, stars of stage, screen and radio, will appear on the Urban League program along with Juano Hernandez, star of the motion picture, INTRUDER IN THE DUST. The program will be held at the Polytechnic High School Auditorium, Friday, April 28, at 8 p.m. 31 individuals and 3 organizations will be honored with awards by the League.

Mr. Hernandez has recently accepted a position to teach the drama in a leading University of his native Portugal. Friday's performance will be his last before sailing.

CHOCOLATE SOLDIER

Per usual the minks and jewels with their accompanying beautiful women and celebrities were much in evidence on last Monday evening when the Civic Light Opera Association season presented Edwin Lester's new production of "The Chocolate Soldier."

This initial performance of the current light opera season was certainly up to the standard of past presentations. The swank and glitter was un-passed. There were new names in the cast, including a Metropolitan Opera star, a chorus of handsome and vocally brilliant youngsters, an Aida Broadbent ballet equally young and adept, trim and tasteful sets by Gabriel Scognamiglio, and entrancing costumes by Adele Palmer.

The Met star was the rotund Salvatore Baccaloni, for whom the part of Massakoff—the Bulgarian general who felt so sorry for the defeated Serbs that he gave them everything they wanted in the peace treaty so there could be another war—was enlarged to fit. Baccaloni is not the whole show, but a great part of it.

The perennial Oscar Straus musical has weathered some tired productions in the last 40 years, but there are not many tired spots in this opus. The familiar melodies, attractively sung in a smartly colorful setting, materially compensated for those moments when the situations themselves showed their age, and the never-failing appeal of such numbers as "My Hero" and "Falling in Love" came across the footlights with their usual force.

Notable newcomers were Don Clarke, whose vibrant tenor and handsome facade made him a good choice for the role of the swaggering "hero." Pretty brunette Marion Bell made an appealing heroine and sang agreeably, even though her persistent fermatas must have given some concern to director Arthur Kay.

Wilbur Evans made a pleasant enough Burmerli, the waggish Swiss commissary attache whose opinions of war and women are aired for a few yaks in the show, and Kathy Barr made a vivacious picture as the man-hungry ingenue.

Hilda Kosta made the most of her role as the heroine's mother who was as eager as her younger competitors to share the attentions of a maverick male caught in the boudoir of three women whose own men were away at war.

"The Chocolate Soldier" will run for four weeks at the Philharmonic.

ROBERT V. LEWIS

We regret sincerely our inability to attend the recital presented by Mrs. Edwards-Lewis, competent musician-director of the First A. M. E. Church Choir, assisted by Don Lee White's Dorian Singers, presented last Tuesday evening in the church sanctuary. However, we shall run a review by our girl Friday in next week's edition.

EIGHTH NOTES

Fourteen young Los Angeles singers have been chosen as finalists from more than 200 vocalists who recently competed in the city Bureau of Music's fifth annual "Artists of the Future" youth voice contest. The four boys and 10 girls will audition next Saturday afternoon, April 29, in the Mayor's Conference Room at City Hall. A board of judges will select from the group two boys and two girls as first and second place winners of $500 and $250. Robert Hayward, 20, baritone, will be among the boy participants. . . . James Patton will appear in the Atwater Kent semi-finals to be held at KECA Thursday evening.

Dedication Of Ex-Sheriff's Pictures Exhibition Monday

Monday, May 1 has been designated as the date for the formal dedication of the picture exhibit of ex-sheriffs of Los Angeles County. Sheriff E. W. Biscailuz and Superior Ray V. Derby will officiate at the ceremony to be held in the Hall of Justice.

Jeff Choir On Radio Sunday

Jefferson's famed A Capella gets an opportunity to appear on a national radio hook-up this Saturday afternoon at 2:30 when they will perform on the National Safety Council broadcast on KFI, NBC. Under the direction of Mr. Lawrence Larsen the choir will sing, "O Be Joyful," "Listen to the Lambs" and "Ezekiel Saw the Wheel." There are over sixty fine voices in the choir. Please put the A Cappella on your listening musts for Saturday.

Compinsky Trio To Play Museum Concert Sunday

Music by Brahms, Ravel and Arensky will be performed by the Compinsky Trio at the regular chamber music concerts of the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

The program will consist of: Trio in C minor, Op. 101 by Brahms; Trio in A minor by Ravel and the Trio in D Minor, Op. 32, by Arensky.

Members of the Compinsky trio are: Sara Compinsky, piano; Manuel Compinsky, violin, and Alek Compinsky, cello.

Admission to the concert is free.

Brooks Music Pupils To Give Recital

Students of Brooks' Conservatory of Music, 118 E. 56th St., winners of 72 medals and prizes in New York and California and a world championship contest, will be heard in recital at 4:00 o'clock Sunday afternoon, April 30, as guests of the pastor and members of Shiloh Baptist Church, 52nd St. and Compton Ave., which is now celebrating 28 years of successful spiritual guidance.

This is a fitting tribute to Rev. Marshall whose daughter, Antel, won the gold medal in a California Eisteddfod Music Contest and his granddaughter, Faustina Floyd won the Winter '49 Carver Music Award for outstanding musicianship. Both were students of Brooks Institute.

The public is cordially invited to hear the brilliant artistry of the 12-year-old Ruth Herring and Marilyn Hutton, also the radio artists Shirley Herring and Cecilia Jones. Faustina Floyd, Ronald Weidman, Joyce Loving, La Netta Armstrong, Ronnie Wiggins, Yvonne Richards, Gussie Walter, Margy & Jeanette Heinke and the 6-year-old prodigy, Michael Cienfuegos will round out the program.

Ruth Stewart Will Try for Metropolitan

Ruth Stewart, dramatic soprano of New York City, left this week for a cross country tour following several highly successful concerts in the New York and New England areas. Miss Stewart is an honor graduate of Florida A and M College in music and was awarded a fellowship to the Hampton Institute where she obtained her Masters Degree. For the past several years she has studied at Columbia University and the Juilliard School of Music and under Mme. Rosalie Miller of New York City.

Miss Stewart has won high acclaim from critics for her concert work which includes appearances with the New York City Opera Company. The young artist, who has been continuously cited as having a most unusual voice, will give the first concert of the present tour this week at Jacksonville, Florida.

It was announced late this week in New York City that Miss Stewart would be among the Negro singers trying for a Metropolitan Opera role for the next season.

"The Critic" Is Drama Fare Offered By Pepperdine Cast

Pepperdine College's final major auditorium event of the season, Richard Sheridan's satire, "The Critic," will open a three-night run at the college Thursday, April 27, at 8:30 p.m.

Sheridan's dramatic caricature contains an opera within the play, and Pepperdine's opera and drama workshops have joined their talents in what promises to be an outstanding production for the college stage. James D. Young, drama director, is in general charge of the production, with Ian Alexander, opera workshop head, handling the operatic parody, "The Spanish Armada," which occurs in the second act.

Sheridan had managed London's Drury Lane Theater three years and had seen it exposed to a paper war among the critics when he wrote the play. A highlight of the dialog occurs in the second act as Puff, Dangle, and Sneer, a trio of true stage freaks, sit in a box on stage and discuss the opera.

Angel Street Gets Raves From Critics

By Gertrude Gipseon

At long last I feel that the time has come that I have looked forward to, the time when drama is actually appreciated, not only by actors, nor any particular race, but by those who know and feel the keen appreciation for drama.

Irwin Parnes presented the American Negro Repertory Players of New York City in "Angel Street" at the Belasco Theatre for a week's run. "Angel Street," a Victorian melodrama by Patrick Hamilton, is a suspense story that actually keeps you captivated during the entire performance. The entire cast must be commended for their wonderful presentation, their diction, enunciation, and gestures.

The cast included Jacqueline Levy, Oden Browne, Edith Whitman, Geri Bryan and Milton Wood. The entire presentation was staged by Milton Wood and assisted by Oden Browne, the costumes by Berenice Smith and the settings were actually made by the American Negro Repertory Players.

The group will also present Noel Coward's "Blithe Spirit" and "Three for Tonight."

Fascinating pictures of the islands of the Caribbean, including Haiti, were shown to a very interested audience last Saturday night at the Los Angeles Academy, Seventh Day Adventist institution. They were taken and were shown by Elder Owen Troy, of Pasadena, who with Mrs. Troy has just returned from a trip to Haiti and the West Indies.

There were scenes of extreme beauty — enjoyed for the most part by men and women of wealth. For in Haiti it seems there are two principal classes—the extremely wealthy and the extremely poor. The pictures showed men and women working in the fields of sugar cane and cotton for the great landowners. Other scenes of interest was a country fair, to which the people living in the rural districts came to trade their products for those brought by other peasants.

An Evening In Bronze Presented

SANTA ANA, Calif.—Frederick O'Neal, Hollywood featured player and co-founder of the American Negro Theatre of New York, appeared Friday evening with a group of Los Angeles artists at Willard Auditorium in an "Evening in Bronze."

O'Neal gave a brief but informative talk on the little theater movement among Negroes and its contributions to the American stage.

Ruby Evelyn Lyle, popular teacher and concert pianist, proved very popular with the audience. Other members of the group were Bobby Lopez and Kara Saine, interpretive dancers, Odette Felious, soprano; Edward Banks, reader; William H. Luke, narrator and Jay Loft-Lynn, baritone.

"Evening in Bronze" was presented by the Educational Extension Club for the benefit of their scholarship fund. Mr. Loft-Lynn acted as coordinator for the entire program and also appeared as baritone soloist. He proved most popular with the audience as did Kara Saine, Miss Felious and Miss Lyle. All had to respond to encores.

Pasadena Forum

"Education for Handicapped Children" was the topic for discussions at the Pasadena Community Forum held Monday evening, April 24, at the St. Barnabas Episcopal Church parish house.

The speaker was Miss J. Marian Hammond, of the Speech Department, Pasadena City College. Mrs. Rosiland Stocks acted as moderator.

Thrifty Drug Store Employees In Courtesy Campaign Outing

Approximately 100 Thrifty Drug Store employees enjoyed a gala outing last week as a reward for having been selected the most courteous in Thrifty's annual Courtesy Campaign.

Included in the day's entertainment was attendance of a broadcast of "Double or Nothing" starring Walter O'Keefe at NBC, luncheon at Brittingham's restaurant on world-famous radio row, and a special preview at Universal-International Studios in Universal City where the group saw "One Way Street," starring Dan Duryea, James Mason and Marta Toren.

In recognition of their outstanding courteous service, each person attending was awarded a scroll by R. W. Henry, director of operations. In addition, the top 20 salespeople receiving the highest number of votes were each awarded a beautifully engraved wrist watch.

The Courtesy Campaign is an annual event in which Thrifty Drug Store customers are invited to cast ballots for the sales person they consider most courteous.

WOMEN OVER 40

Face The Change With A Brighter Outlook

Many women approaching "the change" worry that home and family life be unduly disturbed by the miserable way they often feel—tired, depressed and irritable, nerves on edge. Seeking relief from such common symptoms of Change of Life, thousands of women have found Cardul wonderfully beneficial, often giving just the kind of relief they need, when most needed. A grand stomachic tonic, Cardul helps to build resistance, fortify vitality, and encourage a brighter outlook. Aids also in easing nervous edgy tension and gives spirits a lift, thus helping to combat that listless uncertain feeling. Try Cardul. Your druggist has it. Do get Cardul this very day! (Say: "card-goo-eye").

Policy Statement Of IPP For Calif. 1950 Elections

The Independent Progressive Party represents a decisive bloc of votes in the state of California. Two hundred thousand people cast their vote for our party in 1948.

The Independent Progressive Party feels that a minimum program must include the following:

"An end to the cold war and H-bomb strategy and the instituting of top level diplomatic conferences;

"Trade and recognition of the new China, which means 2,000,000 jobs for American workers;

"A public works program on a national and state scale to take care of 5,000,000 unemployed nationally and 600,000 in California alone;

"An adequate social security program for the aged and disabled; repeal of the Taft-Hartley Law now;

"A real FEPC;

"An end to national witch-hunts, loyalty oaths and Mundt-Nixon Bills."

"Around such a program it is possible to defeat the main enemies of progress in California, the Republican candidates, Governor Warren and Richard Nixon. These men represent the big business forces in California and the United States who are leading the people down the path of poverty and insecurity, cold war and hysteria. Warren, the running mate of Dewey in the last presidential campaign, and Nixon, co-author of the infamous Mundt-Nixon Bill, can be defeated only if the Progressive are united.

The IPP does not endorse the candidacy of James Roosevelt for governor or Helen Gahagan Douglas for United States Senator. Nor does it endorse any of the other candidates in the field for these offices.

The IPP believes that the policy of presenting to the electorate the basic issues of peace, jobs and security can generate the kind of campaign that will insure the defeat of Warren and Nixon.

Ida Lupino Must Slow Down

HOLLYWOOD — Ida Lupino thinks she has almost earned a vacation. One week after she finished directing "Outrage," Filmakers picture for RKO Radio, she stepped into a dramatic role in RKO's "Mad with Much Heart." After she wipes off the greasepaint she goes back to Filmakers again to direct "Loving Cup"—and then she really hopes to spend six months on an ocean cruise.

14th District Council Holds Confab Friday

The 14th Congressional District Council is holding a 14th C. D. Conference, designed to call together all peoples in the 14th C. D., and many from outside the district to stimulate the campaign for Negro representation.

On Friday, April 28, at 8:15 p.m. at Fraternal Hall, 27th and San Pedro, the 14th Congressional District Council of the IPP is holding a Conference. This Conference will include representation from all of the clubs in the district, delegates from every IPP club in the county, and also delegates from many organizations in Los Angeles who are anxious to participate with us in the campaign to elect a Negro Congressman from the 14th C. D. It is our feeling that such a Conference will stimulate the final stages of the drive now taking place in the district.

Because of the important nature of this meeting, it has been decided to hold a meeting of the Committee on the Minority Vote immediately prior to the Conference, and then adjourn in a body to attend the Conference.

The Committee will therefore meet at Fraternal Hall at 6:30 p.m. promptly, to discuss several major projects. Please attend.

SW Clinic Schedule

Dr. Konstantin Sparkuhl, acting Southwest District health officer, this week announced the following clinic schedule:

Tuesdays, 8:30 to 10 a.m.—2942 Vineyard Ave.

Tuesdays and Wednesdays, 12:30 to 2:30 p.m.—1126 W. Vernon Ave.

A "health department physician, assisted by nurses, gives immunizations, physical examination and instructions to mothers in caring for babies. Only well babies are accepted in the clinics for this service," he said.

Dr. Sparkuhl reminds all parents to see that their babies receive routine health supervision and immunization against prevalent childhood diseases, such as diphtheria, tetanus, whooping cough, through the family physician or the Health Department Child Health Clinics. Parents are asked to take their babies to the nearest clinic to their residence.

Presentation Of Charlotte Johnson Planned By Club

Members of the Club De Solteras Y Donnas were busy at their last meeting making plans for the presentation of an up and coming musician, Miss Charlotte Johnson, at Second Baptist church, 24th and Griffith, the first Sunday in June at 3 p.m. The arrangements were made at their last meeting held at the East 115th street home of Mr. and Mrs. C. Ladd.

Speaker of the afternoon was Mr. W. W. Webb, who gave an interesting talk on the origins of the religions of man. The Tiny Mitchell trio furnished the music for the evening. Following the meeting the hostess served a delicious barbecue buffet supper. R. Cooper, president; I. McMullan, publicist.

South Africa, Again!

The question of color bar in South Africa is now a great problem confronting all progressive Africans. The thing I cannot understand is the fact that a nation with entirely different philosophy and culture will stand as a parasite and a stepping stone to other nations that are true lovers of the so-called democracy.

It is now clear to the Africans that enemies surround them, enemies through their respective forms of government. As it is now, most African dignitaries who speak up for the rights of her people are called names. They are either accused of having seditious documents or called anti-British. I might as well be classed in that category for it will never move me. We might as well be called dangerous individuals but on the other hand, we are profitable to Africa. No nation can be depended enough, industrious enough, clever enough, or even unselfish enough as to trust her welfare to other nations that think nothing but exploitation.

Imperialism cannot help us! Communism cannot! Nor could capitalism! Africa must be built by Africans on the basic principles of what fits Africa as Africa, not British or Europeanized Africa. No individual can live a progressive life without being free to act and think for himself, and maintain his position. Freedom is man's natural gift from God. It is hopeless existing in bondage. We live by living. It is an unforgivable sin to deny our fellow man his rights. Peace can never be made peaceful when some nations are kept slave while others are free; and life can never be what it really is when we practice man's inhumanity to man. The world must be made peaceful; and life worth living.

Community Rallies To Support "Y"

A rising tide of community concern for the 28th Street Branch of the Young Men's Christian Association is making its influence felt and promises to prevent the necessity of the Board of Managers of the Branch taking all of the drastic steps that last week seemed inevitable. The Board, however, has no choice but to take immediate steps effective May 1st that will bring the cost of Branch operation in line with the cash in hand as of that date.

Funds and support received after May 1st will serve to speed recovery of the "Y" and restore the services and program that must be curtailed May 1st. The Board of Managers is assured by representatives of the press, by local radio programs, by organizations, and individual citizens, that transfusions of funds will be forthcoming in adequate amounts during the month of May. On the basis of these promises the Board is looking forward to a larger and more effective program for the youth of the community.

The annual meeting of the Governing Members of the 28th Street "Y" was set by the Board of Managers for Thursday evening, May 11, at the Branch. Governing members of the branch are those adult members, who are committed to the purposes of the Association and support the "Y" with annual dues of ten dollars or more. At the annual meeting, in addition to receiving reports, the members will nominate officers and members of the Branch Board of Managers for appointment by the President of the Association.

Frontier Days Queen

Presiding over Loyola's "Frontier Days" on May 6 will be lovely Mary Ann Kurt, who, this week, was selected as Miss Frontier Days by a Committee of Judges appointed by the 20-30 Club of Westchester. In a contest sponsored by the active Westchester business group, Mary Ann, a student at St. Mary's Academy, was unanimously selected from a field of 15 by judges Ann Toland, Robert Cole and John T. Boudreau.

Miss Kurt, who resides at 6375 West 81st St., will appear in full Western regalia donated by a local department store, on May 6, and will participate in all events as queen of the wild west show.

Huston's New Prexy

Dr. Robert F. Harrington

Dr. Robert F. Harrington, 37, formally took over his duties as the new president of Samuel Huston college in Austin, Tex., last week. He succeeds the late Dr. Karl E. Downs. Dr. Harrington, a native of Clover, S. C., is a graduate of Claflin college, Gammon Theological seminary, and Boston university. He has served as director of religious activities at Wiley college, lecturer at Dillard university, and pastor of the Mt. Zion church in New Orleans.

South Park Playground Dedicated May 6

Grand opening and dedication of South Park Playground's new $225,000 group of recreation buildings will be combined with a huge Parade of Youth to give the South Central area of Los Angeles one of the outstanding events of the year on Saturday, May 6, according to plans announced this week.

City Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the Eighth District, in which South Park is located, Councilman Don A. Allen of the adjoining Seventh District, members of the City Recreation and Park Commission, general manager George Hjelte of the Recreation and Park Department, and many of the area's leading citizens and heads of civic groups will take part in the brief ceremonies.

This will be followed by a program demonstrating playground activities, a May festival by the children of the area, and open house inspection of the new buildings and facilities.

Open House at Trinity

Open House will be held by Trinity St. School Thursday, April 27 from 9 a.m. until 3 p.m. Mrs. Claire G. Gist, principal, extends an invitation to parents to visit the school and meet the faculty.

The regular monthly meeting of the Trinity P.T.A. will commence at 2 p.m. in the auditorium with Mrs. Chester Hemphill, president, presiding. In conjunction with Open House, the room mothers of the organization will sponsor a Bake Sale. Parents are urged to purchase home baked cakes, cookies, and cup cakes to help swell the welfare fund.

Pull up and rest at the first sign of drowsiness, or, if possible, change drivers. That is especially important during long periods at the wheel, particularly at night.

Went over to Jeff's House the other nite Gee, that Glee Club over there is really tops. . . . Patronella Ross must be losing out cause I saw Govan with Sylvia Benett a couple of nites ago. Norman Holmes has been seen holding his breath and crossing his fingers. Think he's hoping to go back with Alice.

Take the hint, Alice. What happened to Louis Young and Ollie Lincoln? Don't see them together any more. Just the same I heard Louis calling her on the phone. Hum, something must be up. Did you know that David Robinson is in love with Mary Alice Walton? Wonder if she feels the same. . . . Why doesn't N. D. leave Ban Young alone? They say Clyde A. and Ronnie Nickles are looking for gal friends. . . . Just look around boys there's plenty to be gotten. Well I'll be . . . Allen Bailey has a heart throb for Gloria Spurlin. William Carter is giving Lawrence Hearing plenty of competition. . . . I think they're both after Mae Hinson. P. S. Goggles, you'd better look out, Gracie Farmer and Charlene Brown were in car accidents Sunday nite. Both received beautiful black eyes. . . .

Pluto Russell seems to be doing OK with Charlene. I hope. . . . Junior, don't you think it's about time to wake up and see what's happening with Alice Evans? . . . Guess What? . . . I heard that Leander Tenette is getting married to a little chick in La Habra. . . . Ole Percy Harris and Jo Ann Clark seem to be at it again. Least that's the way it looked Tuesday nite. Dickie Russell, how are things with you and Toni? Billy Boy Rodgers is getting real chummy with Dorothy Johnson. Lorraine Mouton has finally asked the fourth victim. His name is Louie. You know, that one she went to the formal with last Friday nite. Madam Snag, why don't you grow up and stop being so childish? Charles "Fat Boy" Rondoes, there's a certain little chick who has eyes for you, here's a little hint. Her name is Jody. Everybody wants to know whether Theresa Monroe goes with Garnett Green, James Elkins or Harry Griffin. Why Theresa, you greedy thing. . . . Oscar Johnson must be in love with both Delores Clark and Pearl. . . . Lindsay Martin must be afraid he might lose her, cause he never takes her to St. Paul's. Well, you'd be afraid to take the chance to, so don't say nothin.

Jerry E. and Alma really do, do plenty of lovin. Sexton, you must be fickle. Can't you make up your mind between M. C. and Dorothy? . . . Charles W., you've got lots of charm. Now, why don't you buckle down and get yourself a gal friend. It isn't that hard. Johnny Hale, you and Charles Hamilton "isn't" angry with one another is you? . . . Lorraine Johnson, you know good and well that it isn't fair to treat Alvin so mean. . . . You know Curtis Buttershee and Theresa Monroe have lots of things in common? . . . Willie Mae Johnson, you ain't the bashful type, are you dearie. Yes, I've been hearing all about you and Frank.

Amey Sharp and Leon Freeman have been seen admiring, shall we say, nature in Expo Park. Everyone's walkin' in a daze cause they want to know who Carol B. is tryin to go with. Speak right up Carol, don't be bashful J. Buchanan can't make up his mind. His problems seem to be Sandra Shields and Jimmie Spencer. Don Thompson, Manual's ace hurler is being hooked by Blanch Tobin. Ole Jim Robinson is tryin to get real chummy with Carmen Garrett and J. B.

Leroy Wade, you know it isn't nice to take Shirley Lee away from M. O. . . . Manual Arts relay ran an easy two minutes 59.9 seconds, last Friday.

Lover Girl
Tip Bailey gave me this week's lover gal. According to him she really is an ideal lover girl. Well, if you don't believe it. Here are the facts. 5 ft. 3 in. tall with reddish brown hair, dark brown eyes, medium brown complexion and oodles of dimples. She's 135 pounds of loveliness. You know one thing, she's a darling little trick.

Parties o-Comin
The Dukes and Duchess are givin' their hop this comin' Friday. At 1250 1/2 N. Virgil Avenue. 25c admission and the time is 8:00 until. . . . Manual Arts is giving a party this Friday at the Magic Door, the price is also 25c per person. . . . and the music is to be supplied by Frank Morgan. Now just take your pick, cause they're both gonna be swell parties.

Lover Man
I'm tellin you. This time I really have a lover man. Gosh if you could only see him. On second thought you'd better not see him cause you might get greedy. . . . So, sooo darling to behold is Alvin Dupree. 5 ft. 7 in. weighing about 140 pounds with dark brown curly hair, lite brown complexion, slight mustache, and filled with tons of personality. He'd make anybody's heart skip a beat. Darn it ' ' ' I mean two beats.

All jokes aside he is a sweet little ole boy. (Alvin, you can pay me anytime, for the flattery).

Fals, next week, little Miss Jo Ann Clark is gonna be my guest columnist. So, don't forget to get the best paper in the world THE EAGLE. . . .

Any gossip, well, just pick yourself up and call CE. 2-9822, conversatory of gossip. Ask for Barbara, that's me, you know.

The Willowbrook High School on Wilmington Ave., presented its Second Annual Concert from the Instrumental Music Department, under the direction of Thomas V. Mistretta.

At 8:00 p.m. Friday night, April 21st, in the school auditorium, curtains went up on a beautiful stage setting with a background of colorful orchid hues, for the seated orchestra.

The concert last year left pleasant memories of the progress that each student is making, but I believe this year's performance far surpassed the well tutored class of last year. Incidentally Willowbrook seems to be noted for talented students, and it's just such performances as this that gives them a chance to display their talents, each performer seemed relaxed, and well composed, and it wouldn't be fair if I should give mention to one particular student and didn't include the others, for each student did an excellent job.

The program as presented:

- I
a. Andante Cantabile from 5th Symphony Tchaikowsky

Cora Johnson Is Endorsed By Leading Church Organizations

Four more endorsements were received at meetings attended personally by Mrs. Cora Johnson, candidate for the Assembly for the 67th District, who wound up another week of campaigning at a successful fund-raising rally Sunday evening.

April 12th — An endorsement by the Eureka Tabernacle International order of 12.

April 17th — Mrs. Johnson's home church, St. James A.M.E., gave its official endorsement at the Church Conference.

April 21st — Speaking before an enthusiastic gathering of more than 600 people at the Pasadena and San Diego Conference of A.M.E. churches, Mrs. Johnson was given an unanimous pledge of support and official endorsement of this body.

April 22 — The Interdenominational Ministerial Alliance, meeting at the St. Johns M. E. Church, endorsed Mrs. Johnson's candidacy for the Assembly office for the 67th District.

After speaking at the People's Independent Church of Christ in Watts Sunday, the Candidate attended a fund-raising rally given by one of the "Cora Johnson Clubs," at the home of Jim Burford, and inspired the large group in attendance.

The participants, representative of all national, political and religious groups, heard Mrs. Johnson lash out with stinging criticism of public officials, elected and appointed, who "walk hand in hand with the most reactionary elements, denying the people the rights to decent pensions, education and living standards."

Taking a firm stand for the billion dollar public works project, the 160 acre limitation on the Central Valley Project, a Statewide Fair Employment Practices Act, and police protection instead of police brutality, Mrs. Johnson received wide applause.

She stressed the point that, as a Negro and a mother interested in education, she has always been in the struggle for these things and would, of necessity, be fighting just as hard even though she had not been selected as the candidate.

These issues, she said, do affect all minority peoples, all workers and particularly all women, regardless of their national origin or economic status.

Top Stars Set To Appear On Police Show

Many of the nation's best loved stars of screen, radio, and television will be guests on the Los Angeles Police Show which will open at the Shrine Auditorium next Thursday.

Bob Hope, as usual, will open the show with appearances Thursday and Friday. Others following Hope will include Red Skelton, May 6; Danny Thomas, May 7; Jack Benny, May 8; Dan Dailey, May 9 and 10; Ralph Edwards, May 11 and 12; Donald O'Connor, May 13; Gordon MacRae, May 14 and 15; and Eleanor Powell, May 16 and 17.

Medical Center Treated Over 10,000 Patients

Eight-year-old Peter Russell this week became the 10,000th patient to be treated at the non-profit Community Medical Center, 5503 S. Broadway.

The husky youngster was found to be in the proverbial pink after being examined by the interracial center's specialist staff.

Peter lives with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Russell at 10652 S. Manhattan Place.

Meanwhile, campaign chairman George R. Schmidt announced the organization of a women's committee to assist in the current $50,000 fund drive.

The group met this week at the home of Mrs. Herbert Lack, 663 N. Mariposa to map plans for a series of fund raising events.

Crossing Guards for Watts Approved

The Watts Urban League Volunteer Committee was advised by W. A. Worton, Chief of Police, that the crossing guards requested by the committee have been approved, according to Mrs. Christine Meade, committee chairman, and Rev. John J. Hicks, president of Southeast Ministers Inter-denominational Alliance. The guard will be placed at the intersection of 103rd and Grape Streets.

The Urban League, the Ministerial Alliance, the Co-ordinating Council, and P.T.A. organizations have combined their efforts toward assuring sufficient facilities for the protection of the youth of this area.

Rev. Hicks commended Chief Worton and Traffic Commander B. R. Caldwell for the expediency shown in handling this matter.

Public Beware!

Warning to the public to be aware of persons posing as advertising solicitors for The American Legion was sounded this week.

Incidents have come to the attention of Legion officials of attempts to sell advertising in connection with the Legion's National convention in Los Angeles next October 8-12. National Convention Director Ed. W. Bolt emphatically declared that no Legion solicitors are in the field seeking advertising.

Compton College Notes

Willie Wise and Willie Best, Barbara Appling, Ernie Smith, went to San Diego over the holiday week-end.

'Tis rumored that Mary Guilory and Howard Goins is a dating duo of late.

Marie Foster and Joan Mason, Compton co-eds, are to be presented as Debutantes of 1950 soon.

The Alpha Kappa Alpha backward dance will be the thing not to miss. For if you do you'll never forgive yourself.

At last reports from Alpha Gamma members Cleopatra Johnson, and Rubye Jackson, "Everything was real cool—Kool."

The inter-fraternity basketball series went on as usual with everybody hoarse as a result of so much yelling. The Men of Omega marched on to the victory of the much defeated Alpha Phi Alpha.

The Kappas, last year series champions, won over the Phi Beta Sigma fraternity in the second game.

Groups thronged to the Crystal Tea Room to the after affair and from there progressed to smaller gatherings all over Los Angeles. Seen between the game and all the after parties were Frank Arnold, Chiko Spencer, Pauline Smith, Joe Johnson, Robert Andrews, Katherine Kimball, Flora Tryon, Chuck Jones, Voal French, Catherine Thomas, and Thomas Ayers.

STOP, LOOK, LISTEN.

READ, AND HEED...

Your friend and my bad enemy, Roy Loggins Jr., is sponsoring a Queen's contest.

To all the students who don't know it, you have a contestant, which will represent Compton and Slayacs (who is it?)

Von Dosta McCormick, the young lady who has been the only Negro to reign over Willowbrook high school as queen.

Here goes a sermon, so if you don't want to read it skip it.

It is about time the gang out at Compton got together. Everyone wants to lead, nobody wants to follow, and you couldn't all have been queen so I'd like to ask you to give Von your undivided support, show Roy the kids out here and be active too. If you cooperate I know she will win... And before it gets here I might as well start now, Patricia Countee will be a probable candidate for next year's song leader group. If she does run, there are enough of you guys that never vote, to get her in or keep her out of the position, so instead of grumbling about what people don't do for you at Compton try helping yourselves instead of inviting for someone to hand you something on a gold platter, I'll bet it works.

Dear Gang:

If you haven't seen my Strictly Campus Column in the Tartar Shield it's not because I'm negligent, it's lack of space on the page for discussion. It's necessary that I don't criticize all the time, so when I have something real pertinent to talk about you'll see it in the paper.

ELAJC CAMPUS NOTES

Well kids here I am again. Gee, you guys really talked about me last week for remaining anonymous, after all I only wrote them as I saw them.

Say, have I got some hot tips this week. A friend of a friend of a friend of mine told me that "Evelyn Dotson" and a best friend of her best friend went out Friday night and had a swoon-derful time, how about that Evelyn????????

Seen smooching at the Inter-Frat game Sat. nite were Antoinette Brown (looking coyish in blue) and Fred Johnson, Madeline Carter (putting her all in cheering) and Teddy Williams sporting red as all good Kappas should. Oh, yes Jay Gonder, was that you I saw with Billie at the game Gee, I could have sworn that it was????????

OVERSEEN AND OVERHEARD IN THE DOGHOUSE: Why does Crawley White come out to ELA so often, is she that interesting? What would happen if Dean Vinson, Eddie Sherrill, and Dexter, couldn't play checkers and dominoes anymore? Why does "Nuita" like Billy Eckstine's recording of "My Foolish Heart" so much.

I hear that the ELANS were well represented at the dance at the Avodon Friday nite so much so in fact that "Little Willie Littlefield" decided to dedicate a song to them PERSONALLY?

Sat., May 29 the ZETAS are giving a fine "DAWN PARTY" from 12 p.m. to 4 a.m. Sounds real crazy huh? This will be after the Frat game Sat. nite and shouldn't be missed, everybody who's anybody will be there, how about you? The place escapes me at the moment but you can call ADams 4456 and find out.

Say girls I made a big mistake last week, Mr. Tall, Tan and Terific's eyes weren't grey, they are brown, and he isn't new? He has been hiding in the Library, can you feature that?

Congrats to Joyce Bates on having reached her eighteenth birthday safely? Seriously, I hope the rest of the trip is twice as swell.

NOTES FROM THE NEWS-BOOK OF MY GAL FRIDAY: Heard four lovely (female) ELANS (names omitted by request) went on a wild goose chase Sun. nite starting with the Hula Hut in Hillywd' only to find it closed and ended up at the Downbeat on Cntrl' ave. After a joyous evening, three weary ELANS dragged themselves home. What happened to the fourth one?????

Mary Wright our boys at ELA are hard enough to Tag, without you making them angry by wearing your heart on your sleeve for a City College man. Have a heart Chick! think of 'we poor gals on the homefront. Gee, have we got a full week-end coming up. Cat. nite the "National Queens" are making their debut at one of the finest parties to be given this season. There'll be room and fun for all. Rem. 416 W. 47th Pl.

Richard Ford, if a certain young lady is bold enough to ask you to take her to a Prom aren't you bold enough to take her.

About Milwaukee

By J. R. EGGLESTON

MILWAUKEE, April 24—Mrs. James W. Richardson of 2460-A North 5th street, is one of the instructors in the new Child Care Center at 1420 North 7th street. The new center, which opened today, will be dedicated May 7.

Racine Plans Mass Evictions

RACINE, Wis., April 21—During the war when every available man or woman was needed on the production line to make equipment in order to save our democracy, about 1000 Negroes came to this industrial city to serve their country in the best possible way.

These Negroes were placed in temporary trailer camps and promised that low cost housing would later be erected.

In December the City Council of Racine passed a motion asking that these trailer camps be vacated by July 1, 1950. The Public Housing Administration of the U. S. Government, which is in charge of these trailer camps, yielded, stating that the trailer camps will not be fit to live in the coming winter, and notified the tenants that they would have to move by July 1.

Where Will They Go?

Where will they move to? The Real Estate crowd, got through a cleverly worded referendum on April 14, which would ban the city from erecting low cost public housing. Those who wanted public housing had to vote "No," and the confusion was so great that the "Yes" vote, meaning no public housing, was carried 4-1.

The Housing Administration said that the trailers would not be habitable for the coming winter, is now trying to sell them to the tenants for $75 to $155. Anyone buying a trailer will have to find a lot to put it on.

It is impossible for any of the tenants to buy a home in the city because the Real Estate companies will not sell a home to Negroes, they will only sell them shacks, which they themselves would not be found dead in.

What Is Being Done?

The tenants of the Racine trailer camps organized themselves into a Trailer Camp Housing Committee with a three-point program:

1. No Evictions.
2. The right to buy or rent housing at equal prices with other buyers.
3. The providing of low cost public housing for needy Negro and white tenants by the city, state and federal governments.

They are also appealing to the community, the churches, labor unions, Mayor's Commission on Human Rights and the Governor's Commission on Human Rights for support.

MILWAUKEE, April 23—It was a great day for 20-year-old Dolores Comer Nicholson of 2037-A North 10th Street, when she received a gold pin inscribed "Graduate of the Mount Sinai School of Nursing."

Miss Nicholson received the pin in a ceremony at Temple Emanu-El-B'nai Jeshurun, 2419 E. Kenwood Blvd. Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Nicholson were as proud as any mother and father as they watched their daughter receive an award that no other Negro in the city has received from the Milwaukee School of Nursing.

Miss Jeanette Hays, executive secretary of the Milwaukee District Nurses' Association, has been very glad to have a Negro in the school. While Miss Hays was talking about Miss Nicholson's ability she said, "We're the ones being educated."

Her graduate training will end next August, when she'll probably join the Mount Sinai nursing staff. She has been on duty at Milwaukee Children's Hospital, as part of her three-year nursing course which gives students practical training in several hospitals.

Honor Rev. and Mrs. L. D. Revoal With Full Week of Services

The First Church of Venice, 688 Westminster Ave., has set May 1 through May 7 as a week for a series of services in appreciation of their pastor and his wife, the Rev. and Mrs. L. D. Revoal and in celebration of the minister's fifth anniversary as spiritual leader of the congregation. The Rev. Revoal filled the pulpit for the first time as pastor on the first Sunday in May, 1945. He is credited with rendering a telling service for good to the church and its community since that time.

The series of services will be directed as follows by other ministers and their congregations: Monday, May 1, Rev. J. F. Griffin and choir of the Providence Baptist Church of Los Angeles; Tuesday, May 2nd, Rev. C. A. Hamp-hill and choir of the Harmony Baptist Church of Los Angeles;

Wednesday, May 3, Rev. J. E. Evans and choir of Metropolitan Baptist Church of Los Angeles; Thursday, May 4, Rev. P. J. Ellis and choir of the Morning Star Baptist Church of Los Angeles; Friday, May 5, Rev. Thomas P. Moss and choir of the New Zion Baptist Church of Los Angeles; Sunday, May 7, Rev. George W. Cofield and choir of the Mt. Corinth Baptist Church of Los Angeles. The first five visiting pastors will conduct their services at 8:00 p.m. each night. The Rev. Cofield will conduct his service, and deliver the anniversary sermon on the afternoon of Sunday, May 7, at 3:00 o'clock.

Heading the anniversary committee for the church are: Deacon Henry W. Jackson, general chairman; Rev. S. W. Burks, director-general; Mesdames Ethel Moore and Irma McNeil as co-chairmen for women.

Community Forum At First AME

The Laymen's League of the First A.M.E. Church, Eighth and Towne Avenue, will present a Community Forum panel discussion featuring Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, Attorney Vince M. Townsend, Mrs. Juanita Miller, and Floyd C. Covington at 2:45 p.m. Sunday, April 30 at the First Church, 801 Towne Avenue. Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the local branch of the N.A.A.C.P. will act as discussion leader.

Chairman of the committee of laymen planning the event, Mrs. Anita Wright, pointed out that the topic "Speak Up, Mr. Citizen, Now or Never" will give full opportunity to both the speakers and the audience to voice their opinions on a wider number of vitally important issues. The program is in connection with an all day observance of Laymen's Day at the local church.

Two musical groups will provide a special treat. The Dixie Four, vocal group, composed of Ruben DeVault, Prince T. Patridge, L. Bob Miller, and Earl-don F. Scales with Ray Greagor at the piano will appear. The quartet has been featured on radio, television, and screen. Another musical group, the Symphonic Choristers, under the direction of Andre Green, will render several numbers including a special arrangement of The Lord's Prayer. The group is composed of sixteen young business and professional men.

Other programs for the day include early morning prayer service at 5 a.m. led by Mrs. O. A. Simpson. W. Thomas Person is chairman of the Laymen's League. The final service will be the 7:15 p.m. service, at which reports of the day's success will be given.

First Spring Muiscale at Bowen Mem., Sun.

The First Annual Spring Muiscale of the Youth Choir of Bowen Memorial Methodist Church will present four youth choirs and a galaxy of young artists Sunday afternoon at the church, Trinity and E. 36th Streets it was announced this week by Mrs. Amanda Nelson, Director of the host youth choir.

Among the Youth Choirs co-operating in the project, Mrs. Nelson named those of Second and Evening Star Baptists, First A.M.E. Bowen's own youth choir, of which Willie Barnes is president. Mrs. Nelson stated that the program will start at five o'clock and that the public is invited.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

A heart-touching letter from Rosalee McGee, wife of Willie McGee, now in his fifth year of imprisonment in Mississippi where he is awaiting a Supreme Court decision on whether his death sentence appeal will be heard, has just reached the office of The California Eagle. It was sent originally to the Civil Rights Congress, New York, and forwarded from there to the EAGLE. Excerpts from the letter follow:

Dear Committee,
"I work so hard and I am so tired when I get home. You see I had a hard time getting a job in town, so I am working in the country. I had a good job, I mean what you call good here. Soon as the lady found out I was Willie's wife she didn't want me to get off to go see him. She did lots of talk about him I didn't think was right, so I quit and everywhere I would go seemed like she would beat me there. He cried Sunday when I told him I had to walk almost two miles to get to my job whenever I ride the city bus. He said he hated to see me work so hard and not have things as other people have. I told him not to worry. I'd get by. I pray every night to my Father in Heaven to please let him come back to me just one more time. . . . McGee told me not to give up. That if life lasts and death passes, He will make it up.

I have been tested many ways about my poor husband by white and colored. . . . I just take it all to the Lord. He is the master of us all.

As I close I pray that my trouble will soon be over and my husband will be free. Thank you with all my heart for the check, and in my prayers to God will remember you, the CRC, in your work to free my husband.

Yours in Christ,

Rosalee

Rev. Adolphus Webb to Pastor Wadsworth Adventist Church

This week the members and friends of the Wadsworth Seventh-day Adventist church, corner of 40th Place and Wadsworth, gave their official welcome to their new pastor, the Rev. Adolphus E. Webb.

Rev. Webb, son of a charter member, grew up as a boy in the Wadsworth church when it was originally located on the old Furlong tract on East 54th Street near Alameda St. Today the one who was once a lad in knee pants in that church is the dignified and able pastor the church which today has a membership of nearly 1000.

Prior to his return to Los Angeles, Rev. Webb pastored the denomination's largest church located in New York City at 123rd and Lennox Ave. He also pastored large city churches in Detroit, Washington, D. C., St. Louis and Kansas City. In the latter city he made headlines in a metropolitan daily because he personally worked in overalls to construct debt-free during the depression a $75,000.00 stone church out of stones removed from an abandoned brewery.

His wife, the former Carolyn E. Dent of Redlands and Los Angeles, is an active church worker and an accomplished singer. It is a home-coming to return to California for her as well as her husband for her brother, Rev. J. F. Dent, principal of the Los Angeles Academy also lives here. Rev. Webb's youngest brother, Rev. W. C. Webb, is pastor of the Compton Avenue Church in Watts.

A public reception was given in honor of Rev. and Mrs. Webb by the official church board at the Los Angeles Academy, Sunday afternoon where hundreds came to personally welcome the Webbs back home. Mrs. Mayme Lowe, who also "knew him when" arranged a delightful program for the occasion. Refreshments were served under the direction of the deaconess board.

Speakers appearing on the program were: Rev. C. L. Torrey and R. G. Lewis representing the So. Calif. Conference of Seventh-day Adventists; Revs. H. A. Lindsey, G. F. Millet, W. C. Webb, representing churches in the area; and Rev. J. F. Dent of the L. A. Academy. Giving the opening words of welcome was the Rev. Owen A. Troy, western representative of the Pacific Union Conference of SDA, and who along with Rev. Webb grew up as boys together in the old Furlong church.

Rev. Webb will preach his initial sermon at the Wadsworth church on Saturday morning, May 6. Rev. R. H. Robertson, former pastor of the church, will devote his full time to evangelism in the Southern California conference.

Lay No Flowers on My Grave.
O, lay no flowers on my grave
If you are one of those Who not a word of comfort gave
To tide me past my woes.
I'd rather that my grave be bare
Or lost in ugly weeds
Than have you scatter flowers
there
Who scorned my earthly needs.
He recalls—not without subtle irony—"My Kin Who Fell at Red Bank":

They were heroes,
They were braves;
They were Negroes,
They were slaves.
They were fearless
In the fights;
"They were peerless"
Said the whites.

And he draws deeply on his Negro heritage, peppering it with wisdom and patience in "The Prejudiced":

I will not let your prejudice
Add furrows to my face
As everyone must pay the price
Who hates because of race.
In fact, I truly pity you;
You stultify your life
By letting hatred filter through

And poison it with strife.
There is nothing here that is perplexing. There is nothing here too deep to be easily grasped.
There is great warmth and inner beauty, an infectious enthusiasm and fervor that even the most casual reader can hardly fail to catch.

Spacious beautiful metropolitan Baptist Church in Pasadena.

REV. MALONE

Rev. Malone Highly Honored For 11 Years at Metropolitan

By PERCY CARTER

Rev. S. M. Malone, of Pasadena, is without doubt one of the really great men of our time. He is a man who has made history in the State of California.

At present pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church in Pasadena, he has built that church from a small divided congregation to one of the largest in the community.

Rev. Malone came to Pasadena to become pastor of the Metropolitan Baptist Church on December 23, 1938. At that time the church was divided in spirit, and had only 92 members. Today it is united and has a membership of more than 500.

A leader with untiring energy, and possessed with unusual executive ability, Rev. Malone has breathed his spirit into every department of the church. To cite only a few examples to show how the church has prospered under his leadership—the B.T.U. now raises $1,000 per year, the Senior and Gospel Chorus $1,000 per year, respectively; the Senior Usher Board $1,000 per year, and the Sunday School and Missionary Society are raising $2,200 and $5,000 per year respectively.

Working indefatigably, Rev. Malone has erected at a cost of more than $100,000 one of the most beautiful churches in all California. Standing well back from the highway, like an ancient monastery in its purity, the new Metropolitan Baptist Church seems enveloped in a friendly atmosphere, the atmosphere transmitted to it by its pastor and its members, which invite all to come and worship there.

Speaking of their pastor, the members of his church said upon the eleventh anniversary of his coming to Pasadena: "He is a good preacher, an excellent pastor, and organizer, and a church financier of most unusual ability. His ministry has encouraged many members to buy and build good homes. Metropolitan Baptist Church felicitates him upon this, his eleventh anniversary, and pledges to him its unstinted support in all the years that lie ahead."

In all his labors, sometimes difficult, sometimes discouraging, Rev. Malone has always had the sympathetic support and understanding of Mrs. Malone—Charlotte T. Malone, working miracles in so quiet and unobtrusive a way that one scarcely felt the hand that guided.

With him, too, has been his

PREPARATION

It is impossible you should take true root but by the fair weather that you make yourself; it is needful that you frame the season for your own harvest.

—Shakespeare.

What stubbing, plowing, digging, and harrowing is to the land, that thinking, reflecting, examining is to the mind.

—George Berkeley.

One's first lesson is to learn one's self; having done this, one will naturally, through grace from God, forgive his brother and love his enemies.

—Mary Baker Eddy.

Promise yourself . . . to give so much time to the improvement of yourself that you have no time to criticize others.

—Christian D. Larson.

Study to shew thyself approved unto God, a workman that needeth not to be ashamed, rightly dividing the word of truth.

Seventh-Day Adventists Plan World Conference In 'Frisco

Delegates from the Los Angeles area to the world conference of Seventh Day Adventists in San Francisco July 10 to 22 were announced this week by C. L. Bauer, president of the Pacific Coast Union Conference.

Included will be Owen A. Troy, departmental secretary of the church's Pacific Union Conference, and W. C. Webb, pastor of the Compton Avenue Adventist Church.

This quadrennial business session of the Seventh Day Adventist Church organization will be attended by more than 400 officially appointed delegates representing practically the entire world. Fifteen thousand people will be present at meetings held in San Francisco's civic auditorium. Adventists, according to the latest church statistics, are carrying on work in 228 of the 282 countries of the world. This is conducted in 705 languages with printed literature available in 195 languages.

At the conference the progress of the work of the church in all the world during the past four years will be reviewed, and plans laid for the future. Election of officers will be held, and resolutions adopted touching the extension of medical service, education, and humanitarian endeavors throughout the world. Every year the Adventist church appropriates many millions of dollars to advancing these lines of work. Rehabilitation of institutional and church properties since the war has been one of the heaviest projects.

Musical Moments To Be Presented At St. Paul Baptist

The Wide Awake Club of St. Paul Baptist Church will present Musical Moments with Juanita Locker Ivie in a recital of songs in costumes, May 11, at St. Paul Church, 8:15 p.m.

This affair is being sponsored for the benefit of the building fund program.

Thrifty Sixteen Club

The Thrifty Sixteen Social and Club enjoyed one of the most outstanding fashion reviews of the season, Sunday afternoon, April 16th. The Henderson Community Center was a house of "Fashionation" from the first model to the last.

Mr. William Alvin Hall Sr. was a most outstanding master of ceremonies as he gave out with his most interesting descriptions of the many, many styles that were presented.

The club takes this opportunity to thank all who did so much to make this affair a success.

Baha'i World Faith

Spirit in Action is the subject on which Mrs. Florence Mayberry will address the public meeting of Baha'i World Faith to be held at Los Angeles headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday afternoon, April 30, at 3:30 o'clock.

The Baha'i Faith upholds the unity of God, recognizes the unity of His prophets, and inculcate the principle of the oneness and wholeness of the entire human race. It proclaims the necessity and inevitability of the unification of mankind, asserts that it is gradually approaching, and that nothing short of the transmuting spirit of God, working through His chosen Mouthpiece in this day, can ultimately succeed in bringing it about.

In Memoriam

In fond memory of our loved one, Mrs. Jennie Helen Slater Graham, who passed away one year ago, on April 29, 1949.

"Life's work well done,
Life's race well run,
Life's song well sung,
Life's victory won,
And now comes peace."

Get away from the crowd when you can. Keep yourself to yourself, if only for a few hours daily.
—Arthur Brisbane.

CME Conf. Meets

ST. LOUIS, Mo.—The General Conference of the Colored Methodist Episcopal Church, is scheduled to meet in Kansas City, Missouri beginning May 3, with 5000 or more persons in attendance.

Efforts have been made by the Bishops and other leaders of the Methodist Church to have the membership of the CME Church become a part of the Methodist body, made up of white and Negro people in all sections of the world.

Christian Science Text God, Preserver of Man

"As birds flying, so will the Lord of hosts defend Jerusalem; defending also he will deliver it; and passing over he will preserve it." This statement from Isaiah will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon on "God the Preserver of Man" in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston.

Matthew's Gospel reports that "Jesus called his disciples unto him, and said, I have compassion on the multitude, because they continue with me now three days, and have nothing to eat: . . . And his disciples say unto him, Whence should we have so much bread in the wilderness, as to fill so great a multitude? And Jesus saith unto them, How many loaves have ye? And they said, Seven, and a few little fishes. . . . And he took the seven loaves and the fishes, and gave thanks, and brake them, and gave to his disciples, and the disciples to the multitude. And they did all eat, and were filled."

Mary Baker Eddy says in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "A miracle fulfills God's law, but does not violate that law." "In the scientific relation of God to man, we find that whatever blesses one blesses all, as Jesus showed with the loaves and the fishes.—Spirit, not matter, being the source of supply."

Christian SC Radiocast

A lecture on the subject, Christian Science: The Law of Liberty, will be radiocast over Station KFOX (1280 kc), Friday evening, April 21, at 8 o'clock, from First Church of Christ, Scientist, Compton. The lecturer, Adair Hickman, C.S.B., of New York City, is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

LaVollia Williams Conducts Classes At Kingdom Baptist

The Hedge and Highway Committee, which meets every Friday at noon, holds classes in the study of St. John, conducted by Sister LaVollia Williams.

Sunday, April 30 will be a high day at Kingdom, Rev. Herman Gore will occupy the pulpit at 11 a.m. In the devotional worship period Sister Clara Calhoun will give a reading and a solo will be rendered by Sister Irma Mae Toney.

daughter, Attorney-at-Law Martha Malone Jefferson. Endowed with some of her father's indomitable spirit, Atty. Martha Malone Jefferson has worked her way up from the bottom until today she stands not only as the outstanding Negro woman barrister in Los Angeles and vicinity, but also as one of the most outstanding women in the legal profession in the country.

Kenny and Ibanez Political Notes

Robert W. Kenny is receiving the endorsement of liberal-minded Democrats from all parts of Los Angeles County, in his race for State Senator from L. A. county. He is hoping to defeat Jack Tenney, the present senator. He has refused to cross-file on the IPP ticket, although members of the IPP are urging their friends in the Democratic Party to vote for Kenny. He is a prominent attorney, and was formerly Attorney General.

Mrs. Hampton Speaks At Greater Faith Sun.

Mrs. Exie Lee Hampton, executive director of the Eastside Settlement House, will be the principal speaker, Sunday, April 30, at 3:30 p.m. at the Greater Faith Baptist Church, 1446 West 36th Place.

The theme for the missionary day program is "Women at Work." Mrs. Hampton, who is a Baptist leader in the field of missions, comes with a wealth of experience. Allie Beck is the president of Greater Faith Missionary Society. Rev. B. Clarence Cooke is pastor of the church.

All people of all faiths are welcome.

Men's Day Planned At Lincoln Congregational Church Sunday

Yes, it is April 30th, Sunday morning at 11:00 p.m. that the men of our church are in charge. They are out to get a large attendance of men at our church for this occasion. They are inviting Fraternities, Men's Clubs, The Elks, The Masons, The Shriners and others. Alvis Parish, Jr., is the Chairman.

Dr. Arthur Mitchell, a noted obstetrician, one who shared in the leadership for West View Hospital and many other Community betterment endeavors, an Alpha man and a Christian, will address us on the subject: "The Christian Answer to Life's Goals." He is well read in the subject of religion and is building a library in his home with a good section of Theological and Ethical subjects. He is a family man, a generous doctor in his practice, and he lives simply and with good taste.

Included in our worship service will be some of the finest men artists and musicians including Hargroves, Lacey, Gordon, Lassiter and others.

On this day all the ladies will honor the men. The men will sit in the center pews and the women flanked on either side. The purpose of this occasion is to give significance to the place of men in the Church. The pastor, Rev. Lloyd Galloway, feels assured that the men of our Church will do the Church great credit on this occasion by bringing a host of you friends and a good program this Sunday at Lincoln Memorial at Hooper and Vernon Ave.

Dave Weston Singers Score In Independent Church Recital

Much can be attributed to the success of the Dave Weston Singers and Charles Graham-Violinist, when they performed with such over-average technique last Sunday afternoon at the Independent Church of Christ.

The Dave Weston Singers were, as usual, in good voices. This group of 5 voices sound like 25 voices. Their singing is warm, romantic and very uplifting. 'Tis a wonderful feeling to hear and see these young Artists doing such a grand job in the music world. They opened the program with "The Lord's Prayer," which was beautifully rendered, to say nothing of their "Inflammatus" which brought the house down. Surely nothing but great success is in store for these singers as each one is an Artist in his own right.

Mr. Graham's Violin solos were selected with much care and each number was presented with utmost skill and artistic ability. His "Fantasia De Scotland," which he played with such a tremendous and continuous rhythmic drive, was especially good. After hearing Mr. Graham play one can readily feel that something great in the past has been revived with something great in the present and future.

The 3-Guest Artists were also good. George Smith, a heavy-Baritone, delivered his song very well. Martha Sidney's sweet soprano voice was easy listening. Bixie Crawford did a favorite Negro Spiritual which was delivered with much soul and feeling.

Good music it was—good singing and good playing!

This Recital was presented by the Cross and Crown Club of the Independent Church of Christ and the Langston University, under the direction of Juanita C. Macklin, chairman of the Public Relations Committee. Proceeds which went to the Scholarship Fund of the Langston Club for furthering the education of deserving girls and boys.

Dr. Morris, Pasadena

Dr. Charles Satchell Morris, II, will be guest preacher at the Community Baptist Church, Pasadena, Fair Oaks and Hammond avenues, on Sunday, April 30, at 11 a.m. Music for the service will be furnished by the joint choirs.

At present the Community Baptist Church, of which Dr. J. W. Coleman is pastor, is engaged in the construction of a six unit apartment building to do its bit towards relieving the housing shortage. The church has an inter-racial membership. Everyone is welcome to attend its services.

Family Week

During "Family Week," May 7-14, churches of the southwest community will sponsor a Family Institute at the Western Avenue Christian Church, 3000 So. Western Ave. at 8 p.m. each evening.

Included in the panel of speakers will be Dr. Georgene Seward, USC Psychologist, Monday, May 8; Professor E. Bryant Phillips, USC Economist, Tuesday; Guy M. Hoyt, assistant to head of L. A. City Schools, Mr. Stoddard, Wednesday; Dr. Ruth Temple, director of the city's Southeast Health Center, Thursday; and Mrs. Frances W. Pointer, director of Social Services of Church Federation.

As part of the week's program there will be a contest open to the whole community to select the Ideal Family of the Year. Pre-registration begins April 30 in the churches.

Sunday Recital

The Church of the Living God P. G. of T. at 1435 East 43rd Place, with Rev. L. C. McGlory as pastor, will present Miss Nettie Belle Washington of Richmond, Texas in a Musical featuring three to five instruments in one operation this Sunday.

"The importance of the control of communicable diseases in children and adults will be discussed at Trinity Baptist Church, corner Cimmaron and W. Jefferson Boulevard, next Sunday, April 30, at 7:30 p.m.," Rev. J. L. Caston announced this week. Leading the discussion will be Dr. Theodore P. Blevins, Pediatrician, and Dr. Walter D. Hines, Physician and Surgeon. Mr. Richard E. Hickman, Public Health Educator, Los Angeles City Health Department, will outline the Los Angeles county-wide X-ray survey.

the ten years of its operation the Credit Union has assisted many members by loans totaling many thousands dollars.

The Vespers at 7:00 p.m. will be sponsored by the Altruistic Club, one of progressive clubs of the church.

"It is a regular function of the various organizations in our church to have community interest programs," Mrs. Eugenia Laray said. Mrs. Laray is president of the Women's Mission Union who is sponsoring this particular program. Mrs. Della M. Zachry is the program chairman, and a sound motion picture on the subject will be shown.

Boy, 16, Attacked with Knife in Street Brawl

A stabbing was reported here this week in which a 16-year-old boy was critically wounded when attacked by a bunch of hoodlums. His assailants were said to be the so-called Hazard Gang.

Police rounded up six youths and charged them with suspicion of assault with a deadly weapon.

The victim, Richard Reyes of 2159 E. 105th St., told officers he was walking in Lincoln Park with two girl friends when a half dozen or more members of what he called the Hazard Gang halted him.

He said they made derogatory comments about his girl friends. Then, Reyes told officers, he pulled out a bicycle chain, which he said he happened to have in his pocket, and slugged one of the gang members across the face with it.

Next, Reyes told the officers, several of the gang members "jumped him," stabbing him with knives.

Attendants at General Hospital said he received penetrating wounds in the neck, back and arm and possibly a collapsed lung.

Arrested were two juveniles and

Police Dept. Asks For Higher Budget

Calling for a budget of $24,472,218, the Los Angeles police department is asking for an increase of more than $4,000,000 for the fiscal year. The police commission has approved the budget.

There is no substitute for sanitation in fly-control. Sanitary measures account for major reductions in fly populations everywhere.

Fine Two for Gold 'Deal'

Federal Judge William C. Mathes imposed a $500 fine each on two men charged with attempting to smuggle $4,600 worth of gold out of the country.

Those fined were Harry Fish, 36, of 2433½ Boulder Street and William Amsel, 34, of North Jersey Street. They were placed on five years probation.

The two men admitted the misdemeanor charge.

The gold was stamped out in the form of St. Christopher's medallions and were intended to be sold in Syria, according to Paul Fitting, Assistant United States District Attorney.

Discussion of Hollywood Ten Appeal on Video Show Monday

Video audiences will have the first opportunity to see one of the key defendants in the cases of the Hollywood Ten on NBC station KNBH Monday night, April 31, at 5 p.m. Dalton Trombo, author of Kitty Foyle, A Guy Named Joe, Our Vines Have Tender Grapes, and other notable screen hits, will appear with Carey McWilliams, attorney and author, on a discussion of the question, "Should the U. S. Supreme Court Reverse the Convictions of the Hollywood Ten?"

Trombo, with John Howard Lawson, author of Action in the North Atlantic and Sahara, are under conviction for contempt of former Representative J. Parnell Thomas' Un-American Activities Committee. Thomas is now in jail for stealing from the government.

Carey McWilliams assisted in the preparation of an amicus curiae brief presented to the Supreme Court by cultural workers, many of whom are outside the motion picture industry. The NAACP is among thirty organizations that presented briefs on behalf of the Hollywood Ten.

The video broadcast will be jointly sponsored by KNBH and the Los Angeles Daily Mirror.

CAW Mother's Day Card

The Executive Board of the Congress of American Women decided at its March meeting that "We must get down to reality about the problems of organizing Negro women, not just in Harlem, but in every community where Negro women live." It was also decided that a definite stand should be taken in the Seretse Khama affair, that of the young African prince who married a white girl in London, and whom the British government therefore banished from his native land.

It was decided to have a Mother's Day card in connection with peace—to have a picture symbolic of mothers, children, and peace to be sold for 10 or 15 cents. There will be a Mother's Day demonstration for peace in which CAW will participate with other organizations.

Mentally Ill Youth Frightened By Excitement, Shot By Police

VOL. 71—NO. 5

CE. 2-0033

KIDNAPPED, supposedly by her estranged husband who made the trip from Arizona for the purpose, pretty Harriet Elaine Reeves was snatched from her home and carried away in her night dress. Seen only once since the episode in a badly battered condition, Mrs. Reeves is believed the victim of foul play. (See story.)

KIDNAPS WIFE IN NIGHTIE

Young Wife Disappears; Estranged Husband Suspected

Edgar J. Reeves, who of late has been making his home in Arizona, according to a current report, turned up in Los Angeles last Monday morning, May 1, at the home of Mrs. Torrence, 2265 West 22nd street, where his pretty young wife, Harriet Elaine Reeves, lives.

He asked the person who answered the door bell if he could see his wife. Mrs. Reeves, though not yet dressed, came to the door in her robe, without even bedroom slippers. After a few brief words, it is stated she disappeared.

Mr. Reeves was driving a truck, which was parked in front of the building, and it is stated that about the same time Mrs. Reeves disappeared, the truck was also missing.

After several hours and no word from the missing Mrs. Reeves, Mrs. Torrence and other occupants of the house gave the alarm.

They broadcast to Mrs. Reeves' sisters, Mrs. Ella Duvall, of 1741 East 119th street, and Mrs. Katherine Jett, 10925 Compton ave., that their sister was missing.

The fact that Mrs. Reeves was last seen talking with her husband at the door of the Torrence home, and was in her night clothes, made it appear that she had been kidnapped.

The only information concerning the pretty young wife's whereabouts was learned from her mother-in-law, Mrs. Beatrice Reeves, who lives at 116th place.

Mrs. Reeves, Sr., said that in the early hours Monday, her son came to her home in a truck and asked her to accompany him to San Pedro. She said that when she came out to join her son, she observed her daughter-in-law, her eyes blackened and her lips swollen, seated on a mattress in the back of the truck.

The mother accompanied the young couple to the beach city.

Indignation Over Shooting Of Mentally Ill Youth By Police

Investigation is under way in the shooting of 27-year-old Cornelious Larkin last week by police who had been called to investigate an attempt burglary at the Johnson Pie Factory on East 41st Place between Long Beach and Hooper.

The wounded man who was shot in the leg is well-known in the neighborhood. According to reports, he suffers from a mental deficiency and does not clearly comprehend many things that go on about him. A week ago last Sunday, the young man had visited a friend in the neighborhood.

On the way home, he passed through the alley near the Johnson Pie factory. Some time previously, police had been summoned by the Pie factory watchman on a complaint that two men were on the factory roof attempting to break and enter.

As Larkin entered the alley police cars closed in off from both ends. A man dashed past Larkin and the police ordered him to halt. Larkin, frightened by the activity run from the al-

Urge Action On Virgin Islands Commissioner

WASHINGTON — Favorable consideration of a bill providing for a resident commissioner of the Virgin Islands was urged last week by Roy Wilkins, acting secretary of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People. The bill was approved by the House Public Lands Committee in April, 1949, and is presently bottled up in the House Rules Committee.

ROBESON RETURNS

Paul Robeson will make two important concert appearances in Los Angeles in the interest of progressive organizations.

Saturday night the noted baritone will appear at the Embassy Auditorium under the auspices of the J.P.F.O.

On May 12, Mr. Robeson will be presented in concert at the Elks Auditorium, 4016 S. Central avenue under the sponsorship of the California Eagle and an IPP district club.

These concerts will mark Mr. Robeson's first appearance on the West Coast since his Wrigley Field concert on the occasion of the California Eagle's 70th anniversary celebration last October.

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

The people who believe, even know, that peace is the only remedy for a sin-sick, confused world ponder, and they do well to ponder, over this quotation sent to the members of the CIO by Wyndham Mortimer:

"In the great Civil War between the states, the Northern armies were cursed with a General who wanted the South to win. His name was Sheridan. Although Lincoln furnished him with every available man, bullet, and gun, he refused to fight. He found a thousand reasons why an offensive was impossible, but could not advance one reason to the contrary. If this man had not been replaced by Sherman and Grant, the forces of slavery would have been victorious, and America's future would be dark indeed."

This paragraph was the opening statement of a letter sent to the CIO Chrysler workers on strike, for an increase in wages and better living conditions here at home in our own United States.

In this instance Mr. Mortimer pointed out that the Chrysler workers need to get rid of their Sheridan. "We need a leader that will put the interests of the membership ahead of the cold war. Someone who places the future welfare of the 90,000 strikers and their families ahead of Chiang Kai Shek."

But that kind of leader is what we need all over the country. Strange and ominous is the dearth of leadership in America today. We are like sheep without a shepherd, hearing voices in the dark, running this way, that way, not whom to believe, whom to follow, what to do, where to go.

Yes, of course, the churches call to us to come to them. But they offer an escape only for those who are weary of bearing the responsibility for making a better world and who are content to go to sleep and dream of "pie in the sky" while the millions still grope in the dark, seeking peace, seeking homes, seeking security here. Now.

The churches, the great majority of them, are no more following the demand of their Master. They were the religious hermits of the Middle Ages who withdrew to a cave to escape all the noise and turmoil of a world they should have helped save.

This world really needs a leader. America needs a Moses to lead us out of the darkness of Egypt. We need a Sherman instead of a Sheridan. We need someone in the White House who will strike out a path for all to follow, instead of one who allows himself to be pulled any way where the strongest force is exerted. Instead of McCarthys who blacken the characters of those in our government, we need men and women who will fight for the right in defiance of all the McCarthys and the investigating committees and the

Compton Board In Unanimous Vote Against Minstrel Shows

The Compton Board of Education went on record Tuesday night against renting school auditoriums for minstrel shows, or for any entertainment or show that will burlesque any nationality group. By a unanimous vote, the Board decreed that henceforth such entertainment will be barred and organizations seeking school auditoriums will have to write a letter outlining the type of entertainment to be given before a permit is granted.

This action grew out of complaints registered by a delegation of twenty citizens and community leaders which included Mrs. Cora Johnson, non-partisan candidate for the Assembly from the 67th district, leaders of an UAW FEB committee, and C. D. Hawkins, Southeast Intercultural Council president.

The delegation appeared before the Board to protest a minstrel show to be presented Friday and Saturday at the Lynwood High School by a Christian Church. The disposition of the Board was to cancel the permit after hearing the protests, but because of the financial loss that might be incurred to the church, it was decided to look into the matter further.

However, the Board decided to end the presentation of minstrel shows in school auditoriums for all time, and it voted to ban future presentations after hearing spokesman of the delegation. Following the meeting, members of the delegation expressed appreciation of the courteous and considerate manner in which they were received by the Board.

It was learned that should the Board find it impossible because of legal restrictions, to cancel the permit, and educational leaflet picket line will be maintained outside the school during the two scheduled performances.

Death Sentences for Two Louisianans Upheld; CRC, 'No Money for Justice Dept.'

The death sentences against Ocie Jugger, 25, and Paul Washington, 23, both Negroes, have been upheld by the Louisiana State Supreme Court, the Civil Rights Congress has announced. Jugger's appeal was denied automatically because he had 'escaped' from the death cell in Gretna, Louisiana, while Washington was declared by the court to have had a "fair trial."

The so-called escape of Jugger, who resisted signing a confession of rape against a 60-year old white widow, was announced by the jail warden just after CRC uncovered the facts of the frame-up and announced an appeal. Four months after the "escape" announcement, there is still no one knows whether he is alive or dead.

Washington repudiated his "confession" in open court and said that he had signed only to escape further brutal beatings and whippings.

Announcing that a motion for a re-hearing will be filed with the Louisiana Supreme Court, said William L. Patterson, Executive Secretary of the Civil Rights Congress.

Although picked up by police on the "rape" charge in March, 1948, Jugger and Washington were not brought to trial until eight months later. Following

National Minority Groups See Grave Threat In Mundt Bill

Two national minority groups, consisting of Japanese and Mexican-Americans, today proclaimed their opposition to the Mundt-Nixon bill as one which "imperils the democratic right of all minority groups."

The Nisei Progressives and the Asociacion Nacional Mexicana added their protest to that already expressed by the country's leading Negro and Jewish organizations (N.A.A.C.P., National Association of Colored Women, American Jewish Committee, American Jewish Congress, Anti-Defamation League, Jewish War Veterans, National Council of Jewish Women, etc.), as well as such religious minorities as the Society of Friends, and such minority political parties as the Progressives, Socialists and Communists.

These organizations have charged the Mundt-Nixon bill would destroy the Constitutional right of members of minority groups to associate to promote their common interests and limit political activity to that which an appointed Government board regards as "orthodox."

In a statement released by their New York office, the Nisei Progressives pointed out that such groups as the Japanese American Citizens League and the N.A.A.C.P. would be in

NAACP Campaign Will Provide Full Time Executive Secretary

Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the Los Angeles Branch, National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, and Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, Co-Chairman of the NAACP's 1950 Membership Campaign, this week called upon workers in the drive and friends of the Association to "go all-out" in their efforts to solicit the 20,000 members needed to carry out the community-wide NAACP program for 1950-51. Reports from all divisions in the campaign indicate that solicitations will pass the $1000 mark this week.

The prime objective of the local NAACP Branch is the employment of a full-time executive secretary to implement its war on racial and religious discrimination in this city.

Equal job opportunities through local and state FEPC legislation rate first place on the NAACP's agenda according to president Robinson. The "sad state of affairs" in police-public relations will receive immediate attention, the NAACP declares.

Other phases of activities planned are: Housing, vote registration and human relations. In lining up the program, Dr. Robinson put great emphasis on the necessity for cooperation and coordination with labor, church and community relations organizations which he says "will find a much stronger ally in the Los Angeles Branch" in the months and years ahead.

The NAACP drive has organized divisions in every district represented in Los Angeles. Hundreds more volunteer workers are needed. Interested persons may secure membership material and assignments at the NAACP office, 4263 South Central Ave. Further information is available at ADams 1-8192.

$500,000 Hotel Owned by Negro In Cincinnati

The Cincinnati Inquirer in a recent Sunday edition tells a most interesting story of the finest hotel, "The Manse Hotel," on Chapel street, owned and operated by Horace Sudduth, a Negro, who has been in the real estate business for forty years. He has had this hotel for 19 years. When he first acquired it, it was an 11-room family home. Today it is a 108-room hotel, a $500,000 project. When the Manse had its formal opening, April 9, some 6000 persons visited it, and wandered through its beautiful rooms and fine kitchens.

Mr. Sudduth has a vision of having his hotel a gathering place for all groups interested in

Dr. Blevens To Serve Adoption Bureau Panel

The Los Angeles County Bureau of Adoptions announces the addition of Dr. Theodore P. Blevens as a member of their panel of pediatricians. Dr. Blevens is highly qualified. He is a diplomate of the American Board of Pediatrics and has recently been appointed as an out patient attending physician with the active staff of the Children's Hospital.

The Bureau of Adoptions is a relatively new agency whose purpose is to serve the community. This agency has been in existence for about ten months. Already the agency has placed seven Negro children in adoptive

Pepper Defeat Brings End To Subtle Bigotry

The significance of the resounding defeat of Florida's Senator Claude Pepper in Tuesday's primary elections, is not found so much in the stinging rebuke it offers to the Truman administration as it is in the peculiar alignment of over 100,000 Negro voters with the CIO under the Pepper aegis.

As opposed to the out-and-out anti-Truman, anti-Negro candidacy of Congressman George Smathers, the Pepper candidacy offered little beyond a strange kind of opportunism and double-facedness that made Pepper a supporter of such pro-Negro measures as FEPC when the climate was right.

A standing liberal with the ability to appease Southern white supremacists while he hob-nobbed with the exponents of anti-racism Pepper was the pet of the CIO. In recent years he was more comfortable in his CIO relationship because of the similarity of its liberalism to his.

His defeat is of little gain to the Southern Jim Crow bloc, though his election could have meant another vote for some of the Truman civil rights program. Translated into positive gains, it smears and the character assessments.

We need such men and women leaders everywhere. In the labor unions. In our government. In the strikes that are being fomented up and down the land. What Wyndham Mortimer said about the Chrysler strike is true of every strike. Is true of the conditions under which we are living at present.

"Unless we realize the character of strikes today," we cannot win. The Chrysler workers are confronted with a monopolistic, arrogant, and united capitalism. The strikers must have behind them a united and militant working class. . . . Is the Murray leadership willing to say the word that will unite the working people? Or will it continue the policy of narrowing the base of this and future strikes, by slapping down those who offer to help, and by carrying on the criminal, wasteful program of expulsion, disruption and raiding?"

We have no real leadership, either in the labor unions or in our government. We ourselves, therefore, must take the matter into our own hands and courageously picking up the threads that were dropped by our great President Roosevelt, we ourselves must push forward. Doing this, our leader will some day himself come forward. Let us hope, when he does so, that we shall recognize him, and not crucify him as men in past ages have been wont to do to those who would save them.

The man whom the police accuse of being one of the two men on the roof is a 19-year-old youth named Luther Wise. He is being held for attempted burglary. The investigating office admit that Wise has denied association with Larkin. He says that Larkin was not on the roof and did not make any attempt to break into the pie factory.

Admitting the possibility that Larkin ran only because of his fear due to his mental condition, Newton Street investigating police are holding him for a hearing on an attempted burglary charge on May 10. Witnesses to the shooting, and neighbors who know Larkin are indignant over police action in the case.

The California Primaries

News came over the wires and made headlines in the papers Wednesday morning of the primary elections of four different states in the union. They were all rather hum-drum reports, except that of Florida. There a Dixiecrat by the name of Smathers won the Democratic nomination for U. S. Senator over Senator Claude Pepper, a bulwark for years in that state for all that Franklin Delano Roosevelt stood for.

But the primary elections in these states were conducted as primary elections should be. The primary election was first instituted for the purpose of having the members of each party select their choice for each office—governor, senator, member of congress, etc. Each party was supposed to stay in its own back yard, and not infringe on the rights of any other party.

But this is not true in California. In California, the Republican Party barges over into the Democratic Party, without being invited, and the Democrats go over into Republican pastures. This system is called cross-filing. It was started by Earl Warren eight years ago when he called himself a non-partisan and filed on both the Democratic and the Republican tickets for governor.

That same practice was followed four years ago, not only by Warren but virtually everyone who ran for office. As a consequence the primary election four years ago was a virtual slaughter, so far as Democratic candidates were concerned. Warren, a Republican, was nominated on the Democratic ticket. Jack Tenney, a notorious reactionary Republican, was nominated on the Democratic ticket.

There was no election worth talking about in November. There was no need for one. Voters at the polls faced only one candidate for each office. The same as we've been told they do in Russia. And of course the reactionaries were swept into office.

It seems for some reason or other the trend of the times. How America could slide back so far from the high ideals for which it stood during the Roosevelt administration is beyond the thinking of any intelligent person. A dark cloud is settling down upon us. The threat of a fate such as Hitler brought upon Germany is at our very doors.

We here cannot help what is done in Florida. There is no use wailing now about the loss of one of our best friends in the U. S. Senate. Senator Claude Pepper had always fought tenaciously for an anti-lynch bill, for anti-poll tax, for FEPC, for all the things we fought for in World War II, for what we had hoped to win, but which we, alas, today see slipping slowly away.

We can't help what happened in Florida. We can't do anything about anything anywhere else but right here at home. But here in California we have a battle fierce enough to challenge the fighting instincts of the most militant warrior for the rights of the people.

For here in California under our stupid cross-filing system, the most reactionary Republicans in the country have cross-filed again on the Democratic ticket. Nixon, Republican, co-author of the Mundt-Nixon bill, is a candidate on the Democratic ticket for U. S. Senate. Jack Tenney, Republican, who has accused even The Daily News of being pink, is again a candidate for re-election on the Democratic ticket. Earl Warren, Republican, will head the Democratic ticket for governor.

And the Democrats? Divided among half a dozen candidates. Only one Republican to gather in the votes. Six or more Dem-

TIMES MUST BE HARD

After Ten Years

In June, 1940, a law was passed in Congress called "The Smith Act." It was a bill similar to the Alien and Sedition Laws of more than a hundred years ago, which declared that any criticism of the president or any part of our government was punishable with a prison term, while an alien so criticizing could be deported.

A war against Fascism has been fought in the ten years intervening. We believed when we fought that war that we were destroying the power that was inherent in the Alien and Sedition laws, in the Smith Act of 1940. But it is more rampant now than ever.

Fascism has crept steadily upon the American people in the last ten years. Most people think of fascism coming suddenly, with fire and sword and blood, with a great shout, a fierce display of gunfire, bomb-throwing, with war and the rumor of war.

But it does not always come that way. Said the late Huey Long, when asked how Fascism could be brought to America. "Oh, just tell the people you're fighting Communism. They won't know the difference." He also said that Fascism, if it ever came to America, would come disguised as "Americanism."

And so it has been stealing upon us, quietly, slinking into our thoughts, making us believe we are real Americans when we oppose legislation that would give to everyone the privileges of American citizenship.

The American way of Fascism has come upon us almost unawares. A smoke screen of red-baiting is now a part of the cold war. During the past ten years, important legislation has been pooted about like a football—anti-lynch law, fair employment practices, the abolition of the poll tax, and all other legislation intended to make America livable for everyone. Advocates of such legislation have been smeared as "Red." And fearful of the consequences of such a label, we have crept away and have let the cloud of Fascism descend upon us.

The American people must arouse themselves from this lethargy, must fight back those who would destroy us, and insist that real Americanism means again what it meant ten years ago. We must repeal the Smith Act, and prevent the passage of the vicious Mundt-Nixon bill, if we wish to continue to live.

Bishop Walls Urges Cooperation in Mid-Century Conference for Peace

Bishop W. J. Walls, honorary chairman of the Committee for Peaceful Alternatives, has issued a call to the Negro people to back the Mid-Century Conference for Peace, to be held in Chicago, May 29-30, as being a part of the great movement for full freedom in which the Negro people have been struggling for so many years. His statement follows:

As American Negroes, firmly identified with the struggles of our people, working, striving and fighting for the fulfillment of America's destiny—a land in which all her citizens may know the joy of full democracy, built on justice and respect for the human being, we would speak to our people and all other Americans about peace.

Because we know the simple facts of history, we know that the American people's insistent demand for peace in the world today is in harmony with our demand for freedom.

We know that H-Bombs can bury our country's destiny of full democracy for all in the same grave with our shattered hopes for full citizenship.

And we know that there can be no organized nation-wide articulation of the American people's demand for peace without the full and complete activity of the Negro citizens in the ranks, and within the leadership. Fully aware of our responsibilities to our people and to all Americans, and conscious of the indivisibility of the fight for peace which will determine whether the American people in concert with millions of peoples in other lands shall unite for peace, or be destroyed by war, we call upon our people to give active support to the MID-CENTURY CONFERENCE FOR PEACE, to be held in Chicago, Illinois on May 29-30.

We urge our people to help make this convenient, dedicated to the proposition that war is not inevitable and that ways can be found for nations to live in peace, a Hallelujah Chorus for Peace, which our government can and must heed.

This we believe, is the charge we have to keep, to our God, our people, our native land and to the peace-loving peoples of the world.

The Evil of Self-Righteousness

Since human beings first associated themselves in various endeavors it has been realized that no human being or institution is perfect, that no person or organization can "always be right." And yet, it is not surprising, there have been persons and nations from the very first who not only were certain they were always infallible and superior, but insisted that others accept them at their face value.

Such persons, it is well known, frequently land in insane asylums—chanting incessantly that they, and only they, are the genuine "Napoleons!" Nations given to such delusions can not be locked up (though Roosevelt proposed quarantining them) and so have brought indescribable degeneracy, agony and tragedy to mankind. Witness Nazi Germany.

As we read daily of the exploits of Truman and his bi-partisan associates, we are compelled to ask whether they—and the publishers of the papers which extol them—are not gravely afflicted with the disease of self-righteousness. Let us examine some of the symptoms:

(1) News from Washington these past years has repeatedly told of "Project X," the super central intelligence agency which our government has been building. It has been officially announced that one of its major purposes is to encourage counter-revolutionary activities wherever there exists a government our rulers don't like, as in eastern Europe. Simply put, this means that your taxes and mine are spent to buy spies in those countries, to bribe natives to turn traitors against their own governments, for the purpose of overthrowing those governments. And yet, when some of these spies are caught, as happened in Hungary, Washington raises its hands in hypocritical horror, hysterically denying that the ultra-righteous State Department could be involved in such dirty work.

(2) Recently an American plane, fully equipped with radar and other essential navigational devices, was found over Soviet territory, 400 miles off its course. This could not be an accident. It was clearly a serious violation of international agreements. And yet—it is our government which has striven mightily to turn this incident into a "Soviet attack" against the U.S.A.! And our spokesmen in Congress have indulged in what is probably a new low in criminal irresponsibility, in effect calling for war!

(3) In the perverted language of the bi-partisans it is the Soviet Union which alone is responsible for the weakening of the United Nations. Always, they say, it is the USSR which undermines the UN—never the unilateral actions of the U.S.A.: our building of the bloc of North Atlantic Pact countries, our joining in the civil war in Greece (on the side of fascism), our fantastic support of Chiang Kai-shek, our Marshall Plan designed to destroy democratic people's movements wherever they are growing.

(4) According to Wall Street and its mouthpieces in the State and War Departments (oops, I meant Defense Dept.), it is the Soviet Union which pushed us into the cold war and is keeping us there; it is "Red imperialism" which is forcing us to arm the world's fascists and ourselves to defend the embattled democracies of the earth. ("Soviet imperialism"—why even an elementary understanding of the structure and philosophy of the USSR, which we have a right to expect of our officials, would demonstrate that this is a basic contradiction in terms.)

They call the Soviet Union imperialist—when it is our government which has more bases and soldiers all over the globe than ever before, more oceans under its control, when it is our government which via "Point Four" plans to exploit the colonial areas of the world for the benefit of Wall Street, when it is our government which via the European Recovery (?) Program is attempting to dominate the economies of the countries which seek our help. Imperialism indeed!

Instead of being careful students of the philosophy of the Soviet Union—our wartime ally—it appears that our "leaders" learned more from Hitler—especially his use of the "Big Lie" technique. Say evil is good and falsehood is truth, say it often and loud enough, and the people will believe it! Along with this goes a colossal contempt for the people, for our intelligence and our hopes.

Here truly are falsehood and hypocrisy raised to the level of national policy! Here truly is the mark of the beast, mark of the fascist!

It is the mark of fascism—this disease of self-righteousness—for it leads inevitably to a soaring sense of superiority over all other people. (Is it conceivable that the U.S.A. is always right and other nations always wrong? If we are always right and others always wrong—then we are superior and they are inferior. Surely this is a philosophy and a national policy no minorities among us can approve, or be party to.)

The bullying, self-righteous posturing of our spokesmen are by no means evidences of strength. No—basically they are signs of a profound sense of guilt, and a terrible fear born of the realization of great weakness and approaching doom. It is an incurable disease they have, these mad dogs—a symptom of the decay of their "American way of life," evidence that it has outlived its usefulness and that the people of our great land must make it over into a way of life which will insure truth and justice and security for us all.

mittee of which Mr. Heber J. Shaw is chairman, is doing a good job in covering the district and they are conducting a campaign which they expect to be very lean and effective. Mr. Charles E. Rolland is Campaign Manager.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

Moving Backward Into Progress

There is more than coincidence in the raiding being conducted by the CIO and the AFL against progressive unions formerly and presently affiliated with the CIO. For several years the CIO, under the leadership of Philip Murray has been moving in reverse toward the stagnant bay where the AFL has been in harbor, sheltered from the facts of life.

JOHN M. LEE

Company unionism is an AFL product. It was created to consolidate the gains and positions of top leadership at the expense of the rank and file. The barren philosophy of labor action without wage increases, contrary to current opinion, is not the invention of the Murray-Reuther school of labor statesmanship. It has been the vogue in AFL circles for more years than the CIO has been in existence.

Total dissimilarity from the AFL was the only basis on which the CIO could exist or had any right to exist. The brave declarations against discrimination and Jim Crow which heralded the birth of the CIO, plus the all-inclusive design of the CIO structure was the complete opposite of the narrow membership lines of the AFL.

Social action, with a view toward social justice, attracted workers into the CIO fold, partly in protest against the brazen Jim Crow policy of the AFL. Until one-sided political action became more profitable to a handful of top CIO leaders, the program of social justice was a vital part of the day-to-day activities of the CIO. But social justice meant preoccupation with Negro and Mexican workers and their problem of second class citizenship and unfair employment practices.

It is far easier to mouth slogans about civil rights than it is to build and guarantee democratic treatment in a trade union.

The CIO soon tired of the struggle, and took up membership in the slogan club. It has since been assigned to comfortable quarters in the exclusive Truman wing with the privilege of the two-faced view. It can now stand for civil rights and at the same time act against the right of autonomy and free political thought and action.

Having developed to the point where it represented reaction to day more faithfully than did the AFL in the year of its own birth, the CIO has come to the realization that home is where the heart is. So the reports of a marriage between the two big company agencies, which are heard with increasing frequency and authenticity, are not to be considered lightly. There is an affinity between things that have as a common characteristic, an element of queerness. The AFL has been a queer labor organization for some time, and the CIO picked up the habit around Washington.

Lately the CIO has been in some strange situations for a lusty, sweat-hardened, two-fisted, hard-swinging specimen of Masculinity. The grime and dirt of the factories, and the sharp, salty air of the docks and the sea is out of keeping with the effete and correct mannerisms and social position of the top leadership. Having moved out of the working-class environment by kicking the real working-class unions out of the neighborhood, Phil Murray would like to forget the whole thing by merging with the AFL.

Unemployment, which is increasing rapidly, and which will descend with a vengeance in the months ahead, is another reason why Murray would like to turn over the lock, stock and barrel to the former rival union. It will be a form of abdication, but he will arrange it to appear as a move for solidarity. Nobody will be fooled except the workers who stand still for this colossal sell-out.

Still making noises like an honest-to-goodness rank and file trade union, the CIO is in reality a thoroughly captured thing, imprisoned as a consequence of the double-dealing and about-facing of its top leadership. Its one last chance to face-up with any degree of honesty is for it to merge with the AFL.

There is no need for two separate labor organizations representing the same things. It might be well for the CIO to move into its correct orbit and make room for a labor organization that will correctly and adequately represent and fight for the true aims and purposes of the workers.

In the period ahead, minority group workers who get the heel in the AFL and the CIO, will have to think in terms of trade union realism and align themselves with the labor forces that have been and are willing to demonstrate democracy. There is nothing to gain by following the CIO back into the main citadel of labor discrimination.

By CYRIL BRIGGS

On the night of April 27 Herbert Hoover told the American Publishers association conference in New York that the time has come to discard the "one world" ideal of Franklin Roosevelt and Wendell Willkie in favor of the "total diplomacy" of the Truman-Acheson cold war. Bemoaning the impotence of the cold war to prevent the triumph of the anti-imperialist, anti-feudal forces in China and other parts of the world, Hoover called for the "reorganization" of the United Nations, with China and the Soviet Union excluded.

Hoover's shocking call for the destruction of the United Nations, its replacement with a U. S.-dominated military alliance, sounds a clear and ominous warning to the American people. Hoover speaks not for himself alone, but for the most powerful reactionary circles in our country. (And for their agent in the White House, who rushed to congratulate Hoover on his speech). Their wealth distilled out of the blood and sweat and tears of American workers and the enslaved Negro and colonial peoples, these circles are determined not to surrender one iota of their privileges but are coldly intent on a rule or ruin, dominate or exterminate, policy toward the world and its peoples. Hoover and his fellow-fascists have vast holdings in Asian and African mines and other properties.

It was inevitable that this gang of respectable bandits should eventually seek the destruction of United Nations, the world organization dedicated by all humanity to the task of promoting world peace and welfare preventing the outbreak of an atomic war which would destroy civilization, probably wipe out all life on this planet.

Hoover and his crowd know that the American people, black and white, are one with other peoples in the demand that their elected representatives utilize the machinery of the United Nations to dissolve their differences, effect compromises where necessary, keep the peace. They know too, that the American people are opposed to the cold war which Hoover and his tribe seek to turn into a shooting war. Only three days before Hoover's call to destroy the UN, Newsweek had reported: "The State Department is worried over what it feels is public apathy concerning the cold war. It's considering adopting a shock-treatment program of starkly dramatizing one cold-war issue at a time from now on..."

The first shock-treatment occurred in connection with the missing U. S. plane caught over Soviet territory and driven over the Baltic Sea by Soviet fighter planes. Washington used this incident to heat up the cold war charging, without bothering to present a shred of evidence, that the Russians had shot down the plane. Washington indignantly denied Soviet charges that the plane was on an espionage mission, but Newsweek of May 1 reported that "...other U. S. planes were caught over Siberia but, since the Soviets said nothing, Washington didn't either." In other words, Washington is willing to sacrifice American lives in aerial espionage over Soviet territory and to exploit incidents resulting from this dangerous adventurist policy in an attempt to inflame the minds of the American people, further the drive towards a shooting war.

If we are to avert the tragedy of an atomic war, it is high time that the American people take positive action to restrain our war mongers. Clearly it is not enough that we abhor war, desire peace. We must translate our desire for peace into organized demands on the government.

THINGS I SEE

By
Marian Inglewood

The United States Supreme Court has been asked to make a decision more far-reaching even than that of the restrictive covenant cases. It will decide in essence whether or not the 15,000,000 Negro American citizens are first class or second class citizens in the eyes of the law.

There are at present 17 states and the District of Columbia where Negroes are forced by law to attend schools set apart for them. Their schools are supposed to have every convenience, every facility for education that the white schools have. It is called the "separate but equal" principle.

Truth is, however, there is nothing "equal" about such schools. Nor about anything else where color is the deciding factor. Negroes have realized this for some time, and within the past few years have staged a militant and promising fight against this practice.

The decision which the Supreme Court has been asked to make is one concerning two young Americans Herman Sweatt and George McLaurin, who were refused admission to colleges and later admitted only on a segregated basis. Herman Sweatt applied for entrance to the law school of the University of Texas. He was refused because he is a Negro. He filed suit. And won seemingly. The State of Texas set up a law "school" for Negroes. But Sweatt refused to enter because he said it did not afford him equal opportunity for a legal education. That was back in 1946. The case since then has traveled the long and rough path up to the United States Supreme Court. That court has decided to hear the appeal.

George McLaurin was admitted to do graduate work leading to a doctor's degree in the University of Oklahoma. But he was forced to submit to a very humiliating segregated conditions. He was given a special desk in the vestibule of the main classroom. Not a desk of honor, but on which separated him from his classmates because they were white, and he was a Negro. He was permitted to use the library, if he took his books to a special desk on the mezzanine floor. He was allowed to eat in the university cafeteria, provided he ate at a different time and at a special table set apart for him.

It was only after a long fight that Ada Lois Sipuel was permitted to enter this university, and also after the U. S. Supreme Court intervened and forced the state of Oklahoma to admit her. When McLaurin was first admitted he sat in the regular classroom, but in a section surrounded by a rail on which there was a large sign reading, "Reserved for Colored." The rail and the sign have since been removed, but he is still forced to sit in a segregated section at a special desk.

In appealing his case to the U. S. Supreme Court, McLaurin has stated that the educational opportunities offered him are not the same as those offered white students.

Says Charles Thompson, dean of the Graduate School of Howard University, writing in The New Republic: "The significance of the Sweatt and McLaurin cases is found in the fact that for the first time in 54 years, validity of the 'separate-but-equal' doctrine has been directly challenged and the Supreme Court has consented to review these cases involving it. What the Court will decide, of course, we do not know. We do know, however, that the very issue of democracy as we have proclaimed it to the world is at stake. In spite of any legal technicalities that may be employed, if the highest tribunal in this country declares that segregation based upon race, color or creed, is incompatible with democracy, or even evades the issue, then we shall have suffered a grievous setback in our fight (if we shall have actually lost it) for the moral leadership of the world."

POTPOURRI

San Francisco's fighting District Attorney, Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, brought his campaign for Attorney General to the Southland for the second consecutive week. On his busy schedule were Monday appearances at the Ramona Festival in Hemet and before the Riverside County Bar Association.

Esther Murray, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 16th District, in a talk before the Roosevelt Democratic Club of the 61st Assembly District at the Culver City Council Chambers, declared that a strong United Nations is a guarantee of world peace.

"The most dangerous thing that can occur today," she said, "is for the United States to withdraw from Europe and Asia, for it would create a vacuum into which forces opposed to democracy would rush to fill."

ment through our churches and organizations. We must convey to the Truman Administration and to the Congress in unmistakable terms and in a rising crescendo of anti-war protests our demands for an end to its adventurist policies, its cold war and its "total diplomacy," and for the substitution of rational discussions between this country and the Soviet Union and China, for the fullest utilization of the peace machinery of the United Nations.

of her candidacy by the California Teachers Association today with the comment that, "The opposition seems awfully worried and excited. The issue of this campaign is not Communism," Miss Doyle, stressed, "It is whether our schools are to serve the people of California, or are to be crippled and undermined by big business."

Mrs. Edward R. Raith, of Los Angeles, has been appointed chairman of the campaign activities of the women of Southern California for the re-election of Earl Warren as governor.

In a statement Mrs. Raith spoke of the "welfare of California homes and the children of those homes." But she forgot to mention the thousands who were homeless two years ago because of the dilly-dallying methods of Earl Warren.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN'S SPEECH

"The fact that the conviction of the 11 Communist leaders at Foley Square last year was a political frameup heralding more attacks on the Negro people and all peace-loving Americans, was never so brazenly revealed as in President Truman's speech on Monday night to the Federal Bar Association in Washington."—Paul Robeson and Judge Norval K. Harris, Co-Chairmen of the National Non-Partisan Committee to Defend the Rights of the 12 Communist Leaders, declared in a statement released last week.

"Behind the facade of Truman's lip-service to civil rights stands the threat of more terror (Continued on Page 9)

AFRICAN BISHOP HONORED
NEW ORLEANS—The first honorary degree of doctor of laws ever awarded by Xavier University was presented last week to the Most Rev. Joseph Kiwanuka, vicar apostolic of Uganda, Africa.

The degree was awarded by Archbishop Joseph F. Rummel, who said the extension of the university's highest honor "puts emphasis on the spirit of unity, harmony and good will" for which the world is striving.

Bishop Kiwanuka is the only Negro of episcopal rank in the Catholic Church.

TALLAHASSEE, Florida—The University of Florida's Male Glee Club appeared in concert at Florida A and M College Thursday night, April 20 under the able direction of Joseph Lupkiewicz.

Working from a well chosen program the group was enthusiastically received by the audience.

CASING THE KIDS

Here's hoping that a little Miss from Miami, Florida, by the name of Theresa Lloyd manages to get hold of these lowly lines. Nope, she is no kin to the local Lloyd clan, far as we can figure out. Anyway, Theresa sent us a letter the other day which breaks a distance record for fan mail to this corner. We have received them from San Diego and Frisco, but never before one from Miami.

Great thing about it is that the letter was so swell. Without Theresa's permission and hoping that she won't mind too much, we quote in part from the honored document:

Dear Mr. Lloyd:

I have been reading the California Eagle for more than a month now, and think it's a nice paper.

Especially do I like the article, "CASING THE KIDS." There is something about that article that makes me want to know you better.

Thanks for such a swell letter, Theresa. Judging from the things you said, we know you must be a swell grand girl, too. Makes a guy feel that it is worth something to stay up 'till two in the morning scribing lyrics. Makes him think that he isn't the worst person in the world after all. Gosh! it just makes a guy feel good.

FRAT FUN

Sigmatas pulled out their black jack again and nailed the Omegas a hard one in the feature of the frat games Saturday nite. Needless to say, this atrocious act was not only against our will but conflicted with the wishes of a hundred odd other folk. We didn't like it because it contradicted our prediction and gave our Omega favorites a severe setback. Other citizens were not happy in the least about the outcome because they had laid their hard earned cash on the line to be picked up by the Kappas.

FROM TIME TO TIME WE SAW: Lorenzo Wallace in a corner counting up his money; Suzi Moore looking sweet as honey; The Moor of Morehead with Versa Pitman who is stenographer for United Auto Workers' Union; Micky Krooms creeping with Muriel White, and Shirley Stevens with Kenneth Ingram again.

Bontiful Bonnie Jones with her hubby Vernon Torrengano. The efficient lover, Mike Williams; Chuck Neal, the baseball wizard, and Ernie Powell of basketball fame. Noticed neat Natalie Lyde and lovable Zelida LaBlanc. Heard Chuck Jones saying "It's only a matter of days," saw Andrew Wallace with Bernice Banks. Ran into "Wee" Willy Collins; Spotted good brothers Thad Hobbs and Percy Laws.

Saw "gentleman" John Cope pulling a "private-eye;" Witnessed "artful" Artis Rhodes make an appearance with Julie (Wonder Woman) Walker of Pasadena. Sweet Sydney, also of Pasadena, came with "loving" LeRoy.

AD LIB: We made our return to the press box, after the frat council recinded its order of the week before. Up front to enjoy proceedings with us was Robert Perkins of the L. A. Star, the paper for which J. T. Gipson is now producing lyrics.

Not that we are prejudiced in the least, but why can't they allow colored referees to arbitrate the games? As if we don't have enough capable men of color to do the job. Spotty Thornton was turning in a first class performance as 11th man on the court. He was calling 'em about as fair as anyone will. But the Sigmas and Kappas got fed up with his "fair deal" and barred him from officiating their matches. Both teams lost again the first night he didn't call their games.

The series is back in a three way tie between the Sigmas, Omegas, and Kappas. The two teams who will trade blows in the play-offs, beginning Saturday nite, have not been determined at the time of this message. We picked the winner the other week when we told you that Vernon Riggins and the Omegas would take the bacon.

FROM COMPTON TO CENTRAL

The Comptons upset City College in a dual track meet on the Compton oval Thursday. It was the Cubs first loss of the season. Ed Washington was star performer for the Cubs. He blazed home in a 49.1s quarter mile to set a new meet and school record. . . . The two bitter rivals meet again in the conference finals Friday nite, and we think our prediction will hold water this time: The Cubs will upset the Comptons.

A group of friends gave a shower for Mrs. Margaret Smith's baby the other week, and she expresses her hearty thanks to: The kids of 4th and Compton, Dorothy McBride, Ruby Woods, Donna and Donnie Thompson, Leonard Whitehead, Johnnie Russell, Rickie and Olivia Smith, and Alice Rogers.

Dot McBride and Thornell Bedlie are straight again after their rift two months ago. . . . Ouida Smith is doing great guns with Maurice. . . . Heard that Juanita Heard has eyes for Mike. . . . Who is who with Dolores Parker? XI Alpha chapter of Zeta sorority gave a dawn party at the Allenas Club House after the frat games Sat. nite. Proceeds go into a scholarship fund for some needy student. Marian Thomas was a very gracious hostess.

Sphinx Club of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity give an Aftermath Dance Sunday from 4 to 9 p.m. at 1918 S. Harvard. . . . Athenians entertain with their Spring Fashion Tea Sunday from 3 to 7 p.m. at 2125 S. Harvard. . . . Did Chuck throw his hat in the ring with Kress kid Vivian Sherrod? . . . Did MoMo really bust with Hank? . . . Isn't Betty McMain the most adorable little darling a guy ever loved? . . . Time to put the word-master away until another evening, but while it rests think over these things: You can run and you can hide, but you can not escape the wrath of the Lloyd in the day of judgement. Pleasant dreams, my dears.

Wings Over Haiti

(Editor's Note—This is the second of a series of articles on Haiti by Owen A. Troy.)

Unique and different are the best adjectives to use in describing Haiti. Most travelers are agreed that Haiti is decidedly different from any other place in North or South America. It is a land of contrasts. You never forget it because it has an individuality which forces itself upon your memory.

An American traveling to Haiti for the first time is impressed by this difference which is forced upon him as soon as he arrives in Port-au-Prince, the capital of Haiti. The American is not impressed with this difference merely because of the complexion of the people. It is evident that this is definitely a black republic from the time one lands at Port-American airport. Here uniformed Haitian immigration officers direct you through the procedures of entering the country.

One is immediately aware that he is in a new world as he takes a taxi and rides from the airport down the main street of the city to his hotel. We felt as though we had dropped with unwarned suddenness into this city of 150,000 inhabitants.

Contrasts are on every hand—well-dressed persons, men of business, also peasants, barefooted and carrying with consummate skill their bundles on their heads. Modern automobiles and taxis, blowing their horns loudly at every corner reminded us of the traffic din of Mexico City.

Port-au-Prince is built in the form of a rough triangle at the point where the fertile Cul-de-Sac plain emerges between the mountains overlooking the beautiful and peaceful Bay of Conave. The business section is crowded adjacent the water front while the better residential areas occupy the surrounding hills.

Our taxi ride to our hotel took us down the main street which has a parkway running down its center; two-story business buildings line each side of the street. Originally a noisy smoke-shooting train carrying cane from the fields to the mill, ran down this principal street.

Soon our taxi driver, who speaks English, turned off the main street to the left, and after passing the Congress Building, we drove into a beautiful palm-lined road that took us past the glistening white National Palace or Presidential Palace. In front of the National Palace is the Champs-de-Mars, which serves as a combination park, military field and recreation center.

On one side of this great plaza is a grand statue erected to General Dessalines, who was the "founder" of the Haitian Republic. But it seems so strange and lamentable that thus far only a meager monument has been erected in Port-au-Prince to Toussaint the "precursor" of Haitian independence. His statue stands on a cement pedestal designed like the stump of a palm tree. In tribute to him a slave passes up a green branch to him. That is all there is to the monument to this truly great liberator.

Good Accommodations Available

There are good hotels in Haiti and the rates generally include the excellent meals which these hotels are capable of providing. We had engaged a room at Hotel Excelsior, a hostelry frequented in the past to a great extent by teachers and writers and recommended to us by my wife's brother, Arna Bontemps, who stayed there when he was gathering material for his books, "Drums at Dusk" and "The Story of the Negro." Mme. Anita Rougier, quite elderly now and whose background is definitely in the French tradition, is as charming as ever. Her daughter now operates the place. We shall never forget Espere, our gracious waiter and house boy, who spoke enough English to keep us comfortable.

North of the Ukraine, and west of Moscow, lies Belorussia, or White Russia. The name is supposed to be derived from the fact that the ancient national costume is of bleached linen. Belorussia is the third largest Soviet Republic in population. In 1940 it had some ten million people. At the beginning of 1946 it had 7,600,000. It covers an area of about 85,000 square miles, largely swampy. Because of the extreme poverty of their natural surroundings, and the ascendancy which neighboring peoples were thereby able to win over them, the Belorussians progressed slowly in the past, and there was a large emigration, particularly to America, before the First World War.

As with the Ukrainians, it was denied that the Belorussian language existed as anything more than a corrupt dialect. Because of their relatively low cultural standards, this belief held on for some years even among some of the Russian Communists. Stalin, himself no Russian, and brought up among a veritable welter of peoples in the Caucasus, came to the defense of the Belorussian nationality in a speech delivered in 1921:

"I have here a note alleging that we Communists are cultivating the White-Russian nationality artificially. This is not true, because there is a White-Russian nation, which has its own language distinct from Russian, and it is therefore possible to raise the cultured level of the White-Russian people only in its native language. Such talk was heard some five years ago about the Ukraine and the Ukrainian nation. And only quite recently it was asserted that the Ukrainian Republic and the Ukrainian nationality rae an invention of the Germans. . . . About forty years ago Riga was a German town; but since towns grow by influx from the countryside, and the countryside is the gardina of nationality, Riga is now a purely Lettish town. About fifty years ago all the towns of Hungary bore a German character; now they are Magyarized. The same will be true of White Russia, in the towns of which non-White-Russians still predominate."

Thus, Stalin's view of the Belorussians as a nation, entitled ultimately to representation in the family of nations, dates back at least a quarter century. It was not invented for the purpose of securing an additional seat for the USSR at the San Francisco Conference.

When the words quoted above were uttered, two-thirds of the Belorussian people were illiterate, now nine-tenths can read and write their native tongue. Only one-fourth of the children had attended school in 1914; all did in 1941. In the past there had been no higher educational institutions; in 1941 there were 28. (Holland, with a comparable population, had 11). The bombed-out University of Minsk was re-established in Moscow until the liberation of Belorussia.

Stalin's prediction that the cities would become Belorussian was realized with the establishment of industry, which drew labor from the countryside. By 1940 industrial production was at 23 times the level of 1913, a growth twice as rapid as in Russian proper. Cement, agricultural machinery, wood processing and textile plants were built. All together 2000 industrial enterprises were established. Minsk, the capital, grew from 132,000 to 300,000 between 1926 and 1941, and became overwhelmingly a Belorussian city. Similarly Vit-esbk grew from 99,000 to 167,000, and Gomel, 86,000 to 144,000.

In welcoming Belorussia and the Ukraine to the United Nations Conference at San Francisco, Chairman Stettinus paid tribute to their "unyielding resistance to the common enemy and the fortitude with which they have borne great suffering in the prosecution of the war."

The quality of the Belorussian resistance is indicated by the fact that its guerrilla army of 250,000 killed 300,000 Germans, including 50 generals. The extent of their suffering is almost beyond description. 700,000 of its ten million people, mainly Jews, were murdered outright, exclusive of casualties of warfare, disease and malnutrition. (15,000 evacuated Jews have returned to Minsk.) 120,000 farm homes were burned to the ground, in addition to the almost complete devastation of the cities. The drainage canals, which had converted thousands of square miles of swamp into fertile farmland, were wrecked and pumping facilities destroyed. This had the effect of re-introducing malaria, while the destruction by the Germans of "every medical installation in Belorussia" produced diseases of epidemic proportions, including venereal, which had also been virtually eliminated before the war. In all, 1,136 hospitals, clinics and dispensaries were destroyed.

Fifty-two hundred schools had been razed to the ground and 10,000 others damaged; yet within six months after liberation 11,500 schools were holding classes and 24 of the 28 higher educational institutions were also functioning.

Agricultural reconstruction has proceeded with assistance from the rest of the country. Moscow Region, despite its own suffering under partial German occupation three years earlier, shipped 11,000 horses in 1944 to those parts of Belorussia where all draft animals had been slaughtered. It also provided 80,000 head of cattle, 50,000 hogs, and 130,000 sheep and goats.

Wartime changes in Belorussia have been social as well as economic. Women came to play a larger part in its public life than ever before. Shortly after liberation, Nadezhda Grekova, once a shepherdess, later a seamstress, became the first woman Chairman of its Supreme Soviet—a post comparable to that of the House of Representatives.

Despite its sufferings, Belorussia looks forward two decades toward a period of greater prosperity than ever before. For with the unification of Belorussia by the addition of the territory formerly under Polish rule, bold plans have been projected for its betterment—to double the arable farmland by draining 12,000,000 more acres of swampland in fifteen years. The federal government was to meet half the cost. That program has been resumed with the restoration of pumping stations and canals wilfully destroyed by the Germans. It offers Belorussia the perspective of becoming one of the most populous of the smaller European countries. But for today the stark reality is that half of the entire national wealth has been destroyed. 200 towns and 9,200 villages were virtually wiped off the map in this single small country. In all 682,000 buildings were burned, shelled or bombed into rubble. Of the German war criminals responsible for this devastation, the Belorussian government named before the U.N.O. several who found a safe haven in Sp-

French in order to make one's way around in Port-au-Prince. We only possessed a meager knowledge of the French language. Occasionally in the markets if things were not being understood well enough we would find someone who understood Spanish and thus get straightened out. American money is interchangeable with the Haitian. The Haitian gourde (a paper bill) is worth 20 cents American.

Hotels such as the Splendid and the Roosevelt are comfortable and reasonable. Prices including room, private bath and three meals, range from $6 to $10 per day up to whatever type of exclusive accommodations you may desire. Hotel El Rancho, the finest and newest, and the Aux Orchidees are excellent. Hotel Excelsior and Olfason are medium-priced with good service; and a couple can obtain accommodations ranging from $12 to $18 per day.

We only remained one day at the hotel for as soon as the Seventh-Day Adventist officials learned we were in the city we were taken to the home of President and Mrs. Christiansen of the Adventist Seminary located delightfully in the hills back of the city. At night from this pleasant spot we could overlook the Bay of Gonave and the city and Exposition which sparkled like jewels.

Visit Undersecretary of State
On the morning of the second day that we were in Haiti we had an appointment with the Undersecretary of State, Mr. F. Brierre, a poet who has charge of the Tourist Bureau in the Palace of Tourism on the Exposition grounds. He dispatched a taxi driver to pick us up from our hotel. He had received a letter from Editor Charlotte Bass of the California Eagle, introducing me to him. Mrs. Troy and I were cordially received. We were given official "keys" to the City of Port-au-Prince commemorating the founding of the city 200 years ago. He also gave us a key to personally deliver to Mrs. Bass as well as a souvenir booklet of the fair.

Under the personal direction of his nephew, Mr. Jean Brierre, we were shown around this permanent building with its fountain-centered patio. Inside and out its walls are decorated with colorful murals by distinguished Haitian painters. Miss Haiti and Miss Commerce and Industry, two Haitian young ladies selected because of their beauty and charm, joined us for pictures on the roof garden of the palace, which afforded a delightful view of the entire fair grounds and the city to the rear and the bay on which the building faced. The broad paved street before us and running the two-mile length of the Fair is named Harry S. Truman boulevard.

The Exposition, located on what was formerly a slum and a swampy, malarial area, has transformed the waterfront of Port-au-Prince into a place of unusual charm and beauty. The 88 acres on which it is located lie along the ocean front and is in the heart of the city.

This bicentennial exposition is costing the government $9 million, or what has been estimated as the equivalent of three-quarters of Haiti's entire annual budget. It is part of a great plan by President Estime, "The Atomic Builder," as the Haitians sing about him, to encourage tourist trade and the investment of foreign capital in the development of the resources of the land. He is particularly anxious to have Negro Americans to establish business in Haiti. And there is no reason why with experience and a little capital they should not succeed.

While there I met James O. Plinton, formerly of the United States, who is operating a successful cleaning business with a large number of employees. He has his own private airplane, being a former U. S. army air pilot. More about the Exposition Haiti next week.

NEGRO LAWYER REVEALS FEDERAL BAR ASSOCIATION BIAS

George Crockett, one of the defense counsel in the trial of the eleven Communist Party leaders in Foley Square, last year, revealed this week that the Federal Bar Association had rejected him for membership in 1942 because they made a practice of barring Negro candidates. When an Assistant United States Attorney General recommended for membership in the Federal Bar Association, a member of the Bar of the United States Supreme Court and Senior Attorney of the United States Department of Labor, the candidate was rejected solely because he was a Negro.

"I was that candidate in 1942," said Mr. George Crockett.

Richard Nixon, candidate for the U. S. Senate, at a mass meeting in Long Beach, gave himself the credit for prosecuting Alger Hiss.

Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas, candidate for the U. S. Senate, took time out from her campaigning last week to introduce a bill in Congress which, as she said, "would certainly correct a condition under which the ultimate consumer gets no benefit from providing tax money for a support program which at present is aiding some farmers at the expense of others."

DANCE FOR CANDIDATES

A "Spring Dance" will be given by the United People's Committee at Parkview Manor, 2200 West 7th street, on Saturday, May 13, at which candidates Walter A. Martin for sheriff, and Henry Steinberg for assessor, will be honored guests.

Both candidates are non-partisan, but both have the endorsement of the Communist Party of Los Angeles County.

Martin, now 71, has a long record of fights against jimcrow and police brutality. He is a plasterer by trade, and was a charter member of the CIO Construction Workers in L. A.

Steinberg, 37, has been active for many years in Jewish and Mexican-American communities. He was a candidate for the board of education last year and received 35,000 votes.

Around Weed With Hollins

By Mrs. Elizabeth Hollins

Greetings to the readers of The California Eagle. Due to the fact that this is my first report around Weed, I would like to acquaint you with our little town.

Weed is located about 300 miles north of San Francisco, and about 71 miles south of Klamath Falls, Oregon. Elevation about 3000 feet, with a year-round view of beautiful snow-capped Mt. Shasta.

We have a Negro population of about 500. Three soft ball teams, and one hard ball team in the making. Two churches, the Mt. Shasta Baptist and the Church of God in Christ. Elks, Order of the Eastern Star, American Legion Post 565, and an Auxiliary.

News: The Mt. Shasta Baptist Church was favored last Sunday with the presence of Bishop D. Anita Drew, who has been our guest for the past month. Rev. E. A. Mellon, pastor of the church, gave an inspirational message.

Bishop Drew was a dinner guest of Rev. and Mrs. Mellon. Mr. and Mrs. Chester Wineberg, of Oraville, visited their sister and family. Mr. and Mrs. Willie Wadlow.

More than 2000 representatives of business, industry, and labor are expected to attend the two-day Los Angeles county conference on employment Friday and Saturday, April 28 and 29, at UCLA. The opening session will be held in Royce Hall at 9:30 a.m. Friday. It will be addressed by Supervisor John Anson Ford, co-chairman.

The Baltic States

In August, 1940, the Baltic states again became Soviet Republics. (They had had Soviet governments briefly at various times after the First World War.) Their total population was 6,000,000, or considerably less than New York City. Their combined area equals that of the states of New York and New Jersey, which have a population of nearly 18,000,000. Lithuania's population of about 3,000,000 living in a territory of 22,800 square miles, was 85 per cent Lithuanian. 465,000 persons were killed by the Germans, mainly Jews, almost all of whom have been exterminated. However, 3000 who were safely evacuated to Soviet Central Asia have returned to the capital, Vilnius (Vilna). Before the war, this city had 215,000 people, and Kaunas, the former capital, 152,000. One-quarter of the total population was urban. Lithuania's population at the time of the elections of February, 1946, was 2,500,000.

Latvia, with 1,950,000 people before the war in an area of 24,700 square miles, consisted 60 per cent of Letts, 16.5 per cent of Latvians, and 11.5 per cent of Russians, with smaller numbers of Jews, Belorussians and Lithuanians. 250,000 persons were murdered by the invaders. One-third of the population was urban. The capital, Riga, had 385,000 people.

Estonia had 1,120,000 people, also one-third urban, in its 18,000 square miles of territory. Eighty-eight per cent of the population was Estonian and eight per cent Russian. The capital, Tallin (Reval) had a population of 146,000.

During the period between the two wars, the Baltic states, like the Polish-controlled sections of the Ukraine and Belorussia, experienced a period of precipitous industrial decline. Their economy, before 1917, had been linked to that of the Russian Empire, whose railroads ended at their ice-free ports. Their shipyards built much of the Russian merchant and naval fleets, and their factories its railroad cars. Their textile mills spun and wove much of the cotton of Central Asia and the flax of Smolensk.

The "cordon sanitaire" of buffer states erected by the Allies along it crippled the Baltics. Employment at the Krenholm Textile Mills in Estonia, literally a stone's throw from the old Soviet border, dropped from 14,000 in 1914 to 2000 in 1940. In Latvia the number of industrial workers fell from 108,000 in 1913 to 62,000 in the boom year of 1929. In Lithuania the picture was the same. The home market for agricultural produce contracted as a result. Farming went into a deep crisis after the depression of the thirties took away the British and German markets, which had created a short-lived prosperity in the 'twenties.

UNDER BUTTERMILK SKIES in the tradition of the Wild and Woolly West, Mrs. Callie A. Hill, Los Angeles school teacher, and Mr. Nolie B. Murray, popular rancher, recited wedding vows Easter morn at sunrise. Their attendants were Dr. Humphrey and a friend. The bride and her attendant chose plaid gingham dresses with matching bonnets while the groom and his attendant chose cowboy outfits.

Ginghams and Cowboy Suits Mark Wedding

In the natural setting of the outdoors on the spacious Murray's Dude Ranch, Nolie B. Murray and Callie A. Hill were wed Easter Sunday morning in a service presided over by Rev. Welford Wilson who officiated in the absence of the Rev. Clayton D. Russell.

Attired in colorful gingham gowns with poke bonnets to match, the bride and her attendant stood beside the groom and his best man who were dressed in authentic cowboy outfits.

A mass-voice choir sang throughout the ceremony which was witnessed by most of the residents of Victorville. Striking aspect of the western-style wedding was the participation of the horses that were ridden to the scene by principles and guests. The horses stood proudly about during the wedding.

The bride is a teacher and will assist her husband in operating the ranch which is a favorite resort for Californians and Easterners.

Mu-So-Lit Club Honored At Meet With Visitors

The Mu-So-Lit club held its last business meeting at the home of Mrs. Ida B. Moore, 747 Colden street. Plans for the annual tea were discussed, and wonderful reports were made by all the committees.

After the business session Mrs. Blanche Lane, charming daughter of Mrs. Moore, rendered a few piano selections. Following the program a delicious repast was served.

Mrs. Gladys Allen was hostess of the social meeting for the Mu-So-Lit club. An interesting programme was rendered with both members and guests participating.

Professor Robert C. Jackson presided at the piano. Visitors were Rev. Sue Kinsey, Mmes. Mary Terry, Helen Brown, and Cora Armstrong of Evanston, Illinois. Mrs. Rorie Compton, new member, was also present.

Mrs. Allen served a delicious barbecue dinner following the meeting. Mrs. Helen Brown assisted the hostess.

Mother-Daughter Banquet Enjoyed At Clifton's Cafe

More than 150 girls and their mothers enjoyed a banquet at Broadway Street Clifton's Cafe last Thursday evening. All gathered in the Southsea Banquet room at 7:30 p.m. at which time community singing, led by Mrs. Emily Brinson, was enjoyed.

"A Better World Begins With You" was the subject of Mrs. Emily Brown Portwig's talk. She was guest speaker at the affair.

Others on programme were Martha Davis, Delores Johnson, Adrienne Fowler, and Mrs. Kathryn Kinney. Branch executive secretary of the YWCA. Introductions were made by Miss Margaret Burr, Y Teen program director.

Angelites Rod-Gun Club Reelect Local Attorney President

The Angelites Rod and Gun Club held their 3rd annual election of officers at a special meeting April 27th at their headquarters in the Pueblo Del Rio building, 1808 E. 53rd street.

Re-elected to chart the course of the Angelites for the second consecutive year was dynamic young lawyer and expert hunter and fisherman, Attorney Marshall Denton Jr. Also elected were Jerry Samples, vice president; Horace Hamlin, corr. secy.; Wallace Ray, fin. secy.; Wm. "Bill" Woods, treas.; and Frank Surnock, Judge Advocate.

Will Elam was elected delegate to the Southern Council of Conservative clubs, an organization composed of some 120 clubs in the Southern California area, who among other things, brings you the Sportsman's show every year. U.S. Bowman was elected alternate delegate.

The Angelites rates as one of the most democratic sports club in the United States, with an active membership composed of outstanding personages of the professional and business world regardless of race, color or creed. This organization is now conducting a membership drive and invite all men interested in hunting or fishing to attend a meeting and take part in their activities. Membership fee is exceptionally small.

Noontide Club Affair

In celebration of its first anniversary The Noontide club is preparing for its initial public affair. Elaborate and colorful plans are already in the making for an evening of great entertainment and unique presentation.

This forthcoming event is to be held May 6. All efforts by the members have been doubled to make this debut affair a great success.

THE BRIDE 'N GROOM joyously share the delectable wedding cake after the Sunrise service. Mr. and Mrs. Nolie B. Murray are at home to friends at their Victorville ranch, more popularly known as Murray's Dude Ranch.

WHO'LL WIN THE SERIES is the question Interfraternity Basketball fans are asking themselves this week. With a three-way tie among the Kappas, Omegas, and Sigmas, the next two Saturday nights in the gymnasium of Loyola High will tell the story.

Jefferson PTA Panel Set May 9

These are busy days with the ladies of Jefferson High P.T.A. Tuesday, May 9th the panel of Parents and Teachers on "Home Must Point the Way" will be a timely discussion due to the present problems of juvenile delinquency and vocational counseling.

An added attraction at this meeting will be the Fashion Show by the Clothing Classes. Plans for the Senior Prom June 2, will be culminated. Mrs. S. T. Johnson, president, will be fresh from the P.T.A. State Convention at Santa Cruz, bubbling over with plans for next year's work. Parents are urged to attend. Meeting at 2:15 Jefferson High School Cafeteria.

The April 11th meeting was highlighted with the presentation of Dr. Toney, eminent psychiatrist, by Mrs. P. Price Cobbs, P.T.A. Chairman. His discussion on the indication of abnormal tendencies of adolescence was heard with great interest.

Sojourner Truth Plan Big Mother's Day Dinner

Much preparation is being made by the chairman of the Ways and Means Department, Mrs. Florence Carter, and her committee for the Mother's Day dinner which is to be held at the Home on Sunday, May 14 from 1 p.m. on.

The idea of fellowship is being stressed and a fine program under the guidance of Mrs. Willa Jean Holmes will be presented at 3 p.m. Two of the oldest mothers will be honored, but a special feature will be the honoring of the youngest mother to be selected from the audience.

Two special features on the program will be musical selections by Mrs. Francis Driver and Mr. Howard Gamble. All mothers and their daughters are invited to attend along with the general public. Reservations can be made by calling the Home.

Golden West Bridge Association Meet

The largest attended and most colorful Men's and Women's Pairs regional of the Golden West Bridge Association was held last Saturday night and Sunday, April 29-30, at the spacious well arranged club rooms, 1554 E. 54th Street.

Seventeen pairs of fashionably dressed ladies and fifteen pairs of well dressed men vied for the trophies and Regional points. The Harmony and Westersider clubs were there in large numbers. Gaiety and harmony prevailed through the play after which a delicious dinner was served.

Winners were Esther Woods, Estell Bryant, Lena White and Elizabeth Henson; Mattie Trent and Gertrude Settle; May Denton and Julia Ashberry; Myrtle Scott and Dr. Darthula Matthews. The men were J. D. Dunn and Melford Patton; Holly Steed and Clyde Maddox, A. C. Morgan and R. J. City, Ellis Veil and Joe Henry.

Youth Rampages

By NELLIE BECKER

By Johnny Delgado
(Guest Columnist)

Well! Well! As I live and breathe the sweet essence of NELLIE BECKER'S perfume, I once again find myself banging on the typewriter to let the social world know "WHAT'S HAPPENIN'". (As if most of them didn't already know.) Before I talk about who shot John, I'd like to say a few words about the NAACP. No doubt you've all heard about the current drive to enroll 20,000 new members. No one needs to ask about the many wonderful things the NAACP has done toward combating racial discrimination and the overall advancement of the NEGRO AMERICAN. All of us, time after time, have pointed with our utmost pride and admiration at the wonderful achievements of this great organization of fighting men and women. When I say "fighting," I mean their undaunted spirit and courage which they wield as a sword, time after time to fight for equality among human beings. But a pat on the back and a lot of applause isn't enough. It cost money to sustain them in their unrelenting battle to lick discrimination. We cannot stand by and let our neighbor fight a battle that directly concerns us, so let us join the fight and support a wonderful organization that will secure the future of a proud race of "AMERICANS."

Now let's go back to shootin' John. It seems that a certain nosy bear-hugger, (who calls himself a reporter) is still running around town digging up dirt on all of us filthy people. Leave us pay no attention to this relative to the ape's (with all respect to the apes). If you think I'm talking about Stanley Robertson you win sixty-four dollars, a ticket to the flea circus. Last week as every week the center of excitement was the Inter-Frat Basketball game where the staunch rooters yelled, screamed, and stamped their feet as one might team fought another for supremacy on the hardwood. Saw Vera Francis and Charles (Chucky-Wucky) Brouard sharing a bag of pop-corn. Don't ask me who caught it . . . Heard Donald Session asking everyone who was that fine young thing walking by. Which one? Every-one of 'em, said he . . . Heard Jack Simon yelling that he had the world in a jug and Yvonne Philibert by his side, this week. . . . Saw Louie (Wildroot) Robinson telling everyone to send him cigarettes when he goes on his vacation . . . saw Everett J. Beize in his usual rendition . . . ran over and exchanged a few words with Betty (introduce me again) Wallace . . . found myself asking where did Kansas get so many lovely young ladies as Skeeter Pryor and Vivian January. (Don't stop now Kansas!)

After the game everyone made a mad rush for the after-parties as usual. John (Lover Boy) Waller threw out the welcome mat to many a young partite. Found Dave Williams protecting Eula Narssise from the never tiring wolves like Rusty Burns and many others . . . Joan Moore, Gloria Casey, and Peggy Sue Terry (will she ever speak) in the back room making themselves beautiful . . . And so the rest of the night was spent toasting and boasting, dancing and romancing as I watched from under a nearby table.

NATIONAL URBAN LEAGUE AWARDS for 1949 were presented 26 people in the community for outstanding service and achievement last Friday evening at Polytechnic High school. In a very impressive ceremony awards were given by Urban League president, Attorney Bernard Jefferson, and screen actor, Alan Mowbray, who emceed the program. Fotoviewed above are Christopher Scott, Assistant Supt. of Mails; Sherrill Luke, UCLA Student Body president; Joe DaSilva of Retail Clerks Union, Local 770, democratic contributions to community; Dorothy Locke, Phi Beta Kappa, UCLA 1949; William B. Jones, winner of an International scholarship to study in England; Phyllis Scott representing Charlotta A. Bass, winner of Haddasah award for community service; and Rev. Clayton D. Russell for tireless crusade for community betterment. Other awardees not shown were Clinton M. Arnold, Evelyn Burwell, Jester J. Hairston, Dr. M. B. Hickman, Herman Hill, Edwin L. Jefferson, Faustina Johnson, Rev. Jesse Moses, James A. Robinson; J. Robert Smith, Dr. Adolphus R. Traylor; Yvonne Watson, Johnny Wing, Rosa-Mae Johnson Young, J. Horace Hampton, Mrs. E. G. YM Benefit Bridge Tourney Planned By Harmony Club

The Harmony Duplicate Bridge Club, 2711 South San Pedro, met Thursday night. Guests were Mrs. Ollie Redd, Mrs. Ward, Mr. Bradshaw and Mr. Horace White.

Winners for the nights play were V. B. Conner, and A. Harris; second were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Scott and third were Mrs. May Norman and A. C. Morgan. The previous weeks' winners were Timothy Burris and W. H. Harrison, first, Mrs. May Norman and A. C. Morgan, second with Mrs. Lena White and McKinley Nelson third.

Records are still being broken at the Regionals as the Golden West Bridge Club set an all time high for the women's and men's pair Sunday. Enjoying their hospitality along with the many others were sixteen of the Harmony group.

Tickets are moving along for what we hope to be one of the biggest tournaments held. The date is May 20th, at the YMCA. As you perhaps know by now, all proceeds from this tournament will be turned over to the "Y", which is desperately in need of community aid. It can not be stressed too often that your patronage will be appreciated. Tickets are one dollar, and cash prizes are to be given. You may retain your partner throughout the play.

Silver Spurs Plan All Day Food Fest On Mother's Day

The Silver Spurs Riding club held its last business meeting in the lovely home of Mrs. Martha Ball, 2629 Bronson avenue. Plans were completed for the Spurs forthcoming all day foot fest, which is to be held on Mother's Day, May 14. Breakfast will be served from 8 a.m. until noon and dinner from that time on.

After the meeting Mrs. Ball served a delicious lobster dinner. The Rodeo, sponsored by the Silver Spurs at the Flying Horse Ranch April 23rd, was a huge success.

Mrs. Mamie Modwell, club prexy, won a trophy and two ribbons for her excellent performance in riding and jumping.

The next meeting will be held with Mrs. Maccie Howlett in Mack's Manor Hotel dining room, 1085 West Jefferson.

Legal Action Planned Against Repertory Group Producers

Legal action is planned against the producers of the recent Belasco Theatre appearance of the American Negro Repertory Theatre Players who were greeted with a dark house Tuesday night when they showed up for an announced opening in Noel Coward's Blithe Spirit.

The Repertory Players who were rewarded in their initial effort here with high praise from all the critics, have been lauded wherever they played during the three years of their existence.

According to Milton Wood, manager, director and leading player of the cast, the announced closing of the run one week short of its contracted three weeks is due to the failure of the producers to pay the theatre rent and to meet other obligations and contract agreements.

Wood said the Players are planning to reopen for an unlimited run at the Belasco or some other theatre the end of this week. Theatre parties which were scheduled will be taken up, Wood said.

Irwin Parnes, local impresario and Herman Hoyer, owner of Ciro's are reportedly the producers who brought the American Negro Repertory Players from New York for their Belasco appearance.

Author Club Meets

Our Author's Study Club held their regular monthly meeting at the lovely home of Mrs. Matilda Parker. Officers who were elected at the previous meeting were installed by Rev. Frederick M. Mitchell in a very impressive way.

As the Los Angeles Branch of the Association for the Study of Negro Life and History, Our Author's Study Club regrets very much the passing of Mr. Carver G. Woodson of Washington, D.C., who was founder of the A.S.N.L.H.

The meeting was well attended, and there were several prospective members present. A very tasty repast was served by the hostess, Mrs. Matilda Parker at 1348 E. 20th St. is the chairman of the Membership Committee.

Mrs. Vassie Reese Wright, president; Mrs. Blanche E. Brooks, reporter.

Author Visits Harlem

"The blighted wasteland of New York City's black ghetto is as dirty and disease-ridden as any you will find in the U.S.," says Southern liberal white writer Lillian Smith in June Ebony, "but the big difference in Harlem is that everyone there is given a human being's chance to outgrow the filth and squalor."

Miss Smith is author of the best-sellers "Strange Fruit" and "Killers of the Dream."

There is hope in Harlem, Miss Smith insists because there is a lack of both the visible and invisible signs of racial pressure which kill hope. She says of the poverty and rubble and waste in Harlem:

"These troubles are caused by the invisible pressures of poverty or that ghostly power we call culture. And each person has that human right to outgrow it."

Val Verde Park Flower Show

The Los Angeles County Department of Parks and Recreation in Coordination with the Val Verde Flower Growers Society announce their fourth annual Flower Show and Festival to be held at the Val Verde Community Clubhouse at Val Verde Park, Saugus, Calif.

This gala affair will be presented on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 14, 1950, from 11:00 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. The event will depict four main groups: Wood-lawn themes, Floral arrangements and designs, Bouquet groups and Potted plant groups.

All entries must be posted by May 12. Prizes will be given to winners in all divisions. The public of the greater Los Angeles City and County areas is invited to attend; admission is free. Mrs. Alice T. Gafford is the capable chairman of this event.

Named to Committee

LANGSTON, Okla. — Mrs. Thelma Ackiss Perry has accepted an invitation from Governor Roy J. Turner to become a member of the Oklahoma White House Conference Advisory Committee. The purpose of this committee is to aid in the development of the Mid-Century White House Conference called by President Truman, to be held in Washington the week of December 3, 1950. The Conference is particularly designed to improve the children and youth of the United States.

APPEAL FOR BLOOD DONORS

Thirty-year-old William Curry of 1830 S. San Gabriel Blvd., San Gabriel, for the past six years has been kept alive by transfusions of plasma, whole blood and the blood derivative, human serum albumin, as he battles for complete recovery from the dreaded kidney disease, nephritis.

Over this span of time, Curry has had better than 600 transfusions, with the Los Angeles Regional Red Cross supplying most of the miracle fluids.

It has been estimated that to make up the serum Curry needs, he will have to recruit for the Red Cross 625 persons who can donate one pint of blood each during the next year.

Los Angeles Red Cross Blood Service leaders "are doing all possible" to keep Curry supplied with the serum he needs to remain among the living. A "William Curry" ledger is being established at the Center headquarters, 925 S. Western avenue, and will be set up on the blood-mobile units making visitations throughout the area.

The Blood Center is open from 12:30 to 7 p.m. Mondays through Thursday and from 3 to 9 p.m. on Fridays.

NOTES FROM A NEWSGIRL'S NOTEBOOK

Ella Fitzgerald is the reason why you can't get a seat in the Oasis if you don't come reeel early... her version of Mule Train is ooolalal... Mamie Anderson, she's the pretty spouse of Rochester, all excited for their forthcoming trip to Europe... The former Armalona Pinkston will be expecting her little howling bundle of joy sometime during the late summer months... Can't remember when we've seen so many TOP entertainers out for any benefit as those who came out last Thursday night at the Avodon for J. T.... So many of them we'd never got through writing... The mildness of the voice of Gene Norman might cause you to think that Eastside beer is just that mild... Aha! Billy Eckstine told Bing Crosby that when he was a boy in Pittsburgh his sister used to sit at the window sill and play on it like it was a piano. "My father thought she was genius and bought her a piano. Nothing ever happened, she played the window sill better than the piano"... We're wondering if there's anything to the rumor that the Fayard Nicholas are expecting again... Gerry didn't mention it in her recent lengthy letter from Europe... Understand because of the constant complaint of neighbors Mrs. Terrence will be unable to rent her home to the various clubs which certainly comes as quite a disappointment... and just when Joel Fluellen, president of the Negro Art Theatre, had set their opening date for Golden Boy May 14th... T. Bone Walker pleasing the nitely crowds at the Downbeat dedicated the entire show 't'us the other night with T. Bone singing many of the good old oldies... Bill Gaither sounding real great with the band... A Fable "Once upon a time there was a girl who looked exceedingly fine in a sweater but she would never wear one... Understand that the Scout affair out at the Gilmore Stadium last week was strickly a minstrel show with nothing but black faces everywhere... surely some other type of entertainment could have been provided... would have been better for the kids too... According to the town talk the beautiful display of furs shown by Mr. Will Allen of Spellman Furs at the Calverettes show Sunday was seemply outuve this world... women claim they've never seen anything like it before...

GETTING THE NEWS FROM G. G.:

Aside to Dr. Wells Forde "Ya ever hear of the Golden Rule?"

Well, practice it... you can be taught the "right way too"... Les Dames have just about completed their entry list for their Bal Masque outstanding clubs in the city... Hear that Al Jolson would like to buy the screen rights to George Gershwin's "Porgy and Bess." Mr. Jolson has stated that he would like to produce the film and play "Porgy"... Marie Cole writing and telling friends of plans of returning to show business, she plans to make several recordings as soon as she returns... Marie was one time vocalist with the band of Duke Ellington... and speaking of the Duke his new Columbia waxings are ultra... Benny Carter we're told is arranging sequences for 20th Century's flicker "Panic in the Streets"... Marva Louis and the windy city's Dr. Albert L. Splauding are "really that way about each other"... SUDDEN THAWT: A man who claims to have spent five hours in heaven says there is no sex there. It is wondered if that's why he returned "to earth"... Letter from Maxine Hereford still in Detroit and asking about the Angel city... Dorothy Dandridge and Phil Moore a wonderful team, Dottie now at Larry Potters with Phil Moore at the '88"... Pretty Evelyn Brown carrying her heart in a sling and swearing she'll never fall in love again, wanna bet?... Comes time again... and in closing we leave you with this "History has no record of a satisfied loser."

Pearl Primus To Appear With Modern Dance Group

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Pearl Primus, rated by critics as one of America's most spectacular dancers, will appear in a dance recital with the Howard University Modern Dance Group in Andrew Rankin Memorial Chapel on Tuesday, May 2nd at 8:30 p.m.

The dance recital is part of the Fifth Annual Festival of Fine Arts which will be held at Howard University from May 1 through May 6th. The Festival, one of the highlight cultural presentations of the University calendar year, will consist of a presentation of John Masefield's "The Witch," by the famous Howard Players who recently returned from a three-month tour of Scandinavian countries and Germany.

Hit Records

Both the Orioles and Milburn rate high among the most consistent hit-makers in the recording field and their popularity on records paid off to the tune of a one-night gross of $11,045 for their local appearance.

Dinah Aids Stranded Performers

WASHINGTON — Singer Dinah Washington took time out between performances at the Howard Theatre here last week to present an outline for a program to aid actors and performers in what she terms "their most trying predicament." It was a blueprint for a nationwide organization to assist "stranded" performers in getting transportation to their homes.

Miss Washington's plan calls for funds to be raised via deductions from the revenue realized on all benefit shows. Such as agency is desperately needed among show people said the singer, for they are helpless when failures leave them in locations far from their homes.

Little Esther Under Bart Banner

NEW YORK — Gotham entertainment circles were abuzz this week as show folks from Harlem to Broadway pondered the ten strike scored by energetic, dynamic Ben Bart, head of Universal Attractions in corralling a four-star "package," headed by kid singing star, Little Esther under his booking agency's banner.

In addition to Little Esther, Bart's firm will book promising baritone Mel Walker; new blues chirping sensation Redd Lyte; the band of Johnny Otis plus the rest of his imposing array.

ROCHESTER... Will be one of the many artists that will furnish hilarious moments in the big all-star Jack Benny show Wednesday night at the Pasadena Civic, Wednesday night, May 10th. Rochester and his pretty wife, Mamie, will leave for Europe with the Benny show in about two weeks.

Ella At Oasis

Ella Fitzgerald, America's "First Lady of Song," who opened a two week engagement at Eddie De Sure's Oasis Friday, April 28, almost was a dancer instead of a singer. An orphan, she ran away from the orphanage to compete as a dancer in the amateur hour of Harlem's famous Apollo Theater. When it was her time to perform she was so frightened her legs wouldn't move and to cover her embarrassment she burst into song. She won the contest and a contract to sing with the Chick Webb orchestra and from that time on Ella Fitzgerald zoomed to stardom. She has had a tremendous succession of Decca hits, including her famous "A-Tisket A-Tasket," "Oh, Lady Be Good," and her latest hit, "Basin Street," on which she imitates "Satchmo" Armstrong.

On the show at the Oasis with Ella is the sparkling new singing group fresh from L.A.C.C., The Moon Mists and Lee Young's orchestra.

The Hawaiian Islands, although they are here in the middle of the Pacific Ocean, are facing a very serious water shortage.

Earl Bostic Gets That Urge To Walk And Blow

PHILADELPHIA—Maestro Earl Bostic doesn't want to be "hemmed in" when he plays the 421 Club in West Philly next week. The king of the alto sax wants to be free to take to the sidewalk if necessary when the "urge to walk and blow" hits him and his men. To avoid any conflict with the gendarmes, Bostic will seek a special permit from the police giving him the right to walk to his heart's content.

When Bostic plays theatres, he leads his band on a parade around the house. He may feel the same urge in the less commodious quarters of the night club.

Farley Granger, Cathy O'Donnell and Paul Kelly are three of the principals in "Side Street." Criminal Investigation Talk Slated At Jefferson Friday

The art of modern criminal investigation and how it is utilized by police in the field will be the subject of a lecture by Lt. John W. Powers of the Los Angeles Police Department, to be given at Jefferson High School on Friday, May 5, at 7:30 p.m.

The intricate operations of the underworld will be shown to the audience. The means of obtaining information through underworld informants will also be discussed by Lt. Powers.

Special emphasis will be devoted to the effect crime has on life in the community, and citizens will be shown the means with which they can help to combat crime in the city.

Lt. Powers has gained considerable knowledge of his subject through his nine years' experience in the Detective Bureau of the Los Angeles Police Department, and questions from the audience are welcomed.

Nat'l Music Week In L. A. May 7-14

Outstanding events for the 27th annual observance of National Music Week, May 7 to 14, were announced today by J. Arthur Lewis, coordinator for the Los Angeles Bureau of Music.

Monday, May 8, Jose Arias and his Mexican orchestra and entertainers will serenade Mayor Fletcher Bowron, members of the City Council and other city hall workers from 10 a.m. until noon.

Two events are scheduled for Wednesday, May 10. At noon the 140 members of the El Monte Union High School District Band and its choral, flag-drill and majorette units will give a musical extravaganza on the First Street steps of the City Hall. It will be the fifth year that the colorful group, trained by Hal Browne, has cooperated with the Bureau of Music for Music Week.

At 8:30 p.m. Wednesday, the Civic Center Orchestra, led by Arthur Babich, will play a free "Pops" concert in the City Hall auditorium. Winners of the city's fifth annual "Artists of the Future" youth voice contest will be featured soloists.

Music Week activities close Saturday, May 13, with an all-Bach concert by the city's 19 youth choruses at Hollywood High School auditorium at 8:30 p.m. Featured will be Bach's humorous "Coffee Cantata," staged by Henry Reese and conducted by Roger Wagner, youth chorus supervisor.

Band concerts are also scheduled for Sunday afternoons, May 7 and 14, from 3 to 5 p.m., as part of the Bureau's Music Week plans. May 7 concerts will be given in Hollenbeck, Exposition and Point Fermin (San Pedro) parks. May 14 programs will be presented at Lincoln, MacArthur and North Hollywood parks. All events are free.

JOHN H. MATHEWS, attorney for the Los Angeles Bureau of Water and Light, has been named president of the Combined Christmas Seal Fund of the Los Angeles County Tuberculosis and Health Association for the year.

Free Hearing Tests Planned For Youngsters

Marking the observance of National Hearing Week, free hearing tests will be offered next week by the Hearing Center of Metropolitan Los Angeles.

Youngsters three years old or more will be tested on audiometers at the Adult Club House of All Nations' Foundation, 824 E. Sixth St., Monday through Saturday, from 8:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., according to Lowell C. Ruch, executive director of the Hearing Center, which is a Community Chest supported service.

"One of the projects of the Hearing Center is to make the community aware of the importance of hearing conservation among children. Leading ear specialists agree that a majority of children who have been found to have hearing difficulties can be helped medically," Ruch said.

Urban League - AFL

Delegates to the Jubilee Convention of the Alabama American Federation of Labor in Montgomery, Alabama, heard Nelson C. Jackson, Southern Field Director of the National Urban League, call for stronger cooperation between the labor movement and forces seeking equality of opportunity for Negroes. "The aim," said Mr. Jackson, "is the organization of the unorganized, so that workers everywhere can attain higher living standards. In carrying out this aim, the American Federation of Labor is interested only in a man's job, not his color or creed. No standard for a fair day's work can long endure if there exists a large reservoir of workers who traditionally are paid below that standard."

Mr. Jackson spoke to 450 delegates to the convention which celebrated the 50th year of the AFL in Alabama and the centennial of the birth of Samuel Gompers. In tracing Urban League support for the cause of organized labor, he stated that the Urban League was the first national agency which put itself on record as supporting organized labor and collective bargaining.

Worton Promises Cooperation In Investigating McLain Case

Police Chief Worton has promised to dismiss policemen responsible for beating and choking bailbondsmen Leonard McLain into unconsciousness last April 6 should an investigation he is now conducting substantiate the charges laid before the Chief by McLain and a host of leading citizens.

McLain was accosted and arrested on a charge of drunk driving by two policemen at Vernon and Hooper as he was on his way home. He informed the officers that he was not drunk and had not been drinking. They arrested him because he objected to being burlesqued as he submitted to a series of drunkenness tests on a public street.

At Lincoln Heights, McLain was beaten and choked when he could not remove a ring at the demand of police. He was unconscious several hours and recovered at Pasadena Receiving Hospital where he was hurriedly removed by frightened police.

Chief Worton has received pressure from several prominent sources among which is the Milers Alliance. A request has been made for Grand Jury action in the case.

McLain will appear in court May 8 for a hearing on the drunk driving charge. He contends that the drunk charge were made after he had been stopped by a police car and questioned. When McLain identified himself properly, one of the arresting officers said, "Let's run the ... in for drunk driving."

Mrs. Johnson Speaks

Mrs. Cora Johnson, candidate of the 67th Assembly Non-Partisan Committee for the office of Assemblywoman from this District, spoke to a large audience in the Hawthorne area Sunday on the subject of Child Care Centers.

Having previously pointed out the dangers inherent in the present practice of bringing the matter of appropriation for Child Care Centers up for vote each year, Mrs. Johnson assured her audience that when elected she will work for a permanent measure that will eliminate the anxiety and uncertainty of the parents, teachers and others directly interested in the welfare of children.

Mrs. Johnson has always been especially interested in the problem of working mothers with small children and has never passed up an opportunity to speak out for them. When she went to Sacramento with the "Jobs Caravan" in March, Mrs. Johnson stated, while speaking at the meeting, that the question of child care is inseparably tied to the problem of jobs inasmuch as they both are of major importance to working people.

Pointing to her "new departure" in political action from the idea that candidates must not only be hand-picked by the political bosses but must also be trained in the art of double talk to the extent that they can write bills that will fool the people yet leave enough loop-holes to make them ineffective, Mrs. Johnson reiterated her former statement that her bill will be written in plain and simple language that cannot be misunderstood.

The 67th Assembly Non-Partisan Committee has made it possible that all citizens in the District might participate in the political activities, thereby making their will known. This policy was followed in the formation of the Committee, writing of the platform, and now in the calling of a special conference to discuss the question of Child Care Centers.

All parents, teachers, child care workers and others interested in proper legislation are invited to participate in such a conference and actually write the bill for presentation by the Candidate when she is elected. root, which, in its unprocessed state, is so poisonous that several ounces of its juice, if taken internally, will cause certain death.

Meeting at Trinity St. school Thursday, April 27, the members of the association saw the exciting moving picture "Jungle Bread," which was taken in the deep jungle of Dutch Guiana.

The picture shows how the primitive tribe of Djuka bush Negroes, who had no grain from which to make bread, were compelled to turn to the highly poisonous bitter variety of Cassava plant as their source of flour.

In addition to the P.T.A. meeting, Open House was held in the school during the day. Parents visited the school and met the teachers. A Bake Sale sponsored by the room mothers organization with Mrs. Lawrence Tharp, in charge, proved highly successful.

ON THE TURF

GEORGE RAMSEY

CALIENTE, Old Mexico—Hang up another victory for little Wantha Davis, champion girl rider of the world. In a tense duel from start to finish for six furlongs Mrs. Davis and Jack Westrope staged one of the best riding duels ever seen at the border course. Mrs. Davis had the mount on Mr. Bam while Jack Westrope was astride Sir Shamrock. Mr. Bam had to be the best horse to win. At the start the ground broke from beneath the feet of her mount and Westrope shot Sir Shamrock to the front to steal a one length lead, but Mrs. Davis had her mount on stride again and scooted up alongside of Sir Shamrock to go to the front by a head. Into the stretch it was Mr. Bam in front, with Westrope whipping, booting and using all the tricks that made him the champion jockey of America a few years ago, but Mrs. Davis went to work on Mr. Bam and gained the victory in the last few jumps.

We can say it was a battle between a champion girl rider and a champion male-rider.

It was a field day for the long-shot players, only three public choices were able to reach the charmed circle. Mr. Bam at $3.60, Trail Me, $4.80, and Valiant Sir, $5.20.

The feature event was won by Neves, paying in the mutuels, $8.20. The daily-double was one of the largest in the past year when the lucky holders of Fire One, winner of the second race, and Gold Power, victor of the third, received $636.40. Not bad for two dollars.

The Quieta backers of Vain Nut and Command, who finished in that order, gathered $81.60. Longest price winner was Gold Power, paying $44.00, $13.20 and $8.40 across the board.

The shortest price was Mr. Bam, paying $3.60.

This Sunday General Manager Walter C. Marty will have two feature events to support the twelve race program, "The Saratoga," as the main attraction at the distance of one mile and seventy yards and secondary, "The Hindu Star," for maiden two-year-olds at four and one-half furlongs.

The $5,000 cash prize free program award contest will again be waiting for anyone picking seven straight winners from the third race thru the ninth. If no one picks the seven winners, two cash prizes are awarded after the last race for the lucky number program. First prize is $300, second, $200. Don't forget the dogs are coming back Friday, May 12th. Watch this paper for announcements. Also get your free passes at the Eagle office, or drop card to your writer.

Jeff Hi Places 27 In League Track Tourney

Jefferson's classy Democrats and Glendale's Dynamiters appear to be the class of the City and CIF track teams. Both scored easy wins last Friday.

The Democrats placed 27 men to lead the qualifiers in the Southern League preliminaries while Glendale swamped its Football League foes in the annual league meet. The Dynamiters scored a total of 59 9/14 points.

Baseball Nine Also Gets Set

CHICAGO—Both basketball and baseball continue to keep the name of Harlem Globetrotters in the headlines.

Abe Saperstein's great basketball team is now enroute to Europe on a phenomenal tour while his baseball team of the same name has reported for practice drills at Monroe, La., preparatory to a coast-to-coast tour.

The Globetrotter-cagers land by trans-Atlantic plane in Portugal on May 5 and play their first game on the continent that very same night. They are also due to tour and play the entire months of May, June and July in Italy, Switzerland, Spain, France, England, Belgium and western Germany.

The dazzling cagers flew overseas boasting a season's record of 165 victories against only nine defeats. They scored 151 victories against two losses during the regular season, three in a row in annexing the Cuba invitational tournament and then won the most sensational basketball tour in history, a coast to coast series with the College All-Americans. A total of 181,364 cash customers saw them win 11 of the 18 games from the pick of the nation's 1950 collegiate crop. All-time record crowds were attracted in Cleveland, Indianapolis, Los Angeles, Denver, Cincinnati and Washington, D. C.

Equally big things are expected this season from the baseball squad, which reported May 1 to Manager Paul Hardy at Monroe, La. The Globetrotter nine plays its first game at Monroe, May 7, against the Brooklyn Cuban Giants. Hardy, who always insists on a fast, hustling ball club, will have virtually the same personnel as last year when 100 games were won against only 19 defeats. Several new outstanding prospects figure to make the team even stronger.

L. A. Rams Ink Heavy Tackle For '50 Eleven

The Los Angeles Rams this week added weight to the middle of their line when they announced the signing of William Lange, 6 foot 1 1/2 inch, 238-pound tackle from the University of Dayton, to a 1950 contract.

Lange, 22 years old, played four years of varsity football for the Ohio school. He was an all-Ohio tackle for two years and made the all-Catholic team in 1948.

Lange is the third new player signed by the Rams following back Glenn Davis of Army and tackle Harry Thompson of UCLA. No details were announced on salary.

Bolanos Meets Trigo Tuesday In Olympic '10'

Two promising bouts are coming up at the Olympic Auditorium, 18th and Grand, it was announced early this week. Next Tuesday night, Enrique Bolanos, once a top challenger for the world's lightweight crown, will hit the comeback trail when he faces Mario Trigo in the 10-round main event. Tuesday, May 16, Art Aragon takes on Tommy Campbell in a bout expected to pack the arena.

Trigo has won a decision over Aragon but was outpointed in a return match. In July 1947, Bolanos knocked out Trigo in two rounds but since then Enrique has slipped while Trigo has been turning in some fine performances. Tuesday's match against Trigo will give fight fans a chance to see just how far Bolanos has gone back.

The 47th Western Open Golf Championship will be played at Brentwood Country Club, May 18-21.

'Woody Strode Night' Set for Olympic Auditorium Wednesday

Wednesday night, May 10, the Olympic management, Cal Eaton and Miss Aileen LaBell, will honor one of Los Angeles' most popular and successful athletes, Woody Strode, in a night named for the ex-Bruin. A large loving cup, emblematic of Strode's contribution to athletics while a member of the UCLA football team, the Rams professional organization, the Calgary Mustangs, and last but not least, the wrestling profession, will be presented by Lt. Gov. Goodwin Knight.

Strode, along with Kenny Washington, was hired by the Rams to be one of the first colored players in the National pro league since 1933, when Joe Lillard played with the Chicago Cardinals. Strode spent two years with them and then went to Canada where he pioneered state football players. He has always been a good will ambassador, being possessed of a likeable personality, and Canada took him to its heart.

Two years ago when the big ex-Jefferson high school star was released by the Rams, some enterprising promoter took one look at the Strode body and asked him about joining the grapplers. The tall, well-shaped bronze giant took to wrestling like a duck to water, and in no time at all was easily one of the best liked wrestlers performing. His sportsmanlike attitude, although the problems were tough, won the audience and at his matches the one who fouls Strode in any way is in for catcalls in abundance. So far, he is undefeated in his new career. He will wrestle in the feature main spot on his "night" and his many friends and admirers are planning to at-

Trotting Stars At Santa Anita Saturday Eve

ARCADIA—The free-for-all trotting stars of the nation, gathered at Santa Anita for the $50,000 Golden West Trot on June 10, are scheduled to make their first start of the season on Saturday as the feature of the second full week of the 40-day Western Harness Racing Association.

Egan Hanover, Proximity, and Bangaway, three leading candidates for the Golden West classic, are training well and appear to be sure entrants in Saturday's race. Egan Hanover, full brother to Rodney, and Bangaway, top three-year-old of 1949, are both owned by Saunders Mills of Toledo, Ohio. Proximity, the Queen of the Trotters, owned by Ralph and Gordon Verhurst, is the second leading money winning harness horse of all time.

Chris Spencer, winner of the $50,000 trot last fall, is scheduled to arrive at Santa Anita tomorrow along with Good Time, Harness Horse of the Year in 1949, and Alemite, along with Good Time a strong candidate for the $50,000 Golden West Pace. However, Chris Spencer is a doubtful starter on Saturday.

Saturday's stake, co-feature with the free-for-all trot, is the Pomona Pace, with eight of the 70 eligibles also nominees for the Golden West Pace on June 17. The highly-regarded pacing mare, Highland Ellen, winner of the Pasadena Pace on opening Saturday, steps up in class to try for this one.

Campanella Is On Shelf With An Injured Leg

ST LOUIS, —Roy Campanella, Brooklyn's ace catcher, will be out of the Dodgers' line-up three to four days, maybe more.

Campanella was injured in Monday night's game with St. Louis. He slipped and fell while taking a throw from the outfield in the ninth inning. He pulled a muscle in his right leg.

Girls' Athletic Ass'n Of Jeff Stage Playday

Jefferson High's Girls' Athletic Association will hold a giant playday in honor of the second greatest Mexican holiday, Cinco De Mayo. The playday will be held on the Jefferson campus on Friday, May 4th from 1 to 4 p.m. The program and characterization of the day will be as follows: Las Mexicanas by the Roosevelt GAA; Las Espanolas by the GAA of Fremont; Las Californias by the Garfield GAA and Las Internacionales by the Jefferson High GAA. There is the promise of much in the way of comida, skits, softball, badminton, volleyball, ping pong, etc.

The Mexican Club at Jefferson is planning a program in honor of Benito Juarez's triumph on May 5th over 80 years ago.

Savannah State Enters Team in Tuskegee Meet

SAVANNAH, Ga. — Savannah State College's seasoned "Flying Tigers" are rated a strong contender to dominate the middle-distances at the famed Tuskegee Institute relays May 6.

Winners of the sprint-medley and mile relay titles at the Alabama State relays, and with strong competition in the Drake relays last week end, Ted A. Wright's squad appears to be needle sharp for their coming engagement.

With their brilliant half-miler and miler, who turned in a very respectful 4:19.4 mile in the Glen Cunningham event at the Kansas relays to finish third, and "Big Joe" Turner, the Savannah team is expected to finish high among the "Skegee" mile relay finalists, and take the two-mile championship.

The latter is a task they failed to do last year despite the brilliant 1:55 half Prince ran in the mud. However, with him this year will be three other 880 men, each capable of running around 2 minutes flat.

"The Rocket" as Prince is called, is expected to annex the mile run. He was on the heels of John Carroll, Tuskegee's stellar miler who dominated the event for four years last year, until stomach cramps forced him to drop out mid-way the third lap.

In the 440-yard dash Coach Wright is expected to enter Turner, who finished second in this event at "Bama," and Enoch Roberts, who ran sizzling 49.4 quarter on the mile relay team.

The Shaw University tennis team won handily in its first encounter of the season, a dual meet with the North Carolina College netters, recently on the Shaw campus.

Lloyd LaBeach Takes Two Dash Events In Utah Track Tourney

PROVO, Utah — Taylor Lewis, the former UCLA track star, was the only record-breaker in the special-events division of Brigham Young University's 37th annual track and field meet and relay carnival last Saturday.

Lewis tossed the discus 171 ft. 10 in. to eclipse the mark of 161 ft. 3 in. set in 1935 by Dunn of Stanford.

Lloyd LaBeach, the Panama Olympic performer, won both the 100 and 220-yard dashes as expected, but he was under the 1949 record times in both events.

George Rasmussen of the University of Oregon went 13 ft. 6 in. in the pole vault. The Duck star has gone as high as 14 ft. 5 in off the record marks. Biting cold and a high wind kept the times and distances down. Special-events summary:

120 high—Craig Dixon (LAAC), Alden Porter (BYU), 14.7s.
100—Lloyd LaBeach (Panama), Don Campbell (Colorado A&M), Dave Chadwick (BYU), Charley Lane (Glendale), 9.9s.
220—Lloyd LaBeach (LAAC), Porter (BYU), 23.5s.
880—Mal Whitfield (Ohio State), Tom Howells (BYU), Leach (Idaho State), Deloy Jolley (BYU), 1m. 56.1s.
440—Whitfield (Ohio State), Lee Hartley (BYU), 49s.
Two-mile—Curtis Stone (Penn State), Walt Steffenson (BYU), 9m. 42.3s.
Pole vault—George Rasmussen (Oregon), 13ft. 6in.

JEFFERSON HIGH SPORTS

It looks as if the Demos are a shoo in for the Dixie League title. Democrat fans are still talking about that 1:57 half mile Lang (Stringbean) Stanley ran on the Crat oval. One of the watches was reputed to have read 1:56.5!! We are hoping that Lang may yet approach Ross Bush's 17-year-old record of 1:54.4 for the national high school half mile. And thereby hangs a tale.

It seems that the coach of the Demos, Estel Johnson, used to run at the same time Ross Bush came up from Dallas to run for the Trojans at SC. Johnson and Bush both found themselves on the SC track team and competing against each other in the 440 and the 880. Maybe Estel won't admit it but Ross used to cop the duke a good many times when they ran together. Now, just last Saturday, Bob Pruitt of SC broke Bush's SC college record for the 880 with a sizzling 1:52 flat. Estel now can have some sort of revenge on Bush if he can get his ace, Lang Stanley, to beat Bush's high school record... sort of winning by proxy, you might say.

Most of the Demo fans don't know it, but Govan Hill tossed one well over 50 feet in the preliminary shot put competition. It didn't get on the books because the big boy fouled on that particular toss. From here it looks as if Hill will toss one in the Coliseum for 50 feet plus!!!

Larry Williams is no quitter by any means... the game guy says he feels tops and will be in there pitching... there's a boy we admire.

Be sure to watch Look's All-American High School Track Team publication some time this month. We hope to see some Demos on it.

Here are a few statistics compiled by the Jefferson High sports staff:

Baseball Standings (as of 4-25-50):

Roosevelt	4
Fremont	1
Manual Arts	3
Washington	2
Jefferson	1

Tennis Standings

Jefferson	3
Manual Arts	2
Fremont	1

Garfield	0	3

Statistics on the winners of the state track championships:

Team—Years it has won title.
Jefferson, 1937, 1949.
Jordan, 1948.
Manual Arts, 1915, 1916, 1919, 1924, 1925

Washington, 1947.

Statistics on the Los Angeles City Championships:

Jefferson has won eleven (11) out of the last thirteen (13) championships, losing only to Jordan and University.

Jefferson finally won a game of baseball in Southern League play! The Demos took the measure of Garfield by a 5-3 score. The gang seems to have the ole pep and ginger now, and so the student body is hopeful for more wins in the future.

The home football games of Notre Dame will be telecast here over KTSL (Channel 2) this fall.

USF Announces 11-Game Grid 1950 Schedule

University of San Francisco last Friday announced an 11 game football schedule for 1950, the longest and most ambitious in the Dons' history.

Head Coach Joe Kuharich will ready his squad for an opening game with Tulsa's Golden Hurricane on Saturday night, September 23, in Kezar. The Tulsa eleven was one of three to defeat the Hilltoppers in 1949.

Teams added to the schedule include Pacific Coast Conference powers California and Stanford and intersectionals away from home with Fordham and Denver.

The Dons will play eight of their 11 games in the San Francisco Bay Area. Besides facing Cal at Berkeley and Stanford at Palo Alto, U.S.F. will tackle Tulsa, Nevada, St. Mary's, San Jose State, Santa Clara and Detroit in Kezar Stadium.

A contest with Loyola's Lions in Los Angeles on Sunday, December 3, will close out the lengthy campaign.

SHARPS & FLATS

By
ALBERT J. McNEIL
Music Critic of the California Eagle

Leon Kirkpatrick in Recital
Leon Kirkpatrick, Chicago pianist, was presented Sunday afternoon in a piano concert in the auditorium of the George Pepperdine College.

Mr. McNeil

The concert was under the auspices of the Iota Phi Lambda's Auxiliary Club, a courageous group of women whose efforts were rewarded with a sizeable audience if not a capacity attendance.

Mr. Kirkpatrick chose as his opening vehicle the ever-popular Beethoven Sonata Opus 27, No. 2. The "Moonlight," as it is commonly known, received a shaky reading. The pianist undoubtedly was not accustomed to the idiosyncrasies of the concert grand whose strident qualities were exemplified in the hesitancy the pianist showed. The instrument was without question extremely stiff.

The pianist fared better with the selection of Schumann's Arabesque Opus 18 which he performed with a brilliance and power rarely seen in these parts. We were particularly impressed with the degree of sensitivity employed and the technical surety completely unseen in the first selection.

Brahms Variations and Fugue on a Theme by Handel formed the third work. In this work we were able to view, as it were, the pianist's ability to weave a series of contrasts using a classic theme in a romantic setting. Kirkpatrick is the proud possessor of two admirable traits power and control. We do not feel however that there is a sufficient degree of emotional or dramatic flare in his playing. Of course, this may have been due to many other salient factors unknown to this writer. We are extremely proud, however, to see an individual of Mr. Kirkpatrick's background determined and enthusiastic despite the many obstacles he has had to face in order to reach his musical goal.

EIGHTH NOTES

Caterina Micieli, 19, and Howard L. Chitjian, 20, were chosen winners of the Bureau of Music's fifth annual "Artists of the Future" youth voice contest Saturday afternoon at the City Hall.

Miss Micieli, a soprano, who lives at 65 West 98th Street, and Chitjian, a baritone, who resides at 224 West 27th Street, each received $500 voice scholarships donated by private citizens and the Atwater Kent Foundation.

Second place winners, each receiving $250 scholarships, were Peggy Ann Pulliam, 18-year-old soprano, 5023 Auckland Avenue, North Hollywood, and Stephen Stagner, 18, tenor, 2226 Fernleaf Street. Joy Lee Miller, 18, soprano, 711 Redondo Beach Blvd., and Robert Hayward, 20, young Negro baritone of 440 North Westmoreland Avenue. Mr. Hayward was last year's second place winner. . . . The most pretentious event yet scheduled for the Bureau of Music's youth choruses will be an all-Bach program on Saturday, May 13, at 8:30 p.m. in Hollywood High school, when 400 young people from 19 choruses will sing under the direction of Roger Wagner, youth chorus supervisor. . . . Featured number will be a performance of the humorous "Coffee Cantata," staged by Henry Reese. . . . Independent's Cathedral Choir will present Johannes Brahms' "The Requiem" Sunday afternoon May 28th at 5:30 p.m. . . . The Los Angeles Musicians Association will hold its regular meeting Thursday, May 11.

City College Women To Offer Fashion Satire

"Curves and Angles," satire on fashion sponsored by the Los Angeles City College Associated Women Students, will be presented from 3:30 to 5:30 p.m. Monday in the Student Union, initiating Camp Fund Drive activities on the State and City College campus.

Three skits by the drama department entitled "Fashions Through the Ages," "Fashions in Dancing," and a scene from "Finian's Rainbow" will make up the entertainment. Ensembles will be furnished by Orbach's Department Store.

Proceeds from the show and Camp Fund Carnival, to be held May 12 and 13 under the sponsorship of the University Religious Conference, will send children to the U.R.C. camp in the San Bernardino Mountains during summer vacation.

Conductors, Organists Council

Officers of the Baptist Conductors and Organist Council were officially installed at their introduction banquet in the colorful dining hall of the Crystal Tea Room by the Rev. A. C. Austin.

Among the 96 guests present were the following ministers and their wives: Rev. A. C. Capers, Rev. Earl Pleasant, Rev. G. A. Miller, Rev. A. A. Peters, Rev. S. Malone, Rev. A. C. Austin and Rev. W. W. Davis.

Highlighting the evening were greetings from the organizer and founder Mrs. Anna G. Morrow, director at Second Baptist church; purposes and aims of the Council by Mr. R. L. Hatter, director at St. Paul Baptist Church; musical selections by Mrs. Ethel Morton, director at Metropolitan Baptist church in Pasadena. Miss Helen Robinson, organist at Metropolitan Baptist church; Miss Barbara Jean Jackson, pianist at Mt. Moriah Baptist church and Mrs. Vennie Harvey, organist at McCoy Memorial Baptist church.

The following officers were installed: Mrs. Anna G. Morrow, president; Mr. R. L. Hatter, first vice-president; Mrs. Ethel Morton, second vice-president; Mrs. Olivia M. Sheppard, secretary; financial secretary, Miss Lucille Baycote; treasurer, Mrs. Selina K. Allen and Mrs. Mabel Wilson, chaplain.

The Council's first big musical will be its May Festival on May 21, 1950.

Annual Spring Concert Monday At Los Angeles City College

Los Angeles City College Philharmonic Chorus under the direction of Dr. Hugo Strelitzer will present its annual Spring Concert Monday night at 8:30 in the Administration Auditorium.

Featured on the program will be a Los Angeles premier performance of "Knoxville, Summer of 1915" for soprano and chamber orchestra by Samuel Barber, with Merri Fenn as soloist; and two Mozart compositions, "Symphony, Concertante" for Oboe, Clarinet, Bassoon, Horn and Orchestra and "Requiem" for mixed chorus, solo voices, and orchestra.

Vera Jean Vary, soprano; Juanita McCollum, alto; Alan Mendenhall, tenor; and Edwin Brown, bass, will solo for "Requiem."

Dr. Strelitzer and Adolph Heller, also of the City College music department, will conduct. Admission is free.

WASHINGTON—The National Association for the Advancement of Colored People has called for the extension of federal rent controls until at least June 30, 1951. The present rent control law expires in June, 1950.

Stanford University Chorus Featured in Ojai Festival

Southern California music-lovers are looking forward to the first appearances in the Southland of the Stanford University Chorus, which will be a highlight of the 1950 Ojai Festival scheduled for Nordhoff Auditorium, Ojai Valley, during the last week-end in May.

Comprising 175 student members directed by Harold C. Schmidt, Associate Professor of Music and Director of Choral Music at Stanford University, the Stanford University Chorus is the largest of three campus choral groups.

The choristers will make their Festival debut on Sunday afternoon, May 28, in a performance of Vaughan Williams' "Flos Campi," joining forces with violinist Jascha Veissi and the Ojai Festival Chamber Orchestra conducted by Thor Johnson. Subsequent appearances include the May 29 County Concert in Ventura and a performance of the Faure Requiem at the closing concert on May 30 in the afternoon.

Annual Artists Competition Announced By Museum Curator

Full details of the 1950 annual competition for artists of Los Angeles and vicinity were announced this week by James H. Breasted Jr., director of the Los Angeles County Museum.

3,200 in purchase awards will be given to first and second prize winners in oil, watercolor, gouache, sculpture, drawings and prints.

Jurors who will select the exhibition and award the prizes are art experts from various sections of the United States who will be brought here for the jury session from June 12 through June 14. They are:

Dr. Alfred M. Frankfurter, New York City, editor and publisher of ART NEWS; Dr. Jermayne MacAgy, San Francisco, curator at the California Palace of the Legion of Honor; Richard B. Freeman, chairman of the Art department, University of Alabama.

Rules and entry blanks are being mailed to the museum's list of more than 3,000 artists of the area. Artists who have changed address or who have reason to believe that they are not on the museum list are asked to write the Museum's Art Division for rules and entry blanks.

String Quartets Featured On Free Sunday Museum Concert

String Quartets by Haydn, Beethoven and Shostakovich will be performed by the Seidel String Quartet at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park as the eighth concert in the current spring series, Sunday afternoon, May 7, at 3 o'clock.

Featured works on the all-quartet program will be: Haydn's Quartet in F minor, Op. 20, No. 5; the Quartet Op. 49 by Shostakovich, and Beethoven's Quartet in D major, Op. 18, No. 3.

Violinist Toscha Seidel is leader of the ensemble whose other players are: Myron Sandler, violin; Leon Fleitman, viola; Emmet Sargent, cello.

The concerts are presented in the Museum's second floor lecture hall. Admission is free.

Breasted Names Music Committee

James H. Breasted Jr., director of the Los Angeles County Museum, has named Lawrence Petran of UCLA and Raymond Kendall of USC to a Committee of Musical Consultants who will guide the museum in arranging its new, 52-week-a-year schedule of Sunday afternoon chamber concerts.

"In selecting two men of such wide musical background to assist the museum in programming its concerts," Mr. Breasted said, "we feel that we will be advancing the three-fold objective of the museum in presenting these concerts."

Howard Choir Sings Concert

The Howard University Choir, which rated superlatives from critics in various sections of the country, will appear in concert on Thursday, in Andrew Rankin Memorial Chapel.

Edward Matthews, rated by Dean Warner Lawson, of the Howard University School of Music as "one of the best trained musicians in our group," will sing excerpts from the Opera, "Four Saints in 3 Acts," by Virgil Thomson and Gertrude Stein, supported by the choir.

Documentaries On Program At Museum Friday

Two historic documentary films, both dealing with the life and work of fishermen along the Scottish coast, will be shown on the regular documentary film program at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park Friday, May 5, at 8 o'clock.

Both films are the product of John Grierson, pioneer documentary film maker; and the appeal of the pictures stems from the great interest with which the subject is handled for laymen and the historic techniques in documentary making which these two films introduced.

The film programs are presented in the museum's second floor lecture hall. Admission is free.

College Drama Group Presents "The Male Animal" Next Week

"The Male Animal," the Broadway comedy hit that pokes fun at college life and college minds, has been chosen as the next attraction of the East Los Angeles Junior College, and will open a five-performance engagement at the Arena Theater on Tuesday, May 16, continuing through Saturday, May 20.

From the impish pens of James Thurber and Elliott Nugent, "The Male Animal" is a good-natured, but unsparing lampoon of college football heroes, radical students, stuffed-shirt regents, and campus "Red" scores.

Even more timely now than when it was first produced on Broadway a few seasons ago for a successful 250-performance run, "The Male Animal" concerns the harassments of a young professor who has casually announced that he will read Vanzetti's letter in his class, as an example of powerful writing by an untutored man.

When some regents with perennial under-developed minds get wind of the professor's innocent proposal, the reading of the letter snowballs into an issue of academic freedom.

Support For NAACP

The executive committee of the Los Angeles Congress of Industrial Organizations heard Dr. E. I. Robinson, NAACP president, as guest speaker at a recent board meeting and endorsed a resolution calling for active support of CIO locals in the NAACP's 1950 Membership Campaign.

Bust of Dr. Hope Unveiled at AU

ATLANTA, Ga.—In a rief ceremony at the close of the Fifth John Hope Lecture on Sunday, delivered by Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, Assistant Secretary - General of the United Nations, a life-sized bronze bust of Dr. Hope was unveiled by John Hope III, of Nashville, Tennessee, a grandson. It will be placed in the Trevor Arnett Library of Atlanta University.

The unveiling ceremony took place in the presence of several members of the Hope family who made a special trip to Atlanta for the occasion. Present were John Hope II, of Nashville, Tennessee (a son) a member of the staff of the Institute for Social Science at Fisk University; Mrs. Elise Oliver Hope, his wife, and their three children, including John Hope III, who unveiled the bust; and Mrs. Lyons, who for a number of years was dean of women at Spelman College. Unable to attend was another son, Dr. Edward Swain Hope of Washington, D. C.

Bennett College

GREENSBORO, N. C.—A talk by President David D. Jones and the awarding of the Jane Miller Jones scholarship cup to the senior class for achieving an average of 4.874 highlighted chapel services at Bennett College last week.

Miss Virginia Hentz, White Plains, New York, president of the class, accepted the cup on behalf of the 111 seniors. The freshmen were the runners-up for the coveted honor, followed by the Juniors and then the sophomores.

The story of the health program of Bennett College is being featured in the current issue of National Negro Health News, written by Dr. Walter J. Hughes, director of the college health service.

Atlanta University, died in Atlanta on February 20, 1936, after serving this institution as president since July 1, 1929. For 25 years he was the president of Morehouse College.

Dr. Bunche, internationally famous UN official, was honored with his 14th honorary degree at the close of the lecture. The degree of Doctor of Laws was conferred upon him by President Rufus E. Clement before a mixed audience of more than 2500.

Savannah S. College

SAVANNAH, Ga.—Four addresses marked the opening of the First Annual Regional Leadership conference held at Savannah State College April 23-24.

E. A. Lowe, director of General Extension, University System of Georgia; Eugene Stanley, acting dean of faculty, and William K. Payne, president, Savannah State College spoke during the initial session which began at 1 p.m. and continued through 2:30. During the evening a vesper audience heard Miss Emily Woodward, director of forums, University System of Georgia, conclude with the final speech of the day.

The Trade and Industrial Education Section of the Georgia Teachers and Education Association, at the recent meeting in Macon, went into a discussion on improving and promoting this phase of work among Negroes in Georgia.

The group decided to reorganize and elect officers to look after the affairs of the group. The following officers were elected.

George H. Fambro, Ballard-Hudson High School, president, Macon; A. T. Smith, Blackwell High School, vice-president, Elberton; Mrs. A. B. Hatcher, Carver Vocational School, secretary, Atlanta.

Dr. DuBois, Dr. Bethune Honored

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY, Pa.—Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, distinguished author and lecturer, and Dr. Mary McLeod Bethune, noted educator and humanitarian, will receive the 1950 Alpha Medallion, from Nu Chapter, Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity, on May 5. Dr. DuBois, formerly editor of THE CRISIS, publication of the NAACP, and of the Encyclopedia of the Negro, was selected to receive the award because of his contributions to human understanding over the last 50 years. Dr. Bethune is known principally as founder of Bethune-Cookman College, and for her invaluable work as special advisor to President Roosevelt on minority affairs. The National Council of Negro Women, which she helped to found, is one of the most powerful organizations of its kind in the country today.

The award is presented annually by the members of the Lincoln University Chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity. On the same program, a scholarship will be presented to the member of the freshman class voted as outstanding in scholastic and athletic achievement. This is in keeping with their belief that outstanding citizenship in the campus community should be recognized as outstanding citizenship in the community at large.

Phillips Alumni Give $1378 to Drew Fund

At the annual convention banquet of Homer G. Phillips Hospital Internes Alumni Association held last Thursday night at Kiel Auditorium in St. Louis, it was announced that a donation of $1378, given by members of the Association and doctors attending the convention, was made to the recently established Chas. R. Drew Memorial Fund.

The new officers of the Association, elected last Friday, are Dr. Jesse N. Burnett, Fort Worth, Texas, president; Dr. Joseph M. Walker, Winston-Salem, N. C., president-elect; Dr. Scipio G. Murphy, Detroit, vice-president; Dr. C. M. Jones, Bayonne, N. J., vice-president; Dr. H. J. Lyman, Houston, Texas, vice-president; Dr. U. G. Gibson, Port Arthur, Texas, vice-president; Dr. J. Owen Blache, St. Louis, secretary; Dr. Montague S. Lawrence, St. Louis, assistant secretary; Dr. William S. Allen, Jr., St. Louis, treasurer.

Newly-chosen members of the board of directors include Doctors H. H. Weathers, East St. Louis, Ill., chairman, for a two-year term; T. C. McFall, Charleston, S. C.; J. C. Sherard, St. Louis, one-year terms. Remaining on the board are Doctors E. A. Dumas, Chicago; W. H. Sinkler, St. Louis; P. W. Beal, Houston and G. C. Lewis, Danville, Illinois.

ASCOT AVE. PTA

Plans for the 4th annual Spring Tea were discussed at the executive board meeting of the Ascot Avenue P.T.A., held April 25, 1950 in the school auditorium with the president, Mrs. Ceressa Baker, presiding.

The new chairmen were ratified. They are as follows: Founders Day, Mrs. E. Miller; Membership, Mrs. Dorothy Greene; Health, Mrs. Juanita Robinson; Hospitality, Mrs. Loraine Seal; Child Welfare, Mrs. Lucille Coleman; Room Mothers, Mrs. Johanna Blue; Programme, Mrs. Liney Terry; Ways and Means, Mrs. Otter Marie Johnson, Publicity, Mrs. Oattie Veal.

To climax the Public School Week the executive board served a tasty luncheon to the faculty. The P.T.A. colors of blue and yellow were carried out.

The next regular meeting of the association will be held Tuesday, May 9, 1950, at 1:30 p.m. in the school auditorium.

PEN PALS CORNER

By BARBARA JEAN

The first thing I'd like to do this week is to thank my cousin, Barbara Jean, for allowing me to be her guest columnist.

Barbara

(Thanks, Bobbie). . . . Allene Crawford had a little get-together the other nite. Gal's and guys seen were: Ora Mae Williams, Robert T. Moore, Barbara Thompson, Thomas Dotson, Willie Crawford, Dorothy Mae Hohnson and loads of others. . . . James Kirkwood, there's still a little girl who has eyes for you. Can't you take a hint? . . . Will somebody please find Jeanette Washington a boy-friend? She's gettin' desperate, you know what I mean, Jeanette. . . . Alice Estes celebrated her ??? birthday last Sunday. I know she had a happy one because a certain L. M. was there, right Alice? . . . Pat Lewis, you simply must make up your mind, come on now, which is it, Oubert Banks, Richard Lieshy, George Everheart or Charles Norman? . . . Theresa Monroe there's a sweet little boy that cares for you, see if you can figure out these initials, A. L. It seems as though the Tri Y girls are gettin' ready to initiate some more victims at I. A. Hi. I sure pity them, what am I talking about, I'm one of them. . . . Milton Brown, dear boy, you'll have to make up your mind if you want me to fix you up, who is it, Marlene or Beverly? Allen Bailly, it seems that someone is admiring you. . . . What have Doroes B. and Robert M. been doing—that is how are they doing. They say that Sylvester Pettus is really on the beam. Covan Hill asked Bobbie to write something nice about him for a change. She said that she can't think of anything, Covan, sorry dear boy. . . . Wonder why Percy Harris doesn't want his name publicized? Looks as though Mamie Russell has found a new lover but Dorothy . . . ns has given her the eye. Oh! Mamie. Adora Ulasi, how's your little blond?

Lover Girl
Gues Who??

Well, she's a small young lady with big ideas, only weighs 120 lbs. and 5' 4" inches tall, with just loads of personality. She's sweet 17 and never been kissed —(Heh! Heh!) and she's a junior at C. G. H. Well have you guessed yet who she is? That's right, Miss Barbara Anderza, your columnist.

Lover Man

Hooney, let me tell you, he's a dream, just a dream, and he's 5' 10" tall with black curly hair and weigh 154 lbs. Has big beautiful brown eyes. What's his name, of yes, his name, why, Mr. Norris Humphrey, of course.

Seems as though Elmer Layne can't make up his mind either. Well, Elmer, who is it Jamie or Connie? Jammy Walker are you going' to stand here and let Prince Lang take Kay Sorrell away from you? . . . Oh, what's happenin' with Kay Sorrell? Ralph Watson seems to have a crush on her. . . . Do I hear wedding bells? I do for Jeanette Thompson and Henry Grant. How sweet.

Delores Johnson, just what are you tryin' to do with Sammy "Skeeter"? . . . They say that Lenard "Wheathead" Whithead held a flah up in people's faces and said he did it for his country. (Frankly, I don't understand Debby Miles, my friend, you and your sister, Harriet must wake up and realize that you are gettin' older and boys are gettin' fewer. . . . I wonder why Pluto Russell was so angry the other nite? It couldn't be jealousy could it? Pluto. Is that old flame for Alma Winchester still burning? As I look into the future I find that there's gonna be a picnic in Griffith Park real soon. All teenagers are invited. Mister Paul Westfield, you'd better watch out for her father. I think he's angry. What did you do??? Poor little Frank White. It looks like he's lost. Willie Mae Hohnson is out looking for a new lover and she's lookin' at you Tee. Watch out, boy. A very sweet boy, indeed, is Gerald McCoy. Hey now, Jerry, a cute little trick is Miss Cleo Baines.

A Party 'Am A-Brewin'—

There's gonna be a real fine party over at St. Odell's Hall on 53rd and Hooper. Donation is 25c. Come on, pals, I want to see ya there.

Dear Readers: I certainly have enjoyed writing the Pen Pal Column this week and hope you've enjoyed reading it. I'll be hearin' from you.

So, later,
Jody.

Camp Fire Girls

The Ta-To Camp Fire Girls of Carver Jr. Hi entertained more than 150 girls and boys at their Spring party, April 21.

It was a lovely affair with the rooms decorated in the Camp Fire Girls colors—red, white and blue. The girls, along with their guests, showed off their Spring finery.

Saturday, April 29, marked the second hike for the girls this Spring. Both the Ta-Yi-To girls of Carver Jr. Hi and the Elutanda girls of Ascot Ave. participated. The first one was in Griffith Park, the second one at Exposition Park.

The girls packed a trial lunch which was enjoyed at the park after which they visited the Museum, the many interesting things they saw will occupy their minds for a long time.

Their leaders, Mrs. Spiveyard, Mrs. Johnson, with the help of one of the mothers, Mrs. Lewis, enjoyed the fun with the girls.

Lincoln University trustees have authorized an application for funds to erect critically needed student and faculty housing under the provisions of the Federal Housing Act of 1950, which set aside $300,000,000 for loans to colleges and universities, according to an announcement.

NBC Violinist Plays At Spelman College

ATLANTA, Ga.—Henry Siegl, violinist, who plays with the NBC Symphony Orchestra under the baton of Arturo Toscanini, played for the students of Spelman College on Friday on his 167-year-old violin, interspersing his selections with interesting remarks about his valuable old Italian violin which was made in 1783.

The artist was in Atlanta with the NBC Symphony which was heard on Saturday in the course of a nation-wide tour, in the city auditorium.

Guide Right Programs at Holman Meth. Sunday

Top high school musical groups and individuals will add to the program celebrating the 28th anniversary of the National Guide Right Movement of Kappa Alpha Psi fraternity Sunday at Holman Methodist Church, West Jefferson at Cimarron, and a well prepared panel on the subject "Helping a Boy to Find Himself," will feature the affair. The opening of a week of guidance and inspiration for high school senior boys will take place at 28th Street YMCA Friday night when the annual Guidance Conference will be held. The Sunday session is given with the cooperation of the Methodist Youth Fellowship, Ulysis Brown, president, of the host church.

Appearing on the panel Sunday will be Mrs. Nennye Luhn Corporal, mother of Sherrell Luhn, president of UCLA student body; Rev. L. L. White, pastor of Holman Church; Arthur M. Farham, principal of Jefferson High School; Sam Zacheim, vice principal of Wilmington High School, and Atty. James Reese of the local Guide Right Commission.

Jefferson High's Madrigal Singers, under the direction of Lawrence Larsen; Eugene Williams, Jordan High's tenor; Polytechnic A Capella Choir and Manual Arts High's soloists will furnish music for the program.

A special Guide Right program will be carried to the Senior Boys of Jordan High School Tuesday at one o'clock and the week's activities will be concluded with a rally and social at the YMCA on Friday the 12th, starting at 7:30 p.m.

College Club Presents 'Gay Nifties' for YW

"Dearie, do you remember . . . ?" and the Gay Nifties of 1950 began. The Y.W.C.A. show which reveivew the popular dances and tunes of the century, was presented by the Pyramid Pledge Club of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority April 14 at the Elk's Hall.

The show began with a novelty song and dance routine entitled "Dearie" done by Anne Allen and Percy McIntyre. The "Big Apple" was danced next by Leatrice Turner, June Matthews, Gloria Persons, Faye Glasgow, Theresa Sims, and Theresa Dennis. Synchronizations of Al Jolson's "Pretty Baby" and the Andrews Sisters were done by Meredith Howard and a trio respectively.

Faye Glasgow, singing "Stormy Weather" followed a Rumba, representative of the 30's danced by Pauline James, Audrey Burrell and Anne Allen. A chorus line consisting of Beneta Crosland, Beatrice Bain, Geneva Waller, Connie McCallister and Jane Miller danced to the "Johnson Rag." And 1950 was represented by the "Hucklebuck" done by Pauline James, Viola Goff, Cynthia Goodson and Audrey Burrell with Anne Allen doing solo steps. A grand finale ended the review with all participants performing.

PARADE OF YOUTH . . . Sherrill Luke, (left) UCLA student body president, helps Robert Shelton of Avalon Center Boy Scout Troop decorate his bike for the parade, Saturday, May 6. Sponsored by the South Central Coordinating Council and assisted by the Youth Project, a Community Chest supported service, the parade will start at 1:45 p.m. from Santa Barbara Ave., and 40th Place. The 500 children expected to participate will proceed to South Park Playground for the 3:15 p.m. dedication of new playground facilities built by the L. A. City Recreation and Park Dept. Leading the parade will be the grand marshals Luke and Rev. Baxter C. Duke, chairman of the committee in charge of the event.

Youth Wins Music Award

Robert Hayward, baritone, 440 North Westmoreland avenue, won a third place award of a season ticket book to this summer's Hollywood Bowl concerts, at the Los Angeles Bureau of Music's fifth annual "Artists of the Future" youth voices contest held Saturday afternoon at the City Hall.

Caterina Micieli, 605 West 98th street, and Howard L. Chitjian, 224 West 27th street, won first awards, and each received $500.00 voice scholarships.

Two great Metropolitan stars, John Charles Thomas and Jar-mila Novotna, joined with Edwin Lester, director of the Civic Light Opera Association, to judge the 14 finalists from a field of more than 200 young singers.

A SCENE FROM THE NURSERY SCHOOL at Lincoln University (Mo.) which serves as a laboratory to the Departments of Foundation and Home Economics in the training of prospective teachers who are interested in childhood education. WATTS FRIENDLY CORNER

Thelma Harper Berkley

Last Thursday at 1:30 p.m. in the auditorium of Willowbrook High School, parents and students enjoyed a treat of Southern Californias Gas Company's "Spring Style Show of Foods," featuring the modern automatic gas range and 1950 Servel gas refrigerator.

Harriett Smith, the home service representative from the company, prepared delicious spring-time meals on the stage in a position where we could each get a good view of the meals as she prepared them, the two automatic gas ranges and the Servel refrigerator, with Gene Russel assisting.

After the preparation of meals were finished, the Spring-time oven meal, the fried chicken and all of the other meals were awarded to the winners.

Miss Mary Douglass, girls' vice principal of Willowbrook, pulled the tickets for the drawing. Judie Arrie, a student at Willowbrook High School, rendered organ selections.

Mr. McCormick commended Mrs. Ethel Wyllie, Homemaking teacher, for her part in making it possible for the company to bring their show to Willowbrook.

There are a good number of parents present, and those who were absent really missed a great treat. This is the second year that the gas company brought their show to our school, and Mr. McCormick stated that they were happy to return again. I'm sure that its mutual, for we would like to sit in on another show next year.

Compton College Notes

The inter-frat basketball series is winding up to rapid climate as the Kappas won over the Alphas and Phi Beta Sigma and Bobby Pounds edged the Men of Omega out by two points.

WHAT'S HAPPENING

The A Phi A's are giving an affair honoring the teams etc. Sunday afternoon... The Anthenians are sponsoring a Spring Fashion Tea this Sunday afternoon at the Phillis Wheatley home located at 2125 So. Harvard blvd. from 5-7 p.m. the fashion show at 5 p.m. and an offering of silver for admission. There is also to be an after party following the tea.

OVER THE FENCE:

James Miller and Mabel Franklin for some unknown reason did not want their names in the paper even if they are supposed to be going steady... Mr. Cool "Saddles" at City College is real way out. Don't all you fellas wish you could be as cool a campus dresser as he is? What's his name? Ooh! just call him Frank. The one who says beyond Imperial Highway, which is the state line between California and Arizona, people shouldn't be allowed to cross back and forth. But that means the students at Compton are not only out of district but out of state. Oh well, we can't all live in the great metropolis of Los Angeles City and especially on 49th st... Willis Wesley seems to be having trouble with some fella over Pat Countee's attention... Mary Alice Ragli has a new boy friend that drives a new Mercury... It seems Johnny Snead is about to move Major Smith out of his play with Ola? What say half-pint... Bobby Swearington, popular Compton student has become as Omega pledge, as has Alfred, Roosevelt Grisby's friends. Audrey Burrell you should get a rope and tie that Q up in it to keep him safe.

Dear Gang:

To cut all the foolishness I hope you are still sending in cards for Von Dasta McCormick, who represents the Compton College. Roy Loggins' fan club and the South Los Angeles Youth Adult Canteen Ray Loggins fan club in the Current Queens Contest like I said before. It is about time for us together.

Ray says there aren't two hundred cards separating the first from the tenth so I suggest the clubs and individuals together buy about six hundred and put Von in.

Well I'll see ya later

Rev. Williams At St. Martin's Mission

The Rev. Llewellyn E. Williams D.D., replaces the Rev. Melbourne L. Hogarth as vicar of St. Martin's Episcopal Mission, 10015 Compton avenue, Watts district. May 28, it was announced by the Rt. Rev. Francis Eric Bloy, bishop of Los Angeles.

Father Hogarth some time ago asked to be relieved of his vicarship, due to ill-health, and the position has been filled temporarily by the Rev. A. P. Stembridge.

Born in Kansas, Mr. Williams received his bachelor of divinity degree at Seabury-Western Theological Seminary. He was ordained to the diaconate in March, 1942, and advanced to priesthood in October, 1942. He has been rector at St. Phillips Church, St. Paul, Minnesota, since 1942.

Father Hogarth was relieved of the vicarship at St. Martin's on March 23 of this year after serving since May, 1948.

Jordan High

During "Girls Week" the English and Social Studies department put on an essay contest for the girls at Jordan. Any girl interested was eligible to enter.

The rules of the contest were as follows: A five hundred word essay on the topic, "After High School: What." Entries were to be in no later than March 15, 1950.

Judges were Mr. Penny and Mrs. Hubert, both from the English department, and Mrs. Vidal of the foreign language department. All essays were judged on the girls ability, English and punctuation.

As the judges came to the final decision the winners were Lydia Gonzales from the junior high and Eleanor Brown from the senior high. Both girls received beautiful Eversharp pencil sets.

Tuesday, April 11, Judy Cozzins was guest speaker at a PTA meeting held in the Jordan High School Cafeteria.

Judy Cozzins is the new Watts Service Director, and she told of plans for youth in Watts in the form of a panel discussion.

The Youth project was started in 1945, when more adequate youth services were needed in certain Los Angeles city areas.

The purpose of it is to unite public and private youth serving agencies to work upon common youth problems.

The territory included in this project planning is roughly an area of 50 miles square.

The project Executive Board is composed of a representative from thirteen agencies, here are also other committees, which deal with other matters.

Some accomplishments have been made so far by this project, but there are still many problems to be solved.

After days of preparation the Spanish Club finally presented its dance number at Huntington Park High recently. The dance was presented "El Janabe Tapatio." Raymond Ardrade, Frank Amescua, Ysaura "Cookie" Colacion and Delfina Maldonado were the dancers. Along with Jordan and H. P., three other schools were invited. They were Roosevelt, Washington, and Freemont. The fifty students from each school joined in some community singing.

Another play that "Los Conquistadores" will give, is the annual "Cinco de Mayo program. The Cinco de Mayo is a celebration of Mexico's independence from Spain. Some of the players included Harry Gayton, as Benito Juarez, Alfred Alviso, who portrayed Maximilian, Carlota his wife, is played by Treasa Shubia.

Maintains Child Care Center

Willowbrook School District maintains a Child Care Center at the Palm Lane Housing Development providing care and trained guidance for children of employed mothers. Children who have reached the age of two years and not more than five years are eligible for enrollment at this Center, Mrs. Lena P. Arnett, Director of the Child Care Center stated.

The daily program of the Child Care Center provides for cod liver oil and fruit juice for all children each morning, hot, well-balanced meals, rest and sleep periods, health services, including vaccination and immunization and supervised play and recreation. Parents may bring children to the Center as early as 7 a.m. and call for the mas late as 6 p.m. Mrs. Arnett stated. It is to be noted that the Child Care Center does not close with the closing

Special Election To Approve Willowbrook Schools Request

A special election for the registered voters of the Willowbrook School District will be conducted May 19 to approve application for an apportionment from the state of California in the amount not to exceed $975,000 under Proposition No. 1. A school district must be authorized by the voters in the area in order to make application to share in such funds for the construction of schools or the repair and expansion of existing school buildings. Superintendent Clifford G. Riddlebarger stated.

The four polling places for the election are No. 1—Lincoln School, 11764 Compton Avenue; No. 2—1202 East 125th Street; No. 3—Willowbrook Elementary School, 12501 Wilmington Avenue, No. 4—2323 East 124th Street. Voting places will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. All registered voters are eligible to vote in this election and property ownership is no pre-requisite.

The money, if appropriated, will be available for many uses, Riddlebarger said. The primary expense will be for the expansion of the Lincoln and Willowbrook Schools and secondly to provide the necessary classrooms to take-off double-sessions in the Willowbrook Schools.

While the school population in the district has almost doubled from 750 in 1938 to 1817 in 1949.

the school facilities have remained the same, Riddlebarger emphatically pointed out.

Both schools are operating on a double session and Willowbrook school children are receiving only about ½ of ¾ of the schooling to which they are entitled. The last completed school in the district was opened 32 years ago—The Lincoln School, 1918—and was originally designed to accommodate 450 pupils. Today there are 814 pupils enrolled. Willowbrook Elementary School's enrollment shot up from 550 in 1915, the number for which the school was built, to 1085 now in daily attendance.

Crowded Situation

The new Mona School, now under construction, will be ready for use in September and the proposed new Carver School will greatly relieve the present overcrowded situation, however, the 22 new classrooms provided by these schools will not be adequate to take all the classes off the double session basis and allow full time schooling for the children.

Further, the two new schools will only partially relieve the present over crowded situation and take into account no increase in the school population in the next few years. It will be noted that an over-all Willowbrook population has more than doubled in the last decade.

ELAJC CAMPUS NOTES

By Kathy Key

HI THERE: We are back again this week merrier than ever. First, if there is something you don't quite understand, I apologize, my eyes are full of stardust this week. You see, spring fever has finally gotten around to me, and believe me, it's bursting out all over, and in the most conspicuous places.

The Natation Queens, composed of a group of charming young ladies, started the weekend off with a wonderful party Sat. nite. That was lovely Frances Ramsey on the door looking very smart in aqua and navy blue, including a plunging (but very) neckline. Mary C. Wright spent a very pleasant evening entertaining Roland Bundice. Seen in the stag line were Buddy Brewer, Archie Taylor, Brad Prye, Dexter Loud, Victor Tyler, Austin Wells, John Bowden, and many, many more. While Fran Ramsey was watching the record player, Crawley White was watching Fran (good work Sherlock Holmes).

LOVELY JAY GONDER AND JOYCE BATES, two of the most charming cheerleaders and rooters for the Sigmas helped to inspire them on to a great victory Sat. nite over the Omegas. Good work girls.

DEN VINSON, LOUIS AUGUSTINE AND EDDIE SHERRILL were three of the most charming hosts at the affair given by THE JOLLY JACKS AND JILLS Sat. nite.

ZETA PLEDGEE, Teresa Jaquet had a very lovely time in San Pedro over the weekend.

Miss Joyce Bates had a delightful time at Long Beach Sun. evening; accompanying her was Mr. Jerry Washington. The two have been seen in other's company quite a bit recently. Could it be that there are intermediate plans.

THE CALIF. EAGLE'S YOUNG COLUMNIST, Miss Adora Lily Ulasi, attended an IPP party Sun. nite accompanied by Mr. John Sheridan of Long Beach city college.

OVERSEEN AND OVERHEARD IN THE DOGHOUSE: Jackie Nicholas and Louis Augustine starting the morning off by sharing a cup of coffee together. Noticed Lowell Brinson and Peaches Thurmond sneaking glances at each other when one thought the other wasn't looking. Martha Mickey sipping coffee and looking demure as ever, by the by Martha, who is the new guy you were seen with so often? Say girls, to stop your wondering about the fine watch that Peaches Thurmon is wearing, yes, you guessed right, it does belong to Little Wille Littlefield and if you think that is something wait until you see what is coming up next???

Arnett. The address of the Child Care Center is at the Administration Building of the Palm Lane Housing Development, 1800 E. 121st Street. Mrs. Arnett may be reached by telephone at Nevada 6-2894.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Editor,
California Eagle,
Los Angeles, Calif.

Dear Sir:

A friend out in Chicago has sent me several issues of your paper. I admire the way you are fighting against racial prejudice. However, I don't admire you too much when you advocate a sort of progressive capitalism, and seem to think that such would eliminate the racial prejudice and the bestial laws that have been set up against the colored people and poor white people.

As I see it, capitalism is reactionary by nature and nothing anybody can do will ever make it progressive. I feel that the only way to make any country a decent place for all the people to live in is to put an end to all exploiters and all exploitation. And so, I am a Marxist or communist.

I am a white man, and a home-grown communist, with my family dating back in this country to the year 1689. My views today, at the age of 55, are the result of the horrible things I have seen in this country with my own eyes.

In The Sun newspaper today, Mr. Dean Acheson of the State Department was quoted as follows: "There can be no greater disagreement than when someone wants to eliminate your existence altogether."

I certainly do not want to eliminate Mr. Acheson's existence or the existence of anybody else. However, I do want to put the entire capitalist class out of power or rulership. And I want to do this because the capitalist class keeps me from earning a living.

In the copy of this note that I am forwarding to President Truman, I am enclosing an advertisement from The Sun newspaper of Baltimore today which serves to illustrate just what I mean. This advertisement covers work in which I am highly skilled, and which I have references to prove. However, the advertisement specifies that applicants must be under age 40. The plant also is within ten blocks from where I live.

The plant where I last worked closed up completely. Therefore I certainly will not be called back there no matter how much business may pick up.

I was told recently that colored men were not permitted to drive taxicabs in Baltimore. If this isn't a bestial law, what is it?

I had a job with the U. S. Government during 1943. One of my duties at that time was to persuade plants to use colored people. What happened after the war was over? In plant after plant right after the last war, colored people were the first to be dumped out, regardless of ability, proving again the bestial and reactionary nature of capitalism.

Shortly after the last war, I was called up for jury service. Who happened to be a witness on a $35,000 damage case on which I served as a juror? It was a young colored woman, who had been dumped out of a war plant. Of all the witnesses called both white and colored, during the three or four days of the trial, who impressed the jurors as being by far the most intelligent and best witness? It was this same colored woman.

Recently, I was in a place where a colored woman was telling two white women "not to believe all they read in newspapers." The two white women were plainly morons, while the colored woman was very intelligent.

No, the color of one's skin has nothing to do with intelligence. Paul Robeson and Benjamin Davis, both colored, are plainly two of the most intelligent men in the United States. And the capitalists are not interested in merit and intelligence, all their pious words notwithstanding. The capitalists are interested in keeping the masses of people, both white and colored, in slavery.

Around 1942, I heard a colored woman in the station of Chester, Pennsylvania, protesting about her husband being drafted. One remark she made was that "this was a white man's war, not a colored man's war." I felt like telling her that the United States was on the side of "justice" in that war, and that the colored people would win with the white people.

If I were to answer this woman's remark today, I would have to admit that neither the poor white people or the colored people of the United States won World War II. The United States capitalists actually won World War II, so far as this country is concerned.

I have before me a Soviet Union publication which states that the percentage of increase in production has been ten times as great in the Soviet Union as in the United States over a period of 20 years. This is what happens in a country where all the people are guaranteed jobs and opportunity by law.

Mr. Paul Robeson was quoted thusly: "There is a natural alliance between the country of socialism and the oppressed people of the world over." This is true, no matter how much our capitalists may rip and tear and pump out lies.

All of our capitalists, from President Truman and Mr. Acheson on down, know how to get along with the Soviet Union Government—namely: by keeping their armies and weapons of destruction home, and by ruling the United States for the welfare of all our people.

Very truly yours,
G. C. Hart

Dear Mrs. Bass,

Before the 1950 Red Cross fund drive winds up, I would like you to know that we are truly grateful for the excellent support you have given the community campaign through your news and editorial columns.

Your continuous coverage of the campaign throughout the past month has allowed us to present the needs of Red Cross this year squarely before the public, and local stories about volunteer workers have been a real source of inspiration to them.

Parade Marks Opening Of Youth Center

The new $225,000 swimming pool and youth center at South Park will be dedicated on Saturday, May 6, at 3 p.m., as was announced by Councilman Kenneth Hahn of the 8th District.

Hahn said that this will be the finest swimming pool and playground in the entire State of California and urged all children and young people of the community to take full advantage of this new recreation center.

There will be a youth parade on Central avenue starting at 11 a.m. at Jefferson and Central and it will proceed south to 5-st street and go west on 51st street to South Park.

About Milwaukee

By J. R. EGGLESTON

WAUKESHA, Wis.—A long-range plan to eliminate racial discrimination at Carroll College has been adopted by the Student Senate. The Student Senate sets 1954 as the deadline for complete eradication.

Although the program affects all campus organizations, the nationally affiliated sororities and fraternities are the ones hardest hit by the action. At the present time one local fraternity has a Negro in its membership.

The program outlined by the Campus Senate also bans the formation of new campus organizations which will have discriminatory clauses in their governing rules.

The program that was outlined by Jack Brown, Senate president, as follows:

1. All campus organizations which have discriminatory clauses in their constitutions or by-laws must work to have them repealed by the national and local level.

2. No new organization having clauses in its constitution or by-laws shall be allowed on the campus.

3. Organizations must have repealed the discriminatory clauses by the fall term of 1954, or they will be subject to action by the Board of Review. Removal of the group from the campus is possible.

Brown said the board will consist of representatives of the faculty, administration and students.

Each organization on the campus will come before the board once each semester to report the discriminatory clauses binding its membership and the progress that the group has made to have them repealed.

The action of the Student Senate at Carroll College should be a guide for a number of colleges and universities throughout the country to end discrimination in sororities and fraternities.

Tells of Experience

"I lived through a lynching when I was in the third grade. I discovered when I was 14 that I couldn't go to camp because some girls objected to sleeping in the same cabin with a Negro girl. At college I met a number of spirit breaking experiences," said Mrs. O'Bee.

Don't Understand

Mrs. Emile O'Bee stated, "we do not have the unfair employment practices, poll tax, lynching and a lot of similar things because people do not understand each other. It is time we tried to alleviate these conditions."

MILWAUKEE, April 28—I'm from Milwaukee and I ought to know... Blatz's beer is no longer Jim Crow.

the first to fulfill their promise about employment.

All of the breweries in the city have promised that they will hire Negroes as soon as they reach their peak of production. Blatz's reported that they will reach their peak of production later this year than before, but as soon as it is reached more Negroes will be hired.

Schlitz made Milwaukee famous, they claim... Pabst and Millers... Boast of the same... But if they don't wake up, Blatz will take the fame.

Services Held For Mrs. Ridout, Wife Of Methodist Minister

DOVER, Del.—Funeral services were held last Saturday afternoon for Mrs. Caddie Adreina Ridout, wife of the Rev. Daniel L. Ridout, superintendent of the Dover District, Delaware Methodist Conference. In a last minute change of plans, the services were held in the auditorium of the Booker T. Washington High School to accommodate the crowds that paid last tribute to the well known churchwoman, described as "one who lived in a house by the side of the road and who was a friend to thousands."

Mrs. Ridout never recovered from injuries suffered in a fall on the ice in Wilmington Delaware, on February 22nd, where she was attending a meeting of the Delaware Conference Board of Education, in which she served as director of children's work for a number of years.

A graduate of Princess Anne Academy (now Maryland State College) Mrs. Ridout's home on the Academy campus, where her husband was formerly director of music, and in the parsonages of the churches he served as pastor, was known always as a "wayside inn" for students and for both young and old who gathered for musical and religious fellowship.

Surviving are her husband, two children, Vivian Ione and Daniel Lyman, Jr., her mother, Mrs. Georgia Washington, two sisters, Mrs. Ethel Hubert, of Wilmington, Del., and Mrs. Claudia Thomas, of Princeton, N. J., and a brother, Robert H. Washington, of Wilmington.

Services were conducted by the Rev. F. Donald Jones, pastor of Whatcoat Methodist Church, Dover, assisted by the Rev. Earl H. Crampton, superintendent of the Philadelphia District, Delaware Conference, and president of the conference Board of Education.

First Baptist Honors Pastor

First Baptist Church, 9401 Zamora Ave. and friends expressed their appreciation in a very definite way for the pastor, Rev. A. Moten and his wife, April 16 through April 23. The services were highlighted each evening with outstanding ministers and their churches taking part on the program. Rev. and Mrs. Moten received many beautiful and useful gifts. Crowns made of bills were placed on their heads and a huge bouquet of red roses clustered with bills was presented to them in a very unique way.

During the two years of Rev. Moten's pastorate at First Baptist, through prayer, God has wonderfully blessed us. Starting with only a handful of members, the Church has now grown to a very large membership. God is using Rev. Moten in promoting a spreading work of grace.

We wish to take this opportunity to express our most sincere gratitude to all of those who helped to make this appreciation service the greatest we have ever had. We are more determined to do a more creative work for God.

Baptist Foreign Mission Board Secretary Reports On Africa

The Rev. C. C. Adams, A.B.D.D., corresponding secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention, Inc., who lately returned from an extended visit to Africa was interviewed by a California Eagle reporter this week and some of his observations and impressions are presented here for the enlightenment and consideration of our readers.

Dr. Adams emphasizes the importance of Africa to American Negroes. "Africa must remain his (the America Negro's) shame and disrespect, or it must become his full emancipation badge of honor and world respect."

Africa, Dr. Adams says, has the key to world recovery and peace. The world must save Africa to save itself, and in doing so, it will be necessary to permit Africa its full development and independence.

Knows Africa

Having crossed back and forth on the African continent four times, Dr. Adams is familiar with every corner of this important part of the globe. He sees hope and rapid progress for all of Africa except the Southeast, South and Central areas. Exploitation by white protectors is the evil holding back these sections of the rich continent, he says.

The Foreign Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention has been working in Africa and other parts of the world since 1880. It maintains nine large schools in West, East and South Africa, as well as 2 hospitals, 4 health clinics, more than 100 out-station schools and more than 1500 churches with 400,000 church members.

In addition, the Board maintains schools in South America, The Bahama Islands and Pacific areas. Budgetary needs are currently $500,000. Dr. Adams is here on the West Coast to raise funds to meet that budget. Presently in San Francisco, he will return to Los Angeles on Saturday.

Coloratura to Be Featured at Avalon Church

Susie Pryme, nee Susie Watson and former Kansas Citian, will be among the artist combination, scheduled to appear at the Avalon Christian Church third Sunday musical on May 21. Mrs. Pryme, a coloratura soprano, received initial dramatic musical training in Azelia Hickory College, New York City, and Detroit's Institute of Musical Art. She has concertized from coast to coast and well known in the east and middle west. She also appeared on the Major Bowes program. These programs are sponsored by the Music Appreciation Group of Avalon and are receiving recognition by music lovers throughout the city. The public is invited. Programs are from 6 to 7:30 p.m. —Marjorie Gills, publicity chairman.

two months visiting friends in various cities of the south and east.

She stopped in Houston, Texas where she attended the annual conference of Wesley Chapel A-ME Church with Bishop Goamas presiding. She was the house-guest of her niece, Mrs. Pearl Calahan, and another niece, Mrs. Lola Williams, who resides at Galveston, Texas.

The missionary ladies entertained her at dinner. She also stopped in Memphis, where she was the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Gault, and Chicago, where she was the guest of a niece, Mrs. Marie Gary.

Greater Faith Baptist

The first quarterly conference of the Greater Faith Baptist Church, 1446 West 36th place, was held recently with the conference theme of "The High Call" dominating the program.

Allie Beck, president of the Missionary Society, and William Lindo, superintendent of the Sunday School, were lauded for the achievements they have accomplished in their departments, by Rev. B. Clarence Cooke, pastor of the church.

Of all exercises there are none of so much importance, or so immediately our concern, as those which let us into the knowledge of our own nature.

Installation Services For Rev. Cooke Next Week

The installation services for the Rev. B. Clarence Cooke, pastor of the Greater Faith Baptist Church, 1446 West 36th Place, continue next week with the Rev. St. Paul Epps and the Bellevue Community Church in charge, May 8 at 7:45 p.m.

Dr. A. Wendell Ross will preach Tuesday, May 9, at 7:45 p.m., and the Kingdom Baptist Church will be in charge of the worship and the singing.

A member of the Los Angeles District Association and Western Baptist State Convention, the Greater Faith Baptist Church was founded by its present pastor, Rev. Cooke, who has served in the church from sexton to pulpit over a period of 27 years.

Church in Colleges

The Los Angeles diocese of the Episcopal Church, comprising 130 parishes in the state's eight southern counties, this week launched an all-out drive to spur interest in modern Christianity among college and university students in the area.

The Rev. J. Ogden Hoffman, Jr., of Monrovia, 29, who has a wide church background of philosophy and social relations work, will serve the students of San Diego State College, at San Diego. He will be vicar of St. Dunstan's Chapel, located on the college campus.

The Rev. Peter Paulson has just been appointed by the bishop to give full time to the work of training and aiding students on the Westwood campus of the University of California at Los Angeles.

Additionally, plans are under way for full-time religious workers on other campuses, including the University of California at Santa Barbara.

Delayed Service For The Late Mrs. Clara Mae Jackson Held

Mrs. Clara Mae Jackson, 181 Stuyvesant Ave., Brooklyn, N. Y., wife of Payton Jackson, was buried Monday following her death after a brief illness.

Mrs. Jackson was prominent in community activities and a teacher at the Kingsboro Housing Project Nursery School.

In her immediate family she is survived by her husband, Peyton Jackson, Peytonia, wife of Dr. Leslie E. Becker and their two children in Tuskegee, Ala.; Beverly Jackson, U. S. A. Air Corps, San Antonio, Texas, and a son, Peyton Jr., and wife, Lillian, with one child at the School of Engineering, Howard Univ., Washington, D. C.

Although Mrs. Jackson died on April 5, the funeral was delayed until her daughter, Miss Beverly Jackson, could obtain leave of absence from the Air Corps. Mrs. Jackson was the eldest of thirteen children of the well known Carey family, Plainfield, New Jersey.

Baha'i World Faith

Symbol and Reality is the subject on which Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop will address the public meeting of Baha'i World Faith to be held at their Los Angeles headquarters, 331 S. New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday afternoon, May 7, at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Bishop tells us that the centers of divine perfections are the Manifestations of God as seen in His prophets. The divine reality is to man what the sun is to the earth. Baha'ullah is the spiritual sun and light for this day and age, fulfilling all the prophecies of every religion.

Southland residents will see and hear an exact replica of the historic Liberty Bell during the U. S. Treasury's Savings Bonds drive May 15 - July 4.

Christian Science KNX, May 7

A Columbia Church of the Air program under the auspices of the Christian Science Committee May 7, at 7 a.m. The subject of the address will be "I Need on Publication for New York, may be heard over station KNX on Three Every Hour."

Ed. Conv. in N. O. Points up 'No Discrimination'

More than 7500 Catholic teachers met at the convention of the National Catholic Educational Association in New Orleans to discuss common problems in education recently.

The city was invited to hear and see as hundreds of Negro children joined their voices with white children to sing the Mass. A Negro Bishop, Most Rev. Joseph Kiwanuka, Vicar Apostolic of Masaka, Uganda, occupied a place of honor on the stage.

Negroes took their places wherever they desired in the vast congregation.

Throughout the four-day meeting the question of racial justice was continually in the forefront of the discussions. The thought was repeatedly expressed that democratic educators could not hope to exert an influence outside the country until they had made democracy 100 per cent valid within the country.

The discussions on the racial question had a remarkably high content of practicality.

At one point a Negro nun declared from the floor: "It is fine to say that the teaching of love of God and love of neighbor applies to all men, but the real question is: how far do you go with that teaching? Do you teach that your neighbors are not only the members of your family or the people next door, but the people of other races? I know that you have to be specific, because we have experience in our schools in teaching our children not to hate the white children."

In another session a Negro layman got up to compliment Father Thomas J. Quigley, Pittsburgh diocesan school superintendent, on his remark that while prejudices may take some time to eradicate, the discriminatory practices which stem from prejudices should be stopped right now.

But he posed a pointed question: "People say that improvement in race relations has to come gradually. But you make the point that the practices of discrimination cannot be stopped gradually—either they continue or they do not. Just how do you strike a balance between this gradualism and immediate action?"

Gems of Thought

CHARACTER

Character is that which reveals moral purpose, exposing the class of things a man chooses to avoid.

—Aristotle

Truth comes from a deep sincerity that must always characterize heroic hearts; it is the better side of man's nature developing itself.

—Mary Baker Eddy

The precept, "Know yourself," was not solely intended to obviate the pride of mankind; but likewise that we might understand our own worth.

Methodists To Seek End Of Segregation

CLEVELAND, Ohio—Methodist women have launched a drive to call upon the general conference of the denomination which meets in 1952 to "rid itself of the sin of segregation in the organizational structure of the church," at the final session of the third quadrennial assembly of the Woman's Division of Christian Service held in Music Hall here.

On the issue of church segregation the delegates recommended "the adoption of memorials and resolutions by jurisdiction, conference, district and local groups that will call upon the general conference of the Methodist Church to work with greater speed to rid itself of the sin of segregation in its total organizational structure."

SOS for YMCA!!

28th Street Branch YMCA can be saved if the community wants its services and program and is willing to furnish it the funds required to pay for its operation.

Last January, a campaign was launched to raise $20,000 for this purpose. In spite of direct mail, group, and personal appeals, the community, in the three months that followed, gave the Branch less than one fourth of what it needed.

Instead of accepting this apathy and indifference as final, the Branch and its friends intensified efforts to awaken community interest in the necessity for raising sufficient funds to permit it to continue its program for the youth of the area. This renewed effort is bearing fruit but slowly. On May 1, the total cash support furnished by the community for the YMCA Youth Program for 1950 amounted to only $7,000, less than half the goal.

Meanwhile, because of the failure to date to secure an adequate support fund, some of the terminations of employment announced in March were made effective this week and the remaining members of the staff put on a part-time basis for the month of May. This amounts to an extension of grace to the program in order to give a number of sincere friends of the youth of the area opportunity to raise additional funds so that further permanent cuts may not be necessary.

These friends have until the end of the month to prove that the community wants to save the experience, facilities and services of the Branch and keep them at work in behalf of the boys and young men of this South Central District.

JEFFERSON HIGH SCHOOL STUDENT BODY NEWS

The spring semester brings on a whole host of tempting offers of scholarships to qualified students from many colleges and universities throughout the country. Recently administrators at Jefferson received notice from Fisk University at Nashville, Tennessee that 26 scholarships will be offered this year to promising students in the United States. There will be four 4-yr. full tuition scholarships ($300 for four years), twelve scholarships ranging from $150 to $300, and 10 freshman scholarships of $100 each. The scholarships are offered in the following schools at the university: pre-medical, pre-nursing, languages, literature, music, natural science, social science, physical education and religion.

Open house at Jefferson last week was the most successful response the parents of the community have made to a call made by the school for a visit to the Democrat campus. Over 2,000 people attended the array of exhibits, demonstrations and programs by the fashion show classes, A Cappella Choir and gymnastic teams. Parents also had an opportunity to see and talk to the teachers who are in charge of their children.

The faculty of both the day and evening schools together with their students wish to thank the patrons and parents of the community for their support. The cake-baking contest between the parents and the students was a close one, and the judges had to eat their way through all five cakes before they could make a decision, awarding the first prize to Mrs. Davis of the PTA. Spectators, however, would have been content to sample any of them, they all looked that good. Girl, or grown woman, the community has its share of good cooks!

The Hollywood Theater Players made their annual appearance at Jefferson last week and presented three short plays showing the development of drama from its old morality plays beginning down through the years to the era of more recent American play productions.

Friday, June 2, will be Prom Night for the Aquitanian Class. From all appearances it promises to be a wonderful, gala affair for the boys and girls of the senior class. The prom is sponsored by Jefferson's hard-working PTA.

ITALS Of Plan

Norman O. Houston, president of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Co., was elected to the board of directors of Greater Los Angeles Plans, Inc., at the annual meeting of the corporation early this month.

Established in 1945, this civic organization has as its primary interest the cultural growth of Los Angeles. To promote its program a very large citizens committee is being developed representing all areas and community groups under the direction of Leroy M. Edwards. Tentative plans for the project, which have been given unanimous approval by the City Council and city officials, are the building of an auditorium, a convention and trade fair center and a music center.

Houston has for many years been a staunch supporter of city development programs. He is active in such community organizations as the NAACP, the YMCA and the National Council of Christians and Jews. He is also affiliated with the California Institute for Cancer Research, Welfare Federation of Los Angeles, and is a member of the California State Athletic Commission.

NAACP Confab In New England

BOSTON—Delegates attending the 41st annual convention of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People here, June 20-25, will be welcomed to the city by Mayor John B. Hynes at the opening session.

The convention, which is being held in New England for the first time since the Springfield conference in 1930, will bring to the city NAACP delegates from all sections of the country. The 21 branches of the association in this region will act as joint hosts to the convention.

The convention will be devoted to a discussion of ways and means of improving the economic, political and social status of Negroes in this country through legislation, education and the courts.

interracial affairs, and several such organizations have already booked accommodations for the summer or early fall. They will find all the accommodation there they could find in any large city. With one exception The Manse does not have a bar, nor own a liquor permit, and Mr. Sudduth says he has no intention of seeking such a permit.

Mr. Sudduth was born across the river in Covington, Ky., but spent most of his life in Cincinnati. When he planned the opening of his hotel, he invited former teacher as a guest. This teacher, Frank L. Williams, principal of the Lincoln-Grant High School in Covington, which Mr. Sudduth attended as a boy, now 90 years old, could not attend on account of his health, but he sent a tribute to his former pupil which Mr. Sudduth cherishes proudly. He said, "You are a typical American citizen. You saw what could be done and did it."

Window Cleaner 1.72
Electricians $2.50
Painters
Brush 2.08
Spray Gun or Sandblaster 2.33

The rates of per diem wages for each of the various classifications of work shall be the hereinbefore set forth prevailing rates of hourly wages multiplied by eight (8). Eight (8) hours shall constitute a day's work; it being understood that in the event that workmen are employed less than eight (8) hours per day, the per diem wages shall be deemed to be that fraction of the per diem wages herein established that the number of hours of employment bears to eight (8) hours.

WORKING RULES
1. Where a single shift is worked, eight (8) consecutive hours between 7 a.m. and 5 p.m. shall constitute a day's work at straight time for all workers.
2. Forty (40) hours between Monday 7 a.m. and Friday 5 p.m. shall constitute a week's work at straight time.
3. All work performed in excess of eight (8) hours per day or forty (40) hours per week or on Holidays and Sundays shall be paid for at the rate for overtime of the craft involved.
4. Holidays as herein referred to shall be deemed to be New Year's Day, Decoration Day, Independence Day, Labor Day, Armistice Day, Thanksgiving Day and Christmas. If any of the above holidays fall on Sunday, the Monday following shall be considered a legal holiday.

It shall be mandatory upon the contractor to whom a contract is awarded, and upon all subcontractors under him to pay not less than said general prevailing rates of per diem wages to all workmen employed in the execution of the contract.

Notice is also hereby given that all bidders may submit with their bids, a sworn statement of their financial responsibility, technical ability and experience. Such sworn statement may be required to be furnished before award is made to any particular bidder.

Each bid shall be made out on forms to be obtained at said Building Branch of the Board of Education, must be accompanied by a certified or cashier's check or bidder's bond (issued by a surety company accredited by the Board of Education) for not less than Five Per Cent (5%) of the amount of the bid, made payable to the order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles; shall be sealed and filed with the Purchasing Agent of the Board of Education, Room 200, 1425 South San Pedro Street, on or before 2:00 P.M. on the dates shown above and will be opened and read aloud in public at, or about, said time and in the public hall, second floor, of the above address.

The above-mentioned check or bidder's bond shall be given as a guarantee that the bidder will enter into contract if awarded the work, or any part thereof, and will be declared forfeited if the successful bidder refuses to enter into contract after being requested to do so by the Board of Education.

The successful bidders will be required to furnish labor and material bonds in an amount equal to 75% of the contract price, and faithful performance bonds in an amount equal to 100% of the contract price, said bonds to be secured by a surety company or surety companies satisfactory to the Board of Education.

The Board reserves the right to reject any or all bids, and/or waive any informality on a bid. No bidder may withdraw his bid for a period of sixty (60) days after the date set for the opening thereof.

By order of the Board of Education of the City of Los Angeles.

NOTICE OF FILING ASSESSMENT FOR THE IMPROVEMENT OF

The Alley South of 22nd Street (And other Streets) in the City of Los Angeles, pursuant to Ordinance No. 94940 and of the time and place of hearing appeals as to said improvement and assessment.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN that on Friday, the 11th day of April, 1950, the Board of Public Works of the City of Los Angeles, having made an assessment to cover the sum due for the work performed and specified in the proceedings taken under the Street Improvement Ordinance of 1941, for the improvement of a portion of the Alley South of 22nd Street from Compton Avenue to Hooper Avenue in said City under Ordinance of Intention No. 91940 published June 3, 1949, filed said assessment with the City Clerk of said City; and that Tuesday, May 16, 1950, at the hour of 10:00 o'clock A.M., is the time and the Council Chamber of the City Council of said City, is the place, when and where all persons interested in the work done in said proceedings, or on the said assessment, who shall appeal to the City Council in accordance with the provisions of said Act, will be heard by the City Council. The owners, and all other persons interested in the said work or in the said assessment, feeling aggrieved by any act or determination of the Board of Public Works in relation thereto, or who claim that the work has not been performed according to the ordinance ordering the work in a good and substantial manner or who claim that any portion of the work for any reason was omitted or illegally included in the proceedings for the same, or having or making any objection to the correctness of the proceedings or of the assessment or diagram, or other act, determination or proceedings of the Board of Public Works shall, prior to the day fixed for the hearing upon the assessment, appeal to the City Council by briefly stating in writing the grounds of appeal. For a description of the said work reference is hereby made to the above mentioned ordinance of intention.

WALTER C. PETERSON,
City Clerk of the City of Los Angeles.
By: A. RINATI, Deputy.

NOTICE TO CONTRACTORS

their "conviction," they were held for another year before being sentenced.

Neither Jugger or Washington were identified by the alleged victim of the rape. No direct witnesses to the alleged crime were produced by the prosecution. The trial lasted only three days and they were found "guilty" by an all white-supremacist jury.

Their court-appointed lawyer, who told friends the judge had "stuck him" with their defense, failed to call any witnesses on their behalf. Washington's young wife could have testified that both were at home at the time of the alleged crime.

A request to hold up all appropriations for the Department of Justice until it pledges to "outlaw the Ku Klux Klan, curb Dixiecrat "justice" and protect the constitutional rights of minority groups and political parties" has been addressed to Congressional leaders by the Civil Rights Congress.

In letter to Republican and Democratic leaders in the House of Representatives, as well as to Rep. Vito Marcantonio, Progressive Party representative, William L. Patterson, CRC Executive Secretary, declared:

"The Department has now openly threatened to open up an unlawful persecution of 12,000 Americans because of the ideas which they entertain. Such violation of the Bill of Rights must be prevented.

"It is impossible that such condition should continue to persist without action by the government. These are the conditions we attribute to a police state, not a democracy.

"As a branch of our government, you are not only required by the Constitution to act as a check upon the other branches of government that exceed the constitutional limitations imposed upon them, but also to act as a spur to see that the specific tasks which are theirs are performed."

He concluded, "Until such conditions have been met, we urge you to refuse to vote appropriations to the Department of Justice."

jeopardy of prosecution as "Communist fronts" because, like the Communist Party, they had supported F.E.P.C. and opposed racial discrimination by such organizations as the American Bowling Congress.

"We Japanese-Americans have a compelling obligation to speak out against any effort to make into law the dangerous concept of guilt by association," the statement declared.

TEXAS FAMILY BOMBED

Terror Strikes Negro Homes for 3rd Time Since Beginning of Year

DALLAS, Tex. — The third bombing of Negro homes since the beginning of the year, took place here last Monday.

The home of Robert Shelton was dynamited late Monday night, only a few hours after he had moved into a white neighborhood located near a Negro district. The explosion ripped part of the roof from the home, and destroyed the Shelton's bedroom. He himself received face, shoulder and leg injuries, but his wife was not hurt.

These bombings started last February when the home of the first Negro to move into the "white" neighborhood was damaged. In March an explosion destroyed the home of the second Negro who had moved into that section. Neither of the owners of these homes was injured, as was Shelton last night.

It was feared there may be a racial flareup, and four police squad cars guarded the neighborhood after the explosion.

Police Intimidation Fails To Halt Anti-Minstrel Pickets

Police attempted to intimidate pickets conducting an educational campaign against a minstrel show presented at Lynwood Jr. High School last Friday and Saturday evenings by the Lynwood Christian Church of which

Rev. Luna is pastor. Following the failure of the School Board to cancel the performances because of legal complications, the picket line was established by the Southeast In-

Escapee from Georgia Jail Tells Of Beatings, Starvation, Threats

WILLIE AND BEATRICE HUFF

The horrors of Georgia jails and chain gangs are being told in other parts of the country, as well as in California.

In New Jersey, for example, a man by the name of Willie Huff, who had been sentenced to a Georgia prison for 20 years for stealing a radio, but who had escaped after nine months and fled to New Jersey, successfully fought extradition proceedings with the help of several prominent New Jersey people, Negro and white.

"I was whipped, starved, put in solitary and threatened with death," said Huff. "The first two weeks after my arrest they beat me every day. And I didn't have a direct part in taking that radio which was worth about $20. A boy I met while I was looking for work took it while I stood Hear Paul Robeson Sing at Elk's Auditorium, Friday Evening, May 12 at 8 p.m.

Paul Robeson, who needs no adjectives to describe him, will sing in concert at the Elk's auditorium, 4016 S. Central Avenue, Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m. under the sponsorship of The California Eagle and the Independent Progressive Party.

Paul Robeson has packed houses with enthusiastic audiences for many years, as a concert singer, as an actor, and within recent years as a speaker. He is chairman of the Committee on African Affairs, and as such brings to the people who flock to hear him the inspiration of the struggle for complete freedom by the Africans, linked with that of the Negro in America.

He sings the songs of the people longing for freedom, of the white workingman as well as his brother of a darker skin. For to Paul Robeson and to the people who love to hear him, there is only one world and its inhabitants are the people who are united in making that one world a reality.

Tickets are $1.20, tax included. For sale at the office of The California Eagle, 1005 E. 1st St.

Members of African Nationalist Movement in Joint Meet May 18

Will Confer With Representatives of United Nations Commission in New York

"The American people's insistent demand for peace in the world today is in harmony with our demand for freedom," said a group of Negro leaders, headed by Bishop W. J. Walls, of A.M.E. Zion Church, regarding the Mid-Century Conference for Peace to be held May 29 and 30 in Chicago.

"As American Negroes, firmly identified with the struggles of our people, working, striving and fighting for the fulfillment of America's destiny—a land in which all her citizens may know the joy of full democracy, built on justice and respect for the human being, we would speak to our people and all other Americans about peace.

"There is no foot of American soil that has not felt our movement down through the years," the statement continued. "There is no furrow of upturned earth in these United States that has not received the seed of our fight for freedom.

"Whatever of good repute; whatever of greatness; whatever of decency and morality; whatever of spiritual leadership our country has earned in the world today, has been conditioned by the never-ceasing movement of our people's struggle for full freedom. Our people's battle for full freedom is today the test of our country's reputation, of its claim to leadership.

"We know that H-bombs can bury our country's destiny of full democracy for all in the same grave with our shattered hopes for full citizenship.

"And we know that there can be no organized nation-wide articulation of the American people's demand for peace without the full and complete activity of the Negro citizens in the ranks and within the leadership.

"We call upon our people to give active support to the Mid-Century Conference for Peace, to be held in Chicago, on May 29-30."

Signers of the statement included Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor, The California Eagle; Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown, president, Palmer Institute; Prof. E. Franklin Frazier, Howard University; Rev. Dr. W. H. Jernagin, Fraternal Council of Negro Churches; Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, Morehouse College; Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, National Association of Colored Women; and Bishop W. J. Walls, Second Episcopal District A.M.E. Zion Church and honorary chairman of the Committee for Peaceful Alternatives.

Wadsworth P.T.A.

Mrs. Doris Austin, president of Wadsworth Street School P.T.A. and five members of her board attended Council meeting at the 118th Street School.

As a special feature for the program of the day, there was a health panel. Mrs. Riley, who is Health chairman for 10th District was the first speaker, followed by Mrs. Rienhart, Mrs. Seldon and our beloved Dr. Ruth Temple. Health in its three aspects was discussed at length. We were urged to start health study classes in our own P.T.A. units.

Dean Ellie H. Matthews Represents L.A. Chapter

CHICAGO—Dean Ellie H. Matthews, representing the Los Angeles chapter of the Congress of American Women, made one of the opening speeches at the "Bread-and-Butter Conference on Child Welfare" held recently at Hull House, Chicago.

Parents and professional workers joined in the conference, which dealt with the need for maintaining the family as a social unit and the obligation of all citizens to plan for the needs of children in their communities.

During her stay in Chicago, Dean Matthews was a guest at the home of Dr. and Mrs. C. L. Loveux, 3821 Wabash Ave.

Supporters of FEPC Bill Are Urged to Act

Friends of FEPC throughout the country have been alerted to take action in support of the FEPC bill now being debated in the U. S. Senate.

"The crucial test will take place about May 15, when an effort will be made to break up the inevitable filibuster by invoking cloture," warned Roy Wilkins, Acting Secretary of NAACP, and A Philip Randolph of the National Council for a Permanent FEPC.

All FEPC supporters were urged to write President Truman asking that he throw the full weight of the administration behind the effort to invoke cloture. Letters should also go to William Boyle, chairman, Democratic National Committee; Guy Gabrielson, chairman, Republican National Committee and to senators.

Meanwhile, with local elections around the corner, political observers suggested that candidates for state office should also be approached this week, regarding their position on a California State FEPC.

Out of approximately 200 automobiles that went through an intersection in San Fernando Valley, eight of them by actual count made the full stop required, by law, by common sense, and for your own protection. One gent blasted right through without ever seeing the stop sign. The other 192 slowed down, then went on again.

RESIDENTS OF LOS ANGELES are fortunate in having an office that practices New Yorker Technique—a haven for those who suffer—where the cause of Toxins Poison may be removed—where relief of constipation—an elimination, may be obtained in 20 minutes.

NOTE: Toxic poisons cause practically all ills of mankind. When toxic poisons or that which causes disease is removed the result is so effective in producing quick results that the change experienced by the sufferer is hardly less marked than that felt by the prisoner when the ball and chain have been removed from his ankles. It has to be experienced to be properly understood and appreciated.

New Yorker Technique is a scientific method of bringing about a state of osmosis to impactions and the slate-like fecal content of the large intestine. In simple language—it reduces solid to a state of solution, so that the contents may be passed by normal effort.

Dr. Brinkley D.C., has the only office that is permitted to practice New Yorker Technique. He has no branch offices.

DR. BRINKLEY HAS A STAFF OF MORE THAN 120 PEOPLE, 18 LICENSED DOCTORS AND MORE THAN 60 SPECIALLY TRAINED NURSES AND TECHNICIANS. He has his own private laboratory and complete laboratory facilities, the finest equipment—30 private treatment rooms. IT IS THE LARGEST INSTITUTION OF ITS KIND IN THE ENTIRE WORLD—NO EXCEPTIONS.

This notable organization is outstanding—without equal—and must be seen to be appreciated.

Dr. Brinkley says: To protect the sick against the wrong diagnosis, it is my belief that no doctor should diagnose or treat any illness without and until certain scientific laboratory tests are made. In all cases tests should include complete blood count, urinalysis, microscopic examination and study of stool. If diabetes is suspected a fasting blood sugar test should be given; for liver disorders—various liver functional test given; for infectious diseases—sedimentation rate given; plus other laboratory procedures.

ALL OF MY PATIENTS, UNDER TREATMENT, GET LABORATORY TESTS AT NO EXTRA CHARGE. I will enjoy explaining New Yorker Technique to you without obligation, 8 A.M. to 8 P.M. For my trial treatment I charge $3, which includes various laboratory tests.

Call or write for FREE 120 page book. This book is outstanding. It is a most comprehensive explanation of "the true cause of disease." Book will be sent by mail—no salesman—no phone calls—no obligation. No follow-up letters.

Mundt Ferguson Bill Assailed In NAACP Fight

Mitchell States Basic Freedom Is Threatened

NAACP carried its fight against the Mundt Ferguson bill to the chamber of the House Un-American Activities Committee last week, when Clarence Mitchell, NAACP labor secretary, spoke before the committee on dangers of the bill.

Mitchell pointed out the threats to basic freedom in setting up a three-man loyalty board to determine the loyalty of organizations and individuals. The powers of the board would be far too sweeping, he continued.

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

Last Saturday evening while singing before a capacity audience at the Embassy auditorium, where the Jewish People's Fraternity was celebrating its twentieth anniversary, that great American, Paul Robeson, said: "I love the American people that this audience represents. I love the American people who believe in peace and are willing to work, and even to fight for it with the weapons that are being used here tonight."

"On the other hand," said Robeson, "I will not subscribe, by voice or vote, to the preaching of the Fascist warmongers in my country, who seek to plunge our people into another bloody battle which, historically, will be described as World War III."

The weapons referred to by Paul Robeson are a united people's government, achieved by a complete understanding of the meaning of unity between all racial and national segments that make up this and all other nations.

According to William Mandel, whose book, "A Guide to the Soviet Union," being published weekly in serial form in this newspaper, there are "nineteen peoples numbering more than a million each. There are also more than a hundred smaller nationalities, each with its own language and culture," in the Soviet Union.

Neither from the favorable nor unfavorable reports on Soviet Russia has there ever been any demonstration or even complaint of racial friction or class distinction in that government. Nor do we hear of daily battles between the big industrialists and the little laboring man in the Soviet Union. Whether we want to believe it or not, the absence of such impediments clears the path that leads to peace, and makes possible a government by the people and for the people.

This, and this only should be the course followed by the American people in their pursuit of peace and in their contribution to the establishment of a truly democratic world.

It was such sentiments as these expressed by Paul Robeson on one occasion that provoked the anger of the Fascists of this nation, and gave rise to an all-out hate campaign against all individuals and organizations such as the Jewish Fraternal Society that works for peace and against war at home and abroad.

At first Robeson and Henry Wallace, the first so-called "white" candidate for high of-

NEW YORK—Representatives of the United African Nationalist Movement will meet on May 16 in New York with members of a United Nations commission returning from Eritrea.

Program of the movement calls for return of Eritrea and Somaliland to Ethiopia, punishment of Italian war criminals of the Ethiopian war, three billion dollars in reparations to the Ethiopian government, and complete independence for Africa.

"The lands of Eritrea and Somaliland are and were integral parts of the Ethiopian state," said James R. Lawson, U.A.N.M. president, in a radio talk delivered last week in New York. "The people of these territories are racially one and the same with the Ethiopian people."

Lawson cited the principles of historical, racial and geographical grounds for nationhood practiced by the Treaty of Versailles and the "Right of Plebiscite" provided by the charter of the United Nations.

Negro Firemen Win Bias Case Against R. R.

G. M. & O. Found Guilty Of Discrimination

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—The Gulf, Mobile & Ohio Railroad and the Brotherhood of Locomotive Enginemen and Firemen were found guilty of discriminating against Negro firemen by Judge Clarence Mullins of the Federal District Court at Birmingham, last week.

The carrier and union were ordered to respect and observe the seniority rights of Negro railroad firemen on the same basis as white firemen. Negro firemen were awarded damages to amount to what they would have earned if they had been assigned the jobs their seniority warranted.

The victory was won by the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters Provisional Committee for the Organization of Colored Locomotive Firemen and announced by A. Philip Randolph, chairman.

Dr. Bowlin Is Home From The Hospital

Dr. Brandon Bowlin, president of the Negro Press Foundation, and prominent physician, has returned to his home in Pasadena, following a week's stay at St. Luke's Hospital in that city. He was well-attended by Dr. Edna Griffin and her associates.

Though busy with a thriving practice in Pasadena, Dr. Bowlin has found time to devote his energies to various civic and humanitarian projects. The welfare of The California Eagle—a publication he considers in the front rank of the fighters for Negro rights—has been especially close to his heart.

HGD Statement Opposes Mundt Nixon Bill

The Mundt-Ferguson Bill is certainly no improvement on the previous Mundt-Nixon Bill against so-called subversive persons. The Mundt-Nixon Bill, it will be recalled, was too outrageous even to be accepted by Thomas E. Dewey, the two-time presidential candidate of the party to which Senators Mundt and Ferguson and Representative Nixon owe allegiance.

"These legislators may not be fully aware of the full implications of their proposed statute.

I believe that the passage of the Mundt-Ferguson-Nixon Bill would be a long step toward the establishment of just such a police state in America as these legislators profess to abhor when they talk about Communist Russia.

I am against totalitarian methods not only in the countries behind the iron curtain but also in the United States.

We have laws on our statute books to deal with treasonous activities and we have the police power to enforce those laws."

CAW Council to Meet

The Affiliates Council meeting of the Congress of American Women will be held next Monday, 8 p.m. (May 15) at 4075 So. Main Street. The agenda will be: Session on Chicago Bread and Butter Conference with discussion of follow up in Los Angeles and The future of CAW.

five who spoke out in the open against Jim Crow in the government, were the centers of attack by the Fascistic hate-mongers.

But the "Stop the Peace and Bring on a War" agitators have grown so powerful and bold under government protection, that every man who speaks against the destruction of civilization by the construction of death bombs, is considered an enemy of the government and is subjected to a loyalty test and public abuse.

Any organization or newspaper that sees no cause for provoking a war with Russia is giving comfort and support to the Communist Party in its effort to overthrow our government, is what the Hearst and other Wall Street controlled newspapers would have you believe.

But, Brother, it ain't true.

This statement, which completely refutes the propaganda writings of the Hearst clique, is taken from a recent issue of "The Washington Post." Dr. Ralph Bunche, United Nations Trusteeship Director, said: "Reorganization of the United Nations to exclude Russia would be the first step toward a 'hot war.'"

Dr. Bunche told a Harlem district committee of the community societies that the United Nations has shown its ability to stop five or six wars already.

This comment by Dr. Bunche came as the result of a recent suggestion by former President Herbert Hoover that a new international organization be formed, without the Soviet Union and her satellites.

Will Dr. Bunche be cited by the Un-American Activities Committee for suggesting that we should hold the world as a unit, rather than split it into two parts?

It is not surprising to find the Parnell Thomases, the John Rankins, and the Senator McCarthy going into a frenzy over a fearless stand against a war with certain European countries, while fifteen million or 10 per cent of the United States population have no protection from mob violence, no promise or hope for the enjoyment of civil liberties, no assurance of adequate housing and education commensurate with what is enjoyed by other Americans.

But it is alarming to discover the victims of these evils casting stones at the Robersons and Wallaces who give up the things—power, wealth, and literary acclaim—that men crave, to lead the fight for world freedom and peace for all mankind. Of such is the quality of brotherhood.

Billie White Announces New Realty Office

Billie L. White announces the opening of his new Real Estate Investment office at 136 E. Santa Barbara St. on May 16, 1950. The new office will be staffed and equipped to handle Real Estate Sales, Loans, Insurance, Leases, Rentals, Property Management, Bookkeeping, Legal Papers and Notary Public.

Mr. & Mrs. White operated one of the most efficient and popular dry cleaning establishments on the avenue from 1939 to 1949. Their many hundreds of dry cleaning customers are now cordially invited to visit the new Real Estate Investment Office. Mr. White will provide employment for five real estate salesmen and invites four salesmen to join the new office immediately. The public is cordially invited.

PROTESTING JIMCROW IN BOWLING—This picket line, manned by members of the I.P.P., the American Mexican Nat'l Ass'n and other democratic people, picketed the Nat'l Bowling Academy at 4871 Washington blvd.

Civil Rights Congress Plans "Picket For Freedom" Action

Plans are nearing completion for the unity "Picket for Freedom" voted by 250 delegates attending the Civil Rights Congress convention and conference, which was held April 30 at Park Manor.

In a new kind of protest picket line—set for 12:30 p.m. Saturday, May 27, at the Federal building—an expected thousand unionists, religious leaders, members of minority and fraternal groups, and representatives of many civil rights defense groups will march side by side, as a symbol of the kind of unity needed to defeat the cold war being waged against the rights of the American people by their own government.

"We have never yet so lost courage in our institutions as to pass a sedition bill," said Atty. Robert W. Kenny in one of the principal addresses of the meet. "Yet today the Mundt-Ferguson bill is on the one-yard line of passage."

"This bill," Kenny warned, "might be used not only against the Communist party but also against the Independent Progressive Party and even the Republican party, if the Republican party were to disappear and reform, as it sometimes seems to be disappearing today."

The conference strongly endorsed the legislature's action in ordering its interim Committee on Crime and Correction, headed by Assemblyman Vernon Kilpatrick, to investigate charges of brutality against members of minority groups by Los Angeles police and sheriff's officers.

The Kilpatrick committee was urged to hold the hearings in Los Angeles, and prior to the coming election.

The growing "wolf pack" hysteria in the daily press was linked with the expected investigation by Frances Lym, Mexican-American National Association delegate, who said the drive is aimed at "diverting people's attention from the conditions that cause crime and labeling the very people who are victims of police brutality as 'wolves' and 'rat packs.'"

Henry Schmidt, ELWU international representative and Bridges co-defendant, attacked the Bridges "frame-up" as the spearhead of a government attack on organized labor itself, and pledged that in the months to come, the defense of Bridges will be taken to the people.

The mark made by Civil Rights Congress work against police brutality in the last two years is indicated by a letter received a week before the conference and read to delegates by Anne Shore, outgoing executive director, in her report.

The letter was in reference to the Anderson Lark case. Police officers picked up Mr. Lark, a Negro, in Watts about two months ago, although no charges were ever made against him. They stole his money and gave him such a severe beating that he had to crawl from the police station. As a result of community protest, mobilized by Civil Rights Congress, two officers were discharged from their jobs and fined, and a third was suspended.

"Your interest in the proper conduct of members of the Los Angeles Police Department," the police letter said, "is greatly appreciated. Do not hesitate to call upon us in the future if you have some other matter that you believe warrants our attention."

Other speakers at the all-day conference included James Daugherty, former president of the California State CIO Council; Atty. Charles Katz, Herbert Simmons, Edward Carter Maddox, and Paul Major; Wyndham Mortimer; William Elconin, United Electrical Workers regional director; Dr. Arthur Galston, of Cal Tech, representing the Arts, Sciences and Professions council; Mrs. Albert Maltz; Frederick Reynolds, M.D., columnist for the California Jewish Voice; and Henry Steinberg, legislative director of the Los Angeles Com-

Dr. C. C. Adams At Good Shepherd Sunday Morning

Dr. C. C. Adams, secretary of the Foreign Mission Board of the National Baptist Convention, will speak at the Good Shepherd Baptist Church on Sunday night, May 14, 1950, at 8:00 p.m. Dr. Adams is considered to be one of our great missionaries and has just returned from a recent trip to Africa. The public is invited to come out and hear this great speaker.

Members and friends of the Good Shepherd Missionary Baptist Church enjoyed several nights of spirit-filled services carried on by that dynamic minister of the gospel—Rev. Herman Goer of St. Louis, Mo. His presence here in the city has meant much to the people of Los Angeles and the messages that he delivered at Good Shepherd shall ever stay in the hearts of its people.

Students Visit Golden State

In observance of International Boys' Week, thirty students from local high schools visited the Home Office of Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company last week for a first-hand look at technical business operations.

They took a two-hour tour of the building, watched the use of various types of equipment and conferred with executive officers.

Jodie Barnett, President of Jordan High School, went into a closed one-hour session with the company's president, Norman O. Houston. Has Hartfield, president of the Kings and Queens of Jordan High, conferred with Secretary-Treasurer Edgar J. Johnson on the company's operations.

The young men were all interested in some phase of business: banking, insurance, salesmanship, and one or two in business law.

The interracial group represented the following high schools located throughout Los Angeles and surrounding areas: Jefferson, Manual Arts, Polytechnic, Black Fox Military Academy, Hamilton, Jordan, Riis, Roosevelt, Dorsey, Los Angeles, Notre Dame, Hollywood Professional, Hollywood, Garfield, Bell, Narbonne, Belmont, Lincoln, South Gate, University, and Washington.

Trojan freshman Perry O'Brien 52-ft. 2½-in. shot put against UCLA's frosh is the second best throw of all time by a yearling shot-putter. Georgetown's great Al Blozis, killed in the war, threw the shot 52-ft. 9-in. as a frosh.

Face The Change With A Brighter Outlook

Many women approaching "the change" worry lest home and family life be unduly disturbed by the miserable way they often feel—tired, depressed and irritable, nerves on edge. Seeking relief from such common symptoms of Change of Life, thousands of women have found Cardui wonderfully beneficial, often giving just the kind of relief they need, when most needed. A grand stomachic tonic, Cardui helps to build resistance, fortify vitality, and encourage a brighter outlook. Also aids in easing nervous edgy tension and gives spirits a lift, thus helping to combat that jittery uncertain feeling. Try Cardui. Your druggist has it. Do get Cardui this very day! All For One, One For All

All Americans, Protestant and Catholic, Jew and Gentile, must feel concerned over the continued efforts of the Deportation Bureau to send out of the country persons whose ideas do not agree with their own, however much that deportation may conflict with the rights of those individuals to live in the United States.

Today there are more than 150 non-citizens in 21 states who have been arrested for deportation, and 3000 more are under investigation. Rev. John W. Darr, a Protestant minister of the Gospel, has voiced a strong protest against this un-American policy.

"I support the fight against the deportation hysteria because I am a Protestant minister," he says. "As a Protestant I am deeply concerned whenever people are persecuted for their ideas. I know from the history of my church that heresy hunts and heresy trials lead to authoritarianism."

"I support the fight against the deportation hysteria," he continues, "because I am a native-born American citizen. 'It is my Constitution of the United States that is being subverted . . . It is my democratic right to express ideas . . . that is threatened. It is my inalienable right to make my own free choice between ideas that is denied when the government attempts to suppress the free expression of ideas through the use of deportation.'"

This situation calls for a re-dedication to the old slogan: "All for one and one for all." It is a slogan needed all over the country, and all over the world today.

For if we could but realize that what hurts one will eventually hurt all of us, we would put our shoulders to the wheel and struggle as we never struggled before. Deport one non-citizen unjustly, and it weakens the entire structure of justice. It lessens the love for America which we need so badly today. If I stand idly by and let this injustice happen, it makes me less an American citizen. It makes America itself deteriorate in value in the eyes of the nations of the world.

We need to struggle desperately for that righteousness and justice which become a nation. If we wish to keep the name of America from being dragged in the dust before the nations of the world, by our own stupid administration of the government of America. Our government officials, we ourselves, all Americans must realize that "All for one and one for all" is a slogan that must become a part of our daily lives.

A Home for All

There is room enough and goodwill enough for ALL to live together in peace and happiness in America.

But—Things are happening which mar that peace and the pursuit of happiness for everyone.

For example. The thought control exercised by the "Alien Registration Law." Under that law a foreign-born grandmother along with other so-called "aliens" had to be fingerprinted, she was forced to register, she was given an identification card, and was ordered to notify the authorities if she moved.

Nearly all of these so-called "aliens" have lived in America for years. They have American-born children. Some of them even received their naturalization papers. Yet because they have said or done one little thing displeasing to the "powers that be" they are threatened with deportation.

Where? Not even the authorities know. For when a man has lived in one country for thirty or forty years, that country is his

KNOCK IT OUT ! —

Eye Witness Account of the Defeat Of Claude Pepper in Florida Election

An eye-witness account of the recent primary election in Florida, describing the trickery, the mud-slinging used by George Smathers to defeat his one-time friend, liberal Senator Pepper, is given here in fascinating detail by the well-known writer, Ramona Lowe.

Negroes were so sure their friend, Claude Pepper, would be re-elected. But he wasn't. "I don't see how it happened," exclaimed one young woman bitterly.

Ramona Lowe tells how. MIAMI, Fla.—The old white supremacy arguments that used to be the stock in trade of campaigning Southern politicians found its subtler counterpart in the stumping of Congressman George Smathers who won an astonishing victory in the recent senatorial primary in Florida. Senator Claude Pepper who has been in the Senate for fourteen years sounded like a harassed and desperate man in his hoarse-voiced speeches. He was apparently wholly unprepared for the vicious attacks launched by the young man whom he had started out in politics.

Some 100,000 Negroes who had home. To be told to move elsewhere leaves him stranded in body and mind, with nowhere to go.

The words of Emma Lazarus, "Give me your tired, your poor, your huddled masses yearning to be free!" in the inscription on the Statue of Liberty in New York harbor, seem to have lost their meaning.

There was plenty of room in America at one time for all who came to make a home in this land of the free. Physical space of necessity is restricted, of course, although there are still thousands of acres of wasteland that could and should be reclaimed.

But the painfully restricting force that is lowering over America like a dark cloud, is not that of lack of room. It is the menace of Fascism, of thought control, of the killing of all forms of expression that may not jibe with those in control of our government.

This will not only mar the peace of America. It will destroy it.

been shaken out of their timidity and indifference by CIO organizers who began quietly working in the state in January had registered with the idea of swelling the vote for Pepper. About half of the number, it is estimated, voted and although they were 10 to 1 for the incumbent, the Negroes constituted only a tenth of the Florida vote. The publicity given Negro registration had caused more whites to come out and sign up, too.

Mr. Smathers, who had denounced the FEPC from the start, later began to denounce the CIO, and Florida, which is an AFL state so far as it has any labor consciousness at all, proved an eager listener. The AFL leadership in the state had pledged along with the CIO to fight Smathers to the end because of his outspoken support of the Taft-Hartley law. But it soon became evident that the rank and file thought more of their prejudices than they did of outlawing the Taft-Hartley Act. Smathers continually played up racial bugabos, telling white workers they would have to take Negroes into their unions if Pepper were re-elected.

Smathers' mention of Negroes in his speeches was in the good old Southern paternalistic tradition. And one Negro to whom that apparently appealed, Dr. Ira Davis, Miami dentist and American Legion official, handed over to him confidential documents relating to the CIO's plans to organize the State's Negroes for a bloc vote. This was the brightest feather in Smathers' campaign cap. He waved it up and down Florida's highways and byways, over the radio and in a glass case as exhibit A for all to see.

It was a sad day for Negroes when the final count was in. One young woman said bitterly, "I don't see how it happened." But she lives in Miami and knows little or nothing of the backwoods Florida cracker who will shoot a Negro for the fun of it.

In Dade County, of which Miami is the county seat, a little more than 17,000 Negroes of a possible 45,000 registered. More than 8,000 went to the polls to vote for Pepper.

How much advantage was taken of Negroes who were un-

THE COURT OF LAST RESORT

We have reached a point in the development of American fascism where the believers in democratic government must immediately mobilize all their forces and prepare to make every sacrifice—or lose a strategically vital battle in the war to preserve the constitutional bases of our nation.

When the Supreme Court of these benighted states can refuse to review the case of the Hollywood Ten—thus making that high tribunal an integral part of the cold war machine directed against the American people—then the enemies of democracy have indeed won a major victory. When the commanders of the last legal bulwark of our liberties sell out to the enemy, then the fascists have gone far, much farther than most people think. He who cannot see the dangerous damnable parallel to what happened in Germany is willfully blind.

When the Supreme Court in effect accepts and sanctions the treasonous thinking of the Tenneys and Rankins and McCarthys as basic to American patriotism, the august justices—who took a sacred oath to defend our constitution—are guilty of subverting both the spirit and the letter of that great document. What a sordid role for the court of Brandeis and Holmes!

What we are witnessing in this situation, it seems to me, is the attempted destruction of the traditional system of "checks and balances" in our federal government. It has long been evident that both the executive and legislative branches have collaborated—via loyalty oath orders, un-American investigations, etc.—in the subversion of our constitutional liberties. Now we have the judiciary, whose role should be to safeguard the people's interests, joining in the cold war against the people.

Even the books permitted in our school systems still proclaim the sacred nature of the separation of powers in our government. What happens to this doctrine when the Supreme Court so grossly abdicates its obligation and authority in rubber-stamping the ideology of our native storm-troopers? How can the Court ever again reclaim its "lofty impartiality and olympian objectivity?" Can the system of checks and balances survive so grave a blow? In its attempted destruction do we not see another parallel to the maneuvering of the Nazis' rise to power?

When these persons in the highest places in our national life—especially in the judiciary—who should be setting us examples in morality and citizenship turn and betray us, then there is but one recourse left us: our own wisdom and strength. The people must find and develop leaders from their own ranks. Only such leaders can be trusted. This truth above all others history has proved, particularly in recent years.

To think of the ten Hollywood artists going to jail because they set us an example in bold citizenship makes me feel ashamed to be at liberty . . .

The action of Truman's bipartisan Supreme (?) Court does not, however, settle the matter. Supreme Courts in the past have rendered such decisions, but have not been able to mould the American people in their image. Witness the effects of the Dred Scott decision.

For even the Supreme Court is not the court of last appeal. No, the people are the real court of last resort and they have not yet handed down their decision. When the people understand that the fate of the Hollywood Ten is their own fate, when they learn that the bell has tolled for them.

It is not the ten brave American spokesmen who will stand condemned and be on their way to jail, but those who are conspiring to send them there.

It is these ten courageous artists who are performing the role which the justices of the Supreme Court should be fulfilling, defending our constitutional rights against the onslaughts of Americans' internal enemies.

It is the Hollywood Ten whom America will honor, as Hollywood's greatest contribution to American life, and it is their antagonists (America's quislings) who will be buried in infamy. The day will yet come when the real representatives of the people—the John Howard Lawsons, the Dalton Trumbos, the Herbert Bibermans—will sit in the seats of judgement.

It's Your Government

Since returning home from the recent special session of the State Legislature, one question I have been asked repeatedly concerns the trial of a well-known pension advocate charged with bribery of a legislator. To me it seems obvious that charges of this kind are purely political in nature and designed to influence a certain number of voters in the primary election in June. I notice that the trial has already been postponed indefinitely, and I predict that this is the last we will hear of it.

More to the point is another question I have heard frequently—What is the present status of old-age pensioners as a result of new legislation passed in the 1950 Special Session.

As you probably know, the relative responsibility figure was scaled down somewhat, although the original bill adopted in the Assembly would have eliminated this clause entirely. The personal property exemption was finally fixed at $1200 for single persons and $2,000 for couples. This represents a marked improvement over the previous exemption of $600, but I feel that it is still most inadequate. It is especially difficult for pensioners living in Los Angeles County, where the County assessor has just recently increased the valuation of property owned by these people.

By and large, I am convinced that a grave injustice has been done to our senior citizens. What we must do eventually, of course, is to establish the pension program on a national basis by expanding our present Social Security laws. Such an expanded program should provide for people in every walk of life—the housewife, the agricultural worker, the industrial worker—so that when they reach an age where jobs are no longer available to them in private industry they can look forward to security in their declining years.

Oh! . . . That's Different

There won't be any filibuster over the Mundt-Nixon bill; unlike the FEPC measure, the Mundt-Nixon bill will be handled with dignity. The essential Americanism of the two proposals cannot be denied. Mundt-Nixon represents the basic fault and hypocrisy of our democracy, and the FEPC measure represents a twinge of conscience which we permit ourselves periodically.

Under no circumstances will we allow our conscience to interfere with the practical business of the Republic. The Constitution and other law notwithstanding, the chief business of this nation is Jim Crow, discrimination, and the manufacture of excuses and alibis explaining the same.

Our export business in these commodities was real good until the Russians started telling the truth about us in Africa, India, China and other out-of-the-way places. Now unable to assert a superiority on the basis of race, the United States has resorted to dollars abroad and intimidation at home.

Our national bird is the stool pigeon, and our national integrity is no higher than that of a snooping chambermaid. We have been reduced to absurdity on the questions of loyalty and truth, and all because we want to keep the Negro in his place. The whole concept of plotters in the government and spies in the powder house is based on the struggle against full equality and freedom for the Negro people.

Congressional investigations dedicated to the mental eliminations of certain Congressmen, Senators and expelled Communists, expose our glaring vulnerability. We dare not investigate the real enemies of our nation, nor can we afford to take official notice of the weakening inequalities that are sharply dividing our people at a time when national unity is the watchword.

We don't want national unity. We dare not achieve that end, for in doing so we must deal with social justice, and social justice has a Communistic ring of equality about it. The FEPC is an element of social justice. It speaks well of minority people, and tells an employer he cannot deny a man the right to employment because his race or color or religion is different.

The norm is something that YOU ARE NOT. You may belong so long as you prostrate yourself before the committees composed of Southern bigots and defenders of lynching and JIM CROW. To be a good American you must accept the cutting indignity of the filibuster, and you must embrace the totalitarian provisions of the Mundt-Nixon bill with fervor equal to that displayed by the framers of the Constitution.

The filibuster is an American device. It has for its main function these days, the business of keeping legislation beneficial to minority groups bottled up in a negative hodge-podge of pointless talk and time-wasting maneuvers. It is respected by Senate members and it is more powerful than the voice of the people.

A handful of little men from the South, have adopted the filibuster as their chief weapon against the full freedom of the Negro and other minority people. To them it is as typically American as corn pone, corn liquor and a good old-fashioned lynching bee. Anyone who objects to a good old American filibuster against an equal rights bill is, according to the latest definitions of such conduct, an agent of an enemy power.

On the other hand, the Mundt-Nixon bill which is a clear-cut invasion of all the rights held dear by the American people, will not be talked to death. It will be handled and presented with consideration and respect. And unless the people act soon and in an overwhelming outpouring of indignation, it will be passed.

Men of courage who are not frightened easily, feel that they must take it easy on this one. They don't want to be labelled. On the surface, the bill is aimed at the Communists, but it will scatter shot into the ranks of every organization including some churches and religious societies that dare take a stand on social justice.

This is one issue it will not be necessary to meet. Unless there is unceasing action against the bill, the issue will meet you in your lodge hall or in the street on your way home from the lodge hall. This bill which reeks of fascism is draped in the American flag. It is the constitution of the war-mongers who, having failed to silence the voices which demand peace with the Soviet by inquisition and persecution, now seek to exercise control over every meeting held in the nation.

By CYRIL BRIGGS

The Big Lie technique, originally used against Negro people to depict us as rapists and savages, and later utilized by Hitler in his drive for world conquest, is being used today, ironically enough, in an effort to convince minority peoples in this country that their enemy is not the lynchers, fascists and war mongers, but the Soviet Union.

This, of course, is quite a tall order since most every one knows that white supremacy is out of fashion in Russia, where any manifestation of race hatred, discrimination, racial exclusiveness or anti-Semitism is severely punished. It is also pretty generally known that the Soviet Union has consistently championed on the international stage the principal of racial equality and the cause of Israel and of Negro and colonial liberation.

Yet something had to be done. A nice U. S.-style lynching in Russia of a Negro would have been just the thing, of course. But a lie has to have a touch of verisimilitude, an appearance of truth. And not even the Negro reformists and the leaders of the Social Democracy, willing servitors of imperialism as they are, could have been expected to help peddle a lie that no one would have believed—not even if it carried a date line of Georgia, USSR. But something still had to be done. The minority peoples must be lured away, by one means or another, from their natural feeling of respect and sympathy for the Soviet Union. You simply can't effectively prosecute a cold war or embark on the high adventure of mutual A-bomb destruction without first isolating your potential fellow victim.

Why not Anti-Semitism? Fortunately some bright mind recalled that anti-Semitism used to be the fashion in the Russia of the Tsars, before it, they, and similar other garbage were swept out by the October Revolution. The aforesaid bright mind put out a feeler in Newsweek of April 4, alleging that "A campaign to eliminate Jewish intellectuals from cultural life is now under way in the Soviet Union." The bright mind, clearly dubious that this lie would receive credence in any quarter, hastened to add the contradictory comment: "Western observers in Moscow hesitate to assume that the present campaign is deliberately designed to arouse this latent anti-Semitism. But they feel it may be intended as a stern warning that only by strict adherence to the precepts of the Soviet state can the Jew hope to survive."

The bright mind need not have worried. His ridiculous canard was eagerly picked up and enlarged upon by wealthy American Jews, whose German prototypes helped finance Hitler, paved the way for his campaign of extermination of the Jews.

Giving encouragement to this campaign of lies and contributing their own quota of lies was as queer as assortment of overnight champions of the Jews as one could wish to see: racists, anti-Semites, Titoists, right wingers, phoney liberals, Social Democratic leaders. All of them gleefully "shocked" at the groundless allegation that the Soviet Union, long the implacable foe of racism and anti-Semitism, had suddenly reversed one of its most fundamental policies, joined the anti-Semites.

This is truly "A Case for Psycho-Pathology" as William Zuckerman, noted Jewish journalist, aptly labelled it in an article under that heading. Zuckerman pointed out that to "rush to reprint jubilantly such falsifications and rejoice in the discovery that another sixth of the world which has outlawed anti-Semitism has turned anti-Semitic" (Continued on Page 9)

By Marian Ingledew

The conviction of Eugene Dennis, secretary of the Communist Party, was upheld by the U. S. Supreme Court, as everyone knows by this time. Dennis was found guilty of contempt of Congress in 1947 because he disobeyed a subpoena to appear before the House Un-American Activities Committee. He said the subpoena had not been served upon him when the prosecutors said it was, and so therefore he was not guilty.

There were seven government workers on the District of Columbia jury which convicted Dennis, and he contended it couldn't have been a fair and impartial jury, because those government workers would have endangered their jobs if they had dared to say he was innocent. Upon this contention Dennis appealed to various courts, until his case finally reached the U. S. Supreme Court. The Supreme Court said it could.

But the decision was not unanimous. It was a five to two vote, although two of the judges took no part in the case. In the majority opinion Justice Minton said that the "vague conjecture that government employees are so intimidated that they cringe before their government in fear of investigation and loss of employment if they do their duty as jurors . . . is not convincing."

Two of the judges, however, Judges Black and Frankfurter, believed that government employees do fear the loss of their jobs, that the present witch hunting, investigations, and loyalty oaths are enough to frighten anyone into being unfair as a juror.

"There is a pervasiveness of atmosphere in Washington," said Frankfurter, "whereby forces are released" which play unconsciously upon the mind of the juror, and "it is asking more of human nature in ordinary government employees than history warrants to ask them to exercise that 'uncommon portion of fortitude'" needed in a juror.

He quoted on the observations of Justice Holmes on such psychological influences: "This is not a matter of polite presumptions; we must look facts in the face. Any judge who has sat with juries knows that in spite of forms they are extremely likely to be impregnated by the enveloping atmosphere."

Justice Jackson said he was opposed to government workers serving on the District of Columbia juries, but he agreed with the majority nevertheless. "As long as accused persons who are Republicans, Dixiecrats, Socialists or Democrats must put up with such a jury, it will have to do for Communists," he opined.

Justice Black was the most outspoken of them all. He said: "Probably at no period of the nation's history has the 'loyalty' of government employees been subjected to such constant scrutiny and investigation by so many government agents and secret informers."

"For the past few years press and radio have been crowded with charges by responsible officials and others that the writings, friendships, or associations of some government employee have branded him 'disloyal.' Government employees have good reason to fear that an honest vote to acquit a Communist or anyone else accused of 'subversive' beliefs, however flimsy the prosecution's evidence, might be considered a 'disloyal' act which could easily cost them their job. That vote alone would in all probability evoke clamorous demands that he be publicly investigated or discharged outright; at the very least it would result in whisperings, suspicions, and a blemished reputation."

"My belief is that no defendant charged with such an offense," Justice Black concluded, "should be forced to accept a government employee as a juror. Nor should the government want such an unfair advantage . . . Impartiality in the jury-box cannot survive in the shadow of threats to a juror's reputation and livelihood."

Unfair to ask a government employee to serve on such a jury. Most unfair and unjust that a man's reputation should stand or fall at the hands of such a jury. What's become of the high ideals that once formed the warp and woof of our cloak of justice?

Turned out that we took the wrong view in our little beef of last week. You recall, we said that the Frat Council should have some colored referees arbitrating the weekly feud and that the farts shouldn't have fired Spot Thornton, the only sepiu ref on the court a few weeks back.

Charles Thrash, president of the Council, thrashed us out on both matters. In a friendly and well-meaning manner, he pointed out: There are men of color in the city fully capable of calling the games. But they are members of or are affiliated with one of the fraternities. Being human, they would naturally be partial to one or the other team. So true to their custom of giving the fans the best, the Council hired two refs impartial to all concerned. One is white, the other a Latin-American. In the case of Spot, we were informed by several citizens that he too was a mite partial, but otherwise a grand ref.

We accept the decision of the Council as being wise and necessary for the continued good-will which the frat games have promoted through the years. Furthermore, we stand staunchly behind our previous statement that the Council is A-1 among colored organizations in the city. It has a few minor flaws—like not furnishing programs—but as a whole its promotions are unexcelled.

FRANKFORT, Ky.—More than one hundred delegates, representing seventeen Southern Colleges from twelve states, attended the Fourteenth Annual Conference of the Southern Association of Dramatic and Speech Arts held at Kentucky State College recently.

NEW YORK—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey and Mayor William O'Dwyer have endorsed the United Negro College Fund's seventh annual campaign to raise $1,400,000 to aid the operating budgets of 32 private, accredited Negro colleges and universities, William J. Trent, Jr., executive director of the fund, announced last week.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Professor Elizabeth Nitchie of Goucher College, Baltimore, Md., will deliver the second of the annual IBADAN, Nigeria—Ibadan, with over 500,000 African inhabitants, is the largest all-Africa city in the world. It is in Nigeria, the largest of the British colonies in West Africa. It is the capital of the Yoruba people, the main center of the Western Provinces, and is the site of the new University of West Africa, now being built.

To Ibadan in January, 1950, came African leaders from all over Nigeria for a conference to discuss the new constitutional proposals.

POTPOURRI

Who Are These Gentlemen? Jack B. Tenney and Richard Nixon?

As far as this pie-maker is concerned, they are the real honest-to-goodness people's enemies.

It is certainly in keeping with good political taste to link Tenney and Nixon.

As State Senator Jack B. Tenney is always on the side of reaction and an enemy of equal rights. He fought child-care legislation and the passage of a State FEPC. Accused the NAACP and other liberal organizations of being Communist-front organizations. Called certain people whose political beliefs he opposed before his interim committee to testify as to their affiliation with the Communist Party.

In a brief study of Congressman Richard Nixon's Washington record, chalked up to his discredit—co-author of the Mundt-Nixon bills destined to deny people freedom of speech, freedom of assembly, among other legislation of the same kind.

Any representative advocating such as the Mundt-Nixon bills would deny, in effect, ten freedoms guaranteed by the Constitution and the Bill of Rights.

Both Tenney and Nixon "toot" Republican banners, brazenly make campaign promises, and snort like elephants in a circus parade as they march across the country making campaign speeches.

William G. Bonnell is making a fight to succeed himself at his old stand, the State Board of Equalization. He is being opposed by Ernest Debs, member of the City Council from the 13th District.

Gov. Warren's decision to permit the extradition of Eugene Backstrom, does not enhance his popularity with the people.

Seen riding majestically in the parade last Saturday afternoon was the popular Vince Monroe Townsend, candidate for Congress from the 14th District.

Little Rose Bairpaugh is busier than a bee in a bucket of tar these days. Says she is going to send Helen Gahagan Douglas to Washington as senatorial representative from California if she has to do it alone. Bravo Rose!

Endorsement of Ernest E. Debs, Los Angeles City Councilman, for the Board of Equalization from the Fourth District was announced last week by both the Cosmopolitan Democratic Club and the 66th Assembly District Democratic Club.

One of the provisions in a 248 page bill introduced by United States Senator Pat McCarran would limit immigration from the British West Indies to no more than 100 immigrants a year, the bill, S. 3455, is supposed to codify the immigration laws of the United States.

Joseph P. McCarthy, candidate for Sheriff at the June 6 primary, declared at a press conference in the Biltmore Hotel that the Sheriff's Office is "the roadblock to good law enforcement in Los Angeles County."

ABSENTEE BALLOT PROCEDURE

The voter who expects to be absent—out of town, on vacation, or on a trip—on Election Day, Tuesday, June 6, mails an application for absentee ballot to BENJAMIN S. HITE, Registrar of Voters, 808 North Spring Street, Los Angeles 12, between the dates of May 17, 1950 and June 1, 1950 inclusive, giving the address to which the absentee ballot is to be mailed and the voter's residence address in Los Angeles County. The time of registration is from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. the voter may call in person at the Registrar's office at 808 North Spring Street, between the dates of May 17, 1950 and June 1, 1950 inclusive, and at that time actually vote his absentee ballot.

The Registrar of Voters will mail the absentee ballot to the voter, who votes and returns the ballot to the registrar.

James Roosevelt, Democratic candidate for Governor, carried his campaign into northern California this week with a street-corner tour which took him from San Francisco through Placer County.

The gubernatorial candidate, who has already made more than 200 neighborhood speeches and reached an estimated audience of 133,000, will visit nine counties between May 9-20.

VASSAR HEAD DEPLORES TABOO ON STUDY OF USSR

Fear that any information about the Soviet Union, other than that derived from hostile sources, will undermine the ability of students to take a correct attitude toward international affairs has become an obsession among many educators.

In comparison we have the practice pursued at Vassar College as expounded by President Blanding in her recently issued annual report: "... At Vassar we are confident that study of the philosophy and history of any ideologies, including Communism, will be scholarly and objective under the conditions in our classrooms. For example, Russia is seen as a part of the present complex world, to be understood only through knowledge of existing facts. We therefore encourage our students to learn as much as possible about Russia by studying its language and its history, by becoming familiar with its literature, its government and economic system."

SOS FOR FEPC

1. Write to President Harry S. Truman.

Recall his pledge that FEPC would be brought to a vote "if it takes all summer"—and urge that he throw the full weight of the administration behind the effort to invoke cloture and to keep FEPC on the floor until a vote is had. (Cloture limits debate and will prevent a filibuster—talking a bill to death.)

2. Write to William Boyle (Chairman, Democratic National Committee, Ring Building, Washington, D. C.) and to Senate Majority Leader Scott W. Lucas (Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C.)

Remind them of their party platform pledge on FEPC—and urge that they exert their utmost influence towards securing solid Democratic support for cloture.

3. Write to Guy Gabrielson (Chairman, Republican National Committee, 1337 Connecticut Ave. N.W., Washington, D. C.), to Senate Minority Leader Kenneth S. Wherry and to Robert A. Taft (Chairman, Republican Policy Committee, Senate Office Building).

The Republican leadership has insisted that cloture can be applied successfully under the new (Wherry Resolution) Senate rule. Tell them that you will consider the cloture vote on FEPC to be the test of that rule and that you expect them to redeem their pledge of at least 35 Republican votes for cloture.

4. Write to your Senators. Let your Senators know that you expect them to vote for cloture so as to allow the FEPC bill to be voted on its merits and that you will consider absence as equivalent to a vote against cloture.

The Haitian Exposition A Plea for Peace

By OWEN TROY

Editor's Note: This is the third of a series of articles on the Caribbean Islands by Rev. and Mrs. O. A. Troy who recently visited there.)

The Haitian International Exposition commemorating of the founding of Port-au-Prince is called The Little World's Fair. Compared with such expositions as those held in Chicago and New York, it is miniature but on a whole very beautiful and instructive.

"My eyes fill with tears of joy every time I pass through the Exposition grounds," a young Baptist missionary seminary professor told us one day when we were talking to her while waiting for the plane to take the flight around the Citadel. It had taken great courage on the part of the Haitian leaders to attempt such a laudable enterprise.

In President Estime's speech delivered at the inauguration of the Exposition, he said: "We pretend to set an example for no one. Just as religions offer great ceremonies attesting to the power and glory of God, this International Exposition is our fervent prayer for Peace, our act of faith in civilization and in progress."

38 Countries Participating

Thirty-eight countries are participating in this Exposition. Each building has been opened with official ceremonies. The night of our arrival at Haiti, the Italian building was officially dedicated and opened by President Estime.

The Italian building has a display of thousands of products from Italy ranging from paintings, expensive glassware and other works of art to automobiles, typewriters and large movie projectors.

U. S. Features Negroes

Negro Americans are particularly interested in the exhibits in the United States building because there is evidence of a tactical plan on the part of the United States to have a colored American face in as many of their pictures and displays of the life and work in the United States as possible. So much that one would be led to believe that the darker American brother is much more integrated into the American way of life than he actually is.

The gleaming white buildings of the Exposition which are semi-permanent structures are in a sharp contrast to the older architecture and even old customs and habits of the capital.

On display in a section known as Les Palmistes because its majestic stand of royal palms are the country's art and history in the Museum of the Haitian People.

Marian Anderson Concert

The open-air theater, known as the Theatre Massillon Coicou, is located in this area surrounded by palms and a rather unique raffia wall. Miss Etta Motem, wife of the director of the Associated Negro Press, Claude Barnett, had given a concert just shortly before our arrival in Haiti. We received a letter from President and Mrs. Alfred Christenson of Adventist Seminary this week stating that Marian Anderson had given a delightful concert in this theater which they had just attended.

A person can spend several days with profit at the Exposition visiting the different buildings and looking at the varied displays. In one building we were impressed by the beautiful hand-wrought furniture made out of mahogany and other woods that different exhibitors had on display. At the entrance of this building there was a very attractive business suite made by the students from the Adventist Seminary. We particularly noticed the workmanship of this furniture since we were guests of President and Mrs. Christensen at (Continued on Page 9)

During the year of Baltic affiliation with the USSR prior to Hitler's attack, much of the ground lost economically in the preceding quarter century was regained. In Estonia, the number of industrial workers rose 100 per cent in a year. Its shipyard was being put back into working order and other important enterprises, idle for many years, were being reconditioned. The budget of the USSR for 1941 provided for heavy investments in Estonian industry, primarily for the development of the shale-oil industry and the modernization and expansion of the Krenholm and Baltic Textile Mills.

Prior to August, 1940, 40 of Lithuania's 84 textile mills were idle, running half time, or employing fewer than thirty workers. Within six months thereafter, all 84 were operating full blast, and new mills were going up. In general, the Baltic states were allocated a planned increase in output almost double that of the rest of the USSR, indicating complete emergence from depression.

In Latvia, wages rose forty per cent within the year, and there were similar rises in Lithuania and Estonia. In the Elgau flax spinning mill, where the number employed rose to 16,000, ventilating equipment and hot-and-cold showers were installed for the first time.

The countryside witnesses similar changes. In Lithuania, 530,000 acres of estate land were distributed to landless agricultural laborers. Another 425,000 acres went to those who had less than the minimum necessary to eke out a living. Finally, 270,000 acres were set aside for parks and similar purposes. In Latvia, 1,500,000 acres were distributed among 75,000 peasant families. All told, in the three Baltic states, 200,000 families received confiscated land. Where, as in Latvia, there was too little land to go around, peasants were offered farms in other parts of the Soviet Union.

During the revolutionary period of 1917 and 1918, the Baltic peasantry, like the Russian, had seized part of the landlords' estates without compensation. In the succeeding years, the peasants were compelled to pay for these lands through land redemption mortgages. The Soviet abolished these mortgages. In Latvia, 115,583 families were freed of these debt burdens.

Many peasants lacked the implements and seed with which to cultivate their newly acquired lands. Long-term seed-and-equipment loans were extended. The USSR provided the necessary tools, 19,000 agricultural machines going to Latvia alone, where 700 tractor operators were trained for the 1941 planting. The farmers' market grew apace, thanks to increased wages and employment. Kaunas alone, the temporary Lithuanian capital, consumed twice as much butter and four times as many sausages per person during the first six months of Soviet rule than during the preceding half-year. Previously these products were sold abroad, and lost to the diet of the Lithuanian people themselves.

Small craftsmen and artisans were organized into cooperatives. In Lithuania, within a few months, 12,000 had banded into 325 co-ops, with 100 more in process of formation when the Germans attacked.

Women advanced to fuller equality. To cite one example, Professor Alma Taumingas was promoted to head the Department of Pharmacy at Estonia's ancient Tartu University. Mothers and their children were the beneficiaries of other measures. In Lithuania, 900 day-nurseries were opened for children up to three years old, 70 kindergartens for those of four and older, and 250 public play-grounds. Four professional theatre companies performing exclusively for children were also established. These figures acquire more meaning if it be remembered that Lithuania has a population somewhat smaller than Chicago.

In the year prior to Hitler's attack, school enrollment rose by 11,000 in Estonia and 30,000, or twelve per cent, in Latvia. In Lithuania, 100 new schools and 66 technical high schools were opened. Twenty-five thousand college trained persons in Lithuania attended short-term refresher courses to bring their professional and technical knowledge up to date.

In six months, 4,500,000 copies of printed matter were published in Riga, representing four times the previous output in a similar period. News paper circulation quadrupled. An Estonian film studio was established. In Lithuania, an Academy of Sciences was organized, as well as Polish and Jewish theater companies, in addition to the Lithuanian.

During the war, the Baltic Soviet governments were evacuated to Moscow. They were headed by men of great prestige in their home countries, including scientists and writers of European renown. Their radioed appeals for guerrilla warfare and sabotage against the Germans were closely heeded. Many government figures remained in the Baltic states to lead the underground. Twelve members of the Latvian Supreme Soviet died in action or in Gestapo torture chambers.

Because of their proximity to Germany it was particularly easy for the Nazis to plunder the Baltic states. Estonia suffered twice the economic losses, per capita, of the Ukraine! 175,000 Latvians were driven into German slavery. One-fourth of the farm buildings were razed to the ground. 60 per cent of the sheep were herded away into Germany. 320,000 pieces of agricultural equipment were taken out of the country.

Reconstruction began with a 10,000 ruble loan to every farm family, repayable in seven years. These funds came from the USSR budget, as Latvia obviously had no source of revenue for its ravished state. Schools were reopened immediately. In October, 1944, before the liberation of Riga and the western third of the country, 100,000 children were back in school.

But the country really began to get over the hump in the second half of 1945. Because of the livestock slaughter, special efforts were made to increase the fish catch. The catch for this period equaled the all-time record set in the first six months of 1941, although the Germans had destroyed 40 per cent of the fishing fleet. Strangely, the fact that an isolated Nazi army remained in control of the western part of the country until the V-E Day surrender saved Liepaja (Libau), the largest Soviet Baltic port, from destruction. Likewise, Riga suffered little, because the Germans hoped until the last moment to recapture it. These instances demonstrate that the bulk of Soviet economic losses were not caused by the war itself, but by German determination to weaken the USSR permanently through the destruction of facilities which they could no longer hold.

more than the mere revival of destroyed facilities. While this is being done, new capacities are being built, based partly on plans interrupted by the invasion. For example, the entire capacity of Lithuanian power plants before the war was 60,000 kilowatts. A year later liberation repairs had been able to place only a fifth of that potential in operation. But while work progressed on the rest, a 30,000 kilowatt water power plant was begun on the Neris River, the largest ever to be built in the country. Likewise, others were projected to use Lithuania's immense reserves of a billion tons of peat. Never having made agricultural machinery in its history, a plant was begun in 1945 with an annual capacity of 60,000 seeders, plows, harrows and the like. The same is true of machine tools. A plant begun under the Soviets in 1941 is being completed to build 1200 a year. Meal-working mills being rebuilt are to be extended beyond their previous capacity. The paper pulp industry of recovered Klaipeda (Memel) will be brought up to 33,000 tons a year. The port will be restored to at least its pre-1939 turnover of 1500 ocean-going vessels a year, and will be developed as one of the biggest fishing centers in the Soviet Union, in order to replace livestock losses, no less grievous in Lithuania than elsewhere. Consumers' goods industries are undergoing comparable expansion. Before the war Lithuania exported 80 per cent of her flax fiber. Exports will continue, but the area under flax will be expanded so rapidly as to permit a trebling of domestic linen manufacture in two or three years. A spinning mill is being rehabilitated in Klaipeda and a much larger one is going up in Kaunas. Sugar refineries, boot and shoe factories, and enterprises producing building materials will have capacities designed to promote a sharp rise in Lithuanian living standards, fully meet the needs of the republic, and permit exports both abroad and to the other Soviet republics.

Cultural advancement is proceeding apace. Pre-Soviet Lithuania had 26,000 high school students. In January, 1946, there were 65,000. There are nine permanent repertory theaters instead of four, 3,038 elementary schools, 178 junior high schools and 89 high schools had been reopened. Also functioning in this small country were two universities, two colleges, seven schools of economics, two technical high schools, four art schools and an Academy of Agricultural Science.

It is of great significance that the Fourth Five-Year Plan, to end in 1950, does not provide for the collectivization of agriculture either in the Baltic States or the other territories west of the 1939 frontier. Certainly if this is the case, there can be no foundation for the rumors of collectivization in the non-Soviet countries of Eastern Europe.

Living, Inc., a non-profit organization, 2400 Laurel Canyon Blvd., Hollywood, has adopted a plan to stop wars known as the Lea Alden Plan. The plan is "to unite the mothers of the world against all aggressors." The membership dues are $10 a year.

A Townsend for Congress parade will be held Tuesday, May 23, at 7 p.m. It will consist of from 50 to 100 cars and trucks, and will leave the Elks building, 471 S. Central avenue at 7 p.m. arriving at the Bill Robinson theatre at 8 p.m.

George McLain, Chairman of the California Institute of Social Welfare, has set up a minimum requirement for candidates who seek his organization's endorsement in the coming primary election June 6.

"Only those candidates who take a firm stand for relieving county taxpayers of pension costs will receive our support," McLain said.

"County taxpayers are now beginning to feel the heavy burden laid on them by the repeal of Proposition 4. There will be no relief until the voters demand that the County Supervisors stop blocking return of pension administration to the state," McLain added.

The next meeting of the Los Angeles County Executive Board will be held this coming Thursday, May 11, at the County office at 8:15 p.m.

A few years ago, in the pre-cold war days, a magazine of national repute stated that contrary to popular belief, more people attend religious services in the USSR than in the USA.

Jack W. Hardy, Republican candidate for Congress in the 14th Congressional District, has adopted the slogan, "I am a Hardy American," for his campaign.

Primary elections held May 2 are a grim warning to the nation, said CIO-PAC director Jack Kroll.

"We face an assault upon the whole pattern of our society, old age income, public housing, health and education. The danger is real and immediate; the enemies within our gates are cunning, rich, desperate and unscrupulous. They will stop at nothing."

Senator Claude Pepper, of Florida, the friend of all working people, was defeated in Florida, but in Alabama, Sen. Lister Hill won renomination over a Dixiecrat opponent.

More people have registered to vote this year than in any previous "off year" election.

HENRY STEINBERG

Henry Steinberg, Communist candidate for the office of tax assessor at the coming June 6 primary election, denounced the moss-grown idea that that office is non-political.

"If a tax assessor is not political in the highest sense of serving those who elected him," he said in a radio broadcast over KLAC last Monday evening, "he has no business being there." I think the tax assessor has an obligation to see to it that the main tax burden is put on the shoulders of those who can best afford to pay—the profit-making monopolists."

Steinberg condemned the 25c tax boost proposed in the county supervisors' budget as a "cold war fraud, levelled directly at the workers and the small home owners."

NEW YORK. Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, Jr. charged the United Electrical Workers with distorting the facts in reporting a recent interview with him concerning the passage of the much-weakened FEPC bill.

There was much discussion among liberal members of Congress, Powell said, whether to vote for this pretense for an FEPC, or to repudiate it altogether. But at no time, he insisted, as the UE seemed to imply, did he or anyone else suggest abandoning FEPC.

seems to be a case for psycho-pathology."

A recently published 5c pamphlet by Moses Miller, titled "Soviet 'Anti-Semitism,' The Big Lie" furnishes a smashing refutation of this canard, exposes the technique of distortion used by its peddlars. I shall quote only one example and refer the reader to the pamphlet which can be obtained at the Hugh Gordon Book Shop, 1109 East 42nd Place:

On May 20th, one Freddie Woltman wrote: "Probably no better authority could be found, attesting to the virtual disappearance of Jewish life in the USSR, than B. Z. Goldberg, columnist on The Day, New York Jewish daily . . .

"Returning after a six months' tour of the USSR, Mr. Goldberg, as far back as August 14, 1946, wrote in The Day:

"There are no Jewish districts in the cities and towns. There are no specifically Jewish occupations, there are no Jewish hospitals, no Jewish old-folks' homes, no Jewish clubs, no Jewish parties, no Jewish philanthropies, no Jewish educational institutions."

Woltman proceeded to utilize the absence of job-discrimination and the ghetto in the USSR to prove Soviet anti-Semitism! What Goldberg said was:

"We Jews always yearned for one thing: to be equal with all other people and that there should be no exception made of Jews. This being made an exception was always like a hump on our back and we wanted to be rid of this . . .

"Well, here we have an example of an end to this being different, an example of equality. We have an example of where the hump has been taken off our shoulders. And so some feel that their backs are a little cold . . .

"There are no special Jewish living quarters or areas. There are no specifically Jewish occupations. There are no Jewish hospitals, no Jewish old folks' homes, no Jewish clubs, no special Jewish educational institutions—even where Jewish education exists, either for example in the 'Jewish cabinet' or in the Research Institute of the General Academy. In such cases, once again it is not something apart but an integral part of the General Academy, under the direction of the General Academy and subsidized by the general budget of the country. The only difference is that the language is Yiddish and the theme is Jewish. Other than that the technique and the mechanics—everything is a part of the general."

Y-Teen's Display

In celebration of Y. W. C. A. Week the Y-Teens of Jordan High School and Willowbrook Jr. High School have made two beautiful window displays which demonstrate the theme "A Better World Begins With You." The display at Jordan is featured in the library on the 2nd floor and the one at Willowbrook may be seen in the main hall. We urge all parents and friends of these Y-Teens to visit these windows and see the wonderful work on display there.

The Progressive Teeners of Palm Lane have changed their meeting day from Wednesday to Tuesday. The meetings are held at 5:30 p.m. at the Palm Lane the Seminary and had met the students who had made this furniture in the woodwork shop at the school.

This display is of significance since it was by students of high school and college training. This marks a sharp departure from the French culture attitude which regarded all work with the hands as degrading for intellectuals.

The Dignity of Labor

Throughout the Caribbean as we visited the Seventh-Day Adventist schools, we found that training the hand went with training the head and the heart (religion). Seventh-Day Adventist missionaries make the three H's a part of their educational program wherever they go. For they themselves in their schools in this country had received the benefit of the three H's — the training of the head, the heart and the hand.

The effectiveness of this type of training which is carried on from the elementary through the college levels is what prompted a white Baptist missionary mentioned earlier and who with her husband expect to spend the rest of her life in Haiti, to tell us: "The Seventh-Day Adventists are conducting the best work along educational lines that any Protestant body is doing."

Most of the other Protestant groups conduct their educational work only on the elementary and seminary level, with a resulting loss of youth on the high school level. The Catholics operate the schools on all levels, and about 90 per cent of the church membership are regarded as Catholics.

Are you losing your natural expression because your dentures no longer fit right?

Others can tell, better than you can, when you lose your natural expression. It's there to look at every time they see you. Sagging cheeks, sunken mouth, and new lines in your face are often simply due to wearing dentures that no longer fit right. Your mouth changes, but your dentures don't.

WHAT TO DO

When this change occurs, get new dentures right at the time you need them, without waiting. The longer you wait, the less chance you have of retaining a natural expression. Come in and see samples of new dentures and select the type that fits your needs and your purse.

DEVELOPING POISE, grace, and self-confidence is the main concern of Corinne Ashby, Carver Jr. High teacher, for her nine-year-old daughter, Irville. To this popular Mother-Daughter team spend a great portion of their time together at the swimming pool, attending concerts, dance and musical recitals, and playing duets. Though Irville's father is Irving Ashby of King Cole Trio fame, Irville's exceptional talent in music is a natural gift. Her mother, who is a life-saver, examiner, and water safety instructor, sponsors a swimming club from Carver at the 28th Street YMCA. She is also president of the popular Merry-Go-Rounders Social club. A BEAUTIFUL TABLE is as important as the selection of guests for a successful dinner party. But whether it be a dinner party or an informal gathering a pleasant evening is sure to be enjoyed in the smart apartment of the Emil and Martha Arnaud. Comely Pat Perry is her Mother's best assistant. She too, loves a party. Pat, who was a brilliant student in school, is a capable stenographer. Though a bit more serious than her commercial artist sister, Jeanette, she and her mother find tennis, dancing, and legitimate theatre most exciting pastimes. Martha Arnaud, who once had a painting exhibited at the County Fair, is a prominent beautician.

CAPTURING an unusual amount of interest is the dramatic doorknob to the new modern redwood home of John and Verna Beane, their son, Arthur Lewis, in Grammercy Park. An astute businesswoman as well as prominent clubwoman, these activities have taken a backseat for supervision on the building of their comfortable home. Arthur is happy that they are moving in this week for basketball season will be over Saturday night and he'll want to be entertaining the Alphas in their unique playroom with a view. Arthur is an avid sportsman and an ardent Alpha man with a special yen for violin music.

THE NATIONAL SCOUT JAMBOREE is the major interest in the household of photographer Craig Lasha and his wife, Dorothy, for young Craig from the McKinley district will be attending the event at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania. Allan, at right, knows that his big brother is very enthusiastic as they go over last minute details. The Auxiliary to Dining Car Porters are his sponsors and that's a good thing because everything is all set for the trip to Yellowstone National Park, Chicago, the Capitol, and other spots along the way. Allan doesn't mind as long as he'll be able to "clean house" in his playard. This is a busy schedule for Dorothy Lasha, who also does her husband's retouching and tinting.

Pioneer Club No. 1 Officers Installed By Rev. D. C. Allen

The Pioneer Club No. 1 met at the home of Mrs. Ida Stevens for the installation of officers last month. Hostesses for the meeting were Mamie Smith, Nancy Warner, and Betty Adams. The officers were impressively installed by Rev. D. C. Allen, pastor of Grant Chapel A.M.E. church.

Those who will assume the executive wheel are Mamie Smith, president; John H. Russell, vice-president; Laura Young, secretary; Ruth Williams, corresponding; Cora Buck, treasurer; Mary Jones, collector; H. Posey, chairman of sick committee; Smith W. Green, Jr., marshal; Camillia Leftridge, chaplain.

The president is calling all Pioneers to Ward's Chapel May 21st for their annual sermon.

The club wishes its secretary, Mrs. Laura Young, and the pastor, Rev. Harry White, a nice trip to Honolulu.

The next meeting will be held Tuesday, May 1 at the home of Mrs. Jones on 1034 South Kingsley Drive. She and Mrs. Tennis Peoples will be hostesses.

Physicians' Wives Adopt Constitution

The Physicians' Wives Association met at the home of Dr. and Mrs. Howard H. Allen, 717 E. 43rd Street, on Saturday morning at 11. President, Mrs. Wm. Beck, heard reports from chairmen and their respective committees, as well as a second reading of the "By-Laws and Constitution" by capable Mrs. Dickerson Hawkins.

Other chairmen reporting were Mesdames Mahlon C. Cooley, membership; Phylom J. Taylor, hospitality; Laura Smitherman, ways and means; Howard H. Allen, yearbook; Lincoln Shumate, publicity; Henry McPherson, program; Thomas Roy Peyton, social; Pearl, budget. Members present were Mesdames Wayne C. Howard, first vice president; P. M. Fernandez, secretary; R. E. Kingsley, corresponding secretary; Warner R. Wright, treasurer; E. A. Bailey, Arthur Mitchell.

Hostesses Allen and Hawkins served a delicious breakfast, which included country ham, eggs, hot homemade coffee cake, coffee and tomato juice.

The June meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. William Beck, with Mrs. Mahlon C. Cooley as co-hostess. Continued reports from chairmen, outlining next year's program, will be heard, winding up the association's meetings until September.

Youth Rampages

By NELLIE BECKER

Los Angeles, California used to be the place where you came to retire, relax and recuperate. You could wear just anything, anywhere... toothpicks were commonly used in the most exclusive homes and restaurants and for an Angeleno to take a trip to San Francisco was something to rave about. Alas, times have changed. Los Angeles is no longer sunny even in May... my winter coat feels good in the morning. The society dames are stepping all over each other trying to be the most exclusive and best dressed in the city. Which reminds me I wonder who else has been asked to join the Lynx Club? It is a national organization which includes the top drawer of society in every city and they are setting up a branch out here.

Hattie McDaniels hosted a swank Bon Voyage party last Sunday for Rochester and Mamie Anderson, who leave for Europe May 15th. Among the 400 guests were many Hollywood celebrities. Alice Watkins and her brother, Bill Watkins, are completing plans for their trip to Europe. Bill will probably complete his studies toward his Ph.D. over there. Attractive schoolmarm Nancy Balch will visit the Haitian Exposition this summer and Carolyn Witcliffe Antoine will travel through Paris, England, Switzerland and Germany. Charlotte A. Bass is all smiles about her passport extension... she won't say when she plans to take off.

However San Francisco still holds its charm. Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Blanchet who have traveled extensively, go up North quite often to visit friends. Mrs. Reatha Beck got back from Hampden, Arkansas just in time to attend the Alpha Kappa sorority elections. Former Basileus Lucille Bonnett did a grand job during her term of office. Here's wishing the new Basileus Zenobia Allen loads of luck.

It's true that the LeRoy Beavers will soon be three. Dorothy and Eric Becker have one more month to go. There is nothing cosier said Evelyn and Karl King then looking at the movies in a drive-in-theatre with your own sweet baby beside you... that's if he doesn't get bored. Recent newcomers from St. Louis, Missouri are the Harold Youngs... one of the finest business couples you ever want to meet. Just finished chatting with Evelyn Carter Webb who has been seriously ill for the past few weeks. She is convalescing at home in a room full of flowers. Gertrude Nasri and her daughter, Joy Celeste, will be honored at tea Sunday at the home of Dr. and Mrs. John Somerville by the National Council of Negro Women as their nominee for "Intercultural Mother of the Year." The proceeds will go to Stevens House U.C.L.A., Mrs. E. A. Johnson, 95 year old mother whom the Eagle cited last Christmas as one of the community's most outstanding active workers, will be honored at the Sojourner Truth Home "Mothers Day" banquet. Mrs. Johnson was one of the early graduates of Hampton Institute in the class with Booker T. Washington.

John Kinloch, nephew of Mrs. Bass, was known for his fine sense of sportsmanship and fair play, so it is very fitting that the last game of the Inter-frat series be called the John Kinloch play-off. Dr. C. W. Hill has been quietly enjoying the basketball victories of the Sigmas thus far but he'd better watch out for those powerful Omega's Saturday night.

The Emanon Club is having a closed party at the spacious home of Dr. and Mrs. A. L. Blanchet this Saturday. The Mocambo famed Sunset Strip nitery, may be the setting for the fabulous "Bal Masque" (headdress ball) of the Les Dames Social and Charity club Sunday, May 28th. Well known artist Wilma James gave a "real gone" party for Joyce James who was on leave from the army for a few days.

Dr. and Mrs. Prince Cobbs, members of the Alpha Bowling club, Rev. Lloyd Galloway, Alyce Key, Yvonne Sheppard (she's driving a beautiful '50 Oldsmobile), Atty. and Mrs. George Canady are getting their little groups together to attend the Paul Robeson concert Friday night. The Kappa's were busy counselling the High School seniors during their national "Guide Right" week. They held their devotional service at Holman Methodist Church Sunday afternoon. John Brewer was the master of ceremonies. Others on the program were Mrs. Venye Corporal, Rev. L. L. White, Mr. Farnham, principal of Jefferson High and the vice-principal of Willowbrook High.

Roy Spencer Wed Recently

Roy Spencer, outstanding field representative with Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company, was married in Las Vegas recently to Miss Beatrice Morris. Mrs. Spencer, formerly of Louisiana, works with the Los Angeles County Welfare Bureau. Mrs. Spencer has been with Golden State Mutual for the past eighteen years, and is one of its most successful field men. The couple live at 240 W. 48th street.

Fannie Benjamin To Be Honored By McKinley Scouts

Notables and celebrities are joining forces with the Boy Scouts to salute Fannie Benjamin in a testimonial benefit National Jamboree at Jefferson High School, Sunday, May 14 from 4 to 6 p.m. Jay Left Lynn in charge of programs. Roger Wills, executive director of McKinley District, Louise Beaver and Hattie McDaniels head the star list on program. Clayton Russell and John L. Branham head the clergy list. Morticians and civic leaders are represented.

June Formal Planned by Rainbow Girls

The Rainbow Club will be giving their formal June 3rd at the Elks auditorium. Plans are yet in the making as the girls are busy winding up their year's activities for the May meeting. They will meet at the lovely home of Mrs. Henrietta Capers.

Hattie McDaniels Honors The Eddie Andersons With Bon Voyage Party

Highlighting the social activities honoring Mr. and Mrs. Eddie "Rochester" Anderson was the Bon Voyage party given Saturday evening at the spacious home of Miss Hattie McDaniels, 2203 South Harvard Blvd.

About 200 guests responded to the quaint little invitations to which the actress added a personal note above her signature.

The brilliantly lighted patio and rumpus room furnished ample room for dancing which was enjoyed by many of the guests before dinner. A large masted ship formed the background for a three tiered cake decorated with the words "Bon Voyage—Mamie and Eddie."

Mrs. Anderson wore an off the shoulder chautrese taffeta with cape, and gold accessories. The hostess, Miss McDaniels wore grey shantung with powder blue blouse and silver accessories.

Monette Moore, Ruby Barbee Wilson, Wonderful Smith, Jay Loft-Lyn furnished in prompt entertainment. Leon G. Kirkpatrick, concert pianist of Chicago, who was recently heard in recital at Pepperdine College, gave two numbers. He was introduced by Ruby Berkley Goodwin.

Stars of motion pictures, stage and radio, as well as many socially prominent people attended, including Mr. and Mrs. Hillard Marks, producers of the Jack Benny show and Mr. and Mrs. Al Kabaker and Mr. and Mrs. Tom McKnight. Mr. Kabaker is supervisor for the Beulah show and Mr. McKnight is producer and director. Other guests included:

EDWARD HAWKINS, chairman of the ways and means and social committee of United Public Workers, Local 246, is directing all arrangements for the union's gala picnic to be held at Mountain Oaks Park, Sunday, May 14.

Mesdames Ruby Dandridge, Leontyne King, Frances Melton, Oleaver Greer, Gertrude Gipson, Minnie Lomax, Frieta Shaw and Clothide Woodard. Misses Sarah Berner, Thomasina Ayers, Louise Vidager, Jean Castles, Mary Jane Croft, Estella Fort, Mildred Blount, Laura Slayton and Loreene Tuttle.

Billie Anderson, track star and son of the guests of honor, Atty. Thomas L. Berkley, Henry Blair (Donnie to the Beulah show) George Brown, Elzie Emmanuel, Joel Fleullyn, Edgar Goff Jr., Dr. C. A. Hill, Bob Hafter, Atty. Thomas G. Newsome, Marvin Miller, radio announcer, Leslie Mumphy, Frederick O'Neal, Laurence Simms and Elledge Penland were among those present.

Hostess for the evening were long-time friends of the honoree. They were Mesdames Mildred Bruce, sister of Mrs. Anderson, Florence Covan, Oleaver Greer, Ramelle Bagerise, Marian Gordon and Nancy Skillman.

Intimate friends of the couple brought many useful bon voyage gifts. Following the Jack Benny broadcast on Sunday, the Andersons will leave on a cross country tour with the Benny group. Later they will sail for Europe where the Benny show is booked solid for most of the summer. The Andersons will leave the troupe after their engagements in Europe and spend a few weeks vacationing before Eddie returns to the coast for a fall radio season.

Tribute to Mom Theme of Zenith Fashion Show Sun.

The Zenith Social and Charity Club invited the press in for a sip and to preview a couple of the stunning originals by the Gordon sisters to be featured at the club's second annual fashion show.

Last minute emergencies necessitate a change in locale from Torrence Manse to Westside Manor, 1748 W. 21st st., from 3 to 8 p.m. The style show begins promptly at 4 p.m.

The Zeniths are combining this year's show with a tribute to mother since May 14 is her day. They promise a gay social afternoon with good music by the Joe Lewis trio for entertainment and dancing.

There will be a noval seating arrangement so mother will not get tired and yet can enjoy the affair.

Social Notes

Mrs. Virginia Henderson of Kansas City, Mo., is visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. Jarone Johnson, for three months.

Dr. J. Phyrrom Taylor was a genial host at a stag Saturday evening at his home on S. Hobart blvd. in honor of Dr. S. Jerick of Philadelphia.

Mrs. Ouida Williams enjoyed her birthday down in Ensenada, Mexico, last week.

Misses Richmona Dunn and Patsy Roberts were co-hostesses to the Anchorette club Saturday when they met at the Roberts home. Complete plans were made by the chairman of program, Barbara Grant, for the tea that the club is giving Sunday, May 21, at the Leon Rene's residence in honor of their parents. The girls will present a skit on Mother.

Miss Margaret Moore left Friday for a 10-day stay in San Francisco, where she was the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Till Toms. From there she will spend a few days with Mrs. Leonie Butler in Sacramento.

Mrs. Irene Day was hostess to a wedding reception Sunday at 2400 S. St. Andrews place, honoring her daughter, Miss Marjorie Day and Dr. A. L. Cranford, who were married on April 27.

Mrs. Ursula Murrell entertained Sunday afternoon with a personal shower for her niece, Miss Ursula (Jackie) Lewis, who will marry in June.

The executive board of the Auxiliary of the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Assn. met Tuesday morning with Mrs. Evelyn Griffin. An appetizing luncheon was enjoyed by the 16 members present.

Mrs. Carolyn Shifflett entertained at a bridge luncheon Saturday at her home on W. 20th st. Covers were laid for 24 smartly-dressed ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Flowers of Portland, Ore., motored to the city to take their mother home who has been visiting with Mrs. Helen Fairbanks while in the city. They were the houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Everette Roberts of W. 36th pl., who took them fishing at Ensenada, Mexico, and Lake Henshaw last week.

Mrs. Ethel Provost had a few friends in Tuesday to play canasta with Mrs. Virginia Henderson of Kansas City, Mo.

Mrs. Annie Coleman, who has been visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Jackson of E. 116th pl. for the last three months, returned to her home in Minneapolis, Minn., recently.

Alpha Regional Confab Plans Mapped Locally

D. Rudolph Henderson, National vice-president of the Far Western Region of Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity has issued the call for all Alpha men on the West Coast to participate in the third Regional Convention to be held in Los Angeles July 1, 2, and 3, 1950.

The three local chapters of Alpha Phi Alpha, Beta Psi Lambda, the graduate chapter, Alpha Delta and Gamma Xi, the undergraduate chapters, will be hosts to their national officers and visiting brothers from the western states that comprise the Far Western Region.

The key planning committee met at the home of Dewey D. Davidson Tuesday evening, May 2nd, to draft program blueprints for the coming event. An elaborate calendar has been designed covering open public sessions, social affairs and a tour of the city of Los Angeles. The roster of persons invited to speak and to otherwise participate include many persons prominent in the civic life of Southern California. The business sessions will cover many issues of vital import to the social and civic well-being of the minority population of our community.

Silver Spurs Club Have as Guest Prominent Doctor

The Silver Spurs held their last regular business meeting in the dining room of Mack's Manor Hotel, with Mrs. Maccie Howlett as rosters.

After the business session the girls were happy to have as their guest, Dr. King, who has purchased a beautiful Palmino horse. They invited him to join them in the Sheriff's Parade under the Spurs banner. This is an annual event.

The girls plan to see their friends at their all-day food fest on Mother's Day. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Zula Mae Lucas.

Pearl Bailey Goes From Coma to Cast

NEW YORK CITY (CNS)—Pearl Bailey, the "tired girl" of one of Broadway's smash hits, "Arms and the Girl," is back in the cast. But not without a scare to her manager, Chauncey Olman, her family, friends and fans. For Miss Bailey collapsed during her last Friday performance and was rushed to Park West Hospital. There she went into a coma and on Sunday didn't recognize her own mother.

However, after a week of rest, which she spent in Washington, D.C. with her husband, Pearl returned to work feeling "great and grand—just tired," she said.

WEIGHTY

HOLLYWOOD—Andy Devine and Margaret Gibson may not be the most graceful dance team in Hollywood, but they're probably the heaviest. Andy and Margaret swing out in a square dance sequence for "Come Share My Love" at RKO Radio. Andy weighs 330 pounds; Margaret trails along at a modest 205.

FABULOUS RAVENS OPEN AT OASIS FRIDAY NIGHT

Candid Comments

● GERTRUDE GIPSON

Hattie McDaniel star of stage, screen and radio, topped the parties of the season when she gave a fabulous "Bon Voyage" party for her good friends Rochester and Mamie Anderson at her home on Harvard last Saturday night... would be useless for me to begin to name the guests for sooo many notables and outstanding guests were arriving continuously from the hours of 4 to 11 to partake of the wonderful food and drinks that were sooo plentiful... Hattie a perfect hostess greeting her hundreds of guests from Hollywood... Sooo... it be said now forever, and ways, when Hattie throws a party... it is a PAAAAARTY!... Herman Hill, a disc jockey representative (and a darn good one, too), from the office of Berle

Gertrude Gipson

Adams... Joyce Bryant, one of the reasons for the nitely crowds at Billy Grays Band Box (you're welcome gentlemen)... Dottie Dandridge and George Jessel discussing a part for Dottie in Jessel's forthcoming flicker "Cotton Club"... Betty and Horace Clark leaving today for their long-awaited European tour... Speaking of Europe, Walter and Eythel Gordon will leave around the middle of June... Dr. and Mrs. Cranford, nee Marjorie Day, smiling at friends at their wedding reception Sunday afternoon... The swanky RUE ANGEL will be the local for the Les Dames BAL MASQUE Sunday afternoon, May 28th from 3 to 8 p.m.... Al and Hera Evans, Jr., owners of the restaurant at 43rd and Main... Mildred Blount up and out and looking prettier than ever after a recent major operation... Nat Cole and Count Basie sharing billing at New York's Bop City... John Pettigrew adds that "handsome look" to the trombone section of the new band of Roy Porter... There are quite a few things in this man's town that I like and one is of the new "ear catching" voice of disc jockey "CHICO"... Whole town's talking about the new $3000 patio of Price Chicago sportsman... Roy Glenn's name added to the Sunday afternoon radio show "Rocky Jordan"... Fred O'Neil and Bill Walker, two great fellas and swelluva actors, will be added to the Negro Art Theater's production "GOLDEN BOY"...

NOTES, NEWS AND NONSENSE

Aha! a laugh dept... Elmer Byers says "They say you can't take it with you but it goes as far as the cemetery, at least. For proof, look over some of the monuments..." That new 1950 Cad you see T. Bone Walker cruising down the ave. is a little "gift deal" from Chicago's Club Delisa... Bone has 20 years to work it out at the club... Louis "Satchmo" Armstrong and his all stars at "the apple's" Roxie... Ravens to headline the Oasis show tomorrow night... Damita Joe, rising young local vocalist, booked solidly for the next six months... Damita now at Frisco's Longshore Bar gotta increase in salary that's terrific... Damita is handled through the offices of Maynard, Sload and (can't remember the other name)... Mantan Moreland recently returned from a Philadelphia week-end stand... The Hollywood Sepia Tones the headline at Frisco's New Orleans Club... Celeste Moore, excashier at the Memo, is legally Mrs. Peg Leg Bates, understand that the pair are "thisclose"... The memory of an elephant couldn't even compare to that of Ruby Berkley Goodwin... how she can remember sooo much is really beyond us... Wini Orr Smith says she'll bow down any day to the wonderful ability of eye specialist Dr. Wayne Howard... we can only say "we tolya so, didn't we?"... The new hair cut of Jacqueline Jacquett simply adds to her cuteness... SUDDEEN THAWT, "Don't ever shoot your wife, send her an orchid, then take her to dinner and a show, and the shock will kill her"... Reader of our writing in telling about the party they raided t'other night, took everybody down but him, 'cause he was sittin' over in the corner drunk as he could be... Oasis changed hands... new owners from San Diego... Bill Robinson (no relation to Bojangles), one of the partners... Ruby Barbee holding guests charmed as she gave out with "Summertime" at Hattie's t'other evening, was simply lovely... Speaking of charms, Disc Jockey Roy Loggins putting a spell on his teen-age listeners they can't seem to get enough... Cornshucks the magnet drawing the folks to the Club Downbeat... Jimmie Davis says he doesn't know how those marriage rumors got started but nothing to them at all... Whose the Hollywood actor that came from Hollywood to see the Last Word show a few nights ago and upset the entire place?... The torch that the Statue of Liberty holds in her hand is a piker to the one that pretty Evelyn Turner is carrying for that west-side playboy... Ray Lee and Eddie Williams surprising their friends with their sudden departure for Alaska... Ernie Andrews has a new record out on London label that's a real tear-jerker... Film great Burt Lancaster has given financial support to the Negro Art Theater to the tune of a fat income tax check for $56.00. The group's initial production "Golden Boy" is scheduled to get before the foot lights May 26. Comes that time again for us to leave you with something like this: "Never put the squeeze on a sap; all you'll get is sticky hands."

Doughnut Drive

Trinity St. PTA will sponsor a doughnut drive to be held Friday, May 19. Proceeds from the affair will be sent to the 10th IDistrict Health Clinic project.

Dinah Wants to Know What's Happened to Bop

NEW YORK—Dinah Washington, the popular thrush has joined the number of those who believe that be-bop music has passed its high water popularity peak and now is on the way out. She is a bop fan herself but is basing her conclusions on a shrewd study of audience reaction.

According to Dinah, who is currently co-starring in the excellent revue at Bop City on Broadway, there is a noticeable slackening of enthusiastic audience response to the bop idiom.

Ravens Open at Oasis Tomorrow

The syncopated rhythms and melodious harmony of America's top singing unit of the day will be presented at the Club Oasis, opening tomorrow night, May 12th. This engagement marks their second Los Angeles night club engagement in several years, their first being at the Cricket Club a few years ago.

Coming directly from a successful stay at Las Vegas Thunderbird hotel, the quartette is well known to all local record collectors.

Basso James "Rickey" Ricks, leader of the popular quartette, formed this group following a musical pattern of presentation which he had long had in mind.

Much improved and even more popular since their last Los Angeles engagement, the management of the Oasis is anticipating large crowds nitely.

SOVIET FILM AT EMBASSY

"Young Guard," a Soviet prize film, will give its first showing in a three-hour uncut version, in the Embassy auditorium, 9th and Grand, at 7:45 p.m., Saturday, May 13.

It is taken from the novel by A. Fadeyev. Direction by S. Gerasimov, and music by D. Shostakovich. During intermission tea will be served around a samovar. Admission $1, tax included.

'Cavalcade of Bands' Treat for TV Fans

The big, hour-long musical show, "Cavalcade of Bands," seen each Tuesday from 7:00 to 8:00 p.m. over KTSN and the DuMont Television Network provides a rare musical treat for television.

Featuring the best name bands in the nation in the same type of variety and musical stage shows seen in Broadway's leading presentation houses such as the Paramount, the Capitol and the State.

ON KECA-TV—Celeste Maria, Canadian born contralto, will make a repeat performance over KECA-TV. During the past seven years Celeste Maria has been singing professionally traveling from coast to coast, and will appear in a recital at the Wilshire Ebell Theatre around the middle of June.

Ink Spots To Play Seattle

SEATTLE, Wash.—After four years of just narrowly missing one another, The Ink Spots and the city of Seattle, Washington, will cross paths once more on May 8. The quartet will take over the stage show of the huge Palomar Theatre, in the North-western city, next week for their first appearance there in many years.

For 48 months, Bill Kenny, leader of the quartet, has been apologizing to Seattle fans for the inability of the Ink Spots to appear. Despite the fact that they have been frequent visitors to the West Coast, the singers' dates have always been so heavily filled that they have continually had to turn down offers from the Washington town because requests for their appearances were sent in too late to fit into the quartet's tour.

THE EBONAIRES—Vocal group still active and recently appeared on the Don Otis Television Show.

SHE'S BACK—Tanya, that terrific torso hurler appearing nightly at the Last Word Cafe.

the three-hour stage presentation of the affair, titled "Hollywood on Parade."

The show is being staged by Mr. Flournoy Miller, co-writer and co-producer of the great stage success, "Sugar Hill," who will be associated with Johnny Lee, of the CBS Amos 'n' Andy show; Charles Lampkin, famous pianist and composer; Clarence Muse, screen star; Dooley Wilson, stage, screen and radio star; and Andy Razaf, internationally famous poet and lyricist. General admission, $1.20; Patron's lodge, $2.40, tax included.

HIGH SCHOOL AND COLLEGE CHOIRS SING

It was last Tuesday evening in the beautiful auditorium of the Pasadena City College that another musical precedent was established in a community whose racial problems are finding solution through more and more cultural exchanges. It is significant that the City of Pasadena should, as it were, almost be ranked as a forerunner in the eternal struggle for social equality. The expression "Understanding Through Music" then has significance.

The Los Jueves Fillies, women's groups associated with the Scattered Good Foundation (a philanthropic, community service house), was the far seeing group who presented the Choirs of the City Colleges of Los Angeles and Pasadena, as well as the Muir College Choir, El Monte and Monrovia High School Choirs. The Jefferson High School Choir was to have appeared.

Pasadena's Muir College Choir opened the program with the exciting Choral Processional by Kountz and followed with the spiritual What Kind of Shoes as arranged by Hall Johnson and concluded with excerpts from the light opera "Carousel." Despite a consistent flattening of pitch, the choral group sang convincingly and pleasingly.

Lois Wells' El Monte High School Choir presented next the inspiring Soul of Christ and concluded with the spiritual Room Enough as arranged by King, the former conductor of the Wings Over Jordan Choir. Los Angeles' own City College Choir under the direction of the matchless Ralph Peterson presented Gretcheni-noff's Hail Thou Gladdenning Light, the ethereal Peace Comes to Me as set by Lynn Murray, and finally Roy Ringwald's setting of the Emma Lazarus poem "Give Me Your Tired Your Poor." The City College Choir has only recently returned from a tour which took them as far East as Salt Lake City, Utah. Their singing was inspiring. The tone quality was consistent and choir magnificently balanced. Don Lee White was the piano accompanist.

As far as we are concerned from many points and reasons, the most outstanding group on the program was the Monrovia High School Choir of approximately one hundred twenty-five singers whose magnificent phrasing and clarity of purpose stood forward like huge bulwarks. The group presented first the Victori setting of the Ave Maria; secondly, William Dawson's Ezekiel Saw De Wheel, which actually stopped the performance and concluded with Godfrey O'Hara's One World with Katherine Blunt, mezzo-soprano, as soloist. The audience fairly stood on its head.

Singing rather matter-of-factly the Pasadena City College Choir presented the McGruder Hosana, Bach's Beside Thy Cradle, and William Henry Smith's arrangement of the spiritual Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel.

Congratulations once again to Less Jueves Fillies for such an interesting and well balanced program of choral music.

EIGHTH NOTES

Congratulations are in order to Marvin Hayes who placed in the Atwater Kent Semi-Finals held last Sunday. Don't forget the Los Angeles City School Music Festival scheduled for the Hollywood Bowl on May 26 and 27. Watch for our community participation through the Carver Junior High School and Jefferson and Lafayette High School Choral Organizations. Thomasina Ayers, young student teacher at Carver, has prepared a choreography on the music of the spiritual "Rock My Soul" to be performed at the Bowl. Carver's Music Festival will be presented Sunday, May 21st at 3:30. Marguerite Chapman sings at Wesley at 4 Sunday. Johannes Brahms' "Requiem" will be presented on the 28th at Independent at 5:30.

GLORIA ROBERTS, pianist, whose recent appearance in New York won her favorable comparison with Sonia, great South American pianist, who was acclaimed in Town Hall this season, will spend the summer at her home in Los Angeles, following western concert engagements. It is said that Courtesy Club of First AME Church will present her in recital at 8th and Towne, late in June.

80 Voice Choir Sings Requiem

History will be inscribed in the musical world on the Pacific Coast when the Johannes Brahms German Requiem is performed on a subscription audience with Albert John McNeil conducting the eighty voice choir of the Peoples Independent Church of Christ with orchestra, Sunday evening, May 28, at half past five. This marks the first time that a Negro group has performed this masterful and significant work this side of the eastern seaboard.

It is noteworthy that this young brilliant musician, who has established himself as one of the top choral directors in the nation, would choose this particular work as a farewell to the Pacific Coast on the eve of his departure to Europe where he will study in Switzerland as one of the two Negroes in America to receive the Westminster Choral Society Fellowship along with twenty other outstanding musicians in the country.

"THE NEW HAGADAH," a choral cantata by Max Helfman, paying tribute to the uprising of the Warsaw ghetto against the Nazis, will receive its Los Angeles premiere in concerts by the Jewish People's Chorus at 8:15 p.m. Saturday, May 20, and 2:45 p.m. Sunday, May 21, at the Wilshire-Ebell theater.

THE OUTSTANDING Luther Carpenter Male Chorus will join with artists of the organ and the piano to present a classic musical this Saturday night at the Los Angeles Academy, 846 E. El Segundo boulevard, beginning at 8:30 p.m. The musical is a benefit program sponsored by the West Long Beach Church.

Musical Leaders Honor McNeil Prior To European Departure

In appreciation for his outstanding work in the musical field in Los Angeles, leading educators of the various universities as well as civic leaders and cultural organizations have formed a Citizens Committee to honor Albert J. McNeil prior to his embarkation for Europe to study under a Westminster Choral Fellowship at a reception to be held at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. Clayton Russell Sunday afternoon, May 22nd.

Heading the committee of Distinguished names are: Dr. and Mrs. Leiland Clark, USC; Dr. Henry Leiland Clark, UCLA; Dean William Blanchard, Pomona College; Prof. Julia Howell, USC; Dr. John Work, Fisk University; Dr. O. A. Anderson, Lincoln University; Dr. and Mrs.

Owen Troy, Rev. and Mrs. John Branaham.

Mr. and Mrs. Horace Clark, Mrs. Leontyne King, Dr. Richard Key Briggs, Rev. and Mrs. Rakestraw, Mrs. Charlotta Bass and a host of other outstanding personalities of Southern California Cultural and Social Circles.

The Press Committee is as follows: Jessie Mae Brown, Willa Booker, Libby Clark, Gertrude Gipson, William Black, Lillian Cumber and Thomasina Ayres. The distinguished organist, Fannie Evelyn Benjamin is serving as chairman of the reception.

All States Tea Huge Success

The Elks Auditorium was the scene of the United States in miniature Sunday afternoon, April 30, when the California State Association of Colored Women, Inc., sponsored the "All States Tea."

The auditorium was filled with huge U. S. Flags and at each end of the stage there were two California Flags. There were various tables representing the states, where they portrayed in a fine way the things of interest in their state.

Each state was represented by a "Governor" who also served as hostess, with several beautiful gowned ladies assisting, while friends chatted in reminiscence of by gone days in their home town.

An attractive table with silver candle service was at the center left of the auditorium where many guests were served delicious refreshments by attractive young ladies. At the center right Mrs. Frances Groves had a demonstration wedding table set for a bridal party, with her own design of personalized napkins and favors.

The huge vases in the entrance of the auditorium were filled with white lilies which gave an added welcome for the occasion.

Music for the affair was furnished by the Elks Band conducted by Mr. M. Lacey. Other participants on program were: Piano selection by Miss Evelyn Blackwell and Mrs. Gwendolyn Heyliager, concert artist from New York. Soloists Mr. Emmett Stewart and Mrs. Lois LeFevre, Readings, Mrs. Pauline McNeil and Mrs. Marguerite Petty May. Mrs. Wilma Chapman also rendered musical selections.

The All States Tea was a success. Texas was the winning state with Mrs. Ruth Williams, the governor. The second winner was Illinois with Miss Ella Cook, governor.

Mrs. Gertrude Reese Hicks is president of the Southern Section, C.S.A.C.W. Mrs. Vassie Reese Wright, general chairman and originator of "All States Tea."

Willowbrook Student Assembly Hears Panel On Democracy

A panel on democracy and better race relations was held in the Willowbrook High School assembly hall Tuesday morning. 1200 students assembled in two sessions to hear youth, religious and community leaders discuss approaches to racial understanding and cooperation.

Preceding the panel discussions Mrs. Wagstaff, school principal, entertained the principals in the discussion and Mrs. Cora Johnson, 67 A.D. Assembly candidate at a luncheon. Mrs. Johnson was a member of the committee that organized the panel.

Horace Alexander, of the NAACP Youth Council, spoke on the subject from the point of view of youth, and the Rev. Don C. Stephenson, pastor of St. James AME Church discussed the subject from a religious point of view.

Lester Bailey of the NAACP spoke to the students as a representative of the community and organization action. Mrs. Wagstaff outlined the work of the

BACKWARD PROGRESS

By J. R. EGGLESTON

The Milwaukee Common Council, a duly elected body of "intelligent" men to serve and forward the interest of the community has chosen to give the green light to a program of housing for six families on school property, denying some 800 children access to nutritious and wholesome food by means of a Hot Lunch Program subsidized by the Federal and State Government.

Concerted effort has been put forward, spearheaded by the Parent-Civic Association. This is a group of alert and unselfish women, under the sponsorship of the Community Organization Department of the Milwaukee Urban League. They have worked hard for the past year trying to obtain use of the old 9th street school annex which had heretofore housed on its main floor the Child Care Center. The Parent-Civic Association wanted this building for the purposes of setting up a Hot Lunch Program for the 9th street school children. The children in the community need such a program, more than six families need shelter.

Last week the Community Organization Secretary of the Milwaukee Urban League received a letter from the Superintendent of Schools informing her that the Common Council had given its approval to the Milwaukee Housing Authority to spend the hard-earned tax money of these people to make the necessary repairs on the building for housing instead of making the building into a lunch room.

Thus the community should grin, be happy and satisfied because six families out of the hundreds who need housing will be so housed while many of the seven hundred and eighty-odd school children have no adequate lunch because of "lack of space for such a program."

If this is the best that the spokesmen of the city of Milwaukee can do for its citizens, it is time for them to find new jobs.

MADISON — A group of students at the University of Wisconsin have made plans to present a peace petition to President Truman when he arrives here May 16. The petition calls for "top level talks between the United States and the Soviet Union."

MADISON — Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, former United Nations mediator in Palestine, speaking at the University of Wisconsin, said, "There are no war-like people... just war-like leaders."

The former UN mediator to Palestine said the United Nations was mankind's only hope to save the world from war. Any attempt to exclude any nation from the UN, he declared, would change the cold war to a shooting war.

"No one would be a winner of the next conflict... just a matter of a few survivors," Dr. Bunche said. "We must lead in preserving the peace, by taking the lead in eliminating the roots of war."

MILWAUKEE — Actor Thomas Mitchell, speaking at a luncheon sponsored by the National Conference of Christians and Jews, said, "Brotherhood is simply the responsibility of being American citizens."

Mitchell addressed more than 300 members of the organization by his own request. "Being an American," Mitchell said, "is not just a gift, it is an achievement. Certainly if we accept the privilege we must accept the responsibility."

MILWAUKEE — The Woman's Commission of the Communist Party here is combing the city for all books entitled "Nicomachus Laughs," which is written by Inez Hogan and published by E. P. Dutton & Co., Inc.

The book, which has been issued by the Milwaukee Public Library to the public schools here in the city, is an insulting, slanderous attack upon the Negro people. A spokeswoman for the Woman's Commission said that the commission will not rest until all such books are removed from shelves of our public schools and libraries.

SPORTS

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

HERE AND THERE—Jersey Joe Walcott and his manager, Felix Bocchicchio, departed by plane for Germany Monday. Jersey Joe fights Hein Tem Hoff, German heavyweight champion, at Mannheim, May 28. While over there Walcott will also fight exhibition matches. . . . According to Phyllis Scott, member of the Eagle staff and a basketball fan, the Kappas are rotten sports, which they showed very conclusively in the interfraternity series. . . . Don Newcombe and Dan Bankhead, hurlers with the Brooklyn Dodgers, are both suffering from ailing arms. . . . Lou Williams, under George Moore, acting manager, showed fight fans that he is about ready for bigtime, when he scored a technical knockout over Frank Muche in the fourth round of the scheduled 10-round main event at Ocean Park Arena Monday night. Muche was waved out of action by Referee Reg Gilmore after he suffered a cut over his left eye. The two are lightweights.

ABOUT JACKIE — Anent the world premiere of the picture, "The Jackie Robinson Story," Tuesday, May 16, at the Astor Theatre on Broadway in New York City, we thought we'd bring you up to date on Jackie along the line of statistics. Here goes with some dope gathered by Leo Brody:

MUCHLY HONORED — Before the beginning of the current baseball year, and after only three complete years of major league baseball, Jackie Robinson, star second baseman of the Brooklyn Dodgers, has already amassed 26 national trophies and awards for a total of more honors than have ever come to any ballplayer in history, no matter how many years his career lasted.

The awards, many of which will make their screen appearance in "The Jackie Robinson Story," film version of Robinson's life story in which Jackie himself takes the starring role and which will be released by Eagle Lion Films early in May, line up this way for the statistically-minded: In 1947, Jackie first year with Brooklyn, nine; 1948, four; 1949, the year when he was voted the Most Valuable Player in the National League, twelve; and 1950 to date, one.

Jackie's 1950 award comes from Sports Magazine, which names him "top baseball player of the year." His 1949 honors are: National League's Most Valuable Player; Silver Bat Award symbolic of National League's batting championship; George Washington Carver Memorial Institute Award for the most outstanding contribution to betterment of race relations; Benny Leonard Award for outstanding good sportsmanship; Shaye Morten Ruderfer Award for the Loyal League Philanthropies for Children's Welfare; Award of the Veterans of Foreign Wars for democratic achievement; Award from the Manischewitz Foundation and the U. S. Macabee Association for good sportsmanship; Police Athletic League (PAL) Award for outstanding citizenship; Pittsburg Courier Award for achievement in sports; National Urban League Award for democratic achievement; Freedom's Foundation Award for democratic achievement; and Loyalty Award from the Queens County Chapter, Catholic War Veterans.

In 1948, Jackie received: Award from the Philadelphia Junior Chamber of Commerce as an outstanding citizen; Columbia University American Veterans' Committee Award for democratic achievement; Award from the Industrial Committee of the Wabash YMCA of Chicago; and Award from the Men's Club, Congregation B'nai Israel of Midwood.

In 1947, his first year of play with the Dodgers, Jackie won the Louis Comiskey Award as the Most Valuable Major League rookie; Bud Billiken Chicago Defender Award for outstanding sportsmanship; U. J. Junior Chamber of Commerce Distinguished Service Award for outstanding community service; Award from the personnel of the San Diego Naval Station for outstanding performance in Major League baseball; Award of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People for democratic achievement; Award from the Boys Work Division, Harlem YMCA; Award from the American Business Women's Athletic Club; Amsterdam News Welfare Award; and Omega Psi Phi National Achievement Award.

HIS RECORD—You can't very well get any better than perfect—and Jackie Robinson, Brooklyn Dodgers star second baseman, comes just about as close to that description as anyone who has ever donned a baseball uniform. In "The Jackie Robinson Story," which Eagle Lion Films will release, the full success tale of the most popular player who has ever hit the big leagues will be told, with the star mentioned seen in action portraying himself.

Just look over the record compiled by the second baseman during his first four years of big-time competition, the first year with Montreal in the International League and the next three with Brooklyn in the National League. In his single year with Montreal, he led the International League in batting with a percentage of .349 and tied for the league leadership in runs with 113; in his three years of National League play to date, he has led the league in at least one defensive mark per year—in 1947, when he was named "Rookie of the Year," he topped the double-play department, with 144; in 1948, best defensive second baseman with a percentage of .9795; in 1949, in double plays, with 119—and offensively, in 1947, he led the National League both in stolen bases, with 29, and sacrifice hits, with 28; in 1948, he topped the league by being hit by 7 pitched balls; and in 1949 he piled up the amazing record of a league-leading batting percentage of .342, a total of 37 pilfered sacks to head the league, and 17 sacrifice hits to tie for league leadership.

Lighties Clash in Top Bout

In a main event bout which is certain to prove one of the outstanding fistic treats of 1950, Art Aragon, the classy local contender for the world's lightweight title, meets Tommy Campbell, who is also highly ranked, over the 10-round route at the Olympic Auditorium, Tuesday night, May 16.

A capacity crowd of fight fans is expected to pack the Grand Avenue Punch Palace to the rafters, when these two great boys open hostilities. Two of Aragon's victims have been Enrique Bolanos and Mario Trigo, main eventers of last Tuesday night. He stopped Bolanos and outpointed Trigo. Many other fighters have fallen before "Golden Boy," as he is known along fight alley, most of them via the kayo route.

Campbell is well-known here as one of the smartest boxers now pushing leather in these parts. He is a polished boxer but will have to step lively to escape the potent punches of Aragon, who likes to end matters as quickly as possible. Most of his foes have been blotted out in less than three rounds.

All in all, it looks like fight fans are in for a blistering evening Tuesday when Art and Tommy tangle.

A classy brace of preliminary bouts will precede the main event, it was announced.

Jeff in Easy Win Of Finals

Jefferson's powerful Democrats last Friday put away another Southern League track title following their rout of their other league foes at the Coliseum.

Lang Stanley, Jeff 880 star, tied his own loop mark with a 1.57 effort while William Johnson, also of Jefferson, set a league record in the broad jump at 23 ft. 9 1/4 in. The Demos' Gary Green tied the quarter-mile record with a 49.86 clocking.

In the other league finals Jordan won the Eastern-Marine title, Van Nuys took the Valley pennant. The Northern title went to Huntington Park and Dorsey upset University for the Western flag.

CALIENTE, Old Mexico—Little Jeff, a Washington bred son of the fast stake horse, Sir Jeffrey-Campus Queen, scored a handy victory at the first asking on the border course. It was in the feature race of the day, called "The Saratoga," at one mile and seventy yards. Northeast was made the hot favorite but could do no better than third. Dina Bam, who set a sizzling pace for the first mile, gave away to Northeast in the stretch, but Little Jeff, close up, came to the outside down the home lane to get the victory by a half length. Overlooked in the betting, he paid $13, $6.60, $3.20 across the board. Gold Bolt, with Jockey H. Adams, scored an upset victory over Ketchikan and Annapolis Ayr, the two public choices in the secondary, called The Belmont, paying in the mutuels $14.40.

The Daily-Double combination of Barnello, winner of the second race, and Mike Z, victor of the third, paid $99.20. While the Quiniela holders of Count Gallio and Swan Step, who finished in that order, received $140.

A crowd of more than 6000 fans were on hand to enjoy the day's sport of ings. This Sunday general manager Walter C. Marty has arranged another fine card of twelve races. The features are "The Carnation" and "Mother's Day." The Carnation at one mile and one-sixteenth and the Mother's Day at six furlongs. Maidens, two-year-olds, will travel for the first time five furlongs. The $5,000 cash prize free handicapping contest failed to have a winner, so the $500 program award for the lucky number was awarded after the last race. The first prize of $300 was won by a race man from Los Angeles. The contest will continue for eight more weeks, and if no one picks the seven straight winners from the third race through the ninth, the $5000 will be divided into fourteen prizes, with the capital prize $2,500. . . . Well, folks, here is the news that you have been waiting for. Yes, the dogs return to Caliente this Friday night. Some of the best kennels are now at the border course. P. T. Pryor of Waco, Texas, has some of the best dogs in the country. Having raced in Florida with great success, now invades Caliente. His top dogs are Sunny Scarlet and Rosebud Rambler. The popular general manager, William (Bill) Collier, is all ready for the grand opening Friday.

Jean Patton to Defend Title in Relay Century

The Los Angeles Coliseum Relays which last year showed the flying "Dutch woman," Fanny Blankers-Koen, to 50,000 cheering sports fans, in this year's meet to be held Friday night, May 19, once again comes up with "the woman's angle."

The Relays this year is offering the greatest American 100 yard dash race possible. Here for the event will be Jean Patton of Tennessee State College, Women's National Champion; Dorothy Jacobs of Chicago, a finalist in the Women's Nationals in 1949; Betty Lawrence, West Los Angeles, third in the Nationals, and two swifties from Tuskegee Institute, Nell Jackson and Evelyn Lawlor. Miss Jackson is the National Champion in the 200 meter while Miss Lawlor has one of the best recorded times in the 100 yard dash at 11.2 seconds.

Of course, the favorite in this dash will be Marjorie Jackson, the 18-year-old Australian dasher who twice beat Fanny Blankers-Koen. Marjorie Jackson has established a new world mark for the women's 100 yard dash at 10.7 seconds. That was on grass, but she will be accustomed to cinders by the time of the meet. She has been working out under the tutelage of Dean Cromwell.

Tuskegee Institute is also sending a 440 yard Relay Team which in addition to Nell Jackson and Evelyn Lawlor includes Gladys Talley and Juanita Watson, both outstanding at 50 yards. The team will compete against San Francisco, Chicago and Los Angeles teams.

Enter '50 Relays at Coliseum

For the first time since the 1932 Olympics, a Negro woman track team will perform on the Pacific Coast.

Pet project of Horace E. Owens, Los Angeles Herald American sports editor, the invitation came through to teams from two Negro colleges for participation in the Coliseum Relays here May 19.

The National Women's AAU championship 440 relay team from Tuskegee Institute, Alabama, and women's AAU sprint champ, Jean Patton, of Tennessee state, will participate.

Miss Patton was clocked at 11.2 seconds for the 100-yard dash and 11.6 in the 100-meters.

Nell Jackson, Juanita Watson, Gladys Talley, and Evelyn Lawlor, the Tuskegee Team, has run the quarter-mile in 49 seconds.

Owens was informed Monday the Coliseum Relays committee had wired an invitation to Miss Patton and he personally wired the invitation to the Tuskegee team.

Original efforts of Owens were directed to persuading the committee to extend an invitation to Tuskegee. Evelyn Hall, NAAU chairman for the women's events, suggested an invitation be extended Miss Patton since she is women's in- and outdoor champion—both 100-yard dash and meter.

Mrs. Hall plans a reception for the visiting participants, including tours of the city, appearances on radio and television, and concluding their welcome with a dance at Elks Ballroom.

The opposition list for women's events will be topped by Marjorie Jackson, the lady from Australia, who clocked off a beat of 10.7 in the 100-yard dasher. She licked Mrs. Blankers-Kones twice, chalking up a couple over the Dutch housewife and Olympic champ.

Miss Jackson will anchor the relay team to compete with Tuskegee—her namesake, Nell, will guide the Southern team, thus aiding to make the women's relays one of the feature attractions of the year.

From the "House of Morgan," the relay team from Morgan State college, Baltimore—comes more participants for the relay activities. The gents of the burning cider will acquaint the West with the notable "Hurt System," named for their coach Edward Hurt.

Envy of coaches all over the nation, Hurt, with his team of 48-second quarter-milers, claimed the honors at the Pennsylvania relays—copped the best records in the past ten years—with 33.6 for the mile.

LaBeach Entered in West Coast Relays

FRESNO—One thousand, one hundred and eighty contestants are entered in the 24th Annual West Coast Relays to be run May 13th in Fresno's Ratcliffe Stadium.

The entry list included 261 athletes from 33 junior high and elementary schools; 350 from 46 high schools in California and Nevada; 290 from 27 junior colleges; and 279 from 20 colleges, universities, and athletic clubs.

Entrants in the 100 yard dash include Don Anderson of California, who has run 9.5 this year, Lloyd LaBeach, the unpredictable Panamanian who pushed Mel Patton to his world record 9.3 at the Relays two years ago, and a flock of sprinters who have run 9.6 and 9.7.

Pa. Commish to Name Winner of Robinson-Villemain Bout Champ

NEW YORK—It looks as if the heaviest scrapping over the world middleweight championship is going to take place outside the ring.

The Pennsylvania Athletic Commission was reported ready to seek title status for the 15-round fight in Philadelphia June 5 between Sugar Ray Robinson and France's Robert Villemain, it was announced early this week.

The group tossed the bombshell in the lap of the National Boxing Association at formal signing ceremonies Tuesday at noon in the Quaker City.

The Pennsylvanians' argument is that the Philadelphia bout matches the two best middleweights aaround while the recognized champion, Jake La Motta, is staging a mere "token" defense of his crown.

The Commissioner of the NBA, Abe Green of Paterson, N. J., said the Pennsylvania move had not been brought to his attention.

"I know nothing about it," he declared.

TAKES STAND

In Tuesday's meeting the Pennsylvania Commission acted in declaring it would recognize the winner of the Robinson-Villemain as middleweight champion.

LaMotta was bitter about the

New York Giants Buy Cuban Hurler

NEW YORK (Atlas)—The New York Giants have just announced the purchase of Southpaw Raul Lopez, to be delivered in June.

Lopez pitched a no-hit-no-run game against the Kansas City Monarchs on April 30, while his club, New York Cubans defeated the Kansas City Monarchs 7-0. He struck out seven, and only three runners reach first, two on walks and one on an error.

According to the best baseball observers, Polo grounders may again enjoy such southpaw hurling such as highlighted the days of Carl Hubbel.

whole thing. He said that he was a fighter, ont a matchmaker, when questioned by reporters. Jaké said further that he had not turned down any offers to fight either Robinson or Villemain.

Globetrotters Baseball Team Opens Tour Fri.

SAN ANTONIO, Tex. (Special)

—The name of the Harlem Globetrotters is in good hands this baseball season. The 1950 diamond edition of that organization, managed by Paul Hardy, is off in great shape and apparently headed for an even bigger year than 1949 when 100 games were won while only 19 were lost.

The snappy Globetrotters at present are hooked up in an interesting tour with the able Brooklyn Cuban Giants.

The two teams are scheduled May 12 at Beaumont, Tex.; 13, Austin, Tex.; 14, San Antonio, Tex.; 17, Chattanooga, Tenn.; 18, Nashville, Tenn.; 20, Indianapolis, Ind., and 21, Louisville, Ky.

Ed Hamman the popular baseball clown, is accompanying the two clubs as an added attraction.

Since taking over SC's track and field forces, Coach Jess Hill has not suffered a defeat in dual or open competition.

May Order Bowling Congress to End 'Male White' Members Rule

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The American Bowling Congress which limits its membership to Caucasians males (white men) only "is in a good position to fight for its rights," Frank K. Baker, assistant ABC secretary, Milwaukee, told the National Industrial Recreation Association. The association opened a three-day convention at the Schroeder Hotel.

Courts in Wisconsin, New York and Illinois have ordered or are considering ordering the American Bowling Congress to end its "male white" membership rule. Frank K. Baker said that the ABC had "built up a cash reserve for such emergencies." He said that "we intend to fight for our constitutional rights to operate as a private organization which chooses its own members."

Baker declared that the opposition to the race discrimination in ABC rule had been stirred up "by paid members of the Mayor's commission on Human Rights." He also stated that it was the same "paid members" that caused the American Legion to go on record against the American Bowling Congress membership rule.

Last year the Governor's Commission on Human Rights debated for some time whether "a big stick" or an education program would be most effective in dealing with the American Bowling Congress. After Frank K. Baker's statements I feel that the "big stick" is the only way to deal with such an organization.

The "paid members" that Baker said, "stirred up the discrimination in ABC rule" are paid by the citizens of Milwaukee, and I think that they are doing a god job of "stirring" things up. I am sure that Mr. Frank Baker is opposing the Mayor's commission because he would like to see every organization in America, "lilly white."

In 1949 Robinson, still a comparative "baby" in major league competition, was voted the National League's Most Valuable Player and won a contract for 1950 which calls for a salary of $35,000. He was named to the National League All-Stars and Major League All-Stars teams; he played second base for the National League in the 1949 All-Star game at Ebbets Field; was named "Baseball Player of the Year" by Sport Magazine; and was awarded the Benny Leonard Trophy, the George Washington Carver Institute's Gold Award and the Freedom's Foundation Award.

It's kind of hard to see what else Robinson could possibly have done except figure out a way of playing all nine positions simultaneously. If he could only cook!

FINALE—Tuesday night at the Olympic Enrique Bolanos knocked out Mario Trigo to regain a little prestige in the fight game. . . . Unique in business is the Farm Yard managed by Herbert Bloom and his wife on the corner of West Jefferson and St. Andrews Place. All sort of poultry is dispensed there and there is a complete fish market, also fresh yard eggs. Fishermen deal directly with the Farm Yard which makes for fresh fish. Running this department is Al Brown, once a fisherman of sorts himself. The attractive Hera Evans charms customers behind the counter on weekends. . . . Woody Strode night at the Olympic attracted a large crowd Wednesday night, after which Strode was honored at a party at the Leat. Wood Cafe.

I think that Mr. Baker should get wise and insist that the ABC change its "white male" rule. The rule should be changed because it is undemocratic and opposed to American principles.

Kid Gavilan in Upset Loss to 'Sugar' Costner

PHILADELPHIA—George (Sugar) Costner, flashy Camden, N.J., Negro puncher, boosted himself to a higher spot on the lost of welterweight contenders Monday night with a split decision over Cuba's Kid Gavilan.

Costner was awarded the vote of both judges at the end of the furious 10-round bout at the arena while the referee called it a draw. Both fighters weighed 149½.

Before the fight, Promoter Harry Steinman said he hopes to stage an elimination tourney to select a new welter king if the present titleholder, Ray (Sugar) Robinson decides to abdicate and seek middleweight laurels.

Ezzard Charles Will Coach Kids to Avoid 3 Months' Idleness

CHICAGO (CNS)—It was a disappointed champion who took the news on the chin that it'd be at least three more idle months of waiting, and resting, before he can come up again for examination in order to get an o.k. to fight. But Ezzard Charles, who holds the NBA title, refuses to be idle. He'll spend those three inactive months giving free advice to the many amateur pugs in local gyms in his home town, Cincinnati, and in encouraging and aiding them on in the fight game.

Charles just can't stay away from the fistic world. He attends all the main bouts and goes to the gym regularly, though he is not allowed to workout. Every precaution to follow doctor's orders has been taken by Charles' employees and close companions. He never smokes or drinks but they have trouble with ice cream. He eats enough for four people at a time.

During his "confinement," he hates sympathy. He insists he is strong and healthy and not ailing anyway. To anyone who pities his situation, he's ready to take a poke and prove his strength. "All I want is to fight again," said the champ sadly. "And I will," he added with great hope and belief.

CARTER IN DRAW

CHICAGO—Paul Brooks, 139, Cleveland, and Wray Carter, 140, Chicago, fought to an 8-round draw Monday night in the Marigold Gardens fight feature.

Ask Louis To Return To Ring

NEW YORK CITY—(Calvin News Service)—There are three old men out to break the International Boxing Club but with the drab lineup of fighters, this seems to many to be hardly the season for the trio to launch such an ambitious campaign. However, headed by George R. K. Carter who admittedly offered Joe Louis $100,000 to come out of retirement for a title crack at Joey Maxim, the Big Three are out for the kill. Millionaire Carter made his shekels by operating a gambling casino just outside Washington. He is a former associate of the great Tex Rickard.

Carter has big men behind him too. One is Jack Kearns, former manager of Jack Dempsey, who now handles Joey Maxim, world light heavyweight champ. Carter meanwhile has an option on Sandy Saddler and hopes to get one on Lee Savold.

The fact that International has exclusive rights on Madison Square Garden and St. Nick's Arena doesn't bother these men. Carter claims he'll even build a stadium if necessary. "We can promote in Ebbets Field, Randall's Island, Ruppert Stadium in Newark or Roosevelt Stadium in Jersey City. I'm even considering building a 25,000 seat arena right here in New York."

With Andy Niederreiter as business manager and Chick Bogad as matchmaker, the group is first working on a third Willie Pep—Sandy Saddler featherweight scrap. Saddler, a young Negro boy is considered by many the "best featherweight" around today. They're also buzzing about a Rocky Graziano-Ray Robinson bout.

They're excited about the good news that since Ezzard Charles' latest physical report, Joe Louis has stated that his plans will be changed if Charles is forced to retire. I. B. C. President Jim Norris revealed he had talked with Joe on the phone from Brazil where he is doing exhibitions and mentioned to him the possibility of returning. He seemed anxious, according to Norris.

Carter insists he's "61 and a promoter at heart." And he's ready to sink all the money he's made into this new venture. He only hopes his best drawing card, Joe Louis and Joey Maxim can take place. It would make him another million he says.

Babe Herman Battles Forte at Hollywood

Talented Freddie Babe Herman, one of the busiest boxers on the Pacific Coast, returns to Hollywood Legion Stadium, scene of his latest efforts, to box the hard-socking Johnny Forte in Friday's ten round main event.

The contest will mark Herman's eighth ten rounder of 1950. The crafty Eastside battler has headlined at the stadium on four other occasions this year and has increased his popularity, thanks to his performances there.

Ray Perez and Davey Martinez, who have staged two scorches before, tangle again in Friday's six-round semi-windup. One bout ended up all even, Dave won the other, and is expected to repeat in the third match.

Other bouts scheduled, at four rounds: Dan Nardico vs. Bob Galston, 175 lbs.; Morrie McFarland vs. Al Hernandez, 162 lbs.; Abel Fernandez vs. Monte Clark, 175 lbs.; and Aaron Junior vs. Lee Burton, 137 lbs.

Willis O. Hunter is celebrating his 25th years as director of the University of Southern California athletic department, probably the most championship-conscious in the nation.

GET SET FOR CAMP—Boy Scouts of the "Rainbow Troop" Los Angeles Council, dust off their magic carpet. Scouts of this Troop will leave June 24th for the National Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge where they will camp with 45,000 Scouts from across the nation.

JEFFERSON HIGH SPORTS

Jefferson High's tennis team has done it again! Contrary to popular notion, the Democrats are good at several sports in addition to track. The tennis team, under the guidance of Larry Hanson, has just put the clincher on the Southern League title by a convincing win. This is the

Phoenix Host To Los Angeles Golfing Group

PHOENIX — Dr. Thomas A. Crump, president of the Desert Mashie Golf Club of Phoenix was host to fourteen golfers from Los Angeles recently. The occasion was the annual Invitation Tournament of Desert City Club, held over the beautiful but tricky Phoenix Municipal Course. Dr. Crump, well-known dentist, ably assisted by the Club Tournament Committee, left no stone unturned in making the week-end a most pleasant one for out-of-town golfers. Practically every city in Arizona was represented in addition to the Los Angeles group.

Those participating from Los Angeles were: Dr. C. A. Bradford, Sidney Provost, Stacey Owen, Fred Cumbers, Thop Smith, Lee Young, Dr. William E. Bailey, Mr. and Mrs. Emory L. Cain, Atty. and Mrs. H. Leonard Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Al McDaniel, and Oscar Clisby of Pasadena. Of this group those who won trophies were Oscar Clisby, winner of championship flight; Stacey Owens, runner-up; Emory Cain, the runner-up, "B" flight; Lee Young, runner-up "D" flight; Gwen McDaniel, winner women's division with Carolyn Cain, runner-up.

A gala post-tournament reception and buffet was held at the Phoenix Elks Temple with Louis Jordan, popular band leader, as guest of honor.

third year in a row that the Democrats have taken the cup, and this may be the year when the Demos get their hands on that long-sought-after City Championship trophy. The team has shown power at the net and considerable talent is in the wings for next year. Following is the team line-up:

First Singles: Larry Green.
Second Singles: Claybourne Johnson.
Third Singles: Danny Broussard.
Fourth Singles: William Scott.
Fifth Singles: William Johnson.
Alternate: Joe Swan.
Doubles Teams (alternate 1st and 2nd rankings): Eunice Price and Harold Johnson.
Julian Smith and William Austin.

Jeff's baseball team has refused to take the cellar sport, and has climbed back on the victory wagon with a hefty win over Roosevelt, 8-4. Jeff may be able to take the show spot in the league if they can dump a good team from Manual Arts. Come on out to Ross Snyder and cheer for a team that's had everybody but their coach, rough and tough, Ray Webba, and a few loyal rooters, against them. This is a green team getting needed experience for next year's campaign.

Jeff has proceeded to walk off with seven of the fourteen league championships of the Southern League. They are: A. C. basketball, B football, A. B. and C track and Varsity tennis. No other school in the city can match that!

Sugar A Champ Needing Fight Says Magazine

CHICAGO — "Like a warrior with no new worlds to conquer, Sugar Ray Robinson is a fighter without a fight," says James Goodrich in June Negro Digest, "because middleweight champ Jake LaMotta is ducking a match with Ray despite the NBA announcement that in the future all champions would be forced to 'meet worthy opponents.'"

Champ Ray is used to this type of run-around, the writer says, because the New York Athletic Commission had to take Marty Servo's crown away from him and declare an elimination contest to get Robinson a crack at the welterweight title in 1946. Since that win, few of the ranking welterweights have agreed to meet the champ.

He cannot get a middleweight match either.

"Ray has been anxiously awaiting a chance at the middleweight title for over four years now," the article continues, "but four different champions have cut corners to duck him."

"Sugar has announced to his friends that he is retiring if he does not get a middleweight title match this year," the story ends.

Bach Music in Museum Concert

A program of Bach and pre-Bach music played on instruments similar to those of the period will provide a concert of unusual interest at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park, Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

Sol Babitz, violin; Carol Rosenstiel, harpsichord, and Wesley Kuhale, harpsichord, will play music by Tartini, Bach, Corelli, Couperin, Orlando Gibbons and William Byrd.

The performers have specialized in the techniques required by the several string and keyboard instruments of the 18th century and are able to recall the special charm of the music of this period.

Admission to the concert is free.

Ban Mosquitoes!!!

If you don't want mosquito bites this summer, you should follow these ten rules for ridding your premises of water in which the insects can lay eggs. Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, advised today:

1. Eliminate standing water from your property.
2. Connect desert cooler to sewer.
3. Seal breaks and openings in cesspool.
4. Stock ornamental ponds and pools with larvae-eating fish, which are given away free by the health department. Telephone Richmond 7-8574 for locations and hours of distribution centers.
5. Drain clogged roof gutters and flat roofs.
6. Keep cellars dry.
7. Stack pails, barrels, tubs, and boxes upside down.
8. Drain irrigating standpipes and ditches.
9. Bury, flatten or punch holes in all tin cans.
10. Pour waste oil on standing water that cannot be drained.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Thirty-five Boy Scouts of "Rainbow Troop" 127 of Los Angeles Council will depart by bus June 24 for the Second Boy Scout Jamboree at Valley Forge, Pennsylvania.

Valley Forge will be a highlight in the thirty day tour of the country, however, Scoutmaster Phil Bailey who will be assisted by two other leaders, indicated it would be only one of the many highlights. The trip will take them to such spots as Chicago, Niagara Falls, New York and its automat, and a big league baseball game. The stop at the nation's capitol will include a call on President Truman who will pin one of two Eagle Badges on eligible boys. Eight thousand miles will be covered in all.

The Jamboree itself is a once-in-a-lifetime experience. It is a gathering of Scouts and Scout leaders from across the nation and a few from other countries. They will camp together in Patrols and Troops as they do each summer in their own Troop camps, but to this high adventure experience will be added the spice of democratic living together in a huge tent city of 45,000 boys. At Valley Forge, where the first crisis of American freedom was weathered, boys and young men will drink deep of the spirit of democracy and freedom.

Through the plan devised by the Los Angeles Council, service clubs, merchants, churches and many individuals will help by granting "Jamboreeships" to assist these boys in this undertaking. Scoutmaster Bailey stated, "A Jamboreeship will not take from a boy the character building aspect of earning most of his way but will help make this great event happen in the life of a boy." Anyone desiring to assist in any way may reach Phil Bailey by calling OL 4009.

Documentaries On Art Works Friday Night

Three documentary films describing the magnificent work of the great Flemish painters, Van Eyck, Memling and Rubens, will be shown on the regular Spring series at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park, Friday night at 8 p.m.

"The 'Mystic Lamb' is a camera study of Van Eyck's 15th century masterpiece of the same name. 'Hans Memling' tells about that artist's work in the Hospital of St. John at Bruges. 'Rubens' is a survey of many works by this influential painter. Through comparison with the work of Watteau, Delacroix and Renoir, the film evaluates Rubens' impact on the style of subsequent painters.

Admission is free.

New jobs were created

Now hundreds of businesses were helped

Now a new source of oil was tapped

The story behind deepwater oil

A few years ago, a test well proved there is oil under the great Continental Shelf that extends out into the Gulf of Mexico, and although the well did not produce much, it started one of the most unusual—and expensive—drilling programs in history.

So far, in the search for underwater oil, seven drilling platforms have been built, similar to the one above, as far as 10 miles offshore and in water as much as 65 feet deep. They are set on tubular steel pilings driven 250 feet through the ocean's bottom, for they must be strong enough to withstand Gulf hurricanes.

The story behind this operation is the story of risk...and of determination to do everything possible to find oil for the growing needs of motorists, farms and industries. Each underwater field costs millions of dollars more than any of equal size drilled on land, and although oil has been found, not enough has been produced yet to repay more than a small fraction of the costs.

Meanwhile, the money being risked is creating many jobs, spreading to hundreds of large and small businesses...and helping to keep our economy free, competitive and strong.

Miller And Houston Aid Drive For $500,000 NAACP Legal Fund

Two prominent members of Los Angeles NAACP, Loren Miller and Norman O. Houston, are members of a national committee sponsoring the NAACP's campaign to raise a $500,000 legal defense and bail fund.

Groundwork is already being laid for the local money-raising drive, Atty. Miller said, and the Los Angeles campaign will go into high gear following the NAACP national conference in Boston next month.

"The association, through its Legal Redress Committee, is already carrying on legal fights against discrimination," Atty. Miller said, "but it has often been found that we are without adequate funds to do all the things that we wish."

Edward Carter Maddox, chairman of the Los Angeles NAACP's Legal Redress committee, said that the committee is currently active on the Backstrom extradition case and defense of the Alexander Corporation, a Negro firm, against possible discriminatory practices by the R.F.C., as well as concerning itself with police brutality cases.

Atty. Maddox said the added funds might be used to broaden the committee's fight into such fields as those laid open by the recent California District Court ruling which declared the Japanese Alien land law unconstitutional because the law violated the United Nations charter.

Other state laws, providing discriminatory practices against other minority groups, might be declared unconstitutional in the same way, Atty. Maddox said.

Out of the $500,000 fund which NAACP hopes to raise nationally, $197,000 will be used for community education and legal cases involving educational inequalities, housing discrimination, voting and registration, and due process in criminal cases.

The remainder of the fund would be used as follows: four regional offices, $50,000; local defense funds, for police brutality and other local cases, $75,000; research, $40,000; salaries for national office legal staff, $40,000; and administrative expenses, $97,500.

In addition to Miller and Houston, sponsors include Senator Herbert H. Lehman, Miss Marian Anderson, Francis Biddle, J. R. Booker, Rabbi Judah Cahn, Dowdall Davis, Marshall Field, Lionel Hampton, Hon. Ira W. Jayne, Dr. C. Herbert Marshall, Philip Murray, Jackie Robinson, Dr. Channing H. Tobias, Hon. Charles E. Toney and Dr. Louis T. Wright.

Olympia PTA

Members of Olympia Council P.T.A. will meet Monday, May 8 at 10:00 a.m. in the auditorium of South Gate High School, 3351 Firestone Blvd., South Gate. Presidents of the twenty P.T.A. units of secondary schools will convene with the council president, Mrs. E. J. Stephens, at 9:30 prior to the general assembly.

Topic for the day will be "Playing Together," and Mrs. Harry Eckes, Tenth District Chairman and Manager of Camp Radford for the 1950 outing, will be guest speaker.

The musical program has been arranged by Mrs. Margaret Hazen, head of the music department of the hostess school. Reports on the State Convention held at Santa Cruz, May 3, 4, and 5, will be given by council delegates. Mrs. E. L. Kiter, P.T.A. president of the hostess school, invites all members and interested friends to attend this

Esther Murray Hails Small Business Aid

President Truman's new proposal to enact legislation to aid small business in order to promote the stability of an expanding economy, prevent unemployment and curb monopolies was hailed today by Esther Murray, Democratic candidate for Congress in the 16th District.

"I am happy to see that once again the Administration has given national leadership to the problem of small business," Esther Murray said. "The President has put his finger on a danger spot which must get the immediate attention of Congress."

"Only when the small business man prospers, and when the small wage earner has a job with an adequate salary, will this nation's economic foundation be sound."

"We must not build a house of cards which will topple the moment economic winds blow hard. We cannot permit business to become so top-heavy through monopoly that it will cause the little merchant to fail and perk us into a business slump."

"I think the President, in his special message to Congress, has called attention to a problem which cannot be sidestepped. Small business is an American tradition we must all act to protect and increase," Esther Murray said. (Political Adv.)

Mothers for Peace

There will be fine speakers and a splendid musical entertainment. A daughter member of the organization will greet a mother member. And the keynote of the entire afternoon will be dedication of the women of the world of Peace.

Earl Grant Attends Convention Of Savins And Loan League

M. Earl Grant, president and manager of the Watts Savings and Loan, and vice-president and manager of the Broadway Savings and Loan, will attend the 10th Annual Convention of the California Savings and Loan League to be held on May 15, 16, and 17th in Pasadena, Calif.

Mr. Grant will represent both of these million dollar institutions as an official delegate. Many of the latest techniques and procedures used in the field of savings and loan associations throughout the nation will be discussed by authorities who are well versed in this business. This information will be used to further the progress and development of these two savings institutions to further aid them in being of greater service to the large and growing communities in which they serve.

BACK EAST attending the Insurance Accounting and Statistical Association meeting in Boston is Edgar J. Johnson, secretary-treasurer of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company. Mr. Johnson will visit branch offices in Texas and Chicago before returning.

"Adora's Ritings"

By Adora Lily Ulas

ROBESON, AS I SEE HIM

There are many qualities that make a man—not mere man, but man in the real sense of it. As a non-American, and a side observer, I have endeavored to write facts as I see them; facts that have been hidden; facts that have been misinterpreted and facts the world needs badly. I shall always write facts, for that is my beat.

ADORA

When I heard Robeson sing, and later heard him speak, the magnetism of his voice and the value of his speech, made me sink back into my seat out of dizziness. Then I compared his speech to what I read in the papers. I immediately said to myself, there must be some misunderstanding, for this is contrary to Paul's doctrine. The accusation however, has been corrected in the Eagle, but people don't seem to pay heed because of their blindness to facts.

Paul, as I see him, is a man who fights for the rights of his people. He is no believer in man's inhumanity to man; but rather he believes that all men are entitled to their rights regardless of race, creed, or color. He does not think that the world will be safe for true democracy while some nations, due to their difference in color, experience slavery, and the rest are free.

Paul has only one plea and that is the passage of the Civil Rights Bill, which will abolish lynching, segregation and the rest of similar treatments experienced by the minorities. Why not give Paul what he wants and bury the whole matter? When shall our eyes open in order to differentiate between right and wrong? Maybe never.

Preachers talk about the home yonder where you drink milk and honey and live at large, but Paul says that the world must be built on the solid basic fundamentals of true democracy which will enable us to live peacefully and then we shall be fit to go to heaven. We cannot live peacefully in heaven while we eye each other balefully on earth.

I have only seen two great Americans. One dead, which was President Roosevelt, and the other still living, in the person of Paul Robeson. Maybe I will live to see more, not only in America, but on other parts of the globe. I love to write about great men and women, for the facts about them are worth knowing. Any individual who is true to himself should rely on nothing but true facts; false propaganda does not pay, for it makes propagandist cheap, and believe me, readers of my column, I shall always give you facts for it is my special beat.

Howard U. Elects Sojourner Truth Home

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Two prominent Washingtonians have been elected to the Board of Trustees of Howard University.

George E. C. Hayes, prominent attorney who is legal advisor of Howard University and has taught in the Law School at Howard for 21 years, was elected to fill the vacancy created by the retirement of Dr. C. C. Spaulding, of Durham, N. C., president of the North Carolina Mutual Life Insurance Company, who has been a member of the Board of Trustees for 15 years. Dr. Spaulding was elected an honorary trustee.

Dr. Dorothy Fosdick, a prominent Washington foreign affairs expert, was elected to the Board to fill the vacancy created by the death of the late Thomas Jesse Jones, of New York, N. Y., who died on January 5 after having served on the Board for 36 years.

The Trustee Board re-elected six of its members for new three-year terms, to expire in 1963. They were Attorney Harry J. Capehart, of Welch, W. Va.; Dr. Mordecai W. Johnson, president of Howard University; Mr. Lorimer D. Milton, of Atlanta, Ga., chairman of the Board of Trustees; Dr. Peter Marshall Murray, of New York, N. Y.; and Dr. Channing H. Tobias, of New York, N. Y. Mrs. Juanita Howard Thomas, of Washington, D. C., was re-elected Alumni Trustee.

Final plans are in the making for the Mother's Day dinner to be given at the Sojourner Truth Home on Sunday, 1119 East Adams Blvd., beginning at one o'clock. According to the chairman, Mrs. Florence Carter, the dining room will be in charge of Mrs. Fitzgerald. Many outstanding artists will appear on the program. The Mother's Day theme will be in evidence throughout the day.

Two of the oldest mothers, in the persons of Mrs. E. A. Johnson and Mrs. Georgia Robinson, will be honored. The public is invited to attend and reservations can be made by calling the Home and contacting the director, E. Woodfolk.

Horace Alexander State Head YPA

Horace Alexander, Negro youth leader who is chairman of the group in the area, and who is national vice-president of the NAACP Youth Councils, will assume top leadership as the state director of the Young Progressives of America, California, replacing Harriet Jaffe, who will continue working with the group as administrative secretary.

It is clear that Alexander is the most capable person to lead the group. He has given the clearest leadership in the attempt to build a large youth organization which will effectively meet the needs of young America. Working to build support to a national youth bill of rights—for jobs and aid to unemployed young workers and students—he was the main organizer of youth support to the recent Sacramento jobs lobby, and is today working for further local activity to guarantee the passage of such measures for jobs for young people.

Urban League at Yale

Equal responsibility for discriminatory hiring practices in industry was assigned to the community as well as business when speaking to 140 industrial sociology students at Yale University, New Haven, Connecticut, Julius A. Thomas, industrial relations director of the National Urban League stated that "there is a positive correlation between patterns of employment in industry and patterns of community living."

Mr. Thomas warned the sociology students against ivory-tower thinking in human engineering in this field. "It is one thing," he declared, "to talk of fair employment practices as abstractions, or academic problems. It is another matter entirely when dealing with long-standing patterns in the community and in industry. That democratic employment is successful has been proven by the experiences of industry during the war years, and by major industries which have practiced such principles for many years."

ELAJC CAMPUS NOTES

The past weekend was one long to be remembered by the members of the younger social set. The track meet in Santa Monica was one of the great events of Friday afternoon. As usual the ELANS were the greatest guys on the field. James Wells, Dean Vinson, Buddy Brewer, and Louis Augustine were part of the troupe that put ELA's tracksters on the top; they even decided to break a few records. Lowell Brinson and "Stico" celebrated their victories by taking turns playing the guitar on the field. Seen cheering in the stands were Louise Vaughn, Willie Lane, Jackie Nicholas, Ranell Phillips and many, many more.

The Alpha Bowling Center was also the scene of much gaiety Friday night. The APPOLLINS were hosts to an immense crowd. Noticed Charles Lloyd in the dance floor diligently taking notes as all good reporters should. Also saw columnist Delores Ivory and her sister, Barbara, sitting in the lounge looking very smart in some of the spring's most becoming fashions. Evelyn Dotson formed a stag line of her very own, some of the lucky men were Clarence Renty, Richard Ford and Fred Johnson. You just haven't seen dancing until you see Charles Hill (the life of City College) do the Texas hop to Tiny Bradshaw's "Well Well." Waved to Gloria Thompson (lovely ELA coed) as she danced by in the arms of ???

By special request I was asked to print a statement that Madeline Carter was definitely not engaged and did not wish to be associated with this column at all. That is perfectly all right with this columnist, only I am wondering if that is another one of your methods for excluding yourself from the well-known ELANS ???

"Well, they are right on top now, who do I mean? Why the SIGMAS, OF COURSE. Again Saturday night they scored a great victory over the KAPPAS in one of the greatest games of the season. Now there is little doubt left about the last Saturday night.

Overseen and Overheard in the Doghouse

A lovely young lady seated in the Doghouse was surrounded by three handsome young men desperately trying to compete with them in a game of dominoes, and doing a very bad job of it.

Finally one of the young men, looking very, very disgustedly asked her very sweetly "When did you learn to play dominoes, dearie?" Before she had a chance to answer, he said, "I know it was today, but what time today???" Carol Morris, walking in looking as cool as a cup of coffee in the doghouse at eight o'clock. Teddy Young looking debonair and victorious after taking third place in a city-wide oratorical contest. Monday morning Mary Catherine Wright came running in the doghouse almost breathless. "Kathy," she panted, "Henry Ford is on the campus, imagine that!!!! Naturally it sounded incredible, so I asked if she was sure. "Sure," she said, "I know it because I saw his car outside and it had "Ford" on the front, the sides, and the back"!!!!!!

Palm Lane Celebrates 1st Anniversary

The Palm Lane Tenant Council celebrates its first anniversary in commemoration of a year's militant struggle in Southeast Los Angeles, with festivities beginning at 6 p.m. on Saturday, May 13, at 508 West Florence Ave., Inglewood.

Ollie McDonald, of concert and television fame, will entertain. A trio will play for the dancing. There will be an abundance of food and drinks, with prizes of beautiful ceramic objects.

All donations received will be used for a summer recreation program for underprivileged youth in Palm Lane and Willowbrook area.

The public is invited.

During Public Education Week the parents are extended a special invitation to visit the schools, so that you may see your child in action during school hours. I think, not only in Public Education Week, but whenever you possibly can you should pay a visit to the class room, where you may see some of the ways in which your child spends his time, see how much time he uses for play and how much he spends studying, by these periodic visits you and the teacher may become better acquainted, and exchange a few of each others problem concerning your child which will give a better understanding of how you both may solve some of the little faults of the School Age Child to make him a better citizen for tomorrow.

Counts, Kings and Queens Thank Golden State Insurance

These two clubs would like to take this space to show how grateful we are to Golden State Insurance Co. for treating their representatives Biss Hartfield and Jodie Barnett to a very enjoyable day. We think with the enthusiasm shown by these two youngsters in our past weeks' programs that it really had a great effect on them. Unconsciously the Golden State Insurance Company's well organized institution has helped many youngsters by helping them lead well organized lives.

We here at the Watts Playground and the YWCA are sure that these two young men will benefit greatly from the trip they took to Golden State.

Jordan High

The double T.B. X-ray assembly that was held in our auditorium recently, was enjoyed by all our students.

There was a skit which included Raymond Griffin, a villain; Bennie Walker, as narrator; several girls taking an X-ray; Mrs. Vidal and Mr. Smith as teachers.

There was also a film shown. This film was produced by the Office of Coordination. It was shown as part of the education program conducted by Los Angeles County in connection with the X-ray survey. The title of this film was "Tuberculosis."

The object of the assembly was to promote the use of the X-ray and to give an understanding of why it is important. It was brought out that X-rays allow doctors to prevent T.B. by early treatment, and help us all to know the causes of tuberculosis. Contrary to popular opinion, tuberculosis is not inherited and is contagious.

The film was especially good, a sit pointed out all of these ideas. If you missed getting your X-ray taken while the mobile unit was here at the school, you can go to the police station on 103rd Street and have your X-ray taken. Please remember that this will not only help you, but others also.

Borough Plan For Los Angeles Under Serious Consideration

Positive action for movement in the direction of decentralization of Los Angeles was taken earlier this week when a legislative committee headed by Assemblyman Vincent Thomas of San Pedro met with a group of UCLA officials in the office of Dean Paul Dodd of the college of letters and science.

Evolved was a proposal for uni-to keep the affair on the highest level possible. This is an attempt to show the graduating class Summer '50 the things that can be accomplished through a well planned program.

The Counts realize the need for some type of entertainment on Graduation Night for the celebration of this eventful night can well be the making or breaking of any young lives. It was this thought that motivated the organization of this dance.

versity political science experts to study Los Angeles and present a plan for sectional government with civic cohesion. Thomas declared that the people living in the outlying sections of Los Angeles are "utterly disgusted with the present system of government." He suggested a five borough system similar to that in New York and London.

It is proposed that a report on the survey would be available by the first of the year and be used as the basis for recommendations on procedure in setting up a new plan of civic government.

According to Thomas, he will institute a bill in the legislature enabling any community in the state to organize a decentralized form of government, should the city councilmen fail to make a referendum vote on the proposed change possible.

LETTERS to the EDITOR

Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dear Charlotte Bass:

Inasmuch as I consider you one of the elect, I am sending you the enclosed letter which I hope you can use.

It was great being able to greet you in person at the Progressive Party convention.

I cannot tell you how helpful the issues of The Eagle are down here where many people are hungry for such news.

Cordially,

Clara M. Vincent.

(Editor's Note: We are glad to publish the letter spoken of.)

Dear Charlotte Bass:

A recent thoughtful and laudable column in The Chattanooga Times by Editor Mynders prompts this letter. It is most encouraging to read that a growing number of Americans do not care for the poetry (at least it is called that) of the confessed traitor Ezra Pound. His contempt for democracy and his open collaboration with the enemy during World War II did not prevent him from receiving an award from the Library of Congress. However, a seeming indication that certain Americans are drawn to poetry by the Pound.

I am sure that it was this type of degeneracy which caused Walt Whitman to write the following lines in September of 1870 in his Democratic Vistas: "I say we had best look our times and lands searchingly in the face, like a physician diagnosing some deep disease. Never was there, perhaps, more hollow-ness at heart than at present, and here in the United States. Genuine belief seems to have left us. The underlying principles of the States are not honestly believed in (for all this hectic glow, and these melodramatic screamings), nor is humanity itself believed in."

"What penetrating eye does not everywhere see through the mask? We live in an atmosphere of hypocrisy throughout. A scornful superciliousness rules in literature. The spectacle is appalling. In vain do we march with unprecedented strides to empire so colossal, outvying the antique, beyond Alexander's, beyond the proudest sway of Rome. It is as if we were somehow being endowed with a vast and more and more thoroughly-appointed body, and then left with little or no soul."

If it is true as Shelley wrote that "Poets are the unacknowledged legislators of the world," the surely it is reflected in the mad McCartheys and the ribald Hankins. Need we ask where they and the scheming evil ones who sick them on get their inspiration? Perhaps they don't particularly like poetry, but with half an eye one can see that it is part of the plane to silence and shackle the very spirit upon which America was founded.

But Whitman did not utterly despair, nor do the many who have a divine spark within them. In his Democratic Vistas he goes on to say, "Behind this fantastic farce, enacted on the visible stage of society, solid things and stupendous labors are to be discovered."

Justifying his (Whitman's) faith in the poets to come, Dr. George Abbe, novelist, poet and teacher of creative writing in one of our large universities, has just written the following challenging lines after an attempt by the fearful to thwart an open debate. He has very kindly consented to having them passed on to a wider audience.

ACADEMIC FREEDOM DENIED

By George Abbe

Now wake, you people of a cloistered knowledge,
And on the keys of living strike a cord.

The time is now. The air is ripe for courage.

Burn on the strings of need a singing word.

What value is your learning, if in the hour

Of mortal peril it can cry no power?

Here is the coin's refusal, the owners thong

Bound at your throat, and you emit no sound.

When you have walked from classroom to the grave,
What note will vibrate, showing what you gave?

What memory will lift the scholar's head?

Brave teacher, teach that boldness is not dead.

Sitting long hours at the instrument of truth,

You know its contour, its assembled plan,

Now that oppression shouts, there is no truce.

Strike on the instrument the deeds of man.

Subdue the canny fear, the wise denial;

Drown casuistry in fierce and flaring glory;

On academic forehead burn your trial,

From your stretched fingers stream tradition's story:

Greeley and Whitman, Paine and angry Shelley.

Yes, it is time again; and if you seek

To husband strength that you may later rally,

Then in that fatal hour, your hands will be too weak.

And so to all the editors and teachers who see that "The air is ripe for courage, and on the keys of living strike a chord, subduing canny fear," our gratitude does flow.

Sincerely yours,

Clara M. Vincent,
Chattanooga, Tenn.

Dear Mrs. Bass:

The Board of Directors and staff of the Los Angeles Urban League wish to take this opportunity to express their appreciation for your cooperation in publicizing our Annual Award Program.

We wish to especially thank you for the many news releases and pictures which appeared in the Eagle before and after the program.

We know it was publicity such as this that helped to make our program so successful.

Kindly convey our appreciation to your staff.

Sincerely,

REMARKABLE HAIR and SCALP FORMULA

After many years of research and practice, Doctor Morris developed a remarkable formula for dry, scaly, itchy scalp, dandruff, unruly, excessive falling hair. It consists of a special medicated tar, oxyquilonine — two powerful antiseptics incorporated with other valuable ingredients.

This scientific combination does such fine work, that many doctors regard it highly and recommend it for many scalp troubles of local nature. This remarkable formula is known as "TAREX." Get it from your drug store. Use it on your short-looking hair and scalp for 7 short days. If you aren't delighted, if your hair doesn't look gloriously smooth, longer, straighter, lovelier—your $1.00 back. Upon receipt of $1.00, we will send "TAREX" anywhere postpaid. NAACP YOUTH COUNCIL CAR—Its slogan: "PEACE & PROGRESS"... in the parade commemorating the opening of the South Park Swimming Pool, May 6th. The parade was sponsored by the Southeast Coordinating Council.

If you keep a list of out-of-town numbers, you'll find calls are put through much faster—often in 30 seconds.

TIPS FOR TOP LONG DISTANCE SERVICE

Ways to save money and minutes on out-of-town calls

1. Reduced rates begin at six in the evening... and between six and seven is a good time to call. Long Distance rates are low. And nights and Sundays are a particularly fine bargain. For $2.00 or less (plus tax) you can make a station call anywhere in the country. After the first three minutes, time is charged by the minute... not as another three-minute period.

3. When you call across the country or across town, you're using a service that's a finer value than ever before. With your telephone, you can reach twice as many people as 10 years ago. You can call more of the people you want to call... more can call you. And at rates that make your telephone a real bargain.

2. For best service, place your call with the operator like this: First, tell her the name of the town you're calling... then the telephone number (or the name and address). Next, if it's a person call, give her the name of the one you want to reach. And if you've made notes ahead of time, you'll find you can say as much in three minutes as in an average letter.

Baha'i World Faith

The "Many and the One" is the subject on which Mrs. Chas. Reed Bishop will address the public meeting of Baha'i World Faith to be held at their Los Angeles headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday afternoon, May 14, at 3:30 p.m.

Mrs. Bishop says, "Baha'is believe in one God. God has revealed His Word in each period of history through a chosen individual. He restates in every age God's purpose and will. Abraham, Moses, Buddha, Zoroaster, Christ and Muhammad were Manifestations of God. From age to age a new light from God brings progressive revelations. Baha'ullah is the Manifestation of God for our time."

"When my... mother forsakes me, then the Lord will take me up" (Psalm 27:10) will be the key Scripture for the Mother's Day sermon by Rev. B. Clarence Cooke who will speak on the subject, "A Motherly God," on Sunday, May 14, at 10:45 a.m., at the Greater Faith Baptist Church, 1446 West 36th place.

There will be special music by the Greater Faith Church Choir, under the direction of Victoria Rice Cooke. The "Hour of Intercession" will begin promptly at 11 a.m. All people of all faiths are invited to worship with Greater Faith Baptist.

in the main auditorium of the First Unitarian Church, 2936 West 8th Street on Friday, May 12, at 8 p.m.

The newly organized Theatre Lab of the First Unitarian Church, is now at work rehearsing the powerful anti-war play, "Bury the Dead" by Irwin Shaw, for presentation the latter part of June.

Margrit Roma, the director, has played leading roles in pre-Hitler Germany and in Paris where she made here debut in an American film. She was among the European emigres to this country during those pre-war years.

Mrs. Chapman Recital

The Women's Society of Wesley Methodist Church presents Marguerite Robinson Chapman, lyric soprano, in a recital, Sunday, May 14, at 4:15 p.m., in the Sanctuary of the church, 112 West 52nd street.

Mrs. Chapman has a voice of rare quality and possesses an art of interpretation of the music she sings that immediately grips her audience and holds them throughout her performance.

She was a student of the University of Southern California's School of Music. Mrs. Chapman has sung on many radio programs and was the first Negro singer to be signed for a long-term contract with the RKO Studios.

10 Nights' Revival

Beginning Monday, May 15, 7:30 p.m., an old fashioned revival for 10 nights, with Emma D. Hicks conducting services, at the Jesus of Nazareth Udenom-inational Church, 3207 South San Pedro street.

Everyone is welcome to come out and worship with us and have a glorious time. Preaching and healing also. Services will be held also on Sunday mornings, 11:30 o'clock.

John Howard Choir

The John Howard Choir was presented in concert May 7 at the Trinity Independent Church of Christ. Those present were spiritually moved as they heard a gospel message through song. Everyone was impressed by the unusual musical arrangements of Mrs. Rose Ogletree.

REV. JEANETTA O. CHINN gives a true message on healing by faith. No charges are made. Hours are 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. daily. Rev. Chinn may be contacted by phone, AD. 1-8292, at 1862 East 41st place.

Spring Accents Highlighted In Omaha Wedding Ceremony Delta May Week Program

During the past week budding trees, the almost sudden appearance of smooth velvety green lawns, plant shoots peeping from beneath the soil, men busy after a day's work with hoe and rake, youth on bicycles, the opening of the baseball season and April weddings all issued into full being, fresh, beautiful and real.

Likened unto the sweetest note in all of this splendor of Spring, amidst a setting of green palms, candelabra and the most harmonious colors in a rainbow, Miss Shirley Owen, daughter of Mrs. Thelma Owen and Mr. Johnnie Owen became the bride of Welcome Turner Bryant on the third Sunday in April in a double ring, candlelight ceremony at Hope Lutheran Church, 30th and Corby streets, 4 p.m., with Rev. Helmut Henry Schawland officiating.

On the arm of her paternal cousin, Kenneth L. Rogers, the bride marched down a candlelit aisle set off with white posts taped in white satin ribbons.

Equisitely gowned in her own original creation, made with her own hands, the bride was breath-takingly beautiful.

The gown of imported Chantilly lace, white satin and nylon was made with a fitted bodice of the Chantilly lace, a sweetheart neckline which ended in pointed cuffs at the wrist. An extremely full skirt of nylon over satin ended in a most lovely court train. A Chantilly lace tiara held the nylon illusion veil. The bride carried a cascade bouquet of white roses.

Miss Barbara Waldron, maid of honor, wore a yellow silk faille gown and carried a bouquet of pastel colored sweet peas tied with ribbons to match her gown and mitts.

The bridesmaids wore gowns of pastel colored silk faille made with fitted bodices and full, flowing skirts. Their mitts and ribbons on their bouquets matched their dresses. Misses Nadine Hancock in peach, Florentine in white, Barbara Long in lilac and Dolores Lytel in powder blue made a striking and beautiful contrast to the bride in her ethereal white.

The ring bearers, Shearon Elaine Burden, cousin of the bride wore pink and Karen Myers, yellow silk faille dresses, exact replicas of the gowns worn by the bridesmaids.

Janet Myers and Sherry Harrison, flower girls in green and electric blue silk faille dresses of the same make as the other attendants completed this picture of fairyland beauty.

Lavern Farmer was best man. Alfred Grice, Earl Hunnigan, Von Richard Trimble and James Forrest ushered.

The bride's mother wore an eye arresting heavenly blue net over taffeta for her daughter's wedding. It was fashioned with a fitted bodice, completed with a Peter Pan collar and a full flowing, long skirt. The simplicity of her gown made it the more impressive. Her shoulder corsage was of pink carnations. Mrs.

Flora Pinkston was at the organ. Miss Jacqueline Johnson was soloist.

A reception in the church parlors followed the ceremony from 4:30 to 6 o'clock.

The bride's table, a picture of artistic beauty, in the center of the room, was centered with a three tiered wedding cake, atop of which was a white wedding bell in front of which stood a miniature bride and groom. A cut glass bowl of sparkling, delectable fruit punch was placed at the end of the room. Ice cream, cake, nuts and mints were served.

Hostesses and assistants for this auspicious occasion were Mesdames Lydia Bradley and Estell Burden, cousins of the bride, Susie M. Yancey, Anna Mary Kennedy and Mildred Bailey. Misses Frances Bell and Belle Buckner. Mrs. Schauland, wife of the pastor and many other parishioners of Hope Lutheran Church were most cooperative and cordial in making things go smoothly.

The groom's father, Rev. Fletcher J. Bryant was present for the ceremony. The groom's mother was unable to attend the ceremony because of illness and absence from the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Clem Duncan, uncle and maternal aunt of the bride, who reside in Portland, Oregon, were unable to attend the wedding because of the illness of Mr. Duncan. Mrs. Mary Oglesby, cousin of the bride and Mrs. Goldie Wellingham of Chicago, Illinois came to Omaha for the ceremony. The couple received many beautiful and useful gifts from relatives and friends. Omahans join their relatives in wishing for these newlyweds unending happiness.

They are at home to friends at 2822 Franklin street.

Mrs. Bryant has the distinction of being the first private secretary to be employed to an executive in the Insurance Division of The Northwestern Bell Telephone in Omaha.

HOLLYWOOD—When the census taker called at Robert Mitchum's house, only Mrs. Mitchum and the two boys were home. Bob being at work in RKO Radio's "His Kind of Woman." The census taker asked Bob's occupation. "Actor," replied Mrs. M. "He is not," interjected six-year-old Chris. "He's a movie star!"

Opollins at the Alpha

Opollins staged a successful comeback among party-givers when they produced one of the finer events of the year at the Alpha Friday night. Little Lois Harris was "It" for the night—sweet as a sugar plum, dainty as a dove. Dorothy McBride came with our good newspaper friend, Daisy Colly, former City College beauty, was with Charles Johnson, and John Mollins was the bachelor type. There were the two "Nells", Bernardine Francis, the fine one, and Dolores McCrimmon, the cute one. Also was Erma Thompson, the sweet one.

There was Poly Pretty Jean Humbert, with the love flame burning between her and Jim Lewis. "Pretty Eye," Francine Fortier was the center of attraction between the two Roberts. Kathy Keys rigged in fine clothes and Toy Taylor came with the three beauties from Roosevelt High, Mary Jordan, Mary Carnell, and Augustine Johnson. Cliff Allen was clad in leper skin shirt and cap, while Phillip Bean was becoming the latest man about town. There were Kathy and Pat Allen, and Kenneth Leon with Betty Brandom.

Betty Jones was saying, "it isn't so" between her and George Brown. Tip Bailey, the popular guy, was up from the West Temple district, and Leatrice Wesson and Jeanette are old friends we met anew. Together were a bunch of beauties led by Barbara Rakestraw, truly a work of art; Beverly Wallace, sister of Ed; Lela Horton, sister of James; and Bettie McMinn.

Bertha Taylor was wearing her engagement ring given by Walter Hart. "He'll be home soon," she said, "and until then I'm just waiting." There was Mary Jackson; and Janet Draper, only one of the Big Three. There were Genes: Earl Broady, who has been promoted to the rank of Duke; and Henry Finks, lonesome for Alice whom he hadn't seen in a week. If we ever saw a fine chick, Geneva Boote is one.

In other roles were: Sylvia Taylor with Irene Brown, and Chuck Neal saying "we're going back together again"; ex-sailor Raymond Scott, and "singing" Sam McGruder.

ALPHA AFTERMATH

Knowing that they haven't got the best basketball team on the court, but realizing, too, that they are the lodest and grandest Negro frat in the nation, the good Alpha brethren rallied to a worthy cause when they saluted the frat champs with an aftermath dance Sunday. Lead-off man was little John Cope, new Sphinx pledge, and fine material. Up next was Brother Ples Griffin and that well dressed Otis Williams of UCLA.

"King" Arthur Lewis was with his queen, Zoe Wise, back from her trip; and Mary Drye came with "photographic" Johnny Gipson, up from Howard. Likeable Lillian Williams was with Melvin Mansfield, and Jackie Thomas was with Thurmond Johnson. Basketball wizard Kenneth Hill was with cover girl Gloria Crouch who said, "he has been for the last two years."

Peggy Beasley was with her loved, Louie Robinson. Peggy is 19 and a physical ed major at Pepperdine College. She is crazy in her studies and crazy about Louie. Russell Jones escorted graceful Grace Davis; Big Bro. Morris Hamilton is the new dean of pledges, and Bob Brewington was dean of the bar.

Parthenians present were Coris Myles, Cecellia Stamps, LaVera Porter, Jewell Johnson, and Jessie Burley. Gentleman with the bow tie was William Benfield with Barbara Cohens. Also was Kathy Kimbell and Pauline Smith, getting the now as the best dressed duo of the nite.

Space and time are running out fast, but we must mention this: Highlighters come to light with a "Cotton Hop" at the Alpha Friday nite. All the "Nellies" will be on hand to welcome you, and they promise a special treat in good music. . . . For a combination of cute freckles, beauty, and friendship, choose Mildred Pilkington. Good night.

End of Segregation in California Prisons Demanded by CRC

An end to segregation in the prisons of California was sought in a complaint for an injunction filed this week by the Civil Rights Congress and a group of taxpayers. Named as defendants are Richard McGee, head of the prison system, and Governor Earl Warren, who appointed and has the power to remove Mr. McGee.

The complaint charges that complete segregation prevails for Negro prisoners in the dining rooms of San Quentin and Folsom prisons. Such segregation, according to the complain, is in violation of the California Constitution, the United States Constitution, the United Nations Charter and the public policy of the State of California.

Aubrey Grossman, West Coast Director of the Civil Rights Congress, in announcing the filing of the suit, said:

"This Jim Crow condition in the state's prisons is the background out of which grows, and which serves to explain the things that have happened to Wesley Robert Wells. Wells is facing execution today because he fought against Jimcrow in the state's prisons and thereby incurred the deadly hatred of certain state officials."

"These Jim crow practices explain other things beside why Wesley Robert Wells is scheduled to die. They also explain how Governor Warren could sign an order, last week, sending Eugene Backstrom back to a Mississippi chaingang for a certain crime he did not commit, after being denied almost all his constitutional rights. In doing this Governor Warren acted in the face of opposition from the Civil Rights Congress, the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, the Labor Union of Los Angeles, the American Civil Liberties Union, Backstrom's employer, and many others."

"This suit was filed because state officials show no signs of redeeming their promises of several years ago that this blot on the good name of our State would be wiped out."

"We hope that decent and democracy-loving people of this state will not sit back now and hope that the courts alone will take care of this situation. We, of the Civil Rights Congress, ask support for our demand which we are now addressing to Governor Earl Warren, and Director Richard McGee, for the immediate abolition of segregation and discrimination, in all their forms, in the prisons of this state."

Formal Opening Masonic Hall

Redecoration of the newly acquired Westside Masonic Hall has just about been completed, and the formal opening of the beautiful quarters of the hall will be held Sunday, May 14, 1950, according to Wilbur Lewis, chairman of the building committee.

Prominent civic and fraternal leaders will participate on the colorful program arranged by Knights of the West Club, auxiliary of Western Knights Lodge No. 56. The program will be from 3:30 to 5 p.m.

The hall will be open for public inspection starting at 11 a.m. Sunday, May 14, 1950.

WOMEN OF THE BIBLE

Mozelle Te Outley presents a beautiful pageant, titled "WOMEN OF THE BIBLE," Sunday evening, May 14th, in the auditorium of McCoy Memorial Baptist Church, 802 E. 46th St. This pageant will be a fitting climax to Mother's Day, and will feature thirty women in biblical costumes. Each character will give a sketch of her life and the contribution she made to Old and New Testament history. The vocal solos that will be rendered and the incidental organ music will lend much to this Sunday evening worship. This presentation will begin at 7:30 o'clock, and is under the auspices of the Radio Active Club with Mrs. M. Lockhart, president; Fannie Moore, secretary; Hazel Waters, business manager, and Rev. E. A. Anderson, pastor.

Union Campaign Launched At Cedars Of Lebanon Hospital

Local 95 of the Social Service Employees, UOPWA have undertaken an organization campaign at Cedars of Lebanon Hospital. The drive opened Monday morning with the distribution of leaflets at the hospital and with a request from Byron Morrow, local president, and the organizing committee to meet with officials to discuss the list of abuses and violations reported at the hospital.

Heralded in labor circles as the biggest campaign to organize the unorganized launched in recent months, the local 95 action follows close on the heels of several abortive raiding attempts directed against it by national CIO forces.

Morrow indicated that a great number of the hospital employees have signed with local 95, and he expressed confidence that the union's outstanding record for non-discriminatory and democratic treatment of all members will aid in rapidly signing a majority of the employees.

E.D. Should I return to school?
ANS. Since it is your desire to apply for a civil service position, it would be wise to first consult the list which gives you the necessary qualifications for said position. After which you should decide the course you are best suited for. If you feel that you need any further instructions regarding that particular work, then plan to attend some school to prepare yourself for this job.

L. J. Will I ever marry again?
ANS. Your Lucky Stars and Guiding Planet indicate many changes in your life, one of which will be another marriage. The time is not given but you will find much happiness with this person.

B.B. Will we take the trip this summer? Should we drive or go by train? Should we consider taking anyone else with us?

ANS. Only one question is answered in the column, I suggest your writing in for a private reply at your earliest convenience. Merely send your letter addressed to this paper to Prof. Herman, giving your complete birthdate, address and name, plus the 25c for mailing, and a prompt reply shall be forthcoming.

Harry Bridges Rally at Olympic May 26

Harry Bridges, J. R. Robertson and Henry Schmidt—the three International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union leaders convicted of perjury in a San Francisco court—will take their case to the people of Los Angeles in a mass defense rally to be held at the Olympic Auditorium, 1801 S. Grand, May 26, beginning at 8 p.m.

Chairman of the meeting will be Robert W. Kenny, former state attorney-general, now campaigning for election as Los Angeles County State Senator, who testified in behalf of Bridges during the government's fourth trial of the union leader.

Flanking Bridges, Robertson and Schmidt as speakers at the rally will be Vincent Hallinan, chief defense counsel in the fourth trial, and James Martin MacInnis, associate defense counsel.

The mass meeting will signal the opening of a campaign by the Bridges-Robertson-Schmidt Defense Committee to take the story of the frameup into every corner of the nation.

Tickets to the rally will sell for 60 cents general admission and $1.20 for seats in the first 10 ringside rows of the big fight arena.

Doings About Omaha

by G. Anita Hayes

By G. Anita Hayes

The week of May 1st has been a whirl of activities both social and civic. Dr. and Mrs. Henry H. Towles of Los Angeles, California arrived last Sunday to spend a week with their relatives, Mr. R. H. Towles of 2621 Wirt Street and Mr. and Mrs. Nat Towles of 2626 N. 24th Street. Dr. Towles is a well known West Coast physician and President and Medical Director of the Golden State Mutual Life Insurance Company of Los Angeles. Many social courtesies were extended to this prominent couple during their stay in Omaha. Those who missed meeting them, definitely missed a rare treat from the statements made by those who met them. They returned home over the weekend.

The National Conference of Christians and Jews sponsored an Institute on Outer Group Education at Joslyn Memorial on Thursday, May 4, 1950. Quite a number of persons from church, educational, social work agencies and professional groups participated in the program as speakers, discussion leaders and for purposes of explaining the function of the various organizations in the city. Mrs. Bettye Davis Pittman, attorney, presided at the Symposium Dinner meeting, which was held at Central High School. The subject for this session was "How To Develop a Community Program of Inter-Group Education." Out of the sessions for the day and evening emerged a resolution which was acted on by the group. The resolution in essence was to work on and toward better understanding in Inter-Group relations via school, religious, leisure time and other organizational programs of education without arousing obvious antagonisms. The writer of this column sees and feels the futility in such a resolution which appears to be weak, passive and without the problems which face all groups proper basic approach of the in a world torn by insecurity and war hysteria. For persons, so well prepared in a group, the result and plan being still an educational one seems inconsistent as well as passe. Any program, sincerely attacked in a concrete way must and will necessarily arouse antagonisms among those who insist on practicing and carrying out policies of discrimination and segregation despite the free and equal rights accorded all in the provisions and articles in the Constitution and Bill of Rights. America is in acute need of action programs since over a period of years the education plan has had the spot light.

Rev. A. Wayman Ward, his son, A. Wayman the III and a friend John Smith arrived in Omaha Friday to spend several days with Rev. Ward's sisters and their families, the A. Wendell Collins, Jeanette, of 2820 N. 26th Street and the George Coopers, Ocie, of Council Bluffs, Iowa.

Rev. Ward is the presiding Elder of the Illinois District A. M. E. Church. Rev. Ward spoke to the Alpha Fraternity at Lincoln on Sunday, May 7th.

The Collins and Coopers were hostesses and hosts to an informal open house at the Collins residence on Saturday evening.

Being the brother of Jeanette and Ocie, it was only natural that the social calendar of their brother, his son and guest were filled from the time of their arrival until their departure.

Mrs. Thelma Gorham, a member of the faculty of Lincoln University at Jefferson City, Missouri, was a week end guest in Omaha. She came to Omaha to ascertain information on a survey which she is making on Negro newspapers, locally and nationally and the concrete constitution which they are making in and for the interest of the ever prevalent problems which face minority groups. Mrs. Gorham was charming, poised, well informed, mature and sincerely interested in the solution or dissolving of these problems.

She expressed surprise at the apathy and backwardness which she found among the supposed leaders and professional people in a community as large as Omaha. She also saw as the writer the lack of contact and interest manifested between the intelligentsia and the masses of less fortunate. She was the guest of her husband's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gorham, of 2857 Ohio.

The Women's Auxiliary of the Medical Society entertained Mrs. Towles, wife of Dr. Henry Towles at a luncheon on Wednesday, May 3, at the residence of Dr. and Mrs. G. B. Lennox. The members of the auxiliary present at this affair were Mesdames Alberta Jones, President; D. W. Gooden, Vice-President; Herbert Wiggins, Weldon W. Solomon, Secretary; Price Terrell, Sr., Treasurer; George B. Lennox, Price Terrell, Jr.

The Medical Society entertained Dr. Towles at a stage at the residence of the Weldon Solomons.

Dr. Craig Morris of San Francisco, California, arrived Sunday for the reunion of his dental class of Creighton University. Mrs. Morris accompanied her husband to Omaha.

Rev. Felix C. Williams, pastor of Zion Baptist Church was called to San Diego, California, due to the death of his oldest brother. He is expected to return to his pulpit on May 14th. Friends join in sympathy to this family.

Delegates to Attend Peace Conference

The great Mid-Century Conference for Peace, to be held in Chicago May 29-30, has caught the imagination of the people of America, and some report that they are coming by the carload.

"The movement has nationwide, grassroots proportions," writes the executive director, Willard Uphaus. "Never have people been so determined to take their destiny into their own hands. They realize now that they dare not wait for the blundering, the cynical, the bitter rulers in high places to run their world for them. Lift is too precious! Not only for our own flesh and blood, but for the multitudes who feel and long just the way we do!"

"What we say and do in Chicago May 29-30 must be felt by our President, our Congress, our State Department—indeed in the capitals of the world. Why not? The earth still belongs to the people."

To all America goes the call for the conference. And from all over America comes the response. In North Dakota, the Farmers Union will furnish a 30-passenger bus, with driver, to take their delegates to Chicago. In other sections they are planning to do likewise. So—by airplane, by bus, by train, by foot—those who are interested in peace will converge on Chicago May 29-30.

Musicians Featured On Program Honoring Guide Right Movement

Jefferson High School's Madrigal Singers, a large A CAPELLA CHOIR from Polytechnic High School and soloists from Jordan High School assisted by a concert pianist made excellent music for the celebration of the 28th Anniversary of the Guide Right Movement of Kappa Alpha Psi, which featured quite a challenging panel of highly qualified participants at Holman Methodist Church last Sunday afternoon before a large audience of parents and youth.

The panel, which discussed the subject "Helping a Boy to Find Himself," consisted of Mrs. Nennye Luke Corporal, of the Kappa Mothers' Club, Rev. L. L. White, pastor of the host church, Arthur N. Farnum, principal of Jefferson High School, Sam Zacheim, Vice-Principal of Willowbrook High School and Atty James Reese, of Guide Right Commission. They in their order discussed the subject from of the home, church, school and community and the Guide Right Movement's standpoints.

John Brewer presided. Welcome to the church was given by Miss Silvia Griggs of the Methodist Youth Fellowship of the host church, which cooperated in sponsoring the program. Her club mates served as ushers.

The Madrigal Singers were under the personal direction of Jefferson's Lawrence Larsen. Jordan High School was represented very well on the program by Eugene Williams, tenor, accompanied Carrie Williams and Elsie Smith and Polytechnic A Capella Choir was under the direction of Miss Margaret Hindes and her assistant Frank Bates. A surprise addition to the program was by Glenn Ed Dudley, concert pianist who played two numbers.

Court Frees Youth Shot By Police

Cornelius Lockett, the 27-year-old youth who was shot by police two weeks ago and held on a suspicion of burglary charge was freed yesterday following a hearing in division three of the Superior Court.

Police lodged the suspicion charge against the youth following complaints from neighbors and witnesses that the shooting was unwarranted.

Marjorie Robinson, Civil Rights representative, met with a group of residents in the community where Lockett was shot Tuesday night, and they formed a chapter of the Congress. More than twenty-five of the Chapter members attended the court hearing, and following dismissal of the charges, they planned a victory meeting.

According to Dr. E. I. Robinson, local NAACP president, police chief Worton is investigating the shooting and arrest of young Lockett. Attorneys Loren Miller and Edward Maddox of the NAACP legal staff are studying a report of the case with a view toward taking legal action in Lockett's behalf.

Nineteen-year-old Luther Wise who was held also on the suspicion charge was released in the same hearing. Wise admitted being on the roof of the pie factory where a reported entry attempt was made, but he denied that Lockett was with him or that he knew the youth.

Jordan High

Two students of printing at David Starr Jordan High School "worked" for a day at the Fentress Press, 1888 W. Jefferson Blvd., last week. The occasion was Boys' Week, and also the second anniversary of the commercial printers.

The boys, Donald Walton, 17, and Robert Pittman, 17, are students of Theodore Johnson at Jordan.

Bobby Jones, nephew of Mrs. Clara B. Taylor, was admitted into full membership in the church and baptized by the pastor, the Rev. E. L. Johnson, Easter Sunday morning.

Cora Johnson Plans Assembly Act For Permanent Child Care

Mrs. Cora Johnson, candidate of the 67th Assembly Non-Partisan Committee for the office of Assemblywoman, spoke to a large audience in the Hawthorne area last Sunday on the subject of Child Care Centers.

Having previously pointed out the dangers inherent in the present practice of bringing the matter of appropriation for Child Care Centers up for vote each year, Mrs. Johnson assured her audience that when elected she will work for a permanent measure that will eliminate the anxiety and uncertainty of the parents, teachers and others directly interested in the welfare of children.

Mrs. Johnson has always been especially interested in the problem of working mothers with small children and has never passed up an opportunity to speak out for them. When she went to Sacramento with the "Jobs Caravan" in March, Mrs. Johnson stated, while speaking at the meeting, that the question of child care is inseparably tied to the problem of jobs inasmuch as they both are of major importance to working people.

NEW DEPARTURE

Pointing to her "new departure" in political action from the idea that candidates must not only be hand-picked by the political bosses but must also be trained in the art of double talk to the extent that they can write bills that will fool the people yet leave enough loop-holes to make them ineffective, Mrs. Johnson reiterated her former statement that her bill will be written in

Dean Dixon to Conduct In Town Hall Concert

A concert of Negro symphonic music, perhaps without precedent in the history of American concert halls, will be presented on May 21 at the Town Hall, New York, by the New York Chamber Orchestra conducted by Dean Dixon.

Featured selection will be the American premiere of "Fatse La Heso," written by the gifted Bantu composer, Michael M. Moerane. The score was sent by Mr. Moerane from South Africa to Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, chairman of the sponsoring committee, especially for this occasion.

The B and B Market, operated by Mr. and Mrs. Barksdale, sponsored a motion picture show last Saturday night at their place. This event brought quite a crowd and will be repeated.

Dr. Bethune, Dr. DuBois Honored

LINCOLN UNIVERSITY, Pa.—Dr. Mary MacLeod Bethune, distinguished educator, and Dr. W. E. B. DuBois, noted author and lecturer, received the 1950 Alpha medallion from students of Lincoln University last Friday. The presentation was made by Richard Terrell, president of the Lincoln University chapter of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity.

Mrs. Bethune, president of Bethune-Cookman College from 1904 to 1942, is a former director of Negro Affairs for the National Youth Administration, and served as special adviser on minority affairs to Franklin D. Roosevelt from 1936 to 1944. Mrs. Bethune was selected to receive the award because of her outstanding service to Negro higher education. In 1935, Lincoln University awarded her an honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Dr. DuBois, former editor of The Crisis, publication of the NAACP, and of the Encyclopedia of the Negro, was elected by the students on the basis of his contributions to human understanding over the past 50 years.

CE. 2-0033

NEW YORK—An army Junta, acting with the suddenness and force of a coup recently deposed president Dumerais Estime of Haiti. According to reports coming out of New York, Estime will be sent into exile "within a few days." It is indicated that he will go to France.

The deposed president arrived in New York with his wife and three children earlier this week, and it is expected that he will remain for a few days before beginning his exile.

UNION WINS FIGHT FOR NEGRO STEWARDESS

Bridges Will Tell Of Frameup At Huge Olympic Mass Meeting

Trade union support for three leaders of the CIO International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union facing prison sentence on charges they conspired to perjure themselves—president Harry Bridges, vice-president J. R. Robertson, and international representative Henry Schmidt—is booming in Los Angeles, it was reported yesterday.

Bridges, Robertson, and Schmidt will take the story of their frameup to the people of Los Angeles in a mass meeting to be held at the Olympic Auditorium, 1801 S. Grand, Friday evening, May 26.

Other speakers will be defense counsel Vincent Hallinan and James Martin MacInnis, film writer Dalton Trumbo, a member of the "Hollywood Ten," and Robert W. Kenny, former state attorney-general, who will serve as chairman of the giant Bridges-Robertson-Schmidt defense rally.

Support for the meeting and for the defense of the three trade union leaders was reported this week from:

Chrysler Local 230, United Auto Workers-CIO; Marine Cooks & Stewards, Wilmington branch; News Vendors Local 75-CIO; ILWU Locals 13, 26, 56, 63 and 94.

Members of ILWU Local 13 voted to assess themselves $1.00 a month for the duration of the

NAACP Drops Lockett Shooting

N.A.A.C.P. investigators last week dismissed the possibility that the shooting of Cornelius Lockett on April 25 was a police brutality case.

Lockett, 25, was shot by police when he ran when ordered to halt by officers who were investigating a complaint of attempted burglary. Attempted burglary charges against Lockett were dropped by Judge Joseph E. Chambers at a hearing last week.

Louella Lawhorn Wins Job As Stewardess On Jimcro Matson Ship

Jimcro in the shipping industry was struck a blow this week when the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards, CIO, won the fight with the Matson Steamship Co. to employ Louella Lawhorn, the first Negro stewardess on the Matson Line sailing out of the San Pedro port.

Louella Lawhorn has the training and the experience for the position, but she and her Union over many months had to fight to win.

The policy of the National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards when employing anyone is Refused employment in the precedent-shattering post, Miss Lawhorn won the solid and fighting support of her union. Their victory makes her the first woman of her race to sail the seas as a stewardess. (See story.)

Pre-Enrollment At Carver For Summer School

Mr. Robert J. Purdy, principal of Carver summer school, recently announced a class in advanced English skills to be given at Carver summer school. The summer session at Carver will run from June 19th until July 28th, a period of six weeks.

"The class in advanced English skills is designed for those boys and girls in our community of junior high school age, who have a special aptitude for and enjoyment of English in its written and spoken forms. The emphasis in the class will be upon creative writing and oral expression. The entrance requirements are high and only those boys and girls who are outstanding pupils will be enrolled. We have been fortunate enough to secure the services of Mr. John Long, English teacher from Jefferson High School, to conduct this class," Mr. Purdy said.

In addition to this class in English, there will be classes in mathematics, science, typing, art, foods, clothing, wood shop, electric shop and instrumental music, to name a few.

The community support of the program at Carver last summer was so outstanding that Carver was again chosen by the Board of Education as one of the six junior high schools to be open this summer.

Any boy or girl of junior high school age who wants to attend Carver this summer should fill out a pre-enrollment blank at the school they attend now. Actual registration will take place June 16th and 19th, but preference will be given to all those who have pre-enrolled.

This method is endorsed by leading medical authorities of the world

RESIDENTS OF LOS ANGELES are fortunate in having an office that practices New Yorker Technique—a haven for those who suffer—where the cause of Toxic Poison may be removed—where relief of constipation—an elimination, may be obtained in 20 minutes.

NOTE: Toxic poisons cause practically all ills of mankind. When toxic poisons or that which causes disease is removed the result is so effective in producing quick results that the change experienced by the sufferer is hardly less marked than that felt by the prisoner when the ball and chain have been removed from his ankles. It has to be experienced to be properly understood and appreciated.

New Yorker Technique is a scientific method of bringing about a state of erosion to impactions and the slate-like fecal content of the large intestine. In simple language—it reduces solids to a state of solution, so that the contents may be passed by normal effort.

Dr. Brinkley D.C., has the only office that is permitted to practice New Yorker Technique. He has no branch offices.

DR. BRINKLEY HAS A STAFF OF MORE THAN 120 PEOPLE. 18 LICENSED DOCTORS AND MORE THAN 60 SPECIALLY TRAINED NURSES AND TECHNICIANS. He has his own private laboratory and complete laboratory facilities, the finest equipment—30 private treatment rooms. IT IS THE LARGEST INSTITUTION OF ITS KIND IN THE ENTIRE WORLD—NO EXCEPTIONS.

This notable organization is outstanding—without equal—and must be seen to be appreciated.

Dr. Brinkley says: To protect the sick against the wrong diagnosis, it is my belief that no doctor should diagnose or treat any illness without and until certain scientific laboratory tests are made. In all cases tests should include complete blood count, urinalysis, microscopic examination and study of stool. If diabetes is suspected a fasting blood sugar test should be given; for liver disorders—various liver functional test given; for infectious diseases—sedimentation rate given; plus other laboratory procedures.

ALL OF MY PATIENTS, UNDER TREATMENT, GET LABORATORY TESTS AT NO EXTRA CHARGE. I will enjoy explaining New Yorker Technique to you without obligation, 8 A.M. to 8 P.M. For my trial treatment I charge $3, which includes various laboratory tests.

Call or write for FREE 120 page book. This book is outstanding. It is a most comprehensive explanation of the true cause of disease. Book will be sent by mail—no salesman—no phone calls—no obligation. No follow-up letters.

The SIDEWALK By C.A.R.

Last Saturday evening it was my good fortune to see the three-hour uncut version of "Young Guard," the Soviet prize film.

The author of the story from which "Young Guard" was taken, in my opinion, is a severe student of history. There is deep feeling and an accurate accounting of what happened in that part of Russia described as the Soviet Union when the second World War broke out.

The opening scene of "Young Guard" was refreshing indeed—an invitation to sink back in one's seat in anticipation of an evening of entertainment and relaxation.

Skipping down a rugged mountainside a group of merry-makers, all young people, suddenly had their attention diverted from a period of pleasure to a realization that their quiet hillside would soon be leveled by German cannon, and their rippling streams would be red with the blood of their oldsters and their own.

In about the time it would take to change one's position from sitting to standing, the opening scene composed of a scampering young group became soldiers, untutored in the ways of modern warfare, but forced to fight against the invasion of Hitler's hordes from Germany who had come to rob them of their homes and their liberties.

These young Russians saw their fathers and mothers thrown from their homes as German soldiers scornfully took over. Their factories polluted and destroyed and their young women outraged by German soldiers.

The remnants of the youth of that happier period formed what they called the "Young Guard" to fight back the Hitler invaders, save their lives, their liberty, and their homeland. Beautiful Stalingrad was in ruins.

Not only was Stalingrad the object of Hitler's vengeance in his pursuit of the conquest of the world and himself as its ruler, but his purpose was to destroy all the peoples not Aryan or Nordic according to his standard.

In this Atlantic struggle, the fierce fighting, the killing, the destruction of homes, the bombing of cities and towns, the young and the old people of Russia were melted together as in a crucible. Their determination to live and rebuild their land, to make of Russia a greater nation than ever, became as the granite born of the lava melted in the fierce fires of volcanoes.

Their cry of, "They shall not pass," became a stronger slogan of "We shall live and we shall win." Fighting with the courage which only such fire-born youth can have, they have resurrected their land from the waste places to which it was relegated by the Germans, and today it stands towering over all other lands of Europe and even of the world.

Realizing that three-quarters of the peoples of the world live

BALLADS AND SONGS FOR AMERICANS were sung with magnificence and stirring beauty by Paul Robeson and the California Labor School Chorus at the concert sponsored jointly by the California Eagle, and the Progressive Party last Friday night. Earl Robinson, noted composer, is conducting the chorus as Paul Robeson sings.

Paul Robeson Concert Draws Enthusiastic Thousands

Cheers and applause that fairly raised the roof greeted Paul Robeson, great American leader of all the oppressed, when he came on the stage at the Elks auditorium last Friday evening in a concert given under the auspices of The California Eagle and the 14th Congressional District IPP.

Robeson, his eyes shining with joy at the spontaneous greeting, remarked, "This is the part of America that I love. I don't like the Rankins or the oil interests. I won't have my boy die for their benefit. This is the America I love, and this is the America I would fight for and die for."

"The reactionaries are afraid of the Negro people," he told his enthusiastic audience. "They have reason to be. There is a deep thing stirring from below. Among all the people who are oppressed, among the hungry, and suffering, among the working people. The millions who have built this land are beginning to understand, and they will not let it be stolen from them to benefit only the rich. We fought and died for this country in Alabama, in Mississippi, in Tennessee. We fought for our freedom. And we are going to have it. We are being joined by 150,000,000 people in Africa, who are crying out, 'We, too, want to be free. We want to be free like China.'"

He urged a stand for unity—unity among all people, but he especially stressed the need for Negro people to be united.

"My people are under great stress," he said. "It may be the American Fascists will try to do to us what Hitler did to the Jews. But if they do, I'm sure they will

Plan Coalition Gang-Up Trick On Marcantonio

NEW YORK—The revelation that New York Republican and Democratic leaders were cooking up a plan to run a coalition candidate in a desperate effort to defeat Representative Vito Marcantonio next fall was made this week when the Republicans proposed Mrs. Wendell L. Wilkie as the coalition candidate.

Marcantonio has represented New York's 19th district for 16 years. His tenure has been marked by his unswerving serv-

Ask Masons To Halt Minstrel In South Gate

A delegation of trade union and community leaders, headed by Mrs. Hilda Prevost, met with representatives of South Gate Masons Wednesday night in an effort to halt the minstrel show scheduled for presentation in the Guardian Hall on May 25 and 26.

In recent months, citizens in the Southeast area have protested on several occasions against minstrel shows, which spokesmen declare are insulting to the Negro people. The meeting with the Masons, according to Mrs. Prevost, was arranged to point out the indignity of the show to representatives of a respectable

Minstrel Show Protest Action Brings Fine In Traffic Court

It cost Mrs. Eleanor Broady five dollars to walk on a picket line protesting the presentation of a minstrel show by the Christian Church of Lynwood two weeks ago. She paid the five dollars as a fine in a Lynwood court early this week on charges brought by two motorcycle policemen who stopped her car and cited her for failure to sign her registration certificate on the back, and for not having a light over her license plate.

Mrs. Broady was one of more than twenty pickets who handed out educational leaflets denouncing the minstrel show. Police summoned to the scene by the pastor of the church, threatened the pickets and sought violations for which citations could be issued.

The Southeast Interracial Council, one of the sponsors of the picket line, has announced that it will refund the five dollars to Mrs. Broady.

Public Affairs YWCA Luncheon Next Wednesday

The monthly Public Affairs luncheon at the YWCA will be held on Wednesday, May 24th, at 12:30 following the monthly meeting of the Board of Directors.

Mrs. Leisa Bronson, a member of the Board and Chairman of the Public Affairs Committee, will speak on "Economic Barriers to World Peace." Time will be given for questions on the subject with Mrs. Bronson as discussion leader.

Mrs. Bronson is a lawyer and during the war worked in the Congressional Library in Washington, D.C. She has made special study of social legislation and is an able speaker and discussion leader.

The meeting is open to the public at no charge. Those who wish may buy food in the cafeteria and bring a tray to the YWCA Lounge where the meeting will be held.

The Governor Said He Didn't Know About It

Former Assemblyman Fred Roberts has the instinct of a diplomat, and the inclination too, but it was the inclination that led him into a an isolated spot last Wednesday afternoon.

One of the Republican bigwigs on the Eastside, the former Assemblyman was on hand when Governor Warren took time out from his campaigning to go down to the East Side and stand still for a few questions from the Negro press representatives.

The Governor was doing all right with the questions until he was momentarily stopped by a corker asked by Libby Clark, community newspaper woman. Miss Clark wanted to know why

ILWU Oppose Mundt-Ferguson-Nixon Bill

"Organized labor, in opposing the Mundt-Ferguson-Nixon bill, is defending the right to a higher standard of living," said the International Longshoremen's & Warehousemen's Union last week in voicing its official protest against the measure.

"The Mundt bill, if enacted into law," the statement read, "would not only destroy the right of political dissent in our nation. It would destroy the historical rights of the American people to work for peace, democracy, Negro rights and economic security."

Harry Bridges as president, and Louis Goldblatt as secretary-treasurer, affixed their signatures to the statement on behalf of all the members and the union itself.

Dixiecrat Filibuster Leader Calls FEPC Bill "Communitistic"

WASHINGTON—Talking into the wind against time, Senator George of Georgia, one of the Democrats leading the filibuster against the Fair Employment Practices bill termed the measure an "Un-American Concept," and "Communitistic" in a Senate speech earlier this week.

"... It came out of Communism, it is communitistic and that is all you can say about it," George asserted in his assault on the bill which would ban job discrimination because of race, creed and/or color.

Disregarding the petitions of thousands of church, civic and political figures, and the demands of organized labor which heavily supports the bill, Senator George called upon Republicans and Democrats alike to repudi-concluded that "the shooting of Cornelius Lockett was brought about by the victim's mental incompetency in that he does not comprehend nor is he capable of assuming the elementary responsibilities of an adult."

The organization has requested the victim's father, Mr. Frank Lockett, to seek medical advice regarding institutionalizing his son.

In reporting its conclusions to Police Chief Worton, however, the N.A.A.C.P. asked that "those officers guilty of unbecoming language and discourtesy at the Lockett residence be reprimanded and reminded of the courtesy code of the Los Angeles Police Department."

About three million a year is spent by the National Association of Manufacturers to put its propaganda in American schools. NAM high pressure men boast that they "reach" two out of every three high school students. condemned to die because he threw a cuspidor at a prison guard in Folsom prison, although that guard did not die. He is now in death row in San Quentin, and has been there 999 days.

Federal Judge Louis Goodman ruled that "Wesley Robert Wells was denied due process of law" when he was sentenced to die for the throwing of the cuspidor. His case is now pending before the court.

Mr. Wells' cousin, Ted Weaver, has written an open letter to all who are interested to pray for his cousin. The letter follows:

Dear Brothers and Sisters:

On this day when Wesley Robert Wells will have spent 999 days in the death row, let us all pray that he will be allowed to live. Wells himself asks and needs your prayers and support. Most of us have a lifetime to prepare to meet our God. Wells has only 90 days so far. Let us pray that he be given life. My cousin needs your prayers, and I thank God for people who believe in prayer.

I remain sincerely yours,

The campaign to save Wells' life was initiated by the Civil Rights Congress, ANMA, LYL, SE Interracial Council, IPP, YPA, the Daily People's World, and The California Eagle.

"Justice Not Vengeance" is their slogan. Everyone is also urged to write Gov. Earl Warren, asking for executive clemency.

"rotary hiring." That means the member who has been employed the longest at certain jobs, or who in other ways is qualified for promotion, is to get that job. The company who owns the ships recognized this policy. Or did in all but Mrs. Lawhorn's case.

Mrs. Lawhorn had been employed for a number of years on the Catalina Island boats as a "maid." She had also been employed in a private capacity by a member of the Matson Co. In every place her rating for efficiency and intelligence was 100%. But when a vacancy for stewardess occurred on the SS Lurline, and the Marine Cooks and Stewards hired her, the Matson Co. said "No."

The only reason given was: "Louella Lawhorn is a Negro. The Matson Co. has never employed a Negro as a stewardess on any of its ships."

It was then that MCS went into action. They picketed the ship. They wrote letters and sent telegrams to the Matson Co. They got their friends, other organizations—all interested in seeing justice done—to adopt resolutions, to write and wire, to give the Matson Co. no peace until Mrs. Lawhorn was hired.

When the Lurline was supposed to sail, its 311 employees walked off in a body. The ship was tied up for more than three hours. But at last the Union won. The head of the Matson Co. reluctantly agreed to employ Mrs. Lawhorn "to see how it worked."

The Lurline is now out on the Pacific, and Mrs. Lawhorn is doing her job quietly and efficiently, as she has done wherever she worked. And no one has remarked that it seems strange to see a Negro stewardess on board a Matson Steamship Company's ship.

Among those who fought most vigorously for Mrs. Lawhorn of the MCS were: Lyndon Donaldson, Sandra and Charles Gladstone, members of the crew of the Catalina boats; Mrs. Marilyn Green, wife of Eddie Green on board the Lurline, and an outstanding artist, and many others.

"It was an important victory won for white and Negro unity," said the MCS. "We as a Union have suffered this humiliation for a long time."

Mrs. Lawhorn's husband sent hearty congratulations to all those who fought to secure Mrs. Lawhorn's job. For special reasons we are not able to use his name.

WOMEN OVER 40

Face The Change With A Brighter Outlook

Many women approaching "the change" worry lest home and family life be unduly disturbed by the miserable way they often feel—tired, depressed and irritable, nerves on edge. Seeking relief from such common symptoms of Change of Life, thousands of women have found Cardui wonderfully beneficial, often giving just the kind of relief they need, when most needed.

A grand stomachic tonic, Cardui helps to build resistance, fortify vitality, and encourage a brighter outlook. Aids also in easing nervous edgy tension and gives sprits a lift, thus helping to combat that jittery uncertain feeling. Try Cardui. Your druggist has it. Do get Cardui this very day! MRS. JOHNSON HONORED

Mrs. Cora Johnson, Negro candidate of the 67th Assembly Non-Partisan Committee, highlighted her week's campaigning by an appearance at the regular membership meeting of the CIO Marine Cooks and Stewards in Wilmington.

Speaking to this large group of trade unionists, Mrs. Johnson received widespread approval when she presented her program of progress which includes:

1) JOBS—a public works program which will provide temporary relief and trade with China which will provide thousands of new jobs in longshore, maritime and allied industries in California.

2) CIVIL RIGHTS—A Fair Employment Practices Act on all levels of government.

3) PENSIONS—a downward revision of the eligibility age from 65 to 63 and for the elimination of the "Relative Responsibility" clause, and

4) GENERAL WELFARE—standardization of curriculum, equip-

Opportunism That Smells

Manchester Boddy, editor and publisher of The Daily News, whose antics as candidate for the U. S. Senate always occupies a very prominent place in his newspaper, really pulled a boner recently when he sent greetings—and a good-sized contribution, it is said—to the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, Los Angeles Branch, in its annual membership drive.

The story made headlines. Probably from the fact that it no doubt was news—since we have never heard of Publisher Boddy's generosity along this line before—it should occupy a prominent place in all newspapers. But—Boddy, new in politics, naively had the fact of his contribution published together with the other fact that he is a candidate for the U. S. Senate! Such crass ignorance of the political rules of Emily Post can scarcely be forgiven. Politicians just don't tell the world how they try to bribe anyone to vote for them!

The whole disgusting attempt of an opportunist to cash in on what should have been only an ordinary expression of congratulation from an American citizen to a group like the NAACP, was too much for Dr. E. I. Robinson, president of the local branch. He wrote a sharp letter of protest to Candidate Boddy, and asked him to publish it in his paper! To date we haven't noticed this letter of protest.

To get a better idea of what Dr. Robinson objects to, here are excerpts from the story, headlined: "Publisher Supports Negro Group."

"Boddy, a Democratic candidate for United States Senator, sent his message to two leaders of the local NAACP chapter, Dr. E. I. Robinson, president, and the Rev. Clayton Russell, vice president."

"The Publisher wired from Northern California: . . .

"Through the years I have watched with sympathetic interest the outstanding work done by your organization in securing recognition for the abilities, capabilities, and talents of your people in our democratic way of life!"

"Boddy wired the local leaders that he has been a consistent exponent of full minority rights and opportunities," the Daily News story continues.

Now this writer knows that is a deliberate falsehood. For in the November election of 1946, when the initiative measure for a State FEPC was on the ballot, Manchester Boddy, now fishing for votes as a candidate for the U. S. Senate, had more than one editorial urging his readers to vote "No" on that proposition, and in his recommendations for the election he had the ballot marked "No."

There's some difference between 1946 and 1950, isn't there? Dr. Robinson in reply to this opportunist, wrote:

National Association for the Advancement of Colored People

Dear Mr. Boddy:

We were happy to receive your greetings at our kick-off meeting of our 1950 Membership Campaign. We have always welcomed the support of persons sincerely interested in making our democracy a meaningful thing to all Americans.

However, the news story appearing in the Daily News of April 20, caused many persons, who were not present at the kick-off meeting, to interpret the article as having partisan, political implications. The mentioning of your candidacy and campaign in reporting our receipt of

Voters Live On Central Avenue, Too

Attention! County, City Officials, and those who make up the listed candidates aspiring for office at this time!

Central Avenue is a great thoroughfare. On it are businesses such as dry goods stores, markets, drugstores, poultry markets, pool halls, cafes, liquor stores, and most of the biggest and best hotels, owned, operated, and occupied by the Negro people.

Aside from these, many early settlers still own homes and live on or adjacent to Central Avenue.

Of late it seems that the big trucks once routed through Alameda street have now been shifted to Central Avenue. At midnight these heavy trucks, spouting fumes, with open mufflers which backfire, rumble through the street while buildings sway and rock to the point that residents are no longer able to distinguish truck shocks from earth tremors.

The California Eagle, heavily tax-burdened, wants to know if anything can be done, to alleviate this condition which is rapidly becoming a disturbing element in the lives of Central Avenue residents.

Some vast improvements have been made and are still being made on Central Avenue. But there is still much more to be done. We wonder if those political aspirants to office, who cannot be elected without votes, and who realizing this are being all things to all men at this election time, can't think up a few more improvements for our Avenue? Promises for improvements which the voters who live on Central Avenue would be glad to consider. And if our candidate were elected, would be only too glad to help put into effect after the election is over.

The FEPC— Again!

The FEPC in the U. S. Senate seems to be following its old course. It's being introduced as a blind to make the people back home think something is really being attempted, although the something done never materializes.

Latest news was that it was your message is extremely inadvertent and unfortunate in that the NAACP does not endorse, support or affiliate with candidates or political parties."

Further, our membership is composed of persons of all races and creeds represented in America. Therefore, the banner heading the news story, "Publisher Supports Negro Group" is in complete error.

Because of the serious repercussions which can develop from what appears as a misrepresentation to many, we feel that publication of this letter is pertinent.

We trust that the NAACP will enjoy continued support from you and expression through the Daily News in our forty-one-year-old crusade for justice and equality.

Very truly yours,

E. I. ROBINSON,
President.

It is rumored that Candidate Boddy has also made substantial contributions to several of the Negro churches—also something he has never done before. It is to be hoped that the recipients of such contributions will send him as biting a rebuke as Dr. Robinson has done.

Opportunism of this kind smells to high Heaven. It is little short of outright bribery.

sidetracked "for other more important business" on Wednesday, but that the cloture rule would be brought up to be voted on Friday (tomorrow).

According to the cloture rule, if a two-thirds majority of the Senate votes to shut off debate on any subject, there will be no more debate. If it fails of getting the two-thirds majority, members of the Senate can go on talking for days and days. And to date always have done so, until everyone is so sick and tired they say, "Oh, what's the use?" And let it slide.

The last time the FEPC was up on the Senate floor, and there was to be a vote on the talking marathon, Pres. Truman was sunning himself on the sands of Florida. This time he's galivanting 'round the country, on a non-political tour, talking politics.

What About This?

The New Look Supreme Court ran true to its recent form recently when it handed down decisions upholding legality of the non-Communist oath provision of the Taft-Hartley Law; upholding contempt of Congress convictions of Helen R. Bryan and Mrs. Ernestina G. Fleischman of the Joint Anti-Fascist Refugee Committee; upholding a state ban on picketing to compel a store to hire Negro clerks in the same proportion as its Negro customers, and declining to rule on the legality of movie censorship—in this case, refusal of Memphis censors to clear a picture showing Negro and white children playing together. RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

STRENGTH UNTO STRENGTH

For many years I have regretted profoundly that I had not personally known Tom Jefferson, Abe Lincoln and Gene Debs. These three above all others in American history I have wanted to know intimately, certain that from such contact I would have drawn priceless understanding and strength for the building of a useful life.

No longer do I feel this loss so keenly—for I am living in the age of Paul Robeson, and I have met him. I think I understand what it must have been like knowing Jefferson, Lincoln and Debs.

The people of Los Angeles who met Paul Robeson this past week have been enriched. They have been cleansed of their fears. They have gained knowledge of their own strength and significance. They have had a vision of the future. This was a visible process—you could see the people glow and bow in his magnificent presence.

After years of subjection to the dehumanizing influences of America's current infamies—here came a man, a clean and honest man, sure of his strength and purpose, from whose person shone the wonder of the dignity of man. A man who carried the hopes of the world's decent people and renewed their faith in themselves—who unfurled again the tattered banner of the American dream and reclaimed for us our right to this great land and its democratic institutions.

Paul Robeson helps to make us better women and men—for he is proof of the supremacy and nobility of a life dedicated to the highest purpose of living: helping to make life better for your fellowmen. He is evidence of the kind of MAN we can be, of the goal of mankind.

Of the kind of people we really are, or would be if society gave us the chance . . . for while we drew strength from him, he drew strength and courage from us. Not only did he declare that this was so, but this is how it is and always must be. For only when one is rooted deeply in the people—like a giant oak pressed to mother earth—can he derive the nourishment which makes him a great leader. Only a great people could produce Robeson.

He is the honor and glory of America. It is he, and such as he, who by his world-wide deeds keeps the name "American" from being completely stripped of the hope it has symbolized for the oppressed of the globe. It is he, and such as he, who will keep it from becoming the stench in the nostrils of history that is forever the Nazis. (To think that only five short years after our victory over fascist arms we should have to say such things . . .)

And it is Robeson's loyalty to America that is questioned! By those who every day in a thousand ways in their gilded graves in banks and factories betray our country for less than the thirty pieces—who destroy another constitutional right every time they breathe! They dare impugn this man's loyalties. Dying woodpeckers nibbling at the lordly redwood.

Paul Robeson grows in strength and we with him—and their fears increase. They are afraid of him and of the 15 million other black Americans he is helping to liberate. They reveal their fear in many ways, most glaringly in trying to conceal it. They think to ignore and hide Robeson with their slimy newspaper curtains: not one "big" paper even reported his week-long visit among us—though they found the space to hail German actresses and Japanese businessmen.

One Negro weekly, it must be reported, refused even to accept a paid advertisement for his concert. Certain infamous leaders of the Jewish community, it must be reported, tried to have the concert cancelled. And oh how long and shameful is the list of the "community leaders" of all colors who declined invitations to meet with him.

They were afraid to be seen in the company of this great man who is forever enshrined in the hearts of men and women of goodwill the world over—who is doing so much to safeguard the lives of those same timid creatures. Their cowardly souls have shrunk—as the heads of victims of some savage tribes are shrunk, and they are just as dead. History and America do not need them.

We are the living, and the future is ours. If we stand together, black and white—as Paul Robeson urges—and say "We want to live in dignity!" we will live in dignity. (Look at what the "weaker" Chinese people did). If we stand together, the millions of us, and say: "We want peace!" there will be peace!

We have the strength and right and Paul Robeson on side. What have they got?

Dear Mrs. Bass:

Thought you might be interested in the following:

A minstrel show which was planned as entertainment at the monthly meeting of "Citizens Against Smudge" was cancelled through the efforts of the NAACP and progressive people in the area.

The entertainment was to have been free to "Citizens Against Smudge" and given by the pupils of Mr. MacFarland of the Theatre Arts Studio, 934 So. Hoyt St., El Monte (Phone: Forest 09731).

The entertainment was to have been offered at the regular meeting, this past Wednesday evening, May 3rd at 7:30 p.m. at Columbia School, El Monte.

Rev. O. I. G. Williams, Minister of Bethel A.M.E. Church of Monrovia (and president of the Monrovia NAACP) attended the meeting at the invitation of Mr. C. B. Welles, chairman of entertainment of the "C.A.M." who had assured Rev. Williams that the minstrel show would be inoffensive. However, before the meeting, it was decided to cancel the show entirely. Rev. Williams met and talked with some of the officers of the organization after the meeting.

The NAACP had sent a letter of protest to "Citizens Against Smudge", and it was as a result of this letter that Rev. Williams was invited to attend.

People who could give you further details are:

WAY DOWN IN DIXIE

The CIO has caught the spirit of the times. It has retreated to the South, where after meditation, some deliberation and a serious measure of defeat, it has come out for full equality of the races. By proclamation from headquarters, all members of CIO in the South are henceforth ordered to abandon Jim Crow and discriminatory practices.

A first blush, one would be inclined to take a dim and uncharitable view of this the latest of CIO's contradictory acts. A thorough-going Jim Crow labor organization at best, it has chosen the heart of American racism as the proper spot in which to implant its standard. One must suppose this to be an act of bitter vengeance for the rebuffs received throughout the notorious "operation Dixie" fiasco which reportedly is still going on.

On the other hand, this belated admission by the CIO that Negro workers are good enough to enter the same union halls, drink from the same water fountains, and use the same toilets as white workers, must be considered a major concession. It is necessary to accept this element of condescension in order to lead a note of sanity to the proceedings; otherwise the proclamation becomes meaningless and insulting.

With this established, it is easier to understand why Phil Murray and the big brains who are assisting him in liquidating the CIO, measured this bit of demagoguery from the whole cloth of Truman opportunism. It smacks of the phony kind of civil rights flavor that is being wafted in the direction of the Negro people these days. Truman took on the South when his political star was about to set, and Murray now compounds equality in the halls, at the fountain and in the toilet as a come-on and a diversion.

Having gone down South with the reputation of being a leading defender of equality for all people, the CIO immediately recognized the principle of Jim Crow as the proper and discreet level of operation. After several years of failure, the CIO suddenly discovered the Negro worker could not meet, drink and relax on a basis of equality with his white. There is the question of the fine statesmanship of Phil Murray and his cabinet that an order correcting this was issued.

But this wash-room equality, while it expresses the true CIO attitude toward the Negro worker, does not meet the situation. There still remain the questions of seniority, up-grading and employment in trades and industries which are virtually lily-white. There is the question of leadership in the local unions . . . a problem with which even some of the more progressive unions seem to be having trouble.

Actually, the CIO was running away from these problems when it went into the toilets of the South. It would have been much better strategy to have established equality in the unions above the Mason-Dixon line before attempting to march through Dixie.

However, since this valuable beach-head has been established, let us not abandon it. Let us work it out in its true relationship to the major battle. We must remember, too, that there are plants in the South where all or nearly all of the workers are Negro. The workers in these plants learned their tasks after years of practice and application. The blessing of equality, in these cases will mean that white workers who have no other qualification except their white skins will take over some of their jobs.

Negro workers will lose jobs, but they will have gained the right to go to the toilet without discrimination. And further, they will have had the benefit of contact and association with democratic-minded union people.

There is a positive feature in the latest CIO strategy. It has demonstrated that Murray and company can issue orders against discrimination. It is to be expected then, that sooner or later something will be done about writing anti-discrimination terms in contracts executed with some of the auto, steel and aircraft plants. And then there are the newspaper guilds in most of the cities . . . especially Los Angeles.

No one can doubt that had the CIO been successful in organizing in the South on a Jim Crow basis, it would not have come out for even this strange kind of equality.

JOHN M. LEE

This Changing World

By CYRIL BRIGGS

American white supremacists, acting through the Truman Administration, have openly declared war on the freedom struggles of the embattled peoples of Asia and Africa.

That, stripped of the customary imperialist cant and hypocrisy, is the monstrous meaning of Secretary of State Acheson's pledge of U. S. "military and economic aid" to French imperialism in its "dirty war"—as the French people aptly call it—against the independent republic of Viet Nam in Southeast Asia.

The independent republic of Viet Nam was established at the end of World War II. Under the brilliant leadership of its president, Ho Chi Minh, it has ever since successfully defended its independence against the French imperialists who, having surrendered the colony to Japan without a struggle, sought to move back in after the defeat of Japan. Today the republic exercises jurisdiction over 90 per cent of its territory; with French control limited to a few towns where French bayonets maintain the puppet regime of Bao Dai, former night club emperor of Indo-China. It is this puppet regime which Washington has elected to support under the deceptive slogans of promoting "genuine nationalism" and "democratic evolution," of fighting communism.

In the same Paris announcement in which he pledged U. S. aid to the French invasion of Viet Nam, Acheson also promised American aid to the British in their campaign to suppress the national revolution in the Malay state, implied that U. S. aid would be forthcoming to any European power faced with a challenge from its colonial slaves.

Acheson's declaration of war against the national independence struggles in the colonies was promptly supported by President Truman, who came up with the farcical statement that "the independence of Southeast Asia is in grave danger"—presumably from the Viet Name and other Asian peoples now waging effective warfare for real national independence without benefit of phony liberals.

The Truman-Acheson move against the colonial peoples is clearly designed to rescue the old colonial system, now tottering under the blows of the heroic peoples of China, Viet Nam, Burma and the Malay States and the increasingly turbulent upsurge in Africa. It cannot succeed. All of the American aid, amounting to billions of dollars, extended to the Wall Street puppet, Chiang Kai-shek, did not prevent the triumph of the Chinese people. Western imperialism no longer has a monopoly on modern lethal weapons and military know-how. Moreover, there is a new balance of power in the world today as a result of the development of the anti-imperialist Soviet Union as one of the two most powerful nations in the world, and the recent emergence of a free, powerful anti-imperialist China.

Colonialism is doomed. Its beneficiaries still have the power, however, to plunge the world into a catastrophic atomic war in their desperate attempts to turn back the clock, protect their divine right to impose their rule of robbery and oppression on the peoples of Asia and Africa. But even that power can be curtailed by the American people. It is the duty of all decent Americans, black and white, to restrain the criminals, defend the peace. Every one of us can help in this by demanding a halt to U. S. military and economic intervention against the liberation struggles of the colonial peoples; an end to the Cold War with which

By Marian Inglewood

Soviet Russia has the atom bomb. We've known that as a certainty for some time, although we had suspected it even before President Truman made his famous announcement that there had been an explosion in the Soviet Union that reacted like an atom bomb. It sent us all into the jitters for awhile. Now we've settled down again into the well-known American complacent attitude of "So what?"

We have the H-bomb, we decided. A bomb we're sure Russia can not hope to produce in years. So our rocking-chair diplomats and warmongers still talk, although in more subdued tones, of sending some of our stockpile of bombs to Russia and blowing our former ally up, before she has a chance of sending us sky high.

The strange thing, however, is that Russia may not have an atom bomb after all. It was just an explosion the scientists heard. It was exceedingly severe, an explosion such as only the splitting of the atom could produce. So the scientists immediately jumped to the conclusion that since this fearful explosion took place on Russian soil, the Russian scientists must have made an atom bomb and were trying it out in some desert spot, the same as we did.

But a peep behind the Iron Curtain shows those scientists were wrong. Just as everyone is usually wrong, scientist or no scientist, who jumps at conclusions, and has nothing to substantiate his guessing.

The Soviet Union is not using the atomic explosive force to kill millions of people. To annihilate nations. To destroy this planet. According to all the information that anyone can get about what Soviet Russia is doing with the atomic energy, it is using atomic energy to promote life, not death. To bring peace and plenty to its people. Not war and poverty and sickness. Its program is activated by the principle of construction. Not destruction.

The atomic blast which sent the needles trembling in the seismographs of the world, was a blast, according to the best information of those familiar with the Soviet Union, that split a mountain in two. It was a blast which is part of a plan so gigantic it almost staggers the imagination even of those who are given to dreaming of wild and stupendous projects.

"We are razing mountains,"

Andrei Vishinsky told the United Nations. "We are irrigating deserts, we are transforming the tundra and the taiga, we are bringing life, hope and prosperity in places where the foot of civilized man has not stepped for thousands of years."

If you remember your geography—and if you don't you can get a map of the Soviet Union and refresh your memory. You notice that in Siberia three great rivers flow northward and empty into the Arctic ocean, the Ob, the Yenesei, and the Lena. This land is frozen the greater part of the year. There are very few people living on it. Anyway it has plenty of water.

So, believe it or not, the Soviet government is taking two of those mighty rivers, the Ob and the Yenesei, both longer than the Mississippi river, and is turning them right about face, and forcing them to flow south instead of north!

As breathtaking a project as Moses smiting the Red Sea and dividing it into two! As Joshua commanding the sun and the moon to stand still!

The atomic explosion the world heard was an explosion that split the mountain which formed the divide between the northern and southern waters. Like splitting the Rocky mountains, and forcing the Mississippi to flow through that.

If you look further at your map you'll see that thousands of miles to the south, east of the Aral Sea, there are hundreds of square miles of desert land. This is the land that the waters of the Ob and the Yenesei are going to irrigate.

When those deserts are made to blossom like the rose, it will be not only beauty that they will bring forth. They will grow food there, too. Grains and vegetables and fruits. They will "bring life and hope and prosperity where the foot of civilized man has not stepped for thousands of years." They will bring peace and security and happiness.

A beautiful poem tells of this atomic blast in the Soviet Union. It describes a mother singing her baby to sleep, and telling it there is nothing to fear. The earthquake it has felt is only tearing a mountain away. And symbolic of the security the Soviet mother and her child can feel under a government that is constantly planning for their benefit, she sings.

Sleep, my baby.

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia—Plans for establishing a 100-man European orchestra and a school of European music have been announced by the Ethiopian government.

Franz Zelwecker, a Viennese conductor and composer, has been appointed by Emperor Haile Selassie to lead the orchestra. An opera house, begun during the Italian occupation of Addis Ababa, will be completed for the use of the new orchestra.

LILLE, France—Violinist Yehudi Menuhin made a direct appeal for world government at the end of a recent concert in Lille, France.

"Everybody wants peace and a just division of the fruits of the earth," he said. "We appeal to all artists to join with the citizens of the world in the crusade for world government and to give all they can of themselves and of their art to contribute to a harmonious settlement of world discords."

DURHAM, N. C.—An estimated thousand teen-age students from many North Carolina communities joined last week in the first annual Piedmont District Song Festival, held at North Carolina College at Durham.

Attractions included choral music by country and city school groups, band concerts, and dance interpretations. The event was directed by Mrs. Ethel R. Hubbard, supervisor of music in North Carolina.

HOUSTON, Texas—Six social science teachers from Prairie View State College, Wiley College for Negroes, played important roles at the fifteenth annual conference of the Association of Social Science Teachers held at Lincoln University, Jefferson City, Missouri, May 4 to 6.

Dr. E. S. FROM A SOUTHERN CATHOLIC PRIEST

NEW ORLEANS, La. — "Labor unions must accept Negroes as equal members and employers must accept Negroes as equal workers if we are to have a democratic economic system."

That challenge was thrown at labor leaders and representatives of management by Father Joseph H. Fitcher, S. J., at a forum staged by New Orleans' Institute on Industrial Relations recently.

The Catholic priest declared: "The concept of a labor union as a private club is antiquated in our kind of a society. . . . Labor unions' policies affect too many people's lives to allow them exclusionist and discriminatory practices on race, religion or nationality."

Thomas H. Kuchel, State Controller, said various tax collectors disposed of 2,035 parcels of property which sold for a total of $245,574.84.

Funds received from the sales are retained by the counties to reimburse the local governments for unpaid taxes.

Manchester Boddy, who calls himself a farmer, publisher, and businessman, has taken the course of all candidates who see defeat staring them in the face, and is howling "Reds" and "Communists" are trying to get control of the Democratic Party.

Boddy who is running for U. S. Senator, contributed to the NAACP, and then had a big write-up in his paper, The Daily News, boosting his candidacy. He got himself roundly trounced for his bald political trickery. See the story and comments on the editorial page of The California Eagle.

LWV TURNS DOWN CIVIL LIBERTIES

The Board of Directors of the League of Women Voters of Los Angeles held its last meeting of the year last Thursday, May 11 at the League headquarters, 1751 N. La Brea Avenue.

Reports on the national convention held last month in Atlantic City were given by Mrs. Harold A. Fendler, out-going president of the League and Mrs. Winston Cruch, the newly elected president.

Mrs. Fendler in her report stated:

Due to a heavy work load on the next two-year program of the League of Women Voters of the United States, Civil Liberties as a current agenda item was not adopted."

Those honored will be: for governor, James Roosevelt; Lt. gov., Geo. Miller, Jr.; U.S. Senate, Helen Gahagan Douglas; Atty. Gen. Geo. M. (Pat) Brown; Board of Equalization, Ernest Debs; State Senator, Glenn Anderson; Congress 14 CD, Samuel Yorty; Assemblymen, Vernon Kilpatrick, 55 AD, and Elson Markwort, 64 AD.

On Saturday, May 13, the 14th District People's Political Club entertained with a bazaar benefiting Mr. Hayward C. Gray, 14th district congressional candidate. A host of Mr. Gray's friends met at 3772 Ruthelen Street for the occasion.

Jamaica, the Queen Of the Caribbean

BY OWEN TROY

From the time we landed at the airport and were offered a Jamaica rum drink through the courtesy of the Chamber of Commerce (we had ice cold limeade, the best we have ever tasted) until the last day of our trip when we took our last two glasses of limeade and boarded the Pan American clipper for the United States, hospitality was literally showered upon us.

Awaiting us at the airport at Kingston, Jamaica from Haiti, were our friends, Dr. and Mrs. Lawrence Richards who became our official host and hostess for the next day or two. About ten friends had come to the airport to welcome us including several Seventh-day Adventist officials as well as a newspaper photographer.

After clearing customs and the immigration office, we went into the city of Kingston, the capital of Jamaica. The airport is located about twenty minutes away from Kingston on a narrow peninsula which helps form the harbor of Kingston. The airstrip is much nearer the city by water than it is by land.

Jamaica's Leading Daily.

The first stop we made in down town Kingston was at the offices of the DAILY GLEANER, Jamaica's leading and widely read daily. We met the managing editor and a number of the staff of this progressive paper which is run as efficiently as metropolitan dailies in America. It has its own photographing and photo engraving departments. Best of all it is staffed by Negroes.

After meeting members of the editorial staff, we were taken to the photographers room where our pictures were taken. A reporter who took notes in short hand took details about our trip and our work. The next issue carried the story. The following day our picture appeared. And for the remainder of the time we were in the island people would meet us and say, "O, we saw your picture in the GLEANER." They seem to read the paper like Christians should read the Bible.

Dr. Richards housed us very comfortably in the delightful home of Dr. and Mrs. S. P. W. Street. Then took us to lunch at the principal hotel of Kingston, the famous Myrtle Bank. Two waiters took care of our needs at a table situated in the center of the dining room as one comes in the entrance.

Jamaica is queen of the Caribbean possessions. With 44 per cent of the population of the British territories, it is in many ways more important than all the other British colonies. The island is about 150 miles long and averages about 40 miles in width.

Jamaica has a wide variety of climate, ranging from a tropical temperature of 80 to 90 degrees at sea level and 45-50 degrees in the mountains. Only about one-sixth of the island's surface is flat, in fact the island looks mountainous from the plane, and there are several high mountains. Blue Mountain Peak has an altitude of 7,402 feet.

Kingston, the largest city of the British West Indies, is located on the southern coast to the east on the island. It has a population of over 100,000. The residents of the officials and the wealthy merchants are built in the suburbs and in the hills and mountains surrounding Kingston where it is much cooler.

Technically No Segregation

Well, we were in a land where, technically at least, color is not a basis for discrimination. It would be a difficult matter to carry on segregation and discrimination in Jamaica since 98 per cent of the inhabitants are of African and East Indian descent.

In Kingston one is struck by the absence of white people. It is general knowledge that the larger businesses are held by

The Karelo-Finnish Republic

The Karelo-Finnish Soviet Socialist Republic is the northernmost and the Moldavian is the southernmost of the small western border republics. However, their people have in common the fact that they are the most recent to receive recognition as constituent republics. (The Baltic states were brought into the Union a few months later, but they, of course, had their own governmental organization beyond its borders. These two never had.)

The Karelo-Finnish Republic, with a population of only 400,000 occupies a territory of 65,000 square miles adjoining Finland. 70 per cent of its area is forest and 17 per cent is covered by lakes. The capital is Petrozavodsk, meaning Peter's factory, from an iron smelter built there by Peter the Great and, up to the Revolution, the only industrial enterprise in this area. The Karelians, driven from the arable lands by Russian settlers, eked out a miserable existence in the forests and marshes. In Russia, rye bread was the food of the poor. The Karelians could not even afford this, and mixed their grain with pine bark and straw. Though the Karelians, jointly with the Finnish cousins, had earlier created a renowned folk epic, the Kalevala, they had never developed a written language and the use of their spoken tongue was greatly restricted by various regulations. Until the First World War, there were no roads in this country at all, though it is located just across Lake Ladoga from Leningrad—then St. Petersburg—the capital of the Empire.

During the war of 1914-1918, a railroad was run through Karelia to Murmansk, but was so poorly built that it sank into the marshes as the soil thawed out each summer. After the Revolution the railroad was rebuilt. A second main transit artery was created a decade ago by the construction of the Baltic-White Sea Canal, which stimulated the development of the whole area. Some of the best roads in the Soviet Union now intersect this republic. A Karelian alphabet was devised, and literacy rose from 13 per cent in 1920 to 95 in 1939, as 834 schools, 14 technical high schools and three colleges were opened.

The lumbering industry has been modernized. Output rose eight times in 20 years before World War II. New sawmills were built, and production quadrupled. A steel works and non-ferrous metals plant were being built when the war broke out. Karelia became the center of the cellulose and paper industries of the USSR. It also provided Soviet industry with most of its mica. Science and drainage have enabled the grain crop to multiply tenfold.

Until March 31, 1940, Karelia was an autonomous republic within the RSFSR. With the accession of border territories from Finland, following the war of 1939-40, it was raised to full membership in the USSR.

Most of Karelia was occupied by the Finns from 1941 to 1944. During this period the population of the capital, Petrozavodsk, fell by half from the previous level of 70,000. Other modern towns, such as Kondopoga and Medvezhegorsk, were virtually wiped out. The Finns treated their Karelian kinsmen as inferiors. Corporal punishment was legalized, and sentences of whipping with the knot were carried out in public. Collective farm lands were confiscated and sold back to their members at inflated prices. Farmers unable to pay were branded vagrants and were shipped to Finland for forced labor or impressment into the army. The New York Herald-Tribune correspondent, after visiting villages from which the Finns had been expelled, wrote:

"Like the Germans, the Finns stole the potatoes, rye and oats from the peasants, even the last sack in the house. Like the Germans, they drove the children in winter off the top of brick ovens so they might stretch upon it. Like the Germans, they pulled the boots and coats off men and women. And it did not stop there. Like the Germans, the Finns swaggereed around insulting the natives. Like the Germans, they beat the villagers for the least misdemeanor with birch sticks."

In Petrozavodsk the university, a scientific research institution, the public library, the State Philharmonic Society, the elaborate children's after-school recreation center, the theater, the music school, two normal schools, the trade school, five public schools, nine kindergartens, a movie house, the Psycho-Therapeutic Hospital, and the Psychoneurological Out-Patients' Hospital, and the State Museum were looted and burned down. All bridges were blown up and 485 dwelling houses burned, while seven power stations, three dams, a feeder sub-station and transformer booths were demolished, and their electrical equipment shipped to Finland.

Karelia shares with Estonia the dubious distinction of having suffered a heavier per capita loss than any other Soviet republic, twice as high as the Ukraine. Destruction in Karelia was largely responsible for the loss of 30 per cent of the annual Soviet lumbering and sawmill capacity, so vital to reconstruction and export, a similar percentage of the paper mills, and more than half of the match manufacture.

While this was occurring in their homeland, the evacuated Karelians lived on. The five theater companies gave 2000 performances to Karelian Red Army-men. A Karelian opera and ballet theater was founded during the war—the first in its people's history. A Russian composer wrote an opera, "Sampo," based on the Kalevala epic, and a Karelian, Hjalmar Sinisalo, composed a ballet on the same theme. Another, Kalle Rautio, wrote a symphonic poem on the feats of Toivo Antikainen, a modern Finnish folk hero who fought Baron Mannerheim's ascension to power.

Petrozavodsk was liberated on June 29, 1944. During the first nine months of reconstruction half of the lumber mills were restored to operation. So were three large power plants. The university and teachers' college, and more than a third of the schools, were reopened. Half of the collective farms were reorganized in time for the spring planting in 1945, as were 18 machine and tractor stations to serve them.

Despite the devastation, Karelo-Finland is looking toward a larger economy than ever before. It is to have one of the largest plants in the USSR for the manufacture of pre-fabricated housing. The planned completion of its steel and light metal plants will make it a chief supplier of the Leningrad industrial district.

MOLDAVIA

The Moldavian Soviet Socialist Republic has 2,200,000 people, living in an area of 13,680 square miles. The Rumanians and Germans had murdered 63,000, and deported 50,000 to slave labor. The capital is Kishinev, which had had 110,000 people. It was 76 per cent destroyed.

Until 1940 there were two Moldavias—one, in what is known as Bessarabia, the territory between the rivers Dniester and Prut. Seized by Rumania in 1918, it was never recognized as Rumanian territory either by the Soviet Union or the United States. The other Moldavia was a small territory on the east bank of the Dniester, organized as an autonomous republic within the Ukraine.

Under the long Rumanian occupation of the larger part of the country, the area planted to orchards, the vine and tobacco decreased with the general decline of Rumanian agriculture, as did the head of cattle. Infant mortality among the peasantry rose to 60 per cent! The output of industry, small to begin with, fell by 50 per cent. The use of the Moldavian tongue was prohibited. There were 200 uprisings, large and small, in the first 10 years of Rumanian rule. One, in Tartarburnary, echoed throughout the world. The government's repression cost the lives of 30,000 people. Ten more in every hundred—300,000 in all—fled abroad, many to America, including a large number of Jews. Illiteracy among the Bessarabian peasantry was 73 per cent. Even including the urban populace, three out of five Bessarabians could not read in any language.

The Moldavia on the Soviet side lived differently. Its language, previously oral, acquired its own orthography with the aid of Soviet scientists, and a written literature developed. The ratio of illiteracy among the Moldavians, formerly nine out of 10 under the Tsar, was exactly reversed. Writers appeared. In this small rural territory, with 310,000 people, there were 508 public libraries, and 441 community centers—one in virtually every village. Thirty newspapers were published. An agricultural college and two teachers' colleges were founded. Fifty-two local electrical power plants were built, and electric light became common in the villages.

white Britishers. Mulattos or the light-complexioned Jamaicans hold lesser offices in the banks, government offices and large companies generally, and the blacks usually work on the lowest levels.

The British, many of whom are absentee landlords, still own the great plantations, and, of course, command the armed forces. In 1939 only 5.5 per cent of the people of Jamaica could vote. The franchise has been extended, however, since the war. Until 1944 property qualifications more discriminatory than the poll tax of America excluded 95 per cent of the British subjects in this area from voting.

But in a manner similar to that in other countries of the world, there is a surge of the spirit, "Jamaica for the Jamaicans." The People's Nationalist Party led by the highly educated and brilliant lawyer and member of the House of Representatives, Norman Washington Manley, is demanding more voice for the masses in the affairs of government and is getting it. More next week about Jamaica.

CIO Memo Hits At Segregation

Arthur J. Goldberg, CIO general counsel, has informed all CIO regional directors, and state and city industrial union councils, that "no segregation in the use of facilities in buildings or office space under the control of CIO Industrial Union Councils should be permitted."

Mr. Goldberg's memorandum was based on an opinion that "any statute or ordinance" which requires CIO organizations or bodies to practice segregation in any form is "not only diametrically opposed to CIO policy; they are also void because they violate the Constitution of the United States." (See Labor on the March).

Conf. for Peace Issue: Life, Death

The Mid-Century Conference for Peace which is to be held in Chicago, May 29, 30, is making an all-out effort to bring home to the people of America the urgent necessity to speak out now for peace.

"Life or death—that is the issue today," says their folder. "The fateful decision to build the hydrogen bomb, despite the anxiety of America's millions, dwarfs all previous dangers. It opens the door to a war of total annihilation of all mankind. This door must be shut."

A call is made to President Truman and the Congress of the United States to undertake negotiations with the government of the Soviet Union to secure the banning of the bomb as a first step toward disarmament and the peaceful settlement of all outstanding differences and the eventual assumption of trade.

Scores of well-known leaders are among the sponsors. Among them are: Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, honorable president of the Nat'l. Association for the Advancement of Colored Women, Washington, D.C.; and Mrs. Charlotte A. Bass, editor and publisher of The California Eagle; Thomas K. Farley, director Southern Calif.-Arizona Methodist Youth; Rev. E. C. Farnham, exec.-sec'y Church Federation of Los Angeles; Lion Feuchtwanger, writer; Rev. CASING THE KIDS

TOLD YOU SO

Whereas we will not engage in a chest-beating exhibition, but didn't we tell you so? Few people were willing to agree with us before the crucial moment Saturday, but we tipped you days ago that the Omegas would win the frat championship.

Though, it wasn't the Big Boys who won highest laurels on the court. It was little Charles Reed. One of the hardest players in every game, Chuck played like no one has during the series Saturday. He hit time and again from long distances and kept Bobby Pounds down to a mere 5 points.

If we had to do some selecting, Reed would get a special trophy. Not just on his showing Saturday. You have seen him in there every game. Determined and game in victory and defeat. Fighting his heart out every minute.

That's our definition of a good sport and a great athlete—one who keeps trying until he comes through into crowning glory. That's Chuck Reed.

FINAL in a Series on FRAT FUN:

Sigmas lost one championship and won another. They triumphed when their cheer leaders walked off with "Queen of Cheer Girls" crown. They were undefeated for the season. Nobody on the floor could outdo them. Again, we don't have the resources to give away rewards. But those girls would certainly get it if we did.

With the end of the frat games also concluded a great piece of work on the part of Howard Morehead, nonpareil among young camera men. Better still was the beginning of a blooming friendship between The Moor and Versa Pittman. Chuck Jones was wearing a dual smile. One because the Omegas took the beans and the other because it was a darling daughter born to him and wife Betty, May 1st. Named Dorena, she tipped the scales 6 lbs. 13 ozs. at birth.

Mary (well-groomed) Grooms made her weekly march from Pasadena, also Vicki Shaw of Rose Bowl City came on the scene with endearing Dolores Patterson and beautiful Barbara Rakestraw. There was Janice Fortier, graceful as a swan, and Cecil (Two Ton) Bradley with elegant Elouise Brown. Lawrence Hicks and Thelma Brown were heard stating, "Everything I have is yours."

Romancing Robert Andrew and gentleman Joe Johnson were sporting twin shirts, and John Cope was sporting his ragged mustaches. Dolores (Blazons) Parker toed the mark with Pvt. Curt Phillips of the air force, and lovable Lorraine Normant came on the scene with Robert Brice.

Comely Coris Myles was in company with Jessie (jasmine) Burley, Cecelia (Body) Stamps, and John's gem, Jewell Johnson. Robert Perkins would have you pick up on his column in the Los Angeles Star to read about his galavantings with amorous Ann Swan.

NO MOOING AROUND

Muriel (Mo Mo) Arnaud put one over on Father Time when she turned 19 and told a bunch of friends about it at a grand party at her house Friday night. Calling this one is your favorite guest columnist again, whose identity remains a secret for security reasons. Anyway:

Diane Lewis and Bobby Pounds were watching the stars in each others eyes, while Robert Campbell was telling his pet joke to Mary Cantrell. Joanne Riddle was saying of Ernie Bond, "Yes sir, that's my baby," and Elmer Layne made the boast, "I can do anything." There was the little nightingale, Charlotte Johnson, and Earl Broady publicizing the fact that he travels in fine motors.

There was a bundle of charms all wrapped up in old gold taffeta by the name of Jessie Carl, and cuz Anna King who will get her kiss and rose. Eula Narcisse was snug with Dave Williams who claimed that he was Sigma-tized the week before. Ronald (Mr. Cool) Sutton was with Peggy Sue Terry, and Jay Winston was in his loud shirt.

There were Janice Williams and Willie Wilson, together as usual. Also Percy (the Great) McIntyre and marvelous Maurine Taylor. Wilson Robinson was whaling without his ace buddy by his side.

HIGHLIGHTING EVENTS

FOR THE WEEK

Highlight of the week's events was the Highlighters themselves who came to life with a dance at Alpha Town Friday night. Just like we warned you last week, all the Nellies were there. There was glamorous Nelly, Bernadine Francis, loveliest of the lot; cute Nelly, Dolores McCrimmon, sweetest of them all; darling Nelly, Gwen Craven, as fine a one as you'll find; who hit the tape with Vernon Carrington while Everett Green came in a close second shouting, "I'm madly in love with you!"

Otherwise there was Big Boy Joe Montgomery making his comeback to courting circles with Audrey Holt, and Jay Gonder sparring around with Archie Taylor while her heart dwelled on Frank Braxton, her latest lover. Mary Burnley was the only chick in chintz, and Erma Thompson was the only chick so dear. John Mollins played his favorite role as bachelor boy, and Earl Griffin focused his camera on artistic subjects.

Olivia Chappell provided inspiration for a young artist, her sis Jean Franklin had those beautiful eyes, and Lorraine Goffney stated, "I don't wanta be kissed." Lionel Smith and Cecil Waters made their first scene to the social circle since last winter. Wade McClain hoofed it without Cora, and Gifford Montgomery tarried in company with naughty Joe. Doris Shields was there though Earl was miles away.

Hear this, kids: A tip just came our way that the Magic Door might open its doors again around the last of the month. Have information that Dorothy Stewart has been engaged to Joseph Hongo since September. Am told that charming Charlotte Johnson of Pasadena will be featured in a classical concert at 24th and Griffith on June 4, 4 p.m. She plans to attend the Julliard School of Music in New York. Of course everyone will turn out for the Coliseum Relays classic Friday night and Roy Porter's dance at the Elks Saturday night in honor of colored athletes in the Relays. Pressed for time and lacking words, but we'll have to leave you with our weekly thought: What good is gold or fame if there is no one to share it with you?

Evenings by Appointment

FAMOUS ARCHITECT AND FAMILY OFF TO EUROPE

INTERNATIONALLY FAMOUS ARCHITECT—Paul Williams (on the left), native of Los Angeles, on his way to Europe with his wife and daughter. They will be accompanied by Mrs. Williams' sister, Mrs. Charles Satchell Morris. Bidding the group adieu is Dr. Morris (right).

Paul R. Williams, internationally celebrated architect, his wife, Della Mae, their daughter, Norma, and Mrs. Williams' sister, Mrs. Charles Satchell Morris, left Tuesday on the crack Santa Fe Chief for a whirlwind visit to Europe. Arriving in Chicago Thursday morning, the party will depart this afternoon—following an inspection tour by Mr. Williams of a number of projects which he is supervising in the Windy City—on the Twentieth Century Limited of the New York Central Lines. The tourists will reach New York Friday morning, making their headquarters at the Hotel Gotham. That night they will see "South Pacific."

At four o'clock Saturday afternoon they depart for Europe via the French Line flagship Ile de France. The group first will visit Paris and other points in France. Next they will journey to Florence, Milan, Venice and Rome. A trek to Sweden, Switzerland and Germany will follow while the group will wind up the trip in London before sailing for New York.

Dr. Morris, who is unable to make the jaunt at this time because of annual commencement addresses and baccalaureate ceremonies scheduled in the South East—on which trip he departs via motor next Tuesday—will meet his wife in New York on her return from Europe with the family group. He will also motor his invalid mother, a sister and her husband and their two children to Los Angeles to make their permanent home here.

Dr. Morris will be guest minister at Providence Baptist Church, 507 East 35th Street, Sunday morning.

Twilight 'Til Dawn Dance To Benefit Boy Scout Jamboree

Mrs. Millie Bruce, General Chairman of "Twilight 'Til Dawn," benefit to be given at the El Sombbrero, on Thursday, May 18th, from 8-2 p.m., promises the public all they have been looking for in the way of entertainment. The Boy Scouts of Los Angeles will receive the proceeds.

Joseph Adams, the prominent disc jockey of the city, has graciously consented to m.c. the show throughout the evening, with Dick Laine, favorite announcer of television, assisting. Wonderful Smith will also introduce the talent.

Together these popular figures of the ether waves will present such outstanding personalities of stage, screen and radio as: The Ravens, appearing in the city at present; Helen Humes, currently appearing in a local engagement; radio and screen star Hattie McDaniels, and Meredith Howard, local soprano and recording artist.

Music for dancing will be furnished by Amando Solis and his brilliant combo of South America fame. Opening the evening to get your feet in "nimble swing" will be square dancing, led by Bill Laceyfield (former U.C.L.A. athletic star) and his Triple Almandeals.

Another program feature will be a contest in jazz with Victor O'Neil, sax; Leonard Sterling, drums; G. Williams, sax; Lester Aston, bass, and Elizabeth Jones, pianist, competing for honors.

Assisting the hostess will be members of the Alta-Qualidad Club.

For the general public attending door prizes will be given.

Les Femmes Meet

The Les Femmes D' Aujourd'hui met at the very lovely home of Mrs. Nellene Russell Friday, May 12.

With all members present, the girls discussed their annual Summer Breakfast and plan a wonderful affair.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Miss Evelyn Taylor.

AMANDO SOLIS, often referred to as America's handsomest band leader, and his orchestra will play for the "Twilight 'Til Dawn" dance to be given at the El Sombbrero on May 18 for the benefit of the Boy Scout National Jamboree. Assisting Solis will be popular national artists and 25 striking beauties.

Hawaiian Motiff Carried Out At Keeno Club Dinner

Popular members of the Keeno Club turned Islanders of the Hawaiian background as charming Lillie Smith entertained the club with a formal dinner party last Saturday evening.

Huge fresh pineapples and abundant clusters of Honolulu fruits carried out the beautiful and unique decor. Roast squab and wild rice with all trimmings was served.

Robert Brown, popular clubman, showed moving pictures of various spots of interest from coast to coast. During the gay affair Mrs. Julia Nolan, prominent church woman and aunt to Miss Smith, was introduced.

Those enjoying the party were LaRue and Jewel Moore, Clarence Glover, Margaretta Taylor, Edna and Sam Harris, Pearl Evans, Dora Swan, Bob and Evelyn Brown, E. Williams, Hosea and Edith Wilson, Ted and Margaretta Green, Lula and Jewel Tuggle.

Guests bade aloha after midnight.

set strip. Entries from outstanding clubs in the city will compete for cash awards. Clubs competing to date are the Doll League, Thirteen Aides, Merry Go Rounders, Amusettes, Orchid Girls, Allied Arts and other clubs whose names we do not have at press time.

Three cash awards will be given to the club entrees that the judges select as most elaborate. The judges are Kenneth Hopkins, noted designer; Ory Kelley, MGM fashion designer, and Will Allen, noted furrier.

A continuous show will prevail during the afternoon and to friends who are planning to attend, we suggest that you come early, because of the limited seating capacity. Donation at door $1.50.

McKinley Scouts Salute 25 Years Community Leader

A stirring tribute was paid Fannie E. Benjamin last Sunday afternoon at Jefferson High School by the Boy Scouts from the McKinley District.

Though the program was not well attended, and this does not speak well of a community not concerned with its boys and leaders, stars of radio and the legitimate theatre appeared.

Participating on the program were Hattie McDaniels, Mary Louise Jones, Faustina Johnson, Ruby Evelyn Lyle, Maxine Hughes, Edythe Whiteman, Marguerite Chapman, Frederick M. Roberts and the Albert McNeill Choir.

American Woodmen Spring Frolic Set At El Sombrero

Social clubs connected with four Camps of American Woodmen will give their first regular Spring Frolic at El Sombrero, 18th street at Broadway, on Thursday evening, May 25th.

The American Woodmen Social Clubs and Nurse Corps Auxiliary present an Annual Benefit Entertainment for Special Emergency Funds. Members of the organization are constantly called upon to help cases which do not qualify for regular insurance protection and some cases who find it difficult to get public aid. It is also a regular practice of the organization to aid deserving students and similar worthy cases.

Music for the event will be furnished by Sherman Williams, his entertainers and guest artists. There will be square dancing, Charleston contest and other types of frolicking.

Prizes will be offered for unique dresses. The most popular American Woodmen Social Club representative will be crowned. Professional Modistes, Hollywood's artists and well-known citizens will also participate.

Foster Mother of Year Named in NY

NEW YORK—Welfare Commissioner Raymond M. Hilliard this week honored Mrs. McKinley Jacobs, a 49-year-old Negro woman who has lovingly cared for 24 dependent and neglected children since 1947, as the city's Foster Mother of the Year. She was selected from among 17 women symbolizing the 5,000 foster mothers caring for 8,000 of the city's dependent and neglected youngsters.

Mrs. Jacobs is a carpenter's wife who has raised three children of her own and has 10 grandchildren. She now has five foster children in her 423 Waverly ave. Brooklyn home.

At the luncheon, Commissioner Hilliard made a plea for additional foster mothers. "There are 536 children now in need of placement. The greatest need is for care of children belonging to minority groups, 'problem children' and physically handicapped boys and girls."

Youth Rampages

By NELLIE BECKER

I don't know very much about psychology since it was only my minor in college but I do think that older ministers, teachers, writers and other people who influence the public would get much further by encouraging the younger generation once in a while than by damning them all the time.

But I guess it does make a better speech or story to exaggerate about a few rotten people than to encourage those on the borderline or those who are trying to do right. That's why mothers play such an important part in this world because they usually try to be more tolerant and understanding.

Don't you think it would be a good idea if we remembered mother with flowers and candy on days during the year when there wasn't any special occasion except that we loved her. To me the Mother's Day Tea's given by the Kappa's, Alpha's, Delta's and other organizations meant this—a lot of mothers were made very happy by this tribute that was being paid to them even if it was just for one day.

The Stork Has It

They say the younger generation isn't interested in having babies because the wives just don't want to be tied down. Maybe so, but now let's see—expecting are the Elbert Hudson's, Rip and Leontyne Russell, Burt and Ruth Krenner, Frank and Evelyn Abney already have their little boy, and Dr. Arthur and Gloria Mitchell will soon be pacing the floor nights with a babe in arms. Oh, I forgot to put Dr. Ellis and Wini Toney and Bill and Helen Hanley in that list. Add those to the people you know are expecting and that makes an awful lot of babies coming up.

Chit Chat

Mrs. Frank Cloud is busy taking up photography at school and she thinks that it is absolutely fascinating. Norma and Eddie Green are home from Puerto Rico. Puffy Hill is helping her sister Norma Houston prepare for her wedding . . . the lucky man is George Price of Oakland, California.

Harriet Wadley is all adithier about the coming marriage of her little sister Iretha Simons to Allen D. Perry. Steady double daters are Louis Robinson and Peggie Beasley and Vera Francis and Chuck Brussard. Don't you think that Johnny Delgado did a fine job as guest columnist—writing is his hobby.

Earline and Wilbur Tate will be headed New York way come June 9th. After graduation from Pepperdine Eddie McClellan is going to Kansas City. Dorothea Fearonce is featured in French Vogue as one of the top models in France. French Vogue sells for $2.50 a copy.

U.C.L.A.'s Arthur Macbeth received the Phi Beta Kappa award. Albert McNeil, music critic for the California Eagle, is busy gathering addresses for his European trip this summer. He leaves May 29th and will study at one of the famed music institutes (the name slipped me) in Switzerland. Vivian Johnson gave another one of her unique parties—this time it was celebrating her birthday.

Mr. C. G. Price and Mr. Carl Mitchell gave a surprise birthday party for Mrs. Mitchell who is leaving for Chicago for a month's vacation. Mae Elston, a visitor from Chicago, who has been entertained by many of her friends including Harriet Wadley, went on a trip to Catalina with Leontyne King last weekend.

In town looking us over is Dr. Lucille Fisk. Don't let the "handle" scare you, she's attractive, young and has loads of personality. Shall we say that she is Lucille Clark Fisk of Charleston, West Virginia, and Washington, D.C.?

Last Saturday night while the Omega fans left to celebrate their victory over the Sigma's other folks with purple fez's and flowing gowns crowded into the Elks Auditorium for the Golden West Lodge formal. Phyllis Scott's latest hairdo gives her that certain "oomph." The Delta's in celebration of May Week broadcast over K.F.W.B. Wednesday from 8:00 to 8:30. Juanita Miller was the moderator. Others participating on the panel were Dr. Gerri Woods, Mrs. Honore Levy, Eula Narcisse, Joan Pier-son.

On the Agenda

Invitations are in the mail for the Merry-Go-Rounders "Cocktail Dansante." A sport dance honoring the participants in the Coliseum Relays from Tennessee, Morgan State and Tuskegee Institute will be held at the Elks Saturday nite with Roy Porter's band. Friday night the Inter-Frat trophy dance will be held at the Elks Auditorium. Sunday the Anchorettes are pouring tea in honor of their parents.

Charlites Meeting

The Charlites Social Club held its monthly meeting at the home of Mrs. Mary Gardner. The Barn Dance has been tabled until a later date. It was voted that each member would act as hostess for a social a month.

Mrs. Erma Watson will be the hostess for the month of June and for the call meeting, May 23.

AMERICAN WOODMEN social clubs will rally behind the cause of providing benefits to families unprotected by insurance. The proceeds from their Spring Cotton Frolic to be held at the El Sombrero May 25th will go to this cause. Contestants fotoviewed are Kathryn Fields, Helen K. Moore, Vivian Oglesby and Anna D. Gardner.

SHARPS & FLATS

By
ALBERT J. McNEIL
Music Critic of the California Eagle

SINCERELY

For many years we have sincerely and genuinely attempted to produce the finest in religious and secular music in the community. Our medias have taken several courses.

First, we were privileged to serve the community through its school system, dealing directly with the youth whose attitudes and concepts are in the formative stages; secondly, through the churches, namely the New Hope Baptist Church and through the Department of Music of the People's Independent Church of Christ; and thirdly, through the Los Angeles Branch of the National Association of Negro Musicians, Inc.; the Los Angeles Federation of Church Choirs, the Los Angeles Chapter of the American Guild of Organists, the Choral Conductors Guild of Southern California.

Yes, Los Angeles is my native home and as a consequence we have grown with its musical maturity. Many individuals have been responsible for this personal growth—some of these have contributed materially, others with good wishes and encouragement. There are a few, however, who have been obviously discouraging and even erected barriers to impede my progress, for these I have only pity.

By this time, you are perhaps wondering why the "sermon"? It is simple. I have recently been the recipient of a great honor... an opportunity to study abroad. I owe a debt of gratitude to my community which, in many cases, has demonstrated its sincerity and communal interest in a musician who has attempted to "make something of himself."

I would like to meet my readers and friend Sunday afternoon at a reception being given in my honor in the home of Dr. and Mrs. Clayton D. Russell between the hours of five and seven.

MARGUERITE CHAPMAN IN RECITAL
(Note: The following article was written by Girl Friday.)

Last Sunday, May 14, sharp, Marguerite Chapman, lyric soprano, sang at Wesley Methodist Church for a mixed audience and capacity house.

For many years we have heard Marguerite Chapman sing in Los Angeles, but this recital was the first this writer has attended. Gowned in pale green tulle and presenting a pleasing picture, Mrs. Chapman opened her recital with the lyrical "Alleluia" by Wolfgang Mozart.

The singer gained some composure at this point though some nervousness persisted throughout the first two groups. Schubert's "Death and the Maiden," the singer did not reach the desired interpretative mood intended by the composer; however, even here the voice was good.

Sometimes even great artists have difficulty in interpreting German lieder, and in this respect Mrs. Chapman is no exception. This was exhibited in Robert Schumann's "The Lotus Flower." Again it is necessary to speak of the interpretation, which should be more fully developed.

An exquisite quality with good control was attained in "The Monotone" by Cornelius. Mrs. Chapman's English diction is exceptionally good. The aria, "Micaela's Air" the Bizet's Carmen was fair, but due to faulty voice placement the high tones did not ring with the bell-like quality which makes this aria a favorite of all. This writer feels that more attention should be given to voice placement.

The three spirituals, "Talk About a Child That Do Love Jesus," "My Soul's Been Anchored in the Lord" and "Give Me Jesus" marked the first signs of the exciting artistry that the singer can achieve. The interpretations were excellent throughout the group. The arranger of the last spiritual, Dr. Edward Shippen Barnes of the American Guild of Organists, was present in the audience.

The last group which included "The Star," "Lullaby" of Scott, "The Fool Hath said There is no God," and "Clouds" moved with ease and control.

Most enjoyable among the encores were "The Cuckoo," and "Little Blue Pigeon." We were pleased to hear the "Little Blue Pigeon" particularly because it is a composition in the modern style by the well-known musician, Prof. William T. Wilkins.

Albert McNeil was the accompanist.

McDavid Leads New Ensemble In Free Park Concert Sunday

A new municipal band makes its bow on the Bureau of Music's free park concert series Sunday when a 27-piece concert ensemble plays in Exposition Park from 3 to 5 p.m. under the direction of Percy McDavid.

The all-Negro unit, featuring some of this area's finest soloists, is being co-sponsored by Local 767 of the American Federation of Musicians, and makes the fourth unit in the group of bands which plays free Sunday afternoon concerts in the city's parks on a rotating schedule throughout the spring, summer and fall months under the auspices of the city's Bureau of Music.

GEORGIA LASTER, outstanding local concert pianist is shown with her newly-appointed manager, R. Edwin Stone as they map out her approaching concert tour. Miss Laster will open her tour the latter part of the summer. On May 19 she will appear as soloist with the L.A. Conservatory orchestra in Mendelssohn's Messiah, and on May 28, she will be soloist as the Independent Church presents the Brahms Requiem.

FINAL PLANS. Negro Art Theatre To Present Golden Boy Premiere Thursday

It'll be theater time come Thursday evening, May 25, when the newly organized Negro Art Theatre stages its first production "Golden Boy" in the Little Theater, 2265 West Twenty-second street.

Public response and excellent advance sale of tickets indicate capacity houses for the first three evenings.

Disputes with Actor's Equity and financial difficulties which befell the group, several months ago prevented them from staging their initial production in April as originally planned.

However film notables and numerous prominent citizens have taken active interest in the Sunday's program, to be given at the bandstand on the North Drive, between the Coliseum and County Museum in Exposition Park, will be quite varied. Among the features are three original numbers: "Puerto Rican Breakdown?" and "Chameleon" by Buddy Harper, and "Sara," by Harold Forsythe. Harper, incidentally, is the uncle of Toni Harper, the well-known child singer.

Concert Of African Music Sunday

Dean Dixon, noted American conductor, will present an unusual program of symphonic works by African and other Negro composers at Town Hall, 113 W. 43rd St., on Sunday, May 21, at 2:30 p.m.

The concert is sponsored by the African Aid Committee, and the proceeds will be used to support a health clinic directed by an African physician in the poverty-stricken Ciskei Province of the Union of South Africa, and to further cultural work among the African children in Cape Province.

Tickets are available at the office of the African Aid Committee, 23 West 26th street. Murray Hill 3-6209.

Howard Choir Wins Praise For TV Shows

On May 16th, the John Howard Choir appeared on the Bob Histrand T. V. Show over station KFI, Channel 9. This marked the 7th TV show for the choir, and they are looking forward to more frequent appearances. With the cooperation of the listening audience great possibilities are in view.

The public is urged to write their opinions of this choir to KFI-TV Los Angeles 54, Calif. This could be your opportunity to be entertained more frequently by your favorite choir.

The John Howard Choir will be presented in concert by Elder P. T. Thomas, at the Church of God in Christ Sunday, May 21, at 3:00 p.m. This promises to be a great day and everyone is cordially invited to attend.

NOTES FROM A NEWSGIRL'S NOTEBOOK:

New flicker, "The Jackie Robinson Story," had its preview in New York last week at the Astor theatre... we could give you reports on what we've heard but we'll wait until we see the picture for ourself... Robinson and Abrams, new owners of the Oasis are two of the most likeable fellows we've met in many a moon... they know how to treat people... we predict that in just a few more months the Oasis will take honors for presenting the city's top entertainment... and that has nothing to do with the fact that we heard that disc jockey Joe Adams will soon make his debut there as a vocalist... NBC presented the "Life of Rochester" last Friday night.

We're still trying to figure out why it is that Roy Loggins voice gets that quiver whenever he calls the name of "Dimita Jo"... Shapely Dottie Parker looks even better in a sweater that's a wee bit crowded... but then don't take my word for it ask Earl Carter... Arthur D. Wilson so sought after, he's actually tripping over sooo many... b... eee... yoo... ti... ful women, and always because he can't make up his mind, whatta tell!... Pretty Millie Bruce heads the Twilight 'til Dawn Variety Frolic tonight at the El Sombrero for the benefit of the National Scout

Jamboree... Millie all excited with those dancing eyes telling us to be sure and make it because there'll be loads of fun for everyone.

Lucky and Sally Millinder all smiles over their new addition... The baby talk of Doris White has Johnny Forrester drooling all over the place... Understand that Maurice Rocco in hot water all over again with his ex-wife Iantha who claims he still owes her alimony... The Eddie Green's back in the city after quite a lengthy absence... Eddie still on the sick list... Aha! Joe Shipp says "Women get more economical in their advanced age, for instance, look at the ones who put only thirty candles on their fortieth birthday cakes"... Kendall Robinson, popular sportsman and his wife Sammie have come to the parting of ways with spouse Sammie filing for divorce... we wondered why Kendall had sooo many women hemmed up at the Zenith Fashion Show Sunday.

Rudy Renda, a constant visitor on the Joe Graydon TV show every Sunday afternoon... Ernie Anderws has a new tune out on London label that is Oola-lall... There's new sepiac vocalist that isn't clicking (vocally) out at a Hollywd nitery yet she's putting away the moola (the folding kind we mean)... SUDDEN THAWT: "Breath is what parents held when the four or five year old sets out to relate some family incident."

NOTES, NEWS AND NONSENSE:

Mantam Moreland will replace Eddie Green on the Duffy's

Tavern show... Jimmy Edwards who is expected here on the coast very shortly causing a singasation as a vocalist at the Club Elsinore in Detroit... Mabel Scott going over with a bang at New York's Cafe Society... Hear that the package of Bullmoose Jackson is terrific... Ravens ear-pleasing at the Oasis... Les Dames secured the swanky "Rue Angel" on the Sunset Strip for their 1st annual Bal Masque Sunday afternoon, May 28th from 3 to 8 p.m... You'll want to make this a must, many guest artists to appear on the continuous show... Vocalist Billy Daniels getting praises for his wonderful vocalin at San Francisco's Lou Landry's New Orleans Swing Club... John Howard Choir on TV Sunday... South Pacific a sell-out for weeks.

We're dying to hear Dottie Dandridge do this much talked "French Ditty"... Understand that the staff of Katherine Dunham is preparing a farewell party in her honor... The social set all atwitter 'bout the coming marriage of a social-vely to one of the town's number one playboys... claim it won't work... Johnny Moore and his three Blazers in full swing again after an extended period of inactivity... The Sepia Tones, All Girl Band, appear with Billy Daniels at the Bay city's New Orleans Swing Club with scheduled coming attractions, Louis Armstrong, Count Basie, Stephen Fitch, Cab Calloway, Kid Ory and Arthur Lee Simpkins... Caught the press preview out at the Carthay Circle of Stanley Kramer's "The Men" and for right now we'll say "terrific"... Aha... Bill Griffin says "Now that a movie camera has been made that takes a million pictures a minute, perhaps it would be possible to obtain a pictorial record of a congressman dodging an issue."

Slim Gaillard back at Frisco's "Say When"... Fats Waller memorial week scheduled for May 23rd with all of the major disc jockeys paying tribute to the music of the late "Fats"... Negro Art Theatre will definitely open at the Negro Art Theatre, 2265 West 21st on the 25th of this month with their first production "Golden Boy"... Rumors have it that there is an offer for a recording contract for the very talented Edith Whiteman... Time for closing thought, so we'll leave you with something that goes like this "Arguments over what constitutes taste are as futile as arguments over what constitutes good looks in women or bad ethics in politics."

Greek Heroine Now Actress

HOLLYWOOD—Maria Costi, a heroine of the Greek underground and a singer in her native land, makes her screen debut in RKO Radio's "The Wall Outside," supporting Elizabeth Scott, Jane Greer and Dennis O'Keefe. During the war Miss Costi served as liaison officer between guerilla forces in the mountains and underground headquarters in Athens.

Stuff Crouch, popular host to nitelifers presents an all-star floor show out at Cranes Celebrity Club, 1909 East Imperial. Stuff, who was recently added to the management of the club, announced this week that every Friday, Saturday and Sunday an hour of downright solid entertainment may be found out at Cranes Celebrity Club. Presented on the show, the swingstationary band of King Perry, Santiago, that terrific torso hurler, "Little Mickey" female vocalist, La Roque and Denise, sensational dance team; McVoot, comedian and dancer, and Dave Howard, new singing idol. There you have it, a show packed with top entertainment, so make it a must, visit Cranes Celebrity Club tomorrow night.

"Fats" Waller Memorial Week Of Music May 23

NEW YORK—All branches of show business will once again combine to help perpetrate the memory of the late great "Fats" Waller through the Thomas "Fats" Waller National Memorial Week of Music, which will be marked during the period of May 16 through May 23, as a tribute to the man who made so many worthwhile and lasting contributions to contemporary American music.

Spearheading the 1950 tribute to the beloved "Fats" will be the nation's disc-jockeys, who will highlight his recordings and the recordings by other artists of his many works. Many of the top platter-spinners in the United States and Canada have scheduled daily broadcasts, featuring Waller recordings, brief eulogistic comment and word-pictures of his brilliant, colorful career and immortal music.

Dinah The Pitchmen's Pet

NEW YORK—If Sam Stone, the master pitchman, ever leaves the Milton Berle show to go into the business in earnest, he'll be assured at least one "live" customer. Dinah Washington is in town. The great singer, currently appearing at Bop City, is the answer to a pitchman's prayer. She just can't resist buying things she sees offered at street corner and "auction" sales.

Garner Gets Raves

NEW YORK CITY—All this talk about Errol Garner as the greatest jazz pianist around today, save Art Tatum, doesn't excite Garner in the least. The quiet, unemotional perfectionist, who just closed Cafe Society Downtown, has been plodding a long time on a road to recognition. And at last he's arrived.

Since the early days when enthusiasts were searching around for a new "style" to latch on to, Garner has been fingering lightly with an amazingly "easy technique."

LOCAL GIRL SCORES ON NEW DISC—Violet Hall, local song stylist, made her record debut this week on Blue Label with her waxing of "You Better Come Back Baby" written by Harold C. Jones and Dootsie Williams.

AFRICAN FILM WINS OSCAR—"Daybreak in Udi," a simple story of the efforts of African villagers and a British District commissioner to build a maternity home, won the Hollywood Oscar for the best documentary film for the year. Founded on actual fact, filmed in the Udi Province of Nigeria by the British government, the film's stars are the people whose story it is.

Duncan Back In 'Stars' Tornado Stops Milburn On Road Tour

NEW YORK CITY—(CNS)—Completing a ten day concert tour, Todd Duncan, star of the Broadway musical "Lost in the Stars," returned to the cast this week, vowing this was his last tour of the season. He'll just "stick to New York" he said. Joseph James had replaced him.

PARIS, Texas—A tornado that ripped through Texas in the midst of a one-night tour of the lone star state by "Bewildered" man Amos Milburn and his band forced the cancellation of Milburn's scheduled appearance in this city and almost caused him to miss bookings in several other localities of the state.

The "Bewildered" man and his band are currently winding up their Texas tour and will play dates in Oklahoma, Kansas and Nebraska before heading eastward on May 25.

ETHEL WATERS—To those who are not in the know, has seemingly given up the fair angle city for that of "the apple." Ethel is still getting raves for her superb acting in "Member of the Wedding."

Music as Crime Bait

NEW YORK—Bandleader Earl Bostic is not a member of the Gotham police force but he indirectly lent a hand in the recovery of little Chanetta Holden, infant kidnapped from an incubator at Lincoln Hospital here several weeks ago. A review of events leading up to the apprehension of Evelyn Jane Jordan, with the child in a midtown hotel, revealed that the loud playing of an electric phonograph attracted the attention of other employees to the room and subsequently to the presence of the baby.

HI DE HO TIME—Cab Calloway still rated king of Hi De Ho, thrilling easterners with his gay rhythm.

INK SPOTS—Still rated as one of America's top singing group now on nation-wide tour.

MCCREA FIRST ON THE DRAW

A falling out between bandit-killer Barry Sullivan and wagon train leaders Joel McCrea and James Whitmore provides the action for a tense scene in "The Outriders," exciting Technicolor drama now showing at the Bill Robinson Theatre. Arlene Dahl has the feminine lead, with Claude Jarman, Jr. and Ramon Novarro in support.

Honor Townsend With Brilliant Variety Show

The mad rush was on this week for tickets to the star-studded variety show being staged at the Bill Robinson Theater, 43rd Place and Central Avenue, next Tuesday evening, May 23, at 8:30 p.m.

It appears that there will be a sell out house before the date of the show. There will be only 230 patron loges available, and only 550 general admission tickets. All others will have to utilize standing room only.

The general admission tickets are $1.20 (tax included), and the patron's loges tickets, $2.40 (tax included.)

As the date of the big show draws near, the list of names stars continue to pour into the show.

Among the new additions to the show has been Lee Hathaway, torrid torch singer, and new lady disc jockey of Station KOWL; Caleb Peterson, pictured in the screen hit, "Till the Clouds Roll By; Nonette More, one of the stars of Sugar Hill, and Marie Bryant, sensational singing and dancing star, if she is in the City at that time.

Prior to the show, a giant parade will be staged, beginning at 7 o'clock, with 50 to 100 cars leaving from the Elks Building, 4016 South Central Avenue. In the parade will be specially equipped loud speakers. A second specially installed set of loud speakers will be set up in the streets in front of the Bill Robinson Theater, with rolled carpet at the theater entrance, with a special microphone to introduce the outstanding guests and artist as they arrive at the Theater. Mr. Joe Harris, the Theatrical Editor of the Sentinel, has been slated to be the official announcer of the arriving guests.

Mr. Louis Jones, Potentate of Egyptian Temple No. 5 of the Shrine, acting on behalf of the Shrine, will present to Attorney Townsend a scroll of honor, as the highlight of the show. Mr. Robert Strathair, President of the Elks Civil Liberties League, and affiliated with the Herald-American Newspaper, will also present to Attorney Townsend a scroll of honor, as the Grand Director of Civil Liberties of the Elks both of said organizations making the presentation commemorating the great community service made by Attorney Townsend, and his great contribution in the law.

Attorney Townsend, will be presented with a specially made orchid on behalf of the Silhouettes, the women of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity.

The Committee's statement to Congress follows:

At the moment when the first hydrogen bomb exists, warfare with that all-destroying weapon will become, in the life of every American, a clear and present danger. From that moment on, peril—daily, hourly, peril of attack and reprisal—will hold the peoples of all countries in an international reign of terror. Thus fear itself will grow upon the world until it brings down upon us the very acts of ultimate violence that will put an end to all life on earth. From such a war no optical philosophy can emerge triumphant. No moral code can prevail. Therefore we hold that no true love of country can support the present preparation for such a war.

Yet we are even now making the hydrogen bomb. To the peoples of the world we have revealed that we are placing our reliance on an annihilating force. And our government has arrived at that decision before all the paths toward a peaceful alternative have been explored to their full length.

We believe in the defense of our country and in the upholding of its honor. But we ask leave to point out to those who are responsible for our government's decision to make the hydrogen bomb that national suicide is not the part of honor. To risk the very being of our country, to offer it as a sacrifice on the altar of our fears, is to violate the sacred memory of those Americans who have given their lives that such sacrifice might be made.

We therefore implore the Congress to carry further, through its good offices, the search for a peaceful alternative to the hydrogen bomb; and we hereby set forth three lines of endeavor which we pray that body to pursue in giving its advice and consent to the course of our government in the affairs of nations:

1. To abandon, now, the design and manufacture of the hydrogen bomb, and to make known this cessation to all governments and peoples.
2. To call upon the President and his Congress of these United States to undertake negotiations with the government of the Soviet Union to secure the banning of the Bomb as a first step toward disarmament and the peaceful settlement of all outstanding differences and the eventual resumption of trade.
3. To call upon the United States delegation to the United Nations to be prepared to present positive proposals for peace through strengthening the United Nations as the greatest instrument for drawing all nations of the world into free cooperation.

Mothers Day Tea

A group of mothers who want their children to live in a peaceful world feel that the best gift to mothers this Mother's Day is lasting peace.

They have, therefore, formed a Mothers' Committee for Peace and have asked that their neighbors, friends, and their children join with them and let their voices be heard for peace.

They will meet on Mother's Day, Sunday, May 14, at 2 p.m. at Westlake Park, at Seventh and Alverado sts.

The committee invites everyone to participate in its plans.

From a source that is older than science, that knows no time, Cherishment of the world's peoples is the course of courage and honor. Faith in our fellow-man as the creature of God is now the only power, the final reality, which will not fail us. Only in the action of leaders who can surmount the petty barriers to a full exercise of that faith shall we find our defense against the hydrogen bomb. We believe there are lives in the hearts of our people and of all peoples the hope that our leaders will draw upon this power while there is yet time. We petition the Congress to act to this end.

Artist Names Lena Most Beautiful Woman In World

Glamorous songstress Lena Horne was named "the most beautiful woman in the world" this week by artist John Vogel, one of the nation's foremost portrait painters. Vogel, whose paintings hang in art galleries from coast to coast, stated that "Lena possesses the most extraordinary and haunting beauty of any woman alive."

Vogel stated that: "The Venus de Milo was to the Greeks, in bodily proportions and linear rhythms, the complete ideal of beautiful womanhood. Throughout my entire painting career, I have been searching endlessly for a living female who would approximate the 'features' of Venus de Milo. I found her in Lena Horne."

He gets as much as $5,000 for a single painting, but he is painting an oil of Lena without charge.

The handsome artist, educated in the East and presently living in Hollywood, feels that Lena Horne is a composite of some of the loveliest woman who have ever been painted.

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

FROM THE EAST comes news of what's cooking along sports lines out that way. Leonard Vaughn says: "If JAKE LAMOTTA defends his title against ROCKY GRAZIANO, former title holder, come June 14, which is being negotiated at the present, professional boxing will again hit a new low."

Two weeks ago, Graziano voiced his feeling on a shot at the middleweight crown, "I don't want it," says Rocky—at least I don't want to fight the bull for it. But now, almost the last minute, he is being hustled to sign for the bout to save his friend's crown. And its no question on who'll win it either. . . . The inking of the contract is enough to secure Jake's title.

Rocky is not the leading contender. His rating is far below that of such gladiators as Robinson, Dave Sand, Laurent Dauthuille, Vilhemain and Art Towne. The only rating that the Rock has over the entire field of fistology is that he's Jake's friend SO-oo!

BRANCH RICKY is probably having nightmares over the current performances of SAM JETHROE. Sammy's leading the league in runs, hits and triples. . . . "The Jackie Robinson Story" starring Jackie gave somebody a tremendous idea. Now, "A Guy named Smith" is the title of a movie to be made, starring Ray Robinson. (His real moniker is Walker Smith).

DON NEWCOMBE didn't have to be laid off for any vacation for his sore arm. All he needed was a pay boost and he would have pitched, and pitched good the next day. . . . Willard (the Knuck) Ramsdell was sold to Cincinnati the same day Lefty Raffensberger horse. . . . collared the Brooks for a shut-out. . . . Most major league managers are wholeheartedly in favor of the new balk rule. Nine like the rule while four are opposed, and two declined to venture an opinion, and one was neutral.

Big, hard-hitting LUKE EAST-ER might be playing first base

Sam Jethroe Sensation Of National Loop

BROOKLYN—Boston's speedy Sammy Jethroe, who once out-traced Olympic Sprinter Barney Ewell, is in the game to hit—and not to run.

The Braves' No. 1 candidate for "rookie of the year" honors is convinced he will hit .300 in the majors.

The 23-year-old East St. Louis-born Negro speedster is off to a fast, almost sensational start. Batting in the lead-off post, Jethroe has thumped National League pitching for a .34 mark in 24 games.

The Baltimore Elite Giants will have James (Junior) Gilliam, star second baseman in their lineup when they face the New York Cubans in the Negro-American League doubleheader at the Polo Grounds Sunday. Gilliam received a spring tryout with the Chicago Cubs last season, and he is being eyed by several major league talent scouts.

COLISEUM RELAYS — Fans here will be out in great numbers Friday to watch the annual Coliseum Relays at the L.A. Coliseum. Creating the most interest, of course, will be Tuskegee's famous women's relay team, making their first appearance on the West Coast. Also in the 100 and 220-yard dashes will be Lloyd LaBeach, the Panamanian, who is attending Loyola University here. Sam LaBeach, brother of Lloyd, will be here running on the Morgan State relay team, which won four other crowns in addition to the National AAU title. Herb McKenley, who holds the world record for the 440, will be on hand to defend his title, and there will be plenty other top Negro athletes competing.

Aggies Winners Of Track Meet At N. C. College

DURHAM, N. C.—A & T College's Aggies placed a point-winner in 14 of 15 events staged in the recent Track and Field Carnival held here at North Carolina College to win the sixth renewal of the competitions by scoring 59 points.

North Carolina College's defending champions, aided considerably by five first-place performances, shaded St. Augustine's by a whisker to win the runners-up spot. The Eagles collected 38½ points against 38 points for the Saints.

Times were generally slower than they were in '49, although Neville of Winston-Salem Teachers' College turned in a sparkling 9.7 century.

Golfdom's newest rivalry, "Bat-tam" Ben Hogan vs. Slammin' Sammy Snead, will resume May 18 at Brentwood Country Club, Los Angeles, site of the four-day 47th Western Open Golf Championship.

L. A. Rams Ink Five To 1950 Grid Contracts

A promising rookie center and two veteran ends signed 1950 pro football contracts with the Los Angeles Rams last weekend. James Stephenson, 235-pound center from West Virginia University, joined ends Jack Zilly and Bill Smythe in the Ram field.

OTHERS SIGN

Los Angeles Ram backs will be headed West this year—that is, if rookie guard Stan West lives up to his advance billing as a player.

West signed his 1950 pro grid contract with the Rams, after a sparklink college career with the powerful Oklahoma Sooners. Frank Hubbell, veteran Ram end, has also come to terms for this year.

West, who stands 6 feet 2 inches and weighs 250 pounds, was named to eight all-American squads last year and is regarded as one of the finest linemen ever to play in the Southwest.

Beach Guards Offer Safety Suggestions

You can have fun at the beach, and yet side-step the hazards which lurk for the unwary at the ocean-washed strands, according to the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department.

Bathers and other beach-goers are urged by the City RPD beach lifeguard service to observe the "safe-and-sane" simplified beach safety code based on the guards' twenty-five years of experience in rescue work and accident prevention.

The City Recreation and Park Department maintains lifeguard headquarters at Sunset Pier in Venice, the Lighthouse at Will Rogers Beach, and at the Cabrillo Beach Bathhouse, plus other stations along the beach. Each headquarters is connected to lifeguard towers, beach-going jeeps, and sea-going patrol boats by telephone and radio, as part of the protection given millions of sand and surf goers.

Condensed to eight important "do's" following are the beach safety suggestions offered by C. P. L. Nicholls, supervisor of aquatics in the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department:

1. Swim only near a lifeguard; he will direct you away from dangerous conditions, such as shoes caused by rip-tides, piers, piling, and rocks.
2. Swim only the distance easily within your ability; long distance swimmers should be accompanied by other good swimmers, or, preferably, a boat.
3. Wait a reasonable time after eating before swimming.
4. Trust only to your own swimming ability, and not to floating play apparatus.
5. Call for help when you need it, but not otherwise.
6. Remember that volunteer rescuers usually hinder rather than help professional lifeguards.

7. Acquire your sun tan gradually.

8. Help to keep your beach clean.

Clubhouse Will Cost $72,907

One of the finest and most modern of the new recreation buildings planned for Los Angeles city playgrounds will be erected at the new Denker Playground site, Denker and 35th Place, according to information Councilman Don A. Allen has received from the City Recreation and Park Department.

The Denker site has been acquired by the city for development into a complete playground to serve children and youth of the West Jefferson area, and the building will be the central unit of the new project.

Before work on the new clubhouse can begin, old structures and houses remaining on the site must be cleared away, and this is to be done as soon as the few people still living in the buildings find other housing and move out, Councilman Allen has been informed.

Meanwhile, the City is all set to go ahead on the clubhouse work as soon as the site has been cleared. Plans are all completed and the contract let for construction of a recreation building that will cost $72,907 and will meet the great need for a recreation center for the children, youth, and families of the area.

The new community recreation building will be of the latest modern design and will provide facilities for a variety of indoor recreation activities.

The main recreation hall and stage will accommodate community programs, dances, entertainments, social activities, and many indoor sports and games. Smaller club and meeting rooms will take care of youth groups and other organized meetings, handicraft and hobby activities, and other recreation programs.

The building will also serve as headquarters for the operation of the playground and will contain the director's office, storage facilities, and public conveniences.

The Denker Playground is one of the new recreation centers being provided in various sections of Los Angeles under provisions of the City's playground bond fund program.

No. Carolina College Will Build New Gym

DURHAM, N. C.—The $4,000,000 plant expansion program now underway at North Carolina College moved a step nearer completion here last week as the institution's president, Dr. Alfonso Elder, announced that bids for the proposed gymnasium, scheduled to cost a quarter million dollars, will be received in Durham June 7.

Construction on five of the buildings in the college's expansion program is well underway, while bids for a sixth were received here recently.

The gymnasium, third of its kind to be erected at the college in the past 11 years, will seat 4,200, 1,800 seats will be auxiliary bleachers.

COLISEUM RELAYS FRIDAY

Morgan State Relay Champs Will Appear

The spotlight during the Coliseum Relays on May 19 will be on the strongest contingent of Negro athletes ever brought together for this giant, colorful track and field event.

Just as in past years, Negro stars will be the stand-out performers in most of the major events and when the Relays are over they may well have established several brilliant records.

Lloyd LaBeach, 100 yard dash and 220 yard ace, is training better than he has since before the Olympic games. During practice this week, the lanky Panamanian equalled the world record for the 220-yards when he was timed in 20.3 seconds. Since his marriage, LaBeach appears to have settled down and is taking things seriously. He's attending classes regularly at Loyola University, and he's putting his heart and soul into his preparations for the Coliseum Relays. Lloyd is only 25 years old, and from all reports he's better than he ever was. He'll be the star attraction in the 100-yard dash when he faces a tough field.

There'll be another LaBeach running in the Coliseum on May 19th. It'll be Lloyd's younger brother, Sam LaBeach, who's a member of the hottest and most colorful relay team in the world today, Morgan State of Maryland. The splendid record of this all-Negro squad has done wonders for the little school it represents. To date, Morgan State has won the National A-A-U championship, the Eastern Collegiate crown, the C-I-A-A championship, Penn Relays title and the South Atlantic A-A-U Indoor and Outdoor crowns. Anchored by flashy George Rhoden, Morgan State's best time for the mile relay is 3-minutes, 13 and 6 tenths seconds, fastest run anywhere this year. They'll be worth the price of admission alone.

Herb McKenley, the transplanted Jamaican who holds the world record for the 440-yards, will be back defending his title against a tough field. When it comes to the middle distances, McKenley doesn't take a back seat to anyone. He's training hard, and reports say that Herb will be better than ever for the Coliseum Relays on May 19.

JEFFERSON HIGH SPORTS

It's Lang Stanley for Mayor of Los Angeles! Boy, that lad could take over the governorship on the votes of Southern California track fans alone. The sheer force, power, and drive of that 1:54.6 half mile of his in the Coliseum last week will stand out in the memories of those who saw it for a long, long time.

It was evident, too that the boy had some coal left to put on the fire. Had Lang known that he was just 2 of a second off the record he probably would have covered the last ten yards in minus time. Without reservation he is probably the best Olympic half-mile talent yet to be discovered in the last decade. Mal Whitfield, notwithstanding, and Mal was another Jefferson lad, too.

Lang will be a definite prospect for the Look All-American Award, and prospect for track athlete of the year for the City of Los Angeles. Besides that Lang is the potential state champion, and the national champion. The future looks bright for our boy. We hope that his collegiate career will be the most sensational yet. Every track fan in the Southland joins us in that, too.

Don't forget to come on out to the Coliseum, tomorrow night. Here's the clincher . . . this year the high school ticket sale receipts will go back to the schools who sold them . . . so, come on you Demos, buy your way to the Coliseum and help swell you coffers for future Democrat athletic successes!!

Now that the baseball wars are over it's time to take stock of the results. Jefferson fared poorly, but it is to be remembered that the teams were green and were getting needed experience. Next year's season should show the results of Jefferson's efforts. Here are the varsity standings:

	Won	Lost
Manual Arts	7	3
Fremont	7	3
Washington	6	4
Roosevelt	6	4
Jefferson	2	8
Garfield	2	8

The varsity lacked pitching and fielding experience. At the plate the Jeffs had some punch, but the errors were too many to handle. The club hustled, however, and that's what will show up in the good side of the ledger for next year. Jeff's first baseman may be a candidate for league honors.

The tenth grade team under Mike Marienthal really showed spirit. Some of the boys are definitely going to be varsity material next year. Coaches Marienthal and Wehba are out to get the League title next season. Jeff has won the tennis title, the track title, the basketball title, the B football title. All that are left are varsity baseball and varsity football. The Jeffs will be jumpin' for sure in '51. The tenth grade baseballers won 7 and lost 10, for 3 league wins and 5 losses. Don Thierry and Earl Wilson did the pitching. Eddie Wheeler, the catching, along with Richard Garcia, Tom Davis, Harry Cal, Charles Hypolite, James Lawson, Al Robertson and Jessie Warford held down the infield posts; Robert Jacques, Lowell Johnson, Melvin Mickens, and Alan Wilkins were out in the outfield. John Lang handled the manager's post.

SWIM CLASSES

So that city schools may conduct pre-season swim classes for their students, eleven swimming pools of the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department have been placed in partial use this week, in advance of the regular opening of all plunges which takes place in mid-June when the summer vacation season starts.

Omegas Win Cage Crown

By Charles Lloyd

Local basketball connoisseurs were gasping for breath after a great Omega team came through Saturday night and beat the Sigmas decisively to cop their first victory frat crown.

Little Charles Reed emerged as the individual star of the game as he held the Sigmas' work-horse, Bob Pounds, to a new low of 5 points all night and put in 14 scores himself to become high scorer for the game. Final score was Omegas, 46, Sigmas, 36. In the preliminary game the Kappas took the measure of the Alphas, 43-33.

Combining excellent team work with their ability to connect on long shots, the Omegas made the game to go their way from the beginning to end. The outcome was decided as the Sigmas lacked individual players with scoring punch good enough to compensate for Pounds who was so thoroughly bottled up.

On the other hand the Omegas fielded five men who were capable of playing on a par with the best. Reed, Ivan Robinson, Vernon Riggins, Vernon Melton and West Slade contributed equally to the fine workmanship which earned them the converted crown.

Played in a true championship atmosphere, the game lagged 4½ minutes without a score being made. Riggins scored first on a free throw and Howard Holt countered with a goal for the Sigmas. Robinson, Reed and Melton came right back with beautiful baskets in succession which gave early indications of the course the game would take. Pounds made only one free throw during the first half as the victors walked away, 23-15.

With a safe 31-16 lead late in the third quarter, the Omegas put on a Globetrotter-type performance unequalled in the

Tuskegee Team Here For Meet

TUSKEGEE, Ala.—Four members of Tuskegee's famous women's track and field team left the Institute last Thursday morning to take part in the Annual Coliseum Relays which will be held at Los Angeles, Friday night. The girls arrived in Los Angeles Tuesday.

The program calls for the relay team of run against an All-Star foursome anchored by the famous Marjorie Jackson of Australia who defeated Olympic champion Fanny Blankers-Koen two times last year in Australia.

The Tuskegee girls have been invited to take part in the special 100 where Miss Jackson will again be met. The two Tuskegee runners for the 100 yards exhibition will be selected from Evelyn Lawler of Gadsden, Alabama, Gladys Talley, also of Fadsden, Alabama, the National 50 meters champion of the United States, and Nell Jackson, the National 200 meters champion of the United States and who set a record of 24.2 seconds for the 200 meters run at Odessa, Texas, August 13, 1949.

The fourth member of the relay team and lead-off girl will be Juanita Watson of Bessemer, Alabama, the 50 meters champion of the United States. In winning this event at Odessa, Texas, last year, she came within one-tenth of a second of the world's record.

'Symphonies Under the Stars' Will Open With Gounod's Faust

"Faust," popular opera by Charles Gounod, will open Hollywood Bowl's 29th season of Symphonies under the Stars on July 7th with a cast of Metropolitan Opera stars. It will be conducted by Dr. Artur Rodzinski and will have two additional performances July 8 and 11.

Heading the cast are Nadine Conner, soprano; Richard Tucker, tenor; and Jerome Hines, basso. A strong supporting cast will be assembled for the Bowl performance by James A. Doolittle who is producing the opera for the Hollywood Bowl Association. It will be the first time the Bowl has presented "Faust" in complete opera staging.

Opening week events, besides the opera, will be Dorothy Eustis, piano soloist, July 13; and the annual Gershwin concert

July 15. Dr. Rodzinski will conduct for Miss Eustis and the Gershwin concert will be presented by Fanchon and Marco.

Other offerings announced by the Hollywood Bowl Association are: six performances of the Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo, July 20, 21, 22, 27, 28 and 29; many noted vocal and instrumental soloists, famous conductors and special feature programs.

Besides Rodzinski, who will be on the podium July 13, 18, 25 and Aug. 1 in addition to the opera performances, the following conductors have been engaged: Alfred Wallenstein, Aug. 3 and 8 and Serge Koussevitsky who will conduct four programs in the last two weeks of the season.

The season will close with a performance of Beethoven's 9th symphony with soloists, orchestra and chorus.

Symphonic Music Composed By Negroes in Town Hall Concert

The proceeds of New York's first concert of symphonic music composed entirely by Negroes of this country, Latin America and Africa, to be presented at Town Hall, Sunday, will be sent to aid a maternity hospital directed by an African physician in the poverty-ridden reserve areas of the Union of South Africa and to provide help for the cultural work being done among African children in the same country by the Bantu composer and musician, Michael M. Moerane.

The concert by the New York Chamber Orchestra under the direction of the noted conductor, Dean Dixon, is sponsored by the African Aid Committee of which

Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois is chairman.

Among Negro composers whose works will be heard are the American Negroes Ulysses Kay and Los Angeles' William Grant Still; Francisco Manuel da Silva, who composed the national anthem of Brazil; and Father Jose Mauriceo Munes Garcia, who was in the early 19th century Director of the Cathedral of Rio de Janeiro and Director of Music of the Royal Chapel.

Kenny Speaks On Minority Housing Need

California's housing problems, with special emphasis on the plight of minority groups, will get a thorough airing Saturday night, May 21, at 8 p.m. over Television Station KECA - TV, when Loren Miller, local attorney, interviews Robert W. Kenny, former attorney general and long time supporter of an expanded public housing program. The station is on Channel 7.

Kenny, who is a candidate for the state senate, opposed race restrictive covenants when they were being enforced by state courts and as attorney general wrote a brief urging the California Supreme Court to forbid their judicial enforcement.

Saturday's discussion will center around a legislative program which he will offer when he takes his seat in the next state senate. Miller is treasurer of the local Citizens Housing Council and of the California Housing Association.

Home sewers who find difficulty in putting a zipper neatly and firmly by machine stitching may welcome the idea of sewing in zippers by hand.

Symphonic Concert Will Aid Africans

A concert of Negro symphonic music, under the direction of the noted conductor Dean Dixon will be presented Sunday afternoon, May 21, at 2:30 p.m., in New York's Town Hall.

Mr. Dixon has just returned from highly successful concert engagements in Paris.

The program, characterized as an "extraordinary contribution to intercultural understanding," is sponsored by the African Aid Committee, an independent, non-political agency enlisting the support of Americans to help meet the needs of the destitute men, women and children of Africa.

Mr. Moerane airmailed the score from South Africa to Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois, leading Negro historian and African Aid Committee chairman, especially for the occasion. His symphony was first performed by the British Broadcasting Company orchestra.

Proceeds of the May 21 concert, Dr. W. E. B. Du Bois, committee head, will be used primarily to support a health clinic directed by an African physician in the poverty-ridden Ciskei Province of the Union of South Africa, and to further cultural work among African children in Cape Province.

Dance Theatre Master Scores In Choreodrama Presentation

By NELLIE F. BECKER

To say that I was deeply moved by the dances that were presented at the Dance Theatre, would be stating it mildly. The man responsible for bringing out the hidden talents of these young dancers is Lester Horton. Unlike other dance masters with dance troupes, Lester Horton prefers to stay behind the scenes, directing, choreographing, and composing suitable dance music for the modern dance numbers.

The atmosphere in his little theatre is very professional. The costumes, stage settings, lighting and timing coordinate perfectly, yet these performers are still students of the dance.

The first choreodrama they presented was called El Rebozo—the Shawl. It was a satire on a policeman patrolling the park after curfew hour. Kenneth Bartmess portrays vividly the role of the unreasonable, sometimes cruel "guardian" (policeman) with his strong clean-cut movements and the never changing, cold, ruthless expression on his face.

The Xango, a fetishist invocation danced after the manner of Afro-Brazilian-Caribbean rituals was dramatically performed by Luisa Kreck. I noticed in the other number as well as this one that Luisa has mastered the modern dance form. The modern dance in contrast to ballet is very realistic, on the order of folk dancing only it's stylized, like creative dancing except that the movements are strong, and definite.

In watching the reactions of the audience looking at Luisa perform the ritual with her group of excellent supporting dancers, the onlookers seemed to be as tense and as excited as if they were watching a good western story or a who-dunnit at the cinema.

Most of the critics have talked and written about the dance number called Salome because it marked the debut of 17-year-old Carmen DeLavallade. Incidentally she is a protegee of Lena Horne. Her cousin Janet Collins was acclaimed by the leading dance critic of New York as being one of the greatest modern dancers to grace the stages of New York City. A Los Angeles daily newspaper inferred that Carmen was too young to dance the role of Salome because she didn't understand the type of role she was playing.

Perhaps this was due to the fact that no matter how forceful or earthy her movements were she still maintained an air of gracefulness about her. So much so that I dubbed her the lady with the delicate air. I hope that she will be able to retain this quality which distinguishes her from the other modern dancers. There were several times during the performance when she danced with a complete abandon which was absolutely breathtaking.

Lester Horton is doing a wonderful job with these students. I think the most admirable part about it is that his studio is set up so that he can constantly bring new talent before the public and present it in a professional manner.

Educators Protest Loyalty Oath

Leading educators, clergymen, attorneys and other prominent citizens last week issued a statement on academic freedom at the University of California. The statement and a partial list of those who signed it follows:

At the end of the year of unprecedented crisis on the campuses of the University, during which, overwhelming faculty votes were recorded against the loyalty oath as a dangerous, debasing and unnecessary inroad upon the academic freedom, the faculty has now tacitly accepted the incorporation of the oath into their contracts.

Academic freedom is the concern not only of the faculty, however. Freedom to think, to teach and to learn without coercion or fear is the concern of all Americans. As Americans, as parents, as California citizens whose taxes support this University, we cannot accept in silence a precedent that negotiates the loss of a "little" freedom.

The Regents propose to decide what political beliefs are to be held privately by University employees. An appointed group of individuals proposes to decide whether a given belief is "acceptable" or not. Assumption of guilt by association is elevated from being a violation of democratic principles to standard operating procedure intimidating the unfettered exchange of ideas.

Thus, at the University of California, political conformity becomes a prerequisite prior to and above competence as an educator. If any political belief can be so prescribed, who can say when any other political conviction or even religious faith may be deemed a "commitment" incompatible with the search for truth and its full exposition.

Faculty members of the California Institute of Technology also protested by issuing the following statement:

"We, the members of the faculty of the California Institute of Technology, reaffirm our support of the policy recently adopted unanimously by the American Association of University Professors. We respectfully ask the Board of Regents to withdraw the special loyalty oath, and urge the faculty to support the principles of academic freedom and tenure as set forth by the American Association of University Professors."

ELAJC CAMPUS NOTES

By Kathy Key

While observing 'other afternoon, Sat. in fact, saw Randolph Sydel escorting a lovely young lady across Adams and Cntrl'. Also noticed Archie Taylor on 47th and Cntrl' chatting with a couple of friends about what a fine time he had Fri. nite.

About 3 a.m. Sat. nite I awoke to find two pair of feet in my side, four pair of legs across my back and three arms over my head, for a moment I was startled until I realized it was only the members of the Archonian Pledge Club, enjoying a well planned Slumber Party. Vivacious Lenicia Boggs represented one of our Sorors of the Zeta Phi Betas. Beverly Tyler, our gracious hostess, entertained us with one of her unique piano selections, while Frankie, of LACC, imitated a B29 bomber until Albert McKinny interrupted with a song in that much imitated but never duplicated voice of hers.

Plans were discussed at the NAACP Youth Council meeting Sat. for organizing a new chapter of the youth council in south Los Angeles.

Sat. nite was one long to be remembered, the SIGMAS were great as usual, but by some horrible mistake the OMEGAS came out 10 points ahead, well, as I always say, you cannot keep a good man down, so watch out for them next year.

Had a delightful time Sun. nite chatting with two of my favorite columnists, Charles Lloyd and Robert Perkins, along with Robert as usual was the girl of his dreams, Ann Swann.

Noticed Dexter Loudd quietly enjoying a double feature at the Lincoln Sun. nite also saw lovely Naita Woodson looking very, very smart in a flowered dress.

Hear that the "Mardi Gras" staged by ELANS Friday nite was way out?? and that everybody had a swoonderful time, as usual I always miss out on the good things.

Martha Mickey swoons everytime she hears one of little Willie Littlefield's records, not that she has a personal interest (and this'll kill ya) she just likes the way he opens his mouth so dramatically!!!

This week brings the opening of the Male Animal being presented by ELANS and the re' at the Coliseum Fri. nite, know both will be huge successes.

For any notes of interest concerning social activities or this column call Kathy Key at Adams 1-4456.

Mother's Day Party

Members of the popular Chieftains novelty named Indian club honored their mothers with their 7th annual Mother's Day picnic. The Squaws and their Papoose Daughters met at the home of Papoose "Mouth-a-plenty" Elizabeth Mitchell. Mary Stewart, president, called Supreme Chieftain "Tallfeather," introduced the charming mothers. Games were played, speeches made, and about four o'clock a delicious fried chicken dinner was served. Each mother received a gift from her daughter—a fancy apron.

Mothers present were: Mesdames Mary Whitmore, Marie Green, Virginia Foster, Mae Henderson, Harriette Bell Leland, Minnie E. Washington, Lydia Rogers, oLtie Peterson, Chritinia Offutt, Della Buie, Clarkie B. Hubert, Minnie Thornton, Mary Johnson, Minnie Miller, Vallie Smith, and Leanna Ellis.

Club girls included: Magnolia Anderson, Daisy Cherry, Vera Bealy, Mary Louise Phillips, Cornelia Rogers, Evelyn Brown, Jewel Smith, Eleese Thornton, Zoluse Reed Cassidy, Elizabeth Mitchell, Mary Stewart, and Elsie Miller. Cena Williams was club guest for the afternoon.

Las Golondrinas

The Las Golondrinas Social Club met at the home of the president, Mrs. Evelyn Gratts. Reports from their annual breakfast, which was a huge success, were given. The next meeting will be held in the Pasadena home of Mrs. Erma Grazzette.

Time Marches On

My continent is no more isolated as it has been in previous years regarding its place in the world affairs.

Several columnist have predicted the future of Africa, with some accuracy.

The western people now fully realize the great failure of their influence and position, but nevertheless they are making efforts to hold on.

Nations that were subjected thru the use of weapons, or contrary to their wishes, revolt without warning. This situation which has been experienced in most of the other dark countries in other parts of the world, is now going on in Africa.

It is amazing to read in the metropolitan papers here, about

British heart, failure over her rapid loss of wealthy colonial countries which might lead to a weakening of her economic status.

Time has brought fact to light about the full interests of the uninvited guests in our continent.

Time will not only bring out more of their dishonesties, but also it will bring Africa's overthrow of the imperialism that has long kept her subordinate to nations which, through their poverty and manerisms, are fit for nothing but foot stools to the Africans.

It grows more evident daily that we are getting more facts and energy that will help build us up nationally to handle every situation that might confront us. This is a challenging age, and we must be alert, for no nation is worthy of trusteeship at the present stage of the cold war which might soon become a hot war.

Girls' Camp to Open June 30th

Camp Yallani will begin its first session June 30, Miss Florence Bevington, Camp Chairman of the Los Angeles Area Council of the Camp Fire Girls, announced today.

Located in the San Bernardino mountains near Barton Flats, Camp Yallani is open to Camp Fire Girls, Blue Birds Horizon

Clubbers and a limited number of non-members.

Camping sessions will begin June 30 and close August 24. There are five sessions for campers; two of two week length, two of ten day length, and a one week session.

Activities include horseback riding, camp and hand craft, folk dancing, archery, games and sports.

Jefferson's Choir At H'wood Bowl

Jefferson's A Capella Choir will be an important part of the gigantic program to be staged in the Hollywood Bowl.

Pepper Tree Lane will be lined with booths, which will show the educational problems that face the city of Los Angeles, and how the public at large can help to solve them.

The program will be by ticket only. The tickets will be free and will be issued through the various schools throughout the city.

Olympia Council PTA

"No child is too young to start recreation with its parents," stated Mrs. Robert M. Chesler, Tenth District Recreation chairman, in her address to members and guests at the May meeting of the Olympia Council at South Gate High School. "Learn to do recreation together," she continued, "and your children will be closer to you, and also will confide in you. The things you do together are what you enjoy most."

Mrs. Chesler also reminded those present of the many park facilities, missions, and numerous other "places where families can go for enjoyable vacations together, close to home," adding "Tolerance, brotherhood, and good sportsmanship are learned by playing together."

Mrs. Harry Eckes, general chairman for Camp Redford, and newly elected second vice president, for Tenth District, and chairman of emblems and publications for the State board, spoke on the many recreational activities offered at Camp Redford. "Any mother who really wants a vacation, should go to Camp Redford," she said.

A motion was passed to send $150 to the Tenth District Clinic building fund.

Musical portion of the program was presented by Mrs. Margaret Hazen, head of the music department, and included a flute solo by Eugene Ingles, accompanied by Marilyn Thorne at the piano, and the string section of the senior orchestra; two selections by Shirley Windmiller, soprano, accompanied by Pat Guthrie; trombonist, Leland Usher; and the double trio from the A Capella choir and Ladies Organization sang "Song of the Islands" and "Dancing in the Dark."

Cavalcade of Youth, Hollyw'd Bowl, May 26, 27

Four thousand students of Los Angeles city schools will participate in a "Cavalcade of Youth" the evenings of May 26 and 27 at Hollywood Bowl.

Featured attractions will be the City College A Cappella choir, Jefferson High School A Capella choir, an elementary choir of 1,000 voices, dance groups, the all-city orchestra, all-city gymnasts, ballet troupes, Latin-American music; massed bands, and a bicycle unit.

Formations of young people will not only mass on and around the stage of the bowl, but will troupe in formation up the paths of the hills surrounding the bowl.

In a series of exhibit booths along Pepper Tree Lane, children and teachers will actively demonstrate methods of classroom teaching in our city schools.

Youth Parade; Swimming Pool, South Park Opened

An estimated crowd of over 30,000 people viewed the Youth Parade and watched the opening of the new $200,000 swimming pool at South Park last week.

The parade, which was over two miles long, started at Santa Barbara and Central and proceeded to 51st Street and then west to South Park. There were many floats and expositions and marching units by Boy Scouts, Woodcraft Rangers, the Red Cross, Daps, various health floats, the Fire Department, the Elks Band, Ben Bowie Post's Drum and Bugle Corps, Sheriff's Boys' Band, Campfire Girls, Girl Scouts and other agencies.

Special credit is deserved by Reverend Baxter Duke, chairman of the Central Avenue Coordinating Council, who sponsored this parade, and Mr. W. E. Carson, who was co-chairman. Mr. Frank White, past president of the Elks, officiated at the ceremonies. Sherill Luke, president of the student body at UCLA, was Grand Marshal. At the park, Mr. George Hjelte, general manager of the Department of Recreation and Parks, introduced Mrs. Rollin Brown, president of the Recreation and Parks Commission. The swimming pool was then turned over to Councilman Kenneth Hahn who accepted it in behalf of the people of the 8th District.

After several speeches, including those of Councilman Don Alen of the 7th District, Assemblyman Augustus Hawkins, Assemblyman Gordon Hahn, the swimming pool was opened to the children.

School Incorporated

The Frances P. Williams School for Retarded Children was duly incorporated as a non-profit corporation under the laws of the State of California on May 9, 1950, when articles of incorporation were filed with the Secretary of State.

The next board meeting will be held at the school, 615 East 36th street, Friday, May 19, at 8 p.m. A program to celebrate its incorporation will be planned.

You can learn in easy lessons how to do the necessary operations to maintain a simple set of books and how to make business statements.

PEN PALS CORNER

By BARBARA JEAN

Conaty's prom is comin, you know, and just about everybody's gettin' ready to go. For instance: Audrey Springs-Reynold Burbank, Lorraine Mouton??? Your guess is as good as mine.

Raymond and Robert are gettin' real chummy with Sylvia Penland. Feeling ain't mutual though, cause she's in love with Bill Wilson. Well I'll be darned, she's certainly a greedy little thing. Seemingly, she also has a certain Joe Carter on the brain. . . . Have you ever stopped to wonder why Frank McCoy is such a woman hater. Well, so have I. . . . I heard that Carl Clay and Delores Roberts broke up. But don't worry 'cause it was only for three minutes. . . . Ole James Duncan is supposed to be goin' with a girl by the name of Pat King. But do you know that he was seen smooching with a little girl called Bernadine. . . . Darn it. . . . I'll bet you kids think you are smart. Why the very idea, you haven't even called to tell me any news. How in this world do you expect me to write, if I have nothin' to write about. . . . There was a little get-together over at Mary Alice Walton's house the other nite. Lads and Lassies present were: Joann Clark, Leon Young, Dorothy Johnson, Charles Norman, David Robinson, Boogy Washington, Sarah Lindsay and yours truly, in spirit. . . . Just found out that Dave Bonner and Mary Anne Vandage are really comin' on strong. . . . Don McAllister says that he's still dreamin' about Bonnie.

I hope each mother enjoyed a happy "Mother's Day."

We can't by no means let this election of Willowbrook School District fall through as we did before, so remember to go to the polls and cast your vote on May 19. The voters of our District are called upon to vote on the following things from 7:00 a.m. to 7:30 p.m.:

Remember to vote

1. Authorization for the Willowbrook Board of Trustees to accept a loan up to $975,000 for building new classrooms and remodeling old one.
2. To elect one board member to the Willowbrook School District Board of Trustees.
3. To elect five members to the Compton Jr. College Board of Trustees.

4. To elect one member to the Compton High School Board.
5. To vote to allow Compton Secondary District to retain its present 50c tax rate above the legal minimum.

Remember to Vote

The polling places are as follows:

- Willowbrook Grammar school, 12501 Wilmington Avenue; Lincoln Elementary School, 11764 Compton High School Road, East 125th Street; residence, 2323 East 124th Street.
- Mail your news Friday night to your: Watts Editor, California Eagle, Thelma Harper Berkley, 1864 E. 121st Street, Los Angeles 2, Calif.

Special Surveys Planned For National Foot Health Week

National Foot Health Week will be observed throughout the country from May 20 to 27, according to a special announcement from the National Association of Chiropractors.

On a national scale, activities of the group will be keyed by special radio programs on the proper care of the feet; foot surveys in public schools and placards and posters in shoe stores.

Locally, foot surveys will not only be made in schools but to various youth groups including Boy Scouts and the Deputy Auxiliary Police Clubs.

Special emphasis is being placed on the youth of the nation because defective feet are frequently the result of insufficient care during infancy and childhood, the announcement said.

According to statistics compiled in January of this year, there are 7092 chiropractors in the United States; 550 of these practice in California.

CLEVELAND, OHIO — COUNCILMAN JEAN MURRELL CAPERS, the first and only Negro woman in the City Council of Cleveland, has been named a delegate to the Fifth Annual Conference on Citizenship to be held at the Statler Hotel in Washington, D.C., from May 20th to 24th. Mrs. Capers was selected as one of the three women to represent the Women's Division of the National Democratic Committee. She is the secretary of the Ohio State Council of Democratic Women and is very active in Democratic politics in Cleveland and thru-out the state.

Willowbrook Votes For School Friday

Willowbrook votes to improve its schools on Friday, May 19, with polling places located in Willowbrook open from the hours of 7:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m.

The school district is seeking approval of its citizens to apply to the State of California to share in Proposition Number One funds. These funds are urgently needed in Willowbrook to provide new classrooms and remodel and repair old ones to meet the needs of the district's children.

The two existing school plants now in operation are both operating on a double-session basis with each school serving more than double the number of children from which the building was planned. One group of children report to school at 8:30 a.m. and are dismissed at 1:00 p.m., another group reports to school at 12:30 p.m. and are dismissed at 4:30 p.m. The newest of the two schools now in use in Willowbrook (Lincoln Elementary) was built and put into operation 32 years ago in 1918.

Polling places for the May 19 election are as follows:

- Willowbrook Grammar School, 12501 Wilmington Avenue.
- Lincoln Elementary School, at 11764 Compton Avenue.
- Residence, 1202 E. 125th Street.
- Residence, 2323 E. 124th Street.

Willowbrook Operetta, Friday

On Friday, May 19, at 8 p.m., the Willowbrook High School music department will present to the public in the school's auditorium a hilarious operetta entitled, "The Band Wagon."

Two matinee performances will be presented to the students on May 17 and 18.

The fun gets underway when two red-caps, Mose and Sam, have mixed up the baggage so amusingly that the air becomes surcharged in a mystery. With the appearance of the school band everybody forgets about his baggage, and the carnival night becomes one of festivity mixed with perplexity. Even the absent-minded professor forgets to forget.

The cast includes: Gerald Jordan as Eddie Smith, Alfonso Zaragoza as Hal Brown, Victor Pierce as Jerry, Herbert Martin as Bob Benson, Richard Smith as Mose, Helen Potts as Sam, Wallie Palmer as Sandy McDougla, Michael Smith as Professor Evans, Wilma Clark as Betty Lu, Warner Davis as Cadet Donald Gray, Willie Thurmond as Senator Tree, Kay Douglas as Miss Eddy, Lillian Nelson as Marybelle, Sharon Dillwood as Prudence, Maxine Magdaleon as Sally, Lois eWaver as Jeannette.

The music is under the direction of Mrs. Sima Mannick; speech director is Mr. J. T. Waller.

WILWAUKEE, Wis. — Miss Dorothy Fisher, 21, of 734 W. Reservoir Ave., has developed into an outstanding Wilwaukee singer. On May 20-21 she will be starred in Verdi's opera "The Masked Ball" which will be presented, in part, in Dr. John T. Wolmut's opera workshop program at the Art Institute. In the past Miss Fisher has taken starring assignments in the Humboldt park "pop" concerts and in the Florentine opera company's "Aida."

The Wilwaukee West Indian Cricket club took advantage of the weather Sunday to practice for their game with a Chicago team Sunday, May 28. The captain of the team that plays the fine old game of cricket is Charles Gayle, 2226 North 5th St.

The hard hitting former University of Wisconsin intercollegiate champion will headline the card of boxers in a six rounder with Lance Harris. Cal Vernor the former champion has dropped from school but he is expected to return soon. Harris hails from Chicago. The bout will take place Tuesday, May 16.

The Wisconsin Civil Rights Congress held its Mother's Day program Saturday night at St. Luke's hall, about 175 people came out to honor the oldest mother in the Wisconsin Civil Rights Congress. Mrs. Perry Love was honored as the oldest mother and Mrs. Rosa Lee Ingram was honored as the ideal mother for 1950.

Miss Erma Clardy, who worked in the community organization department of the Milwaukee Urban League for the last three years, has resigned to become a welfare worker in the county department of public welfare. She took over her duties Monday. Miss Clardy came here from Minneapolis where she did welfare work in a settlement house and was later employed by the Minneapolis park commission.

MADISON, Wis.—A group of sixteen mixed students waving antimilitarism signs interrupted the annual inspection of the University of Wisconsin's reserve officers training corps.

The band played and the army, navy and marine officers were standing at attention, waiting for the ROTC units to pass before the reviewing stand on the west side of the stadium. Instead of the troops, a small group of students passed the reviewing stand with their signs, which read "Militarism is un-American" and "Is Compulsory ROTC Democratic?" The parade by the students left the officers dumbfounded.

Two of the demonstrators Jack Sternbach a junior from Besch, N. Y., and Ralph C. James graduate student from Chicago said, the affair was not sponsored by any campus organization. They said it was planned by a group of students interested in peace.

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The citizens of Milwaukee were very happy to hear that the American Bowling Congress ended its "white male" clause Friday at a convention held in Columbus, Ohio. The action of the ABC brought immediate comments from Milwaukee and Wisconsin.

Atty. James Dorsey who has been one of the hardest fighters against the ABC's "white male" clause and a member of the governor's commission said: "I feel the ABC is to be commended in its stand in deleting the discriminatory, un-American clause from its constitution, let us say voluntarily."

Theodore W. Coggs, president of the Milwaukee chapter of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, said:

Baptist Ministers Union Vote Condemns Mundt-Nixon Bill

Increasing numbers of Negro organizations have gone on record in opposition to the Mundt-Nixon bills, now before the Congress and dangerously close to passage.

The Baptist Ministers Union, the largest single denomination representing some 100,000 Negro citizens in Los Angeles County, unanimously condemned the Mundt-Nixon bill at their regular meeting held earlier this month.

The following statement, introduced by Reverend A. Wendell Ross, pastor of the Kingdom Baptist Church, was unanimously endorsed:

"Since the Mundt-Nixon bill locks the door to all liberal and progressive approach to human fellowship of this great cosmopolitan nation of ours, and would imply that all organizations and individuals, both civil and evangelical, who labor to the end that all American citizenry should have full constitutional liberties and freedoms, are to be branded as 'subversive' and 'Communist' organizations.

"We therefore protest the passage of the Mundt-Nixon bill and beseech the President of the United States and all members of the Congress to speak and vote against the bill, and to work conscientiously and diligently for its swift defeat.

"This request comes after a

AN ODE TO MY WIFE

By Jay Eddie Edwards

Dear wife of mine thru thick and thin
You've kept the faith helped me to win,
Thru smiles and tears for these long years
We've battled life and routed fears
Your love has been my guiding star
My life is yours to make or mar,
Thru storm or calm you kept serene,
Nor wrought a deed unkind or mean.

God sent us children from above
As tokens of our tender love,
Their little smiles dispel each cloud
You've raised them well and I am proud,
Their little kisses soothe the way
As homeward I return each day
You've taught me what a wife should be
By tenderness and loyalty.

Thru all the ways that we have trod
No dearer woman walks the sod,
No gold or gift can e're repay
Your love for me, so this I say,
For every joy you brought my life
God grant a blessing to you—
My Wife.

Wesley Wells Birthday Parties

Marking the birthday of Wesley Wells, who still faces death at San Quentin for throwing a cuspidor at a guard, the Wells Defense Committee and the Frederick Douglass Chapter of Civil Rights Congress have set parties in Wells' honor.

Club Tambourine, 4505 South Avalon, will be the scene of the Wells Defense Committee's affair on Tuesday, May 23, which will be Wells' 43rd birthday. A mammoth cake, inscribed "We Won't Rest Until You're Safe," and gallons of ice cream, as well as other refreshments, will highlight the event.

Dancing will begin at 8 p.m., and several name musicians are expected to attend. Speakers will include Aubrey Grossman, West Coast Regional Director of Civil Rights Congress; Morris Terrazas, executive secretary of the Mexican-American National Association; and Ted Weaver, chairman of the Wells Defense Committee.

Recently announced hostesses and hosts will include Miss Joyce Sands, Mrs. Frances Lym, Mrs. Celia Rodriguez, Emil Freed, Ray McLin, and Edward Fierro. Mrs. Pearl Weaver will serve as chief hostess for the party.

The Frederick Douglass Chapter, Civil Rights Congress, will honor Wells at a barbeque in the patio at 5431 Sixth Avenue at 8 p.m. Saturday, May 27. Popular folk singers and dancing, square and otherwise, will be special attractions.

Seven members of the Los Angeles County Museum's Science division were honored last Friday by the Southern California Academy of Sciences at the academy's annual dinner meeting at Scully's restaurant, 48th and Crenshaw.

DOCTOR DEVELOPS REMARKABLE HAIR and SCALP FORMULA

After many years of research and practice, Doctor Morris developed a remarkable formula for dry-scaly, itchy scalp, dandruff, unruly, excessive falling hair. It consists of a special medicated tar, oxyquilonine — two powerful antiseptics incorporated with other valuable ingredients.

This scientific combination does such fine work, that many doctors regard it highly and recommend it for many scalp troubles of local nature. This remarkable formula is known as "TAREX." Get it from your drug store. Use it on your short-looking hair and scalp for 7 short days. If you aren't delighted, if your hair doesn't look gloriously smooth, longer, straighter, lovelier—your $1.00 back. Upon receipt of $1.00, we will send "TAREX" anywhere postpaid. Dr. Timothy M. Chambers to Be Installed Pastor of Zion Hill

Dr. Timothy M. Chambers to Be Installed as Pastor of Zion Hill Baptist Church, Sunday, May 21.

Dr. Timothy M. Chambers, for-

mer pastor of the historic and commodious Good Street Baptist Church, Dallas, Texas, pastor-elect of Zion Hill Baptist Church (East 51st Street at McKinley Avenue), largest Baptist congregation in the Far West, will be formally installed at a mammoth service, Sunday afternoon, May 21, at three o'clock. The general committee—of which Mrs. Alice Sterling is chairman—expects at least 2000 persons will jam the spacious auditorium to overflowing while amplifiers will carry proceedings to another thousand in the church's annex across the street and to other thousands outside.

Dr. Chambers still is the great president of the Baptist Missionary and Educational Convention of Texas which office he will resign at the annual sessions next autumn. He is also one of the most prominent and serviceable trustees of Bishop College.

The installation program was inaugurated Monday, May 15, and each evening during the week several local churches, their choirs and pastors will participate in the services. Next Sunday afternoon, May 21, the culmination point will be reached when Governor Earl Warren will offer greetings on behalf of the State of California; Honorable Fletcher Bowron, Mayor, on behalf of Los Angeles; Dr. W. D. Carter of Pasadena, Regional vice president of the National Convention, Incorporated, on behalf of that body; the Rev. L. M. Curtis, president of the Baptist Ministers' Union of Los Angeles and Southern California as spokesman for that group, and the Rev. W. P. Carter, president of the Western Baptist State Convention, for that organization.

Dr. Charles Satchell Morris, II, ardent personal friend of the new pastor and himself chairman of the ministerial club at Zion Hill, will welcome both the general public to the church and offer the official welcome of the church to the incoming shepherd. Jr., elder son of the pastor, and minister in the Arch Street Baptist Church, Little Rock, Arkansas—which his father once pastored—will deliver the sermon of the afternoon. Dr. Chambers will respond briefly to all the expressions. Monday evening, May 22, more than 1500 persons will attend the gala reception at the church honoring Dr. Chambers and his wife, the former Hazel C. Thomas of this city. Mrs. Lucretia Thomas, Mrs. Chambers' mother, is a long-time resident here, so Mrs. Chambers really is "coming back home." Aside from his elder son, Dr. Chambers has a daughter, Eunice Mario by a previous marriage. She is a teacher of music at Bishop College. Dr. Chambers has just moved into his handsome home in exclusive Leimert Park purchased recently through Mrs. Morris.

Mrs. Johnson Tells Platform to CIO

Mrs. Cora Johnson, candidate for the Assembly from the 67th District, will be honored by a tea given by the St. James A.M.E. Church Club, at the church, Wilmington avenue at 102nd street, on Sunday, May 28, from 3 to 7 p.m. Mrs. Oma Ballard is chairman.

Rabbi Samuel S. Mayerberg, Congregation B'nai Jehudah, will deliver the principal address at the annual Honors Convocation, Lincoln University, Thursday, May 11.

Avalon Christian Ch. Holds Services

Rev. Baxter Carroll Duke, minister of Avalon Christian Church, 4272 Avalon Boulevard, announces Sunday evening evangelistic services with Miss Pauline Coffee as speaker, with music by the Avalon Gospel Choir under the direction of Mrs. Lou Anna Wiley, and the Arnold Sisters Sextet, directed by their father. These girls are all small, and the youngest being only three years old, are quite an attraction.

Mrs. Coffee is well known in Los Angeles, being one of the stage notables converted to Christian service some years ago. She assisted her late husband in his pastorate in Watts, and has held meetings in the East and South under the auspices of both white and colored churches of various faiths. These services will be held from 8 till 9:30 p.m., every Sunday.

The public is invited.

Prophetess Turner

The International Ethiopian Rescue and Relief Association, Inc., in the restoration of the millennium age of the Lion of the Tribe of Judah, Prophetess Turner, is calling for 10,000 people, men and women who stand for righteousness, and who want to do something, to come and help a worthy cause, to help the unfortunate and helpless children to maintain their privileges and rights.

We want a home for children, infants, and for old people, and a general business to help the unemployed. Do not wait to pray over it. You plainly see your condition. Act now. Later may be too late.

All Christians may join and help. All churches are urged to help in carrying on this work for those who cannot help themselves. Contact Prophetess Turner, 1519 East 4th Street, P. O. Box 1165, L. A. 53.

Greater Faith Baptist Missionary Lectures

"The Progress of World-Wide Missions" will be the subject for a series of lectures at Greater Faith Baptist Church, 1446 West 36th place, each Thursday evening when the Laymen's League and the Missionary Society, Atlas Blandette and Allie Beck, presidents respectively, will meet jointly. The Rev. B. Clarence Cooke, pastor of Faith Baptist, will deliver the lectures.

Rev. Cooke will speak Sunday, May 21, at 10:45 a.m. on the subject, "There are no two ways about it." The Greater Faith Church choir under the direction of Virginia Cooke, will furnish the music.

The Board of Christian Education, Oscar Harvey, chairman, and William Friedo, advisor, will meet Friday, May 19, at 7:30 p.m. at the parsonage, 1624 Exposition Blvd. The immediate highlight of the session will be: "Making the Home Department of the Church Sunday School a Vital Christian Influence."

Card of Thanks

We wish to thank each and every one, the many friends for the kindness shown to our dear sister, Lelia Follis Fry, in her recent illness and death. And also for the beautiful floral pieces sent her.

We also want to thank Rev. Russell and Conner Johnson for services rendered.

Joe and Lucy Follis

'Soul and Body' Christian Science Theme

The subject of the Sunday Bible Lesson in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, will be "Soul and Body." The Golden Text, selected from the Psalms, reads, "My soul, wait thou only upon God; for my expectation is from him."

In a passage from Luke's Gospel it is recorded that "Jesus returned in the power of the Spirit into Galilee: ... And Simon's wife's mother was taken with a great fever; and they besought him for her. And he stood over her, and rebuked the fever; and it left her: and immediately she arose and ministered unto them. Now when the sun was setting, all they that had any sick with divers diseases brought them unto him; and he laid his hands on every one of them, and healed them."

In the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy, this correlative statement appears: "Christ, Truth, was demonstrated through Jesus to prove the power of Spirit over the flesh,—to show that Truth is made manifest by its effects upon the human mind and body, healing sickness and destroying sin."

GEMINI

May 21 June 21

If you were born under this sign, the third sign of the Zodiac, it is a positive and masculine sign and bestows upon its people great mental activity and alertness. They are dualistic in nature and like to carry on two projects at the same time for they are never happy unless they have more than one special interest.

These persons make a good first impression upon others, because of their good humor, clever remarks and socialability; combined with marvelous dexterity and rapid comprehension of facts really takes one's breath away. It would be advisable to create a strong purpose or goal in life and to bend all your efforts toward its accomplishments.

Gemini persons are often described as being dual in their love affairs and sometimes lack desire. When not overcome, this tendency to variable feelings makes for fickleness, restlessness and unhappiness.

The planet Mercury rules Wednesday, so this should be a good day in general for persons born under Gemini.

A. L. Dear Prof. Herman: I have been reading your column for several years and find it interesting and helpful. I am writing to you asking you to help me in my hour of need. Please tell me what should I do?

ANSWER: Probing into the matter, I am of the opinion that the greatest handicap you have is your inferiority complex. I would suggest your trying to overcome this. You might also try associating with others, thus improving your outlook on life. Remember that through your own personal efforts you may be able to achieve that which you most desire and be quite happy.

J. W. Has this person told me the truth?

ANSWER: It appears that this person has been truthful and sincere in his statements. Since you love him it might be wise for you to accept his offer of marriage as I vision him being a very worthwhile and trustworthy person.

L. C. What can I do to correct the situation in my home, as life has become unbearable?

ANSWER: Apparently your imagination is working overtime causing you to form the wrong opinion in this matter. I suggest that you be more understanding and accept things at their face-value, conditions in your home are not as you would have yourself believe them to be.

A. M. S. Do you think it would be wise for my husband and I to fulfill our plans?

ANSWER: Your financial condition isn't such as to permit you and your husband to invest your savings in such a large real estate transaction. Since you are not interested in a smaller home, I suggest you wait for awhile until such time as you might be able to go ahead with your plans.

NAACP Members to Be Awarded Honors

The Membership Campaign of the Los Angeles Branch, NAACP, was extended to June 15 at the regular Monday night (May 15) report meeting of the Drive.

Jailing Of Dennis Condemned As Blow To Civil Liberties

Eugene Dennis, General Secretary of the Communist Party, has been jailed on a one-year sentence for contempt. In an appearance before the House Committee on Un-American Activities in 1947, Mr. Dennis refused to testify on the grounds that Southern Democratic members of the committee held their seats in violation of the 14th Amendment, the Civil Rights Congress reports.

The jailing of Mr. Dennis was denounced as "part of a drive to smash democratic liberties at home in preparation for war abroad," in a statement issued by William L. Patterson, Executive Secretary of Civil Rights Congress.

Part of the text of Mr. Patterson's statement follows: "In refusing to grant Mr. Dennis the delay asked to permit him to participate in the appeal argument and preparation of the rebuttal brief in the case of the 11 Communist leaders, the court has struck a blow at the defense in that crucial case."

"As the leader of the political party whose teachings and ideas were on trial, he is obviously a key figure in the preparation of the appeal in that case. Yet the court summarily refused to stay the execution of his sentence for four weeks. The jailing is part of a drive to smash democratic liberties at home in preparation for war abroad. All three branches of the federal government went 'all out' to get the

• The Governor

the Governor had failed to attend the Hollywood Bowl meeting of the NAACP convention last June when Mme. Pandit presented the Spingarn medal to Dr. Ralph Bunche.

Miss Clark reminded the Governor that this was a big occasion, and since the Governor didn't grace it by his presence, she wanted to know just how big an occasion would have to be to get him to attend.

While Warren was fumbling for an answer, former Assemblyman Roberts jumped to his defense. "I'll not have that," Roberts said. "The NAACP waited until the last minute to invite Governor Warren, and I don't blame him for not attending."

Recovering his speech rapidly in the face of Roberts' embarrassing explanation, the Governor said he got an average of twenty-five invitations a day, and he didn't recall receiving the NAACP invitation.

to the cause of minorities and the workers. He has frequently stood alone in Congress on liberal and progressive issues that dealt with civil rights and freedom.

Democratic leaders were unprepared for the Republican proposal. Tammany Hall leader Carmine DeSapio announced he would withhold decision until he had talked with his district leaders.

A coalition candidate would be expected to appeal to the silk-stocking element of what is a worker's district. Supporters of the proposal hope to combine the Republican and Democratic silk-stocking strength in numbers sufficient to overcome Marconi's mass support.

Church, veterans, consumer, labor and civic organizations and city authorities have urged that control be continued beyond June 30, 1950. Farm groups have recognized that premature control would cut sale of farm products to city dwellers.

leader of the Communist Party behind bars.

"Unless this drive is stopped by the people, what is happening to Mr. Dennis now will be happening in the future to thousands of Negro leaders, trade unionists and all who demand peace."

Palm Lane Tenant Council Celebrates 1st Anniversary

Last Saturday night, May 13, the Palm Lane Tenant Council celebrated its first anniversary, commemorating a year of militant struggle in behalf of the residents of the project. The ceremony was highlighted by the presence of many friends who participated in the early formation of this fighting organization.

On an evening in May 1949, the tenants of Palm Lane were alerted to the ever present threat of evictions that had been continually hovering over their heads. Although unemployed tenants who were unable to make regular payments of their rent were being evicted with constant regularity, the case that caused so much concern was one which involved a sick veteran, his wife and six small children. This gross travesty of justice so incensed the people that there was an immediate recognition of the need for organized action, which resulted in the formation of the Tenant Council.

The entire community was alerted to the need for united action around this case. Mrs. Cora Johnson, Negro mother and resident of this community for more than 29 years, who is presently running for the Assembly from the 67th District, was one of the community leaders who entered the fight along with the struggling tenants and saw it to a successful conclusion.

In the program to celebrate the victories won in the Tenant Council's year of existence, Theodore Watkins, militant Negro worker, who was chosen to carry on as chairman, succeeding the founding chairman Pernel Collins, introduced Mrs. Johnson and Mr. C. D. Hawkins, chairman of the South East Interracial Council, both of whom spoke briefly.

The evening was highlighted by the performance of Mr. Ollie McDonald, brilliant young operatic tenor, who delighted the group with his rendition of a variety of songs.

find my people will fight like the Jews in the Warsaw ghetto, like the Jews who saved Israel."

The gradual but powerful upsurge of the people in the South was shown recently upon the death of a great leader, Moranda Smith, in Winston-Salem, N. C. When the funeral cortege of this beloved leader of the tobacco workers union passed by, in spite of threats from the KKK, thousands of Negroes and whites stood with bowed heads on the curbs of the streets.

It took courage to defy the KKK thus. But it is but a sample of the courage stirring in the hearts of people everywhere, Robeson said, and that will not be suppressed.

The chorus of the California Labor School, directed by Earl Robinson, shared honors with Paul Robeson, and were applauded as they sang "May Day for Peace," "Didn't My Lord Deliver Daniel," and other popular songs. The climax came when, with Robeson taking the leading part, they sang "The Ballad for Americans," composed by Robinson.

A moving appeal was made by Paul Robeson, by Mrs. Faustina Johnson, prominent in political and civic movements, and by others for The California Eagle, which needs at least $20,000 within the next six months to keep on going. Mrs. Charlotta A. Bass, fighting editor of the EAGLE, spoke briefly of some of the struggles of this militant newspaper.

"We have no full-page ads from the big business people of Los Angeles, you notice," she reminded her audience, who stood in respect for her leadership when she came to the platform. "The Eagle must depend upon the little business people, and upon its readers for its funds. That is why we appeal to you now."

Jack Berman, representing the IPP, spoke of the necessity of working together "to make every inch we have gained stay true."

Don Wheelden also IPP; Isiah Spears, candidate for the Assembly in the Pasadena 47th district; Walter Martin, candidate for sheriff; and Rev. Daniel Reed, editor of the National Baptist Voice, were among the others who spoke at the concert-meeting.

Paul Robeson's concert last Friday evening was but one of many meetings in the Los Angeles area at which he was the center of attraction. He sang in the Embassy auditorium on May 6 in a concert sponsored by the Jewish People's Fraternal Organization. Meeting with the young people of the IPP at the Phyllis Wheatley Home the following day, they held an informal discussion on what the IPP could and should do to carry out its program.

A reception in his honor was held at the home of the Rosenbergs, in the Wilshire district, last Wednesday evening, at which he sang several songs and spoke informally. The following evening, Thursday, another reception was held for him at the Charles Cox residence in Akadema.

Following the concert in the Elks' Temple, Mr. Robeson had intended to consult with Mrs. Bass on certain matters, but the people found out where he had gone, and scores crowded into Mrs. Bass' apartment, "just to shake hands and say 'Howdy'" to the beloved leader.

Mrs. Robeson left for New York last Tuesday via airplane.

Protests Over Prince's Exile Grow As Queen Bears Daughter

Bechuanaland, South Africa—Ruth Khama, the white former British stenographer who became queen of the Bamagwato tribe by virtue of her marriage to Prince Seretse Khama, gave birth to a daughter prematurely last Sunday. Latest reports indicate mother and daughter are in good health.

Prince Seretse, who recently visited his wife in his native land following the easing of a five year exile imposed by Britain's labor government, is on his way to her side. He has vigorously protested the exile which was imposed because of the interracial character of his marriage, and support has come from Paul Robeson as leader of the Council On African Affairs and from points all over the world.

The Bamagwato tribesmen who have accepted Prince Khama and has bride, have been showing increasing resentment over their leaders' exile. Reportedly, the tribesmen intend to demand that the ban be lifted, and that Prince Khama be allowed to remain in his native land with his wife and baby.

The Council On African Affairs plans to renew its demand that the British Labor Government rescind its high-handed and intolerant order banning Prince Khama from his rightful place as ruler of his people with his wife by his side.

Billie L. White Announces New Realty Office

Billie L. White announces the official opening of his new Real Estate Investment office at 136 East Santa Barbara St. on May 21, 1950. The new office will be staffed and equipped to handle Real Estate Sales, Loans, Insurance, Leases, Rentals, Property Management, Bookkeeping, Legal Papers and Notary Public.

Mr. and Mrs. White operated one of the most efficient and popular dry cleaning establishments on the avenue from 1939 to 1949. Their many hundreds of dry cleaning customers are now cordially invited to visit the new Real Estate Investment Office. Mr. White will provide employment for five real estate salesmen and invites four salesmen to join the new office immediately. The public is cordially invited.

"We hope to dissuade all truly American organizations from using this low form of comedy as a means of profitable entertainment," Mrs. Prevost said. "Should the conference fail to halt the show, we will distribute leaflets telling the audience of the great harm the performances are doing to the Negro people."

General Motors local 216 and the Southeast Interracial Council are leading organizations in the drive to halt the minstrel show.

Averill Berman Honored, Dinner

Five hundred listeners overflowed the Nikahob Restaurant on Saturday night at the third annual celebration of radio commentator Averill Berman's nightly broadcasts over KGFI, 8:15 p.m. Cheering Berman, the only progressive radio voice speaking daily on world affairs and labor, enthusiastic guests and audience raised $2,000 for Berman's future broadcasts.

After Rev. Stephen Fritchman and candidate for State Senator Robert W. Kenny praised him, the guest of honor told the history of his sponsors, The Los Angeles Radio Committee.

"Three years of uninterrupted broadcasting in the midst of the most hysterical reactionary period in all American history," said Berman, "is an achievement which should go down in history. In the face of stern opposition, our committee has been able to grow."

After dinner guests spoke briefly, radio comic Stanley Prager brought laughs and Negro tenor Buell Thomas shook the rafters with arias from "La Boheme."

The guests included Mrs. Charlotte Bass, Dorothy Baker, Gene Stone, Robert W. Kenny, Rev. Stephen A. Fitchman, Sam Sussman, William Elconin.

IWO Executive Arrested For Deportation

Sam Milgrom, executive secretary of the International Workers Order, was arrested this week in deportation proceedings, it was announced by the American Committee for Protection of Foreign Born.

"The arrest of Mr. Milgrom on the charge of illegal entry," stated Abner Green, executive secretary of the American Committee, "is unwarranted and reflects the dangerous extent to which the Justice Department is going in order to use the deportation laws to create hysteria against decent and honest foreign-born Americans."

"The Department of Justice is repeating the illegal and hysterical antics that marked its administration in the 1920 days of Attorney General A. Mitchell Palmer. We condemn these attacks on the rights of non-citizens as an attempt to destroy the Bill of Rights and the liberties of the American people."

Mr. Milgrom, 45, a native of Russia, has lived in the United States for 27 years.

Deny Rumors to Bottle Up Negro Appt.

Rumors that a Senate Judiciary subcommittee will bottle up the appointment of Negro Judge William H. Hastie to the Third U. S. Circuit Court of Appeals were denied last week by Senator William Langer, North Dakota Republican.

Langer, ranking Republican member of the subcommittee considering Hastie's nomination, said that he does not believe any case can be made against Hastie. However, Hastie's name is the last of 23 appointments sent by President Truman to the Senate.

Foster Craggett, pastor of the Western Avenue Christian Church, as the "Family of the Year" of the Southwest Community of Los Angeles. They are: left to right, Antoinette, 4; Burnis, Jr., 8; Vernice, 16; Effie Louise, 10; and Mr. and Mrs. Johnson. Mrs. Louella Stuckey, mother of Mrs. Johnson, is also a member of the family but was unable to be present at the presentation ceremony. (See story).

NO MAIL TODAY?

Don't let it worry you. That letter you expected today may be one to three days late.

If you drop a letter in the collection box after 6:30 p.m., your letter will not be delivered locally until the second day. The collection will arrive in the post office too late to be delivered the first day. You can not buy a money order, a stamp, or get any of the many window services after 6:00 p.m. Terminal Annex, Metropolitan, Hollywood and Airport Stations formally giving night service will be closed at 6:00 p.m. starting May 22, 1950.

Los Angeles is being deprived of 24-hour postal service.

Business houses must drastically rearrange mailing schedule or lose one day in mailing. Most bulk mail now arrives at post offices after stations new closing time.

The directories set up and maintained over a long period of time listing all firms and individuals of the county will be abandoned. Improperly addressed mail intended for you will be returned to the sender rather than be delivered as reference to the directory would make possible.

A general trend to curtail service and lay off employees will ultimately affect the buying power of all employees.

Some people feel this action of the Postmaster General is an economy move. This is not economy.

The increased cost to users of the postal services and the losses incurred as a result of the curtailment of service will cost this country and its taxpayers many times the amount being taken away from the loyal postal workers. This is not economy.

We feel that this entire action is a result of political shenanigans making post office employees the pawn in the battle for political supremacy.

As citizens of our country, we want the Post Office Department to continue as a service to the public.

Write your congressman now vigorously protesting this curtailment and ask his support in restoring the service as it was before April 18, 1950.

Policeman, Freed of Statutory Charge, Seeks Reinstatement

Attorney Walter L. Gordon Jr. announced this week that he will seek the reinstatement of police officer Henderson Cooper Jr. who was absolved of a charge of statutory rape in a trial before Superior Court Judge Thomas J. Cunningham.

Cooper had been accused by 19 year old Kay Frances Richardson of having intimate relations with her since 1948. The girl who was seventeen at the time she alleged the intimacies began, is a mother.

Attorney Gordon won freedom for his client when he introduced statement made by the girl that she accused him because she "was angry at him." Gordon also presented a statement, purportedly signed by Miss Richardson for a private detective in which she admitted the charges against Cooper were untruthful.

Judge Cunningham heard the case without the jury and ordered Cooper's immediate freedom. Attorney Gordon said he will apply for reinstatement of his client who was suspended from duty following the charges, with full back pay.

Call For Union Conference Is Well Received

Ferdinand Smith, executive secretary of the Harlem Trade Union Council, reported this week that his office at 2 East 125th St. has literally been flooded with responses to a call to a national Trade Union conference on Negro Rights. The national conference, to be held in Chicago on June 10 and 11 at the Packinghouse Labor Center, 4859 Wabash Ave., is being sponsored jointly by the HTUC and the South Side Negro Labor Council.

Wright Denies Intoxication While Driving

Edgar D. Wright of 1936 East Imperial Boulevard went on trial Tuesday in department 40 of the Superior Court charged with drunk driving, the aftermath of a three-car collision last April at Carson and Willington Highways.

A cousin of Wright's, who was a passenger in the car lost part of his nose in the accident. In denying that Wright was intoxicated, Walter L. Gordon Jr., his attorney, pointed out that the arresting officers failed to subject his client to a sobriety test of any kind. Wright said he was stunned and dazed as the result of the collision. He attributes the accident to the failure of the cars in front of him to regard the traffic signal.

Msgr. O'Dwyer Warns of Ruse To Defeat Low Rent Housing

Calling upon all citizens to "be on the alert against the latest ruse by opponents of low-rent housing" the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, president of the Los Angeles Citizens Housing Council, declared in a statement released last week that "organized selfish interests are pulling the strings for an initiative to block public housing and obstruct orderly government."

The statement referred to petitions now being circulated for qualifying signatures for an initiative constitutional amendment which would require a referendum before any low-cost housing project could be developed.

"Unsuccessful in their lobbying efforts to block passage of Congressional legislation for public housing," Msgr. O'Dwyer said, "certain groups are now resorting to obstructionist tactics on the local level."

"The concealed objective of the proposed requirement for a referendum on each housing project is to delay and complicate present procedures, and thereby restrict and possibly destroy the entire public housing program."

Klan Proposes Fiery Cross as Symbol in Attack on Kenny

The SIDEWALK

By C.A.B.

Entering a vista that leads to a new era of thought and action by the law enforcement agencies of Los Angeles, members of the City Council last Monday called a conference at the City Hall to get at the root and find a remedy for the so-called youthful "rat pack" outrages on Los Angeles citizens.

Many hundreds of people crowded the City Hall Public Works Department, and the meeting had a rather dignified academic start except for a mumbling objection to many points raised by an 80-year-old man in a front seat.

Among the many educators and religious, social and civic workers present to express their views were the Rev. D. E. X. Finnegan, of Loyola University, who said in his opinion: "Schools that may not be providing enough discipline," as well as broken homes and loss of spiritual values were responsible for much of the juvenile lawlessness.

The organization of a special committee to study the problem of juvenile delinquency was suggested by Dan Pursuit, director of the University of Southern California's delinquency control institute.

Dr. H. V. Ingram, University of California campus psychiatrist, observed that harsh treatment such as whippings would further dramatize the situation in the minds of certain youths and do greater harm than good.

Like so many people today who see Communist in everything bad that happens, Councilman Ed J. Davenport blamed Communist-inspired attempts to "stimulate hatred and violence" for the assaults by the roving hoodlums. The newspapers have created for the past several weeks.

Well, no doubt this suggestion by Mr. Davenport was what the palefaced gentleman with a Southern brogue, editor of the "Alert" was waiting for. Invited to the mike he came forward with a handful of records, but mostly copies of The People's World, which he displayed as the Communist paper. And then like that beautiful little animal, I believe by name, "skunk"—and I ask pardon for my usage here—this "Alert" editor blamed not only the uprising of the youth gang war but everything criminal of whatever nature, on the Communists.

Said he: "Communist agitation among Negroes and Mexicans is responsible for the rat and wolf packs."

His was the voice of the Ku Klux Klan riding, this time across the minds of the people, holding high a torch of hate, inflaming their thinking and inciting them to force and violence not against the government but against each other on the highway.

PICKET FOR FREEDOM

A "Picket for Freedom" will be held before the Federal building, on Saturday, May 27, at noon, to protest the Mundt-Nixon bill, the Taft-Hartley law, the failure to pass FEPC, the Constitutional rights that are being attacked when ten Hollywood writers face prison, and one American citizen is already in jail, the first police state victim. Come! Everyone! Labor, Negro, Mexican, Jews, all minority groups, all who believe in freedom.

Klan is alive and going in California and in many other states. You tried hard to break up the Klan in California, Mr. Kenney, but we survived the persecution. All the Jews, communists, foreigners, Mexican greasers, Negroes and nigger-lovers and most Catholics were on your side but you and this smelly gang will

Mary Norris whose home is in Chicago where she has gained a degree of recognition on the stage and screen, reported to The California Eagle this week that after making a telephone contact with Jimmy Durante in Chicago, she was encouraged to cast her lot in the Angel City.

Immediately upon arriving in Los Angeles some ten days ago Miss Norris was directed to a Phil Cohn, purported to be Durante's manager. Mr. Cohn has offices at 6277 Selma st., in Hollywood.

Mary Norris, who has played in "Green Pastures," "Murder at Midnight," and other well-known productions in U. S. Army camps during the war, told the Eagle that her experience with the Cohn office was the most heart-breaking she has ever experienced.

Met by a secretary at the Cohn office, Miss Norris said she was

Call For Mid-Century Conference For Peace, Chicago, May 29-30

CHICAGO, Ill.—Pledging their full support to a two-day Mid-Century Conference for Peace to be held in Chicago, May 29-30, three hundred and seventy-one leaders of religion, labor, youth, business, education, women's and fraternal organizations from thirty-six states signed a Call issued by Bishop William J. Walls, which declared that the American's people's insistent demand for peace in the world today is in harmony with our demand for freedom.

The Conference will be held at the St. James Methodist Church, 4611 S. Ellis Ave., Chicago.

Among those who signed the Call, which included 200 Ministers, 7 Bishops and 3 college presidents, were: Mrs. Charlotta Bass, editor, The California Eagle; Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown, president, Palmer Institute; Prof. E. Franklin Frazier, Howard University; Rev. D. W. Jernagin, Fraternal Council of Negro Churches; Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, Morehouse College and Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, Ntl. Assn. of Colored Women.

Bishop Walls, Honorary Chairman of the Committee for Peaceful Alternatives, which is sponsoring the Conference, released the text of the Call today from the Committee's office at 158 West 56th Street, New York City.

Pointing out that "H-Bombs can bury our country's destiny of full democracy for all in the same grave with our shattered hopes for full citizenship," the Call said in part:

"Whatever of good repute, whatever of greatness, whatever of decency and morality, whatever of spiritual leadership our country has earned in the world today, has been conditioned by the never-ceasing movement of our people's struggle for full freedom. Our people's battle for full freedom is today the test of our country's reputation, of its claim to leadership.

"Because we know these simple facts of history, we know that the American people's insistent demand for peace in the world today is in harmony with our demand for freedom."

Schlitz Brewing Co. Rejects Negro Employees and Hires DP's

MILWAUKEE, Wis.—The mask is off: The Milwaukee Journal, which so far has not printed a word about the Jim Crow hiring policy of the Milwaukee breweries, has let the cat out of the bag.

On May 20th, the Milwaukee Journal carried a story about

Wells' Lawyers Petition to Annul Death Sentence

Lawyers for Wesley Robert Wells this week petitioned the California Supreme Court to annul the death sentence which has kept him in the San Quentin Death House for exactly 1000 days.

The same court previously affirmed his death sentence for the throwing of a cuspidor at a prison guard by the close vote of four votes to three.

Protest against Wells' execution has assumed national proportions because of several unusual factors in the case. First, the fact that he is to be executed though the guard did not die. Second, the fact that at the time of the cuspidor throwing, Wells (according to the prison doctor) was in a state of hysteria and not responsible for his actions. Third, the strong feeling that the prison authorities were for a long time out to "get" Wells because of his fight against racial discrimination within the prison walls.

The third factor has been partially confirmed by the recent decision of Federal Judge Louis Goodman who found that the state prison board had deliberately refused to carry out their legal duty of fixing Wells' sentence, in order to be able to give him the death sentence on this charge. Judge Goodman decided that this was a violation of Wells' constitutional rights. However, he failed to free Wells because he felt that the matter should be decided by the California courts.

Further confirmation is furnished by the continued segregation of prisoners in dining halls and other places in San Quentin and Folsom Prisons. Within the last month the Civil Rights Congress filed a suit against Governor Earl Warren, and Richard McGee, director of the prison system, to stop this practice.

D.P.'s (displaced persons) in Milwaukee stating that 240 members of St. Sava's Serbian Orthodox Church are D.P.'s "finding freedom, life, and hope in Milwaukee."

Most of the D.P.'s fought under the fascist general Mihailovich. The Journal stated, "Since they have been in Milwaukee, they have been busy working principally at the packing plant of Cudahy Brothers and Joseph Schlitz Brewing Co."

Two of those at the breweries are listed as: Milenko Popovich, 1567 S 2nd St., a tank storage worker in a brewery, and Nikola Popovich, same address, a bottle department employee at a brewery. According to the Journal, Popovich came here "a few months ago."

All this time, Schlitz in particular has been saying it cannot hire Negroes because, "there is a long waiting list of brewery union members who have been laid off." The breweries have claimed that according to union contract regulations these workers must be taken in first, and then they will be able to hire whoever comes. These claims have been made over the past years—yet these D.P.'s have been hired since the claims were made.

How do these D.P.'s get here and find "freedom, life and hope in Milwaukee," while many hundreds of Negro workers walk the streets unemployed in the 6th Ward where Pabst is located, deprived of "freedom, life, and hope." The Journal says: "Father Brkich visited some of the DP camps in Germany in 1947, armed with employment guarantees from three to four Milwaukee Industrial firms for more than 100 men." It seems that if you're an ex-Chetnik or Ustashi, you can get "employment guarantees"; but if you're an American with colored skin you get neither "employment guarantees" nor a job!

pothesis of racial superiority, the Hitler way to divide and to destroy peace in the world.

The crux of the condition involving the present youth warfare, however, was not reached until after the big-wigs present had had their say and had sunk back in their chairs, when the Commoners took over. They came from the Eastside and from Hollywood. They knew this story in back of the story told to the City Council.

They resent their children, even those out of line with the law, being called rats and wolves in headlines by the Metropolitan newspapers. The young people and all the people who want to live in a peaceful world, know the people and the causes responsible for the denial of this sort of world.

They have prayed, fought, and exhibited almost God-like patience for some new outlook for the establishment of a lasting peace.

The United States with all the potentialities for peace, plenty, and harmony is divided on all fronts. Economically certain citizens because of their race, color, or religion are kept at the bottom. Socially white supremacy keeps Negroes Jimcro or second class citizens and builds a wall that shuts them off from civil rights.

Politically, these so-called Communists have said that a social order free from racial exclusiveness is the only order that can bring peace to a world threatened with ruin because by lack of unity and understanding among the people who make up the world.

Our frustrated youths, like the youths and people in other countries, have seen certain democratic nations manipulate a law that keeps them in economic bondage. They have seen justice meted out to the rich with mercy, while they pay a price for being poor.

Neither whippings, shooting, nor brow-beating will heal the wound that has been inflicted on these young people. Only a right-about-face, a reevaluation of our American way of life, will insure a new faith and complete understanding among the people. And then we shall be on our way to peace and goodwill among mankind.

Captain Baker Aux. Installs Officers

Captain E. L. Baker Aux. No. 53, U.S.W.V., Dept. of California, installed its officers for 1950 at Patroitic Hall on Friday, May 5. Mrs. Anna C. Jackson, Past National President, was the installing officer assisted by drill team No. 1.

Officers installed were: Ethel Thornton, president; Elnora Harrall, vice-president; Alma Collins, Jr., vice-president; Mary Jane Phelps, treasurer; Calne B. Mann, secretary; Laura Gray, patriotic instructor; Gussie Davis, historian; Elemise Moorehead, chaplain; Philetus Walker, conductor; Elvina Henry, asst. conductor; Johnny Troutman, guard; Georgia Gray, asst. guard; Jessie B. Carter, musician; Amanda Dickerson, counselor; colors: Lydia Newton, Thena Leavelle, Catherine Allen, Cora Deavers, Earnestine Washington, Mollie Holden, Bertha Wagner, Albert Nixon, and Shera Ablatt, reporter.

A large crowd attended, including members of the 49 President Club. The 1950 Club also sent representatives, and there were sons and daughters of '98, of Englishwood. Members of the Baker Camp and Past Commander Jesse W. Walker.

A beautiful musical program was rendered, followed by a tasty repast served in the dining hall while an orchestra played.

AVC Urges Visit Hospitalized Vets

In commemoration of Memorial Day, the American Veteran's committee is launching a citywide campaign to urge friends and relatives to visit veterans in Veteran's Administration Hospitals during Memorial Day weekend, May 27 through May 30.

"We have heard of cases of veterans who have not been visited by their friends or relatives for over a year," Lore Grey, AVC National Planning Committee Member, stated. "A visit of this sort is of tremendous value to the morale of veterans in our hospitals, particularly those suffering from mental and nervous disorders. We must remember that we have an obligation not to forget the living as well as to honor the dead this Memorial Day."

Baritone Hal Derwin, rising young star of radio and motion pictures, has been named program coordinator for the huge Air Trade Day celebration at Los Angeles International Airport on May 27.

Coffee and doughnuts as a "breakfast" are sharply criticized by Dr. George M. Uhl, city health officer, who says these daily starters were keepink too many people from getting a meal that would satisfy basic body needs.

LANZ ESTES is one of the contestants who will take part in the city-wide oratorical contest sponsored by the local lodges and Temples of the IBPOE of W. at the Golden West Lodge Hall, 4016 S. Central Ave., Friday night at 8 p.m. Larry is a Belmont student.

Pastor Visits in L.A.

One of the outstanding visitors to the "City of Angels," was Rev. J. E. Lawrence of Bloomfield, New Jersey, who worshiped at First A.M.E. Zion Church, cor. of Pico and Paloma Sts. Sunday, 21, with Rev. Shepherd H. Marion, B.S., L.L.D., minister.

In his routine of sight seeing and pleasure in the afternoon, Rev. Lawrence attended a most unique "tea," given by the Floral Committee at the home of the chairman, Mrs. Sallie Warren, and husband, Mr. Sherman, the treasurer of the above named church. There he met one of Zion's younger, most promising ministers, the Rev. Paul M. Marshall, B.S.L., past of Carver Memorial Temple, and was invited to preach the evening sermon.

FEPC On the Shelf Again

"Experience is the best teacher" it has been said. This may or may not be true. However, in the case of the Negro electorate, experience politically has not as yet made as much as a dent in their reasoning ability. Election after election, as far back as this editor can remember, campaign promises have been made to be broken once the candidate is elected.

Some few shining examples of the Negro voters' role in elections. For nearly a half century the American Negro voter was bound to the Republican Party, chiefly, according to his own testimony, because Lincoln was a Republican. And it's hard to believe, but is nevertheless true—there are Negroes today who consider it a disgrace to be identified with any other than the "Good Old Republican Party," despite the fact that the Republican Party has been consistent in its denial of first class citizenship rights to Negroes.

Passage of the FEPC measure promised by the Truman administration, has bobbed up and down ever since Truman became president.

Of course after making it one of his major campaign promises it has been kicked around with little hope of passage.

The Democrats blame the Republicans for blocking FEPC, while the Republicans counter-charge that it is the Democrats' fault.

According to May 18th issue of the New York Post, the Dixiecrats have been aided and abetted by numerous Republicans, including Sen. Robert Taft, of Ohio, who single-handedly delayed FEPC action.

The way this FEPC measure has been handled by both major parties is a disgrace, and an insult to the intelligence of the American people. It creates a sort of vacuum of doubt as to the sincerity of any peace proposal espoused by the Congress.

Why must the people go outside of Washington to chase spies and hunt un-American activities?

There is nothing so un-American as the refusal of the two law-making bodies in Washington to pass an FEPC measure, adopt a health insurance bill, approve the Brannan farm program, and make lynching a Federal offense.

At least, at the present, particularly Negro voters should turn thumbs down on both party candidates, now while they are on their vote-getting parades.

Tell them to go back to Washington, make the FEPC measure a law, adopt other legislation intended to benefit the people of America, and then come before the people and ask them for their votes 'on their record.'

As You Like It

The story is told of a taxi driver in New York City who collided with a car driven by a Negro by the name of William Byrd. The taxi driver got out and called Byrd all the abusive names in his vocabulary. A patrolman hearing the noise, arrested him and took him to court.

At court the magistrate fined the taxi driver $10, with an alternative of spending three days in jail. The taxi driver pleaded that he hadn't the money, and that he had a family of five children to support. Whereupon William Byrd offered to pay the fine himself. Upon this show of magnanimity, however, the judge suspended the fine.

The two men left the courtroom arm-in-arm, and the judge commented, "This is a fine lesson in race relationship for all of us."

William Shakespeare himself couldn't have found a better theme for his play "As You Like It," than this little episode, "unheralded in press and radio. For this heart-warming story expresses the wish of all in America that there could be such fine

The Smear Campaign

The smear campaign of those who see defeat staring them in the face, and who can think of no other way of retrieving their fallen fortunes, is on full blast in the case of Helen Gahagan Douglas, candidate for the U. S. Senate on the Democratic ticket.

The tragedy of it is, that the smearing is being done by another member of the Democratic Party, also a candidate for U. S. Senator, and not by the Republican candidate.

One of the "crimes" charged against Mrs. Douglas is that she voted with Vito Marcantonio for several bills, and notably voted with him to defeat the appropriation for the Un-American Activities Committee, the committee that is smearing the reputations of decent American citizens, citing them as Communists, depriving them of their jobs, pointing at them before the entire world as being disloyal to their country.

There were only 12 who voted against that bill. Only 12 who had the courage to do so. Helen Gahagan Douglas, Vito Marcantonio, and ten others. 348 voted for it.

It takes courage to stand up and be counted with only 12 people, with hundreds against you! We admire that courage in Mrs. Douglas. We admire the courage it took to take a market basket into Congress, and show those members of Congress how prices were soaring, a trend they could stop if they wished. It took courage to vote against the arms for Turkey and Greece bill. It has taken courage to do all the many things Mrs. Douglas has done for the people of California and America, all down the line.

It takes courage to read the daily half-truths and deliberate falsehoods in The Times and The Examiner, and to go on one's way unruffled, so intent upon working for the interest of the people that their howls are not even noticed.

It takes courage to be a Helen Gahagan Douglas. And because of her courage, yes, even because of the discourteous striking-beneath-the-belt attacks upon her if for no other reason, we would be for Helen Gahagan Douglas 100%.

We cannot understand how anyone who hates unfair play—such as is being visited upon her—could be anything else. We cannot understand how any member of the Negro race, any workingman, any workingwoman, any one who admires courage, could be for anyone but her.

Vote for Helen Gahagan Douglas on June 6 for United States Senator. Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt has endorsed her warmly. She was the personal friend of FDR. She has been fighting for his principles ever since she has been in Congress. If she loses now and then, the fault is not hers but her colleagues who have lost the vision FDR gave them.

One of Our Own

The public welfare is promoted when a judiciary is more representative of all of the people, is an axiom that surely everyone can understand.

The people of Los Angeles County have such a candidate for the office of Superior Court No. 10 in the person of Richard A. Ibanez who as a member of the Spanish speaking community would surely bring a closer bond and a closer feeling of kinship between the judiciary and the 250,000 Spanish speaking Americans in the community.

There are some sixty judges in the Superior Court in this county. There are none who speak the language, who can understand the feeling of anyone of Mexican origin. The judiciary is not representative of the people. Richard Ibanez would help to make it so.

Richard Ibanez was born in the state of Texas in 1910, but came to California with his parents just one year later. He attended the public schools at Redlands, and graduated from UCLA in 1932. During the depression years of 1932-34, he was employed as a social worker for the state of California. In 1934 he entered the law school of the University of California at Berkeley, and was a street-car conductor also to help pay expenses.

He has been a successful lawyer, and has worked in numerous civic organizations dedicated to bringing about a better understanding among the various religious and national groups in the community. He is endorsed by the United AFL Voters League, the CIO-PAC, and the unqualified support of all organized labor as a whole.

Richard A. Ibanez is a candidate of the people. He will work for the people. He is one of our own. He will judge with fairness and will form a vital connecting link between the judiciary and the Spanish-speaking people of Los Angeles County—who today have no voice to speak for them on the judge's bench.

RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

FORCE AND VIOLENCE

At a recent conference in this community dealing with the alleged "hoodlum menace" one speaker, according to press reports, declared: "We are not accomplishing what we should to make our youths better citizens. Maybe we aren't tough enough . . . Maybe we should use more force. It's going to take some killing. . ."

For a long time now we have been propagandized with the charge that "the Reds" advocate the use of force and violence to overthrow our government. Day in day out this claim is repeated—and used as the justification for fastening a police state upon us.

It is vehemently asserted that advocacy of force and violence is a danger to the American government and that its proponents should be punished. With this I agree. Such advocacy is un-American and does undermine our democratic processes. Those who preach it must be punished.

I submit, then, that to urge a conference of law enforcement officials (as reported above) to kill our youth is advocating force and violence and the person doing it is criminally responsible. I predict, however, that in this case—as in many similar ones—nothing will be done to him, for this brazen advocate of murder is not a communist, but one of our "best people," an elected public official, Supervisor Roger W. Jessup.

No, Jessup is not communist (I would guess), and neither is William Jeffers, the industrialist, who also urged very rough treatment for our youth. The editors of the metropolitan dailies who joined in the cry for blood are not communists (as they will be the first to proclaim), nor are the persons who lynch Negroes and "repatriate" Mexicans. Neither are the Congressmen who urge atomic destruction of another nation—nor "Hydrogen Harry" who says he's ready to drop another.

Strange, isn't it, that not one of those guilty of urging and using force and violence is a member of the political party accused of advocating it? Quite the contrary. Everyone of them belongs to the Republicans and Democrats (I suspect), and represents our "better class"—the rulers of America, who characteristically accuse others of doing what they themselves are doing or plan to do to our nation.

It is n't strange at all—because as surely as they must breathe to live, so must they resort to violence to "solve" the problems their own insanities create. That is the inescapable logic of fascism. When faced with the necessity of meeting such people's needs as full employment and full citizenship they are inexorably driven to use force since they will not and can not find it within themselves to give any significant share of their wealth and privileges.

FALSE ISSUES

They deliberately manufacture false issues—such as "Zoot-suiters" and "Soviet imperialism"—to divert our attention from the real issues. They don't want us to see what they are doing to us. They create scapegoats—as Hitler used the Jews—whom they hope we will blame for our ills. And, as degenerate as any, the newspaper publishers join in to stir up the people so as to sell more papers.

In the current publicized "wave of hoodlumism" we find all these elements, mixed as in a witches' brew. The Jessups and the Jeffers, the Hearts and the Boddys, abetted by such as Biscailuz, rob the minority peoples among us of the opportunity for economic security and human dignity and a wholesome life for our children.

Then they turn around and blame their victims for the conditions in which we live—and urge that our young people be killed. They have to wipe out the evidence of the treasonous failures of the "leaders" of our society.

Their guilt, most evil guilt, is more than compounded when the facts reveal that there has been no real epidemic of hoodlumism. That, in fact, the police records show a marked decrease in juvenile delinquency. And the "big" dailies—rotting shrouds of Satan—have actually combined stories of unrelated accidents and incidents to make it appear that serious crimes have been committed by our youth. This corruption is added to their old tricks of lying headlines and distorted photographs.

There are so many pressing problems facing our young people and ourselves—unemployment, thought control, our government's refusal to make peace. But do you find these 30-pieces-of-silver-saddled fuhrers trying to arouse us about them, to mobilize our forces to solve them—thus, incidentally, discharging their true responsibilities as public servants?

What is especially frightening about their demand for the murder of our dispossessed youth is that this is a logical development of the atom-bomb mentality which infects the land.

The rulers start with loyalty oaths to regiment our thinking. Then they jail people for teaching ideas which differ from their own un-American views. Then they jail citizens who defend the constitutional rights of all of us from destruction by un-American Committees. Then we have the violent attacks of storm troopers on Negroes and Jews at Peekskill.

CONCENTRATION CAMPS NEXT

Now they are urging killing of our oppressed minorities. The next step—if we don't stop them—will be concentration camps and crematoria for all Americans who refuse to be their willing slaves.

We have been told that loyalty oaths were designed to uncover those who would undermine the American way of life. Why then isn't the test of loyalty applied to those who are now fomenting racial hatreds in Los Angeles?

On this ground, I accuse the Jessups and the Jeffers of disloyalty. They should be condemned, not the Mexican-American youth. I accuse the Hearsts and Boddys as being un-American. They should be condemned, not the Eugene Dennis' and the Hollywood Ten. (They would be too if we lived in a sane world.)

And they are the creatures—may their tribe decrease—who, to quote Jessup again, want to "make our youths better citizens"—by killing them! (Quite a novel approach, eh?) Washington, Lincoln and FDR must be hiding their souls in shame—as Hitler is delirious with joy.

The best thing for the education of America's youth would be the removal of the Jessups and the Hearsts from any position of influence in American life.

CORRECTION: In last week's column, the last sentence in the third paragraph should have read "This was a visible process—you could see the people glow and grow in his magnificent presence." Sorry.

LABOR

LEADING THE WAY

Out of the confusion of red-baiting and ruthless raiding, the UOPWA emerges as the beacon light for forward-looking, progressive unionism. Recently ousted by the CIO, UOPWA, by direct action, makes the CIO look like the reactionary AFL in its more back-days.

JOHN M. LEE

Operating in a field where Negro and other minority workers were shut out completely, or accepted on the barest of quota systems, UOPWA has compiled a record of anti-jimcrow activity, that in these days of perplexing racial relations, is just short of amazing.

In the social service field alone UOPWA has opened employment possibilities for minority workers in force of numbers sufficient to establish a previously hoped-for career as a certainty for young Negro and Mexican men and women. One of the major campaigns of UOPWA, currently in progress, is a drive for the employment of minority workers by Jewish and other sectarian charitable organizations.

The employment of Negro office help generally on a non-segregated or jimcrow basis is attributable to UOPWA. Minority office workers have been able to find employment in the radio, publishing and related fields because UOPWA has done more than give lip service to equality of employment opportunity.

Assailed for several years by raiding forces from the CIO and the AFL, UOPWA has demonstrated that rank and file expression is stronger and more enduring than surrender to the dictatorship of top leadership. Having weathered more than 75 raids, UOPWA meets the threat of future raids with a positive program for organizing the unorganized and for the extension of job opportunities for minority workers.

Through the years, UOPWA has laid the foundation that today makes it one of the strongest of the fighting progressive unions. While it is necessary for most unions to cast about and find methods for building solidarity with Negro and Mexican workers, UOPWA has advanced to the point where it can move ahead with almost classic unity and inter-racial understanding. UOPWA has never compromised on the question of wage increases. One of the factors that weighed heavily against UOPWA's remaining in the CIO is that union's unwavering insistence that wage increases be a vital part of all contract negotiations. Economic gains achieved through the sacrifice of wage increases, UOPWA believes, are but half gains, and represent a lazy kind of unionism that borders on companyism.

How true this is can be established by the fact of the alliances formed by CIO leaders with management in several recent instances. One of the points that won favor for the CIO management is CIO's expressed willingness to forego wage increases. Management and CIO leadership represent a formidable challenge to the rank and file, democratic unionism of UOPWA.

Beyond the positive demonstrations shown in the history of UOPWA, there is a large measure of inspiration in the dogged and determined fight it is making against the triple threat of the AFL, the CIO and companyism. Surrounded and virtually isolated from the impressive and powerful leadership of its former parent body, UOPWA refuses to be diverted from its objective.

Baited and harassed, and one of the victims of the rampant hysteria of the cold war, UOPWA wastes no time with bickering and name-calling. Instead it forges ahead with daily announcements of new gains in organization and democratic unionism. A small union compared to the remaining combined numerical strength of the CIO, UOPWA is showing that it is bigger, in many respects, than the CIO.

It is sufficient to stand firm in the face of overwhelming opposition, but UOPWA has not only stood firm, it has fought back, and it has taken the initiative in an area where the CIO has never dared venture.

UOPWA is one of the more advanced of the progressive unions. If we must see its faults, then we must be reminded of the greater faults of some of the other unions. And, with that reminder must come the resolve to develop all unions to the level UOPWA has achieved, and to develop UOPWA still further. There is no magic formula by which this ideal can be achieved. Rather it will be brought about by following leadership such as that offered by UOPWA, and moving forward.

Around the World

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt, widow of the late President Roosevelt, dropped into the Los Angeles area this week to attend the wedding of her grandson, Curtis Roosevelt Dahl, to Miss Robin Edwards in Santa Monica.

Young Roosevelt Dahl lived with his mother, Anna Roosevelt Dahl, in the White House during the presidency of Franklin D. Roosevelt. He was known as "Buzzie," and was the President's favorite grandson.

FARM WOMEN ON VOICE OF AMERICA

Three Maryland colored farm women and their home demonstration agent appeared on a Voice of America broadcast last week and described how they had been able to improve their homes as a result of the Cooperative Extension Service program of their State and the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

The farm women who took part in the broadcast are Mrs.

Pearl Brogden and Mrs. Carrie Hill of Spencerville, Md., and Mrs. Grace Step of Norbeck, Md. They were interviewed by Miss Ethel L. Bianchi, home agent of Montgomery and Prince Georges counties, and by Miss Betty Wason, radio broadcaster of the State Department's International Broadcasting Division.

FORT VALLEY, Ga.—Sixty-five farm families from thirty-eight counties throughout the state who have been aided by the Farmers Home Administration were honored here at Achievement Day Ceremonies, May 18, at Fort Valley State College.

About a third of the families have paid out their loans to the FHA and are now farm owners. All of them were cited for improved use of land, better livestock practices, increased crop yields, extended sources of income, better living at home, wider educational opportunities, and debt repayment.

This Changing World

By CYRIL BRIGGS

I was quite intrigued by the recent emergence of Mr. Truman as an authority on socialism. I can think of no subject that Mr. Truman could discuss with more authority unless it were the subject of "How to Make a Success of a Haberdashery Business."

Having in mind Mr. Truman's oft-repeated dictum of unconditional surrender by the Russians as a prerequisite for calling off the cold war, I was particularly intrigued by Mr. Truman's shocked discovery that the Russians have betrayed Karl Marx by their refusal to apply in this period the Marxist principle of the withering away of the state, with, of course, the abolition of the Red Army. This is, indeed, a telling indictment against the Russians who, no doubt, are still suffering from the illusion that our unselfish and altruistic imperialists, noble exemplars of light and sweetness, would act to re-establish capitalism in the Soviet Union were it not for the adamant opposition of the Russian people and their armed forces.

This illusion must strike Mr. Truman as peculiarly silly, another manifestation of the strange Russian soul, since, of course, there is no slightest indication that American monopolists and their stooge counterparts in Western Europe have any desire to further increase their swollen profits, or to reimpose capitalism on the Russians. Didn't they rush to recognize the young Soviet republics, to uphold the right of the Russian people to choose their own form of government, their own economic system? Every one knows, including the American, British and French soldiers who per force participated in them, that the armed intervention following World War I against the young Union of Socialist Republics never occurred, are just figments of the fertile Russian imagination; subversive lies of our own historians.

And aren't our monopolists and their agents in Washington currently falling over each other in their rush to recognize and aid the new People's Republic of China? Didn't they hail the democratic right of the Chinese people to kick out the Wall Street lackey, Chiang Kai-Shek, and his corrupt regime? Or didn't they? And are not they siding with the embattled colonial peoples in their struggle to liberate their countries from the murderous, impoverished exploitation of the western imperialism? Surely every one knows that American money and arms are being poured into Europe, Asia and Africa today. Is it the fault of our amiable monopolists that these monies and arms always manage to get into the wrong hands, are used against the colonial peoples?

And, anyway, has not Mr. Truman's secretary of state assured the colonial peoples that the Viet Namese, for instance, would be happier under the rule of the French puppet Bao Dai than enjoying the doubtful blessings of national independence under Ho Chi Minh, leader of the Viet Nam independence movement? Why deprive the western "democracies" of their treasured "white man's burden"?

As to the peppy Russians, with their silly notions of racial equality, if they did bow to Mr. Truman's brilliant interpretation of Marx and abolished their armed forces and we did subsequently march in, it would be only to commit law and order upon the benighted Slavs as we have so often done in the past upon the "little brown brother." And who, in all reason, could object to such a purely altruistic act—or begrudge our monopolists the monetary rewards of such imperialistic altruism? Who can blame Messrs. Truman and Acheson for considering such a possibility far more attractive than the idea of

By Marian Ingleswood

Five months after a race riot in Chicago, 25 of the 58 men arrested were set free. As the municipal court judge dismissed three of them, he said: "This was an organized incident . . . This miserable conspiracy was hatched and put into effect by a small but highly organized vocal group of subversive agents, professional agitators, and saboteurs."

Now you'd think anyone who talked like that was exhorting the persons who incited the riot, the racists, the white supremacists. But he wasn't. He was talking about the victims of the mob, and implying that something they had juggled things about so that everything went off according to their plan—the attack on themselves, their being beaten up, the riot—everything. No one can say exactly how the judge came to such a conclusion, but that was his feeling during the trial and when he dismissed the defendants, who had started the riot.

That riot lasted five days. It started when Aaron Bindman, a member of the CIO Warehouse and Distribution Workers Union, Local 208, held a reception for a friend. Among those invited were eight Negroes—all shop stewards. When the people of that community, neighbors of the indians, heard that Negroes were to be among the guests, they gathered in protest 200 strong before the home the Bindman family had only recently purchased.

They didn't go home. Their number kept increasing day after day. The anger of the mob instead of being directed against the Negroes whom Mr. Bindman had invited, was turned against all Negroes in general, and against Jews, too. At the beginning of the fifth day 2000 persons swarmed around the Bindman home, threatening reprisals if he and his n—s didn't get out of there.

Finally at the insistence of civic groups the police were forced to take a hand. They arrested 58 men, most of whom were dismissed the next day, and the remainder after a five months' delay.

The cards were stacked against Aaron Bindman and his friends from the very beginning. No faith was placed in their testimony at the trial. The word of the defendants—the rioters arrested at the time of the trouble—was believed and not that of the victims against whom the riot was directed.

"To convict these defendants," said the judge, "the court would have to accept the testimony of Bindman and Victor Ludwig (a friend) which it does not do."

A Commission on Human Relations was appointed to investigate the incident. At the end of two weeks it issued through Mayor Kennelly a statement which said in part: "Chicago has a reputation for the friendliness of its people in their relations with each other which has increased year by year. Nothing must be allowed to happen which would disrupt this relationship, particularly anything due to difference of race or religion."

This mild milk-toast attitude was altogether unsatisfactory to many of the civic groups, and they pressed Mayor Kennelly for something stronger. He then said: "I wish to amplify my statement. All citizens of Chicago are entitled to the same rights regardless of race, color or creed. Police have definite orders to disperse any crowd gathering for the purpose of harassing citizens or to do anything which could disturb order in the community."

This declaration satisfied some of the more civic-minded citizens. But not those who were and are militantly fighting for equal rights for all in truth, as well as in statements and forceful declarations only on paper.

"Why," asked Sidney Williams of the Urban League, "why doesn't Mayor Kennelly say people can live where they wish and invite whoever they wish into their homes without danger?"

Why indeed?

LETTERS to the EDITOR

S.O.S.

Dear Editor:

Comes now this letter asking your paper if you could assist me in locating my sister. She is in your city. Her maiden name was Blanche Coney. Married name, Blanche Whitehead. I don't have a picture of her to enclose. The very best I can do is ask you to locate her under the name of Mrs. Blanche Coney Whitehead.

I don't have any money, for I have been in prison since 1946. I have one more year to serve. Thanking you in advance for whatever consideration you can give this request, I am

Yours very truly,

Pasadena, Calif.

Dear Editor:

We the members of the Pasadena Community Forum, and the people of the community, want to thank your paper for its cooperation. In taking a survey of the readers of The California Eagle, we found a great many of your readers responded to the notices which you ran in the EAGLE.

the peaceful co-existence of capitalism and socialism? Of the free choice of peoples as between the two system?

Dear Editor,

The masses of the people cannot blame anyone but themselves for the set-back they are receiving by the passage of Proposition No. 2. It was because of their lack of knowledge of voting. Number 2's victory was a defeat for the people. It is "too much too late." I say this because there is too much grief now that Prop. 2 is in force. Too much grief, but it serves them right because people today should not allow themselves to be duped by the capitalist papers that have meant them any good. Why should they have thought these people had a change of heart?

These papers serve to mislead you. You accept their advice as final and disregard information given by the only paper that is for you, THE EAGLE. How can anyone sympathize with such people in this progressive age? Many people claim they were confused. They admit they should have thought themselves, but such alibis are usually too late to do any good.

Well, whether they were confused or not, they are suffering for their lack of intelligence. But regardless of the experience they are now having, they will fall again for the same old hokum put out by papers that mean them no good.

If for their own benefit they would support the paper that is for them, they would become progressive and willing to fight for the things that are best for them. Then there would be no "Too much too late."

Paul Collins, candidate for the Democratic nomination for State Controller, says economy will be the watchword if he is elected to the office. He intends to consolidate some of the more than 65 branches now maintained by the Controller's office.

The Rev. Wilford P. Carter, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church at Santa Monica, announced that Esther Murray, the only Democratic candidate for Congress in the 16th District, will be a guest of honor at 6 p.m. today (Thursday, May 25) during the organization's annual dinner at 1907 20th St., Santa Monica.

SET THE NEGRO FREE

OAKLAND—Avery C. Moore, nominee for Congress in the Seventh District of California has just released an Open Letter to incumbent Congressman John J. Allen, Republican, to meet him in joint debate. Particularly, he asks Allen to explain why he seeks the Democratic nomination in a Democratic District, when he has consistently opposed Democratic policies in Congress.

On Civil Rights, Moore states his position as follows, and asks Allen, "How about it?"

"I stand for President Truman's Civil Rights measure, written as Abraham Lincoln would have written it—in the spirit of the Proclamation of Emancipation. Not until Negroes are free to the full extent that white men are free will America be, in truth, 'The Land of the Free.'"

Branding the recent decision of the Public Utilities Commission to permit abandonment of Pacific Electric rail services in Los Angeles as "a shocking and callous disregard of the public interest," Glenn M. Anderson, Chairman of the Assembly Interim Committee on Highways, Streets and Bridges, today called on Governor Warren to use his executive authority to have this order rescinded.

"At a time when Los Angeles is trying desperately to catch up with its traffic problem," Anderson stated in his letter to the Governor, "the decision of the Public Utilities Commission will set us back years by blocking our freeways, many of which are not yet even completed."

ELEANOR SPEAKS FOR HELEN

Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas "deserves the support of those of us who care about good government," declared Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt in a message to Douglas for Senate headquarters which was read Sunday night over a statewide broadcast that also included the major radio speech of her Senate Campaign by Mrs. Douglas.

The message from the widow of Franklin D. Roosevelt said in full:

"I am heartily back of the Helen Douglas campaign. As a citizen of the United States, I feel the caliber of representation in the Senate is important to the whole nation and for that reason someone who has shown the integrity and moral fortitude that she has shown as Representative deserves the support of those of us who care about good government."

"The way to keep communism out of America is to keep democracy in it."

ELECTION STATEMENT

SAN FRANCISCO — The State Committee of the Communist Party of California issued a statement on the elections which declared that "the most effective form of independent political action that will contribute most to the defeat of reaction in these elections will be a large, mass vote for genuine independent candidates who stand for peace and democracy; for progressive Negro and Mexican-American candidates; and especially for the full slate of candidates of the Independent Progressive Party; and for the candidates endorsed by the Communist Party."

There are three candidates endorsed by the Communist Party running for non-partisan office in the June 6 elections: Bernadette Doyle, candidate for State Superintendent of Public Instruction; Walter Martin, candidate for Sheriff in Los Angeles County; and Henry Steinberg, candidate for County Assessor in Los Angeles County.

NEW YORK — The National Lawyers Guild convention which was held in New York recently adopted a resolution urging that the Immigration and Naturalization Service be transferred from the Justice Department of the Federal Government to an independent agency, for the sake of treating the foreign-born more humanely.

The Communist Party of Los Angeles County announces that the following candidates will speak at the University by the Sea, in Long Beach:

Sunday, May 21, Bernadette Doyle, candidate for office of State Superintendent of Instruction.

Sunday, May 28, Henry Steinberg, candidate for office of the County Tax Assessor.

Sunday, June 4, Walter Martin, candidate for office of Sheriff.

A.F.L. VOTERS' LEAGUE FOR IBANEZ

An A. F. of L. Voters' League Committee for the election of Richard A. Ibanez to Superior Court Office No. 10 has been formed, it was announced this week by J. B. Macias, chairman. "The Ibanez Committee," stated Macias, Business Representative Cement Finishers' Local No. 627, "is vigorously carrying out labor's endorsement of Ibanez by working for the election of a man whose ideals of progressive Americanism are needed now in one of the most important court offices in the County—the Juvenile Court."

Active on the Ibanez Committee are:

By OWEN TROY

Ed Note: This is the last of a series of articles on the islands of the Caribbean by Rev. Troy who recently visited that area.

"The underlying anthropological assumption of British rule over darker peoples is that the white race is superior to all other races and that darker races should be ruled at arm's length" so states Paul Blanshard in his outspoken book, "Democracy and Empire in the Caribbean."

"This assumption is never expressed," he adds, "but it is implicit in the conduct of British officials. Although British colonies in general have no color bar, the white British officials who marry colored natives face almost certain social ostracism and private condemnation from their superiors. ('The thing simply isn't done, you know.') That's the acid test of the British racial attitude."

"Divide and Rule"

Americans in this country who have at least a historical knowledge of the British "divide and rule" practice are generally amazed at the almost protective loyalty for the British colonial system that new-comers from Jamaica display. But there are historical and practical reasons for this attitude.

While not agreeing with all that Blanshard says in his recent book, his writing from the masses rather than the imperialistic powers. He states that "with the exception of Puerto Rico, these Caribbean colonies were not colonized by Europeans, as Canada and the North American mainland were colonized. They were captured by Europeans."

Some feeble efforts were made to colonize them with Europeans but they were soon overwhelmed by the great influx of African slaves and later with indentured servants from India China and Java. Blanshard observes that these peoples in the British colonies had European languages and governments, but their faces are black.

As one lives and travels in the British colonies in the Caribbean, it is easy to observe that they are more fundamentally British than the Empire's possessions in Africa and the Far East. Today the courts, schools, police systems, banks, corporations and most of the churches are British.

The rule of Jamaica is definitely an absentee rule, it is not like the rule of self-government enjoyed by white dominions like Canada and Australia. Jamaica is under the colonial rule which is generally applied to all darker peoples. All governors and leading department heads are chosen by British authorities without approval of local legislatures. The balance of power in respect to major legislation lies with an appointee of the British government.

Problems of Jamaicans and Americans Similar

But with the rise of the People's Nationalist Party under Norman Washington Manley and other movements representing the people there is a definite program to obtain more voice in the government of the island. And there should be less heard in this country of the merits of the British colonial system over the American pattern which, after all, is about the same thing only under another name. The problems of the Americans and Jamaicans are so similar that we must beware of the "divide and rule" theory.

As is true in all countries, in Jamaica there is wealth and beauty placed side by side with extreme poverty and squalor. But the beauty of the island and the hospitality of the people are not to be excelled. It is a land that everyone should visit. In fact, it would be a most delightful place for Americans to go to retire where they could enjoy the goodness of living.

Tractors were a curiosity in Rumanian-ruled Bessarabia and harvester combines were unknown. Moldavia east of the Dnieper had enough of these machines to do three-quarters of its ploughing, and more than half of its seeding and harvesting.

During the year of Soviet rule in a united Moldavia prior to the war the peasants west of the Dnieper got 620,000 acres of land. In seven months' time, 20 machine and tractor stations were established to serve them, with 1000 tractors and 200 combines, 288 new industrial enterprises were founded to give work to the 20,000 unemployed. Three new colleges and 2000 schools were established.

The war with Germany cost the destruction of every power station and other public utility in the land, as well as every medical institution. 75,000 acres of the best vineyards and truck gardens were laid waste. But Moldavian guerillas killed tens of thousands of the enemy, and wrecked 2500 railway cars and locomotives. By the spring of 1945, one year after this area was liberated, 330,000 children were back in school. Two theater companies, one Moldavian and one Russian, were functioning. So was a center of Amateur Folk Art. An art school was opened in conjunction with the State Museum. Several music schools were reestablished. Agricultural and teachers' colleges and a Conservatory and a Conservatory of Music were founded or reopened. 19 technical high schools were functioning, 1039 village clubs, 54 county and city Houses of Culture, and 145 libraries catered to the needs and interests of the population. 99 hospitals, 529 clinics, 682 maternity homes, and 33 consultation centers for mothers and children were engaged in rebuilding the people's health. But the losses of industry, livestock and agricultural equipment still cut very deeply into the living standard. However, that fall the sugar harvest rose to the pre-war level, and plans were laid to double it in three years. A new nursery vineyard, the largest in the USSR was cultivating American varieties of grape vines. The gross output of industry in 1945 topped the pre-war level, yet it was planned that output of consumer goods in 1950 would be ten times as high.

THE SOVIET EAST

One reason why the Soviet Union was able to turn the tide against Hitler at Stalingrad in 1942 was because, for the first time in Russian history, the Eastern peoples of the Caucasus and Central Asia fought alongside them in huge numbers, and manned industries to equip the Red Army. It was the fruit of what Henry Wallace calls "ethnic democracy," and describes as follows:

"A third kind of democracy, which I call ethnic, is in my opinion vital to the new democracy, the democracy of the common man. Ethnic democracy means merely that the different races and minority groups must be given equality of economic opportunity. . . . Russia has prob-

Americans are buying homes in the Mandeville area where the climate is extremely delightful and healthful. If one had a modest but steady income and had sufficient funds to build a modest home in the rolling hill country of Mandeville or a hundred other places in Jamaica, he would be able to live in idyllic existence with ample help to care for the house and yard.

ably gone further than any other nation in the world in practicing ethnic democracy. From the Russians we can learn much, for unfortunately the Anglo-Saxons have had an attitude toward other races which has made them exceedingly unpopular in many parts of the world. We have not sunk to the lunatic level of the Nazi myth of racial superiority, but we have sinned enough to cost us already the blood of tens of thousands of precious lives. Ethnic democracy built from the heart is perhaps the greatest need of the Anglo-Saxon tradition."

When the Soviets came to power at the end of 1917, a cabinet post for the affairs of the nationalities was set up immediately and given to Joseph Stalin, himself from Georgia, a subject nation in the Caucasus. He had been recognized by Lenin as the Bolshevik Party's outstanding expert on nationality problems and was author of its platform planks on that subject. In a "Report on the National Question" delivered at a Bolshevik Party Congress in May, 1917, Stalin said:

"Thus, our views on the national question reduce themselves to the following propositions:

"(a) the recognition of the right peoples to secession;
"(b) regional autonomy for the peoples which remains within the given state;

"(c) specific laws guaranteeing freedom of development for national minorities; . . ."

His first act as Commissar of Nationalities was to write a "Declaration of Rights of the Peoples of Russia," committing the government to execute the policies pledged in the Bolshevik platform. It stated:

"In June, 1917, the First Congress of Soviets proclaimed the right of the peoples of Russia to freedom of self-determination. In October, 1917, the second Congress of Soviets endorsed this inalienable right of the peoples of Russia in a more decided and definite form. In pursuance of the will of these congresses, the Council of People's Commissars has decided to base its activities with regard to the nationalities of Russia on the following principles:

"1. The equality and sovereignty of the peoples of Russia.

"2. The rights of the peoples of Russia to 'freedom of self-determination,' including of the right to secede and from independent states.

"3. Abolition of all national and national-religious privileges and restrictions whatsoever.

"4. Freedom of development for the national minorities and ethnographic groups inhabiting the territory of Russia."

This Declaration was put to the test within six weeks, when the non-Soviet Finnish government formally requested that its secession from Russia, of which it had been part of a century, be recognized. This request was granted on Stalin's personal insistence. Other non-Russian peoples chose to remain within the Soviet state, assured by this action of equal sovereignty. In that connection, the first Soviet Constitution, adopted in the middle of 1918, stated:

"The Russian Soviet Republic shall be constituted on the principle of a free union of nations."

In 1920, after the Soviets, with the aid of most of the non-Russian peoples, had won out against civil war and foreign intervention, Stalin described the situation then existing and advanced a further program.

alliance it is necessary first of all to put an end to the estrangement and isolation of the border regions, to their patriarchal manner of life and lack of culture, and to the mistrustful attitude toward the center which still persists in the border regions as a heritage of the brutal policy of tsarism. Tsarism deliberately cultivated patriarchal-feudal oppression in the border region in order to keep the masses in a state of slavery and ignorance. Tsarism deliberately settled the best areas in the border regions with colonists in order to force the natives into the worst areas and to intensify national enmity. Tsarism restricted, and at times simply suppressed, the native schools, theatres, and educational institutions in order to keep the masses in intellectual darkness. Tsarism frustrated the initiative of the best members of the native population. Finally, tsarism suppressed all (public) activity on the part of the populace of the border regions. Tsarism in this way implanted among the natives a profound mistrust, at times passing into direct hostility, for everything Russian.

"If the alliance between Central Russia and the border regions is to be consolidated, this mistrust must be removed and an atmosphere of mutual understanding and fraternal confidence created. But in order to remove this mistrust we must first help the populace of the border regions to emancipate themselves from the survivals of the feudal-patriarchal yoke; we must abolish—abolish in actual fact and not in word—all the privileges of the colonists; we must enable the masses to taste of the material benefits of the revolution. . . . We must develop local national schools, national theaters and national educational institutions and must raise the cultural level of the peoples of the border regions. For it need hardly be shown that ignorance and unenlightenment are the most dangerous enemies of Soviet government.

"The Soviet government is not a government divorced from the people; on the contrary, it is the only government of its kind, a government which originated among the masses of Russian people and which is near and dear to the people. This in fact explains the unparalleled strength and resilience displayed by the Soviet government at critical moments. The Soviet government must become no less dear to the populace of the border regions of Russia. But to do so the Soviet government must first be comprehensive to them. It is therefore necessary that all Soviet organs in the border regions—the courts, the administration, the economic bodies, the direct organs of government—also the organs of the party—should at far as possible be recruited from among local people acquainted with the customs, life habits, and language of the native population. . . . that the local toiling masses should be drawn into every sphere of administration of the country, including military formations, in order that the masses may see that the Soviet government and its organs are the products of their own efforts, the embodiment of their aspirations. Only in this way can an unbreakable spiritual contact be established between the masses and the government, and only in this way can the Soviet government become comprehensible and dear to the toiling masses of the border regions."

An Open Letter

Hon. Harry S. Truman
The White House
Washington, D. C.

Dear Sir:

We are seriously concerned over the recent announcement by the Department of Justice that it will seek the denaturalization of more than 1,000 naturalized American citizens on political grounds. To date, five such denaturalization proceedings have been initiated in Detroit, Hartford and Philadelphia.

We feel that any attempt to establish distinctions between the rights possessed by naturalized American citizens and the rights possessed by native-born American citizens violate basic American principles. These denaturalization proceedings endanger not only the rights of 11,000,000 naturalized citizens but also the liberties of all native-born citizens.

These proceedings violate the clear provisions of the United States Constitution as interpreted by the United States Supreme Court on June 21, 1943, in the case of William Schneiderman. That historic decision secured, in the words of Justice Murphy, "the blessings of liberty in thought and action to all those upon whom the right of American citizenship has been conferred by statute, as well as to the native born."

We agree fully with the position taken by Justice Rutledge who stated, in his concurring opinion in the Schneiderman case, "It may be doubted that the framers of the Constitution intended to create two classes of citizens, one free and independent, one haltered with a lifetime string tied to its status."

The United States Supreme Court, in its Schneiderman decision, voiced the democratic principles on which this country was founded. Any attempt to reverse this traditional treatment of the rights of American citizens creates serious dangers to the very existence of our democracy. Therefore, we oppose any attempt by the Justice Department to overthrow the decision of the United States Supreme Court in the Schneiderman case.

In this period of tension and hysteria, when basic civil rights in the United States are in serious danger, these denaturalization proceedings serve to further jeopardize constitutional and democratic safeguards that have always bolstered the rights of the American people, native as well as foreign.

We call on you, as President of the United States to order the Justice Department to discontinue immediately its efforts to revoke the American citizenship of Sam Sweet (Detroit), Max Hattwig (Hartford), Reba Kessler (Philadelphia), and all others who are threatened with loss of their American citizenship because of their progressive, labor or political beliefs or activities.

(More than 100 prominent Americans have signed the above letter to President Truman. If you are in accord with its sentiments you are invited to do the same. Or to write a letter of your own to the President.)

Weddings

Ice Blue and White Theme Captures Delicate Beauty Of Ingram-Greenfield Rites

The wedding ceremony uniting Miss Mary Geraldine Ingram and Mr. Russell Eugene Greenfield at St. Patrick's Catholic church was one of the weekend highlights. Before 300 guests the handsome young couple repeated wedding vows.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Mr. Melvin Griffin, the bride was gowned in a period nylon net creation over white satin with a shirred bodice, puffed sleeves, nude yoke flowing softly into a full majestic train. Her headpiece was a tiara of lilies-of-the-valley and seed pearls from which a chapel-length veil fell, set off with a single strand of pearls and matching earrings. She carried a white bouquet of stephanotis and orchids.

Her maid of honor, Miss Peggy Edwards, and four attendants, Misses Thelma Marion, Geraldine Barnum, Iretha Simons and Dorothy Ellis chose gowns of ice blue net over satin. Against a background of gladioli, andiatum woodwardia tapered with white satin bows the wedding scene was literally a scene of delicate beauty.

The reception immediately followed the wedding ceremony at 905 E. 28th street. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, who greeted their friends and well-wishers from a huge heart of gardenias flanked on either side by tall white candelabras.

Centering the table decorated in ice blue tulle over white satin was a four-tiered wedding cake with clusters of gardenias surrounding it. Champagne punch was served from an ice-carved bowl with bride's roses and gardenias.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Alma Gantt and Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Drye of Washington, D. C.

The bride, who attended Howard university and pledged to Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, is the daughter of Mrs. Katherine Ingram North. The groom is the son of Mrs. Eva Greenfield. While in service he was a second lieutenant in the Army Air Corps. He is presently attending University of Southern California.

Following their honeymoon trip to Catalina Island, the popular young couple will be at home to friends at 4018 1/2 Montclair.

Trophy Dance Proceeds Goes To Aid YMCA

The annual Trophy Dance held at the Elks Ballroom last Friday evening in honor of the outstanding basketball teams and individual players was a huge success, due largely to the promotion of Frank Donaldson, YMCA secretary. The entire proceeds of $354 was given the 28th Street YMCA to aid in the community drive to keep open this agency.

Emerging this year with two trophies, the championship trophy presented by Dynamite Jackson and the John Kinloch trophy presented by Charlotta A. Bass, was the Omega Psi Phi team, which displayed the best ability on the Loyola court and all-around sportsmanship.

Individual trophies were awarded the most valuable players of each team. Receiving recognition were Gene Williams of Kappa Alpha Psi, Bobby Pounds of Phi Beta Sigma, Charles Reed of Omega Psi Phi, and Hugo Hill of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternities.

The Elks ballroom and music of Jeep Smith were contributed for the benefit of the YMCA.

Saturday evening at the Omega banquet trophies were also given to Wesley Slade, Vernon Riggins, Charles Reeds, Ivan Robinson and Vernon Melton, captain of the team.

Victorious Team Banquet Guests Of Omegas

The Omega Psi Phi Fraternity climaxed a very successful year by honoring its great basketball team with a banquet at the Crystal Tea Room Saturday night. This team walked away with two winning trophies during the current Inter-Fraternity Basketball Series. The banquet found many prominent local Omega men, wives, and sweethearts present. The winning of this year's championship was the first time the Omegas had ever wore the crown. This plus other recent achievements found everyone in high spirits. Harry Penn, one of Omegas favorite members, acted as M. C.

The hosts of the affair was Lambda Chapter. Present were: Dr. E. I. Robinson, baselius of Lambda Omicron and local N.A.A.C.P. president, who gave a short talk, and Allen C. Woodard, vice baselius of Lambda Omicron. Penn called upon many of the Omegas who had been instrumental with this year's basketball success and members who had contributed to the rising of the fraternity locally. Highlighted among the speakers was Chas. Thrash, president of the Inter-Fraternity Basketball Council. The Omega cheerleaders Pauline James, Audrey Burrell, Cynthia Goodson, and Mickey Krooms, were also guests.

Frank Donaldson, coach of the Omega team, was introduced by Andrew Wallace, baselius of Lambda Chapter.

Clayton Russell Manse Setting For Albert J. McNeil Reception Before Departure To Europe

A mark was made last Sunday on the social pages of Los Angeles society as an outstanding event which will be long remembered was the testimonial reception tendered by the citizenry of Los Angeles for Albert John McNeil, brilliant young choral director, teacher and organist, who embarks for Europe May 29.

Drawing Room Setting
The setting was the spacious home and gardens of Rev. and Mrs. Clayton D. Russell at 1194 W. 36th Pl. The French colonial drawing room was the setting for the distinguished receiving line which was introduced by the socially prominent Wendell James Franklin.

The personnel of the line consisted of Mrs. Georgia Robinson, great aunt of McNeil and America's first Negro policewoman. Mr. Albert McNeil, the honored guest and winner of the Westminster Choral Society Fellowship. Mr. James Purdy, principal of Carver Junior High School and associate professor of the sociology department of the University of California at Los Angeles. Mrs. Jessica Pullis, outstanding educator and principal of Hamil Street School. Fannse Evelyn Benjamin, distinguished organist, was complimented from all sides for the success of the reception which she chairmanned and presided as hostess.

Music Features

Many well known celebrities and artists participated in the impromptu. Among the persons were Marguerite Scott Chapman, soprano, whose recent concert in the city was acclaimed by the critics, Jean Jackson, contralto, and runner-up in the Atwater Kent finals received a thunderous ovation for her very fine work. The highlight of the evening was the music ensemble by the McNeil choir, which is well known for its radio and concert work.

Kaffee Klatch

The Club Coterie cordially invites the public to attend its annual Kaffee Klatch featuring a Unique Hobby show at the beautiful YWCA Woodlawn branch, 4260 Woodlawn avenue, June 11 from 11 a.m. to 3 p.m. All hobbyists desiring to participate please call AD. 5606 or RI. 1831.

Business Sessions of AKA Regional Conference to Be Held on Campus of USC

Using the theme, "New Horizons in Human Relations," the 21st Annual Far Western Regional Conference of the Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will meet in Los Angeles, July 1, 2, and 3, 1950. Mrs. Audrey B. Jones, regional director, will preside over the business sessions which will be held on the University of Southern California campus.

The hostess chapters—Alpha Gamma Omega, Alpha Gamma, and Sigma—are making extensive plans for the visiting sorors. These plans include a sorority banquet to be held at the Wedgewood Room of Carl's (Crenshaw); a public reception on Sunday, July 2; a tour of the city; and, of course, the Annual Alpha Kappa Alpha Formal Dance on Monday, July 3 at the Pasadena Civic Auditorium. There will be numerous informal affairs in honor of the visitors which will be announced at a later date.

The Basilei of the three local chapters are Miss Lucille Bonnett, graduate; Miss Eleanor Roseman, UCLA; Miss Geraldine Barnum, USC. General chairman of the Regional Conference Planning Committee is Mrs. Exie Lee Hampton. She is being ably assisted by the following special committee chairmen: Mrs. Zenobia Allen, banquet; Mrs. Glendene McClain, public reception; Mrs. Helen B. Smith, escorts; Mrs. Joanne Sutton, registration; Mrs. Dora Taylor, housing; Mrs. Vivian Wilson, dance; and Miss Bernice Wright, hospitality.

Unique Art Club Honors Member

The Unique Art Club met at the home of Mrs. Lorraine Flemmings with Mrs. Bernyce Wilson, president, presiding. Plans were discussed for the forthcoming cocktail party.

On the occasion of her birthday, Mrs. Emma Matt was the recipient of a lovely gift from the members of the club. Two prospective members visited this meeting.

Members present were Mmes. Hazel Wynn, Gracie Whitaker, Frances Griffin, Jacqueline Coleman, Gladys Texada, Ethelene Shanklin, Thelma Grenstad, Darthula Ford and Cecile Coleman.

The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Thelma Grenstad.

Anchoresses Pour Tea Sunday In Honor of Club Mothers

The Anchoresses poured tea Sunday in honor of their parents at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Rene of West 24th street. A corsage was pinned on each mother as she entered the door.

Lincolmites Plan Dance Party to Aid Student Fund

Members of the Lincolmites announced this week that plans are being completed for a huge carnival and square dance party. Scheduled for July, the affair will mark the second event given by the group since its organization.

Composed of former students of Lincoln University, the Lincolnite club is headed by Mrs. Lurline Criss, president; Mrs. Marie Staten, secretary, and Mrs. Helen Taritor, treasurer. Ms. Thelma Gibson is public relations director.

Heading the list of activities for the group is the establishment of a fund to assist students now attending Lincoln University. First even held by the new club was a tea held at the Wilfandel Clubhouse. Funds raised from this successful affair were placed into the club's student fund.

In addition to the planned carnival-square dance party, other summer activities are on the club's busy slate. Mrs. Criss has announced that anyone residing in this city who formerly attended Lincoln University is invited to become a member of the club.

It's Another Girl

Little Jaron Charisse Johnson arrived Friday, May 19, at the Queen of Angels Hospital tipping the scales at nine pounds 1½ ounces. This made the third daughter born to Dr. and Mrs. Jarone W. Johnson. Both mother and baby are reported doing fine.

Hawaiian Party Planned by Thirteen Aides

Plans are being designed to make Sunday, June 18 an afternoon to be remembered as the date of a fabulous benefit. Its been named Hawaiian Luau, meaning a party set to Hawaiian fashion, at the home of Mrs. Juan Tizol, 2150 So. Hobart, from 3 to 9.

Just a few of the items of the very special entertainment menu is string music from the Isle of Paradise, along with their native dances. A mink scarf and a radio will be raffled off to the lucky winner.

Mmes. Ruby Wilson, Beulah Honore will head entertainment; Bessie Garcia, food chairman; Regina Moore, Leontyne King, refreshment committee; Hazel Washington, Mildred Reid, decorations; Laa-Zora Rowell and Ethel Gordon, ticket committee and publicity; Beatrice DeVaughn is the president of this fashionable club.

Wadsworth PTA

The new Los Angeles 10th District Parent-Teacher Health Center was the main topic discussed at Wadsworth PTA's executive board meeting held May 19, 1950. A letter from 10th District was read and brochures showing a picture of the new building were sent home by the pupils.

Plans were also outlined for the May Day Carnival to be held May 25.

Mr. Harold Coulter, principal, gave each member present a ticket to attend the "Cavalcade of Youth" at Hollywood Bowl May 26 and 27 at 8:30 p.m.

The new officers will be installed at the next regular meeting June 6, 2:00 p.m. in the school auditorium.

California Heat-Wave

Howard Moorhead was so elated that he almost did a split at the Trophy Dance as he watched his flexible dancing partner, former Omega cheer leader, strut her stuff. Clara Fentress will take another whirlwind visit to San Francisco—(Uh, huh!) Thomasina Ayers put in black and white that she always enjoys the company of Tommy Palmer and his mother—U.S.C. diplomas and then what? Couldn't help but notice Marvin Head and Gloria Taylor holding hands when they jumped up to see Jean Patton of Tennessee State win the 100-yard women's dash.

Earl Carter attempting a not so cool look as vivacious Helen Hayman gazed into his eyes—enuf said "What's Happening?"

My mom writes that she will spend a quiet summer at home. You haven't seen anything, of Carolyn Clark lately but Booker Stevens has. Many a happy tear was shed and good wishes meted out to the prospective bridegrooms. Jimmy Daugherty and Toni Robinson, and bridesmaids, Norma Winston and Jackie Lewis at the swanky party given for them by personable Joyce Robinson, at the Elks Blue Room. In spite of the crowded room Charlene Derrick seated between attractive Mary Drye and Jayda Garland could only see one man playing in the combo—Phroymn Taylor.

Dr. Giddings' charming wife was spraying him with a sample of Lucien Lelong (it finally came) in their pharmacy last Saturday. Got all set to see Gloria Vaughn in her white bathing suit and 6 ft. 3 in. Andre Vaughn in his shorts. Dr. and Mrs. Leslie Becker can still cut a mean rug.

Tune in some afternoon about 5 to a lively battle of wits between the sexes—starring happily married Josephus Dean, Mrs. Johnny Beaman, James Wallace, Mrs. Carra Dell Felder and Herman Hopson. Margery McPherson and her sisters, Misses Bertie Lee and Consuella Bright, will be feted many bon voyage parties by intimate friends in the near future.

John Simmons will receive his medical degree from Meharry Medical School next week. After graduation, John and his wife, Gwen, and their son, John, Jr., along with Mrs. Edith Jones will motor to New York to visit Edith and Ed Boyd.

What About "The Others"

Marie Bryant, well known tap dancer of the stage and screen, is at present teaching Joan Caulfield. Graciously receiving the guests last Sunday at the Turnabouts coffee hour and fashion show was school teacher Jean Watkins. So busy are Atty. Leo Branton and Dr. Theodore Blevins that they no longer have time to read Dick Tracy.

Stanley Robertson has done an excellent job in his series on dope addicts among the teen-agers. Wanda Williams and Leonelle Hutton have very few invitations left to the Merry-Go-Rounders "Cocktail Dansante" June 19. The line forms to the right as Danellian Maybra stamps the books in U.S.C.'s education library.

Charles Lloyd is still casing the kids. If you want beauty plus personality ring Donzella Coulter. Rudy Henderson is dating again. Dapper Julius Boyd is driving a smooth convertible. Sherrill Luke still hitting it hard with the books. U.S.C.'s Vernell Hunn received an invitation to join the Phi Beta Kappa fraternity.

Frances Drye staying in California longer than she had planned. We "The Others" now make our plea. Don't worry us folks. We are unattached—by choice—yes. Fancy but not quite free—from cares. We walk alone—hand in hand. Not married yet—but so sympathetic to the cause. And that's what keeps the world a going those who are sympathetic to the cause of marriage.

Mrs. Puffy Hall was hostess at a personal shower for her sister, Miss Mildred Houston, Saturday evening.

Health Program Picture Outlined At AKA Joint Meet

The combined chapters of Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority held their regular semi-annual joint meeting Sunday afternoon at the home of Soror Ursula Murrell on S. Arlington. Soror Beulah McKay was elected secretary.

The special event of the afternoon was the over-all picture of the Alpha Kappa Alpha health program given by Soror Campbell, executive secretary. Among the many contributions told by Soror Campbell was the $9000 donated by the Federal Government to help carry and sponsor the Mental Hygiene Clinic in Brooklyn.

Dr. Shelby Robinson gave a brief resume of the work done in the Los Angeles area. Soror Amanda Nelson rendered a musical selection, Soror Harriett Williams accompanied her.

Visiting sorors were Birdie Marshall from Galveston, Texas, and Jaynelle Adams, San Antonio, Texas.

Vice-Pres. Heads Membership Drive At Sojourner Home

The membership drive is now on at the Home. This year the drive is under the chairmanship of Mrs. Laura Forester, first vice-president. Assisting her as co-chairman is Mrs. Laura Armstrong. Two report meetings have been held and the captains are doing a very fine job.

The co-chairman reported at the recent educational meeting that the various workers were coming through with flying colors. Both the chairman and the co-chairman are hoping that all of the former members, even if they have not been contacted by a captain, will contact the Home and renew their membership.

The small fee charged per person for membership permits the member an active participation in the various meetings held at the Home. They are also permitted to vote. The Home in general is hoping to make this a banner year. Further information can be made by calling the Home and contacting the director, Evangeline Woodfolk.

Native Californians Hold Installation

At the last regular meeting of the Native Californians the newly elected officers for 1950-51 were installed. The meeting was held at the home of Mrs. Grace Hooks, whose lovely home was transformed into a garden by gorgeous azaleas displayed by Mrs. Grace Phillips, chairman of the Homes and Garden Committee, in honor of the occasion.

Mrs. Gertrude Hicks, prominent clubwoman and civic worker, conducted an impressive candle-light service, instructing all of the officers in their duties. The new officers are: Vera Franklin, president; Leonie Taylor, vice president; Maggie E. Shepard, secretary; Theresa Hardwick, assistant; Viola Jackson, treasurer, and Cecil Jones, chaplain.

Mrs. Naomi Dorsey, former Sunshine Chairman, expressed deep appreciation to the outgoing officers and presented each one with a gift from the club. All officers received corsages made by Grace Phillips. The retiring president, Anita Wright, was given a round of applause as she thanked the members for their cooperation during her term of office. All agreed that it was among the most progressive periods that the club has ever enjoyed.

Lovely Miss Faye Hopkins was given a lingerie shower Sunday by Mmes. Barbara Mounts, Juanita Miller and Cornelia Bradford at the Miller's home.

Quite a number of friends were down to the station to see Mrs. Clara Webb and Mrs. Ellois Davis off Saturday to Buffalo, New York, where they will attend the Jack and Jill Clubs convention.

Mr. Ishmael Evans, Drs. John Coleman and Roscoe C. Williams were honored at a birthday dinner Friday evening given by Mrs. Evelyn Coleman. Out of town guest was Mr. John Barry of Tipperary, Ireland. Mr. Barry took part in the relays held at the Coliseum.

Mmes. Minnie Gates and Esther Gross of Denver left the city Monday after an enjoyable stay here as the houseguests of Mrs. Vashti Davis of 851 East 41st street. Mrs. Mable Turk, also of Denver, spent two weekends with Mrs. Davis. She will return this week after a visit in San Diego.

Robert Y. Mitchell of Denver, Colorado arrived in the city to visit Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Bovan, 1416 E. 46th St. Mrs. Bovan is his niece. Mr. Mitchell has for many years been the receptionist on the officers floor of the Continental Oil Co. building in Denver. He has also been active as a member of the board of managers of Glenarm Branch Y.M.C.A. for the past ten years. He will leave for home on May 31 and states that he will be pleased to get in touch with many friends and acquaintances here before that time.

Mrs. Vashti Davis of E. 41st Street has been host for three Denver, Colorado visitors for the past several weeks. Mrs. Minnie Gates and Mrs. Ester Gross returned home last week and Mrs. Mable Turk will do so next week. The visitors report having a busy and enjoyable visit in Los Angeles.

Music Critic of the California Eagle

NEGRO ARTISTS AND THE "MET"

While Negro artists "have arrived" in grand opera, winning acclaim from the nation's music critics—they will not grace the stage of the lily-white Metropolitan Opera House in the foreseeable future.

Last week Rudolf Bing, newly appointed general manager of the Metropolitan Opera Association, in an intermission interview during the New York Philharmonic Orchestra concert said he would engage Negro artists if he could find the "right voice for the right part."

The resulting headlines in the Negro press set back, indefinitely, the date when a Negro will bow into the Met.

Interviewed in his office, looking down on the world-famed "Diamond Horseshoe," the Austrian-born impresario was cautious.

"I will not exclude anyone because he is colored. Nor will I engage anyone because he is colored. It is not my job to further the Negroes' cause, however sympathetic I may be. It is my job to run the Met."

"I intend to do this on the basis of quality only," he said. "I am looking for the best, regardless of race or creed," adding that "I have not been here long enough to judge individual colored singers, now appearing on concert or opera stages."

The whole discussion threw Laszlo Halasz, dynamic director of the New York City Opera Company, into a tizzy. As far back as 1945 he introduced Negro singers into his company with astounding artistic and financial success. He told the UP and other news agencies, his artists were good enough to sing in any opera house in the world, and named Camilla Williams, soprano, the most brilliant "butterfly" now appearing on the opera stage. He said the nation's critics support that appraisal of her talent.

During the spring season which closed Sunday evening with a performance of "The Marriage of Figaro" by Mozart, Mr. Halesz also presented baritone Lawrence Winters in such leading roles as Amonasro in "Aida," Escamillo, the toreador in "Carmen," Tonio, in "Pagliacci" and others. Miss Williams also appeared as Nedda in "Pagliacci," Aida in "Aida," Mimi in "La Boheme," and other leading roles.

In 1946, he said Tod Duncan sang with great success such roles as Escamillo in "Carmen," Tonio in "Pagliacci," and he can sing Alfio in "Cavalleria Rusticana."

Mr. Halesz said he had three Negroes in his chorus, two in the ballet, and the tympanist in the orchestra. He pointed out that 120,000 opera lovers have heard Camilla Williams sing Cio Cio San in "Butterfly." He emphasized that all singers in his company were engaged as a result of auditions.

EIGHTH NOTES

The Brahms "Requiem" will be performed Sunday afternoon, May 28, at 5:30 p.m. with the Cathedral Choir of the People's Independent Church of Christ orchestra, and soloists Georgia Ann Laster and Cecil Doty.

DURHAM, N.C. — North Carolina College's observance of National Music Week closed recently with a recital by the 65 voice college choir under the direction of Samuel W. Hill.

PRIZE WINNER—Receiving a $350 check as one of the ten top prizes of the Annual Award Script Competition of the Dr. Christian Radio Show is Professor M. C. Holman of Clark College. Professor Clark's script entitled, "The Other One," was selected from 8000 entries. eJan Hersholt who plays Dr. Christian is making the award.

Southeast Interracial Youth Chorus Presents First Concert

Jester Hairston's Southeast Community Church, 66 th and San Pedro Streets.

The 30 singers, of high school and college age, will present a variety of music ranging from Bach to spirituals, with several of Hairston's world-famous arrangements being included on the program. Among these are "Angels, Roll That Stone Away," and "You Better Mind."

McNeil Leads Brahms Work Performance

The Johannes Brahms Requiem will be performed next Sunday evening at half past five in the main auditorium of the Peoples Independent Church of Christ with Albert McNeil conducting choir and orchestra with soloists Georgia Ann Lester, soprano and Cecil Doty, baritone. Dr. Richard Key Biggs, world famous organist will play a fifteen minute recital.

This performance marks the first time that a Negro choral group has attempted this difficult work on the Pacific Coast and one of three Negro choirs in America. At this writing, the entire house has been completely sold out. It is expected that Mr. McNeil, on his return from Europe, will give a repeat performance of this monumental masterpiece of music.

Combined Adult Choruses To Sing Haydn's "The Creation"

Tickets for Haydn's oratorio, "The Creation," to be sung by the Bureau of Music's combined adult choruses at Hollywood High School on Tuesday, June 6, at 8:15 p.m., are now available without charge, J. Arthur Lewis, city music coordinator, announced this week. They may be obtained by writing or phoning the Bureau of Music, Room 1306 City Hall, Los Angeles 12.

"The Creation," based on parts of Milton's epic poem, "Paradise Lost," will be conducted by Allen C. Lannom, adult chorus supervisor, with a 36-piece orchestra accompanying. Heilmann Weinstine, assistant concertmaster of the Los Angeles Philharmonic and Hollywood Bowl orchestras, will be concertmaster for "The Creation." The ensemble will include many local instrumentalists. Vocal soloists, to be chosen from the Bureau of Music staff, will be announced next week.

Modern Art in Museum Exhibit

Important examples of modern art will be on view in a double exhibition which opened at the Los Angeles County Museum in Exposition Park last Sunday.

One section of the exhibit will present 24 paintings by the late Vasily Kandinsky, a leader among German painters of the Expressionist school and founder of the "Blaue Reiter," a group of painters who exercised great influence among the modernists well before the first World War.

Many of the major trends in art today are illustrated in the specially selected exhibition. The show will be on view through June 15.

Admission is free.

Associated Artists Formally Dedicate New Gallery Sunday

Los Angeles hosts not only a fast growing art movement, but already is recognized as one of the world's largest art centers. This provides an unparalleled opportunity for the successful art project based upon the work of Negro artists and craftsmen.

The opening of a downtown art gallery at 1046 South Hill Street is the culmination of many years of planning and hard work. The artists include Beulah Woodard, Clarence McClendon, Artie Parks, Mamood Ali Warren, Alice Taylor-Gafford, William Farjand, Marie Daggett Jones, William Smith, Nonie Moore, Curtis Tann, and William Cobb. Although this gallery is to be operated by Negroes, it will be open to all, regardless of race, color or creed.

ROAD TO FAME

By providing a permanent gallery, the Eleven Associated Artists hope to stimulate public interest in the work of many worthwhile local artists. All work hung or displayed in the gallery proper will have to be passed on by an impartial jury, so patrons may be assured of being shown only work of high quality from an artistic standpoint. A few years from now it is hoped that several "big name" artists will point with pride to the start they made on the road to fame through this gallery.

A gift shop will be maintained on the balcony of the gallery to display ceramics and small wares which it is believed will add materially to the income of the gallery and provide an added attraction. Future plans involve the establishment of a workshop for artists needing specialized equipment and adequate working space, and classes for worthy art students in drawing, painting and sculpture.

An advisory board, composed of community leaders, is assisting in getting the project launched. Its members are Father H. Randolph Moore, chairman; Dr. Vada Somerville, Mesdames W. H. Terry and Ivan J. Johnson III; Misses Miriam Matthews, Laura Clayton and Hil-dreth Swarthe, Dr. Glen Lukens, Messrs. Millard Sheets, Floyd Covington and Harold Freedman, and Atty. Ivan J. Johnson II, legal adviser.

The gallery will be open to the public Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays from 12 noon to 9 p.m.; Wednesdays, Fridays and Sundays from 12 noon to 6 p.m. The formal opening will be held on May 28.

Carmen deLavallade Praised for Roles In Choreo 1950

People who used to think that modern dance is highbrow are taking a second look these days at Lester Horton's Dance Theater, where lovely Carmen de Lavallade is proving an earthy "Salome" these Friday and Saturday evenings.

In that "modern ballet," based on the Biblical legend, a sensual tale of human passions is told in graphic terms of dance movement. The story of Salome's unholy lust for John the Baptist is easily recognizable in the Horton dance.

Miss de Lavallade is winning both critical and public acclaim for her work in three widely different types of roles in "Choreo-1950." She prefaces her dancing "Salome" each performance with the dramatic role of a Mexican mother in "El Rebozo" and a provocative Latin miss in "Danzon Cubano."

MAUREEN O'HARA plays a lush Technicolor western assignment in Universal-International's film "Comanche Territory," which also co-stars Macdonald Carey in the colorful role of Jim Bowie, early American adventurer and designer of the world famous Bowie knife.

AN OPEN LETTER TO STANLEY KRAMER:

This week the old lid is doffed to Stanley Kramer who did the almost impossible in his production of "The Men," which premiered at the Carthay Circle recently, starring Marlon Brando, Teresa Wright, Everett Sloane, and a host of others composed primarily of paraplegics from the Birmingham Veterans Administration Hospital ... we said previously that Kramer did almost the impossible in that he presented actual facts about World War II veterans who received spinal injuries while on the field of combat to defend what we call "Democracy." Kramer who has dared to do the impossible with his various productions, namely, "Home of the Brave" and "Champion" comes back again with another unusual treatment of a difficult theme "a story about paraplegics."

In this particular instance it is my opinion that the director Fred Zinnemann and Kramer should both be mentioned in the same breath, for the direction of this picture was wonderful. ... No, don't feel that I always sweeten the mouth with sugar before giving a dosage of bitter medicine but surely a very important point of production of "The Men" was overlooked in that while presenting these men who are permanently paralyzed from the waist down we particularly noticed that every race was included but that of the Negro. Let us not forget, Mr. Kramer, that in paying the price of war on the field of battle a bullet has no regard for race, creed or color and because of such, many Negroes too are included in the large number of paraplegics who are striving daily to readjust their lives to their new trend of living ... we are almost sure you wouldn't intentionally overlook such a matter, after your wonderful production of "Home of the Brave" because if such would be the case, then you contradict your own theory ... and your efforts to do the impossible will be IMPOSSIBLE.

NOTES, NEWS AND NONSENSE:

Just in case you're lookin' for many of your friends bet you can find a lot of them in line for tickets of "South Pacific." Takes almost eight hours to even get tickets ... (see what good publicity can do) ... Booking agents Al Dale and Maynard Sloate kiddin' us about that new extra name we added to the group ... and actually we doubt if we spelled the fellas names right this time ... but bet we're closer to it anyway. ... Back to South Pacific, sure wish the original cast in New York were here so we could see the wonderful performance of Juanita Hall. ... We can hardly wait for the California opening of "Lost in the Stars" ... we'll see the original Broadway cast for an eight-week series. ... Evening of Films To Be Presented Four documentary films by Irving Lerner, of the Cinema Department, U. S. C., will be featured at the second Evening of Films of the Photo Workshop of Los Angeles.

The dates are Saturday, May 27, at 8:15, and Sunday, May 28, at 7:15. Coffee will be served.

The program includes "Muscle Beach," a humorous satire of L.A.'s muscle cult, with ballads by Earl Robinson; "A Place to Live," sensitive film about one city's housing problem; "To Hear Your Banjo Play," a cavalcade of American Folk Songs by Pete Segar and Woody Guthrie; and "Hymn of the Nations," a masterful filming concert conducted by Arturo Toscanini.

Kenton Presents Concert June 3 Hollywood Bowl

HOLLYWOOD — Stan Kenton, who is generally accepted to be one of music's most powerful forces, will bring to a climatic close his whirlwind nation-wide concert tour when he presents his "Innovations in Modern Music for 1950," in the Hollywood Bowl on Saturday night, June 3.

One of the most controversial figures in the music world, Kenton just last year abandoned his dance band and entered the concert field with a 40-piece orchestra featuring 16 strings.

June Christy, rated the nation's top band vocalist for four years in a row, before embarking on a career of her own, will be spotlighted at the Bowl concert along with a galaxy of the world's most famous instrumentalists. Tickets for the show, which will be the only Los Angeles appearance this year, are now on sale at Southern California Music Company and all Mutual Agencies.

Disk Jock Connects on First Show

Apparently Disk Jock Jack Low (Sweet and Low, KGFJ 11-11:15 p.m.) has the formula for success. His first show, Monday, May 8, brought him an additional sponsor within twenty-four hours.

Jack started "Sweet and Low" on KFVD some years ago. From Hollywood, Jack took the show to Honolulu where it received a phenomenal success. Altering the format slightly, so that it appeals directly to the Negro people, it looks like Jack will repeat his success story all over again.

The show includes the discs of well-known Negro artists, news about nationally known Negro personalities as well as items for our own Negro community and interviews with personalities who have proven their interest in the advancement of the Negro people.

Dinah Washington Joins in Tribute To Waller

PHILADELPHIA — Singing star Dinah Washington has indicated a desire to add her bit to the nationwide tribute to the late Fats Waller by planning an album of recordings of tunes either composed or featured by the beloved "Harmful Little Armful."

Miss Washington took time out between shows at the 421 Club here, where she is appearing, to make her plans known to a newsman, who reminded her that the week of May 16-23 had been set aside for the annual memorial to Waller.

Leaders Organize Committee For Esther Murray Election

Important leaders in the Santa Monica and Venice area last week announced formation of a Citizen's Committee to support the candidacy of Esther Murray, only Democratic candidate for Congress in the 16th District.

Mrs. Murray served on the minority committee of three at the Democratic National Convention in 1948 when the strong civil rights program was forced to a vote on the convention floor.

Rev. Wilford P. Carter, pastor of Calvary Baptist Church at Santa Monica, is one of the leaders who is heading the Esther Murray campaign in that area.

Others are Mrs. S. C. White, president of the Utopia Study Club; Mrs. Loretta Edwards, president of the Philomathen Club; Mrs. Mae I. Cook, Worthy Matron of the Eastern Star; Mrs. Beatrice M. Lynch, parliamentarian of the Utopia Study Club; Harold J. Mitchell, Worthy Master of the Crescent Bay Masonic Lodge; Rev. E. V. Banks, pastor of Phillips Chapel Methodist Church.

Dr. Mahlon C. Cooley, Roscoe W. Jackson, member of the Democratic County Central Committee; Mrs. Garfield Miller, Goodrich McNeal, service station operator; Rev. Herbert A. Ward, assistant pastor of the First African Methodist Episcopal Church; Mrs. Marion S. Barnes, D. B. Sheffield, keeper of Records and Seals, Knights of Pythias; Roscoe H. Broyles, past Grand Master of Crescent Bay Masonic Lodge, and Arthur Reese, prominent interior decorator. (Pol. Adv.).

LOS ANGELES CITY-OWNED DEPARTMENT WATER AND POWER

From Pure Mountain Streams...

A Year's Supply of Drinking Water for 3¢

Sounds unbelievable, doesn't it? And yet, as a customer of your Los Angeles City-Owned Department of Water and Power, that's exactly what you get for your money!

You enjoy the benefits of low-cost water today only because your Department of Water and Power long ago foresaw its vital role in the growth of this community and took steps to assure adequate supplies. The Los Angeles Aqueduct, a daring engineering project completed in 1913, now provides about three-fourths of your Los Angeles water. This man-made marvel taps the snow-fed creeks of the High Sierras...gathers the water into lakes and reservoirs...then carries the water over foothills, through mountain tunnels and across scorching desert directly into your home. And despite the fact that your water comes from as far as 338 miles, it is delivered to your door for less than 5¢ a ton!

So, when you turn on your faucet, remember that water is not only one of your most vital necessities, but here in Los Angeles it is one of your biggest bargains.

*Based on average consumption of eight glasses per day.

Negroes Dominate Relays.

18—The California Eagle, Thursday, May 25, 1950

SPORTS

LAYIN' IT ON THE LINE

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

THOSE RELAYS—Many a fan got many a thrill out at the L. A. Coliseum last Friday night when the 10th Annual Coliseum Relays were staged before 40,139 customers. Although Negro track stars practically dominated the meet and came through with plenty brilliant performances this writer was quite a bit peeved to note that not one daily paper the following day thought it fitting to chronicle in pictures these exploits. Therefore, we can see the glaring need for Negro publications. Perhaps we do not have any pictures either but only because our rigid budget at present does not provide for them. However, the dailies, with their ample resources could have run pictures, for example of . . . Andy Stanfield of Seton Hall, N. J., who became the first athlete in the 10-year history of the Coliseum Relays to win three first places . . . or Jean Patton, the national AAU sprint champion of Tennessee State, who beat the highly-touted Marjorie Jackson of Australia in the 100-yard dash . . . or Mal Whitfield of Ohio State, who won the 440-yard dash . . . or Jeff's sparkling eight-man mile relay team, who set a new national interscholastic record . . . or the hustling Morgan State mile relay team which pushed Oxy to a new meet record . . . or the Tuskegee Women's relay team, which ran second in the 440-yard relay behind the Glendale Lions, but certainly gave a brilliant account of themselves. This was one race, incidentally, we hoped to see Tuskegee win, but when we saw Jean Patton take her place on the Glendale team, we knew it was all over but the shouting. If Jean knew how prejudiced they are in Glendale we doubt if she would have lent a helping hand, or should we say . . . foot. We know they are biased because once in a golf tournament there . . . oh, well, that's another story, and not a very pleasant one. Even the stories in the dailies gave little credit to the Negro stars. In the high school events Jeff couldn't be overlooked, simply because they ran up 110 points to their nearest opponent's 29, and either won or placed in every event scheduled. When the dailies start realizing that a big part of their circulation rests in the hands of Negro subscribers, maybe they'll wake up. Anyway, we are telling you Negro fans who weren't out that night at the Coliseum, Negro track stars more than held their own in all the events they entered, and even those placing second, such as Morgan State and Tuskegee, were great in defeat, and received plenty plaudits from the fans of all races, because even though the dailies do not see fit to give credit where credit is due, the white track fan himself is a true sport, and we heard plenty praise for the efforts turned in by Negro athletes that night.

Tommy stood back respectfully after having slapped Art down to the canvas. To us it looked like Campbell was standing by for a retake in a television show, after he failed to follow the script. He looked terribly surprised and slightly terrified to see Aragon on the canvas, and for a moment I thought he was going to help Art up, dust him off and apologize. Maybe I'm wrong, but honestly that's the way it looked. It must have appeared that way to plenty others too, because the fans booed to the rafters, and the commission held up both boys' purses until an investigation had been conducted. At a one-man inquisition Commissioner Norman O. Houston said after reviewing facts, that he did not find any evidence of collusion. However, later, Campbell was ordered to hang up his mittens for good . . . anyway, in this state. . . Hollywood Legion Stadium, having been relieved of the services of Matchmaker Baron Von Stumme, now wants to lease the stadium for $50,000 a year. Promoter Cal Eaton of the Olympic is considering taking it over and operating both arenas. He says that Matchmaker Babe McCoy will arrange bouts at both clubs, if he does.

Los Angeles City Playgrounds are becoming more parklike and parks are becoming more playgroundlike under the development program made possible by the consolidation of two former city departments into the present City Recreation and Park Department.

THIS AND THAT—The Athletic Commission of California has kindly requested Tommy Campbell to hang up his gloves after his mess-up during the Art Aragon scrap. The commission says that Campbell is suffering from eye trouble. We saw the fight between Campbell and Aragon and neither could we understand why

Globetrotters Nine Will Play Cuban Giants

COLUMBUS, Ohio (Special)—At the pace they are going, the Harlem Globetrotters promise to at least equal their last year's record of 100 victories against 19 defeats for the entire baseball season.

Here to play the Brooklyn Cuban Giants in a doubleheader Sunday afternoon, May 28, at Red Bird Stadium, the snappy Trotters of the diamond are again showing all signs of greatness.

Johnny Williams, Frank Carswell, Lyman Ramsey, Joe Bankhead, Mike Berry and the other pitchers are turning in one well-hurled effort after another. Zell Miles, Herb Simpson, Parnell Woods, Sam Wheeler and Jesse Williams are hitting hard and timely.

Manager Paul Hardy has the team on its toes and hustling hard and several games have been pulled from the fire by speed and daring maneuvers.

The Globetrotters are scheduled at Dayton, O., May 29 and then go into Victory Field, Indianapolis, for a big show the night of May 30. They will play a night doubleheader with the Homestead Grays on a program further augmented by a fireworks show and other entertainment. May 31 finds them at Muncie, Indiana.

Joe Louis Is Reported Set To Fight Again

LONDON—The Evening Standard last Saturday quoted Joe Louis in a telephone interview from Rio de Janeiro as saying he will fight the winner of the bout between Lee Savold and Bruce Woodcock.

"I am preparing to challenge the winner of the Savold-Woodcock fight in London," the newspaper quoted Louis, "so that there shall once again be an undisputed champion of the world. I think the winner will be Bruce Woodcock."

"My final decision will be made when I return to New York. I am in training and feeling fine."

Patton, Stanfield, Whitfield Winners

By EDDIE BURBRIDGE

Over 40,000 bug-eyed fans receipted for thrill after thrill as records fell by the wayside one by one at the 10th Annual Coliseum Relays last Friday night at the Los Angeles Coliseum.

Negro stars practically dominated the track show and the smashing performances of Andy Stanfield of Seton Hall, N. J., who became the first athlete ever to cop three first places in the Coliseum Relays in its 10-year history, was enough to warm the cockles of the heart.

Morgan State's orack relay team, while not winning the mile relay, nevertheless put forth enough blazing speed to push the winning Occidental team to a new meet mark of 3m. 10.1s. SC held the former mark of 3m. 11.7s set in 1941.

The muchly-touted Marjorie Jackson, Australian ace, was soundly beaten by Jean Patton, national AAU champion from Tennessee State, in the 100-yard dash. Miss Patton's time was 11.2s.

The Jefferson High Democrats, as fully expected, won the All-City prep title easily, running up a score of 110 points to 29 for second place Jordan High. Manual Arts was third with 26 markers and Huntington aPrk fourth with 23.

Sets New Mark

As a dessert for their smashing triumph, Jeff set a new national interscholastic record in the eight-man mile relay. The time was 2m. 57.5s., breaking the old mark of 2m. 58.2s. The Jeff team was composed of Floyd Dennis, Leon Alexander, Arthur Elster, Malcolm Vest, Leo Hamilton, Jack Casonhua, Guy Blackburn and Gary Green.

MEET HIGHLIGHT

The event that caught the eye of the crowd and was hailed as the top thrill of the entire meet was the open mile relay which Oxy took over Morgan State, of Baltimore.

From the start it was a two-team battle between the Tigers and the favored Morgan State team from the Atlantic Seaboard. Morgan State had run 3m. 12.5s. only two weeks ago and was doped to cop Friday night's finale without too much trouble inasmuch as George Rhoden, fleet anchor man, had captured the National AAU crown last season. Walt McKibben sent Oxy away with a one-yard lead over the visitors after the first 440.

Ted Ruprecht faded a bit at the start of the second lap, but came again at the finish and was only two yards behind as he passed the baton to Johnny Barnes.

It was nip and tuck all the way for this third leg, but Barnes finally got there two yards before Bill Brown of Morgan State.

This was the margin, then, that Oxy's Parker had when he and Rhoden began their grueling finale.

Down the backstretch Rhoden made his bid . . . But Parker refused to slacken his pace. Coming off the final turn Rhoden put on a spurt with everything he had. But Parker still refused to fade. One hundred yards from home it was all over . . . Rhoden his left leg taped, was struggling while Parker retained his stride right through to the tape and won by four feet.

Only one team ever won a faster mile relay . . . California in 1941 . . . And that is the world's record at 3m. 9.4s.

STANFIELD SHINES

Stanfield became the only athlete in history to win three events during the 10-year history of the Coliseum relays.

He first took the broad jump at 24ft. 3in., nosing out Gay Bryan of Stanford by three-quarters of an inch.

A few minutes later Andy came over to the 100-yard dash mark and zipped to victory over one of the fastest fields ever assembled for this meet.

He trimmed Lloyd LaBeach, Charley Parker of Texas and Donnie Anderson of California, who finished in that order. The time of 9.5s. tied both the meet and Coliseum records, the former held by Mel Patton of SC fame and the latter jointly by the late Charley Paddock, Frank Wykoff and Patton.

Stanfield's third gold medal came in the low hurdles, where he trimmed the favorite, Attle-

Jeff Coasts in for 12th All-City Title

Last Friday night fans attending the 10th Annual Coliseum Relays saw the mighty Jefferson High Democrats, coached by Estel Johnson, register its 12th All-City title win in the 16-year-old history of the city track finals.

Jeff fans are specially happy over the fact that the set a new national interscholastic record in the eight-man mile relay.

A team composed of Floyd Dennis, Leon Alexander, Arthur Elster, Malcolm Vest, Leo Hamilton, Jack Casonhua, Guy Blackburn and Gary Green went the four laps in 2m. 58.2s.

A trio of Democrats, Sprinter Guy Blackburn, Quarter-miler Gary Green and Half-miler Lang Stanley, shared top honors. Blackburn was a double winner in the sprints in the zippy times of 9.7s. and 21.7s. His century mark tied a longstanding mark established by Belmont's Bill Smith and Jefferson's Bryant Allen.

The little Democrat had to hustle to nip Teammate Griffin and Huntington Park's Joe Graffio. But he finished a foot to the good with Griffin about the same margin ahead of the Spartan speedster. Blackburn had things much easier in the furlong, hitting the ribbon two yards ahead of Manual Arts' Prince Laing.

Green wasn't far behind in the star category. He nabbed the place spot in by far his best effort of the season in the 440, cracking the old meet mark of 48.9s. by three-tenths of a second. The old standard was held by Jordan's Fred Thompson.

Stanley, although failing in his quest for the national prep 880 record of 1m. 54.4s., turned in another top effort, running under 1m. 57s. for the second straight time. His time last Friday night, 1m. 56.1s., was slightly behind his 1m. 54.6s. performance of week before last, which set a new city standard.

Jeff Broad Jumper Willie Johnson came through with another top mark, flying 23ft. 3 3/4 in. to edge teammate, Art Scott, who came in second at 23ft. 15.8 in.

CALIENTE, Old Mexico—Silver

Fire, the ten-year-old son of Silver Horde-Silver Wave, captured the feature attraction, called the "Reno" at one mile, in an upset victory. Given a perfect ride by Apprentice Harold Adams, Silver Fire lurked in third position off the blazing pace set by Dina Bam. At the quarter pole he made his move to collar the fleet Bonner Filly and it was a riding duel thru the stretch with Adams outriding B. Petty on Dina Bam. Val Zun, who finished third, might have won the race but was in close quarters in the stretch. The time for the mile was 1:38 and 2-5. In the mutuels the winner paid $20.

The Secondary was won by the fast sprinter Mr. Bam, he was the hottest favorite in many months to score, paying in the mutuels $2.80. He ran the six furlongs in 1:11 4-5.

The daily-double combination of Wee Harney, victor of the second race, and Andina, winner of the third, paid $61.40. The Quiniela backers received one of the shortest payoffs in many weeks, when the first and second choices finished in that order. Swan Step was the winner and Command, second. Three noses were on the wire. Siroda, a 40-1 shot was third.

In the first race for two-year olds, Sea Kid, the winner, was disqualified for carrying Trail Me wide, turning into the stretch. The former was the odds on choice.

Riding like a champion, Apprentice B. Petty scored on four winners to capture the riding honors of the day.

Four favorites were able to find the charmed circle although last Sunday 10 choices scored.

This Sunday General Manager Walter C. Marty has arranged two features to support the twelve-race program. Main event will be "The Poppy" at six furlongs. Secondary, "The S. Cal. Passenger Association" at one mile and one-sixteenth. Again the $5,000 cash prize program award contest.

WITH THE GREYHOUNDS AT CALIENTE — Faultless Rude is still the champion at the border course. He scored his second straight win in two starts. Always winning at ease altho K. C. Stoss gave him a battle for a short distance, Cornell W. won the feature event last Sunday night with the favored Homart, second. The winner paid $10.80, and the Quiniela, $38.60. The largest Quiniela of the evening was $196.20. Ruby K. was the winner in this and Pleasant Pal finished second.

Willie Bean to Battle Buford

Willie Bean, who once went the distance against Joe Louis in an exhibition battle, and Frank Buford, a willing leather pusher out of Oakland, grab the fistic spotlight this week in a 10-round main event Friday night at Hollywood.

In a companion 10 Bert Mendoza will oppose muscular Johnny Duke at 160 pounds.

This will be the first Legion show in three years without television.

Matchmaker Babe McCoy had no show lined up for this week it will be dark next Tuesday because State law forbids boxing and wrestling shows on Memorial Day.

These two off weeks will give promoters of the annual "Fight for Lives" charity boxing show a chance to steam up their match between Art Aragon and Carlos Chavez slated for June 6 at the Olympic.

Swimming Pool Now Open Daily

The big, new South Park Playground plunge, 345 East 51st St., is now open for daily public recreational swimming. It was reported by the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Department.

Hours for swimming at South Park Playground Pool are from 3 to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Saturdays; and from 1 to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

Rates for swims in the new municipal plunge are 14 cents for youngsters under 12 years of age; 25 cents for those 12 to 18 years, inclusive; and 30 cents for swimmers 18 years and over. South Park Playground Pool is also one of twelve municipal plunges put into use for school swim classes, under arrangements made with the Recreation and Park Department by the Board of Education.

The pool will continue to be available for public recreational swimming in accordance with the above schedule, according to the Recreation and Park Department.

Coliseum Relays

sey, by a couple of feet after a thrilling race.

Attlessey was leading going into the next to the last barrier but broke his stride here and Stanfield kept coming on to win. His time was 23.1s.

TUSKEGEE LOSES

The Tuskegee Women's 440-yard relay team was defeated by the Glendale Lions Club, but this writer thinks only because Jean Patton ran with her blinding speed for Glendale. How she came to get on that team is a prevailing mystery. Tuskegee was second.

Mal Whitfield of Ohio State, running unattached, accounted for the 440-yard dash, winning it in 47s. flat, with Bill Parker of Oxy, running second.

OPEN SUMMARY

440-YARD RELAY—Won by Stanford (Ronnie Buck, Bob Bryan, Wilbur Taylor, Gay Bryan); second, Texas; third, SC; fourth, Rice; no fifth. Oklahoma A&M finished fifth but disqualified, passing baton out of lane. Time, 40.9s.

JEFFERSON HIGH SPORTS

The display of sheer power by the Jefferson High Track Demos last Friday night must have had the college coaches who attended drooling. Given a chance, the college boys who ran in the Coliseum relays might find the competition from Jefferson very hot. The performance by the Democrats was impressive.

Guy Blackburn tied Bryant Allen's 9.7, Lang Stanley teamed under 1:57 for the third consecutive time, Gary Green sped by Fred Thompson's record in a terrific 48.6, Leo Hamilton almost caught Oliver Gordon's record when he stopped the clock at 19.6, and the relay team (Alexander, Dennis, Vest, Hamilton, Casonhua, Elster, Blackburn and Green, just made the judges look twice at their watches with an incredible 2:57.5!!

On Friday night on his regular sports show, Bob Kelly made the statement that he thought the Jeffersons were "the greatest high school track team in the world".... brother, he's soooooo-right!

Look Magazine will publish some time in July the final results of their nationwide tabulation of their poll of the finest in high school trackdom. Jeff will be up there with the rest.... one of the "rest" will undoubtedly be Steve Turner, from Glendale. That lad can wreck Jeff in the state finals at Sacramento single-handed.... he's that good. Look out, you Demos!!

Straight from the feed-box... Lang Stanley, Guy Blackburn and Gary Green have received invitations to run in the open competition at the Ocmpton Relays next week. That really is an honor because very few high school boys get to go there. Last time it happened was in 1936 when Bryant Allen and Eddie Morris were asked.

Playgrounds Get Ready for Summer Fun

Spring activities for every member of the family are on all Los Angeles municipal recreation centers' calendar of events, according to the City Recreation and Park Department.

On Saturday, June 17, all Los Angeles municipal pools will open for the summer, and the Recreation and Park Department's annual Learn-to-Swim drive will "waterproof" thousands of youngsters so that they may enjoy aquatic fun in safety.

Big Fun Days are scheduled at all Los Angeles municipal playgrounds on Saturday, June 17, to mark the beginning of the summer vacation and the launching of the play centers' expanded vacation-time programs of fun-packed activities.

Hundreds of Los Angeles sportsmen are traveling to Crowley Lake, the city-operated big-fish reservoir in the High Sierras for a try at its huge Loch Leven, Rainbow, Cutthroat, and Black Spotted Tahoe trout.

The shores of Reseda, Lincoln and Echo Park lakes are ringed each Saturday these days with thousands of junior-grade anglers. The City Recreation and Park Department has opened the three lakes for Saturday fishing from 9 a.m. to 12 noon by boys and girls 8 to 15 years of age and under only.

Advance reservations are now being accepted in Room 225, Los Angeles City Hall for outings at Camp High Sierra, the city-owned family vacation center in the beautiful Mammoth Lakes region. Camp High Sierra will be open this year from June 19 thru September 10.

Alexander and Kenny Chairmen For Bridges Defense Rally, Fri.

Co-chairman of the giant Bridges-Robertson-Schmidt Defense Rally to be held in the Olympic Auditorium Friday evening, May 26, will be Horace Alexander, it was announced this week by sponsors of the rally.

Alexander is national vice-chairman of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People's youth section and is Southern California chairman of the Young Progressives of America.

He will share chairmanship of the rally with Robert W. Kenny, former state attorney-general, who testified in behalf of Bridges during the recent San Francisco trial.

The rally, first in a national series planned to take the story of the Bridges frame-up into every corner of the country, will hear direct reports on the San Francisco trial which led to the conviction of Harry Bridges and two of his union associates on charges they had perjured themselves. Three previous similar government attempts to frame Bridges had failed.

Speakers at the rally will include Harry Bridges, ILWU president; J. R. Robertson, ILWU vice-president; Henry Schmidt, ILWU international representative; Vincent Hallinan and James Martin MacInnis, defense counsel; and Dalton Trumbo, film writer now facing prison as one of the "Hollywood Ten."

Sponsors of the rally are International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union and the Bridges-Robertson-Schmidt Defense Committee.

Tickets for the rally are 60 cents, tax included, for general admission, and $1.20, tax included, for seats in the first 10 rows of the giant fight arena.

NAACP Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the NAACP held Sunday, May 21, at the St. Paul Baptist church under the auspices of the Labor Committee was presided over by John Dial, co-chairman. H. B. McAfee, State of California, Department of Employment, addressed the group on "Unemployment and Minority Problems." Also included in the program were remarks by Dr. Robinson, president of the Branch, and James Anderson of the Labor Committee. Approximately 200 members and friends of the NAACP were present.

A new and promising outlet for this country's apple crop is frozen concentrated apple juice, a product likely to be in many grocery stores after apples are ripe this year.

Name Campaign Manager in Drive

The executive committee of the Los Angeles Branch, NAACP appointed Clarence Anderson, last week to manage the current membership drive in the absence of a field secretary from the National NAACP Office.

Recipient of a Certificate of Merit awarded by the NAACP last Sunday, Anderson was highly recommended to the local branch officials by the field secretary. The new campaign manager has himself solicited 18 memberships and $158.50 while assisting in the organization of the drive.

A graduate of Morehouse College, Mr. Anderson pursued law studies for two years at the University of Cincinnati. He is a member of the Eastside Labor Committee which has as its primary objective the fight against racial discrimination within and without the labor movement.

Mrs. Cora Johnson's Candidacy Brings Attention to Watts Area

Mrs. Cora Johnson, 1356 E. 110th St., candidate of the 67th Assembly Non-Partisan Committee, for the office of Assemblywoman to represent the 67th District, has been a resident of this district for over 29 years.

Since coming to Los Angeles from Pensacola, Florida (her birthplace), she has been most active in civic improvements in the Watts area. She, along with other citizens, has had to stand for better streets, street lighting and sewerage at a time when this end of the 67th was a forgotten land.

The "Cora Johnson" campaign is largely responsible for the visits of many candidates for major offices, and for the new recognition of the people of Watts. It is obvious that if the most oppressed and discriminated section of the district receives the things it needs: Child Care Centers, Emergency Hospitals, Low Rent Public Housing, Street Improvements, Improved Schools, Jobs, Fair Employment Practices, End to Police Brutality and Adequate Old Age Pensions — the other parts parts of the 67th District will also benefit.

A vote on June 6 for CORA JOHNSON is a vote for a candidate whose RECORD and FIGHTING PROGRAM warrants the support of the entire 67th Assembly District.

Issued by: 67th Assembly Non-Partisan Committee, 102nd Street and Wilmington Ave. L.O. 5-2129.

NOTICES

Mrs. Cora Johnson, candidate for 67th Assembly District, will speak at the following: A joint rally with Robert W. Kenny at the "Cora Johnson Headquarters," St. James A. M. E. Church, 102nd St. and Wilmington Ave., Thursday night, May 25, at 8 o'clock.

A Testimonial Dinner for "Cora Johnson" at Tabernacle of Faith Baptist Church, 114th St. and S. Central Ave., Rev. F. D. Ferrell, pastor, Friday night, May 26, at 8 o'clock.

A tea sponsored by the "Democratic Club for Cora Johnson" at St. James A. M. E. Church, Rev. D. C. Stephenson, pastor, Sunday evening, May 28, from 3 to 7.

Save 228th St. Y!! Marshall Conviction CRC Leader Condm'd.

Temporary arrangements, trying to hold intact as much as possible of the program and services of 28th Street Branch YMCA through the month of May, will end June 1. This final step has been put off since March 1, in the hope that the community would provide sufficient support funds to make it unnecessary to close any major "Y" service. The support fund has grown from $3,188.11 on March 1 to $7,384.75 cash on April 22. This comes close to the half-way mark on the minimum need for $15,000 cash to run the services through the end of next February.

During the remaining days of May every effort will be made to collect unpaid pledges, get in reports from benefits that have been held, and realize on all promised support. Members and friends of the youth of the community will continue their efforts until the final date in the hope of salvaging if not saving the "Y."

Riis High Reunion

All graduates and former students of Jacob Riis High School are invited to attend the 23rd Annual Reunion on May 31, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held in the school auditorium 139 West 69th Street.

Jack Young, W'37, will preside over the social hour and short meeting. Refreshments will be served by the Riis Knights organization.

At the height of the controversy about the re-nazification of Germany, the Labor School Theatre is bringing to the West Coast for the first time Bertolt Brecht's dramatic statement on this important issue, "The Private Life of the Master Race." Opening May 25 in San Francisco at 240 Golden Gate Avenue, the play will run through June 17, each Thursday, Friday and Saturday at 8:30 p.m.

Leaders Here For Big Event

Arriving this week from Oakland, two of the Bay Cities' most prominent civic leaders, set preparations in motion for the most unique and valuable moves for progress in interracial relationship ever launched in the west. They are Walter Dix, promoter and manager, and Rev. L. H. Humphrey, executive secretary of the National Economic Foundation, with headquarters at Oakland. Mr. Dix is also a leading printer and publisher.

They are the vanguard of 1000 visitors, of both nationalities, who are coming here on a special excursion, for the July 4th doubleheader, between the Oakland "Oaks," and the Los Angeles "Angels." A beautiful souvenir book of fifty large pages describing their "day of days," will be off the press June 1, and 6000 will be distributed free, as will a year book and directory for Los Angeles and the Bay Cities.

Giant Motorcade

Thousands of Los Angeles harbor waterfront workers will form a giant motorcade late in the afternoon Friday for a parade into Los Angeles to hear Harry Bridges, president of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union, speak at a mass defense rally in the Olympic Auditorium, 1801 S. Grand.

The Veteran's Voters League has induced Jack Driver to run for the office of Assemblyman for the 67th District, who is not only a man "for the people" but "of the people."

Esther Murray Victory

Capture of the Democratic party nomination by Esther Murray, Congressional candidate in the 16th District, was forecast today by Edwin Blum, campaign chairman, following a poll taken in 205 sample areas.

"Esther Murray will get from 87 to 91 per cent of all Democratic votes cast on June 6, in spite of attempts by the reactionary Republican incumbent to masquerade on the ballot as a Democrat," Blum said.

Ether Murray is the only Democratic candidate for Congress in this district. Her two opponents are registered Republicans. She has the solid support of every official Democratic party organization and executive in the 16th District, as well as in Southern California.

Esther Murray, who is vice-chairman of the Democratic party in California and head of the Women's Division in the Southland, has been endorsed by the Democratic County Central Committee, the executive board of Southern California Young Democrats, Bay Area Democratic Club, West Los Angeles Democratic Club, Westwood Democratic Club, Santa Monica Democratic Club, 60th Assembly District Young Democrats, Americans for Democratic Action, the Roosevelt Democratic Club of the 61st District, 60th Assembly District Council, and 61st Assembly District Young Democrats.

ELAJC CAMPUS NOTES

By Kathy Key

Athletically speaking the Coliseum Relays Friday night were a huge success. There are rumors that Andy Stanfield, handsome athlete from Seton hall, will be the 1952 Olympic Games 100-meter champion, and having seen him in the 100 yard dash in 9.5 seconds I am inclined to agree.

Socially speaking, the spectators were quite interesting to observe. Jerry Washington, in the glow of good health and LOVE was with his Princess charming, Miss Joyce Bates. Noticed Booker Jackson and Martha Mickey cheering enthusiastically in the stands. Dorothy and Nancy Bryant all ready for cheering, attired in jeans and strong voices. Enjoyed chatting with Bobby Jamison of L.A.C.C. over old times. Mildred Johnson, Elsie Ventress, and Teresa Jacquet, gleefully munching hot dogs and peanuts. Saw Mary Catherine Wright looking around for some of the old gang (preferably Roland Bundice). After the relays quite a few of the stars, athletes and otherwise slipped away to various after parties, etc. Seen enjoying themselves at the Elks Hall were Mary Wright, Jay Gonder, Johnny Duddy, and Ed Sherill just to mention a few. Indeed we are anticipating another year and the Relays.

Your Columnists Cuffnotes, the Les Gipsonettes went all out Sunday night in presenting their Cocktail Party at the Alpha Bowling Club, from cocktail glasses in the lounge to champagne cups in the gardens there was many a fashion flash. Glamorous Evelyn Franklin, vice president, looked very stunning in a black ensemble. The honorable president herself, was attired in a black cocktail dress topped off by a pair of the season's most fashionable white shoes, was none other than columnist Dolores Ivory. Dolores Potter, of U. S. C. looked like a socialite straight from Gay Paree, her special guest was Mr. James Garland. Theodore Payne, handsomely attired, escorted a lovely young Miss. Also noticed Theodore's sis, Mary Payne, busily playing the role of a most gracious hostess. The place was dazzling with handsome young men, a few whom Ocie Harris, Leon Bridget, Charles Hill, Leon Thompson and Willard Murray. My evening was a most enjoyable one also, having been escorted by John Smith and Ed Glenn (oooh, two of 'em) L.A.C.C.; thanks for a most pleasant evening boys. At 10 o'clock the charming group of Les Gipsonettes were presented to their guests, making the prettiest array of girls ever assembled in one group.

Midnight Memos from a News-girl's Notebook: Harold Jackson's new flame smoldering on Cupid's front burner is "Peaches" Thurmand who in turn won't discuss "Lowell" but then, do you blame her??? Indications show that the old spark between Ed Sherill and Helena Hogan is slowly being kindled into a flame again, or aren't they aware of it yet??? Someone is hinging "It isn't fair" to Fran Ramsey, but I can't tell whether the voice belongs to C. W. or A. T.???

Scoop-clusively Yours: Velly, velly soon there will be a new club formed known as the Gadabouts (cute huh??) consisting of members of Junior Colleges and of the younger social set. Invites will be in the mail soon for the prospective members to attend their first meeting. Later and remember AD. 14456 for news tips.

"Adora's Ritings"

By Adora Lily Ulasi

My Adventure

Gazing down across the valley from the top of the hill on which my home is built in Nnewi Nigeria, West Africa, certain thoughts suddenly crept into my head. One thought, that I would one day travel across the seas as my father had always told me.

I could remember one night as the whole family sat in the living room conversing on the changes and progress made from the early '20s to date. I picked up a letter from the table. It was for me from my cousin Prince Orizu, then a student at Columbia University. In the letter, he stressed the highlights in New York, the tall exciting buildings, the subways, and the wonderful bridges.

I immediately imagined how wonderful New York City would be, with all those glittering lights and magnificent buildings. My head was pregnant with thoughts. I was so nervous that I could hardly eat.

Late that night my father sent for me in his private living room. I was still carrying the letter with me. Before he could say anything I blurted out, "Father, how wonderful it will be if I can finish my studies abroad?" He once again reassured me. "Lily," he said, as I am popularly known by that name in Nigeria, "you will have all the advantages I couldn't have—all the places I haven't been—if you like to go around the world."

I looked at myself, small as I am. Imagine me to traveling around the world. I ran to my mother to break the news. To my surprise, she looked unhappy. Being that I am her only child and besides she was afraid of the long distance. Furthermore, several reports had appeared in the papers about Nigerian or African students dying abroad. All these added to her unhappiness and worries.

Finally, on a cold December morning, as I was getting ready to go home for Christmas (being that I live in Lagos, capital city of Nigeria, about a thousand miles from my own state), I had to wait for my dad's decision for the route to take.

While I was looking across the street, there came the postman and he handed me a telegram. I cleared my throat, my knees were steadily knocking together—I couldn't think who on earth sent the telegram, and what it was for.

Anyway, I opened it and it read thus: "Lily, stay where you are, get ready for the U.S. Dad."

Clouds fell over me, I stood motionless. I finally said to myself, "At last this is it." Before I could believe my eyes, there was my trunk and suit cases containing the prettiest dresses you ever dream of. I was so surprised at the quick preparations. The dresses and all fitted perfectly.

On January 12 I boarded the plane after long conferences. My mother was afraid of the plane and my dad was afraid of ships. Well, I have to travel somehow, and they both had to agree on one. In the long run, I had to travel by plane for the mere reason it was the quickest and because the new academic year was due opening.

My first stop was at the Gold Coast, Africa. I looked so young and little that a lady at the airport couldn't help asking how old I was, and where I was heading. I told her, and she continued, "Are you going to finish high school?" I said no. I was going to a college or a university.

She dropped a bowl filled with water in amazement and it splashed all over me. I was asked to stay at the airport hotel, but the lady insisted I must go home with her.

She gave me a hot bath, cooked the most delicious Gold Coast dish and put me to bed. This might sound unusual, but it nevertheless is true. That is where African hospitality and culture differ from that of other nations. (To Be Continued)

Went to the track meet last Friday nite. Of course, you know Jef won. Gee it was so exciting.

Was there. Ole Elverett' Stewart thought that I'd never find out who she is. Well, folks, hold your breathe cause here goes. Her name is Nirrah Harden. They say Brad Pye is becoming a playboy cause he tell all the girls he's in love with them. Listen!!! Mister Govan Hill, you say that you'd like me to say something nice about you but you don't seem to want to behave. Don't think I didn't see you at the track meet with Sylvia Bennett, cause I did. Now what do you thing about that???

Wendell Williams is doin all right for himself seeing that he has captured Mary Anne Baumann's heart. Twas very sweet of Sylvia Penland to share one of her boyfriends with Deby Miles. Since Barbara Thompson has moved to the west side, and got all those swet little boys runnin after her she an't speakin. Well can you beat that? Gifford Dumas' new girlfriend is Betty Lawrence.

Marlene Simmons' love has cooled off for Frank McCoy. Man snatcher of the week is Rodessa Carter. Dolly Glasgow and Marvin are still commin along strong. James Wilson says he has eyes for all E.L.A. girls. A little pal of mine, Joe Rouzan, says that he just can't get a girlfriend. What's the matter Joe, you're cute enough? Believe it or not Emeka Ebo is really on the ball. Marian Jones, darlin, why didn't you tell me that you and Oscar Collins are goin to the prom together? You should know that I'd find out anyway. All the girls want to know what's happened between John Payne and John Young. Audrey Springs (a spoiled little beast) has her greedy little eyes on a certain S. J. What's this I hear about Nellie Young and Don McAlister. Hum, must be love. Don says he's a changed man. Who would be with a gal like Nellie. Wonder if Dolores Pounder is still mooning over Leo? Joyce Bates is feelin real oozy inside cause her sergeant boyfriend is in town. Carl Clay, you were a very naughty boy Sunday nite. Don't you feel ashamed? The love bug has bitten both Leodious Mourney and Charley Macon. Gee! Whiz!!! they're in love. I'm tellin you that Teddy Young is really something, he's captured the hearts of all the E.L.A. girls. Don't you wish you could do it????

Katty Key has been goin over to City College every Tuesday. She says that the boys are sooo soo sweet over there. Hum!!! guess I'll hop on over. Went over to Elks auditorium the other nite. Saw ole Mary Wright, switchin. Do you know that Bobby Morgan and Dorothy Brannick are going steady???? Girl!!! this is what you've been waitin for. Yes siree Eddie and Alvin Flint are comin out. When you say? Well hold your breathe. It's June. Wonderful huh!!! Well that ain't all cause I'm going to describe them. Here goes. Eddie is about 5 ft 11 in., with black curly hair and like tan complexion. Sounds good huh??? Holly Crackers in soup!!! He's eighteen. Gosh!!! just the right age. And new for Alvin. He is 6 ft. with brown hair, a sparkling smile and a

Winners Of Speech Awards For 10 Years Honored At Roosevelt Hi

The ten winners of the Elias Nathan Carl speech award for the past ten years were honored at a special public ceremony at Roosevelt High school auditorium, 450 S. Fickett St., on the East Side, on Tuesday, May 23, at 7 p.m.

More than twenty-five prominent civic leaders, including city councilmen, county supervisors, state and national representatives, were on the Roosevelt stage. Each was introduced to the audience by a member of the speech class.

"Freedom of speech is a cornerstone of our democracy," said Roy Lewis Stone, principal of the Roosevelt Evening High School. "I know of no finer way of preserving it than through adult education public speaking classes."

The first winner in 1941 in the speech improvement competition was Corporal Rupert Dimagnao, who was born in the Philippines. He was killed in action in 1944 while on an Army Air Corps photo-reconnaissance mission in Africa. The twelve inch replica of the Elias Carl Cup intended for him was presented by the Honorable Sufonio Abrera, Consul of the Philippine Republic, and accepted in Corporal Dimagnao's name by a former friend and neighbor, Mrs. N. Clark. The cup will be sent to Corporal Dimagnao's brother, Mr. Monico Dimagnao, in the Philippines.

Edward Roybal, Los Angeles Councilman of the Ninth District, presented the 1942 award to Corporal Leno Diaz, who is coming from Houston, Texas.

John Anson Ford, Third District County Supervisor, conferred

All of the schools are making plans for graduation exercises next month. Students are looking forward to this event, making preparation for the proms, lining up their dance programs and all of the interesting plans that go to make the last days a memorable success.

I understand that for the past few years the school staff and Parent Teacher groups have worked feverishly with, and for the students in planning so that the graduates may enjoy the evening further after the graduation exercises, with activities in the school, so that the boys and girls may remain in the building, rather than roaming the streets for after graduation enjoyment.

Not too long ago a number of shameful, and even fatal occurrences were carried out by attendance of students at some of the after graduation parties, unsupervised trips around town, beaches and night spots, but the activities in the school will be supervised and yet allow your boy or girl to enjoy a clean and pleasant evening. Parents have been asked not to have parties for the youngsters on the nights that the schools are holding the activities for the students.

I think, we as parents should try to cooperate wholeheartedly with the faculty, in doing so we may be able to save our young adults and ourselves from some sorrowful moments and anxiety.

To you young adults, out there, my good friends, who read this column, I hope that you will read it today, and try to cooperate with us, your parents, school faculty and your adult friends, for we have tried to plan enjoyable activities for you, and with cooperation on your part we can realize a successful year, and this summer when you come to me for help with your plans, and ask my attendance on your trips as you have in the past few years, I shall be too happy to offer every assistance that I may, but, only with your fullest cooperation at this affair, otherwise—well, I will be just a little hurt and disappointed, but let's wait and see just how super we can be, than I can go all out for a swell summer with you.

Hospital Worker Fired; Distributed Leaflets

NEW YORK—Mrs. Edith Bluestone, social worker at Bronx Veterans' Hospital, was fired from her job after distributing union leaflets before working hours. The leaflet, issued by Local 20, United Public Workers of America, was entitled, "K.P. Was Never Like This." It exposed the bad working conditions existing in the Dietetic Department of the hospital and charged the hospital administration with practicing discrimination against Negro workers.

Mrs. Bluestone was informed of her dismissal late Wednesday afternoon by her immediate supervisor, Miss Sarah Butts. The charge, as stated by Miss Butts, was, "Conduct unbecoming a professional worker." When Mrs. Bluestone pressed for further details, she was told that the order was based on the fact that she had distributed leaflets that morning to hospital employees. The dismissal is effective May 26.

The leaflet that caused the drastic action against Mrs. Bluestone charged: Some of the worst conditions in the hospital exist in the department headed by Miss Kendrick, specifically; employees work eight consecutive hours without a break; four men are forced to the work of nine; these employees are required to do the work of janitors and porters when they are ordered to wash walls; they are forced to work standing in three inches of water all day long.

The local has wired protests to Senators Ives and Lehman, also to Representatives Javits, Klein, Roosevelt, Marcantonio, Lynch, Dollinger, and Buckley. The local also picketed Bronx Veterans' Hospital on Tuesday, May 23, from 2 p.m. Appeals for support have been made to the NAACP and to professional and labor organizations.

Painting is a good way to make wood houses attractive and to freshen or change their appearance.

Watts YWCA Notes

On Wednesday, May 31st, the Watts Willowbrook YWCA will give a "Festival of Nations" at Will Rogers Park and Community Bldg. The festival will consist of booths in which baked goods, popcorn, peanuts, hot dogs, etc., will be sold. Each booth will represent a different nation.

The day's activities will culminate in a dance in the gym. The music will be furnished by an orchestra donated by the Musicians' Union. The intermission will be highlighted by a floor show.

The proceeds from the festival will be used to send girls from the Watts Willowbrook area to camp and conference at Tahquitz Meadows and Sr. High Conference at Asilomar National YWCA Conference grounds.

The festival will be under the direction of the Y-Teen Director for the Watts Willowbrook area and the Teenage Volunteer Committee for the area.

There will be fun and excitement in the form of rides on the chair plane, etc., furnished for young and old alike.

We'll see you at the Festival.

Maritime Union Service Center

A Maritime Unemployed Service Center at No. 3 Embarcadero, supervised by a committee representing three CIO and one independent maritime unions, handled more than 200 unemployment insurance, disability insurance and relief problems of San Francisco maritime workers during its first week of operation. The office opened May 15.

The unions supervising the service are the Marine Firemen's Union (Ind.), National Union of Marine Cooks and Stewards (CIO), Marine Engineers Beneficial Association (CIO) and the Ship Scalers' local of the International Longshoremen's and Warehousemen's Union (CIO).

The service was set up mainly to handle problems arising from growing unemployment in the maritime industry. At present, there is approximately 40 percent unemployment in the industry in San Francisco and in most other ports throughout the nation.

A hot dry attic may be a good place to store sleds and snow shovels—or other winter equipment which needs to be protected against rust.

Club Alegre's Square Dance Jubilee, Sat.

"Club Alegre, the recently organized interracial group of married couples, headed by Julie Carrasco, club president, is presenting a "Square Dance Jubilee" at the Watts Youth Center, 102nd and Beach streets, on Saturday, May 27th, from 8:00 until 12:00 p.m. This will be the Club's first public affair, and the proceeds will go towards their scholarship fund.

Mr. Delbert Murray, the popular square dance caller, will have an introductory session from 8:00 until 9:00 p.m. for all beginners. Several professional dance groups will be present to add color and gaiety to the affair. Refreshments will be served.

Watts Youth Notes

Kings and Queens Wiener Bake Success

We the kings and queens are really proud to announce the big success our wiener bake was. The group left Watts Playground at 7 p.m. for a most enjoyable ride to Cabrillo Beach.

We attacked the beachhead at about 8:30 p.m. for a swim (those that went). After the swim there was a walk along the beach. About that time the food committee had the food ready. We returned to the camp fire where we roasted wieners, ate cookies and all of the other food. After the food was eaten we played records and danced on the beach.

About 11 p.m. the tired picnickers returned home. It was a very enjoyable evening for all.

Ervin Johnson Stars in Junior Broad Jump

Ervin Johnson was a very proud lad when he surprised himself by taking first place in the South District Track Meet held at Manual Arts High School. His jumping distance was 19 feet.

Louis Hurt, also a Watts Playground product, did very well in the midget shot put. He took second place with a heave of 44 feet 2 inches. The midgets walked away with second place in the meet. We hope to do better next year. With good training you will hear from these fellows later on in high school.

Big Three to Sponsor Tag Dance

The Counts, Kings and Queens will go together to sponsor a tag dance. For advertisement purposes they thought it best to use the short term "Big Three" as it won't cover much space on their tags. The tag title will also be carried out at the dance.

We expect to have a live orchestra plus records. Our theme will be never a dull moment. The dance will take place June 3 at the Watts Youth Center at 7:30 p.m. These clubs are YWCA and Watts Playground sponsored groups.

Compton College Notes

WHAT'S BEEN HAPPENING

The Compton junior-senior prom highlighted all activities out this way for the week-end. Craig Dualey and popular Alta McKelvey were chosen Prince Charming and Cinderella to reign over the gay affair.

Joan Mason donned a white strapless dress with rhinestones across the top of the bodice, flitted with full drapery on each side, and the fair young lady managed to look expertly well. Mary Guillari escorted by Howard Goins looked chic in her yellow formal with matching gloves contrasted by demure accessories. Freddie Starr and Myrtle Lyons, Harold Cowens, and Carol and James Miller and Mabel

Over my short vacation, the Compton College Finance Commission dined at Lucas in Los Angeles and were entertained at a performance at the 1950 Ice Capades. I'm sure all of the group enjoyed them as well as I. Harold Cowens will be running for yell leader so don't forget to vote. Roland Bundddee, popular Los Angeles City College asked me kindly not to put derogatory remarks in this column about him.

AND IT WAS JUMPING:

Jefferson annexed about ten out of fourteen al city track championships at the Coliseum last Friday night, and beat everybody out of 110 points.

Guy Blackburn tied the 100 yd. dash record, on that slow track and Gary Green broke Freddie Thompson's heart and quarter mile record in 48.6 and Lang Stanley ran a half in 1:56. Before Green ran a 20.4 and Blackburn ran a 20.5 lap in the light man relay team, who broke a record which had been held by a Jefferson team since 1937.

2:58.2 whittled to a 2:57.5.

After all that the Elks reeled and rocked like a spinning top with every devil there. Ivan "the terrible" Robinson and Reed, for the O's were on the award receiving end. Bobby Pounds received the outstanding player award for the Phi Beta Sigma team. Barbara Wilson and Art Mayfield make the finest couple. Of course, they can't compete with "NeNe" and Dave Williams. Saw Pat Kimbro and Ooh! Ray Logins was seen wandering around half mast.

THINGS TO COME

The Ivey leaf pledge club of Sigma Chapter of Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority are planning to crowd the Avadon, Saturday, June 3rd, with the spring varieties. Tickets may be purchased from any pledge on City College, Pepperdine, LaSC, USC and Compton Campus.

The Pyramid pledges of the Delta Sigma Theta Sorority will have their annual spring formal on Saturday evening, May 27, 1950. This promises to be THE AFFAIR of the season. With a Holiday in Hawaii as a romantic theme.

STOP! LOOK! READ!

When Yell Leader elections held don't forget to vote for Harold Cowens. This is my last plea!

DEAR GANG:

There are only eight or nine days of instruction left in this year. So here's a tip, better start studying now. Cramming is all well and good but to study as you go along is even better. Its to late in the semester to change old habits so maybe cramming early will be of some avail.

DON'T FORGET TO VOTE FOR HAROLD!

By J. R. Eggleston

MILWAUKEE — A committee was organized here this week to work for a delegation of about 50 people to attend the National Trade Union Conference for Negro Rights which is to be held in Chicago, June 10-11.

A spokesman for the committee, which is composed of Negroes and whites, said, "We shall do everything in our power to place Negroes in positions equal to those now held by white. We shall also bring up on the convention floor the question of Negroes being hired in the Milwaukee breweries and try to raise the fight on a national level."

The conference on June 10-11 is being called by the Harlem Trade Union Council and the Chicago South Side Negro Labor Council.

MILWAUKEE — The fall election campaign in Milwaukee county will officially open this week. Candidates will be able to get their nomination papers Monday but will not be able to start circulating them until Friday. The last day for filing papers is July 25.

Nomination papers can be obtained for all county offices. Democratic candidates for county offices must have at least 5,238 names on their nomination papers but not more than 17,460. The Republicans must have between 4,625 and 15,415; the Socialists, between 171 and 570, and the People's Progressive Party, between 169 and 563. The number of signatures required is based on the last gubernatorial vote in Milwaukee County.

It is the general opinion that the People's Progressive party will squeeze the Socialists out of third place on the ballot. A move to squeeze them out of the third position failed in the last election by a slight margin.

It is possible, however, to squeeze the Socialists out, all that is required is for the People's Progressive party to cast more votes for governor than the Socialists cast for their candidate.

If the People's Progressive party could be successful in moving the Socialists out of third position, the Progressive party would then hold the third position on the county and city election commissions. A move of this type would be a great victory for the Progressives in Wisconsin.

MILWAUKEE—Not anti-Semitism or anti-Negroism but a "polite kind of bigotry and hate" is the basic problem of prejudice that confronts the American public today, according to Arnold Forster, New York City, national civil rights director of the Anti-Defamation League. He spoke at the Milwaukee State Teachers College Monday night.

"It's a problem," he said, "because Americans are apathetic and indifferent to it."

MADISON—The trip that President Truman took across the country at the taxpayers' expense will long be remembered by the people. The one that will remember the trip the most will be Truman himself. When Truman starts back to "work" in Washington (he has never done any work there) it will be very hard for him to forget the greeting that he received when he arrived in Madison. Truman was greeted with stickers posted downtown and around places where he would visit reading, "No More Hiroshimas, Ban the A-Bomb."

When Truman arrived at the University of Wisconsin field house to speak, a score of mothers with babies staged a baby buggy parade with banners reading, "Veterans of World War Three Demand Ban on A and H Bombs." Members of the faculty and students, carried petitions to Truman's aides with over 3,000 signatures, the petitions calling for top level negotiations between the U.S. and U.S.S.R. to William W. Rosenthal, assemblyman of the 40th District presented to Mr. Larry Lopez, of 2323 Damon street, Los Angeles, the 1944 award.

State Senator Jack Tenney was invited to make the 1945 award to Daniel Sigal, of 2755 Marengo Street, Los Angeles.

Chet Holifield, U. S. Representative of the Nineteenth Congressional District, presented the 1946 award to Mr. Clare Bishop, who is now president of the student body of Walla Walla College in Washington.

Nathan Snyder, East Side attorney and candidate for Justice of Peace, East Los Angeles Township, made the 1947 award to Miss Anna Boronich, of 943 N. Heliotrope Drive, Hollywood, now matriculating for a teacher's credential at Los Angeles State College.

Mrs. Gertrude Rounsaville, a member of the Los Angeles City Board of Education, awarded the 1948 trophy to Ralph Celaya, of 1215 Glenfield Court, Los Angeles.

Dr. Howard Campion, Associate Superintendent of Los Angles City Schools Extension and Higher Education Division, made the 1949 award to Bernardo Hernandez, of 4548 Michigan Avenue and member of the Roosevelt Evening High School Graduating Class of June, 1950.

The final award, for 1950, was presented by Elias Nathan Carl, founder and first principal of Roosevelt Evening High School, to Joseph Kohn.

Joseph was born in Czechoslovakia in 1929. In 1941, when he was 12, the Nazis moved in, confiscated his father's land, and gassed to death his mother, brother and five sisters. His father, who had aided the American spies in Czechoslovakia, was successfully protected by them for a time, but was eventually caught and killed. Joseph escaped by hiding in a hollow wall with three other boys for three months, living on hardtack and water.

After many harrowing experiences he came to Germany and through the efforts of a committee organized by Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt to aid boys and girls who had been through the Nazi terror, he came to America in January, 1947, at the age of 18. He is now 21 years of age and expects to graduate from Roosevelt in June, 1951.

Doings About Omaha

by G. Ancita Hayes

Omahans enjoyed one of the nicest and busiest weekends ever with Mother's Day highlighted in every sphere of life and activity. The commercializers really raked in a handsome profit for everything imaginable in the way of gifts for mother. Flowers hit a war time high. Churches in the community, though they gave cognizance to the day and it's meaning, joined in with the commercializers by planning programs where the emphasis was more on money raising than paying the intended tribute to mothers.

The emphasis which families placed on the day and it's celebration sounded the sweetest note of all.

Mrs. Betty Davis Pittman, attorney, has the distinction of being the first Negro woman to file application to become a member of the Omaha School Board. The members of the Board are vote on in a city election. If elected she will be the first member of her race to serve on the Board.

The Beta XI Lambda and Beta Beta Chapters of the Alpha Phi Alpha Fraternity held their spring formal dance at the beautiful and spacious Ballerina Ballroom, 111 South Eighteenth Street, Friday evening, May 12th, 1950, from 9 p.m. to 1 a.m.

The ballroom was transformed into a veritable Fairyland with spring decorations and the ladies gowned in gorgeous creations of every color in the rainbow. Their escorts, of course, the suave sophisticated swains that they are complimented their ladies by looking just as if they had stepped from one of the pages in the latest edition of Esquire.

Misses Barbara Waldron and Florentine Crawford, Junior and Senior respectively, came up from the University of Nebraska to attend the dance given by the Alphas. They returned to school on Saturday in order to be on hand for the Inter-State Track meet. Miss Willeen Agnes Brown is recuperating from a tonsillotomy. Friends wish for her a complete and speedy recovery.

Mrs. Christine Brown spent the Mother's Day weekend in Kansas City, Missouri as the guest of Mrs. Lucile Dudley. She was honored guest at an affair given by Mrs. Dudley's club. She returned home Monday after having an enjoyable and refreshing visit.

Mrs. W. J. James Hodge and son Phillip Lindsay, daughter and grandson of Mr. and Mrs. Zeb Hardy, 2227 Locust Street arrived last week to spend Mother's Day and this week with their parents and relatives.

Mrs. Hodges and Phillip were enroute home from Southern University in Louisiana where they accompanied Reverend Hodges on a speaking engagement. They reside in Lynchburg, Virginia where Rev. Hodges is pastor of the Diamond Hill Baptist Church.

Mrs. Hodge is also the cousin of that well known and likeable Sherman Goodloe, Chicago, Illinois, sportsman, real estate and business man.

Mrs. Pedro Lopez, Nee Mary Louise Metoyer and her daughter Anita Marie are spending a pleasant vacation in Omaha visiting her family, Mr. and Mrs. Victor Metoyer and Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Metoyer, Nee Lois Brown and their three month old daughter, Veronica Lynette and other relatives. These two lovely granddaughters of the Metoyers are destined to make the roto-gravure section of some paper or magazine in the near future.

Many courtesies are being extended these visitors and they are enjoying themselves immensely. They came by plan from New York where they live.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl A. Wheeler, 3011 N. 28th Avenue celebrated their Nineteenth wedding anniversary on May 10th. Relatives and friends extend congratulations to the Wheelers and wish for them many more years of blissful happiness. They are the proud parents of a popular eighteen year old daughter Millicent, who attends the University of Omaha and a son Windsor, who is twelve years old and attends Howard Kennedy grade school.

DOCTOR DEVELOPS REMARKABLE HAIR and SCALP FORMULA

After many years of research and practice, Doctor Morris developed a remarkable formula for dry-scaly, itchy scalp, dandruff, unruly, excessive falling hair. It consists of a special medicated tar, oxyquilonine — two powerful antiseptics incorporated with other valuable ingredients.

This scientific combination does such fine work, that many doctors regard it highly and recommend it for many scalp troubles of local nature. This remarkable formula is known as "TAREX." Get it from your drug store. Use it on your short-looking hair and scalp for 7 short days. If you aren't delighted, if your hair doesn't look gloriously smooth, longer, straighter, lovelier—your $1.00 back. Upon receipt of $1.00, we will send "TAREX" anywhere postpaid. Methodists Annual Conference Meets In Constitution Hall

WASHINGTON, D.C.—Constitution Hall, which created a national issue by closing its doors to artist Marian Anderson in 1939, and which has since held to its segregation policy by excluding Negro artists from its stage, was taken over "lock, stock, and barrel" by colored Methodists for the closing services of the Washington Annual Conference here last Sunday.
Bishop Alexander P. Shaw, resident in the Baltimore area, who presided over the 87th session of the conference, preached to thousands who crowded the auditorium Sunday morning.

Sunday afternoon, a musical recital was given by the Morris-town College Choir, Galbraith AMEZ Choir, the Community Chorus, Warren Church Choir (Pittsburgh), and the Wesleyan Choir of Asbury Church. Dr. Warner Lawson, of Howard University, directed the combined choirs in the "Hallelujah Chorus" and the "Battle Hymn of the Republic."

On Saturday afternoon a historical pageant, "Advancing Through the Ages," written and directed by Mrs. Fannie D. Tyler, was presented in Uline Auditorium. Over 1500 persons from the churches of the conference participated.

Dr. Morris Motors South

Dr. Charles Satchell Morris, II, chairman of the Ministers' Club of the Zion Hill Baptist church, departs via motor this morning (Thursday) for a whirlwind preaching and speaking trek through the Deep South and the East. His tour opens tonight when he will address a throng at Phoenix, Arizona. Friday night he will be welcomed to Amarillo, Texas, while next Sunday, May 28, he will be the guest of the celebrated Good Street Baptist church, Dallas, which Dr. Chambers resigned to come to Los Angeles.

Dr. Morris delivered the official address of welcome to Dr. Timothy Chambers who was installed as pastor of Zion Hill Baptist Church last Sunday. As he concluded his address of welcome to Dr. Chambers he dramatically stepped over to where Dr. Chambers was sitting and handed him a letter addressed to him by the President of the United States while the vast concourse went into a delirium of applause. Dr. Morris also presented to the pastor a telegram directed to him from Governor Warren then at San Diego expressing his regret at his inability to attend the exercises.

Buy a Poppy!!!

Sunday School & BTU Congress Candidates At Pasadena Forum

The California State Sunday School and Baptist Training Union Congress, Rev. H. J. James, president, will hold its third annual session May 30th to June 3rd, 1950, with the New Hope Church, Long Beach, 10th and California Streets. The Rev. N. J. Kirkpatrick, pastor.

The theme of the Congress will be "The Coming Kingdom." Tuesday evening, May 30th the pre-Congress musical under the direction of Mrs. Mabel Rozier promises to be a fine musical treat. The introductory sermon will be preached by Rev. E. H. Harris. In addition to the informative and instructive work of the classroom, there will be such subjects as "The present need of teaching," "What Baptist Believe," "The Purpose of the Sunday School in the Church," discussed by competent speakers. Dean Holt and his Educational Staff have arranged the best possible courses to be taught in the Congress. Credits will be given each course.

Baha'i World Faith

"The Companions of the Prophet" is the subject of the address which Mrs. Charles Reed Bishop will deliver at the public meeting of the Baha'i World Faith to be held at Los Angeles headquarters, 331 South New Hampshire Avenue, on Sunday afternoon, May 28, at 3:30 o'clock.

Mrs. Bishop tells us that the word is one word, although the speakers are many, the light is one. From age to age God has renewed this light. The companions of the Manifestations of God have recognized this light whenever it appeared. Baha'u'llah is the Lord of Hosts and the Promised One for this day.

India Bishop at Wiley

One of the best-known national leaders of the Christian forces in India, Bishop Shot K. Mondol, of Hyderabad State, southern India, will be the commencement speaker at Wiley College, Tuesday, May 30, at 11 a.m.

The Bishop recently arrived in America from Siam where (in December, 1949) he was a delegate to the important East Asia Christian Conference held in Bangkok under the auspices of the World Council of Churches and the International Missionary Council. He is in America now in the interests of the "Advance for Christ and His Church."

Gems of Thought

Kindred tastes, motives, and aspirations are necessary to the formation of a happy and permanent companionship.

—Mary Baker Eddy

Show me one couple unhappy merely on account of their limited circumstances, and I will show you ten who are wretched from other causes.

—Coleridge

The happiness of married life depends upon making small sacrifices with readiness and cheerfulness.

—Selden

Man and wife are equally concerned to avoid all offense of each other in the beginning of their conversation. A little thing can blast an infant blossom.

—Jeremy Taylor

Men and women, in marrying, make a vow to love one another. Would it not be better for their happiness if they made a vow to please one another?

Dedication of School For Handicapped

The Charles LeRoy Lowman School for handicapped children, 12815 Saticoy Street, North Hollywood, was formally dedicated on Tuesday, May 23, in a program beginning at 2 p.m. The address of dedication was made by Dr. Alexander J. Stoddard, Superintendent of Schools, with a response by Dr. Lowman. Presiding was Miss Mary Frances Martin, Supervisor of Special Education in the Division of Elementary Education in the Los Angeles City Schools.

The Lowman School is a modern, class A, $100,000 structure, built to accommodate seventy elementary school pupils without crowding. This school without steps was planned to meet the special needs of children with severe heart handicaps and orthopedic disabilities requiring crutches, braces, or wheel chairs. It is one of 12 special schools devoted to the instruction of children with hearing, sight, and other physical disabilities in the Los Angeles City System.

Christian Science Topic Denounces Mesmerism

"If God be for us, who can be against us?" This question from Romans will be the Golden Text of the Sunday Lesson-Sermon in all branches of The Mother Church, The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston. "Ancient and Modern Necromancy, alias Mesmerism and Hypnotism, Denounced" is the subject.

A Bible story from Luke reports: "In the synagogue there was a man, which had a spirit of an unclean devil, and cried out with a loud voice, Saying, Let us alone; what have we to do with thee, thou Jesus of Nazareth? art thou come to destroy us? I know thee who thou art; the Holy One of God. And Jesus rebuked him, saying, Hold thy peace, and come out of him. And when the devil had thrown him in the midst, he came out of him, and hurt him not."

Mary Baker Eddy declares in "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures": "No person is benefited by yielding his mentality to any mental despotism or malpractice. . . . The genuine Christian Scientist is adding to his patient's mental and moral power, and is increasing his patient's spirituality while restoring him physically through divine 'ove.'"

There is no disparity in marriage like unsuitability of mind and purpose.

Corinth Baptist Extends Welcome To All Friends

The Corinth Baptist church at 1001 E. 27th street extends a cordial welcome to the public to worship with them. Corinth is destined to be a Bible church. Follow the crowds to Corinth and you will be glad you came. The pastor is preaching as never before.

The public is invited to hear him next Lord's day at 11 a.m. and 7:30 p.m. Corinth is a church with a welcome. Come to Corinth Sunday. Rev. J. Sydel Peterson, pastor.

LACC Symphony Orchestra Ends

Los Angeles City and State College's combined symphony orchestra of 80 musicians will give its final two concerts of the semester Thursday evening at 8:30 and Friday noon in the college auditorium.

Student soloists will be Agnes Niehaus of State College, who will perform Beethoven's "Emperor" concerto for piano and orchestra on Thursday evening, and Julian White of City College, who will play the first movement from Saint-Saens' Piano Concerto No. 2 at Friday's concert. Both students are audition winners.

The orchestra will be directed by Mrs. Elizabeth Ruppeck Peterson of the City College music department and Lauris L. Jones of the State College faculty. The program includes Sibelius' Symphony No. 1, Hubbell's "Eldorado Suite," Bach's "A Mighty Fortress Is Our God," and Bergsma's "Paul Bunyan Suite."

Both concerts are open to the public without charge.

Candidates Rally, Sat.

Robert W. Kenny, Democratic candidate for state senator, will be chief speaker at an open air political rally Saturday evening near the Elks Temple at 4016 S. Central avenue.

Other speakers include Richard Ibanez, candidate for office 10 of superior court (juvenile judge); Cora Johnson, candidate for the legislature in the 67th district; Edward Maddox, chairman of the legal committee of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

A caravan through the 62nd assembly district precedes the rally, for which a program of music and entertainment is arranged.

Loren Miller is chairman of the sponsoring committee, which includes Edward Atkinson, Jr., Morris Johnson, Charlotta A. Bass, Hugh Goodwin, George E. Cannady and Mrs. Harriet Jackson.

Trumbo To Speak

Dalton Trumbo, renowned film writer and a member of the "Hollywood Ten" facing prison sentences on charges of being in contempt of Congress, will share the speakers' platform with Harry Bridges at the mass meeting to be held in the Olympic Auditorium, Friday night.

and makes you stand out, like a beam from a lighthouse. You do not make the mistake of giving sympathy to the wrong person, or misjudging circumstances for wisdom is your guide and brings things to you in their true light.

If you are endowed with wisdom, you have much to be thankful for.

A. M. Dear Prof. Herman: I have found your advice to others very helpful and would like you to help me with my problem. My husband wants to buy a car with our savings but I would rather invest in a home. What do you think is best?

ANS. It is revealed to me that both you and your husband have worked together thru the years to acquire the financial success you now enjoy. Certainly the distribution of the funds should be by mutual agreement. Due to your past cooperation together, perhaps you can make some arrangements to secure both the car and home.

B. T. What plant is the commonest cause of Hay Fever?

ANS. The plant "ragweed" produces a pollen which is one of the commonest causes of hay fever. Ragweed is common in grain fields and produces hardy seeds that may live for several years before germinating.

C. D. My mother is very ill and I would like to know if I will be able to visit her within the next month.

ANS. My Psycho-Mentalist Crystal reveals that you may fulfill your desire to visit your mother sometime during the approaching month. I suggest that you save and plan toward this trip.

F. S. Will I be successful with what I have in mind?

ANS. After giving your question careful consideration, it is revealed to me that you have several things in mind at the present time. If however, you concentrate on one of them you should be successful in your endeavors.

Sheriff Biscailuz Honored At Dinner

By FAUSTINA JOHNSON

Last Friday night found a cross section of representatives seated around a festive board to honor the Honorable Sheriff Eugene Biscailuz of Los Angeles County. Crystal Tea Room was the center chosen for the wonderful event.

Serving as general hostesses were the famous Silver Spurs Riding Club who have had the pleasure of being the first of Color to ride in the Sheriff's Annual Rodeo. Those representing the Spurs were: Mrs. M. Modwell, president; Mrs. E. George, Mrs. L. Lyles, Mrs. Ellen Rogers, Mrs. Julie Carasco, Mrs. Macie Howlett, and a former member, Mrs. Bertie Lynch.

Arriving unannounced and offering a pleasant surprise by doing so was the famous "Cisco Kid"—Leo Carillo, movie star and grand civic worker, serving on the State Board of Parks and Recreation. Mr. Carillo expressed the need for understanding from our official family for the needs of our communities, not by race or creed but by general necessity.

Judge E. Brand told of a program that would tend to afford better and improved conditions for all peoples both young and old.

Fred Frank, a very close friend of the Sheriff's as well as Buddy to American Legionnaires, known for his practice of "Brotherhood for all mankind, also spoke.

In welcoming his guests, Sheriff Biscailuz, emphasized the fact that there is no difference in mankind, the difference only lies in an individual's ability to qualify and that can be applied to any man or woman despite his or her race, color or creed.

Person present were: Mr. and Mrs. Voight, guests of Leo Carillo, from the Eastern Airline; Mr. J. Podderson, Post Commander; Ford White, Post Commander; Rev. George Garner and his guest Mrs. Spencer C. Dickerson; Mr. Coy, Dep. Sheriff; Mr. and Mrs. Roscoe Robinson, Mrs. Josephine Brown, Mrs. Hattie Nelson, Mrs. Nell McClanahan, Bob Struther, Herald American representative; Mr. and Mrs. J. Irvin, Neighborhood News Editor; Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Lindsay, Mr. and Mrs. Hurd, Mr. Tennets, Mr.

ing and filibustering and do something about the Fair Employment Practices Act.

If all who preach progressive and liberal ideals were to follow this example, that much booted about measure might be adopted.

The Townsend parade and program last Tuesday evening was one of the really brilliant affairs in this political campaign. The parade down Central Avenue left many people gaping at its munificence. The program given in the Bill Robinson Theater was equally breath-taking as well as thought-provoking.

Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., who was thus honored, is the militant candidate for Congress in the 14th Congressional District.

zens arrested under the Mundt-Nixon Bill. Signs indicated they were arrested for such offenses as: Refusal to sign the Taft-Hartley affidavit acting against Jim Crow housing, and opposition to the re-Nazification of Germany.

Participants were: Marine Cooks and Stewards, ILWU local 26; Warehouse, Fisherman's local 26, and the Women's Auxiliary of ILWU local. 830 pickets carried banners asking for peace talks between the Soviet and the United States, and trade with China.

and Mrs. M. Sheffield, Mrs. Isabel Fairchild, Mr. and Miss Bird, Rev. and Mrs. Morris, Mr. and Mrs. Veil, Mr. and Mrs. Frank White, Mr. and Mrs. Jackson, Dr. and Mrs. H. Allen, Dr. Humphries, Dr. Cooley, Dr. H. Claude Hudson, Dr. Booker, Atty. Ivan Johnson, Sid Hendricks, Mr. Shaw, Mr. McCarthy, Mr. Johnson from the Sheriff's Office, and that dearly beloved retired L. A. County employee, L. G. Robinson, who spoke so highly of the early days around 1910 and 7 when he worked with Eugene Biscailuz before he became Sheriff of L. A. County.

Assisting on the program was that golden voiced Josephine Cooper, singing many numbers, accompanied by Mr. Don White, noted pianist. Of course no meeting of the kind would be complete were not Clarence Muse present, who had just returned from a tour soliciting for the "March of Dimes" national program. Clarence urged the vote of everyone to return a sure and proven friend as Sheriff of L. A. Co., Eugene Biscailuz. Then to please everyone he gave several numbers, accompanied by the "Neighborhood News Editor Irvin."

The two general chairmen were Arthur McClanahan and Mrs. Faustina N. Johnson. (Political Adv.)

never be able to smash the Klan and what it stands for—real, 100% white, Gentile, Protestant Americanism.

The real Americans are on our side and their number is Legion. The great ideals of the Klan are taking firm root in the soil of our national life. Only a few years ago the Ku Klux Klan was denounced and vilified by misleaders like you for trying to advance these truly patriotic ideals. Now our sacrifices are bearing fruit. At long last America is waking up.

We took the rap for first sounding the alarm about communism and the International Jewish Conspiracy to control the banks and the movies. We pioneered in exposing the Catholic Menace and its effort to pollute our Protestant faith with their papist poison. For 5 years we warned against the defilement of the pure white blood-stream of America by the colored blood of negroes and Asiatics. We spoke the truth Mr. Kenney, and now America is recognizing it and catching up with us fast.

We have to laugh at your bragging about breaking up the Klan. Long after you are forgotten Mr., Kenney the Klan will have a President in the White House and the Fiery Cross will be a revered symbol of a Better America. Because of the lies spread by you and people like you the Klan is still a secret organization but things are going our way now and soon we will come out into the open as the Leaders of the Real America.

In the meantime we have our eye on you and your ilk. Lay off lying about the KKK. Stop associating with these Reds and Jews. Quit making negroes and Mexicans so biggity they think they should have the same kind of jobs and wages as whites and even live next door to white folks. Watch your step. A word to the wise is sufficient. As Mr. Westbrook Pegler says it will be open season for all Un-Americans.

Yours for Real Americanism, John H. Knauer National Organizer Ku Klux Klan

10; Burnis, 8; and little Antoinette, 4; and Mrs. Johnson's mother, Mrs. Louella Stuckey.

They are a regular family of American people, living in a modest but very neat and very well cared for little home, with a well kept front lawn of green grass bordered by several flower bushes. Mr. Johnson works for the Los Angeles Water and Power Dept., Mrs. Johnson does domestic work, and the three older children go to school. Vernice is a student at the Manual Arts High School and will graduate the summer of '51; Effie Louise and Burnis, Jr. attend the 36th Street Elementary School, and Antoinette stays home with grandma, but is counting the days until she will be old enough to go to kindergarten.

All of the children also attend Sunday school, that of the 35th Street Mennonite Church, at 3505 South Normandie street, of which the Rev. H. E. Shoup is pastor. They have been going there for the past six years, beginning with Vernice who brought in the others as they were old enough.

The scroll of honor which every member of the family cherishes as something precious was presented to them by the Rev. Foster Craggett, pastor of the Western Avenue Christian Church where the institute was held, on behalf of the Westside Chamber of Commerce and the Family Institute. It is edged in gold, and tied with a beautiful white ribbon.

The scroll reads: The Westside Chamber of Commerce and the Family Institute, conducted at the Western Avenue Christian Church, May 8-12, in recognition of your selection as the outstanding family in the Southwest District of Los Angeles, California, for the Year 1950. This Scroll is Awarded to the Burnis Johnson Family.

It is signed by Fred H. Griffin, Jr., president Westside Chamber of Commerce; and Alberta M. Craggett, general manager Family Institute.

The Southwest Community acted as judges in deciding who should be honored as the Family of the Year, and voted for the Burnis Johnson family as being the most typical of the American family in that district.

Many prominent speakers led the discussion on family problems during the five-day session of the Family Institute. Among them were: Dr. Georgene Seward, psychologist of U.S.C., Prof. E. Bryant Phillips, economist of U.S.C.; Guy M. Hoyt, assistant superintendent of the Los Angeles City Schools; Dr. Theodore P. Blevins, pediatrician; and Mrs. Frances Poynter, director of case work division of the Church Welfare Bureau of the L.A. Church Federation.

Tremendous Real Estate Closed Here

One of the biggest financial deals in real estate closed here in many years by Negroes was made recently when the Masonic Building and Holding Association, Inc., A. F. and A. M. affiliation of this city purchased the three and a half story Moneta Masonic Building located at 5904 South Broadway Street.

Consumption represented several months of business negotiations between principals, Masonic Hall Association, Inc., and real estate broker associates, Albert Maddox and J. C. Owings. Although the purchase price was not disclosed, real estate experts point out that the deal easily overshadowed previous real estate transactions here during the past two decades.

The hall of brick construction, is one of the most elaborate of its kind in the west. In its approximately 30,000 square feet of space is included a spacious auditorium, banquet hall, club room and several lodge rooms. Elevator service and ample parking space is also available.

According to Leonard Senters and R. L. Johnson, spokesmen for the buyers, occupancy will be taken in the fall of the year highlighted with a program in which approximately 200 members of local lodges and their Eastern Star Chapters will take part.

Members of the Masonic Building and Holding Association, Inc. of Most Worship Hiram of Tyree Grand Lodge includes Alpine Lodge number 1; Rising Sun Lodge Number 2; Eureka Lodge Number 3; King David Lodge Number 8; Bronzville Lodge Number 18 and Friendly Lodge Number 13.

given a quick brush-off with this statement, "We never use n—ers in the show."

Thinking that something was a miss, the Chicago girl went out and called Mr. Durante, who upon hearing what happened, appeared to go in a rage, directed her to return to the office and see Mr. Cohn in person. This she did, still hoping that she would be given an audition. But Mr. Cohn sent her out to make a record. She did this at a cost of $12.

This, too, was unceremoniously brushed aside and Miss Norris, sick and tired as a result of her California experience, went to her quarters and to bed, where she was when this interview was made.

The 1950 University Summer School, offering graduate, professional and college programs leading to undergraduate, graduate and professional degrees, will open June 12 as a combined offering of the six Atlanta institutions for Negroes under the leadership of Atlanta University.

Evangeline Woodfolk Turns In Resignation From Sojourner Post

Miss Evangeline Woodfolk, who has been the executive director of the Sojourner Truth Home, submitted her recent resignation to the Home and will relinquish her duties in July. She has been in the service of the Home for the past three years.

Since being in the city she has been active in many phases of community and club life, some of these being the Community Chest, and just recently served as area chairman for the American Red Cross, organizing five divisions on the east side; served as general chairman for the Negro History Week as sponsored by "Our Authors Study Club" this past year.

She has been an active member of the South East Coordinating Council, Delta Sigma Theta sorority, having served as chairman of the Charitable Projects Committee, and vice-president of the Urban League Guild. She attempted to bring an effective program to the Home.

She plans to take a much-needed rest and visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Woodfolk, and two sisters, Lois and Lucile, in Farrell, Pa. Her mother and two sisters will be remembered by many. All three have visited her since she has been in Los Angeles. Her future plans are indefinite.

People's Voice Observes 27th Anniversary

The Echo Park Women's Club in the Echo Park area last Sunday was a busy spot.

The People's Voice, a newspaper published by and for the advancement of the Polish people in California, celebrated its 27th anniversary.

Many local newspapers were invited to help The Voice celebrate. Among them was the Jewish Freiheit, represented by Sara Fellyellin, The People's World by Slim Connelly, and The California Eagle by Charlotta A. Baer.

These brought greetings and felicitations to The Voice in its outstanding role in the community for the betterment of the people, and the service rendered for the creation of a closer relationship by our country with all the nations, countries, and peoples working for peace.

The all-day program consisting of speeches by the guests was interspersed with musical numbers, and the story of the founding and history of The People's Voice.

Dr. Charles H. Wesley, the president of the College of Education and Industrial Arts at Wilberforce University, will deliver the commencement address to the graduating classes at Atlanta University's graduate and professional schools on Monday, June 5.

held in Chicago, May 29-30, three hundred and seventy-one leaders of religion, labor, youth, business, education, women's and fraternal organizations from 36 states signed a call issued by Bishop William J. Walls, which declared that the American people's insistent demand for peace in the world today is in harmony with our demand for freedom.

The Conference will be held at the St. James Methodist Church, 4611 E. Ellis Ave., Chicago.

Among those who signed the Call, which included 200 ministers, 7 bishops and 3 college presidents, were: Charlotta Baer, editor, "The California Eagle"; Dr. Charlotte Hawkins Brown, president, Palmer Institute; Prof. E. Franklin Frazier, Howard University; Rev. Dr. W. H. Jernagin, Fraternal Council of the Negro Churches; Dr. Benjamin E. Mays, Morehouse College, and Mrs. Mary Church Terrell, National Association of Colored Women.

Hollyw'd Writers To Be Jailed

44

The California Eagle, Thursday, June 1, 1950

CE. 2-0033

FACING JAIL for defending a vital and basic right of the people are these noted writers, standing, l. to r.: Alvah Bessy, Ring Lardner Jr., Sam Ornitz, Albert Maltz and Lester Cole. Seated: Edward Daytrick, Herbert Biberman and Adrian Scott. For refusing to collaborate with the Un-American Committee headed by the convicted crook, J. Parnell Thomas, in sabotaging our constitution, they will soon be deprived of their freedom. This is an action of a police state. As long as they face jail, no one is safe. Every citizen should write to President Truman immediately demanding their freedom.

ATTENTION.... ALL NEGRO WRITERS!

In keeping with its long tradition of service to the Negro people, THE CALIFORNIA EAGLE is proud to announce the initiation of a new feature, "THE EAGLE'S NEST," starting in our issue of June 1st, for the encouragement of Negro writers, young and old.

A full page in each issue will be devoted to encouraging Negro authors by publishing their works. Since so many of the usual channels of publication and recognition are closed to Negroes, we hope that THE EAGLE'S NEST will inspire our talented friends and readers to write—and contribute to our nation's culture.

Whether it be a short story, poem, essay or article, we will be glad to consider it. Because of space limitations we ask that you limit your contribution to 1000 words or less. We cannot, of course, pay for them. The staff of The California Eagle will edit and select the items to be published.

Withstand. All Ye Writers, to the shattering cross and combat of THE EAGLE'S NEST. May you grow strong and eloquent in the fight for Negro freedom and American democracy!

THE EAGLE'S NEST is dedicated to the memory of JOHN KINLOCK who gave his life in the war against fascism.

Jefferson High Registrar Wins Harvard Award

Calvin E. Gross, registrar of Jefferson High School, has been awarded a $5000 Harvard Fellowship, according to an announcement made earlier this week.

A 1940 graduate of UCLA, Gross is president of the Alpha Epsilon chapter of the Phi Delta Kappa at SC. He is superintendent of the Sunday School of Trinity Baptist Church in Santa Monica.

Gross has indicated he will study at the Harvard Graduate School of Education.

Jilted Lover Murders Girl

A murder of passion, and a final desperate try at suicide marked the Memorial Day holiday for Melvin Glenn, 38, of 867 E 3rd Place. Glenn is in the prison ward at General Hospital where he is on the critical list. His former sweetheart, Olivia Greer, died as the result of multiple stab wounds inflicted on her body by Glenn.

According to University Station police, Glenn chose Memorial Day to visit Miss Greer in her room at 1723 W. 35th Place in an attempt to revive a broken love affair. Reportedly he held little hope for reconciliation, because he left a note stating he was going to kill his ex-fiance and then kill himself.

The landlady at the W. 35th Place address, Mrs. Elizabeth Kyles told police she went to the upstairs rear room occupied by Miss Greer when she heard terrifying screams. She said she saw Glenn standing over the cut and bleeding body of Miss Greer holding a bloody carving knife. The victim was lying on the bed.

"What are you doing to her?" the landlady demanded.

"I'm killing her," Greer allegedly replied calmly.

Mrs. Kyles left hurriedly and summoned police and an ambulance.

Willie McGee Due To Die In 30 Days

Willie McGee, Mississippi Negro, framed on a charge of rape in December of 1945, "may die within thirty days unless an aroused Negro and white America acts to save him from a legal lynching by the State of Mississippi," an emergency appeal by the Civil Rights Congress declared.

"The Supreme Court has refused McGee's final appeal," William L. Patterson, Executive Secretary, declared. "Although there are still possibilities of legal actions in the Mississippi courts, the people of America

Patrolmen Brutally Assault War Vet On Public Highway

Sanders Chapron, 33-year-old war veteran of 702 East 116th St., lies in the General Hospital, his jaw fractured on both sides, his teeth wired and his mouth closed, so that his food must be administered externally and all as the result of one of the most unprovoked, vicious and brutal beatings on record which was dealt out to him at the hands of two state highway patrolmen on the night of May 25th, at the intersection of Manchester and Compton Avenues.

According to the story told by Chapron to his attorney Curtis C. Taylor, who has taken charge of the case, he was enroute home from a visit to relatives on 59th St., when the two officers, who were in a cruising car, yelled to him while he was driving and with the words, "Hi boy, pull over," whereupon Chapron pulled over and parked and the officers got out of their car, approached him and in the conversation which followed, one of them

Helen Hunt Jackson Library To Close; Lack of Funds

The Helen Hunt Jackson Branch Library at 2330 Naomi Avenue will be one of the 18 branch libraries in the city forced to close its doors permanently if the City Council accepts as final the slashed Library budget submitted to it Wednesday, May 24, by Mayor Bowron, according to the Board of Library Commissioners.

Closing of the Helen Hunt Jackson Branch will mean discharging four staff members and discontinuing service to more than 3,000 people who borrow nearly 49,000 books a year. The branch has been open to the public since 1925, and serves 8 schools in its area.

This drastic step will have to be taken, states the Commission, if the Library is forced to operate next year under a reduced plan calling for one-third cut from its already requested 1950-51 budget, now under consideration by the City Council.

The only alternative to such a drastic reduction of Library service in Los Angeles, as well as similar curtailments of other city services is for the City Council to find other funds to supplement the "slashed" budgets.

If the Council is unable to find additional funds, Helen Hunt Jackson and seventeen other branch libraries (of the city's total of 46) will go out of business, and 76 employees will be looking for positions elsewhere. Many of the branches have been in operation since the early 1900's, and serve a total book-borrowing public of nearly 100,000 people.

Under the reduced plan of operation, the Library will also be forced to abandon all plans for the much-demanded expansion of its services in rapidly growing areas now miles from any library.

It was pointed out to the Mayor and Council that $258,000 of the Library's 1949-50 budget has been obligated, but not spent, for new branch libraries in the Westchester, West Pico and Sunland-Tujunga areas.

"Rather than build three new branches at a time when employees are being discharged and other branches closed, it is recommended that the City Council be requested to authorize us to cancel the plans for these three branches and use the $258,000 to retain 57 employees on the payroll," stated Robert J. Bauer, vice president of the Board of Library Commissioners, in a letter to Mayor Bowron.

"This would make it possible to keep 13 branches open for at least one year—branches which must otherwise be closed. The Board of Library Commissioners would not feel free to do this without specific authorization from the City Council, because the money when appropriated by the City Council was earmarked for new buildings and because definite commitments were made to citizen groups in the neighborhoods involved."

With such a transfer of funds, it would be possible for the Library to keep open thirteen of the eighteen threatened branches. However, Helen Hunt Jackson Library is one of the five branches which will be forced to close under either plan unless sufficient funds are provided for it. Mrs. Douglas Praised By House Leader

"A great member of the House of Representatives" is the description of Helen Gahagan Douglas in a letter written by Rep. John W. McCormack, majority leader of the House of Representatives, to former Congressman Tom Ford of Los Angeles.

The letter was released by the former congressman, who is one of the co-chairmen of the committee sponsoring the candidacy of Mrs. Douglas for the U. S. Senate, because he feels no one is better qualified to comment on the record of Mrs. Douglas in Congress than her party's leader in that body.

"Both Speaker Rayburn and I have complete confidence in Congresswoman Douglas," wrote McCormack.

Proven Ability
"Her nomination and election will bring to the United States Senate a legislator of proven ability and experience and will make a marked contribution to the future constructive actions of the United States Senate. She will serve in that body with great credit to the State of California and its people."

Cora Johnson Hits War Talk And Police State Hysteria

The St. James A.M.E. Church was the scene of a well-attended social tea given by the "Democratic Club for Cora Johnson" in honor of Mrs. Johnson, non-partisan candidate for the 67th Assembly District. Even though the affair was set in an air reminiscent of Sunday evening leisure, the candidate seized upon the occasion to deliver her most militant declaration for peace and against the "cold war."

After vehemently denouncing the Mundt-Nixon police state bill, Mrs. Johnson expressed wonderment at how they could "talk so carelessly about another world war when the veterans of the last war are being treated so shamefully as the paralyzed and maimed veterans who are soon to be removed from their homes by transfer from Birmingham Hospital."

She called for a "united front" of all lovers of democracy and decency to demand the outlawing of the A and H bombs and for cooperation of the Truman Administration with the peace efforts of the Secretary-General of the United Nations.

The church, she said, is rising to the occasion and moving swiftly to the fore against the growing hysteria and war sentiments and is swinging into the historical tradition of the role it played in the abolitionist movement during the dark days of slavery.

Mrs. Johnson extended her deepest sympathy to those mothers who must mourn the loss of their sons on Memorial Day. She has one son still in the Navy and another among those ill-fated veterans at Birmingham General Hospital.

Mr. C. D. Hawkins, chairman of the Southeast Inter-Racial Council and Finance Chairman of the 67th Non-Partisan Committee, was largely responsible for a very successful dinner given at the Tabernacle of Faith Baptist Church Friday night in honor of the candidate.

Mrs. Johnson returned an honor by speaking at a Testimonial Dinner for Mrs. Mable Gray, popular clubwoman, Sunday evening. Much emphasis was placed on the necessity of defeating the infamous Jack B. Tenney and electing Robert W. Kenny to the State Senate and Mrs. Cora Johnson to the Assembly from the 67th District at one and the same time.

The SIDEWALK

By CAR

The small town of Dothan, Alabama, is a proving ground for Negro enfranchisement in the South.

Here the white Alabamians not only permit their Negro fellow citizens to vote, but actually encourage them to vote.

But the Negroes in Dothan in the exercise of this inalienable right are as slothful and negligent as the Negro voters in Southern California and in many other sections of the United States.

In Dothan out of some 6000 Negroes eligible to vote, only about 400 are registered. There is no way of learning how many Negroes have registered to vote in the Los Angeles area. No one is asked his race when he registers. But out of a total population of something like 250,000, I venture to guess the proportion will not be very much better than that of Dothan. One fact is known. It is very much smaller than it was last year, because so very many neglected to vote in the last presidential election two years ago and so their names were dropped from the list.

And it is my guess that only about one-half of this number will vote in the June 6 election. This despite the fact that at least a hundred thousand of Los Angeles voting eligibles came here since 1943, largely during 1945, '46, '47, '48, and '49. And are still coming.

The new Californians incidentally came from sections of Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia, Tennessee, Texas — states that are not only a disgrace to United States history but also to world history. Here is a brief record of what is happening, even now, in the Mississippi Delta, according to Roy Sprigle's book, "In the Land of Jim Crow."

This section of our country has been called "the last outpost of feudalism in America." It is more fertile than any other land in the world. In this Delta region at least half a million Negroes, human slaves, toil from childhood to the grave as share-croppers, with no hope for a better future. All told there are 6000 share-cropper families—men, women, children, and grandparents—among this number."

I have neither time nor disposition to enter into a full discussion of this Mississippi situation, save as it serves the purpose of emphasizing the attitude of Negro voters or at least the Negro people in Los Angeles, where we live and pay taxes.

Just as the enfranchised Negroes in the Mississippi Delta region in the small town of Dothan, Alabama, are indifferent about the results of the ballot, so are the Negroes of Los Angeles.

The Negro political leaders in Los Angeles County are aware that Negroes in Georgia, Mississippi, Alabama, and in other parts of the deep South, have been shot down for even trying to vote. They know that millions of Negroes in these and other Southern states are victims of the share-cropper system, the poll tax, and the lynch law.

Dothan Negroes have a good excuse for their poor showing at the polls. Alabama still imposes the poll tax. The poll tax of $1.50 a year is cumulative. It is added year after year. Charged against the delinquent voter. An Alabama Negro granted the right to vote at 50, must pay the full poll tax from the time he was 21.

But Los Angeles presents a very different story. We pay no poll tax here. Anyone who is 21 years of age, or over, who has resided in the state of California one year, and in Los Angeles three months, may register to vote and may vote at every election. This privilege is free to all, regardless of race, color, sex. (Continued on Page 5)

Major Radio Stations Charged With Hiring Discrimination

NEW YORK—Charles A. Levy, Executive Secretary of the N. Y. Branch of the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People, has filed a formal complaint with the State Commission Against Discrimination against Radio and Television Stations WOR, WCBS, WABC and WNBC, alleging intentional or unintentional discrimination against Negroes in employment.

The N. Y. Branch is in receipt of numerous complaints because more qualified Negroes have not been integrated into the personnel of these major stations.

Mr. Levy's letter states: "The N. Y. Branch believes that the small number of Negroes employed by these stations indicate that some form of discrimination has been perpetrated against Negroes either intentionally or unintentionally, and asks your Commission to make a thorough investigation and take the necessary action to correct these objectionable conditions."

Senator Lehman Investigating Hospital Firing

NEW YORK—Senator Herbert E. Lehman, in a wire to Local 20, United Public Workers, has stated he is investigating the dismissal of Mrs. Edith Bluestone, Bronx Veteran's Hospital Social Worker. The Union has charged the hospital administration with violation of Lloyd-Lafollette Act of 1912, in order to cover up discriminatory employment practices in the Dietetic Section of the Hospital.

Mrs. Bluestone, who is white, was fired from her job after distributing a Union leaflet on her own time off the hospital grounds, describing the deplorable working conditions imposed on Negro workers by Chief Dietician Kendrick.

The National Medical Association will hold its 55th Annual Convention at Hampton Institute in Virginia, August 28 to September 1, 1950.

Ask California Senators Vote To Aid Cloture

The Independent Progressive Party of Los Angeles County has called up Senators Sheridan Downey and William F. Knowland to support the battle for cloture, and passage of FEPC legislation now pending in the United States Senate.

Reuben W. Borough, candidate for State Treasurer, and IPP Vice-Chairman wired Downey and Knowland that their talk of a free and strong America was "a mockery, and lip service, unless FEPC legislation is passed during this session of Congress." Borough further urged the Senators to "use your good offices to guarantee equal job rights for all by supporting cloture action and passage of the FEPC Bill."

Smashing Jimcro In Washington, D. C.

By J. Daniel Weitzman
Reprinted from The Reconstructionist

Being a businessman and having some desirable vacant space, I decided to build a moving picture theatre. Thus, on March 19, 1948, the doors of the Dupont Theatre in Washington, D. C., were thrown open to anyone with the price of admission.

Behind these simple facts are interesting stories of obstacles overcome and joys realized in the fulfillment of a faith that Washington would support a non-segregated theatre—also the refutation of that rusty adage that business and liberalism do not mix.

As is true of many of my fellow-Americans, world events of the past decade left strong imprints on me. The war against fascism taught me that in order for the American people to be great and strong, they must first remove the cancer of discrimination and segregation. I was made to realize that as long as one American's liberties were denied him, then my liberties, too, were in jeopardy.

Eagle Editor Enjoys Unexpected Vacation In Desert Resorts

This week's activities in the areas of Lake Elsinore and Lakeview, Calif., were manifold and inspiring.

On the eve of Memorial Day, automobiles of all kinds, makes, and ages, formed a long dazzling stream as vacation week-end guests poured into Gilman's, Silver's, and Ginsberg's Hot Sulphur Springs resorts.

Of the places mentioned, in the estimation of ye Eagle editor, Ginsberg's is tops.

Yes, she was there in the thick of the fray. Not on a planned vacation. It was this way. Mrs. Pearl Fagelson and Mrs. Sadie Doroshken decided between them that they would include the Eagle head worker in their three-day vacation in the tranquil valley of rest. Saturday afternoon, May 27, Mr. and Mrs. Doroshken and Mr. and Mrs. Fagelson came to the Eagle office, stacked with food and everything needed for a real happy vacation, but with room enough to tuck in the Eagle scribe.

This accomplished, the party was on its way, and before nightfall it was snugly housed in a three-room cabin with modern kitchen and bath at the Silver Camp Rest Home, eight miles on the way to Ginsberg's.

Soon kettles were steaming, a table was set, and the party sat down to a feast flavored with (Continued on Page 30)

Civil Rights Being Lost Rogge Says

PHILADELPHIA, Pa.—The post Civil War statutes which were passed to protect the newly liberated Negro people may be "lost piece-meal in the States if the 'Trenton Six' are deprived of the right to their own lawyers," O. John Rogge, former Assistant General of the U.S., argued here last week.

Rogge appeared before the U. S. Court of Appeals to seek an injunction against attempts by Mercer County, (N. J.) Judge Charles F. Hutchinson to remove him as well as Emanuel Bloch and William L. Patterson, executive secretary of the Civil Rights Congress, from the defense of six Trenton, N. J., Negro defendants in the "Northern Scottsboro" case.

In his argument, Mr. Rogge also declared, "These six innocent men have been kept in jail for two and a half years because they are Negroes. I say to your honors that we never would have kept white men there so long under the same circumstances."

Teachers, Social Workers Opposing Jim Crow In N. Y. C., Fired

NEW YORK — The Harlem Trade Union Council called a press conference last week to answer the vicious attacks by Mayor O'Dwyer, and Commissioner Hilliard, against one of its affiliated unions, the United Public Workers. In the past few weeks, teachers and welfare workers belonging to locals of the UPW have been fired; slanderous material has poured from both the Mayor's and Commissioner's headquarters to the press and radio.

Because of these attacks and because of the danger threatening the entire city if the ranks of the most alert and militant teachers, welfare workers and social workers are to be decimated and harassed in this unprincipled fashion, the Harlem Trade Union Council invited three of the persons who have been fired to appear before the press of the city: The three were: Alice Citron, Teachers' Union; Eleanor Goding, president Local 1, UPW, and Edith Bluestone, Local 20, UPW. Miss Goding is a welfare (Continued on Page 30)

California Vet Union Convenes Here Sunday

LOS ANGELES, Calif. — The fighting Union of California Veterans, whose voice has already been heard throughout Los Angeles County, is digging in for their all-day convention Sunday, June 4, 1950, 11 a.m. at the Embassy Auditorium at 9th and Grand, Los Angeles.

Going right into the large minority neighborhoods of L. A. to get to the great number of unorganized vets, the Union hopes to build an organization that will truly be representative of all veterans.

Four convention panels will be set up—veterans affairs, internal affairs, domestic affairs and international affairs. Special emphasis will be placed on veterans affairs owing to the dangers that face the ex-G.I.'s in California.

Speakers at the plenum will represent Negro, Mexican-American, Jewish and trade union vets. Women veterans promise to be a very vocal part of the program.

Songs written specifically for the convention will be sung, and entertainers will break through at intermissions with appropriate merriment.

The Union's associates composed of wives, relatives, friends will be actively engaged in the mechanics of the convention.

According to the veterans division of the California State Department of Employment there are now 1,750,000 veterans in the state, the largest number of any state in the entire country. Of these, 200,000 are now unemployed.

Already vets are beginning to lose the homes they bought on GI loans, according to the banks, and with Governor Warren turning a deaf ear to the growing problem of unemployment, the veteran in the sunshine state faces a dark future unless he unites for a positive veterans program of jobs, bonus, FEPC, and increased GI benefits. The veteran has powerful voice potentially, and the Union of California veterans can be an articulate and effective instrument for bringing that voice the "right" answers.

The UCV invites all World War I and II in Los Angeles County regardless of their race, creed, nationality or politics to join hands with you former comrades and lend your voice to the organization that believes the America can be a land of peace and plenty.

called him a "black nigger," which also Chapron protested.

They did not ask for his driver's license, nor did they tell him why he had been stopped and upon his insistence that some explanation be given him, one of the officers, who was over six feet tall and weighed at least 240 pounds, suddenly and without warning, struck him a terrific blow on his jaw fracturing his jaw bone and knocking him unconscious, while the blood spurted from his nose and mouth.

Then they threw him like a sack in their car and hauled him to the Georgia Receiving Hospital where he was given first-aid and then he was booked in the prison ward of the County Jail and charged with drunk driving, resisting arrest and assault and battery.

According to Chapron, nothing was ever said about him being drunk and the officers were in the act of allowing him to go on his way, when he told them he was a veteran of 46 months overseas and felt that he had earned the right to be treated as a citizen. It was at this point, he claims, that the officers launched the brutal attack.

Attorney Taylor informed reporters that he is immediately launching a thorough investigation into the affair and that he proposes to file a huge damage suit against all parties concerned, as well as make every effort to see that the officers are disciplined by the proper authorities. He states that Chapron has a clean record, is married and is the father of an 8-month-old child.

Our indifference towards what is happening to part of the 15 million Negro people in the United States, believe it or not, is responsible for Jim Crow laws against the Negroes in every part of the country.

This is a sad commentary, and an indictment against Negroes in Los Angeles. It is not the way to achieve equal rights and human dignity.

an all-out drive against the disease.

"Most of the 142 deaths from tuberculosis in the city alone this year could have been prevented if the victims knew they had the disease in its early stages and started treatment immediately," he said.

The Los Angeles County X-Ray Survey Foundation, an organization of all health agencies in this area, is sponsoring the campaign to x-ray three million persons here this year, he said.

For information on x-ray service locations and hours, Dr. Uhl advised telephoning MUTUAL 8111.

No Funds for Youth?

The Helen Hunt Jackson library is to be closed, we hear, because of lack of funds. The 28th Street YMCA will have to close its doors, too, unless more money is forthcoming to meet expenses.

And this in Los Angeles, in the great rich state of California, in the United States of America, the country which boasts of its educational facilities and its programs for the health and development of youth!

This in Los Angeles, where millions are being spent in building highways and speedways! This in America where billions are being spent on war, in keeping alive a cold war that long ago would have frozen to death had it not had a constant stream of dollars as oxygen, pumped into its veins!

One cannot help but contrast this tragic condition in Los Angeles with the accounts of what is happening in the cities of the Soviet Union, as described by William Mandel and which are being published each week in The California Eagle.

Just this week in the story of the Uzbek Socialist Republic, a country with an area of about like that of Sweden with a population of a trifle more than 6,000,000, we have: "There are 1,596 public libraries, one in practically every village. The largest, the Uzbek State Library, has grown from 80,000 volumes in 1917 to a million and a half in 140 languages. It possesses a collection of 170,000 Arabic, Persian, and Turkic manuscripts."

There are thirty-three libraries in the city of Los Angeles, main library and branches. In Los Angeles county, with a population of about 4,250,000, there are less than 100.

Whose fault is it if we make these comparisons? How are we going to prevent those terrible Communistic thoughts from creeping into our minds, when we have the figures right before us?

Here, in Los Angeles, which is striving towards soon becoming the largest city in America, if not the world, public libraries are being closed. Places of recreation for the youth of the city are being shut down. But in the Soviet Union... well, make your own deductions.

Stop Boddy!!!

If you have not already seen it, get a copy of the Monday, May 15 issue of The Daily News and look at that cartoon, "Our Boarding House." We would like to reproduce it, so that you might see what Editor Boddy thinks of some of the people he would like to have vote to send him to Washington as their senatorial representative.

Of course the cartoon is a comic strip.

It is one of those newspaper stage and screen devices used too often to ridicule Negroes—placing them before the public as illiterate, murderers of the king's English, and in the ape class.

There is one way to let Manchester Boddy know what you think of this type of newspaper publishing. Write to him and tell him about it. Editor Boddy, the Daily News, and the Negro leaders working for his election know that we consider them the enemies of peace and particularly the enemies of the advance-

McCarthy Rides Again

—Chicago Sun-Times, April 2, 1950.

Martyrs of Today

Only those persons who contend for equal rights for all segments of the people are the targets for attack by the powerful industrialists, manufacturers and big landowners.

We recall many martyrs in history who fought for freedom, but who were forced to lay down their arms before the battle was entirely won. Some of these martyrs fought their battles for the rights of human beings in Washington, the seat of the nation.

One of the greatest of these warriors who has been made a martyr in many ways, but who, we pray, will not be forced to make the supreme sacrifice, is Paul Robeson. Robeson will fight on. Our abiding faith is that he will finally win the battle of freedom, both for himself and for his people.

Such optimism, however, is not without fear that the Negro masses, Robeson's own people, as he affectionately describes them, will be slow in realizing that the great advocate of freedom is fighting not only for himself but for them. For all the oppressed in Africa, China, Indonesia, and everywhere in all the world where people are exploited to satisfy the greed of the rich and powerful.

Certain Negro leaders in business, such as newspapers as well as some churches, join wholeheartedly with their real enemies and the enemies of the people in denying publicity to Robeson concerts and the privileges of speaking in their churches.

To these we say, "Give the people the opportunity to make their own decisions. In your newspapers and in your churches, in the matter of Robeson's loyalty to his country, search for and publish the facts. Not the twisted emotional misrepresentations of Mr. Robeson's words of advice to his fellow Negro citizens whom he directed to fight on the side of the Willies, the Wallaces, and the Marcantonios, rather than on the side of the Hearst Newspapers, the Rankins, the McCarthys, the Mundts, the Nixons, and the Jack Tenneys."

And to the churches, those who close their doors in the face of Paul Robeson, we say it will be worse in that great day of reckoning than it was for Sodom and Gomorrah in their time of destruction.

In the matter of the rejection and ostracism of such leaders among you, in favor of that power that keeps you and yours as second class citizens, you are doing unto him what the earthy rulers did to Jesus in His time, when He came to save a crumbling world, and was crucified instead.

A great author wrote a book one time, which asked the question "What would Jesus do?" The characters in his book carried that query into every phase of their living. And acted as they believed He would act.

Cou tell the people you preach to weekly that Jesus is the greatest leader of all times. "Follow in His footsteps," you advise. Yet in Bible history there is no record of Jesus rejecting any person because of his religious faith or political belief.

Now we want to ask you preachers, teachers, and editors of newspapers who close your columns and your churches against Paul Robeson and others whose Christian faith and political belief differ from yours, "What Would Jesus Do?"

Judges in Tennessee

Ernest Seeman, of Erwin, Tennessee, commenting bitterly upon the injustice done two young Negroes, Benny Daniels and Lloyd Ray, who were convicted of murder in Greenville, N. C., when it was fairly plain that a white man did it for revenge, tells the following story in a letter to the editor.

At the time of the American Revolution of 1776, there lived in Granville County, N. C. a man by the name of John Williams. He was a working man—a cobbler. He could neither read nor write, but he was an able man of the people and honest. John Williams became a general in George Washington's army; was one of the founders of the University of North Carolina, and moved to Tennessee where he became chief justice of its first supreme court.

Would that we had today a like John Williams rather than one of polished and university-educated double-chinned scoundrels doing nothing but doing democracy in. The real "force and violence" that is "overthrowing the government" is the overbalance of dishonesty up in the high places; our real and mortal enemy we had better be defending against is the Trojan horse of fascism already within our gates. The fascism that is today taking the "life, liberty and pursuit of happiness" away from not only two poor sharecroppers—Benny Daniels and Lloyd Ray—but that seeks to take this precious heritage away from us all.

This newspaper agrees heartily with Mr. Seeman. For whether in the courthouse of North Carolina, in the mountains of Tennessee, or in the ornate hall of the United States Supreme Court

RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

THE ONLY WAY TO LIVE

Many is the time that we who are active in the progressive movement have this "charge" hurled at us: "You say you're fighting for the welfare of all people... yet you're so busy fighting for others you neglect your own family."

Some who offer this criticism imply that we are hypocrites, since surely, in accord with the philosophy of free enterprise, we should be fighting only for "our own, first and last, and to hell with the other guy." Others protest too much methinks, feeling guilty about their failure to join in the common struggle. Still others are sincere; they deserve an answer.

We active citizens, who devote much of our energies and time to fighting for FEPC, civil rights, economic security, world peace—we love our families as much as any parents, and more than most. That is why we are so active.

We too want to protect our families and insure their material well-being. But we have learned that as long as there is one child who doesn't have security, our own children cannot be safe. It simply is impossible for any one set of parents, by their own efforts, to guarantee their children's life and future—as long as there are parents anywhere whom prejudice and greed prevent from providing a decent standard of living for their families.

We are selfish. We believe that the best way to help our families is to help all families. We love life, our own and those we have created. Cherishing life as we do, we want all human beings to enjoy it to the fullest. Till they do, we can't. We want to safeguard all life.

That is why, for one thing, we joined the democratic armies to fight fascism's forces, which represent death. When we went off to war we weren't accused of neglecting our families. We think we are still in the same fight—that American fascism is as much a danger to our families and country as Nazism.

To be politically inactive now would not be a mark of devotion to our families, but a betrayal of them. Just as any citizen's failure to share in preserving the victory won in the last war is a betrayal of the nation and those who died for it. Poor citizens cannot be good parents.

It isn't that we progressives prefer to be busy with picketing and precinct work. We would very much enjoy spending all our leisure with our families—and we want more leisure to do so. But, how can you really enjoy yourself when you know that other families are being prevented from living normal lives? When Negro family life is being destroyed by oppression and lynching? When others are being destroyed by immigration hounds and witch hunters?

We progressives are fighting because we know if we don't stop reaction now there will be no families for us to love and enjoy. Think of how many families fascism and its crematoria consumed!

When there is vital work to be done, a mission in which everyone is needed and each person can make a contribution, how can you refuse to do your part? In a real sense, to do so is to deny the best in you. Such inaction always corrupts.

Certainly this means major sacrifices. We understand, for example, the detrimental effects on our relations with our children deprived of the full attention of their parents. But, think of the Spanish republican parents, the French and Soviet and Chinese partisan parents, who were totally separated from their children for years—and whose fight was our fight.

Dare American parents suggest that they are not capable of equal efforts for their children's future? Dare we even imply that we deserve or want to buy it wholesale?

Of course many of us will not live to enjoy the rewards of our sacrifices. But that's not the main point. Others will, our children among them. We must think in long-range terms, in terms of our nation's destiny. We must have a sense of history.

Then too, there is the matter of one's conscience and convictions. If you believe, as all decent and just people do, that exploitation of man by man must cease, that the world and its riches belong to those who create them, then you must act accordingly. Failure to do so also corrupts.

When we enlisted in the war against fascism, we did not stipulate that we were interested in crushing the German and Japanese brands only. We know that fascism has not been destroyed. We know that we are still at war, the same war, fighting now with ballots instead of bullets.

The surest chance of staying alive today is to fight. To be silent, to be "neutral" is to court death. Because the time soon comes when fascists don't like or need neutrals. When they are ready they will force you to become an active collaborator, or kill you. Since you must fight, and perhaps die, better fight while you have the initiative and the chance to choose the side on which you fight. There is no other way to live today.

requirement is honesty. A requirement which, alas, is too often lacking in all our courts and in all our departments of government everywhere.

But remember. Our government is what we make it. We elect our officials, our members of the legislature and of congress to make our laws. This coming Tuesday, June 6, a most important primary election will be held to select the candidates who are to run in the final election for office this fall.

In one office, that of judge in courtroom No. 10, there is a candidate who compares favorably as to honesty with the honest shoemaker, John Williams, of the mountains of Tennessee. He is Richard Ibanez, an attorney, well-educated, who has devoted his life to ridding the world—and especially this part of it in Los Angeles—to all discriminative forces and who will, if elected, dispense justice equitably to all.

Vote for Ibanez for judge.

NEGRO VOTERS

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(ATLAS)—The State of Alabama is way down on the bottom of the list in the percentage of potential voters, and it has aroused some minor concern among leaders in the primary next Tuesday.

States Righters have opposed mass registration, and are decidedly against any law which would outlaw the poll tax. Regardless of these obstacles, the Negro voters are on the increase, and there seems to be no limit to this increase.

JIM CROW SLAPPED

CAPETOWN, S. Africa—(ATLAS)—Jim Crow underwent some legal trimming last week when the Appellate Division of the Supreme Court ruled that the government's Jim Crow regulations separating Negroes from whites on trains were illegal because they brought about unequal treatment of the different races.

LABOR ON THE MARCH

HIS ACTIONS SPEAK

We have no way of determining just how much truth there is in the rumors that a certain leader in the Negro community sold his support to the Boddy forces for a promise to pay, or the actual payment of some outstanding and embarrassing debts. It cannot be denied that such a consideration is sufficient basis for political support, particularly if the person making the deal has it clear in his own mind that personal gain is more important than the welfare of the people.

JOHN M. LEE

But there are some leaders in the community who base their political support on a less self-seeking and a more exacting premise. These leaders are in the majority, and it must be recorded that they are true leaders and not exploiters. They cannot stomach the pious and mystic generalities that Manchester Boddy is mouthing night after night as he goes about seeking election to the United States Senate from California.

Manchester Boddy speaks quietly, with the light of his own personal Heaven shining in his eyes of jobs... "not four men for three jobs, he declares, but three men for four jobs." That is his campaign ideal, and he points it on the ceiling of every meeting place in which he speaks. It is impressive, but in the light of his own actions... it is just so much hogwash.

Just recently, Manchester Boddy's Los Angeles Daily News put a heartless speed-up into effect. Some forty-odd men lost their jobs. They were fired in spite of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild which stood still for a strange interpretation of the principles of retrenchment and seniority.

Unless he flip-flops before next Tuesday, Manchester Boddy will be seeking election as an enemy of fair employment. His Daily News openly expressed opposition to FEPC, and this is part of the record on which Boddy seeks the support of the electorate. A vote for him is a sure and certain vote against fair employment, and it must be regarded as a vote for the continuation of Jim-crow and discrimination.

Having for some time been confronted with the question of employing a single Negro newspaperman in his editorial department, Manchester Boddy has yet to give an open and forthright statement on the proposition. His supporters and apologists echo his weak alibi, that the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild won't let him hire a Negro newspaperman because of seniority regulations. It is a phony alibi, and we dare Boddy to print it in his newspaper. The Los Angeles Newspaper Guild is being moulded into a double-talking outfit all right, but it would have to talk out of both sides of its mouth at the same time to get away with blocking the hiring of a Negro newspaperman on any metropolitan daily, let alone the Daily News with which it collaborates so beautifully.

We attended a recent Boddy campaign meeting for the express purpose of asking the man who would be Senator, certain questions about his hiring policy, but when we appeared, the signals went out and Manchester Boddy hurried from the platform without waiting for questions. He talked vaguely about good times, an end to unemployment, told a joke that was corny and vicious at the same time, then scooted off the platform to "attend another meeting."

He had the audacity and the arrogance to think that his dull speech was all the audience needed to be charmed into voting for him. Common courtesy, if not political expediency demanded that he answer a few questions, but he paid his respects to neither.

It isn't likely that a man who has spent all of his life avoiding the necessity of coming to grips with the shameful discrimination practiced in employment in the nation and in his own city, will change his attitude if he is elected to the Senate. That body is top-heavy with reactionaries and filibusterers now, and it is the job of the people to elect representatives who are democratic and fair-minded, and who are not afraid to say so... and act so.

There is no better measure of the man than an evaluation of what he has done through the years in the way and in the places where it has been possible for him to act. Manchester Boddy cannot seriously expect to have his words speak louder than his actions in the Negro community.

This Changing World

By CYRIL BRIGGS

That strange Russian peculiarity of insisting upon logical and democratic processes in the United Nations came in for a withering blast by President Truman in his message to Congress on May 22.

The Soviet Union has the outlandish idea, as you know, that China should be represented in the U.N. by the government of its 500,000,000 people brought to power in kicking out the Wall Street puppet Chiang Kai-shek and his corrupt regime. That government today effectively controls all of China, except the lone island of Formosa, last and none to stable stronghold of Chiang and his gang.

The Soviet position represents the worst sort of heresy, of course, for when, during the past two and a half centuries, has the western world recognized the right of a non-white people to choose its own government, govern itself without benefit of the master race? The president of the great Jimcrow democracy of the West wasn't having any of this nonsense, and he wasn't going to let Russia get away with it, either. He savagely assailed the Soviet refusal to sit down in U. N. sessions with Chiang's personal representatives, posing as legal representatives of a nation which has crushingly repudiated Chiang and his cronies.

With deft imperialist logic, Mr. Truman accused the Russians of a "wilful flouting" of the UN Charter by their insistence that China, like other members of the U. N., be represented in the world organization by its legitimate government.

To maintain that it is the Soviet Union which is flouting the U. N. Charter in the current controversy over Chinese representation in the world body required quite an exercise in semantic gymnastics, and it can be said that Mr. Truman tried nobly if not convincingly. Unfortunately for our hero, no semantic gymnastics can conceal the hostility of his Administration to the newly liberated China and to the legitimate aspirations of all the colonial peoples for national independence, nor yet change the historic fact that the day of white domination of the darker peoples is ending.

Those circles in this country who are dreaming of substituting American imperialism for the European brand are in for a bitter awakening. They, and their agent in the White House, would do well to heed the handwriting on the wall. They could benefit, too, save themselves and the country a lot of headaches, by studying an Associated Press dispatch of May 22 from Tokyo, from which I shall quote a few paragraphs:

"The day of the white man is ending in Southeast Asia and the day of the Asiatic and the Communist is dawning."

This "is not just a personal impression. It is what I was told by British planters sipping gin drinks in Singapore, by the Americans working at a tin mine in Malaya, by a grizzled old Frenchman who runs a hotel at Seimreap on the hot and humid Indo-China sea coast.

"It is what I felt after talking with a tired French official in Phnompenh, Indo-China, with frustrated British airmen and British soldiers in Malaya, with a soft-eyed politician in Rangoon and with a Chinese editor in Singapore.

"In all those tense countries there is another feeling: That is very late, possibly too late, for the Western Powers to do anything.

"I learned, too, there isn't a cold war going on in Malaya, Indo-China and Burma. It is a hot war in which men are dying every day in fights pitting rock-

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglewood

Italy has been called the land of greatest contrasts. A few living in luxury like that of the princes in Arabian Nights. Thousands within sight of their mansions in hovels of indescribable squalor, hungry, in rags. Not even the much-publicized Marshall plan has been able to change this.

Sometimes the peasants, living in sections where there are large estates owned by absent landlords, take possession of some of the uncultivated land and plant potatoes and vegetables there for themselves. The government has granted, on paper, some of the vast number of unused acres for this very purpose.

Recently the peasants in Calabria were found digging in the poorly cultivated land of one landlord who owns more than 38,000 acres, 6000 sheep, and vast olive fields. The armed police ordered them to stop. They went on digging. They owned nothing themselves. They were ragged and hungry, and they didn't care what happened. So the policemen fired their Tommy-guns, used their clubs, and tear gas, and the peasants fled, leaving behind them three of their number dead and a dozen wounded.

The incident aroused the other peasants and working people of Italy, and the Italian General Federation of Labor called for a short nationwide strike in protest. Of course all the newspapers headlined their stories of the battle as being something the Communists had instigated. But a few of the facts did seep through, even in the non-Communist papers. The editor of one paper, a semi-official organ of the government, wrote: "In recent months requests were made for the concession to the peasants of more than 20,000 acres of uncultivated or badly cultivated land. Only 1900 acres were granted."

This inspired the editor of another non-Communist paper to see for himself how conditions were. He wrote:

"I found the people more like those convalescing in a filthy, putrifying hospital than ones who were considering revolution. Never in any other part of the world have I seen such people—consumptive, ravaged by disease showing open wounds, and unhealed injuries and sores, covered by clouds of repulsive flies. Because the houses are practically uninhabitable, these people are out in the roads in a sea of mud, filth, and scraps and bits of horrors of all sorts which they have not the strength or will to cope. . . .

"The houses themselves are unbelievable, worse than war ruins. In a few square yards, literally dozens of persons crowd together in an unbelievable atmosphere of physical stench and degradation, men, women, and children. I saw seven persons in a single bed, and two young girls asleep under it. Ugliness arises from such promiscuity, moral and physical contagions. . . .

"Lack of water makes the situation worse. There is one single miserable fountain for the ets against bows and arrows, planes and machineguns against home-made mines and Asiatics against white men.

"The war isn't all in the jungle, either. It is on the roads and railways, in the hotel lobbies and city streets. It isn't a big war of divisions against divisions, of hundreds of planes against other air fleets. It is a war of the knife and the quickly thrown grenade, of shadow-fighting a small scale raiding war in the dark and rain.

"But men are dying every day in that war and white men are losing."

whole town, and in front of it the women fight terrible battles for precedence every day, for fear the small supply will run out. Bread is scarce, meat an unattainable luxury. A handful of are (a kind of broad green lima bean) and a bit of onion serve for dinner and supper and when there is work, some spaghetti on Sunday. . . .

"These people do not know what the word Communist means, and they live in a state of resignation that resembles a coma. But by now they have reached the final limit beyond which a man becomes a beast. They don't know the meaning of classes or a party politics, they have no conception of social claims. Before they can learn, they must have water to drink, modest beds to sleep in and a bit of healthy food to nourish them."

The affair at Calabria and the attendant publicity of the horrible conditions there aroused the wealthy landlords to such an extent that they granted some 12,500 acres of badly cultivated land to the peasants, and land that had been taken from them was restored. They were afraid, those wealthy landlords, that such a protest would arise that legislation that would be damaging to their feudal monopoly might be adopted. And they definitely didn't want that.

But it says somewhere in a Book whose chief character is a Workingman, a Carpenter, that a day of great wrath is coming upon the face of the earth, when the kings and the great men and the rich men will cry out the mountains and the rocks to cover them.

When the peasants of Italy arise in their might, together with all the downrodden of Africa, and Asia, of Europe and America, and all the rest of the world, that day of wrath will be here. A few acres then will not appease the wrath of the real owners of the land. They will take all their due. And woe be to those who oppose them.

THE PLYMOUTH ADVENTURE

By Ernest Gebler

The story of the Mayflower is as encrusted with legends as the old ship itself was probably encrusted with barnacles. It is thus refreshing and interesting to find a novel that goes back to the sources and relates what really happened. Here you have a fresh account of the romance between John Alden and Priscilla, and all the other characters are revealed as real human beings, with human failings and strengths, and very little of that rigid Puritanism which many of the history books ascribe to them. The Plymouth Adventure fulfills one of the chief functions of a good historical novel: it brings one age to life in terms that may be fully understood by a later, very different age, without any anachronisms or sacrifice of historical fact. This is one of the important books of the year.

Around the World

COURT NIXES RAZOR

BIRMINGHAM, Ala.—(ATLAS)—If you are attending a barber college, you better be careful not to walk around with a straight razor in your possession.

Howard Watts, 22, of 6215 Division Ave., Birmingham, tried to impress Judge Hall that he had attended barber college, and had left the razor in his pocket by mistake. But the court examined the weapon, and saw that it would hardly be the kind a licensed barber college would use, then turning to the defendant, said: "That razor looks like a saw, and you wouldn't shave a dog with it." Then without hesitation, said "Twenty-five dollars and costs."

WOULD CROSS APE

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va.—(ATLAS)—Dr. Sydney William Britton, a physiologist of the University of Virginia, would like to give the ape family a boost by artificial cross-breeding the apes with humans. He realizes such a question would raise a host of moral and ethical issues, but he would like to conduct such an experiment from the standpoint of cold scientific curiosity.

ACCUSE FOUR

NEW YORK — (ATLAS) — Four defendants, including one man who started out as a complainant against the others, are named in a 125-count indictment listing charges of larceny, forgery and conspiracy.

The accused, Jorge Santalga, Faust Portella, Herbert De Jesus, and Frank De Martini, were said to have mulcted Puerto Ricans here of more than $18,184 in a swindle involving fraudulent membership books in the National Maritime Union, C.I.O.

HONOR STUDENTS

BEAUFORT, S. C.—(ATLAS)—First honor student out of a class of 34 seniors who will be graduated this week from Robert Small's school, is Wilbert Washington, with a grade average of 93.85. Prof. W. Kent Alston, principal of the school, announced today.

POTPOURRI

"An overwhelming victory at the polls next Tuesday" is predicted by all candidates for office.

We sincerely hope this prediction comes true in the case of all liberal and progressive candidates. The elections of this year have been labeled as perhaps the most crucial in the long history of America. For, if reaction wins, as it may and can, there can be only a very short time before the United States of America becomes a second Germany under a second Hitler.

This must not happen in America

You and I, voters of America, can stop it. We alone can stop it. Go to the polls and vote on Tuesday. Be sure to get the Monday edition of the Eagle, and think upon the suggestions offered as to which candidates to vote for.

Judge Ralph C. Dills, candidate for justice of the peace of South Los Angeles township, claims the endorsement of the L. A. County Justices Assn., the L.A. and Calif. Bar Assn., leaders, officials in the Veterans of Foreign Wars, American Legion, AMVETS, and Disabled American Veterans. He has resided in the township since 1935, has handled an average of 150 cases a month, and has been called the "hardest working" justice of the peace in California.

URBAN LEAGUE PROGRAM

Among the items in the program adopted by the Los Angeles branch of the Urban League, as a platform for the candidates it endorses to stand on, are: (1) An adequate pension based on right rather than; (2) Employers being encouraged to employ all workers on basis of merit; (3) An FEPC to safeguard the rights of minorities, and (4) The immediate implementation of the public works project to be undertaken to assist the unemployed.

During April the Los Angeles County offices of the Department of Employment reported that active job applications on file dropped 12.6 percent from March to 139,071. Of the total applications 51,050 were for women, and 35,383 for veterans.

Edmund G. (Pat) Brown, 44-year-old president of the California District Attorneys Association and Democratic candidate for Attorney General this week wound up his campaign for the state's second highest office.

Brown's Negro deputy, Cecil Poole, a graduate of the University of Michigan and Harvard Law School, is head of the San Francisco branch of the NAACP and active in the Urban League and the Council for Civic Unity.

His law clerk, Thomas Fleming, also a Negro, is in law school, attended University of California in Berkeley. Brown also employs a Chinese Deputy, Jack Chow. He was the first San Francisco District Attorney ever to appoint a Negro deputy.

WORLD WAR VETS

For every veteran of World War I or II who has taken advantage of the low-cost financing features of the State Farm and Home Purchase Program there are four more who have made plans to do so in the future, State Director of Veterans Affairs D. J. Callaghan, Jr., reported last week.

Since the program was established in 1921, Callaghan said, more than 54,000 veterans of World War I and about 163,000 from World War II have filed their preliminary applications to establish eligibility for the program. Of this total of about 217,000, only slightly more than 40,000 have actually entered into purchase contracts.

The remainder, he pointed out, are counting on the passage of Proposition I at the June 6 election to carry out their home-ownership plans.

Proposition I authorizes the State to issue another $100,000,000 in self-liquidating California Veterans Bonds. It is the proceeds from the sale of such bonds which has been used in the past 29 years for investment in farms and homes for California veterans. There has been no cost to the state involved, since the monthly installments which the veterans make on their purchase contracts cover not only the cost of the bonds but also the expense of administration.

Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt voiced a fervent plea Friday night to the voters of California to turn out at the coming primary election and nominate Congresswoman Helen Gahagan Douglas for the U. S. Senate.

"As a citizen of the United States," said Mrs. Roosevelt, "I feel the caliber of representation in the Senate is important to the whole nation, and, for that reason, someone who has shown the integrity and moral fortitude that Mrs. Douglas has shown as representative deserves the support of those of us who care about good government."

In explaining why he is for Congresswoman Douglas, Loren Miller said:

"I know of no person in public life who has a surer grasp of these truths than Helen Gahagan Douglas. I know of no public office in which she could be more effective in translating these truths into a positive program than in the United States Senate."

Former Governor Olson described Mrs. Douglas' chief Democratic opponent, Manchester Boddy, as a candidate brought into the race "by those to whom Franklin Roosevelt was, and Harry Truman is, too radical."

Sheriff Eugene W. Biscailuz, who is seeking re-election in the June primaries as Sheriff of Los Angeles County, is widely recognized as one of the Nation's leading peace officers. Earlier this month he received public recognition of his work when the 36 Exchange Clubs of Los Angeles County awarded him a plaque acknowledging his outstanding contributions to the youth of Los Angeles County.

John C. Doran, candidate for sheriff, states that he always has and always will adhere to the principle that in Los Angeles county and elsewhere there are no "groups"; there are only American citizens and all of them are equal before the law.

"Throughout my six years as head of the Southern Division of the State Department of Correction, all men with whom we dealt were on an equal footing. I did not at any time tolerate discrimination and should I be elected sheriff, there will be none in that department."

Helen Gahagan Douglas doesn't plan to inaugurate a singing campaign, but she did oblige the kids at Aliso Village last week by singing "God Bless America." The youngsters had heard about her career as an opera and concert singer, which she abandoned 13 years ago to go into the political field, and they asked her to sing during a stop in her motorcade tour of East Los Angeles.

Keep America Free

By Capt. Geo. E. Westlake, DSC

"Blessed are the peacemakers for they are the children of God," said Christ. I heard a Catholic priest, Father Duffy, say these words not long ago.

I am loyal to peace, and as a veteran of the past war, my loyalty is very deep, for I saw humanity suffer.

Last Saturday afternoon I took the occasion to watch the "Loyalty Parade," held in the fashionable East 60's of upper Fifth Avenue. This is something new in America, founded since FDR's death.

That parade carried no olive branches, had no joy, was silent, its slogans were not of brotherhood, and it had chains and gibbets, pictures of spiders and rats—and it dragged grimly as if on a funeral march. Very thin lines watched it, mostly empty curbs, there was no applause, no response; the American people stood in clusters and wondered.

City employees with postal workers made up the largest contingents. I can understand the silence of 3,500 postal workers. On their minds was the $64 question—"Who's to be fired, am I to be one of the 10,000 laid off—maybe marching will help me hold my job?"

City payrollers, too, must have gotten marching orders. Most of those were the welfare workers, those who dole out relief to the city's unemployed.

Someone actually counted 16 trade unionists in the parade, while Protestant and Jewish organizations were completely absent.

This could not be peace. There was no song, no joy—and I looked at the feet, shod in shoes so weary, especially those of the mail men; no sharp step there, it was a shuffle.

It was plain from the placards that a war against the Soviet Union could not come too soon for those who founded and organized this parade. The marchers, not many and fewer than in previous parades, had other feelings. Their faces, their bodies, showed how much they wanted a war—listless, not a bright eye, not a shoulder thrown back—the burdens of life were too much with them, and they shuffled.

These are the people of America. They do not want a war and though they might be dragged into a parade, will they be dragged into a war? I think the people gave the best answer, for the parade was a flop, buried by the newspapers in a brief flurry of print. The Loyalists who organized this poor demonstration for war, should remember the fate of the Loyalists of 1776, who also are buried in grim footnotes of our American history.

Because it is from our American history that the world has been given a great gift, born of our people to win the eight hour day—May Day. And today I saw May Day in the lower West Side of New York, among workingmen and women. This was a big parade—it had doves of peace, it had song, and it had joy. It had a response from the people who lined five and six deep at the curb, replied with welcome shouts and applause. Tens of thousands of trade unionists marched, as did their forbears in Chicago, carrying slogans for peace, to outlaw both A and H-bombs, repeal of Taft-Hartley, for an FEPC, for defeat of the fascist Mundt Bill, for no aid to Spain, for jobs, for an understanding with the Soviet Union, for trade with New China. Faces and eyes of the crowds strained to read the slogans. It was the evening hour but crowds of home goers stayed to watch—this was a parade they could understand. It was in terms of their livelihood and peace.

One contingent after another swung past vigorously, light of face and smiling and the bands played—not a single military march, but "Solidarity Forever" and other American workingmen's songs. Five hours long, down 8th Avenue something was (Continued on Page 9)

In a speech of March, 1921, five months after the wifing of the article cited above (speech by Stalin on situation then existing) Stalin further developed his views:

"We see (Soviet) nationalities which possess equality of rights and equal opportunities for development, but which still preserve certain historical heritage of inequality, owing to their economic, political and cultural backwardness. We have received a heritage from the past by virtue of which one nationality, the Great Russian nationality, is more developed politically and industrially than the other nationalities. Hence the existence of actual inequality which cannot be eradicated in one year, but which must be eradicated and eradicated by economic, political and cultural assistance being rendered to the backward nationalities."

"The crux of the national problem in the R.S.F.S.R. (This was before the formation of the USSR. W. M.) lies in the obligation to put an end to that backwardness (economic, political and cultural) of the nationalities to which we have inherited from the past and to afford the backward peoples the opportunity of catching up with Central Russia politically, culturally and economically."

"The fact of the matter is that a number of peoples, mainly Turkic peoples—about thirty million in all—have not passed, have not had time to pass, through the period of industrial capitalism, and consequently have no industrial working class, or practically no industrial working class, and as a result will have to pass from primitive forms of economy to the stage of Soviet economy without passing through the state of industrial capitalism. In order to effect this difficult but by no means impossible operation, we must take into account all the peculiarities of economic life, and even the history, social life, and culture of these peoples. To transplant to the territories of these peoples the measures which were effective and important here, in the center of Russia, would be absurd and dangerous. . . . We must unfailingly take into account all the peculiarities of economic life, class structure, and historical past which mark the border regions. I do not stop to mention the elimination of such incongruities as, for instance, the demand made by the People's Commissariat of Food, in connection with the food quotas, for the delivery of pigs in Kirgizia, where the Mohammedan population have never possessed pigs."

"There is also a third group (Within the 30,000,000 mentioned above. W. M.) embracing not more than eight or ten million people, principally pastoral tribes, in which tribal forms of life are still tenacious and which have not yet taken to agriculture. These consist chiefly of the Kirghiz, the population of the Northern part of Turkestan, the Bashkirs, the Chechens, the Ossets and the Ingushes. As regards this group of nationalities, it is first essential that we provide them with the necessary land."

Books have been written, and many more will be on the precise manner and extent to which this program was carried into effect. The following pages can merely outline what has occurred.

The Uzbek Soviet Socialist Republic

Sweden is universally recognized as one of the most advanced modern nations. In the last generation Asia has witnessed the emergence of a state comparable to Sweden in economy, cultural opportunity and national statehood—Uzbekistan, a land of oases bordering Afghanistan. It is not yet comparable to Sweden in living standard or national income nor will it be for some years to come.

The population of Uzbekistan on the eve of the war was almost exactly the same as that of Sweden—6,300,000—in an area slightly smaller. During the war Uzbekistan cared for 3,000,000 refugees. In 1938 Sweden, which had compulsory education for a century, had 569,000 children in its elementary schools. Uzbekistan, which had 17,000 in 1913, now had 916,000. The higher birth rate in Uzbekistan probably accounts for part of that difference. Before the war, the number of students in Sweden's higher educational institutions was approximately 10,000; Uzbekistan had over 20,000. Before the Revolution, on Uzbek had ever graduated from a university, and only one in a hundred could read and write.

There were also, at last report, 562 movie houses—one for every ten thousand people, and 44 professional theatrical companies. In 1945 the first college-level drama school in Central Asia, authorized to grant degrees in theatrical arts, opened its doors in Tashkent, the Uzbek capital. There were 1,596 public libraries, one in practically every village. The largest, the Uzbek State Library, has grown from 80,000 volumes in 1917, to a million and a half in 140 languages. It possesses a collection of 170,000 Arabic, Persian, and Turkic manuscripts.

Uzbekistan provides most of the Soviet Union's cotton, and cotton is that republic's main crop. The introduction of scientific farming methods doubled the average yield per acre from 1932 to 1938, making it the highest in the world. Mechanization of agriculture exceeds that of any European country. Uzbekistan had more tractors and harvester combines than all of Germany, with twelve times the population. During the war, manpower shortage notwithstanding, new irrigation canals were dug and the total sown acreage increased 30 per cent, as 2,000,000 acres were wrested from the desert. However, the cotton area dropped sharply, grain taking its place. But in 1946 it rose to 90 per cent of prewar, and a new irrigation project to bring under 2,000,000 acres under cultivation by using the water of the Syr Darya River, was begun.

Uzbek industry, under the Tsars consisted only of cotton ginning enterprises. The development of a textile industry had been forbidden for fear of competition with Moscow. Today Uzbekistan produces every requirement of modern society. The first iron-and-steel mill in Central Asia went into operation in 1944. Five hydroelectric plants were built in 1945. By the end of 1944, By that date Uzbek power capacity was almost twice prewar, yet nine more plants were under construction, and the largest of the first five, the Farkhad project, was beginning to develop its projected capacity, second only to the Dnieper Dam in the Soviet Union. The manpower problem on that job was solved by engaging 70,000 farmers on its construction during the winter season, cutting the building time from three years to 14 months. Prior to the war, a hydroelectric plant with a capacity equal to the largest in Sweden had been built on the Chirchik River near Tashkent to power huge chemical industries producing fertilizer.

South African Race Tensions Grow Over New Jimcrow Laws

Capetown—A government system of race segregation, devised to enable 2,000,000 whites to weave a more restricting social and economic net around more than ten million natives, has caused racial tensions to mount in South Africa. Prime Minister Dr. D. F. Malan and his Nationalist Party won election on a frank white supremacy program two years ago, and the new restrictions are defined in the group Areas bill which is before the Parliament.

A white supremacist organization, Malan's Nationalist Party favors residential, territorial, political and industrial separation of the minority whites, and the vast majority of black natives. Large numbers of the non-whites are herded into native "reserves" or territories where they vainly try to escape slow death from starvation by working the worn-out soil.

Many of the natives work at hard labor for pitifully small wages on farms, in gold and diamond mines, on the railroads and in industry for white bosses who regard them as slaves.

More Ghettoes

Natives who live in Cape Province are special targets of the Malan government, which now seeks to deprive them of the privilege of electing three white members to the Assembly and four white members to the Senate. Further, the Malan government will accentuate the black ghettoes by setting aside areas for whites and areas for natives.

Only patterning his racist policy on American Jimcrow traditions, Malan sees himself as the white hope of South Africa. Historically and actually interlopers, despoilers and modern slave-masters, the South African whites following Malan's leadership are coming to slowly realize they are sitting on a lion's back.

Dr. Duke Opens New West Side Health Center

Dr. Baxter Carroll Duke, minister at the Avalon Christian Church, announces opening of the Nature-Cure Health Center at 1637-30 W. Jefferson Blvd. The opening will continue through Sunday and the public is invited to inspect the center between 1 and 7 p.m.

A native of Topeka, Kansas, Dr. Duke was educated at Washburn College, Topeka; George Williams College and Union Theological College of Chicago; and the Los Angeles College of Chiropractic. He holds the degree of Doctor of Chiropractic, and has held a California license since January, 1949.

in peacetime and explosives in war. Also, before the war the manufacture of agricultural machinery had been begun, as well as textile equipment. From 1913 to 1937 Uzbek industry multiplied six times over. During the next three years it doubled again. By the end of 1944, production was two-and-a-half times as great as at the outbreak of war.

As early as August, 1942, 75 per cent of the value created by the Uzbek economy was coming from industry. During the prosperity period of the twenties, American economy was 83 per cent industrial, and German—90. Thus the Uzbeks are the first nation on the Asiatic continent to close the gap in economic development between the East and West. Moreover, half of Uzbek production is now in capital goods, as compared to 14.3 per cent before the war, when textile production loomed largest in the picture.

Industrialization resulted in a rapid growth of cities. Tashkent grew from 324,000 in 1926 to 585,000 in 1938, and is reported to have had almost a million after the influx of war refugees. Ancient Samarkand, with 135,000 people before the war, is now an important center of learning, with four colleges and a university founded in 1948.

A New York Times correspondent, William H. Lawrence, commented after a visit to wartime Tashkent, that "more progress has been made in the 21 years since Soviet rule was firmly established here in 1923 than in all the other years since Alexander the Great first captured Samarkand in 329 B. C. It is no exaggeration to say that conditions here at present are far superior to those in nearby Iran, which has been under the influence of Western civilization for a much longer period."

Even above the achievements of its economy, Uzbekistan can pride itself on its human advancement. In 1943, and Nzbek, Sabir Rakhimov, for the first time rose to the rank of general in the Red Army. One of the most famous dancers in the Soviet Union is an Uzbek, Tamara Khanum. The poet, Sheikh Zade, has been translated into many Soviet languages. In this Moslem land, where it was formerly worth a woman's life to be seen without a veil, a woman, Pasha Makhmudova, is vice-president of the Supreme Soviet. Another, Yuldashbaeva by name, holds the important post of Educational Secretary of the Uzbek Communist Party.

being done for peace. Not only by the marchers, but by the crowds watching, their smiles and bright faces reflected common strength. This parade all could understand.

"Be fore peace, brother—you've got everything to win," and heads bobbed in quick answer.

The city's tabloids, cut keenly by the tremendous outpouring of people, gave the number of marchers as 4,500—this figure in the NY HERALD TRIBUNE could not stomach, it was so rank a lie—so it had to politely report—"Thousands of marchers followed in an orderly profusion of bands, placards and floats."

As the parade entered Union

Square I heard an old woman say from the curb, out of breath and excited, directly to me, "I just can't stand here—I got to join."

She crowded into line besides me, and I put my arm around her.

We were doing something for peace, no matter what they might call us. For this was an American holiday, its birth nourished by the blood of Americans hanged at Haymarket, and I am an American, proud of this holiday now celebrated all over the world to the proud steps of hundreds of millions of feet, honoring my country and my people.

We are the peace-makers, not the warmongers.

WOODLAWN YWCA ACTIVITIES

To provide a holiday for the busy homemaker, relaxation for the tired working girl, fun for the out of school "teenager," enrollments are being taken now for classes in Slyn Gym and Volley Ball to be held on Tuesday and Thursday 10:00 - 1:00 a.m.

Modern Dance and Badminton Tues.-Thurs. evening beginning at 7:30 p.m. Nursery care will be provided on Thursday's to release mothers from "apron string" activities offered all that day.

Swimming and Tennis will also be available to all members at the Downtown Branch, 941 S. Figueroa.

Beginning June 7th, Mrs. Ruth Burney, well-known designer and interior decorator, will conduct a course in lampshade making, designing and coping every Wednesday from 9:00-12:00 noon. Dates for an evening knitting class to be announced later.

All classes will be conducted in seven weeks series and immediate registration is urged!

A Health Examination is required for all activities and is available at the YWCA. Appointments should be made before June 5th by calling AD. 1-4103.

Westiders Elect

The regular meeting of The Westiders Duplicate Bridge Club was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. M. Brown, in 32nd St.

Mr. W. H. Harrison was unanimously re-elected president for the year 1959; Mr. R. Smith, vice president; Mrs. L. Richards, secretary and Mr. L. Thomas, treasurer.

The Mitchell Movement of Duplicate Bridge was played with North and South first being Mr. and Mrs. Adams; East and West, Mrs. E. Romain and Mr. R. Smith.

Dr. Johnson On Staff

Dr. Arthur L. Johnson of Baltimore has become the first colored physician to be accepted for training at the Children's Hospital in Washington, D. C., it is disclosed in the May issue of the Journal of the National Medical Association.

WASHINGTON: Over 200 people were turned away from the 15th Street Presbyterian Church last Friday night as the Inter-cultural Trio appeared in recital under the auspices of the Washington, D. C. Chapter of the Barber Scotia College Alumni, before an estimated crowd of more than 1500.

Policyholders Protest Firing Of Agents By Supreme Liberty

PHILADELPHIA—A delegation of fourteen policyholders visited the Philadelphia office of the Supreme Liberty Life Insurance Company last week to protest the firing of the agents who sold them their policies.

Unable to see the manager, Mr. E. L. Powell, the policyholders spoke to the Company's auditor, Mr. F. Jackson, and left a message for the officers that they are in full support of their agents, want them rehired and paid decent rates of pay.

The agents of the Philadelphia district of the Company were forced to strike after the Company fired 15 workers. Disgusted with working for salaries which have averaged $25 weekly for 65 and more hours of work, the agents recently organized into the Insurance Guild, Local 22 of the United Office and Professional Workers of America, (ind). When asked to enter negotiations for a contract with the union, the Company retaliated with firings, intimidation and threats to "close down."

The strike, 95% solid, is being called to the attention of the community through all-day picketing, leaflet distribution and petitions. Letters, postcards and telephone calls have been pouring into the district and home office in Chicago demanding that the Company settle the strike by negotiating with the union representatives of the employees.

The strikers have received pledges of support from many trade union locals, including the Philadelphia Labor Committee for Negro Rights, an organization of Negro and white trade unionists, members of AFL, CIO and independent unions in this city.

Fabulous Ball Masque

THE ELABORATE HEADRESSES sculptoring the beauty of these fashionable clubwomen were displayed at the Les Dames Bal Masque staged last Sunday at the Rue Angel on the Sunset Strip. Glamour and glitter reigned aplenty as models promenaded before the many guests and judges prominent in the fashion world. Fotoviewed at top is Marion Patterson of The Merry-G-Rounders and Faye Wagner, first prize winner, from the Doll League. Centered are Virginia Johnson representing Iota Phi Lambda Sorority; Marion Patterson of the Merry-Go-Rounders; Ramelle Bagnerise of The Orchid Girls, Ethel Sissle Gordon of The Thirteen Aides; Gertrude Gipson, Bal Masque chairman; Olivette Miller Gordon, third place winner, of the Wilfandels; Anne Mabry, second place winner, of The Narcissus Club; and Faye Wagner from the Doll League. Bottom foto shows Gerry Waugh of The Alpha Wives; Ramelle Bagnerise of The Orchid Girls; and Virginia Johnson representing Iota Phi Lambda Sorority.

Job Counselling

By NELLIE BECKER

If you are in the group of High School graduates who isn't planning to attend college in the fall, it would be wise for you to take a job this summer with an eye towards the future. Perhaps the money you earn this summer waiting tables, clerking in a department store, or working as a counsellor at camp will help defray your school expenses this fall. This additional school training might be in the commercial field, trades, or an accredited school which trains technicians. Additional training is a must no matter what type of job you plan to do in the future, unless you wish to experience the low pay and insecurity of the unskilled worker. You may want to start your apprenticeship training this summer in the building or construction industry. In that case you would talk to members of your family and friends who are active in the local unions and find out which local would give you a chance to start your apprenticeship training. The Urban League of the California State Employment agency might also help you select the job which offers the most opportunities and the union which will give it to you. A four year apprenticeship training is required of plasterers, plumbers, painters, tile setters, metal worker, and cabinet makers.

Frank Wiggins school offers excellent training in trades and power machine operating. Since California is the second leading clothing industry in the United States, there is always a demand for this kind of work. If you learn to operate two or more types of power machines, you won't have to worry about getting a job.

Trained diesel and automobile mechanics are still being called for. All-Round machinists are the highest paid of the shop employees. To find out about this, write or visit your state employment agency or your local union because this job requires four years apprenticeship, too. Of course you realize that you might get the run around, so it might be wise for you to attend a trade school and that way make your contacts.

Many jobs are now being offered by large firms to Negro salesmen. If you work hard the commission is rewarding. A pleasant personality and a liking for people will help you make good in this field. Department and retail stores usually hire young people during the summer months. There is a chance of working up to a higher position in the store if you do your job well. At this point I might add that no matter how small the job if you put your best into it, your employee will promote you quicker than the guy who does only what he has to do and then does it half-heartedly.

To be a radio or telegraph operator you must have a license. Trade schools and correspondence courses will provide the necessary training. You must have good language usage, be able to type quickly and accurately. You may seek employment in the merchant marine, and radio and telegraph stations or in aviation.

There is a demand for I.B.M. operators. The training is limited to a few. Metropolitan Evening school offers courses in this. Along with this training you should take a course in shorthand and bookkeeping. This would increase your chances of advancing on the job. Trained stenographers and bookkeepers are always in demand.

Hospital still need laboratory technicians and x-ray technicians. Be sure the school you attend is accredited. If you would like to be a nurse but can't afford it practical nursing courses are offered at the junior college level and at the County Hospital.

Mrs. Katherine Alexander, who holds a very responsible position at the State employment agency thought that it would be a good idea if the different organizations would have as a part of their program, taking High School Students on tours through steel plants, apparel centers, department stores, insurance companies, airplane industries and watching the different operations which go into the construction of a building. This would not only give the student an insight into the job possibilities but would show the managers that we are interested as well as providing that necessary contact.

Silver Spurs Ride With Leo Carrillo In Outdoor Parade

The Silver Spurs Riding club, composed of twelve picked members and top riding group in our community, drew rounds of applause from the crowds that lined the streets at the Outdoor Life and Health Association parade this past Sunday.

The Spurs rode with Leo Carrillo, famed motion picture artist and native Californian. Their beautiful Western attire evoked many favorable comments.

Army-Navy Wives Hold Regular Meet

Army and Navy Retired Men's Wives club met at their regular meeting place, 1000 E. 45th street, on Mother's Day. Fifty dollars was voted out for the Twenty-eighth Street Branch Y.M.C.A. Chaplain Hattie Barnes, honored as club's Mother, received many beautiful gifts and cards. Guest mothers were Mrs. Cora Handy, Georgia Broadnax and Emma Bell.

Mrs. Mary Carter read a paper defining the name of mother.

Birthdays celebrated and gifts received by: Ann Turner, Beulah Harper, Easter Powell, Clemmie Marshall, Mary Carter and Mamie Ricks. Hostesses Heard, Harper and Mabel Johnson served a delicious repast.

Les Dames Spectacular, Brilliant Bal Masque Attracts Top Hollywood Fashion Designers and Milliners

By PHYLLIS SCOTT

Fabulous in design and creation, fabulous in staging, the Les Dames "Bal Masque" added a dramatic note to recent successes of this club. Their versatility, their uniqueness, their incomparable capacity for success have made them one of Los Angeles top social clubs in the short span of four years.

So spectacular was this show that leading Hollywood designers and milliners said they had never seen any production like it by any organization in the city.

Prize Winners

The first prize of fifty dollars went to the Doll League Charity club for their entry of a huge doll bedecked in flowers galore. This beautiful head piece was modeled by Fay Wagner and created by Nellie Brown and Ruth Ball. Marion Jackson heads the Doll League.

Placing second was The Narcissus Club, which is headed by Anna Mabry and represented by Blanch Norman, who wore a "Miss Liberty" headdress modeled after the Statue of Liberty. Its creator was Alpha Gallie.

Olivette Miller Gordon from the Wilfandel club won third place for their "Miss Temptation" entry, designed and created by Bessie Miller. Della Williams is president of the Wilfandels.

Honorable Mentions

Honorable mention went to the Merry-Go-Rounders entry of a Merry-go-round headdress modeled by Marion Patterson and designed by Melonoe Blocker; Iota Phi Lambda Businesswomen's Sorority was represented by Virginia Johnson, who designed and created her own Silver Plume set in rhinestones with a rhinestone masque; Ramelle Bagnierise of the Orchid Girls modeled a "Springtime In Paris" creation by Darling and dress by Martini; and Ethel Gordon represented The Thirteen Aides with a beautiful Peacock feather head piece created by Gladys Peoples.

The Alpha Wives, which is headed by Marion Maddox, entered Jerry Waugh, who modeled "The Pagoda," a creation by Jack's of Hollywood.

Top Judges

Judges Kenneth Hopkins, a representative of Lillian Nisolski; Eddie Stevenson, 20th Century-Fox designer; Will Allen, manager of Spellman Fur company; and Mildred Blount, top milliner of New York and Beverly Hills; based their selections on originality, theme and beauty.

Supper Guest Stars

Preceding the show the guests were entertained by Jesse Cryor, top songwriter and vocalist; Charles Owen, Evelyn Royal, Lillian Randolph, and Ray Burroughs, female impersonator, who gaged their talents to the music of Charlie Davis Trio.

This First Annual Bal Masque by the Les Dames Social and Charity club sustained and entranced the audience with its brilliant spectacle. Les Dames is headed by Lillian Randolph, radio and screen star.

LOOKING BACK—Just two years ago when Howard Morehead was photographically young he shot this picture of Raymond Bowen, who was fresh from the University of Michigan, and Clayton Moore, who was attending UCLA. These two young students will graduate next fall.

Merry-Go-Rounders Cop Honors At Bal Masque Show Sunday

A generous round of applause and honors went to The Merry-Go-Rounders Club last Sunday when Marion Patterson, one of its members, modeled the creation of Melonoe Blocker in the headdress ball of The Les Dames on the Sunset Strip.

And honors will come to you too, when you attend the Benefit Cocktail Dansante of The Merry-Go-Rounders on Sunday, June 18 at 1919 So. Harvard Blvd. Guests will not only help to send some teenage boy or girl to camp but will also join in the fun for an afternoon of frolic to the music of a name trio.

Members of this popular social club are Hortense Alewine, Corinne Ashby, Joan Barker, Nellie Becker, Edna DesVigne, Clara Fentress, Leonelle Hutton, Evelyn Mitchell, Marion Patterson, Deal Reese, Rosemary Shomberg, Earline Shaw, Phyllis Scott, Earline Tate, Jean Watkins, Mary Francis Wells, and Wanda Williams.

Mother of 1950

The Women's Society of Christian Service of Wesley Methodist church conferred the honor of being the outstanding Mother of 1950 upon Mrs. Lillie B. R. Baker, secretary of student work and member of the Senior Choir. She resides at 1161 East 47th Pl.

On Mother's Day she shared the rostrum with the prelate at both morning and evening services. She is very active in fraternal, Federated and Civic work and is the mother of Eugene and Freddie Baker of the Jackson Trio. She is grandmother to five grandchildren.

Mrs. Matthews Of Berkeley On Visit Here

Mrs. Ivah Matthews of 3031 Dohr Street, Berkeley, is visiting

Los Angeles for a week. With her is her granddaughter, Miss Jane Gray of Oakland. Miss Gray has been a medical laboratory technician at Highland Hospital in Oakland for the past four years.

Mrs. Matthews is at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Lillian Sweeney, of 2702 Harcourt Avenue. Her granddaughter is stopping at the Watkins Hotel. Mrs. Matthews visited Mrs. Charlotte A. Bass, editor and publisher of the California Eagle, during which time they renewed a friendship that has been blossoming for many years.

Mr. Roscoe C. Brown, who has been confined to his bed since last week is improving under the splendid care of his wife, Mrs. Josephine Brown.

Velma Donaldson Chooses Soft Pastel Rainbow Motif For Her Wedding Reception

One of the most colorful, unique and festive occasions of the spring season was the wedding reception of Velma McRae Jackson Donaldson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Percy Jackson of 2624 Decatur Street, and Harold Donaldson, son of Mrs. Lucille Donaldson at the Northside YWCA on Sunday afternoon, May 28 from 4 to 6 p.m.

Snapdragons, sweetpeas and all kinds of spring flowers in profusion transformed the reception room of the YWCA into an enchanted garden in color, loveliness and fresh spring beauty.

In the receiving line were Velma, the bride, in a French Room creation of pale yellow marquisette over taffeta. The gown, cut on the most youthful lines, was made with a tight fitting, strapless bodice trimmed at the neckline with white net ruffles. These ruffles were the most striking part of the bride's gown. The skirt was wide and fitted perfectly. A white orchid corsage and three strands of pearls completed the bride's attire.

The bride's mother chose one of the most artistic and distinctive gowns for her daughter's reception. Her dress was also a youthful, salmon pink marquisette featured with a tight-fitting rainbow colored taffeta bodice, and a long full skirt of marquisette over a white taffeta. Underskirt which ended at the hemline with two distinctive ruffles of salmon pink and white. Her shoulder corsage was a purple orchid.

The groom's mother chose for her son's reception a gown of black and white crepe. The bodice of white crepe was designed in front with a flower design of crystal beads, the skirt was full and long. Her corsage was of pastel colored carnations, sweetpeas and snapdragons.

The bridegroom and his father-in-law, looking like exact replicas of Esquire pictures, chose to wear dark trousers, white jackets and the traditional white shirt and black bow ties. The appearance of this suave, sophisticated duo of manpower in the receiving line certainly showed that they had given as much attention to their attire as the ladies.

The bride's maternal aunts: Mrs. Paul, Dorothy Beck Allen and Mrs. Virgil, Evelyn Beck Williams chose such gorgeous gowns for their niece's reception. Mrs. Allen, petite and gracious, was adorable in aqua blue taffeta, made with a tight-fitting bodice and a sweetheart neckline, the long, full skirt was draped on the left side and caught up with a spray of lovely roses. Mrs. Williams chose a strapless white taffeta and net creation. She was simply stunning and striking, making many wonder if she was also a new bride. Fuchsia gloves and a crystal necklace completed her outfit.

The bride's sister, Jean, chose a dark blue sheer frock over print taffeta for her sister's reception. She capped the whole affair by wearing two of those expensive purple orchids as her shoulder corsage. She, her aunt Dorothy, and Mrs. Alberta Jones were floating hostesses. Her aunt Evelyn was on the door and presented the guests to the receiving line.

The bride's table was beautiful and breathtakingly artistic. It was covered with a gorgeous lace cloth and centered with a four-tiered wedding cake atop of which stood an encircled miniature bride and groom under a wedding bell. Beside the cake stood a bowl of vari-colored snapdragons and sweetpeas which lent just the right note of color to the refreshments and silver appointments. Miss Barbara Johnson, chum of the bride, Mesdames Cloma Scott and Nannie Gaskins served at the bride's table.

Miss Beverly Pollard kept the bride's book. Mrs. Julia Avant, sister of the groom in a pink taffeta frock presided at the punch bowl. A large bow across the back of her full flowing skirt was the only decoration for her very pretty dress.

Other assistants were Mesdames Margaret Smith, Gwendolyn Turney, Helen Ejan Curren and Miss Barbara Wilkerson. Miss Dolores Taylor was soloist and Miss Katie Billingsley presided at the piano for this occasion.

Out of town guests who came for the reception were Mesdames Wade Ellis of St. Louis Mo., and Marie Wilson of Bristol, Okla. Mr. and Mrs. Orlando Beck, maternal grandparents of the bride, were as beaming and happy as if they were newlyweds themselves. Mr. Beck has just returned from Philadelphia where he received the thirty-third degree of Masonry on May 8th.

The bride will graduate from Central High School on June 10th. This couple received many beautiful and useful gifts but the greatest wish of relatives and friends is unending happiness for them.

Harmony Duplicate Plan Sweepstake Event This Month

Close on the heels of their recent successful "Y" tournament, the Harmony Duplicate Bridge Club announces their Mammoth Sweepstake event, prime number individual in one session to be held Saturday, June 4th, in the Golden West Bridge rooms located at 1054 East 54th street. Hair Secret

By Nina Temple

There are hundreds of secrets that have to do with making the hair more lovely, longer, and thicker. But there are still a few more wrinkles we can learn from beauties here and there whose hair is a triumph of magnificence. Following the directions given here will lead you to this new way of hair beauty. At night, rub into the scalp a few drops of olive oil, massaging well. Follow this with a few drops of lemon juice, with a rotary motion. Let this remain on the scalp all night. Then, shampoo in the morning. Repeat every two weeks. The hair will then take on a new growth and be relieved of dandruff.

PYRAMID SEMI-FORMAL

One of the top social events of the season was the Semi-Formal given last Saturday evening by the Pyramid pledge club of Delta Sigma Theta Sorority, at the swank Valley Park County Club in Sherman Oaks. Theme of the dance "Night in Hawaii," was clearly shown by the souvenir leis and the festive atmosphere.

Among the many beautiful gowns worn, one intriguing and clever creation by Wendolyn Franklin was a white printed organza strapless gown featuring a very full shirred skirt. It called for many a glance. Caught a glimpse of Angie Carter and Joyce Robinson also looking very chic.

Minnie Holmes and Raymond Johnson were enjoying themselves tremendously between gazes as was Clarence Watson and Vivian (can't remember her last name). Stanley Robertson was seen absorbing everything along with the very popular "Omega Man," Howard Morehead.

One couldn't overlook the fine music of Jeep Smith's band. He knows what to play and how to play it. The vocalist who could be truly described as the second Mr. "B. E." subdued the most devout jitterbug.

The Pyramids are to be commended for not only a lavish event but an enjoyable one as well.

BEST WISHES IN ORDER

Had the pleasure of meeting Emil Dyson, the five week winner on the Horace Heidt show. If I'm right you will soon be hearing Emil on recording.

Here's hoping he makes the top. Congratulations are in order for Fritz Banks and Emma Williams who became Mr. and Mrs. over the week end. May you have many years of marital bliss. Congrats also go to Thomas and Mildred McGhee who became the proud parents of a 7 pound son on May 17th.

Can't fail to mention my adorable nieces, Clarice Farmer, who will celebrate her first birthday June 4th along with 12 other tots. Happy Birthday, Clarice, may you have many many more.

Iota Phi Lambda Sorority are celebrating their Founder's Day June 1, at Soror Gladys Stafford's home. This will be a closed affair for sorority members only.

Looking forward to the Ivy Leaf's Lua which promises to be great.

Till then.

SHARPS & FLATS

By
- ALBERT J. McNEIL

Music Critic of the California Eagle

(Editor's Note: Dith Albert McNeil's departure for Europe this week it is a pleasure to have the Celebrated International Tenor, Ivan Harold Browning, to be Guest Columnist for The California Eagle and read his brilliant critique of the outstanding history making concert last Sunday afternoon conducted by Mr. McNeil as his last performance on the Pacific Coast this fall.)

By Ivan Harold Browning BRAHMS REQUIEM BRILLIANT PERFORMANCE

As I sat silently and with reverence in the Independent church of Christ here in Los Angeles listening to one of the master works of the great German Composer Johannes Brahms, I could not help from appreciating the fact more than ever that the Power of the Almighty God lies in Prayer; and those in death who's names were listed on the programme must have greatly enjoyed (along with those of us present) an afternoon of heavenly bliss.

In all my years as an ardent admirer of the beautiful German Requiem; and having heard it in 1926 in Hamburg, Germany, with a chorus of two hundred voices (in German) and once in the great Albert Hall, London; yesterday I immediately thought isn't it marvelous that this church choir with limited voices and experience is capable of rendering with such deep spiritual feeling and success the music of such grand magnitude.

Time nor space will permit me to delve into each section of this very fine music as sung by this unusual Cathedral Choir; however, Georgia Ann Laster (as always) was superb and a joy to listen to. Her sweet, soprano voice thrilled the vast audience; and Cecil Doty (baritone) with an excellent voice should not allow his emotional feelings to over shadow his diction and that alone will always impede his progress.

Jacqueline Freese, pianist, was a most capable accompanist; and of course Fannie Evelyn Benjamin at the organ console played with her usual finesse and interpretation as only she can.

Albert McNeil, young conductor, easily takes his place among the finest musicians of this day and time and with a magnetic musical personality, he is able to bring out every ounce of talent and ability from the very depths and soul of his singers. He is to be congratulated on his untiring efforts in making this a truly memorable afternoon of real music.

I want to take this opportunity to wish him lots of success and happiness as he flies through the air with the greatest of ease en route to Europe where he will continue to enhance his (already) great musical ability. I would have appreciated the orchestra far more had there been more of them in numbers and less out of tune playing, especially against the perfect tones of Miss Laster.

Movements two-five and six were very outstanding indeed and after Ihr habt unu Traurigkeit (beautifully done) Denn wir haben heir was just about the climax to a wonderful afternoon and with the closing strains of the No. 7 chorus one left this packed auditorium fully aware of the importance of the lovely poem of Selig sind die Toten: Blessed are the dead which die in the Lord; from henceforth saith the spirit, that they rest from their labors, and that their works follow after them.

We regret that we were unable to hear the fifteen minute organ recital given by the internationally known organist Dr. Richard Key Biggs.

A special bow to Wendell James Franklin P.R.C., for his clever staging and producing the entire affair.

Muriel Rahn to Sing Lead in Modern Opera "The Barrier"

NEW YORK — Muriel Rahn, brilliant opera and concert soprano, whose performance in the

Ruth Myatt In June Recital At St. Pauls

The Young Women's Auxiliary of St. Paul Baptist Church, will present Miss Ruth Davis Myatt, Lyric Soprano, Thursday, June 8, in the sanctuary, 21st and Naomi, at 8:15 p.m.

A new star in her profession, Miss Myatt's voice and personality have won much acclaim.

Miss Wyatt was recently the winner of a scholarship over a large number of contestants, at the Metropolitan Academy of Music and Arts.

Miss Myatt's accompanist Miss Grace Madden, daughter of the famous New York Concert Baritone, George S. Madden, has been prominent in the music field in New York and Los Angeles.

modern opera, "The Barrier," at Columbia University last January drew raves from the major critics of the New York dailies and magazines, will move to the Ann Arbor Music and Drama Festival the week of June 5th, when "The Barrier" settles down for an eight day run under the auspices of the University of Michigan.

Miss Rahn portrayed the leading role in the music drama which has a mixed white and Negro cast. "The Barrier" is expected to open on Broadway next fall.

On May 24, Miss Rahn appeared in concert at Emory Hall in Cincinnati, Ohio, under the auspices of the Cincinnati Committee on Human Relations in an effort to focus attention on the exclusion policy toward Negro students at the Cincinnati College of Music and the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music.

The American Red Cross celebrated its sixty-ninth birthday last Sunday.

Negro Art Theatre Play

When Ramon Navarro built the intimate theatre with full-scale stage on the grounds of his home on West 22nd street, the Negro Art Theatre was not in existence. Nevertheless, what Ramon Navarro planned and built is just what the Negro Art Theatre needs for its rapidly developing experimental theatre.

Currently playing Golden Boy by Clifford Odets, which opened last Thursday, the Negro Art Theatre has won the unanimous praise of the critics for a masterful presentation of a powerful play. Performances will continue indefinitely on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday nights of each week.

The cast for the Odets play, in the order of speech, includes: Joel Fluellen, Juanita Moore, Jimmy Payne, Dave Fresco, George Hamilton, Emmett Smith, Bill Walker, Marjorie Elliot, Bernard Hamilton, Fred O'Neal (noted screen player and member of the American Negro Theatre of New York), Peter Virgo, Irving Mosely, Frank Greenwood, Joe Brown, Sanford Siegel, Louis Hunt and Miles Dickson.

Phoebe Brand directed, and Les Marslof designed the sets. Lighting is by Jeanne Landau and Myrtle Pitts designed the costumes. Miles Dickson is stage manager and Bernard Hamilton is the assistant. Nadine Cole is House Manager and Frances Williams is chairman of the Production Committee.

The Negro Art Theatre is located at 2265 West 22nd street. Reservations can be made by calling RE. 2-9374.

Laura Butler's Kiddie Review

Under the sponsorship of the National Council of Negro Women Lauretta Butler will present her kiddies review, Kiddies Follies of 1950 at the Embassy Auditorium, Thursday night, June 23. These reviews are always looked forward to as a wonderful demonstration of how these talented and well trained children can perform.

Mrs. Butler, whose school is well and nationally known, has devoted many years to the training of children in the arts of song, dance rhythm, drama, poise and discipline.

Mrs. Butler, with her dance teachers, Misses Harriet Flowers and Jacqueline Freeze, have been busy in the preparation of this production for many months, and have announced that this will be the most outstanding production they have ever presented.

The children, ranging in ages from three years to early teenagers, will be presented in many new features in terpichoreon art, including a Spanish ballet, toe and interpretative dancing. The production will be beautifully costumed with lavish stage settings.

Mrs. Anne O'Farrell, president of the local chapter of the National Council of Negro Women, has appointed the following committee for this affair: Mrs. Marie Meridith, chairman, Mesdames Edith Dobson, Lillian Sanford, Victoria Nelson, Lillian Lee, Anne Walker, Rita Burney, Elsie Foster, Margaret Day Jones, Gertrude Nasri, Veronica Bland, Freida Foster, Annabelle Cleveland, Dr. Vada Somerville, Zephyr Gill and Florence Reed.

Be sure and put this date on your calendar, as you will not want to miss this gala affair.

Tickets for valuable door prizes will be presented all who attend.

Todd Duncan Heads June Stars For Telephone Hour Series

Featuring four popular guest soloists on the weekly Telephone Hour broadcasts during June, the Bell System has scheduled outstanding musical programs for the radio audience, it was announced by Earl S. Ricker, manager of The Pacific Telephone and Telegraph Company. The broadcasts are heard each Monday at 9 p.m. over NBC stations.

June guests will be Todd Duncan, Jose Iturbi, Igor Gorin, and Zino Francescatti. Accompaniment for the artists, as well as special music, will be provided by the Bell Telephone Orchestra, conducted by Donald Voorhees.

Duncan, famous baritone, currently starring in the Broadway musical play, "Lost in the Stars," makes his first appearance on The Telephone Hour June 5. One of his selections will be "I Got Plenty O' Nuttin'" from the folk opera "Porgy and Bess."

Iturbi, famous not only as a pianist but conductor and motion picture star as well, returns to The Telephone Hour June 12 after an absence of several years. To highlight his program he has chosen two popular Chopin selections, "Polonaise in A Flat" and "Minute Waltz."

Pianists Featured This Season On Hollywood Bowl Programs

During the 1950 season of Symphonies under the Stars which opens July 7 with the opera "Faust," five pianists will be featured as soloist on varied programs in Hollywood Bowl.

Artur Rubinstein, Oscar Levant, Jose Iturbi, Dorothy Eustis and Marco Wolf, Jr., are the keyboard artists who will be heard in the 1950 season.

Three of the artists (Rubinstein, Levant and Miss Eustis) will be on programs conducted by Dr. Artur Rodzinski Aug. 1, July 5 and July 13 respectively. Iturbi will conduct the program which features him as soloist Aug. 22.

Rubinstein is returning for his tenth consecutive season and will play the popular and exciting concerto No. 1 in B Flat

Minor by Peter Ilitch Tchaikowsky.

The 29th season of summer concerts will continue for eight weeks.

Vivian Weaver Scores Hit On Concert Tour

Virginia Weaver, scored a hit on a 200 mile tour of cities and colleges of the South during the past 3 weeks. Miss Weaver who is one of the country's greatest exponents of the harp for concerts and recitals, left a trail of admirers in cities from St. Louis to Port Arthur, and from Florida to the District of Columbia.

Tchaikovsky Pathétique On Columbia Record Parade Sunday

Herbert von Karajan will conduct the Vienna Philharmonic Orchestra in a recorded performance of the Third Movement from Tchaikovsky's Symphony "Pathétique" on the "Columbia LP Record Parade" on Sunday, June 4 (CBS, 1:30 to 2:00 p.m., EDT). This recording of the Symphony No. 6 in B Minor has just been released by Columbia (ML 4299).

June Christy Featured In Kenton Concert Sat. Night

June Christy, rated the nation's top band vocalist for four years in a row before embarking on her career as a single, will again be featured with Stan Kenton when he presents his "Innovations in Modern Music" at the Hollywood Bowl on Saturday night, June 3.

Having originally joined the Kenton band in early 1945, June Christy rose, via a series of hit records, to the number one spot her first year with the band and has since remained there. One of the stalwarts in the Kenton organization since that time, June went out on her own when Stan was forced into temporary retirement last year and, having appeared in the country's top clubs and theaters during that time, the cute, blonde chanteuse seems to be well-established as a star in her own right. However, she consented to appear with Kenton on his current tour.

Big Names Pack Timmie Rogers Cafe Debut

NEW YORK CITY—A Who's Who of showbusiness took over the ringside tables last Thursday night when Timmie Rogers returned to Cafe Society Downtown with a name-heavy show including such musical toppers as Teddy Wilson, Mabel Scott and the J. C. Heard combo.

Movie star Albert Dekker, who is currently starring in the Broadway hit, "Death of a Salesman," Jane Pickens, Erskine Hawkins, Robert Merrill, Errol Garner, Savannah Churchill and a host of other statellites including the great Frankie Laine, dotted the ringside table. Frankie, who just recorded Timmie's newest composition, "If I Were You Baby, I'd Love Me," showed up to hear the comedian's parody on Lane's hit recording of "Call of the Wild Goose."

Betty Martina Talented Dance Instructor

HOLLYWOOD—Betty Martina, noted dancer and teacher of Spanish-Moroccan ancestry, who is returning to teaching children and grownups in the fine points of skilled and graceful dancing, is reportedly being readied for an auspicious screen career. Miss Martina is being considered for a stellar dancing role as a possible contract choreographer.

The talented dancer is noted for her highly skilled artistry in several departments of the dance. Her ballet numbers were always noted for the ease and graceful manner of execution. She is equally at home with the Latin American dances, scores of which she has created. These creations were instrumental in gaining her membership in the Dancing Masters of America Society.

Dinah Washington Set For L. A. Date

LOS ANGELES—The stage is all set for a hearty welcome to Dinah Washington, the "Queen of the Juke Boxes" when the popular singer bows in for a two week stint at the Oasis Club here next Friday night.

The appearance of the recording star at the popular nightery marks a continuation of the recent inaugurated policy of headlining shows with the most provocative "names" in the entertainment blue book.

NEGRO ART THEATRE'S PLAY PROVES EXCELLENT DRAMATIC FARE

By Gertrude Gipson

The Negro Art Theatre much as a forceful and timely bit of theatre.

Thursday night with the long awaited melodrama "Golden Boy" by Clifford Odets. Because of the level of the performances turned in by every member of the cast, this writer finds it really quite difficult to single out any one for special praise. However, we believe special mention should be given Juanita Moore, particularly because of her first real adventure on the stage and secondly because of her wonderful performance as Lorna Moon. Adding much was the performance of Peter Virgo as Eddie Fuselli.

"Golden Boy" presents an opportunity for the Negro Art Theatre to display the many talents of its members. Directed by Phoebe Brand it comes through Nevertheless, it seems to me that the production would have had greater value if some of the lines had been changed in order to give the play the special kind of flavor needed for a Negro cast, supposedly portraying Negro situations.

Negro Art Theatre, convincingly demonstrated that "actors are actors," and that good actors can present good theatre without regard to race or color. We might suggest to the group that they definitely consider doing some of the works by Negro playwrights and plays on the Negro theme.

The cast included: Joel Fluellen, Juanita Moore, Jimmy Payne, Dave Fresco, George Hamilton, Emmett Smith, Bill Walker, Marjorie Elliot, Bernard Hamilton, Fred O'Neal, Peter Virgo, Irving O'Seely, Frank Greenwood, Joe Brown, Sanford Siegel, Louis Hunt and Miles Dickson. Settings by Les Marsolf, lights by Jeanne Landau, stage manager Miles Dickson, Asst. Stage mgr. Bernard Hamilton, costumes by Myrtle Pitts and Frances Williams, production committee chairman.

BILL JOHNSON and his "Musical Notes" . . . a smart combo of all-stars . . . including Lonnie Slaphey, piano; Clifton Best, guitar; Jimmie Robinson, bass; Gus Gordon, drums; Bill Johnson, saxophone, composer-arranger-singer. These lads have grown exceedingly popular, touring from coast to coast and Canada, among the swanky society set. They just opened an engagement at Wilmington, Delaware, at a white nitery.

THE JACKSON TRIO . . . Composed of Freddie Jackson, Frank White and Eugene Jackson are back again after a very successful tour from Honolulu and are now appearing at the Malibar. Soon to be heard are their latest recordings, Seal Bop, I Borrowed The Moon, and the Ink Song.

Bill Johnson's Musical Notes Blaze Trail

By FLOYD SNELSON

NEW YORK—Bill Johnson and his "Musical Notes" have a host of fans among both races, from coast to coast and in Canada, where they have been quite successful. Many have not heard so much about these clever lads, comparable to some of the big headliners, nonetheless they have been working 50 weeks of the year in numerous clubs and swanky bistros, and hold their own spotlight, with public acclaim.

The Musical Notes have appeared at the Regal, Chicago; Savoy, Boston; Billy Berg's Hollywood; Brown Derby, Washington; Frolic Show Bar, Detroit; Anchor Cafe, Buffalo; and the Down Beat, with Billie Holiday, and Cafe Society, in Greenwich Village, New York City.

Bill Johnson, leader of the Musical Notes, has been prominent in music; he penned "Tuxedo Junction" one of our standard classics, while he was with Erskine Hawkins' Band. He is a product of Marquette University and the Musical Conservatory of Wisconsin. During his professional career he has been connected with numerous name bands, and specialized in arrangements.

HAS SECOND ROLE

HOLLYWOOD—Sally Forrest has been set for her second role at Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, in "Vengeance Valley." She'll join Burt Lancaster, Robert Walker and Joanne Dru in the action-filled outdoor epic.

Broadway Comeback

NEW YORK—Gertrude "Tweet, Tweet" Saunders, noted blues singer, whose dancing the Charleston and singing "Sweet Georgia Brown" in the musical show "Runnin' Wild" is destined for a comeback on Broadway, according to recent indications.

The once famous soubrette of a few seasons back when Negro show biz was at its peak, Gertie was one of the most spectacular actresses of the golden era.

Miss Saunders will be seen in a brand new all-sepia musical show "Kentucky Sue" now in rehearsal, under the direction of Chappie Chapple, well known actor-producer, and scheduled for opening next month. After a long absence from Broadway, Miss Saunders returned from the West Coast, after being engaged in motion picture work in Hollywood, and has accepted a major role in the new vehicle.

It will be remembered by many that Gertrude Saunders is conceded to be the originator of the "Boop da Boop" jazz obligato made famous by Helen Kane; and more recently a novelty so prevalent with such stars as Judy Canova, Ella Fitzgerald, Rose "Chi Chi" Murphy and others.

Miss Saunders introduced the novelty "Tweet Tweet Tweet" at the old Grand Theatre, Chicago, when she was in vaudeville, which is just a melodious expression of happiness and elation. Gertie shared honors with the late Florence Mills, who were the first Negro stars (female) whose names were illuminated in the gay white way, when she was appearing at Reisenwebbers, Columbus Circle.—Floyd Snelson, Public Relations.

Hawkins To Headline Apollo Theatre Show

NEW YORK CITY—Erskine Hawkins, whose solid music has won him a top reputation, will bring his ideas and his Tuxedo Junction orchestra to the Apollo Theatre, for one week beginning June 2. The Hawk has long been a perennial favorite at this vaudeville mecca and his appearance always guarantees a high water mark in entertainment.

The Hawk has become one of the most controversial figures in popular music today because of his fight to revive interest in dancing by reviving "melody" music. And it was because of this interest that RCA Victor selected the Hawk's orchestra to record the W. C. Handy album in their recent million dollar "Revive the Dance Band" campaign.

JOEL TURNER . . . Versatile artist who can do just about anything has decided to turn aside from dancing for a while and will go in the Oasis with the Dinah Washington show as Emcee.

How to Strengthen the United Nations

The following is a radio address which Henry A. Wallace, leader and candidate for president of the Progressive Party, made after the Baltic airplane incident. He faces facts realistically, and offers very good suggestions for Truman, Stalin, and Attlee, who would do well to consider.

I hope all the parents and grandparents in the world are as deeply concerned about the Baltic airplane incident as I. When United States sailors lose their lives in foreign waters, it so often means trouble later on. "Remember the Maine" was the battle cry half a century ago. The sinking of the Panay in China did not itself provoke the war with Japan but it told all informed people of serious trouble ahead. Our hearts go out to the sorrowful families of the boys who lost their lives, but our deepest concern now is with the 40 million families in the U.S.A. whose lives would be shaken in a thousand ways if the Navy privateer plane should prove to be the same kind of an recursor as the Maine and the Panay.

Neither the Russian nor the American people want a third world war. Even less do the people of western Europe, Japan and China. How to mobilize the tremendous peace sentiment of the world for effective action through a stronger U. N. is the problem. To my mind, the most significant event of recent months was Trygve Lie's statement just a week ago. Speaking as Secretary General of the world organization, he stated that he hoped to meet with the British Foreign office in late April and that he would be available for consultation with Moscow officials in May. Now it appears that he will also be meeting with the French. The day before yesterday he called upon President Truman.

It was last February that Trygve Lie became so greatly concerned with the impasse in the United Nations that he came out for continuous negotiations between the great powers, both inside the United Nations and outside the United Nations. I liked it, and the fathers and mothers of the world liked it, when he said, "The United Nations stands for the negotiation and conciliation of differences."

Trygve Lie has been a deeply troubled man ever since the Soviet Union began walking out on all meetings where the Nationalist Chinese were present. He hasn't taken either the Russian or the American point of view, but he has been concerned with the fact that 450 million Chinese today have no effective voice in the U. N. Until those 450 million Chinese are represented, Trygve Lie knows that in form as well as in fact he is serving a Divided Nations Organization, not a United Nations.

To meet the apparently insoluble problems like the atom bomb, the hydrogen bomb, bacteriological warfare, and the question of the representation of the Chinese people, Trygve Lie asked that the Security Council of the U. N. at once begin holding meetings at stated intervals. To give these meetings real importance, he would have either the foreign ministers or the heads of state present. The supreme objective would be to build a 20-year peace plan between the east and west. The number-one citizen of the world looking toward laying down his job next January blames the great powers for not conducting more real negotiations during the past three years.

The peace loving people of the United States hope and pray that Trygve Lie will talk to both Attlee and Stalin about a program which will life fear from the hearts of the British, the Russians and the Americans. The first step is to get Stalin and Atee to agree to preliminary meetings with Truman, to be followed by security council meetings as soon as the Chinese problem has been solved. It is Trygve Lie's job to instill into the heads of state a determined will for successful negotiations. Too many meetings have failed because they were planned that way.

We, the peace loving people of the world, can take courage as we examine the increasingly desperate plight in which Stalin, Atlee and Truman find themselves. The beginning of wisdom for each of these three men is to understand realistically what events are going to do to them unless they pull sincerely together to build a really strong United Nations.

First, let us see what Stalin is up against. In order to build atomic bombs and equip the largest and most powerful army in the world, he has had to give his people a lower standard of living than Russian resources make possible. He knows, and his people know, that the cold war and economic pressure from the U.S.A. have resulted in his people buying only about three-fourths as much as they could reasonably expect in a peaceful world. While the Soviet triumph has been great in China, its position has been weakened by the rise of Titoism in Yugoslavia and the possibility that it may spread to the other Balkan states, Czechoslovakia and Hungary. Certainly these countries will not want to go as far as Russia in suppressing small farms and small businesses. In Russia proper, the tremendous atomic and military effort, together with the decentralization which is necessary in order to prevent damage from an American atomic bomb attack, places a great burden on her transportation system. Her roads are about like ours were in 1900 and there is little money for modernizing them as long as the cold war continues. While the great majority of the Russian people support Stalin, his internal problem must be very great as he strives to do in one generation, in spite of two wars, what took the United States and Britain generations to do. While the Communist victory in China and the discovery of the atomic bomb have strengthened Russia's world position, they have not made life easier for the common man in Russia.

Now that Russia has the atom bomb, it is certain she will not agree to the aBruch Plan. She may go along with inspection to prevent the production of atomic bombs, provided such prohibition is part of general disarmament, removal of the German menace, and an over-all settlement of the Russian internal difficulties. Sta-points of difference. In view of lin is probably more eager for a global settlement than ever before.

Atlee's difficulties are greater than Stalin's because he is so dependent on another nation. With empire and foreign investments lost, the 50 million human beings in Britain are in for a very rough time if unemployment develops in the United States, Canada and Australia. England must double her exports but she can find no market for such enlarged production unless there is a terrific expansion in world trade, full employment in the United States, and complete restoration of the China market and east-west trade. The Marshall Plan is a weak and temporary substitute for this fundamental solution, and Atlee as a self-respecting Britisher wanting to stand on his own feet, knows it. He has been living long enough on charity and he knows that in another war atomic bombs from Russia could completely destroy England.

Truman, as head of the mightiest power that ever existed, is in worse trouble than either Stalin or Atlee. When a powerful machine runs out of gas, it is worse than useless. As a result of the Truman Doctrine, we are now spending 7 billion dollars a year more than we take in. When Roosevelt spent a total of 7 billion dollars, many people cried out in horror. Today some of these same critics seem to be happy to incur an annual deficit as great as Roosevelt spent altogether. Five to seven billion dollars spent each year shipping food and ammunition to all the countries which hate and fear Russia may give us temporary employment and sustain farm prices. But in spite of all this, Truman gets from time to time a whiff of an odor which is strangely reminiscent of 1929 and 1930. Farm income is off one-third. Unemployment is greater than last year. Corporation profits, aside from a few notable exceptions like General Motors, are off. But the housing boom is still on and the G.I. insurance payments give a strong demand for the moment. The end of the Marshall Plan in 1952 will bring a great smash which will bring down England and western Europe unless we can build a really strong United Nations and expand world trade based on developing the resources of all the crowded and backward areas of the world. There may be enough prosperity to elect a Democratic Congress in 1950 but after that, the deluge—unless trade is expanded on the basis of one world without iron curtains.

Truman, Stalin and Atlee all need the same cure, and all are beginning to see the end of the road they have followed. In the Old Testament it used to be said about the wicked kings that God hardened their hearts and they did that which was evil in the sight of the Lord. It is Trygve Lie's mission to go out now to soften the hearts which have been hardened. If God has not made our rulers mad with self-conceit, surely each and every one has plenty of self-interest to move toward real peace and greatly expanded world development.

The chief hope I see in the United States today is among the religious and intellectual groups. They have no financial stake in the cold war except insofar as contributors to their organizations may thrive on cold war contracts. Most labor and business leaders still feel they can profit from cold war expenditures. But slowly, such incidents as the Navy privateer, combined with the defeat of Chiang Kai-shek and Russia's discovery of the atom bomb, cause even these people to ask if there is not some better road to abiding prosperity and real security than the cold war.

Eddie Rickenbacker, air ace of World War I and president of an airline, summed it all up by saying that the next war would cost us a trillion dollars, our freedoms, and our American way of life. Hundreds of people are seeing the light today who couldn't see it when I spoke out in 1946. They want to know what they can do to prevent World War III. Here in brief is a program for them. It is a non-partisan program, but not bi-partisan. Organize in every congressional district, preferably under the leadership of a minister, go to all the candidates for Congress and ask them for a statement on the following:

(1) Do you believe in the Trygve Lie program of continuous top level negotiation and conciliation between the great powers, starting at once, looking toward the elimination of the curtain between the east and west?

(2) Do you believe in outlawing the atom bomb and the hydrogen bomb by declaring the first nation to drop such a bomb would be the enemy of all mankind?

(3) Do you believe in an agreement between all nations to reduce armaments by 30%, using the money thus saved in a United Nations revolving fund to loan at low rates of interest, amortized over 50 years, for sake of developing overcrowded and under-developed areas, regardless of politics?

(4) Do you believe in a four-power agreement to prevent the rearmament of Germany and provide for real demilitarization and an end to the caste system?

We need millions of people who will judge candidates for congress solely on the way they feel about peace through a strong United Nations. It is time we gave the Secretary General of the U.N. some backing in his fight for peace. Let's have a bloc of United Nations Congressmen. We can get them regardless of party if enough peace-loving Americans will make it clear that their only test in November, 1960, will be the candidates' stand on these four questions. Write me at South Salem, N. Y., for a copy of these questions.

We have a bi-partisan war party that is bleeding the United States to death. It is our job to build a non-partisan peace party that will heal the wounds of the war. I appeal to the Judo-Christian conscience of America to step out wisely to lead a sick nation and a sick world toward sanity. Otherwise, there will be no end to thought control and cruelty in every nation or to the threat of an atom war that will engulf all mankind.

New Hearing in KMPC Charges

The Federal Communications Commission has ordered a complete new Los Angeles hearing into charges that KMPC Radio Station Owner G. A. Richards compelled his announcers to slant news to conform to his personal views.

The Commission set the hearing date for June 5 and ruled that all the testimony submitted against Richards recently be wiped off the record.

The trial examiner in the original hearing, J. Fred Johnson, died after two weeks of hearings in March and the commission had appointed James D. Cunningham to take up the hearings where Johnson left off.

Attorneys for Richards petitioned for a new start, claiming that the new trial examiner had not had an opportunity to observe the behavior of the witnesses who had testified against Richards.

The Federal Communications Commission general counsel today recommended that Richards' petition be granted in order to remove any doubt that the radio station owner will be given a full and fair hearing.

Savings Bonds as a Sure, Safe Way to Save for the Future. The Independence Bond Drive runs through July 4th.

Slash in Budget May Halt Library Plans

The long-awaited construction of a branch library in the West Pico area, money for which was appropriated last year by the City Council, may come to a halt if the Council accepts as final the slashed Library budget presented to it by Mayor Bowron, the Board of Library Commissioners announced.

At a special meeting of department heads three weeks ago, the Mayor pointed out that the city's present income is inadequate to meet the operating requirements of all departments, and asked each official to submit a reduced plan of operation meeting a definite figure proposed by him. Library expenditures were to be limited to about two-thirds of its estimated minimum needs for 1950-51, which were outlined in its $3,771,293 budget submitted to the Mayor March 15.

If no financial solution is found by the City Council and the Library is forced to operate next year under this two-thirds plan, two avenues will be open to the Board of Library Commissioners: either to close 18 branch libraries and discharge 76 employees, or to ask the City Council to consider the transfer for general expenses of the $258,000 allocated to its 1949-50 budget for the construction of three new branch libraries, including West Pico. In the latter case, it will still be necessary to close five of the 18 threatened branches to meet the Mayor's proposed "two-thirds" figure.

In both cases, the Library will be forced to abandon all plans for the much-demanded expansion of its services in rapidly growing areas now miles from any library.

Trick Used to Stop Ban on Street Sales Of L. A. Newspapers

Using a parliamentary trick, Councilman G. Vernon Bennett today stopped further consideration of an ordinance which would prohibit news boys from selling their papers in traffic lanes in busy business sections.

After more than 90 minutes of debate on the ordinance during which both proponents and opponents in the audience were given an opportunity to be heard and after the council had voted down a proposal by councilman Lee Warburton to postpone further consideration for two weeks, Bennett asked to amend the ordinance.

Then he asked that it be postponed until next Monday in order that he could offer his amendment. This went to a vote with President Harold Henry and Councilman J. Win Austin, who had previously voted against delay, supporting Bennett, the Council balloted 8 to 6 to continue consideration until Monday.

After the proposal appears for purposes of amendment, any councilman can further delay consideration for another week by "withholding."

Supporters of the ordinance asserted this then will mean that delay will follow delay until the ordinance probably never will be enacted.

Appearing in support of the ordinance were representatives of the Teamsters Union, the Women's League of Voters and the Hollywood Humane Society.

Opposed were representatives of the Los Angeles Newspaper Guild, whose statements that the Guild was opposed to the ordinance, were challenged before the Council by a working newspaperman, Richard Woods, a member of the Guild. Woods informed the Council that the Guild had not gone on record opposing the ordinance.

Dead Pedestrians Might Have Lived On and On, If Careful

Most pedestrians killed or injured in traffic accidents might have avoided tragedy by following common-sense rules, Commissioner Clifford E. Peterson of the California Highway Patrol, dehe pointed out, is to stop and look for approaching cars before stepping into a street or roadway. "That should be obvious enough," he declared, "but our statistics show that it isn't. Too many pedestrians disregard common sense and elemental rules of safety. Jay walking, stepping from behind parked cars and walking in traffic after drinking are all invitations to death or injury."

Alcohol is a major factor in pedestrian traffic fatalities, he said. Of the 814 persons struck down and killed on California streets and highways last year, 117 had been drinking, later investigations revealed.

YOUR MAN!! JOHN C. DORAN

Candidate for

SHERIFF

It's time to stop playing petty politics. The Governor's Crime Commission has publicly and openly exposed the present Sheriff's administration and its top brass of allowing bookmaking, corruption, and accepting pay-offs and graft. Are we to continue paying taxes for this type of shameful enforcement? Let's put a stop to this national disgrace now by electing John C. Doran for Sheriff on June 6th.

MY PLEDGE TO YOU — THE VOTER!

- Stop corruption, graft and pay-offs in the Sheriff's office.
- Protect you and your families against wolf packs and protected rackets.
- Restore respect for law enforcement and particularly the Sheriff's office.
- An open door to my office—that means "YOU!"
- Deputy Sheriffs will be placed in uniform instead of doing clerical work that girls should handle.
- Justice and respect to all—not a chosen few.
- Pay-Offs and bribery will never be tolerated.
- Crime, corruption and rackets will be dealt a death blow the day I am elected Sheriff.

CALLING SHOTS—Larry Doby of Cleveland in the American League is topping that loop in batting with an average of .411. In the National League Jackie Robinson is in second place in hitting behind Musial of St. Louis. Jackie, up to Saturday, had .42. Robinson also trails Musial in doubles, having to 14 to 15. In the pitching department in the National League Dan Bankhead of Brooklyn leads with 4-0, or an average of 1000. Sam Jethroe, rookie centerfielder of the Boston Braves, last weekend received a raise in pay "for a job well done." Jethroe is second in the National League for runs, having scored 25. He had also hit three triples up to last Saturday. . . . In a game played last Friday night which Portland won 8-1 over Los Angeles, Luis Marquez, centerfielder for the Beavers, made all three put-outs in the fifth inning. . . . Willie Bean, L. A. heavyweight hope, ran into a rude setback last Friday night at Hollywood Legion Stadium when Frank Buford, making his boxing debut in Southern California, won a decisive victory, taking 8 out of 10 rounds, with one for Bean and one round even. In another blistering 10-round bout, Johnny Duke won over Milo Savage of Seattle after a vicious brawl.

FINALE—We'll let Leonard Vaughn finish up this serving of sports for this week. Here it is—

WANTA BET?—Maybe one day years from now, some frantic baseball statistician will tell you he remembers a situation where two base runners, running shoulder to shoulder to home plate, and sliding at the same time for a double play. No, don't bet, for it really happened in the only place, Ebbets Field.

Here is the situation he would be referring to. It is in the top of the eighth inning, the Dodgers are battling the Chicago Cubs. Gil Hodges is on second Jackie Robinson dancing off third. The batter, who was Miksis, chopped a high bouncer toward third, Ramazzotti's peg to the plate headed off Robinson. Rather than to run into a sure out, Jackie doubled back to third, only to find Hodges there. Catcher Mickey Owen pegged to second went wild in an attempt to catch Miksis. Hodges and Robinson then streaked for home. Here, for the first time in the history of baseball were two players in a thirty-yard dash or home plate running neck and neck. Ten yards from home, Hodges went out in front by a stride. Then suddenly there was a new entry in the race. It was the pill that came in first. Hodges second, was tagged, then for show, came Robinson.

As expected, fire broke loose, and everybody, including the fans, wanted to know who was out—and why. If you were the ump, how would you call it? Well, this is the way Ump Art Gore scored it. Hodges was out at third when Jackie still had possession. So Hodges had no right running home, therefore, Jackie was out because of interference by Hodges, although he, himself was never tagged at the plate. Confusing huh? Well everything happens in Brooklyn.

Jethroe Receives Raise in Salary

BOSTON—The Boston Braves said last Saturday they have given Rookie Centerfielder Sam Jethroe a raise in pay "for a job well done."

Neither the terms of Jethroe's old contract nor what he will be getting under his new one were divulged.

Safety Rules Given for Days At the Beach

Summer's just around the corner, and so are days of fun and sun at the beach. And every year at this time, as certain of appearance as bathing suits and tans, are warnings from the National Safety Council to mix the fun with a little caution and commonsense.

"We know you've heard these safety rules before," says Essie Elliott, vice president for Home Safety of the Greater Los Angeles Chapter, National Safety Council, "but read them just once more — and then follow them. Drownings aren't fun — nor are painful and dangerous sunburns."

The first rule is easy. When you first get to the beach, look for the lifeguard, and find out from him where it's safe to swim. He'll tell you where the rocks are, and where the tide is too strong to be safe.

Be smart about your tan, and take it easy the first few days. Unless you've got a skin as tough as leather stay out in the sun for only a few minutes at a time, until you can tan without burning.

Don't try to swim to Catalina, unless you're qualified as a 'Channel swimmer.' Keep close enough to shore so that you can swim back easily — and remember that you've got to swim as far back as you swim out. Don't use all of your endurance getting out in the deep, and then have to be towed back. And finally, a full stomach and cold water don't mix. Wait at least an hour before braving the water — two hours is better. Remember that a stomach cramp leaves you absolutely paralyzed — and it can mean your death even in two feet of water.

Easy rules? Sure. Old stuff? Right again. But follow them and you won't be included when the National Safety Council makes up its statistics next year. Last year? 6,000 drowned.

This appeal is co-sponsored by the Los Angeles Chapter, American Red Cross.

HARRY LEVETTE

July 4, have never been in Los Angeles before. That is why they are taking advantage of the trip planned by the National Economic council of Oakland to not only witness the Oaks-Angels doubleheader at Wrigley Field, but enjoy a "Days of Days," as guests of the city.

According to Harry Levette, A. N. P. representative, and director of the Los Angeles and of the affair, many Angelenos who learned early enough through this paper, have decided to spend the holiday here, for the mammoth event. With his associates, bathing beauty contest expert, Sid Hazeur, and band leader-radio announcer Morris Coleman, a Hollywood tour, street parade, and a big after-game "Get Acquainted" party, will be staged at Jack's Basket room. There besides a show augmented by Levette's "Central To-Vine" TV stars, a preview of Hazeur's annual "Miss Bronze" Pacific contest will take place with Oakland entries included.

Commodore Wynn, widely known civic leader, will head a mixed Chamber of Commerce committee, at the train and Miss Laura Slayton, a socialite and business woman's committee. All interested predict that the results of the visit will be to cement relationships as valuable as those the United States is attempting.

Although he was the recipient of many attractive financial offers from wealthy hospitals, the late Dr. Charles Drew turned them down because he felt it a missionary duty to train doctors studying at Howard University.

Royal Kingsmen To Meet Royal Dragons In Softball Game

The Royal Dragons, coached by their vice-president Al May, and the Royal Kingsmen, coached by sports manager Curtis Smith will meet in a softball game Sunday, June 4, 10 a.m. at the Will Rogers Playground, located at 103rd and Central Ave.

This has the makings of a good grudge match. The Kingsmen will have such stars as Earl "Slugger" Boyd behind the plate, "Wild Bill" Andrews in center-field and Curtis "Fireman" Smith on the mound.

Packers May Use Negroes Next Season

GREEN BAY, Wis.—The Green Bay Packers, who has never had a Negro player on its team, will probably have as many as four or five next season if Coach Gean Ronzani can obtain the players he wants in the June 3 special draft. The special draft will dispose of the players who performed in the All-American conference last season.

Coach Ronzani, who is now touring the country with his line Coach Tarzan Taylor, searching for talent, declared before he left that he wanted both George Taliaferro and Len Ford of the Los Angeles Dons. Taliaferro played his college football with Indiana and Ford played his college football with Michigan and both won all-American recognition.

Line coach Taylor a month ago obtained two Negroes from Ohio State, they are Jim Clark, half-back, and Jim Thomas, guard.

Monday the Packers completed their coaching staff, signing Ray Nolting as line coach. Ronzani now has a four man staff. Taylor will coach the line and Dick Plasman the ends. Nolting was with the New York Bulldogs and Plasman with the Chicago Cardinals after last season.

Kid Gavilan Easy Victor Over Small

BOXING NOTES

BERT LYTELL, 166, Oakland, decisioned Bob Amos, 178, Detroit, in 10-rounds at Indianapolis last Friday night.

KID GAVILAN, 151½, Havana, outpointed Georgie Small, 158½, Brooklyn, in 10-rounds at New York last Friday.

GRANT BUTCHER, 186½, San Francisco, decisioned Harry Wills, 202, Los Angeles, in 10-rounds at San Francisco last Friday night.

WILLIE PARKER, 181, Los Angeles, was stopped in the third round last Friday night by Jose Ochoa, 191, at Boise, Idaho.

FRANK BUFORD made his So. California debut a winning one by unanimously outpointing Willie Bean, in 10-rounds at Hollywood Legion Stadium last Friday night.

CLARENCE HENRY, local heavyweight, fights John Holman June 13 at the Olympic Auditorium here.

TURKEY THOMPSON last week was ranked State heavyweight champion by the California State Athletic Commission. Billy Smith was ranked as the light-heavyweight; Irvin Steen, middleweight; Benny Walker, welterweight; Rudy Cruz, lightweight; Eddie Chavez, featherweight; and Ruben Smith, flyweight champ. World Champ Manuel Ortiz tops the bantamweight class. Among the lightweights Art Aragon was ranked second and John L. Davis, third.

CALIENTE, Old Mexico—Easy Fibber paid Caliente his annual visit and scampered home first in the feature attraction called "The Poppy," facing a strong wind that had plenty of chills in it. The son of Easy Mon-Fibber, ran the six furlongs in 1:12 1/5. Altho he has run the same distance over the Caliente Oval, a full second faster, made favorite in the Mutuels by the fans he paid $6.20.

War Bam, Jr., close second choice, could never get to the front from a slow break and finished last in the eight horse field. The secondary event was won by Rhoten coupled with Bomberina, it was "The Memorial" at one mile and seventy yards and some of the best distance horses on the grounds faced starter West Nearly.

Off to a perfect start, Taywin coupled with Zalamero, took the lead and held it to the three-eighth pole. At this point Jockey Littell called on Rhoten who carried the heavy impost of 120 pounds and resounded gamely and under a hard ride just lasted to whip the fast closing Silver Top by a nose. Overlooked in the betting the winner paid $16.80, $7.00, $5.00 across the board.

Silver Top, the favorite was second and Etaf was third. The daily double combination of Bunny-H winner of the second race and Remuda Victor of the third paid $15.40. Both horses were the public choices. The Quiniela Holder of Ring-around and Red Rival, who finished in that order, received $49.40.

Jockey R. York after six weeks or rest from a spill, returned to the saddle and rode four winners. This Sunday the feature attraction will be "The Portland" at one mile and one sixteenth. The best distance horses on the grounds will compete for the $1,500 added attraction. "The Olympia" will be the secondary at a mile and seventy yards.

The special attraction that General Manager Walter C. Marty will offer the fans is the three horse match. Wantra Davis, the world's champion girl jockey, will ride against two of America's famous jockeys. Jockey Ralph Neves and Jockey Basil James.

What an attraction this will be, the distance will be six furlongs.

The $5,000 free cash program award contest still awaits the fans who can pick seven straight winners from the third race thru the ninth. Popular General Manager William (Bill) Collier, opened the gates for a full week of Greyhounds racing. This is the first time in history that the sport of dogs will have a full week's racing. Special event for week are very attractive for the fans.

Stanley Sets New Record

SACRAMENTO—Five State high school records were broken, one was equaled and a national interscholastic record was recorded here last Saturday night as Jefferson High captured the California Interscholastic Track and Field Meet, the greatest State prep cinder carnival ever held.

Jefferson's blazing Democrats registered 40 points to establish a new team scoring record. The old high was 37½ points by Manual Arts in 1916. Glendale, Southland CIF champs, came in second with 18 points to 12 markers for third-place Jordan of Los Angeles.

Jefferson's amazing Lang Stanley and Glendale's sensational Steve Turner shared individual honors in the unprecedented record-breaking spree. Stanley set a new national interscholastic record of 1m. 53.9s. for the 880-yard run, smashing the old mark of 1m. 54.4s. by Ross Bush of Sunset High, Dallas, Tex., recorded in 1933. Stanley also rubbed off Thelmo Knowles' State standard of 1m. 55.6s. made in 1941.

The effortless-looking Stanley, who just several weeks ago set a new city standard of 1m. 54.6s., ran away from the field at the end of the first 440. His margin over second-place Gene Jones of Oakland Tech was approximately 25 yards. All five placers were clocked in 1m. 59s. flat or better, a remarkable occurrence in a high school 880.

Glendale's classy Turner wasn't far behind in the honor-grabbing department. He annexed individual scoring honors with 14 points, first in both hurdles and second in the broad jump.

His hurdle times, 19s. (180-yard lows) and 14.1s. (120-yard highs), set new State records. His best broad jump, 24ft. 7½ in., also exceeded the old State meet standard but wasn't good enough for first place.

Turner's high-hurdle mark was just one-tenth of a second behind the national prep mark of 14s. flat, held by Joe Batiste and Lee Miller. His 180 low barrier time equaled the accepted national record of 19s. flat, held by Ronnie Frazier, former Van Nuys prep star. Turner, however, two weeks ago ran the lows in 18.9s. to set an unofficial national record.

Turner was upset in the broad jump by Willie Johnson of Jefferson, who sailed out 24ft. 2¾ in. to erase the former record of 24ft. ¼ in. set by Fresno's Jim Jurkovich in 1939.

Another record fell in the one-mile run when Ronnie Bauer of San Francisco's Washington High overtook Glendale's gritty Larry Carter in a stirring stretch duel. Bauer was credited with a 4m. 23s.7s. clocking, just under the former State mark of 4m. 24s. flat by Cathedral's Bob McMillen.

SUMMARY
880-YARD RUN—Won by Stanley (Jefferson); second, Jones (Oakland); third, Watson (Jordan); fourth, Kouch (Chaffee); fifth, Stevens (Sacramento). Time 1m. 53.9s. (New national interscholastic record. Old mark 1m. 54.4s. by Ross Bush, Sunset High, Dallas, 1933. New meet record, old mark 1m. 55.6s. by Thelmo Knowles (Santa Monica, 1941).

Golf Players Gather In Ga.

ATLANTA, Ga.—An array of tested performers are expected to invade the Gate City to match shots in the 12th annual Open Golf Tournament to be held on July 1, 2, 3, and 4, at the New Lincoln Golf and Country Club. In reviving this event which for years was the South's top attraction for golfers, the officials of the New Lincoln Club posted $2,000 in prizes. The $1,500 cash purse for professionals is the largest ever offered and $500 in trophies and medals await winners in the amateur division. The championship of the ladies division will not be contested this year.

The amateurs will tee-off on the qualifying round on July 1 and complete their elimination matches on July 3. The professionals will play 18 holes on July 2 and July 3, and roundout their gruelling 72-hole medal play grind with 36 holes on July 4.

The $15,000 cash purse will be distributed as follows: $500—$325 - $225 - $125 - $100 - $80 - $70 - $40 - $20 - and $15. The entry fee has been set at $5 for amateurs and $15 for pros.

According to A. W. Parks, chairman of the Tournament Committee, the New Lincoln layout will be in excellent shape for the tournament. Although the course has several natural hazards, the vastly improved greens are being heavily trapped so as to provide a stiff test for all competitors. Then, too, in addition to the improvements being made on the course, the clubhouse facilities are being expanded.

TENNIS FINALS

Crack tennis teams from Lincoln University (Mo.) and Tennessee State College won the Midwestern Conference Tennis Finals held at Kentucky State College recently.

HOLLYWOOD—Director Robert Stevenson whiled away time between scenes of RKO Radio's "Walk Softly, Stranger" by playing "Onward Christian Soldiers" on the piano. "Any special significance to that?" queried Joseph Cotten, who co-stars in the film with Alida Valli. "No," replied Stevenson. "It just happens to be the only tune I can play."

Defending champion in the open will be Zeke Hartsfield, of Decatur, Ga., who carded a sparkling four-under-par 260 to walk off with top honors in 1946. Willie Wynn, Atlanta businessman is also expected to be on hand to defend his laurels in the amateur division.

For additional information golfers may write: A. W. Parks, 854 Hunter St., S. W., Atlanta, Ga. Other members of the tournament committee include: John Brown, Eddie Laws, T. R. Grimes, H. H. Thomas, George Bryant, Bobby Gaines and A. C. Christal.

Frank Buford Easily Beats Willie Bean

Frank Buford, crowd-pleasing Oakland heavyweight, made an impressive Southern California debut last Friday night at the Hollywood Legion Stadium, when he scored a unanimous 10-round decision over Willie Bean, local heavy.

Ring experts gave the 21-year-old Buford eight rounds, scored one for Bean and one even. There were no knockouts but both boys threw their best Sunday punches and the fans saw a fine battle.

Despite the fact that there was no television broadcast of the fight only 1800 fans showed up, paying a gross gate of $2621.

In the other ten on the card, Johnny Duke and Milo Savage battled hard and rough, with the Duke copping the nod.

Other bouts: Cliff Barnett, 149½, scored a third-round kayo over Cisco Kid, 148; Morrie McFarland, 136½, t.k.o'd Al Hernandez, 160, in three; Manuel Mendoza, 140½, won from Baby Valdez, 138.

Volunteer workers of the Childrens Hospital Salvage Shop are busy this week preparing for the Annual Summer Sale to be held on Thursday, June 8, from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. in their headquarters at 1412 North Vermont Ave.

Free Chest X-Rays Near Half Million

Hitting for the half-million mark this week, the Los Angeles County X-ray Survey reported 464,486 free chest films have been taken in the first 10 weeks of operation.

Meanwhile the Survey moves westward this week in an invasion of county communities, first to be surveyed being Hollywood, Wilshire and East Los Angeles.

First units in the Hollywood District went into operation last week in the Silverlake community, and others will be open June 1 in Atwater. Beginning June 5, eight locations will x-ray residents in East Hollywood.

The more glamorous neighborhoods in Central Hollywood, including Radio Center and other famous radio and movie landmarks, are scheduled for X-ray units beginning June 9.

Taking part in Air Trade Day of World Trade Week, a mobile unit was stationed at International Airport last Saturday for convenience of spectators who visited air show exhibits. Next week, beginning Monday, June 5, a unit will visit each of the four major airline hangars so that 4500 employees of American, Western, United, TWA, Southwest and Pan American may avail themselves of free chest X-rays. During the two weeks the unit is stationed in that neighborhood it will also be open to some 1500 employees of various industries bordering the airport.

Outlying unit locations in the Harbor District this week will be at Wilmington's Harbor Steam Plant, Department of Water & Power on Thursday, and the San Pedro Department of Water & Power, Friday and Saturday.

A unit will be stationed at Wilson Park, Alameda & Compton Blvd., on Friday and Saturday in conjunction with Compton's Community Fair.

At the same time, permanent unit locations are listed as follows:

Pershing Square (Hill St. side); Sears Roebuck & Co., Olympic Blvd. & Soto St.; Hollywood Blvd. & Vine St., Broadway-Spring Arcade, 542 S. Broadway; P.E. Terminal, 423 S. Hill St.; Los Angeles City Hall and Eastern-Columbia Annex, 848 S. Hill St.

Chicago Giants Set Games For Month Of June

CHICAGO, Ill. — (Special) — Chicago's American Giants, now heading the Western Division of the Negro American League, will play five games, including one night tilt, during the month of June.

New York's Cubans will be here at Comiskey Park for the first test next month. They will be met in a bargain bill next Sunday (June 4), being followed by the Baltimore Elite Giants on Sunday, June 11.

The night tilt, one of five to be played at home by the Giants, will be played on Friday, June 9, with an opponent yet to be announced.

One of the largest crowds of the season is expected to find its way into Comiskey Park when the Elites show. Last year the Elites and Giants met in the Negro world's series, with the Elites winning handily, taking the title in four straight games. This year, however, it appears as if the Chicago American Giants will be the top club, as they have youth, speed, plenty of hitting power, and good pitching. In addition, they have a very popular manager, Ted ("Doubleduty") Radcliffe.

BOY SCOUT ACTIVITIES

Twenty to 30 Los Angeles Boy Scouts who might not otherwise be able to go to the 2nd National Scout Jamboree being held at Valley Forge, Pa., next month, can now make the trip because of the generosity of the Teamsters' Unions of this city.

A check for more than $3800, presented by top union officials to Glen Rice, assistant Scout executive of the Los Angeles Area Council and Jamboree tour director, will provide funds for deserving Scouts to make the 9000-mile, 18-day trip. Mr. Rice announced that most of the funds would be allocated to Scout units which are sponsored by the unions, but that a portion is being used to assist boys from other units, especially those in less-chance sections.

In presenting the check, John M. Annand, Teamsters' International Representative, said that it was made up of contributions from various locals throughout the city and suburbs. Scouts who will get funds from the huge "Jamboreeship" are expected to have earned, in many cases with the unit's help, the greater portion of the Jamboree cost.

Other Jamboreeships have been donated by many firms, organizations, and individuals of the city, Mr. Rice stated. Most of these, he said, were designated to a certain boy or unit by the donor and there are many Scouts who still need help in raising the final portion of their funds.

Between 550 and 600 boys and adults from the Los Angeles Scout Council will attend the Jamboree June 30 to July 6. Leaving here aboard two special trains June 25 and returning July 13, they will visit Salt Lake City, Chicago, Niagara Falls, New York City, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Harrodsberg, Pa.

For seven days of the actual Jamboree the group, expected to be the largest contingent west of Chicago to make the pilgrimage, will camp with 47,000 other Scouts and Scouters from all sections of the nation, plus representatives from scouting organizations in foreign countries. The huge tent city will be erected on the historical site of the Continental Army's bitter winter stand.

Tab Campanella Future Manager Of 'Bums' Nine

Regarded as the best catcher in big league baseball today, Roy Campanella at the end of his playing days will probably become the first Negro in history to manage a white team.

Of all the Negroes playing with the major teams today, Roy is tabbed by baseball critics, players and managers as the man that calls the shots when his team, the Brooklyn Dodgers, is on the field. From behind his catchers mask go out signals to his pitchers that in more than one instance calls the pitch that is fatal to rival batters.

Called the "Dodgers' Man of Iron" in the July issue of Our World magazine, the tobacco-chewing Campy is sudden death to unwary baserunners. Possessor of a whip-snap arm, Roy has caught many an unsuspecting opponent trying to steal.

Coming up from the Negro leagues a few years ago, Roy has earned the praise of everyone connected with baseball. This has caused many to suspect Branch Rickey, Dodger owner, of carefully grooming his catcher to take over one of the top Dodger farm teams when his active playing days are over. And it wouldn't be too much to one day watch Campy sitting on the bench calling the signals for the Brooklyn Dodgers.

Anchoresses Do Volunteer Work For Democrats

The Anchoresses, a girls' club of which Richmond Dunn is president, spent yesterday afternoon getting experience in that unique American institution, the political campaign, assisting Esther Murray and Frank Mankiewicz.

The girls were fortunate in increasing their knowledge by actually doing clerical work on behalf of Esther Murray, who is the only Democratic candidate for Congress in the 16th District, and Mankiewicz, Democratic candidate for the State Assembly in the 60th District. They worked at the home of Dr. Mahlon Cooley.

Esther Murray said: "You girls are all so young and so pretty and so full of the joy of living that I am at a loss for words to express the inspiration and assurance it gives me. You all come from homes which present a solid front in the defense and extension of the American way of life."

Mrs. Emily Portwig, civic leader, directed the girls in their work.

Kenneth Hahn Tells of New Traffic Signal

The installation of a traffic signal at 88th Place and Central Avenue will soon be finished, as was announced by Councilman Kenneth Hahn who was notified by many mothers in the district that it was almost impossible to cross Central Avenue between Manchester and 92nd Street because of the fast flow of automobile traffic.

When the signal is in operation it will be synchronized with all other signals on Central Avenue so that motorists may proceed at thirty miles per hour.

Hahn said the signal should be completed and in actual operation within a few weeks.

Esther Murray Wins Support From Veterans

Prominent leaders in veterans' organizations announced last week the formation of a committee to back the candidacy of Esther Murray, the only Democratic candidate for Congress in the 16th District.

The executive committee is headed by Phil Chain, general chairman of the Veterans' Advisory Committee of Hollywood and commander of Cinema Post No. 561, American Legion.

Young Demos Endorse Ibanez

"Richard A. Ibanez, candidate for Superior Court, office number 10, has been endorsed by the California Federation of Young Democrats," stated George Arnold, Executive Committee secretary, "because of his knowledge of one of the County's most critical problems at this time—juvenile delinquency."

Superior Court office number 10 is the sole juvenile court in Los Angeles County.

Chest X-Rays Discover High Vet TB Rate

Six hundred new cases of active tuberculosis among veterans in Los Angeles County will be discovered, if chest x-rays are taken of three million people as planned.

There are now 150 tuberculosis cases on the waiting list for admission to the two veterans' TB facilities in the Los Angeles area (one of them is Birmingham, doomed under President Truman's closing order; the other is San Fernando Veterans hospital.)

These and other facts are being called to the attention of the Veterans Administration by the County X-ray Survey Foundation, now engaged in offering free chest x-rays to three million people 15 years of age and older in Los Angeles County.

Springarn Award To C. H. Houston Posthumously

NEW YORK—The posthumous award of the 35th Springarn Medal, for outstanding achievement of a Negro American, to the late Charles H. Houston, was announced this week by the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

Presentation of the award will be made to a member of Mr. Houston's family by Dean Erwin Griswold of the Harvard Law School at the closing session of the 41st annual convention of the NAACP in Boston on June 25.

In consenting to make the presentation, Dean Griswold said: "We are very much pleased to learn that the medal will be awarded to the late Charles H. Houston. He was one of the distinguished graduates of this school, and I shall be happy to have a small part in your honor to him."

Ky. State's Comm.

Because of the hundreds of requests for seats at the forthcoming commencement at Kentucky State College, President R. B. Atwood has announced that several thousand additional seats will be erected on the campus in a shaded area to accommodate the overflow crowd.

A crowd of four or five thousand is expected to be on hand to hear Doctor Ralph Bunche, Acting Assistant Secretary General of the United Nations. Governor Earl Clement and his official staff as well as officials from the Department of Education of the state of Kentucky are expected to be present. Many visiting dignitaries from all walks of life will be on hand to witness this, Kentucky's largest and most colorful commencement exercises.

One hundred forty-seven young men and women are candidates for degrees this year. Commencement exercises will begin promptly at 10:30 on the morning of June 6. The program will take place in the Bell Gymnasium. Two thousand seats will be available on the inside and several thousand additional seats will be erected nearby.

Al S. Waxman Flays Politics In Los Angeles

The following editorial by Editor and Publisher Al S. Waxman appeared in his string of Los Angeles City neighborhood newspapers last Wednesday.

POLITICS STINK

"There are many phases and

aspects to a political campaign. One must be on his guard when he is fighting a county-wide corrupt political machine. We realized when we entered the campaign against Sheriff Biscailuz that many things could happen to us and our workers.

"Our readers should know some of the things to anticipate in a campaign. Monday night two young men went out to post advertisements which proclaimed 'Doran for Sheriff.' They were arrested because of a minor infringement on the law—they tacked some cards on poles. This is done in every campaign in this city and county. Generally the matter is overlooked. Sometimes an over-zealous officer makes an arrest in such a case and, mostly, releases the offender after a verbal chastisement.

"Not in this case. The two young men were arrested by Holmbeck policemen and booked. They were sent to Lincoln Heights Jail for the night and placed under $100 bond each.

"At 10:30 a.m., when other prisoners were brought to the bar of (excuse the expression) Justice, our 'criminals' were held over, according to the bailiff, until 2:30 p.m. When this writer and his attorney arrived at the Lincoln Heights court at 2:15 p.m. we were informed that the wheels of justice had ground its way and that the two young men who had been arrested for posting 'Doran for Sheriff' cards had been tried, found guilty and fined fifty dollars each or ten days in jail.

This writer has conducted political campaigns in Los Angeles for a great number of years and never before have we heard of a fine for this type of misdemeanor exceeding Ten Dollars.

We ask Judge Harry M. Hunt who presided in Division 30 at Lincoln Heights jail and issued this sentence whether he made it so stiff because the men were posting 'Doran for Sheriff' advertisements or whether it was because the names of these two young men are Yanez and Casas. There can be no mistake in their identity. They are of Mexican

Search Continues for Ex-USC Athlete Who Is Mentally Ill

Search is continuing in the wooded area around Napa State Hospital for 25-year-old Edmund E. Whitfield who escaped from the Napa Mental institution on Memorial Day. Eluding guards who were transferring him to another wing of the institution, Whitfield dashed through an unguarded door and was immediately swallowed up in the heavy brush and trees.

Formerly a star athlete at USC, Whitfield graduated from Yale University three years ago with a bachelor of science degree. He returned to California shortly after his graduation and became mentally ill.

On three previous occasions, Whitfield has escaped from mental institutions. He has been captured each time. He was pursued for two hours across the mud flats in San Francisco Bay before his last capture.

Authorities say the escaped athlete can hide out in the wood for an indefinite period if he can find food. Whitfield's wife and their eight-month-old son live in Los Angeles.

Mistake! Sorry!

The story of Miss Mary Norris being given the brush-off by comedian Jimmy Durante came into the office of The California Eagle just before going to press last week. In the last-minute rush there was no time to investigate the story properly. Consequently only one side was printed.

This week, Mr. Cohn, Mr. Durante's press agent, informs us that the facts related are erroneous, and not according to documentary evidence which he has in his possession.

We are sorry this occurred. Mr. Durante, according to all that the Eagle has ever heard of him has always been most fair and absolutely non-discriminatory in his dealings with the people whom he employs.

We can only say again we are sorry this occurred.

Stimulating Mustard

The finest mustard seeds come from England and Holland, though their origin is Asian. It is one of the few spices which grows successfully in our U. S. A. Even though the crop totals thousands of pounds, it is not nearly enough for our vast consumption.

The uses of mustard are numerous. As medicine, it has been used as an antidote for narcotic poisoning because it stimulates the heart and respiration. It is also used as a deodorizer, antiseptic, and sterilizing agent. Everyone knows of the famous steam mustard bath and foot bath when you have a cold. Indeed, it has so many medicinal uses, it is often forgotten as a Spice. So don't underestimate its power for the kitchen—from the garden to the grocery store.

Mustard greens are excellent in salad and as a vegetable cooked with smoked meats.

The seeds are used in pickles, meats, salads and gravies.

descent. Our county government is famous for kicking around these people. Yes, Judge Hunt, you fit well into the picture of our county government.

This writer accuses Judge Hunt of being discriminatory in this matter. The discrimination may be because of the descent of these two men or it may be because of the candidate they were representing. One thing we know for a certainty the fine and sentence were stiff, too—stiff.

The fine for these men has been paid by this writer. The men are free. But we will never let them or they ever forget, Judge Hunt, your decision in this case."

GILMORE STADIUM TO BECOME 'TV' CENTER

The Columbia Broadcasting System has announced that it will purchase the Gilmore Stadium site, birthplace of big-time midget auto racing, for "more than $1,000,000" as the location for its projected television city.

The property, located on Beverly boulevard and Fairfax avenue, will be purchased from Mrs. Frances L. Hilen and Mrs. Elizabeth J. Hilty, daughters of Earl B. Gilmore, wealthy oilman and son of Arthur F. Gilmore, who purchased 256 acres on which "Gilmore Island" is located in 1880.

CBS officials announced that the tentative date for launching construction of Television City has been set at July 21, 1951.

The stadium is located on "Gilmore Island," a 100-acre tract which in addition contains Gilmore Field, the Pan Pacific auditorium, Farmers Market, a drive-in theater and other facilities.

Formerly located in county territory, "Gilmore Island" recently was annexed by the City of Los Angeles.

Less than 25 years ago, the area was rich oil-producing district, but subsequently the oil wells were capped.

City Attorney Hedges In Fight Against PE

City Attorney Ray Chesebro, through his assistant, Roger Arnenbergh, informed the city council Friday that "it would not be advisable for the City Attorney's office to petition the State Public Utility Commission for a rehearing in the Pacific Electric Railway petition to abandon rail passenger lines and substitute busses."

In his letter, the City Attorney states that the council's action was based on the presumption that the state commission did not fully consider the entire operations of the P.E.

He declared the presumption is false, pointing out that the Commission was presented with evidence and data showing all operations of the P.E.

Chesebro asserted that "it would not be in the best interests of the city to ask for a rehearing. It might lessen the future effectiveness of the City Attorney's office in matters before the Public Utility Commission.

"However," Chesebro declared, "if, after considering the information attached to this report, the city council is still of the opinion that a petition for a rehearing be filed, this is to advise you that this office hereby gives its consent to the hiring of special counsel."

HUMAN BEINGS

(As a She-wolf Sees Us)

For two whole years I once lived "North" of famous "Fifty-three." A land of lakes, and rocks, and vast spruce-forests wild and free; A land of winters cold and long. The Dipper was my guide. A land of northern lights so bright they served as lamps outside. A land of summers, short but sweet, a fisher's Paradise. Canoeing's joy unlimited, when lakes are freed from ice. Home of brow-antlered caribou, bull moose and "jumping" deer. Of wolves and bears and beaver-dams, all plentiful and near. I learned to have respect for wolves. They meddled not with me. They never came near to my tent, but bears would thrill with glee if I should absent from my tent or cabin chance to roam. They'd move right in and then proceed to make themselves at home. And start to banquet on my scant, hard-earned provision store. There one must guard against the bears, and trust them nevermore. Put your provisions in a sack and raise them by a rope. Thrown o'er a limb, beyond bears' reach, or less abandon hope. Of finding anything to eat when you return at night. For bears have stomachs bottomless, and endless appetite. However, both the bears and wolves have my respect in this: THEY NEVER WAR ON THEIR OWN KIND. That HUMAN trait they miss.

They never kill their females, though the males will sometimes fight.

In mating season, and that seems their immemorial right. The small wolf-packs are made up of mothers and their broods. She leads the pack, and teaches them the customs of the woods. My last trip North I had a dream, and this is what I saw: An aged mother-wolf told me, "My tribe has ditched the law of ancient days; they now make war on other wolves and kill us females and our wolf-pups, and I am afraid they will in time exterminate our race, and wolves will be no more. We're getting far too HUMAN, and I'm sure ASHAMED and sore." I tried to comfort the old girl, I said, "Now don't despair. There is a chance your tribe may change. You've something on US there."

You have no priests to teach your youth, "War is inevitable." But we are bound by ancient myths that fasten us to hell. The hell of war, for "War is hell." We never will be free from legend, myth, tradition and insane bibliolatry. And war, until we smash the false and baleful priesthoo's hold. Upon our race that springs from vain book-worship aged old. In nothing is man more conservative, more loath to change. Than in religion, true or false. I will admit it's strange. That a religion that pretends to love and to be kind. Produces more of wars and hates than all things else combined. A paradox of nonsense and unreason, hate and love. Because book-revelation is claimed "Over and above All Reason." Now a voodoo priest in Africa could claim. The same for his beliefs and creeds, without a sense of shame. We used to burn men at the stake, something wolves never do. You kill your food more painlessly. I doff my hat to you."

POLICE CAPTAIN ASKS CITIZENS TO AID DEPARTMENT IN DETECTING CRIMINALS

Captain Floyd A. Hayes, Commander of the Wilshire Division of the Police Department, today asked citizens to cooperate with the L. A. P. D. Following is his request:

How can you as a citizen of the City of Los Angeles help your Police Department? The cases cited below indicate where alert citizens made possible the recovery of property and the arrest of suspects.

During the early morning hours a week ago, two newsboys were startled to hear a burglar alarm, at the corner drug store, go off! Upon investigation the boys caught sight of a man's face through the store window. Whereupon they immediately put in a call for the police. A few minutes later the radio car officers armed with the boys' description, apprehended the suspect a short distance from the scene of the crime. The alertness of these two boys in summoning the police resulted in clearing up a list of business burglaries committed by the suspect in the Wilshire Division.

Another arrest was made recently when a citizen called to report a suspicious man walking back and forth in front of his home during the late evening hours. Upon arrival to the citizen's home the officers were given an accurate description of the suspect and the direction he was last seen walking. With this information the officers cruised the immediate vicinity, and presently sighted a man answering the description of the suspect, hurrying down a driveway carrying a box under his arm. The subsequent investigation disclosed this suspect to be an ex-convict wanted by our Dept. in connection with a series of house burglaries throughout the city.

If you observe anything or anyone that to you looks suspicious, call the Police Dept. immediately, dial MA. 7911. The accuracy with which you give a description of a suspect, automobile, or license number will greatly benefit the officers in handling the call. Your cooperation in the fight against the criminal will thus effect better protection for the lives and property of all citizens.

FLANDERS FIELDS

(With apologies to John McCrae)

By Andy Razaf

In Flanders fields where poppies grow
Beneath the crosses, row on row
We Blacks an endless vigil keep Yea we, the dead, can never sleep;
Ingratitude has made it so!
Why are we here? Why did we go
From loving homes that need us so?
Was it for naught we gave our lives
On Flanders fields?
Ye Blacks who live to you we throw;
The torch and be it yours to hold it high,
Fight for the things for which we die
That we may sleep where poppies grow
In Flanders fields!

Ans.: Paul is one of the greatest leaders. I adore, worship and respect him.

Mrs. V.: Whom do you wish to see, if you happen to visit England? The King or Queen?

Ans.: I have never in my life longed to see the Royalty of England. What for? My own cousin is a prince, his father is a King, my father is a chief. In fact I have seen and had enough royalty.

Mrs. G: Who is the best speaker between these two outstanding women? Mrs. Charlotta Bass or Mrs. Robeson?

Ans.: Both are dynamic speakers, but several people as well as I, think Mrs. Bass is the better of the two.

Mr. K: What do you think of Pearl Primus?

Ans.: I think of her as a "PUPPET."

Mr. G: What do you plan to do when you get back to Nigeria?

Ans.: I hope to have my own newspaper. But if Nigeria is freed by them, I would love to be sent as an ambassador to Russia.

Mrs. M: What do you think of America?

Ans.: I think it is a wonderful country, only a little adjustment is needed between the minority and the majority.

Mrs. O: What do you think of Imperialism?

Ans.: "A stepping stone to peace loving nations."

Miss C: How long do you plan to stay in California?

Ans.: I think I will be leaving at the close of this academic year.

Miss K: Do you hate personalities in Britain, or is it their system of government you are against?

Ans.: It is not personalities that I hate, but Imperialism. On the other hand, if any one identifies himself with the act of imperialism, I shall hate him, his very shadow, and his very steps.

Miss B: Tell me Adora, what is the name of the book you are writing?

Ans.: It is called either the "Spotlight of African History" or "Africa in World's History."

Mr. L: Adora, what is your resolution?

Ans.: "That the world must come to order."

Miss E: What do you think will be the outcome, if the U.N. is reorganized excluding Russia?

Ans.: It would turn cold war to hot war.

Miss N: I know you are a serious minded girl Adora, but I saw you the other night with a boy?

Ans.: It only proves that I am human.

Mrs. J: What do you think of American Negroes' behaviour towards their leaders?

Ans.: I think they should wake up from their deep slumber and fight arm in arm with their leaders instead of calling them names. The civil rights bill cannot be passed if they sit with their arms folded.

Mr. D: Whose pattern of leadership do you follow?

Ans.: Paul Robeson's. He does not bend when false winds blow against his unbowed head. Paul is the man. He has set up a challenge and that challenge should be met by the people.

(Editor's Note: Starting next week, read Adora's continuation of "HER ADVENTURE" and send in more questions by phone or card.)

Shaw Univ. Notes

The Shaw University Sunday School held Homecoming Services Sunday, May 21, at its final meeting of the school year. An address was delivered by the Rev. Alonzo G. Cooley, pastor of First Baptist Church of Kittrell and Director of Religious Education of the State Baptist Convention, who spoke on the subject, "What Religion Can Do In Our Lives."

The Shaw University Choral Society received a tremendous ovation as it was presented in its annual concert Sunday afternoon at 6 o'clock in Greenleaf Auditorium before a crowd that filled every available seat and most of the standing room at the rear of the auditorium.

Several scores of Shaw University students were cited for outstanding performance in numerous extra-curricular activities at Awards Day Exercises held Friday morning in Greenleaf Auditorium.

Eight senior members of the Shaw University Choral Society were awarded the much-desired Choir Key upon recommendation of Professor Harry Gil-Smythe, Choir Director.

Keys from the Intercollegiate Drama Association went to five seniors for valued participation with the Shaw Players.

Prizes in the May Festival, held the previous Saturday, were announced by Miss Mary A. Miller. The first prize for group performance in the festival went to the Spanish Club and second prize was awarded to the Shaw Players.

Certificates were presented to numbers of other students who

I'm tellin' you, Don McAllister and Nellie Young are really comin on strong... Did you hear about that Jeff Swing Band party over at the Phyllis Wheatley home???? They say it was really keen... All the kids gave Milton Alleyne a surprise party the first of this week. Cookies and crackers present were: Luther Jackson, Charles Beal, Maurice Greene, Percy Ivy, Peggy Jones, Barbara Hill, Rosa Mae McFason, and the cutie of cuties Tip Bailey... Jeff swing band gave an assembly for the benefit of the student body a couple of days ago. The most outstanding participants were: Wayne Robinson, (drums), Frank Morgan, (sax), and of course that wonderful little bundle of joy, Stanley Robertson (alto),... Kinda think that Evans Reese is deeply in love with a certain Leodious Mourny so he says... Jeff's (you know what kind of choir can't spell the name) gave a beach party Monday nite. Got some names too. Shirley Matthews Barabara Butler Percy Harris Ella Ruth Lee Kenneth Graham Christine Kuntz, Donald Neal and Audrey Hooper... Snooping around at Lincoln Park I spied James Coats Rudell Slay. Nute Demmings Billie Jackson, and Billie Hill... Guess what! Emerson McDowall went up to his father's ranch a couple of week ago and he honest to goodness, really did work. Kinda unusual for you Emerson, my boy. Seen among the fine brown frames Tuesday were: Barbara Pickins, Herman Brown, Eddie Holland, Gene Hamilton, Sully Walker, course you know that this was at the beach.

Barbara

yon know somethin', he graduated. (high school)... Los Angeles has a right to cry, for Gloria Mae Evans and Audrey Springs are bound for New Orleans this summer. Hope you have a fine time, gals... The Castilians had a club meetin at Rosalind Douglas' home last Tuesday. Most prominent persons present were: Fay Jones, William Curry, and Clarence Russell... I'm tellin' you that Joe Rouzon really thinks he's smart. Wouldn't even tell me who he was taking to the prom. Well, I found out anyway. Her name Mister Rouzon is Carmelita Yalarde.

28th Street YMCA Will Provide Boys' Summer' Camp Vacations

Boys of the area who have for years depended upon 28th Street YMCA providing them with Summer Camp during the vacation period will not be disappointed this year in spite of the difficulties facing the Branch.

The Camp Committee of the Branch announces that this summer there will be two camping periods for the boys of 28th St. YMCA. The first will leave the city on June 19 outbound for Little Green Valley with its varied program of nature study, nature craft, archery, swimming, hiking, horseback riding, etc. The period will be shared with boys from South East YMCA and is limited to forty-five boys from 28th St.

The second group of campers will leave the city on July 13 for a week in the High Sierras. The group will be limited to fifteen real "he men" campers, 12 to 17 years and the program will be the "rugged" type that older boys love.

Any boy in the district may attend these YMCA camps regardless of race and he need not be a "Y" member. Rates are reasonable. Boys have been signing up for the past two weeks for the limited number that can be accepted.

SOUTH LOS ANGELES, COMPTON, WILLOWBROOK

WATTS FRIENDLY CORNER

Thelma Harper Berkley

A dream was turned into reality Wednesday evening at 8:24 p.m. when the long-awaited street lights were turned on in the Willowbrook Plaza.

The Willowbrook High School Band, under the direction of T. Mistretta, swung into action with action with music, as they marched from the high school to the designated spot where ceremonies were held, many dignitaries were present, including Mrs. Marion Wagstaff, principal of Willowbrook High School, who was mistress of ceremonies; Mrs. Elenore Dove, wife of the late Sebret C. Dove, whose feverish work is remembered as one of the main instigators for the lights; Carley Porter, Mr. Diels C. Riddlebarger, superintendent of Compton School District; H. Douglass, girls' vice principal of Willowbrook High School; Cleophus Saunders, Sam Zackiem, vice principal; attorney Rayfield Lundy, Van Davis and many others who expressed congratulations to each worker who gave their time to such an excellent step in community progress.

New Playground Approved for Watts District by Commission

Preliminary plans for a new recreation clubhouse to serve the district surrounding the 109th

Street Playground, 1500 East 109th street, have been approved by the Los Angeles City Recreation and Park Commission.

ELAJC Commencement

Dr. E. Wilson Lyon, president of Pomona College, will be commencement speaker on June 15 when 237 graduates including nurses, will receive associate in arts degrees from East Los Angeles Junior College, Dr. Rosco C. Ingalls, director of the college, announced this week.

Baccalaureate services will be held June 11. Dr. Earle Cranston, dean of the school of religion at the University of Southern California, will be the principal speaker.

The modern and attractive building, which will cost an estimated $75,000, will meet the need for indoor recreation service in the area with an interesting arrangement of recreation facilities.

There will be a main recreation hall and stage suitable for indoor sports and games, dancing, entertainment programs, and other large community gatherings. Club and meeting rooms will take care of smaller groups, arts and crafts classes, youth meetings, and other features of the playground's program.

A kitchen, director's office, sanitary conveniences, and storage space will complete the interior layout of the new building.

Jordan High A Capella Choir On Hollywood Bowl Program

Jordan High School's Senior A Capella Choir will comprise part of the company of 4000 Los Angeles City School children participating in a "Cavalcade of Youth" program to be held in the Hollywood Bowl on Saturday night, May 26 and 27.

The local aggregation, seventy-five strong, will sing two songs: "Adoremus Et" and "Rockin' My Soul." They will also be joined in a later number with choirs from Jefferson and Lafayette.

Jordan's group, just completing a successful year of singing engagements before local schools and civic groups, is under the direction of Miss Meda, music teacher and Ralph Holt, student director.

The performances will be from 8:30 to 10:30. Admission will be free.

The program is being sponsored by the Los Angeles City

School Districts, Dr. Alexander Stoddard, Superintendent. Its purpose is to keep free public education constantly in the forefront of public attention by presenting as many students as possible to the parents of the Los Angeles community.

Summer Classes Trio Triumphs

A total of 74 classes covering about 15 different fields, will be taught at East Los Angeles Junior College during this summer, Dr. John Howard, assistant dean of evening division, announced this week.

People interested in enrolling in the classes may do so Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. until June 16.

World Student Cong.

The second World Student Congress of the International Union of Students will be held in Prague, Czechoslovakia, August 14-28, 1950.

Students from more than 64 countries will meet then to discuss their problems and their aims. The question of peace is the most important single issue facing all students, as well as all the nations of the world. Peace will therefore be the fundamental subject to be discussed on every program.

Willowbrook Co-op School In New Home

The Willowbrook Cooperative Nursery School, formerly located at Santa Monica and Vermont, has recently moved into the First Unitarian Church at 2936 West Eighth Street, just east of Vermont.

Willowbrook is sponsored by the Church School as a community service, although it is self-sustaining and self-operating. It uses the fully equipped nursery school rooms of the church.

In addition to this fine indoor space, the school has a large, enclosed yard in the rear of the church, for which the fathers' group of the nursery school has provided modern equipment.

So that costs and tuition can be kept to a minimum, each family group contributes at least three hours per week to the running of the school. The director is a well-trained, professional nursery school teacher. She organizes and conducts education and orientation classes for the mothers who assist her so that they will understand the children better and be able to carry nursery school training into the home.

Operating on cooperative principles, there is no discrimination as to race, color, or creed in the school. Ages of the children range from 2 to 4½ years, and at present there are a few vacancies in the younger and intermediate age groups. Hours are from 9:15 to 11:45 a.m., Mondays through Fridays. Those wishing more information about this school may call Mrs. William Brown at NO. 5956.

Teamsters' Unions Help Send Boy Scouts To Big Jamboree

Twenty to 30 Los Angeles Boy Scouts who might not otherwise be able to go to the 2nd National Scout Jamboree being held at Valley Forge, Pa., next month, can now make the trip because of the generosity of the Teamsters' Unions of this city.

A check for more than $3,800, presented by top union officials to Glen Rice, assistant Scout executive of the Los Angeles Area Council and Jamboree tour director, will provide funds for deserving Scouts to make the 9,000-mile, 18-day trip. Mr. Rice announced that most of the funds would be allocated to Scout units which are sponsored by the unions, but that a portion is being used to assist boys from other units, especially those in less-advantaged sections.

Other Jamboreeships have been donated by many firms, organizations, and individuals of the city, Mr. Rice stated. Most of these, he said, were designated to a certain boy or unit by the donor and there are many Scouts who still need help in raising the final portion of their funds.

Between 550 and 600 boys and adults from the Los Angeles Scout Council will attend the Jamboree, June 30 to July 6. Leaving here aboard two special trains June 25 and returning July 13, they will visit Salt Lake City, Chicago, Niagara Falls, New York City, Washington, D. C., Philadelphia and Harrisburg, Pa.

DEAN Armistead S. Pride, of the Lincoln University School of Journalism, has been elected as a member of the American Society of Journalism School Administrators. Dean Pride's selection reflects credit on the high standards of training given at Lincoln.

10th District PTA Will Hold Installation

Formal installation ceremonies will be conducted by Mrs. Edward W. Raith, a past president of Tenth District PTA, and also area chairman of the Women's Division of Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, at the June 5 meeting of Olympia Council of Parents and Teachers Assn. to be held in the auditorium at the Washington High School, 10860 Denker Ave., Los Angeles at 10 a.m.

"Homemaking" is the topic of the day, and Mary Louise Solcide, representative from the City Department of Water and Power, will be guest speaker, and will conduct a demonstration of modern home equipment.

The drum and bugle corps of the school will advance the colors for the pledge of allegiance. Entertainment planned by the program chairman, Mrs. C. C. Wahlquist, will feature the A Capella Choir in several selections and music by the school orchestra.

Luncheon which is by reservation will be served following the session. Unit presidents will meet with Mrs. E. J. Stephens, council president, at 9:30 a.m.

Jefferson High PTA Officers Installation Set For Thursday

Mrs. C. C. Wahlquist, incoming president of Olympia Council, will be the installing officer Thursday, June 8th at the last meeting of the Jefferson High P.T.A. season.

The topic "How well have we mined" will disclose P.T.A. progress and news from the conventions.

The Senior Prom slated for Friday night, June 2, sponsored by the P. T. A. will be the loveliest ever attempted, according to reports.

A Carnival at the Woodlawn Branch Y.M.C.A. Saturday night, June 10th will be sponsored by the P.T.A. for the teenagers. It promises to be a gay evening for the boys and girls from all over the city.

Everyone is Health Center Conscious these days—the 10th District project at 23rd and Grand is making them so. The Jeff P.T.A. is in a huddle on Ways and Means to help in financing this big project.

Florida Names Jim Crow Court

MIAMI, Fla. — This Florida community has its first Negro Judge. He is 52 year old Lawson E. Thomas who was sworn in Monday to preside over the jim-crow court here where only Negro offenders will be tried.

Thomas is an alumnus of Florida A and M College at Tallahassee and the University of Michigan Law School. He worked his way through both institutions. For the past fifteen years he has been a practicing attorney in Miami.

Heralded by some leaders in both Negro and white communities here as an advance in democracy, Thomas' appointment is widely considered as a throw-back to reconstruction days when the pattern of racial segregation and separate but equal facilities was established.

It was pointed out that while Thomas' elevation to the bench in a special court is recognition of the right of a Negro lawyer to become a judge, it also serves to perpetuate the myth of racial inferiority.

Jimcrow Cases

ANN ARBOR, Mich. — Laura Duncan, nationally known singer, Abraham Chapman, editor of Fraternal Outlook and Vera Nickoloff, Russian American folk singer, ran head-on collision with brazen anti-Negro Jim Crow when they were refused service in a small restaurant and tavern on one of the main streets of Ann Arbor, the home of the University of Michigan, last week.

The trio were passing through Ann Arbor, en route to Chicago from Detroit, in the course of a cultural tour in honor of the 20th anniversary of the International Workers Order, national interracial fraternal organization.

The group at once called the office of the prosecuting attorney in Ann Arbor to lodge a complaint against the flagrant violation of the Michigan state law which prohibits such discrimination in public places. At the same time, they reported the incident to the NAACP chapter in Ann Arbor, headed by Mrs. Dorothy Griffel, president.

FEPC Puzzles French

MARSEILLES, France (Atlas) — Little do the lawmakers who are fighting the passage of the FEPC know that their actions are reverberating around the globe. The man in the streets of the great Mediterranean seaport of Marseilles, studies the news reports, and stands rather puzzled, wondering what all the fuss is about. When told that the FEPC is the struggle to get legislation passed that will make it illegal for anyone to discriminate against race, creed or national origin in employment, this explanation usually provokes a speculative look that fades into a look of confusion.

The atmosphere is seething in Washington over the prospect of a siege by the South, and may be some GOP's to stop the surge of interest in the passage of the FEPC. The bitterness between supporters and foes of the bill to create a fair employment practices commission is steadily mounting.

The Southerners are not at all concerned about what the rest of the world is thinking about the fracas over a bill to give equal economic rights to the Negro, there are selfishly aroused over the possibility of losing an old "slave" tradition.

The son of the late Huey Long, Senator Russell B. Long, has already let it be known, that if there is the slightest doubt in anybody's mind that any attempt to pass FEPC won't be opposed to the hilt, they better recede their thoughts.

MY PRAYER FOR PEACE

By Little Old David

I PRAY TO THEE, DEAR GOD.
I SEEK YOUR PROTECTION.
No, NOT FOR ME,
NOT EVEN FOR MY BELOVED WIFE.
WE ARE BOTH GETTING OLD,
SO IT DOES NOT MATTER NOW.

I SEEK YOUR PROTECTION,
FOR MY CHILDREN.
AND FOR THE CHILDREN OF ALL THE WORLD
AND FOR THE ANIMALS DOMESTICATED.
WHOSE FREEDOM WE HAVE CANCELLED.

BUT I FEAR THAT YOU,
DEAR GOD, MAY NOT HEAR ME.
NO, NOT BECAUSE OF THE HOWLING OF THE WINDS OR THE ANGRY ROAR OF THE OCEAN WAVES.
OR THE STROKE OF LIGHTENING
OR THE CRASHING SOUND OF THUNDER.

BUT BECAUSE OF THE HOWLING OF THE VOICES
HOWLING FOR WAR
AND THE SOUNDS OF THE WAR PLANES AND THE VICIOUS ANGER OF THE
"A" AND THE "H" BOMBS
THAT MIGHT COME CRASHING DOWN AND FROM A MAN-MADE HELL THAT MIGHT EXCEED THE ONE WHERE THE DEVIL DWELLS SUPREME.

Each year the Los Angeles Advertising Women present the annual Frances Holmes Achievement Award for outstanding achievement of women in the field of advertising. The various prize winners, in layout, copy, and so forth, will be exhibited at the downtown public library for two weeks, May 29 to June 10. The competition is dedicated to Frances Holmes, who, through her own personal achievement, established women in the field of advertising in Los Angeles. That the fields of advertising, public relations, and business generally offer many opportunities for women is emphasized in the following books, suggested by your public library.

HOW TO BE A SUCCESSFUL ADVERTISING WOMAN, edited by Mary Margaret McBride. Fifteen outstanding women in many phases of the advertising business present straight-from-the-shoulder advice on succeeding in their profession. What personal qualifications are necessary and what education is advisable are brought out, and a glance is taken at the careers of 70 successful advertising women.

THE LADY MEANS BUSINESS, by Aimee Buchanan. Described by the author as "the career woman's own Machiavelli" the book is full of excellent common-sense advice for the beginner in the business world. There is a sharp note on the inequality between the sexes in business, but for the most part, Mrs. Buchanan puts it up to the business woman to get just about as far along in her career as she wishes by depending on her own initiative. The book includes informal tests of one's business aptitude.

SUCCESSFUL WOMEN AND HOW THEY ATTAINED SUCCESS, by Isabella Taves. Human interest stories about women who have obtained fame in their chosen professions. The author emphasizes advertising and radio as especially fertile fields for women. No easy formula for success is offered, but the book lays stress on integrity and hard work as ingredients of success.

STAND BY FOR THE LADIES! THE DISTAFF SIDE OF RADIO, by Ruth Adams Knight. That there are many opportunities for women in the world of radio is brought out by this book. Apart from any acting talent you might have, there are many other fields in which women figure, such as advertising, script writing, agency work.

GETTING A JOB IN ADVERTISING, by James Davis Woolf. The executive of a large advertising company gives friendly advice for those seeking jobs in his profession. The agency field is described; and jobs open to copy writers, artists, research workers, and public relations directors are analyzed. The ad man in radio is also described.

CAREERS IN PUBLIC RELATIONS, by Averell Broughton. Public relations is described as "really the field of public information, whether provided about an individual, a business corporation, a town or community, a nation or nations, or just a new idea." The book tells you your chances in this growing field.

JUST LIKE A WOMAN! by Elizabeth Kidd. Mrs. Kidd is a highly successful advertising woman. This present book is a shrewd compendium of advice on how to "angle" your advertising to the woman's viewpoint. Women will buy and buy if your product is presented the right way. It sounds easy, the way she tells it.

Doings About Omaha

by G. Anita Hayes

Mrs. Alma Vessells John, executive secretary, National Association of Colored Graduate Nurses with headquarters at 1790 Broadway, New York City, was a visitor last Sunday, Monday and Tuesday to the Mary Mahoney Chapter of Graduate Nurses in Omaha. She was guest speaker at a public meeting held at St. John A.M.E. Church on Monday evening, May 2nd. Her speech was both inspirational and informative to all who heard her.

In giving the history and progress which the organization has made during its 42 years of existence, it was interesting to note that the organization of this group was necessitated because Negro nurses did not have professional recognition nor status and because educational opportunities were extremely limited for both basic and advanced preparation in nursing. At that time of the 28 schools for Negro nurses in the U.S., only half were then and are still mediocre in curriculums which they offer, mainly because clinical facilities are not available. Only 20 to 30 beds are available, thus facilities for advancement in nursing are limited.

As a result of a consistent, persistent program for the integration and acceptance of Negro nurses, void of the color stigma which has hampered their chance to prove themselves to be nurses, poised, prepared and capable to do the job of nursing professionally, the number of schools of 1200 in the United States has increased from 14 to 304 to admit Negro nurses for training. Concentration on job opportunities and a breaking down of wage differentials has been the major focus over the years. An observation through traveling and visitation shows remarkable progress and job opportunities have increased, yet there are still areas where integration of the trained professional nurse has not gone ahead.

The 1950 Biennial Nursing Convention held in San Francisco, Calif., May 7-12, with press headquarters at Hotel Whitcomb, and sessions at the Civic Auditorium culminated in action—real, concrete and professionally democratic relative to the question of inter-group relationship came to the assembly on several occasions, and received favorable consideration each time.

The delegates favorably acted on a plank in the 1951-52 platform to promote full participation of "Minority" groups in association activities, and to eliminate discrimination in job opportunities, salaries and other working conditions. These developments came as a result of the 1946 and 1948 conventions, where in the 1946 convention the question of Negro membership in the State Nurses Association came to the floor, and as a result the House of Delegates gave the Board of Directors a mandate to find a way for all nurses to participate regardless of their color. In the 1948 convention, an amendment was made to the constitution which gave individual membership to all nurses barred because of color.

Prior to World War II and 1942, 17 state associations barred Negro nurses. The number has now been reduced to five, and the District of Columbia. A Negro nurse, Mrs. Estelle Massey Osborne, now full professor in the Department of Nursing Education at New York University was elected to the Board of Directors. The first assistant, Executive Secretary of Color was elected to the American Nurses Association in 1949.

Oddly enough, Mrs. John and others like her in the nursing profession are working themselves out of a job by their persistent efforts and program for integration. However, persons convicted on issues see beyond the present into distant horizons, and realize full well that future goals which include mass advancement for many are far more valuable and more important than advancement for one or several.

Mrs. John's visit ended in a reception at the beautiful and newly, tastefully decorated home of her friend and a most gracious hostess, Mrs. Jessica Wright of 2512 Binney. Mrs. Wright was the guest of Mrs. John and Mrs. Mabel K. Staupers, president of the N. Association of Colored Graduate Nurses during her vacation in New York last year.

Members of the Omaha Mary Mahoney Graduate Chapter of Omaha are Mesdames Bessie Blueford, Bernice O'Neal, Jessie Cain, Pearl Hieronymus, Loretta Heinz, Anna Mason, Anna Bogus, Maggie Hollingsworth and Juanita Perry.

Mrs. Jewel Robinson, president of the Delta Sorority, Omaha Chapter and Mrs. Betty Davis Pittman, Basileus of the AKA Sorority, served as hostess at the reception.

Mrs. John and several other nurses appeared on a television show over station WOW on last Monday afternoon at 3:35. Mrs. John, who is both personable and dynamic, made quite an impression and reached over 3500 persons via television.

The Mary Mahoney Chapter, Mrs. Wright and their friends gave to Omahans who received those gracious printed invitations a rare treat by holding a reception in order that these people might meet and know Mrs. John personally.

Mrs. Kathryn Favors, Mrs. Marian Jones and G. Anita Hayes were guest speakers at the Women's Day observance of Hillside Presbyterian Church on Sunday, May 28th. Mesdames Jeanette Grievous and Jamie Norman are to be congratulated on planning and carrying through on such a splendid program sponsored by the women of the church.

Award Day was observed at Florida A and M College Monday, May 22, at the noon assembly. 151 students were given keys, varsity F's and certificates of merits embracing various areas of achievement.

DOCTOR DEVELOPS REMARKABLE HAIR and SCALP FORMULA

After many years of research and practice, Doctor Morris developed a remarkable formula for dry, scaly, itchy scalp, dandruff, unruly, excessive falling hair. It consists of a special medicated tar, oxyquilonline — two powerful antiseptics incorporated with other valuable ingredients.

This scientific combination does such fine work, that many doctors regard it highly and recommend it for many scalp troubles of local nature. This remarkable formula is known as "TAREX." Get it from your drug store. Use it on your short-looking hair and scalp for 7 short days. If you aren't delighted, if your hair doesn't look gloriously smooth, longer, straighter, lovelier—your $1.00 back. Upon receipt of $1.00, we will send "TAREX" anywhere postpaid. West View Hospital Meeting Set Friday

A meeting to discuss the fate of West View Hospital has been called by Postmaster Michael D. Fanning, to be held in the auditorium of the Golden State Insurance Company, 1999 West Adams Boulevard, at 8 o'clock Friday evening, June 2.

The meeting has been called by Postmaster Fanning as a result of several meetings with His Excellency, Archbishop J. Francis A. McIntyre, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Thomas J. O'Dwyer, Mr. Harpo Marx, Mr. Allen C. Wodard, 3rd, Attorney Howard Ziemann, and others who have been discussing the possibility of completion of the hospital some time in 1950.

"More than 500 invitations have been sent out for this meeting," Postmaster Fanning said. "The purpose of the meeting is to discuss fully the entire history of the West View Hospital movement, what has taken place, where it stands today, and whether or not the community desires to proceed under the auspices of Archbishop McIntyre and the Franciscan Sisters, who have for many years conducted the Queen of Angels Hospital.

"So many campaigns have begun with high hopes, only to end in failure," Fanning said, "that it is felt that only 100 per cent community support, plus the active cooperation of the entire city and county of Los Angeles, can result in the raising of the $1,000,000 necessary to complete and equip the 100-bed hospital which is now projected. This will be an open meeting.

Thrifty Drugs Given Award For Service

A coveted Certificate of Outstanding Service, was awarded today to officials of Thrifty Drug Stores Co., Inc., by representatives of the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce, on the occasion of the statewide retail drug firm's 21st birthday.

In presenting the award, Oscar A. Trippett, Senior Vice-President of the Los Angeles Chamber said, "We of the Chamber of Commerce take great pleasure in making this award to Thrifty. We have watched the spectacular growth of Thrifty here in Los Angeles and throughout the state, in the remarkably short span of only twenty-one years.

"The Chamber is proud of the Thrifty success story which closely parallels the growth story of Los Angeles."

Upon accepting the award, Manny Borun Vice-President of Thrifty Drug Stores said, "On behalf of all Thrifty employees, I feel keen pleasure in accepting this Certificate of Outstanding Service and would like to extend my warmest thanks to the Los Angeles Chamber of Commerce."

"We who represent Thrifty shall endeavor to maintain our position of leadership, in the Los Angeles Area, by offering outstanding service and quality merchandise at the lowest possible prices."

Commencement Exercises Set At Lincoln U.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—Commencement exercises at Lincoln University (Mo.), scheduled for 10 a.m. Monday, June 5, will present President H. Roe Bartle, Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Mo., as the principal speaker. On the previous day, June 4, the Baccalaureate sermon to the 140 graduates will be delivered by Rev. T. E. Huntley, pastor, Central Baptist church, St. Louis, Mo., at 3 p.m. followed by the President's reception for Graduating Classes, Alumni, Faculty and University Guests at 5 p.m. on the campus lawn.

Saturday, June 3, is Alumni Day. A business session has been scheduled for 3 p.m. by President N. A. Sweets and a banquet for Alumni and graduating seniors at 7 p.m. Reservations for this affair are to be made with the Office of Public Relations. The local Alumni chapter will be host to a party later in the evening.

The Laboratory High School will conduct its promotion exercises at 8 p.m., June 2.

Thursday, June 1, will be taken over by the seniors of the College of Arts and Sciences, with appropriate class day exercises at 10 a.m. and a picnic at two in the afternoon.

The Commencement season period, which began May 11 with Honors Convocation, and continued through June 5, has been filled with a number of fine presentations by the Department of Music, Exercises in Dedication of Inman E. Page Library, and other Laboratory High School programs.

Sentence Four

For inflicting injuries on a special officer in a Brooklyn Avenue dance hall, four youths were sentenced to 270 days in the city jail.

Municipal Judge Byron Walters, in sentencing the quartette on battery and disturbing the peace counts, said:

"I regret that it is not in my power to impose a longer term."

Those sentenced were Raymond Chavez, 23, of 126 Rivera street; Reuben M. Winans, 22, of 301 Roger Young Village; Raymond S. Contreras, 22, of 1048 South Fresno street, and Charles Maldonado, 20, of 859 Judson street.

Milton F. Fuller, 5116 Irvington place, was a special officer whom the four had beaten.

Anselmo Mendoza, Jr., of 3488 1/2 Lanfranco street, was let off with a $100 fine and was placed on two years probation. Mendoza was extended clemency on the ground that he did not actually participate in the attack on Fuller.

Budget Cut May Close Two Local Libraries

The Malabar Branch library, 2801 Wabash Avenue, and the Robert Louis Stevenson Branch Library, 803 Spence Street, will be two of 18 branch libraries in the city forced to close their doors permanently if the City Council accepts as final the "slashed" library budget submitted to it by Mayor Bowron, according to the Board of Library Commissioners. Closing of the Malabar and Robert Louis Stevenson branch libraries will mean discharging 9 staff members and discontinuing service to more than 9,000 people who borrow nearly 172,000 books a year. The Malabar Branch has been open to the public since 1923, and the Robert Louis Stevenson since 1914. They serve a total of 21 schools in their areas.

These drastic steps will have to be taken, states the Commission, if the Library is forced to operate next year under a reduced plan calling for a one-third cut from its already requested 1950-51 budget, now under consideration by the City Council.

Because of the seriousness of the Library's situation, the Board of Library Commissioners has called a special meeting for Wednesday, May 31.

Kenny Promises Job on 'Klan'

Robert W. Kenny promised today to "take the lead in whatever may be necessary" to finish the job should efforts be made to revive the Ku Klux Klan in California.

This was Kenny's response to a letter received, purportedly, from the Ku Klux Klan, but without return address.

The letter berated the former State Attorney-General for "persecution" of the KKK and boasted that despite his efforts, that organization "is alive and growing in California."

Kenny in 1946 brought action against the KKK in superior court and secured revocation of the KKK charter granted in 1922.

The present letter to Kenny, signed "John N. Knauer, national organizer," uses vilifying epithets for racial minorities and religious groups "on your side," and says "you and this smelly gang will never be able to smash the Klan and what it stands for—real, 100% white, Gentile, Protestant Americanism."

"The California courts have outlawed this organization," comments Kenny, "but some of its fanatical promoters may not yet be convinced that Americans have no patience with any sort of superiority that masks its face to move in hooded mobs at night."

"I assure Mr. Knauer or whoever is using that name that I will again take the lead in whatever may be necessary to suppress any future attempts to terrorize any group of the American people."

The letter received by Kenny was imprinted "Ku Klux Klan, California Conclave, Office of King Kleagle L. A. Klavern," and was mailed from Inglewood, Calif., in an envelope apparently obtained from the Piedmont Hotel, Atlanta, Ga.

Similar letters have been sent to some Los Angeles newspapers, it is reported to Kenny.

(Inclosure: Photostat of letter & envelope received by Kenny.)

LASTING MARRIAGES

It is a complete understanding and trust in each other which has made many marriages a success. To have the same intense love of some one thing or ambition. To be willing to sacrifice almost everything to achieve this desire. To give each other courage and confidence.

Holifield in Denial of War Rumors

Congressman Holifield today deplored the persistent rumors which are being circulated in Southern California. Two of the most wide-spread rumors are the immediate possibility of rationing tires and commodities, and the closing of automobile factories in order to start the production of tanks.

"I have been assured by responsible officials in Washington," said Congressman Holifield, "that the rationing of tires, sugar and other commodities is not being planned at the present time. There will be no need of rationing unless the present world conditions drastically change."

In various speeches in the district this week, Holifield has said that tanks, planes and modern submarines will continue to be manufactured within the bounds of the present annual national defense budget. He has said that the current placement of national defense orders is for the replacement of obsolete weapons and the maintenance of a high standard of national preparedness. While conceding that the spending of 15 billion dollars during a peacetime year will naturally have a stimulating effect on business and employment, Holifield believes that when this expenditure is considered in relation to our national gross income of over two hundred billion dollars annually, it should not disturb to a great extent our production of domestic items.

Holifield stated further, "It was the overwhelming consensus of opinion among the members of Congress that a high state of preparedness would be the strongest basis for peace. We have learned by sad experience that dictators prey upon those who are weak and respect those who are strong. The United States," Holifield said, "will continue to use its economic and military strength through the United Nations, to prevent war and establish World Peace."

Thunderbird Offers Ink Spots A Five Year Contract

LAS VEGAS—Expecting one of the biggest opening night crowds this resort town has seen in many months, the Thunderbird Hotel has been spending the past few weeks enlarging their supper club for the debut of the Ink Spots here on June 22nd.

Because the Ink Spots have always been a top drawing card in Las Vegas, the managers of the exclusive vacation spot are planning to offer the singers a five year pact which will guarantee them one appearance each season at the Thunderbird.

and above all to have respect for each other's judgment.

The above are only some of the things that make up the ingredients for a happy marriage, but they are some of the main things. If half of the married people that are having difficulty would try and use some of this advice, there would be less divorces.

Pro. Herman has a lot of advice to give to those that are having trouble in their married life. Why not write to him today.

C. D.—Dear Prof. Herman: Will I marry him?

ANSWER—It is revealed to me that a marriage is in store for you. The person in whom you are interested is very fond of you and it is his intention to ask you to marry him in the near future.

T. O.—When did she leave? Does she intend to return? Did I in any way cause her departure?

ANSWER—Due to the limited amount of space, I am only permitted to answer one question in the column. I suggest that you write in for a private reply. Send your complete name, address and birthdate. Three questions are answered for 25c, six for 50c, etc. Address all mail to me in care of this paper and you will receive a prompt reply.

A. C.—Is the earth nearer to the sun in summer or in winter?

ANSWER—The earth actually reaches its closest approach to the sun about January 3rd, the middle of winter in the Northern Hemisphere.

B. M.—My physician told me that I would have to undergo a serious operation. Will I find someone to care for the children while I am confined?

ANSWER—In all probability you may be successful in finding an elderly woman to take care of the children while you are in the hospital. Perhaps some of your friends may be able to recommend someone to you.

Dr. Ralph Bunche Commencement Speaker For UCLA Graduations

Dr. Ralph Bunche, United Nations Mediator, credited with bringing peace in the Jewish-Arab hostilities in Palestine, will be the commencement speaker for the UCLA graduation exercises to be held in Hollywood Bowl on June 18.

A graduate of UCLA in 1927, Dr. Bunche is one of the world's best-known citizens, and has received decorations, honors and commendations from all points of the globe. Reportedly offered a post at the faculty at UCLA last year, Dr. Bunche turned it down saying he preferred to serve the United Nations for a while longer.

His selection as commencement speaker, renews the rumors that he will be tendered a teaching post at the famed university.

An offer of an Assistant Secretaryship of State to Dr. Bunche by President Truman was turned down by the noted diplomat because of his asserted unwillingness to subject his wife and children to the jimcrow and discrimination rampant in the nation's capital.

On June 16, Dr. Bunche will address some 2800 UCLA graduates on the campus at Berkeley.

● Eagle Editor

Continued from Page 3) perfume from the trees and the wild shrubbery in that valley not yet disturbed by cold war rumblings.

And that marked the opening of a three-day unexpected vacation for a weary little old newspaper editor, that will henceforth occupy a snug little corner in her memory box.

In those three days many things happened. Sunday, Monday, and Tuesday the party visited Ginsberg's resort, for sulphur baths and steak and chicken dinners.

The setting at Ginsberg's is inter-racial. The restaurant where meals of the highest order, but reasonably priced, are prepared and served by the owners, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aldridge, is a very bright spot in the desert. On this occasion comely Mrs. Curtis Chandler was in charge of the dining room, adding charm to the scenery and giving cheer to all who came.

On Sunday evening the Ginsberg recreational center was open for the presentation of a lecture by the world famous poet, Z. Weinper, National Secretary of "Ykuf," a Jewish cultural organization.

Sharing the limelight with Mr. Weinper Sunday evening were Mrs. Sadie Doroshkin and Mrs. Charlotte A. Bass, the editor of The California Eagle. Mrs. Bass made only a "few remarks", but these remarks were so spiced with native humor and wisdom that more than one person declared her little speech "took the cake."

Of the many delightful things Mrs. Bass remembers at the Ginsberg resort are the bits of sculpture Mr. Ginsberg showed her—the fruit of his own art. One she liked especially was the head of Marian Anderson, not yet quite completed. Mr. Ginsberg explained that sculpturing is one of his hobbies, and offered to do the head of Mrs. Bass sometime!

Among the many guests registering at the Gilman, the Silver Valley Rest Home, and the Ginsberg resort last weekend were: Mr. and Mrs. Luther S. Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Melton Myers, Mr. Chas. C. Wilson, Mr. Ben Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Arnold, Jas. L. Miller, Robert H. Arnold, Mr. and Mrs. Nathan Garfield, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cohen, Mr. and Mrs. R. Cutler, Mrs. Esther Shimyacher (widow of the famous poet, Perez Hershebin) a well known poet and author in her own right; Mr. and Mrs. Sam Dardick, Dora Hyatt, Mr. and Mrs. Radov, Mr. and Mrs. Young, Selma Kleban, Mr. and Mrs. Wyman Burney, Mr. and Mrs. James Bland, and friends; Mr. and Mrs. Riley Blackburn and family; Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Chandler; Sadie and Bill Doroshkin, Pearl and Al Fagelson, Milt Levison, president Lodge No. 448, JFPO; Sam and Pauline Goldstein, and Rosilyn, active in JFPO Children's School, where "Rosy" is a student; Abe Otkin, manager of Morning Freiheit, the daily Jewish paper in the Yiddish language, and of Jewish Life, a monthly magazine, and his wife, Jean, active in JFPO children's schools.

Nathan Shapiro, president of the JFPO City Terrace Culture Center, and Anne Shapiro, artist and secretary in charge of all programs in the Center; Mr. and Mrs. Tucker and friends, etc.

So ended a lovely and unexpected vacation, with the editor of the EAGLE returning late Tuesday evening, refreshed and ready to take up next morning the heavy burdens of publishing a progressive newspaper, and wondering where the wherewithal is to come from.

worker and Mrs. Bluestone is a social worker.

The Harlem Trade Union Council emphasized the fact that all three of these persons are women; all of them were actively involved in fighting against jimcrow practices in the New York City public agencies.

Miss Goding is one of the very few Negro women presidents of unions in the entire country and during her 16 years as a welfare worker has militantly fought to break down discrimination against Negroes both on staff and in jobs referrals.

Miss Citron has taught in Harlem schools for 18 years and in that capacity has become a known and respected person in the community because of her fight to teach Negro History, to prevent the use of anti-Negro textbooks, and to have smaller classes.

Mrs. Bluestone was fired on the charge of "conduct unbecoming a professional worker" because she had been issuing a leaflet issued by her local before working hours. The leaflet exposed the bad working conditions in the Dietetic Department of the Bronx Veteran's Hospital and charged the hospital administration with practicing discrimination against Negro workers.

Townsend Honored; To Speak at LWV

Attorney Vince Monroe Townsend, Jr., the people's fighting candidate for Congress from the 14th Congressional District, will receive another special honor on Sunday afternoon, May 28, when the Silhouettes of Kappa Alpha Psi Fraternity, give a musical tea in his honor. The tea will be at the home of Mrs. Travis Lott, 1245 South Arlington Avenue, from 4 to 7 p.m.

An outstanding musical program has been arranged, which will present some of the most outstanding musical artists of the city.

Among the artists who will appear are Mr. Elihu Sloan, Mr. George Jones, Mrs. Robert B. Edwards, noted instrumentalist and organist-directress of the Senior Choir of the First A.M.E. Church. During the program, Attorney Townsend, the guest of honor, will make a brief address. No other candidate for any public office will appear.

A silver offering will be received upon registration.

Attorney Townsend, Jr., has been invited to address the League of Women Voters, at a special meeting on Wednesday evening, May 31, in the auditorium of the 10th Street School, 1000 Grattan Avenue.

In a communication to Attorney Townsend, from Mrs. F. Lyman Ennis, the Voters Service Chairman of the West Lake Unit, it was stated that this is a special pre-election meeting, called by this body to which all of the Congressional candidates from the 14th Congressional District will be invited. Each of the Congressional candidates will be allowed a brief period to address the body and be questioned individually during a question period.

segregation are known can arouse widespread reaction. From the time the first building material for the theatre arrived until the doors were opened, I adopted a non-committal attitude concerning policy. Sometimes when the queries were abusive, I would reply that, when the theatre opened, no laws would be violated. I was then usually asked whether I intended to violate the "mores." My answer to that was that I was not sure what the people had adopted as their mores concerning segregation. The answers, surprisingly enough, generally had a sobering effect upon the inquirers.

Several weeks before the theatre opened I was visited by a representative of a citizens' association who informed me that he had heard I was going to open a "nigger" theater in an exclusive white neighborhood. His fears, he let me know, were due only to the "menace" to nearby property values. He assured me that he had no personal ill-feelings about Negroes. After all, Negroes had raised his children. I answered him truthfully by saying that he had heard wrong. I was not opening a Negro theatre. I was merely opening a theatre.

A short time later a leader of a large Washington organization called on me and asked to be shown around the theatre. When we got to the mezzanine he stopped and remarked that it was common gossip in Washington that the theatre would be non-segregated, and he thought the least I could do was seat the Negroes only in the mezzanine. Once again, I had to reply that no policy had been formulated.

Organized Attack

Then there were other well-intentioned (and worried) people who approached me on the basis of my Jewish origin. They warned me that, if I did not segregate and discriminate, the Gentiles would say, "Just like the damn Jews, letting Negroes in." Much to my sorrow there was some truth in this warning. I began receiving a rush of adverse phone calls from anonymous persons asking who owned the theatre. I always gave them the name of the corporation. The reply was that the corporation must be owned by some "damned Jews." And usually, a goodly amount of red-baiting was thrown in. I received for my pains a valuable lesson in anti-Semitism and in red-baiting.

None of the opposition surprised me, but its organized pattern astounded me. For a month following the opening of the Dupont I was kept busy answering threatening telephone calls. Who owned the theatre? Who were trying to make white Americans accept Negroes? These anonymous callers muttered vague threats which never came to pass. There was one called who warned me that the "sheet" was going to get me. After the call I naively turned to the manager and asked him how sheets could hurt people. He laughed and said, "Stupid, that was the KKK." There were a few calls that did not have the organized tone, pathetic pleas from people who sounded sincere and horribly misled. The purely emotional arguments with which they objected to the non-segregation policy made it obvious to what an extent conditioning has moulded our American pattern.

Widespread Support

Counteracting these phone calls were the many, many congratulatory ones. Individuals and organizations called to pledge support, and the church groups, in particular, made every effort to insure the success of the theatre. Many letters poured in, and representatives of various churches came to see us personally to say that their groups would be happy to patronize the theatre.

As for the theatre itself—when ever I received a venomous call, I had only to walk into the auditorium to feel cheered. The audience has always been an appreciative, democratic one, and it refutes any and all disparagers. Never was there an incident in the theatre aside from a few refunds at the beginning to unprepared people who just would not stay in an unsegregated place.

Progress

Not only is the Dupont Theatre operating successfully with worthy pictures, but now there is another moving picture theatre which has removed its barriers, so that evidence of some progress is seen. Of course, the Dupont has not been the solution to segregation and discrimination in Washington. We still have no legitimate theatre, and no large down town movie house has changed its policy. Jim-Crow in every day living is present to embarrass us, but the Dupont has shown that democracy can be profitably applied to the District's entertainment field.

Sanatorium Employees Ask Aid in Battle

The California State Conciliation Service today was asked to step into the long standing dispute between the Social Services Employees Union, Local 95, UOP-

WA, and the City of Hope, operating the Duarte Sanatorium.

Bernard Lusher, Union Representative, asked the Conciliation Service to assist in settling many grievances, some dating as far as December and January, on which the management of the City of Hope has refused to give the Union an answer. These Grievances include a discharge case on which the Union has asked arbitration in accordance with the contract and contract benefits for regular part-time workers who have not been receiving such benefits as vacation pay, sick leave and other benefits.

The City of Hope management has refused to give the Social ter conditions culminated in an all efforts of the Union to answer on the many grievances and Service Employees Union an arrange a meeting with representatives of the Board of Directors have been to no avail, Lusher said.

The Social Service Employees Union, Local 95 has represented the office workers in the Los Angeles office for many years and the workers at the Sanatorium at Duarte since 1948. Negotiations for wage increases and bet-arbitration in the latter part of 1949.

After the unanimous Arbitration Award was handed down on December 31, 1949, by the arbitration board of Dr. Paul Prasow, Dr. Sanford Goldner and Mr. Morris Tyre, the City of Hope management refused to put the Arbitration Award into effect. The Union has been forced to take the matter into the courts and has asked the Superior Court for an order instructing the City of Hope to put the Award into effect. The next hearing on this matter is scheduled for May 24 in Superior Court Department No. One.

Budget Hearing Set for June 9

The date for the hearing on the city budget has been changed from June 7 to June 9.

The council set June 7 during its session Friday, but sometime after the meeting adjourned it was decided to change the date because of the forthcoming election.

Councilmen said they were doubtful if they could obtain a quorum on June 7.

Mayor's Office Staff Shake-up

A top-level shake-up has been announced for Mayor Bowron's office. Mrs. Albine Norton, the Mayor's private secretary, has been advanced to the office of executive assistant to the mayor. The new position will bring Mrs. Norton a salary of $641 a month, compared to the $608 she has been receiving.

At the same time, Field Secretary Rodney Rood is moved up to be the Mayor's secretary at a salary of $489 per month.

Both of these jobs are exempt from civil service but the Mayor's office shake-up is subject to approval by ordinance of the City Council.

Also to be employed without benefit of civil service will be Marshall Julian as field secretary at a salary of $395 per month.

Last week, the mayor's office dismissed Don Perkins as a public relations representative.

If the City Council approves the action of the Civil Service Commission and gives Mrs. Norton the job as executive assistant she will have virtual power as Mayor of Los Angeles. She has long been a trusted advisor to Mayor Bowron and he has reposed faith in her judgment in matters of city affairs.

LAW MAY HALT SOCIALITE'S WEDDING

The
by CAL.

How can the Negro serve in a war against Fascism? Must he, as some critics have held, forget the fight for equal rights, and devote all of his "patriotic" submission to things as they are?

Who would give such counsel is an enemy of peace, a fool or a liar. Or both.

Supporting the peace is not a state of mind. It is not a solemn intellectual process which calmly concedes the justice of our cause and then retires for the night.

What is more it is not a shrewd bargain to be established with our government if and when the government concedes to our demands for reform. There can be no conditions upon our loyalty when we are engaged in mortal combat with the hideous power of Fascism which threatens not only today's part-freeedom but the hope and the dream of peace for tomorrow.

This is a moment for plain speaking upon the issues which may decide the kind of lives we shall lead for perhaps centuries to come. This is a moment for a clear examination of our stand and the stand of those who bear the responsibility of our leadership. It is in this light that I fervently contest the position of the men we will vote for in the June 6 Primary Election.

In 1942 the writer of this column went before a group of NAACP officials and assailed the leadership of A. Philip Randolph. She declared then that such leadership would produce a dividing rod that would lead to eventual annihilation instead of a bridge that would unite.

She holds the same to be true today concerning those candidates for office which the people will vote upon in tomorrow's election. Tuesday, and which those same Negro leaders are now endorsing. I refer to the Negro leaders who have endorsed the re-election of Warren, the

Leimert Park Residents Organize To Prevent Negroes From Buying Homes

Open Court Fight to Prevent Eugene Backstrom Extradition

A hearing will be held in Superior Court, department 41, this afternoon at 2 p.m. in the fight being waged by Eugene Backstrom against being returned to Mississippi to serve a life sentence imposed for a robbery he did not commit.

Opposed at 13, Backstrom went to Mississippi with a young friend to work. This was in 1928. Failing to find work after some time, Backstrom and his friend became desperately hungry. They broke into a grocery store and stole some food. Apprehended, they were sentenced to seven years in the state penitentiary.

Both youths were brutally beaten frequently, and Backstrom heard his friend died as the result of a beating. Backstrom escaped several times, but was caught with the aid of bloodhounds and returned to jail.

Two Wives, No Divorce, He Seeks Third Mate

Joseph Earl, twice married but not divorced, and Edith Kathryn Owens, prominent socialite, are nevertheless planning to be married although Miss Owens has been warned that her hoped-to-be bridegroom would incur serious objections of the law should any such contemplated trip to the altar be made. One of the previous Mrs. Earls is Pearl Harris Earl, of San Francisco, whom Joseph had married in 1940 in Albuquerque, N. M. It was only last April that this Mrs. Earl secured her interlocutory decree of divorce which will not become final until April, 1951.

The present Mrs. Earl, Mrs. Helen Marie Earl, of 3727 South Cimarron, has also sued Joseph for divorce, which has not yet been granted.

Earl has been under the care and supervision of the Probation Department of Los Angeles for various escapades, and upon learning of his latest the department said it was seriously considering revocation of his permit to be at large. Earl's "intelligence," said the department, "and unique powers of deception and persuasion make him an actual menace to society." It further stated that it could "devise no plan which can determine the activities of this defendant" and recommended that probation be revoked and that Earl be remanded to the state penitentiary before he commits any further offense.

May Sue Owners Who Sell

An organization known as "Neighborhood Endeavor, Inc." has for its purpose the prevention of Negroes buying homes in the Leimert Park District. It was organized in the Audubon Junior High School on Monday, Feb. 27, 1950.

It is functioning now by telling residents of that district that property values decline if Negro families move in. They are also told that property owners selling their homes to Negroes or any other non-Caucasians may be sued for damages, and in many other ways this organization is trying to intimidate property owners in the Leimert Park area from selling to Negro families.

Mr. Travis T. Lott, prominent realtor, wrote to Miller and Sinclair, attorney-at-law, for their opinion on this matter. In reply Messrs. Miller and Sinclair said:

Strikers Reject Contractors Plan

Members of the 14 striking AFL Painters local unions, by an overwhelming vote of 2922 to 719 on Wednesday night rejected an attempt by 300 contractors to end the five-week strike without granting to the painters the core of their demands—a seven-hour day for the pay of an eight-hour day.

The contractors wanted to freeze an eight-hour day with an increase of 12c an hour pay, into a two-year contract. It is the Congressman Powell concluded: "The time has arrived for the major parties of this nation to either set up a Bi-partisan Program of Civil Rights or give up and acknowledge that it was nothing more than the cheapest of political frauds. Guide Dog School For Blind Opens

A campaign to raise funds for the establishment of a guide dog school for the blind and to continue the regular program of athletic and recreational work of Blind Activities and Recreation, Inc., began June 1, according to William A. "Bob" Anderson, president of the organization.

The school will be directed by Everett Espy, an experienced licensed dog trainer. Espy is currently working with three dogs, sponsored by the Blue Front Club, and in a short time, will commence training the blind persons selected to be equipped with guide dogs.

All donations should be mailed to Blind Activities, Box 550, Los Angeles 53. The guide dog school, will be maintained in the organization's headquarters at 1656 No. Western Avenue.

IRR Meets in Whittier, June

"America's Responsibility Toward a World in Revolution" will be the focal point around which discussions will center when the 16th annual Institute of International Relations meets at Whittier College June 27 through July 4. The Institute, which is under the auspices of the American Friends Service Committee (the Quakers) will be led by an outstanding faculty of experts in national and international affairs brought to Whittier from Europe, Asia and various sections of the United States.

Faculty members will include Dewey Anderson, executive director of the Public Affairs Institute, Washington, D. C.; Professor Wing-tsit Chan from China, now professor of Chinese Culture at Dartmouth College, who has returned within the year from an eleven-month study of the Communist revolution in China; and from Japan Dr. Kazuo Kawai, the editor-in-chief of the Nippon Times and now lecturer in far-Eastern history at Stanford.

It is non-profit and accommodations for room and board may be secured on the campus. Further information may be obtained from Robert S. Vogel, director of the Institute, 426 North Raymond Avenue, Pasadena 3, California.

Progressive Party Represents A Calm Force in Elections

In this election campaign, behind the campaign oratory and the political deals, lies one of the most decisive election years in our history. For this is the year of the hydrogen bomb and the atom bomb, of reason destroying hysteria and Forrestal's disease, of a declining standard of living and an ever increasing war budget.

There is, however, a calm and clear and sane voice being heard today—the voice of the Independent Progressive Party. This voice echoes the desires and aspirations of millions of Americans, unequivocally stating that peace is necessary and possible, that slub clearance is the order of the day, not engines of destruction that will bring more slums.

The Independent Progressive

Party is running a number of candidates who will afford hundreds of thousands of Californians an opportunity to express their sentiments for peace, jobs, and security. One of the outstanding races is the candidacy for Rev. G. Linwood Fauntleroy for State Senator of Alameda County, the first time that a Negro has contested for a major public office, and who is securing wide support in his challenge of the Warren-Knowland machine.

• Strikers Reject

(Continued from Page 1) seven-hour day which seems to be the greatest bone of contention. Other unions are thinking of asking for the same hour-day, and the Building Trades Council executive board has agreed to place contractors who have not yet signed, on the unfair list. Carpenters, 50,000 strong, are also toying with the idea of shorter work days, with the same pay.

Answering advertisements inserted in several newspapers by contractors that the strike is holding up building construction, the painters have pointed out that contractors may sign as individuals with the union as more than 700 have already done so. The union has also offered to furnish painters to general contractors who will grant the union's demands.

The vote last Wednesday was considered a solid victory for the workers. They definitely feel encouraged to hold on until their demands are met.

Both Embarrassed But That's Bus Riding

MILWAUKEE (UP)—Mrs. Clara Loeffler was startled when a man sitting next to her on a bus restrained her as she reached for a buzzer to signal the driver that she wanted off.

"We don't get off here," he growled. "I do," she said. At that the man looked up at her and exclaimed, "My gosh." It turned out he and a woman companion had boarded the bus behind Mrs. Loeffler, but the other woman had gone farther back in the bus for a seat. The man sat down beside Mrs. Loeffler without noticing it was his friend.

TO DEFEAT HATE-DEFEAT JACK B. TENNEY

This Record Will Convince You

We must elect ROBERT W. KENNY for State Senator

ROBERT W. KENNY AS ATTORNEY-GENERAL, publicly condemned anti-Semitism, and publicly protested against bigoted doctrines of Gerald L. K. Smith.

Cracked down on police negligence in San Mateo — where the home of a Negro family was set afire. Took action in U. S. Supreme Court to smash restrictive covenants.

Ended violence against Mexican-American and Negro communities during the co-called "zoot suit" riots in Los Angeles. Recently made recommendations to officials and editors to halt false and hysterical stories about so-called "wolf-packs" and suggested real remedies for juvenile delinquency.

Leader of state-wide committee which sponsored FEPC for California.

First Attorney-General in history of U. S. to issue instruction manual for police to correct police conduct and safeguard the rights of all, regardless of race or creed. Conferred with police and public officials, and editors, to stop police brutality, urging protection of race and national groups by equal law enforcement.

Used power as Attorney-General to halt vigilante and night-rider terror against Japanese-Americans returning to their homes in California.

Active spokesman for new State of Israel. On record for ending arms embargo. Official observer at Nazi war criminal trials in Nuremberg, Germany, by invitation of U. S. Chief Prosecutor Justice Robert H. Jackson. On record against renazification of Germany: against rebuilding Nazi war machine.

Official consultant for United Nations, at first convention in San Francisco.

Attorney for Lester Tate, Negro who was saved from a return to a Virginia chain gang. Smashed and outlawed the Ku Klux Klan in California.

Nationally known as outstanding constitutional attorney before the U. S. Supreme Court. He defended issues of civil liberties and civil rights.

"THE RECORD OF JACK B. TENNEY, who spread a black pall of fear over our state is well known. The activities of the K Klux Klan and of Gerald L. K. Smith and other hate-lers have occupied little, if any, attention of Mr. Tenney and this Committee."—Dr. Fred Reynolds.

(May 5th, California Voice).

According to the Voice of January 20th . . . "Myron C. Fagan . . . who works with Gerald L. K. Smith . . . filed a slander suit against the anti-defamation League (B'nai B'rith) and others. Fagan claims his associates and supporters include the anti-Semite Gerald L. K. Smith and Dr. Wesley Swift who has identified himself with the local KKK!" JACK B. TENNEY WAS ATTORNEY FOR MYRON C. FAGAN.

California PRESBYTERIAN SYNOD, at its 97th Annual meeting stated, "We request the legislature to replace Senator Tenney and his Committee with more judicial minded men who will preserve democratic processes . . . this smear group destroys the traditional rights of a good name and freedom of conscience."

The Los Angeles Democratic County Central Committee, the largest Democratic Committee in America, on three different occasions voted UNANIMOUSLY to abolish Tenney's un-American committee and urged the defeat of Jack B. Tenney.

Tenney's unconstitutional bills, all attacking basic civil rights of teachers, lawyers, writers, old age pensioners, WERE SOUNDLY defeated in the Legislature. Tenney's 1949 voting record shows 13 bad votes against the people's interests.

State Legislator Augustus F. Hawkins said, "I shall continue to oppose the expenditure of tax-payers money for Mr. Tenney to campaign for public office and use his Committee to attack freedom of speech. His charges are as base as his public record."

Rollin McNitt, former Chairman of the L. A. County Democratic Central Committee, has stated, "The Kenny Tenney contest is THE challenge to the County. LEADERS OF THE DEMOCRATIC PARTY SHOULD RID THE COUNTY OF REPUBLICAN JACK B. TENNEY."

Last Call for Tuesday's Election

We must defend our lives and our liberties by voting for those candidates in tomorrow's (Tuesday) election who believe in a free democratic government. We can't do this if we remain at home, saying, "Let John do it."

This primary election is of grave importance to you, me, and even "John." It will not only qualify the candidates to run in the final election. It will also have grave importance on political issues and lineups, nationally as well as on state-wide issues.

Our leaders must point the way, but they must point correctly and with the people's interest at heart.

Some of our outstanding Negro leaders and business heads endorse and recommend Gov. Earl Warren for re-election. We contend that while Mr. Warren has a most pleasing personality and is a good campaigner, he has given the Negro people, especially the devout Republicans among us, practically no consideration in the matter of appointments.

Our calculation is, that there are some seven or eight hundred thousand Negro residents in the State. The bulk of this number reside in Los Angeles county, San Francisco and Oakland. The naming of Walter Gordon to the Adult Prison Parole Board is about the only appointment of any significance made by Gov. Warren since he became governor.

Some Whats and Nots

Well! What Gov. Earl Warren has done is evidently outstanding—in the opinion of some people—in that it has gained the endorsement of some of Southern California's best citizens who want him re-elected.

But—He closed his eyes and stopped his ears when the people asked for mercy in the case of Dewey Adamson, who died protesting his innocence to the very last, who was given no chance, according to even white attorneys, in the trial that decreed him guilty. He still is refusing to listen to pleas for Wesley Wells, condemned to die for throwing a cuspidor at a prison guard, although the guard was only injured and was soon back on his job, in good health again.

He is also refusing to listen to letters, wires, petitions asking that he refuse to sign extradition papers that will send Eugene Backstrom back to Mississippi, doomed to torture and death at the hands of a Mississippi chain gang.

These are a few individual cases. The 28 babies who died of starvation in the San Joaquin Valley, their parents who are living in shacks with dirt floors, who can no longer earn even enough to eke out the necessary food for existence; the soldiers and their families who are still living in crowded conditions—these and other cases which can be multiplied by the thousand are but a few of the liabilities that are chalked up against Gov. Warren.

Running on the state Republican ticket, with such characters as Rep. Richard Nixon, Jack B. Tenney, and one Father Riker, should tarnish the reputation of any decent individual, but from all appearances Warren is in the company he likes.

Nixon is co-sponsor of the Mundt-Nixon bill, the notorious bill designed to create a police state and accelerate the move towards war and fascism on a bigger scale than it is at present.

Jack B. Tenney, in the early stage of his Un-American activities Committee, accused the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People of being a Communist front or-

CAN'T CATCH UP

Joint Social Action Group

When addressing the convocation celebrating the 125th anniversary of the founding of the Unitarian Church in Boston, Walter White, NAACP executive secretary, proposed the establishment of a joint social action organization supported and sponsored by Protestant, Catholic, Jewish, Negro and white groups to work for civil rights. Such an organization, Mr. White said, would "help the decent people in America become articulate and not leave to the bigots the exclusive right to speak for America."

Such an organization is what the world has long been waiting for. But unfortunately to date the people who have proposed a united action for peace or for social welfare, have usually been smeared as "Reds," and their organizations have been labeled "Communist Fronts" by the U.S. Attorney General.

The NAACP, up to the present time, has been considered fairly respectable by the rabid red-baiters, and it could be that a suggestion from the also fairly respectable executive secretary Walter White, will bear more fruit than one coming from, say, an organization smeared by the Attorney General as being "Communist Front."

"The NAACP," says Dr. Ralph J. Bunche, chairman of the Trusteeship Division of the United Nations, "is working for a fully democratic American society, the society in which the great democratic principles of our Constitution will be applied to ALL Americans, irrespective of their race, color, creed, or national origin."

Neighborly Endeavor, Inc.

"Neighborly Endeavor" is the name of an organization one would think was maintained to spread the spirit of friendliness in the community and the world at large. Its name would suggest an organization of neighbors, in every sense of the word.

But it is just the opposite. It was organized in a spirit of hatred, to prevent neighborliness. It is an organization formed to prevent Negro families from moving into the Leimert Park area. Its members are taught to tell their neighbors that selling a home to a Negro family will depreciate it in value. And people can be sued for damages for daring to pollute the neighborhood with a Negro family, these neighbors also warn other neighbors.

This organization was formed in direct contradiction to the opinion handed down by the U. S. Supreme Court, that restrictive covenants are unconstitutional and unenforceable. This fact alone would make it most deplorable. For it is truly most un-American.

But to mask so hypocritically under a name that denotes friendliness and love, is a feature that makes both the organization and its purpose most disgusting and repulsive.

"It is with a feeling of shame for our community," begins a letter to citizens living in that community, explaining the real purpose of "Neighborly Endeavor, Inc."

It is with a feeling of shame, yes, and, of disgust that Americans could stoop to such duplicity such hypocrisy, and should advocate under a mask of friendship and goodwill, a program of hate and confusion.

RAPHAEL KONIGSBERG

Vote for Your Life

Thinking for one's self is not a skill developed in most of us by our schools or encouraged by our society. The task, therefore, of helping ourselves and our neighbors think through the basic issues of world peace and war is quite difficult.

During the war, for example, perhaps the hardest of all assignments given the army political education staff was that of convincing our troops that what we had sacrificed and achieved on the bloody battlefields was not enough—that we had finished only half the job—and that when we returned home we would have to protect our investment in democracy by continuing the same fight as citizens.

What made this assignment especially arduous was the undeniable fact that too many Americans have almost no conception of the citizen's role in a democratic state.

Most of us live through our allotted years grasping for all the privileges that are ours (or have been) through the accident of American citizenship. But we are not conditioned to any acceptance of the fact that a price must be paid for these privileges. At least, our daily behavior shows little awareness of such a responsibility.

Is it not true that there are few among us who display a real sense of identification with our government? The vast majority of us have been divorced from any feeling of oneness with our state or federal government. We take little of the responsibility for what the government does in our name.

When we think about it at all, we usually think of the government as something apart from and almost alien to ourselves. Many look upon it as "something" which at all costs must be kept from interfering with their personal affairs. To that frightening degree have the rulers of America alienated many Americans from their birthright. To that degree have we been made our own worst enemies.

The depths to which this political perversion has gone can be illustrated in many ways—but in few so shocking as this incident, which occurred in Germany just two days after V-E Day.

One of our army discussion sessions was considering the relationship between a good citizen and his good government (one which was concerned with the welfare of all citizens), when the discussion leader asked:

"When you have seen a need in your community, like a new playground—or a problem, like civic corruption—have you and your friends tried to do anything about it, have you tried to help your government meet the issue?"

Exclaimed one sergeant, "Do!

Marshall to Serve Prison Term

Because he serves his fellowmen, George Marshall, national chairman of the Civil Rights Congress, appeared before the Federal Court in Washington, D. C., and was committed to jail to serve a three-month sentence.

Marshall sparked the leadership of the Oust-Bilbo campaign and for twelve years was active in the struggles for anti-poll tax, FEPC, and anti-lynch legislation. He initiated and led the fight to save the life of Willie McGee, Negro veteran, who is scheduled to die in Mississippi within the next 30 days.

Marshall was cited for contempt by the House Un-American Activities Committee for refusing to turn over a contributors' list of the Federation for Constitutional Liberties, of which he was chairman.

William L. Patterson, Executive Secretary of the CRC, declared: "The imprisonment of George Marshall is another ominous sign of the intensification of the attacks on the organizations that fight for people's rights. It is a further example of the piecemeal destruc-

Why should I have done anything for my government? What did my government ever do for me?"

When the discussion which followed attempted to demonstrate that we the people are the government, that in helping our government we were helping ourselves, that we were doing exactly this as soldiers and would continue doing so as citizens by voting intelligently, this 35-year-old sergeant shouted:

"Vote, hell! I never voted. I don't believe in voting!"

At that the discussion leader exclaimed furiously, "That's treason to everything we and our allies have been fighting for! Millions of people have given their lives for that very right to vote, for a voice in controlling their destiny—and here you are, an American citizen, shamelessly throwing that great prize away!"

"Aw, my vote wouldn't count anyway," he countered.

"He's right, you know," said another soldier, "the individual's vote doesn't count for much when crooked political machines and big business control things as they do. So why should he vote?"

It is clear that those who are responsible for this civic cynicism, the unprincipled politicians and the financial interests whose tools they are, are the real subversive elements in our nation. For they are guilty of destroying the faith of many Americans in the democratic processes upon which our fate depends.

Reaction's success, however, has begun to boomerang. There is a clean, invigorating wind blowing across our land today, a resurgent faith in an aroused citizenry's power. There is a growing confidence in our strength, in the potency of the ballot.

This is evidenced not only in the work of the Progressive Party throughout the nation, but also in the organization of countless workers for peace, in the citizens fighting the Mundt-Nixon bills, in the decent people mobilizing behind Hollywood's ten brave artists.

There is hope in America, and in the world—for all these movements dramatize the growing recognition of the very great power we the people possess in our right to vote. We are learning that our votes can decide whether we and our children will have life, or death.

LABOR

MARCH

Divided and Conquered

Tomorrow's elections will find labor endorsements scattered all over the field like paper plates after a picnic. There is hardly a candidate on the ballot who does not boast some kind of an endorsement from some kind of labor organization.

Office-seekers who have flaunted their reactionary ideals and connections under other circumstances are facing the electorate with the blessings of so-called progressive labor organizations. Like the lady of questionable morals who attended the barn dance, organized labor is dancing every set.

Running with the hare, and hunting with the hounds, the labor union politicians are frantically maneuvering to be in at the kill. The pie cards and the bigdames have thrown their weight around—candidates can all boast of having the blessing of the workers.

In keeping with the curious non-partisan aspect of the elections, the union bosses have created a confusing picture of labor support and value. The indiscriminate endorsing of candidates serves to weaken the strength of labor support, and it adds a bitterly hilarious note to the commentary on the decline of organized labor.

It is no longer possible to understand the basis on which the CIO and AFL make designations. In the Fourteenth Congressional District of Los Angeles, for instance, Attorney Vince Townsend is the candidate who should have been endorsed by both groups. But he was passed up in favor of a candidate who numbers among his achievements, a founding role in the establishment of the California Un-American Activities Committee.

The voters cannot be guided by endorsements made by the AFL and the CIO. While it is true that both groups make correct endorsements in some instances, it is not necessarily true. Leadership in political action cannot be left to the big labor organizations, particularly at this time when witch-hunting is their main preoccupation.

The people, and especially the people of minority groups, must soon develop their own political leadership. Without regard to party affiliations, minority group voters should concentrate on a program that will achieve fuller democracy and a greater measure of political recognition.

This cannot be brought about by following the dizzy twisting and turning of the big labor organizations. It can be achieved through cooperation with the progressive unions and by supporting only those candidates who will openly pledge themselves to work for such propositions as civil rights and world peace.

Both the AFL and the CIO are contemplating a marriage of convenience in order to consolidate their waning strength for the vital elections of next year and in '52. Neither of these two organizations has power or the prestige to face the political future alone. Neither the politicians nor the voters are impressed by their past political leadership, and it will take more than a merger to change that situation.

The elections tomorrow can only add to their woes, for whatever the outcome, their endorsements are so widely scattered, it will be difficult to clearly determine what was won and what was lost.

Actually only a handful of labor statesmen make the decisions about political endorsements. The rank and file either goes along or gets out. Until such time when the rank and file have a fuller participation in the process, labor endorsements will more and more come to have the influence of wishful thinking.

POTPOURRI

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. — Attorneys for the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People have filed a petition asking the Supreme Court of Florida to rehear the case of two of the three Groveland youths convicted on rape charge last September, and to reconsider the affirmation of this conviction.

The NAACP asked the highest court of the State to make an independent examination of the record and to reach its own conclusion as to the circumstances surrounding the trial of Samuel Shepherd and Walter Irvin, who were sentenced to die.

VETERANS BONDS

California Veterans Bonds pay their own way and do not involve a cent of expense to the taxpayers of the state, it was pointed out today by Director of Veterans Affairs D. J. Callaghan, Jr., in connection with the proposal to authorize issuance of $100,000,000 in bonds to finance farm and home purchases for veterans under the low-interest state plan.

On six separate occasions since the program was established in 1921, the voters have approved the issuance of bonds totalling $210,000,000. Proceeds from the sale of these bonds have been invested in farms and homes for more than 40,000 veterans of both World Wars.

There are also equally vital races taking place in Los Angeles county. The California Eagle has suggested which candidates, in its opinion, are the best fitted for the various offices. Study its recommendations. Study the entire election situation. And VOTE as you believe. VOTE tomorrow, Tuesday, June 6.

The primary election in California is especially important, because of the cross-filing system. Remember four years ago? Earl Warren and Jack Tenney captured the nomination for governor and for State Senator on the Democratic ticket. They have cross-filed again. The catastrophe must not happen again.

If you are a Democrat find out who the Democratic candidates are before you vote. Study the recommendations of the EAGLE. Then VOTE.

Sixteen Democratic County Central Committees and more than 300 Democratic Clubs have endorsed Senator George Miller's candidacy for Lieutenant-Governor, his headquarters announced last week.

"The overwhelming Democratic support for George Miller in his campaign against the incumbent Republican candidates is a guarantee that Miller will win the Democratic nomination Tuesday, June 6," Paul Ward, Miller

A Look at Books

THE FAR CRY By Emma Smith

In shimmering prose this brilliant first novel describes the flight of a father and daughter from England to Indiana. In escaping the clutches of his second wife, Mr. Digby takes his fourteen-year-old daughter, Teresa, to stay with his elder daughter, Ruth, married to a kindly English tea-planter in India. Against an exotic background, beautifully evoked, is played out the tense and often tragic story that follows, resulting in Teresa's emergence from adolescence to maturity.

I MARRIED A DINOSAUR BY Lillian Brown

The honeymoon was merry, but a trifle prehistoric, when the author, best known as "Pixie," married Barnum Brown of the American Museum of Natural History. She may have had dreams of romance "beside the Shalimar," but she soon found life with a paleontologist to be an unending search for elusive and ancient monsters. Here are bright and amusing reminiscences of her early married life in the jungles of India and Burma, with bigger and better fossils lying always just over the horizon.

MAKING INVENTION PAY

Many an idea for an invention which could have paid off in dollars has never reached maturity because of the lack of practical knowledge on the part of the inventor. Mr. Keeley wants to help the average man or woman who may have a good idea but doesn't know how to go about doing something about it. So in this book he offers a practical guide to selling, protecting, manufacturing, and marketing inventions.

SHAKESPEARE OF LONDON

By Marchette Gaylord Chute
Of books on Shakespeare there are no end, and scholars spend their lives writing about what other scholars have written about earlier scholars' mistakes about a man who, some scholars think, was really somebody else. Here, however, is an absorbing book for the general reader, presenting as vivid a picture of Elizabethan England, showing especially the roaring London of theater and bearing. The author uses only source material from Shakespeare's own time, and the great dramatist emerges as he must have appeared to his contemporaries.

David Brainerd, a Colonial figure neglected by some historians, has been "discovered" by Dr. Richard Ellsworth Day in his new book "Flagellant on Horseback" (The Judson Press, Philadelphia, $3.00), who brings to life this almost fantastic story of a pioneer missionary to the American Indian.

Brainerd's "parish" was the early American wilderness—beyond the frontiers. Born in Connecticut, in less than three decades (he died in 1747 at 29)—he had served New York, Pennsylvania and New Jersey and passed on at Northampton, Mass.

"The 'mystery' that dogged the career of the Connecticut farm boy including his tender romance with Jerusha Edwards, the daughter of the famous Jonathan Edwards, is of particular significance today when man has just as he had some 200 years ago equal need of selfless leaders—ago.

IF YOU WERE BORN IN RUSSIA By Arthur Goodfriend

Just what is it like to be a citizen of the Soviet? Here, in text and photographs, is a simple and revealing answer to a vital question. The members of a typical family are shown as they move from maternity home to nursery school, from workers' training to the factory. Here are all the excitements and frustrations, attitudes and experiences of Russian life today, traced, literally, from the cradle to the grave.

THINGS I SEE

By Marian Inglesed

There's something going on over in Europe, something which we hear little about. It is the gradual transmutation of what was considered purely spiritual into the physical, the material. And it is the awakening of what is usually called pure materialism to the fact that the two are united—the spiritual and the material, in every human being.

This change is shown in a story told by Percy Winner in a recent edition of The New Republic. Mr. Winner writes of a young priest, by the name of Abbe' Boyer who lived in a hovel in the Jeanne d'Arc section of Paris, a section of darkness, poverty and misery, totally unknown in that part of Paris which gave it the reputation for gayety, beauty and luxury—the section frequented by the tourists of the world.

Abbe' Boyer, although a priest, worked as any of his parishioners worked. He hunted for a job as they did. When he found one he worked the required number of hours, as they did. In the story as Mr. Winner tells it, Abbe' Boyer was employed by a laundry as delivery boy. He did his work well, and was liked by the manager until that manager found out one day that his delivery boy was in reality a priest. Then he was discharged at once.

The reason? Because he wasn't a workingman, said the manager of the laundry. No, if he had been a Communist, that wouldn't have mattered. (So different from here in the U. A. A.) A Communist is a workingman, said the manager, but a priest isn't. Therefore, he didn't want him. Abbe' Boyer took the matter to court, where it is still pending.

But although the manager of this laundry doesn't think a priest can be a worker, members of the Communist Party in France, in Russia, in all parts of the world, agree with Abbe' Boyer. And the leaders of the Communist Party are urging their members to try to win over these working priests. (There are many in every part of Europe.) They feel, evidently, they will make good Communists who will be able to tell their people the Gospel of Jesus and the Kingdom of Heaven on earth which he preached, are one and the same in principle as that of the Workingman's Paradise which the Communist Party is seeking to build.

"In the struggle for the unity of the working class," said Togliatti, secretary general of the Italian Communist Party, "we must pay special attention to Catholic workers and to their organizations, keeping in mind that religious convictions are not an obstacle to working-class unity, especially when this is necessary to save the peace."

A French writer said of these men whom Abbe' Boyer and his fellow priests would lift up physically as well as spiritually, "European man is discouraged because he has been fooled. He came out of the war with two great aspirations: social justice and peace. In proportion as contact with reality increases his deception, he becomes the prey of defeatism. The Europeans work without energy, live without enthusiasm, defend themselves without hope."

Percy Winner says the men in the Kremlin are afraid of such men as these working priests. That's why they want the members of the Communist Party to win them to Communism. He seems to imply they're afraid of the religion they might teach. How he managed to get behind the Iron Curtain, and even to pry into the hearts and minds of those men in the Kremlin, I don't know. He gives no documented evidence of his theory. And anyway I don't believe it.

The leaders of the Communist Party in Europe, I'm sure, are welcoming the work done by those priests. Of course they want them in the party. But they want them because they believe through them those poor, dejected, hopeless people of Europe can more easily be reached with the message of a new world which is theirs if they wish to create it.

These priests are telling their people not only of pie in the sky—some day. They are telling them they can have that pie right now. The Kingdom of Heaven is theirs here, on this earth. Like the touch of the resurrection power this message is lifting them up, and they walk like men again in the dignity of human brotherhood, building a world where there shall be no more war.

It is the breaking down of the stubbornness of the church, and the melting of the supreme confidence of Communist leaders that theirs is the only way. The two are becoming one.

Around the World

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dr. Leon E. Wright, associate professor of New Testament in the Howard University School of Religion, has been appointed to the commission of an editorial board composed of American and British scholars who are engaged in preparing a new edition of manuscript evidence for the text of the Green New Testament, it was revealed last week by Dr. Frank T. Wilson, dean of the School of Religion.

The work of this editorial board will extend over several years and their first volume is expected to appear in 1954. Dr. Wright is assigned to the commission or the Study of Patristic Quotations.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo.—Most of the 10 Lincoln University (Mo.) 1950 journalism graduates will go directly to jobs awaiting them. Those that have not yet made definite arrangements for work are in contact with newspapers, that have recently asked the School of Journalism to recommend graduating seniors who, June 5, increased to 32 the total number of holder of Lincoln University bachelor of journalism degrees.

WASHINGTON, D. C.—Dr. William A. Banner, Associate Professor of Church History in the School of Religion at Howard University, has been awarded a scholarship for study in Philosophy at the University of Oxford, England, during the summer of 1950.

Dr. Banner joined the School of Religion faculty in 1945. He is a graduate of Pennsylvania State College, A.B.; Yale University, B.D.; and Harvard University, M. A., Ph.D. He taught at Bennett College, Greensboro, N. Carolina or a period of five years before coming to Howard University.

Twenty-nine fellowships have been awarded to honor graduates in 23 colleges, and 52 outstanding student have received tuition scholarships to the Graduate School at Howard University. In order to be eligible for a fellowship, the student must have maintained a B-plus average on at least there-and-one-half years of undergraduate work, and at least a B average to qualify for a scholarship.

Text of Address by H. A. Wallace Over MBC

HOW TO END THE COLD WAR

During the past two weeks President Truman and Senator Taft have given their point of view over national hook-ups to the people of the United States. Tonight I come to speak for and to the millions of voiceless and forgotten Americans who fear that the Administration foreign policy means war. My sole purpose in speaking tonight is to do my part to bring an end to the cold war. Therefore, appeal to the leaders of Russia as well as to the bipartisan rulers of the United States. Both countries are responsible for keeping the cold war going. Both nations are using influence of many kinds on countries outside of their borders. The people of both nations long for an end to the cold war but both peoples have been trapped by their diplomatic and military leaders into following a road which can only end in hot war.

When I was Secretary of Agriculture back in the thirties I attended many garden parties at the White House in May given to the wounded veterans of World War One. They came in wheel chairs, oftentimes with their nurses, to shake hands with President Roosevelt. It always troubled me to see these men who might have had good legs and arms if it had not been for the crime of war. I think of Russia with ten or twenty times as many of these men as we. I think of England and France and Germany whose losses have been so much greater than ours. Then I project my mind forward to realize that in the next war the United States will lose more men by far than in any other war and the United States civilian will feel war at first hand for the first time since 1865. But the real burden of hot war will be felt as always by youth. It is always youth that pays for war, first when it goes in, and second when it comes out. Youth pays with blood, and lost time and dislocation. And so I appeal tonight not only to the United States and Russia, but to the whole world to end the cold war for the sake of our youth. World public opinion can force even the hard headed rulers of the United States and Russia to think more about the rights of our young men and women and less about their own plans for world dominance.

The cold war must not be ended in a vast American unemployment which will rapidly pass into World-Wide depression. My contention is that we can find a peaceful substitute for the cold war which will expand world employment and world trade. But to find this substitute, capitalism in the United States and the various degrees of leftism in Europe and China must learn to live together and trade with each other on a mutually satisfactory basis. Capitalism to survive must serve the world by engaging in globaloney. Somehow I like that word which was thrown at me when I was Vice President under President Roosevelt. Today millions of Americans are coming to my point of view. To me, globaloney means, and always meant, one world fully employed at peacetime pursuits freely trading without iron curtains, subsidies, quotas or monetary controls—a world where there would be no fear of either depression or war. Both the extreme right and the extreme left accuse me of being an idealist. I glory in the charge because I know that only ideals will cure a sick world. Only ideals can give a sense of direction. Without ideals, politics degenerate into sordid opportunism which inevitably ends in economic smash or war.

Without ideals the leaders of both the United States and Russia sponsor policies which continue the cold war. It is only because of the cold war that Congress will appropriate enough money to prevent the next serious depression. It is largely because of the extreme cold war pressure of the United States on Russia that the Politburo in Moscow has so little political unrest to contend with. Moreover, the Politburo believes that if the cold war continues, the capitalistic system will hasten its own destruction. The bipartisans in the American State Department believe, on the contrary, that the cold war long continued will seriously weaken both communism and Russia.

For my part, I agree with the millions who hold with Trygve Lie that the cold war must be ended and ended soon. No matter what the State Department and the Politburo may believe, you and I know that in the long run neither Russia nor the United States can possibly gain by the cold war. Cold war breeds hot war and even if hot war never comes, the crushing burden of cold war armaments hurts both peoples more and more. Even worse than the economic burden of armaments is the spiritual burden of hatreds and suspicions which destroy civil liberties in both the United States and Russia. In the atmosphere of the cold war everyone is open to suspicion. Old friends betray each other, not on the basis of fact but on the basis of fear and misunderstanding. The cold war is the devil's path to destruction for both Russia and the United States. In a large part of the world the cold war will mean civil war long before world-wide hot war comes. In this civil war which has in it all the elements of a fanatical, religious conflict, every individual is torn by many conflicting loyalties.

Neither Senator Taft nor President Truman gives us a constructive alternative to the cold war. Both know the people are hungry for peace but both go ahead appealing to the prejudices which have been built up during the cold war. It is a contest in developing hate and fear. This contest will finally end in war when Russia has finally become everything we say she is and we become everything Russia says we are.

It is up to us, the peace-loving, patriotic millions of America, to put forth a constructive alternative at once. First, I would suggest that every city in the United States should organize a Trygve Lie peace demonstration. Trygve Lie is World Citizen No. 1 and he has been fighting our battles for us by talking with Stalin, Attlee, Schuman and Truman. Let us show our appreciation by holding meetings in every city and town of the United States in which we discuss the subject of how to strengthen the United Nations. Pass resolutions and send them to Trygve Lie at the United Nations, Lake Success, N. Y. Pass resolutions like the one adopted recently by the Amalgamated Clothing Workers calling for continuous negotiations until the cold war is ended.

Second, send letters to Joseph Stalin at Moscow and Harry Truman at Washington, asking them to join in making a cut of 30% in armaments of all kinds, including atomic bombs. Ask that the money thus saved be put into a United Nations revolving fund and loaned at low rates of interest amortized over a long period of years for the purpose of developing all the backward and crowded parts of the world, including Russia and China. The money should be loaned through a United Nations agency according to principles agreed on unanimously in advance by Britain, the United States, Russia, France and the New China. Only by mobilizing the world's capital for peace instead of war can the most terrible depression in the world's history be prevented. To Republicans like Taft such a proposal smacks of communism. Democrats like Truman say that Point 4 with its 35 million dollar appropriation is enough. I say that the cold war will be intensified, not ended, by 35 million dollar spent annually by the United States. It will take at least three hundred times that much money loaned by the United Nations and not given by any one nation. Such a large sum of money cannot be raised unless armaments are cut. If armaments are cut, people will be thrown out of work unless there is a prompt expansion in world development and trade. Only by huge annual investments in the backward and crowded areas of the world can the cold war be ended, world trade expanded, and the United States and Russia saved from mutually imposed disaster.

Third, form Progressive Capitalism Clubs for the purpose of saving capitalism in the United States by making it serve the people rather than exploit them. The government must plan to prevent serious unemployment or capitalism will disappear. Government must plan to help small business and prevent monopoly. In brief, my program for ending the cold war and saving the world today is—One, strengthen the United Nations. Two, expand world trade by using money saved by disarmament to develop the backward areas. Three, strengthen Progressive Capitalism in the United States on a basis that recognized the willingness of capitalism to live side by side in cooperation with other systems elsewhere in the world.

Six weeks ago I talked over a nation-wide network just as Trygve Lie was leaving for his historic trip to Europe. Now I am talking over Mutual just as he gets back. Talking as an American citizen from the standpoint of what is good for the United States, the whole world and especially the youth of the world I want to urge tonight just as I did six weeks ago that all Americans should organize by Congressional districts to ask all candidates for Congress the following questions:

(1) Do you believe in the Trygve Lie program of continuous top level negotiation and conciliation between the great powers starting at once, looking toward the elimination of the curtain between the east and west?

(2) Do you believe in outlawing the atom bomb and the hydrogen bomb by declaring the first nation to drop such a bomb would be the enemy of all mankind?

(3) Do you believe in an agreement between all nations to reduce armaments by 30% using the money thus saved in a United Nations revolving fund to loan at low rates of interest, amortized over 50 years, for the sake of developing overcrowded and underdeveloped areas, regardless of politics?

(4) Do you believe in a four-power agreement to prevent the rearmament of Germany and provide for real denazification and an end to the cartel system?

Let's have a bloc of United Nations congressmen who realize that the way to help the United States is to help the United Nations, men who realize that you can't strengthen the United Nations when both the United States and Russia continually give the United Nations the run-around and act outside their borders independently of the United Nations. Let's give Trygve Lie the backing he deserves. It is folly, not patriotism, to respond to the saber rattling in which our military have been engaged during the past month. Get behind the candidates for Congress who say "Yes" to the four questions. If you act at once, you will prevent World War III. This is the eve of Memorial Day. As we think of those who died for us in battle, let us remember that the next war will deliver every one of us into the power of a completely militarized state. The plans are all drawn up. Legislation is being prepared. This next war is going to be as different from World War II as World War II was different from World War I. It will cost several times as much in dollars, liberties and lives. Ask those who don't like

KAZAKHSTAN

What the RSFSR is to the Soviet Union as a whole in terms of size, the Kazakh Republic is to the Central Asian area. This nearly-empty, partly desert land, separates and yet links the oasis republics of Central Asia with the boundless forest-steppe of Siberia. It has a population of 6,146,000, somewhat smaller than that of New York City, in an area one-third as large as the United States. When it was decided to bring new tracts under cultivation in wartime to make up for the loss of the Ukraine, special surveying expeditions found unused arable steppe lands in Kazakhstan equal to the entire sown acreage of pre-war Ukraine.

The newly-settled lands are along a projected new railroad between Magnitogorsk in the Urals and the Siberian Kuzbass. To be built by 1950, it will run through Kazakhstan for nearly a thousand miles. Yet it represents only a fifth of the trackage circling and crisscrossing Kazakhstan that was laid in the fifteen years before World War II.

Best-known of these roads is the Turkestan-Siberian (Turksib), built to carry Siberian grain, timber and metal to Central Asia. For five years after 1937 it served as China's life-line, carrying munitions and supplies to Alma-Ata, the Kazakh capital, for trans-shipment by truck to Chungking. The building of the Turksib caused the population of Alma-Ata to multiply five times over and reach 230,000 in 1939. Today most of the Kazakhs are no longer nomads, but stock-raising remains their prime agricultural occupation. German destruction of the herds in the Western areas, and the expansion of cattle-raising in Kazakhstan have made it second only to the RSFSR. During the war, with fodder limited by army needs, Kazakh greybears revived the half-forgotten practice of grazing cattle on the desert of southern Kazakhstan in winter, when snow causes lush meadows to appear. In 1941, 200,000 head of cattle grew fat in the desert, saving 67,000 tons of hay! By the winter of 1944, hundreds of artesian wells had been sunk and thousands of cattle-sheds built, as well as settlements for the herdsmen. Fully 2,000,000 head of cattle and sheep were "producing" meat, wool, butter and leather from the desert.

The new farmlands of Kazakhstan grow grain in the north and cotton in the south. Six hundred miles of irrigation canals have been cut through the desolate Hungry Steppe in the past 25 years. Cotton plantations bloom in the heart of this once lifeless area, tilled by 500 tractors, surrounded by pleasant orchards and vineyards, and connected by a new railroad with the outside world. A city with a population of 20,000 stands in the middle of this reclaimed wasteland, complete even to a picturesque park.

As nomads, the culture of the Kazakhs was rudimentary. A written literature first appeared only a century ago. That century was spanned by the life of Jam-bul Jabayev, folk singer who died in 1945 at 99, hailed throughout the Soviet Union as a modern Homer. But the Kazakhs, while devoted to their traditional strummed poem-songs of the present as well as the past, today have a brader culture horizon. An article by a Soviet woman scientist gives a sense of the change today:

"With some companions I had been roaming through the steppes, tormented by the scorching heat and thirst. When we finally decided to put up for the night with nothing but the sky overhead, the glow of fires caught our eye in the distance.

"As we approached the camp, we were somewhat taken aback. On a small strip of ground encircled by camp fires a lady in medieval Italian costume and a handsome, stalwart young man were enacting a scene from a play. They spoke Kazakh, which I don't understand. A sudden outburst of laughter from the audience piqued by curiosity. The woman's enticing appearance, the classic ring of her smooth-spoken, rhythmic speech, all seemed very familiar to me. In a moment I had recognized the elegant Kazakh actress and the youth. Shakespeare, of course! Katherine and Petruchio, in The Taming of the Shrew."

Save Rent Control!!

SAN FRANCISCO—The State Office of the Independent Progressive Party issued a call last week for emergency action to prevent the expiration of rent controls by June 30. Pointing out that a deficiency appropriation of $600,000 was necessary immediately to prevent the Rent Control Administration from its closing up shop by June 9, Martin Ludwig, State Director of the IPP, urged that the people of this state must act at once, demanding that their Congressmen and Senators vote the deficiency appropriation now and then vote for extension of rent controls through 1951.

"The highly organized and well-heeled real estate lobby is intent upon killing rent controls at this session of Congress," continued Ludwig.

All tents councils, trade unions and civic organizations are urged to let their Congressmen and Senators know that they are interested in genuine rent control and want these controls continued until the housing shortage has been solved throughout the country. Action is needed now—tomorrow will be too late."

BOY WINS NAZARIUS ROLE IN "QUO VADIS"

HOLLYWOOD—Twelve-year-old Peter Miles has been signed by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer for one of the year's most sought for roles—the boy Nazarius—in "Quo Vadis."

The brother of child actress, Gigi Perreau, Peter has left for Rome with his father to join Robert Taylor and Deborah Kerr who star in the Technicolor spectacle.

Green Meadows Playground Site Approved

The final plans and specifications for the outdoor development of the 10-acre Green Meadows Playground site at 0th St. and Avalon Blvd. were approved by the City Recreation and Park Commission today, and Thursday, June 22, was designated as the date for bids to be received on project.

Improvements will include a softball diamond and bleachers, outdoor courts for basketball, volleyball, handball, and other games; children's play areas, picnic grounds, and off street parking.

The playground will be landscaped with lawns, trees, and shrubs to give it parklike beauty. A modern recreation clubhouse was started several months ago on the site and is nearing completion.

The Green Meadows Playground is one of the new recreation centers authorized under provisions of the city's playground bond issue. This site was first discovered by Councilman Kenneth Hahn when he was out on an inspection trip of a vacant lot in the community wherein the neighbors were protesting the trash and rubbish being dumped on this lot. Councilman Hahn immediately wrote to the Recreation and Parks Department requesting this site be used for a playground.

Hop-A-Long Cassidy Contest For Kids

Hey, Kids! How would you like to win a genuine Hop-A-Long Cassidy shoot'n iron — the six shooter that all youngsters like to own!

It's the gun that looks real and feels real, and it repeats firing as long as you press the trigger.

Well, here's all you have to do to win one of those guns (we have six of them). Just color the above picture.

The scene shows Ruth Roman, Chief Thundercloud and Randolph Scott in a sequence from Warner Bros. Technicolor western thriller "COLT .45", which opens Friday, May 19th at Warner's Hollywood, Downtown and Wilmette Theatres.

Color the picture via any method you choose — crayons, water colors or pastels. Any boy or girl between the ages of 7 and 14 may enter the contest.

Neatness and originality and choice of color scheme will be factors in awarding the prizes. The decision of the judges will be final.

Now here are the prizes:

For the six best colored entries, a Hop-A-Long Cassidy gun will be awarded to each winner. These are awards from the George Schmidt Manufacturing Co., makers of the pistol.

For the next best five entries, a pair of tickets to see "COLT .45" will be awarded each winner.

Send your entry to "COLT .45" Contest Editor, 6425 Hollywood Blvd., Hollywood 28, Calif., not later than May 24.

Now get busy with your paints, crayons and pastels. You may be a winner!

Langston University Club Opens Summer Social Season With Brilliant Gay Formal

A wonderful time by a wonderful organization was enjoyed last Friday night when The Langston University club presented its Second Annual Spring Formal at The Zenda Ballroom, 936 West 7th street.

No group has entertained a gayer, more merry crowd. In an atmosphere, characteristic of Langstonites the eminent Dr. Booker T. Tucker, Langston alumnus, introduced the officers and members of this great body promptly at midnight.

Approximately 70 members, distinguished from other guests by orange and blue ribbons with miniature pennants of Langston university, made their bow before a capacity crowd. Langstonites sojourned from all parts of California, including San Diego and Santa Barbara to participate in the annual event.

Student Loan Fund

The main purpose of the club, though organized to fraternize with former members and publicize the university, is to aid the student loan fund at Langston and to encourage its graduates in higher endeavors. Last month the club cited Marcus Haynes, a Langston graduate and member of the nationally noted Harlem Globetrotters, for outstanding athletic achievement. The ward was presented at Pan Pacific May 9th.

Among the numerous guests present from prominent social clubs of the city were representatives of Bishop, Wiley, Southern, Tuskegee, Samuel Houston, and Lincoln (of Jefferson City) College clubs.

Serving with Jean Hamilton on the dance committee were Eddie Addison and John Graham. The Langston roster includes Samuel L. Ayers, president; William L. Brown, vice-president; Flossie Coleman, recording secretary; K. L. Smallwood, treasurer; Benester Fisher, financial secretary; Selma Jones, corresponding; Eddie Addison, publicity; Tyree Young, sergeant at arms; John Graham, chaplain; Juanita Macklin, parliamentarian; Ralph Davis, program; committee chairmen Grace Graham, program; Wynola Kerry, social; Everett E. Wigley, Ways and Means; Tennie Miles, Student Loan Fund; Jean Hamilton, Entertainment; and Dr. L. G. Harrison, honorary member, who is president of Langston University.

Hooper Ave. PTA

The Hooper Ave. P.T.A. was host to Fremont Council P.T.A. recently.

Due to school ground being black-topped there will be no May Day Festival this year.

The regular meeting of Hooper Ave. P.T.A. will be Thursday, June 8th. There will be installation of officers. Mrs. Carl Foreman, secretary of Fremont, will install and a lovely program by music teacher, Mrs. Alston; also Mrs. Lonsie Jones, president-elect, will give highlights of the convention held at Santa Cruz.

We are asking all parents and friends of Hooper Ave. to please attend.

Beauty Hints

Indeed, a woman's crowning glory is her hair. This is a time-worn statement but holds good even today no matter though the hair be clipped in the prevailing short style, still it must be encouraged to grow and to thicken as it will lose that necessary appearance of abundance which is imperative. Therefore, use some stimulant for growth and thickness if you would preserve your glory. A good one is the following: to three teaspoonfuls of Pompeian olive oil add six drops of bergamont, Mix well and rub into the scalp three times weekly.

Evelyn S. Banks To Be Honored at Shower by Sorors

Miss Melrose Hatcher and Mrs. Lloyd G. (Lorre) White will entertain at a miscellaneous shower this Saturday, June 10 for bride-elect Evelyn Sherron Banks. The affair will be held at two p.m. at the residence of Mrs. White, 4917 Ferndale.

Guests of the honoree will include: Hortense Watkins, Dorothy Fitzgerald, Sylvia Ortiz, Eloise Graves, Gloria Shaw, Gladys Banks (sister of the bride-elect), Rudy Eagleson, Elaine Corbin, Geraldine Barnum, Audrey Cloyd, Katy Mayfield, Leonora Thompson, Virginia Smith, Dorothy Cloud, Shirley Curry, Rachel Currie, Gloria Crouch, Gloria Hemphill, Peggi Anderson, Blanche Sorrell, Anita Bowens, Lillian Butterfield, Carolyn Clark, Jackie Lewis, Helen Blye and Marilouise Mitchell.

Miss Banks announced her engagement to Sidney William Brooks recently at a Sigma Chapter, AKA Sorority meeting when she passed candy and displayed her ring. The couple plan to wed this early summer.

Medical Association Elects New Roster

Resuming office after a two years' rest period, Emily Brown Portwig, local pharmacist, was elected financial secretary recently at the regular meeting held at Alena's Tearoom. Mrs. Portwig served as recording secretary to the Medical, Dental and Pharmaceutical Assn. for twenty years.

Other officers assuming the executive wheel are W. Henry Atkinson, M.D., president; C. B. Sanford, D.D.S., vice-president; Jerene Webb, Ph.C., recording secretary; Lincoln Shumate, M.D., corresponding secretary; Walter Davis, M.D., treasurer; Walter Hines, M.D., sergeant at arms; and William Beck, M.D., parliamentarian.

The auxiliary to the association met Tuesday at Vina's with Mmes. Rozelle Fernandez, Lady George Forde, Alla Humphrey, and Essie Tucker as co-hostesses. Dr. Ruth Temple presented a number of health projects to be considered by the auxiliary.

Auxiliary officers elected were Mmes. Laura Smitherman, organizer of the auxiliary, president-emeritus; Charlene Johnson, president; Dr. Geraldine Woods, vice-president; Vernice Spann, recording secretary; Zeldia Sealey, corresponding secretary; Jewel Jackson, financial secretary; Lois Macbeth Carr, treasurer; Helen Garland, parliamentarian; and Evelyn Griffin, chaplain. Dinner was enjoyed by the 42 members present.

Tag Dance Last Of Season For Kings And Queens

The Tag Dance will be the last dance for the Kings and Queens this summer, before they take their vacation. This dance promises to be another outstanding affair for the Counts, Kings and Queens who are working together on this event to take place June 3, 1950 at the Watts Youth Center. The affair will start at 7 p.m. due to the new Watts curfew.

The music will be provided by the Kings and Queens swing combo featuring Arthur Thens on tenor sax. During intermission favorite blues records will be played. These clubs are sponsored by the Y.W.C.A. and Watts playground.

Socialiting With....

Ruth L. Redd

EDITOR'S NOTE—Our guest columnist this week is Miss Ruth L. Redd, member of a prominent old family and very active in civic, church, and social activities. She is the Directress of the Lafayette Center, Alpha Kappa Alpha sorority, Trinity Baptist Church and numerous other groups.

You can imagine my surprise when Phyllis Scott called requesting me to write this week's column. Me of all people! But here goes.

TOO MARVELOUS FOR WORDS was the Winston-Robinson wedding last Sunday at Independent Church. While Mrs. Robinson is on her honeymoon "yours truly" is assisting with her tap dancing club which she sponsors at Lafayette Junior High School. The group appeared Thursday with the Center's Mexican Dance Club at Berendo Junior High World Fellowship program.

I may be wrong but I think Ann Price has the cutest hairdo. Ernease Hollis of the Bronze Pacific Salon did the styling. Ann showed me the unique hand painted coolie dress with a mandarin collar she was finishing to model in the Annual All States Tea and fashion show. The affair is being held today at the Elks Temple.

FRIDAY NITE WILL BS LONG remembered by the invited guests of Langston University Club's Annual dance. Mr. Ayers, the president, was all smiles when we chatted with him at the beautiful Zenda Ballroom. Eddie Addison and Jean Hamilton with other members of their dance committee were busy as bees greeting the guests. To get details of this affair see the next week's edition.

Margaret Hoard's Day will be held Sunday, July 9th at Trinity Baptist Church. Mrs. Hoard, who has been directress of Trinity's Cathedral Choir for 22 years, is being sponsored by the entire membership.

A birthday party is fun when it is a surprise. My baby sister, Dorothy Redd Cloud, was indeed surprised Saturday, June 3 when she arrived home from sorority meeting to find her many friends there. Yes, Big Sis (that me) assisted her husband, Herman, with the details but it was fun. Seeing so many people at one time in her little "Doll House" at 641 East 94th street.

ONE OF THE NEWEST CLUBS, the Co-Operettes, seem to be going over with a bang. Their Dansant given last week at the Peterson's was so crowded that you couldn't see for looking. This club promises to be one, which will lend its aid to the various needs of youth of this community.

Bishop College Club held its formal dance at the El Sombrero last Thursday when guests danced to the music of Sammy Franklin, who is still tops with me. Brice Taylor presented the members of the organization.

It was my pleasure to be guest speaker at the Hollywood Women's club luncheon held last Wednesday and to witness their ceramic display, which was one of the club's projects for the year.

THE WEDDING OF EDYTHE OWEN and her fiancé has been postponed because of important relatives, who were to participate in the ceremony from the West Indies, won't be able to come to Los Angeles at this time.

From all indications the Regional Conference of Alpha Phi Alpha fraternity and Alpha Kappa Alpha Sorority will be something to look forward to during the July 4 weekend.

HAVE YOU GIVEN THOUGHT to the youth of our community? Are you one who goes month after month to benefits of various social clubs and never sees what is being done with or for the Youth? Have you ever made a request from your club to see that assistance is given to continue programs that are reaching thousands of young people using facilities of the entire school plant such as Lafayette Center which operates at Lafayette Junior High School, 1240 Naoml. Did you know that this is one of the largest and most successful programs, which has never been helped by your clubs?

The Benjamin J. Bowie Post of the American Legion is the only organization that I know which has taken recent steps. Get behind this tremendous program to serve our youth. It needs you.

Mildred Houston To Be June Bride

Mildred Houston's marriage to George Richard Price Sr. ETAO George Richard Price Jr., scheduled for mid-June, has been the occasion for numerous showers and parties among the Los Angeles younger set. The pretty young bride-to-be is the daughter of Mrs. Dorothy Houston (the widow of the late Edward Houston), 2232 W. 29th Street. Her fiancé is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Price of Berkeley, and is studying architecture at the University of California at Berkeley.

Among the many affairs which have been given for Miss Houston were a linen shower by Jeanne Arnold and Geraldine Barnum, a pantry shower by Paulette Coleman, and a personal shower by her sister, Mrs. Lamar Hill.

The wedding, to be attended only by the engaged couple's families, will be followed by receptions both in Los Angeles and in Berkeley. Following the marriage, the couple will make their home in Berkeley.

Charity Project Planned By Noted Social Group

The Let's Get Together Social club met at the home of Mrs. C. Holmes, who was co-hostess with Mrs. Savoy, last Sunday afternoon at 1159 East 50th street.

Plans for the charity project were discussed. The president appointed a committee to work on this project. Following the regular business meeting a delicious repast was served. Marguerite Johnson, president; Billie Gordon, publicist.

Carver PTA

Mrs. Carl Foreman, president-elect of Carver P.T.A., attended the State P.T.A. convention in Santa Cruz, California, also the national convention held in Long Beach, Calif.

Carver P.T.A. last meeting of the year will be Tuesday, June 6th. All members and friends are asked to please be present.

Mrs. Foreman will give highlights of the convention; also, installation of officers.

Job Counselling

By NELLIE BECKER

Are you satisfied with the economic system? Do you complain about taxes, police brutality, minority injustices and corrupt politicians? Will you be the next one fired at work? Is the United States going overboard on the government control issue so do you think it's spreading itself too thin in the international situation? Will any change in the present set-up lower your living standards?

Here is your chance to get your gripes and beliefs down in black and white by voting on Tuesday, June 6th. The present trends are an outgrowth of the people voting through the years. By casting your ballot on Tuesday you are exercising your right to criticize personalities and political parties. In a larger viewpoint you control the economic system by your one little vote.

For example if you are a poor man, you will pull the levers down on the names of politicians who will continue giving you compensation and relief. If you have a large business, are considered upper middle class, and own lots of income property, you will probably cast your ballot for the men who will protect your interests.

Of course you realize that every man running for office is going to talk about the things you want to hear. Therefore, in order to vote intelligently read several newspapers and find out the background of the party candidates. Remember that the policies he will carry through when you vote him into office will depend upon the political party he represents, the locality he is from, his parents' economic status, and his social and religious background.

Social Notes

The Mr. and Mrs. Social Club met last Sunday with Maxine Thompson of 3887 Second avenue. Mrs. Berdie Pinchback gave an interesting talk on Charm while Farrie Mae Sanders discussed current events and Collette Clark gave a synopsis on Richard Wagner's life and his "Tristan and Isolde." The club's 25th anniversary will be celebrated soon.

The Physician's Wife's Club met with their president, Mrs. William Beck Saturday at her home. Mrs. Mahlon C. Cooley was co-hostess. Officers for the ensuing year were installed by Mrs. Minnie Lomax. Mrs. Josephine Cooper rendered a vocal selection.

The Emanon Bridge Club will hold a miscellaneous shower at Mrs. William A. Beck's on Sunday, June 11 at 4 p.m. honoring the bride-elect, Bernice Wilkins. Mrs. Wilkins and David Arbor will be married Sunday, June 25 at Independent Church. Mrs. Wilkins is a teacher in the Los Angeles County system and her fiancé a social worker.

Dorothy Foster is on the alert with her tickets for the NAACP barbecue Sunday, July 11.

Nora Newman of All Nations Foundation staff is recuperating wonderfully since her operation several days ago at the Queen of Angels Hospital. Friends have been dropping in to see her in her cozy apartment at 1117 Serano avenue.

Mrs. Myrtle Cook, wife of the Health Center Aim

Heeding the cry of the Los Angeles 10th District P.T.A. for donations to the Health Center Building fund, the Fremont Council, comprised of twenty-seven local P.T.A. units, will sponsor a breakfast to be held Saturday, June 3 from 8 until 11 at Manchester and Central Ave.

Mr. John Hallahan, businessman of this location, will donate the food and service for the breakfast.

Mrs. Olin E. Searcy, president of Fremont Council, urges all members to cooperate and support this worthy project.

late H. O. Cook, returned to her home, 1922 West 36th street, after an operation at Wilshire Hospital. She is reported doing fine.

Margaret Burt, Y Teen director, will conduct Modern dancing classes at the Woodlawn YWCA. The Y Teens of Woodlawn are also busy making plans for their summer trip to Tahquitz Meadows, Palm Springs.

The Mu-So-Lit club held its social meeting at the home of Mrs. Gladys Allen, 251 East 31st street with Mrs. Ella Forte as hostess. A wonderful programme was rendered and games were played throughout the afternoon. Mrs. Forte, assisted by Mrs. Allen served a delicious repast.

Foursome of Over Seventy-five Honored

A foursome—Mrs. W. H. Roberts, Mrs. J. W. Lewis, Miss Alice Cruickshank, and Mrs. S. B. Danley—all of whose birthdays come in June and all of whom are over 75 years of age, sat down to a delicious repast prepared by Mrs. Roberts, hostess, 342 North Vernon ave., Pasadena, recently.

Mrs. Danley whose birthday came June 1, and Miss Cruickshank, whose birthday came June 4, were special guests of honor.

The table setting was an antique beauty, with China, crystals, cut glass, and silverware given to Mrs. Roberts at her wedding, more than 50 years ago. Happy reminiscences were the order of the joyful occasion.

Mu-So-Lit Meet

The Mo-So-Lit club held its business meeting at the home of Mrs. Laura Randall, 4008 Paloma street. The house was beautifully decorated with fresh cut flowers from the garden of the hostess.

The meeting opened with the club singing the Negro National anthem. After the business meeting guests assembled in the dining room and enjoyed a delicious repast.

Visitors to the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Brewer and Mr. and Mrs. Pleasant Hoard. Mrs. Randall was assisted by Mmes. Brewer and Hoard.

It will be Frank Rasberry, Al Merchant and Whitney Arcenoux working with the American Council on Human Rights.

David S. Reed, Jr., Ulysses Griggs, Jr., and Dave Williams will represent Upsilon on the Los Angeles Interfraternal basketball council.

The Western Provincial Council of Kappa Alpha Psi will see Upsilon represented by Al Merchant, Mervyn Dymally and James Jackson.

Mary Strong Talks WORRY

We worry from morning till night — uselessly. There are things beyond our control which no amount of thought can change they are inevitable—so why worry. Everyone wants to be happy but defeats himself by lugging about a load of care — crossing bridges before we get to them—being fearful of tomorrow before tomorrow comes. Foolish! The wise man lives in today, allows yesterday to follow the retreating years, lives in the present, and, not conjuring this and that spectre for the next day. "To worry about tomorrow is to be unhappy today."

BEAUTY HINTS

By Nina Temple

Old Fashioned Beautifier

Our grandmothers knew many secrets, some of which our mothers remember, and few of which have been told to us. Among them is one that should be passed along from generation to generation, for it is not only a beautifier but a medicine as well. It cleanses the blood and gives the face that clearness which every woman seeks. Just set aside a cup of molasses. Into this stir a tablespoonful of sulphur. Then use it religiously, a tablespoonful each day, and you will feel better, look better, and act better. Presto!

Enchanting Palm Grove Home Of Norma and Tony Robinson A Dream for Honeymooners

Pink 'n Green Theme

She carried a crescent shaped bouquet of White hybrid catteyes and phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis with ivory satin imperial ribbon while her attendants carried white, lavender, and Nile green chantilly lace colonial bouquets of yellow and pink delight roses.

The church was beautifully decorated by Barbara Ghandi and Ellen Dostey with banks of woodwardia fern, white hybrid stock, gladioli, and larkspur. Along the candlelit aisle were white stock tapered with satin ribbons.

Preceding the ceremony, officiated by Rev. Clayton D. Russell, Artyene Thomas sang "Because," Danellan Mabry played "I Love You Truly" on the marimba, and "O Promise Me" was sung by a quintet consisting of Voal French, Irlton French, Frank Braxton, Charles Gordon, and Ulysses Ware. Mr. Jay Loft Lynn rendered vocally "The Lord's Prayer."

Huge Bridal Party

The wedding party consisted of thirty-two people. Her attendants — Loretta Pruitt, Vivian Towns, Mildred Houston, Yolande Stovall, Mercedes Broussard, Fay Hill, Virgie Winston, Marvella Henderson, Geraldine Barnum, and maid-of-honor, Harriette Flowers—were beautifully gowned in Nile green taffeta with tiers of pink nylon net ruffles and the matron of honor wore pale pink with white.

The groom, who is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Fletcher Robinson and nephew of Ralph Bunche, was attended by Harold Jordan, best man, Sherman Jones, Arthur Silvers, Bill Shackelford, Clifford Allen, Carl Robinson (groom's brother), Thomas Greene, Ulysses Griggs, and Horace Griffin.

Flower girls Betty Jean Lewis and Dorothy Hill carried pink delight rose petals while little Gloria Vaughn Jr., miniature bride, carried Miss Winston's train. The ringbearers — Leslie King III, Michael Bucken, and Michael Wallace, the miniature groom—and the special hostesses Ann Smith, Sussie Moore, and Bettie Ann Smith, completed the bridal party.

Reception Follows

The reception immediately followed at the home of the bride's parents at 2266 West 29th St. Gifts too numerous to mention fills every available space of the six room house and they continue to pour in.

This marriage united two pioneer California families. The bride, who is the daughter of the Arthur Winstons and granddaughter of Mrs. Helena Smith and the North Winstons, is a Delta pledge and dancing teacher at Willie Covan's Studio. A graduate of Los Angeles High school, she is attending East Los Angeles Junior College. The groom is a graduate of Jefferson High school and a veteran of the U. S. Navy.

The newlyweds are residing in their own home at 3014 Palm Grove avenue.

Club Alegre Joins Outdoor Life Assn. Sunday Motorcade

Club Alegre, the recently organized interracial club of married couples, is jubilant over the success of its initial public Square Dance Jubilee held last Saturday evening at the Youth Center, 102nd and Beach streets.

The enterprising and enthusiastic members have contributed to many colorful civic affairs by acting as hostesses and contributors, their most recent being participation in the motorcade of the Outdoor Life and Health Association parade last Sunday.

Participants in this event were Mary Carr, Edna Hulsey, Jack Carrasco, who contributed his car and drove "Skeeter" Carr, and Julie Carrasco, club president.

This new and vibrant group are contemplating many more outstanding contributions to the community.

Returns to City

Mrs. Margaret Edwards and son, Charles, of 833 East 32nd street, returned Friday evening from a week's vacation to San Francisco, Oakland, and Berkeley, visiting friends and relatives. They report a delightful time.

L. A. MEN FINISH TRAINING ... The Golden State Mutual field representatives in the photograph above are so pleased because they have just finished a tough training course—and a delightful banquet meal. The course was an Agency Management training Institute for trainees of the firm's Los Angeles divisions which lasted two weeks. It was preceded by several weeks of intensive study for examination by which trainees were selected. The banquet last Wednesday evening at Alena Dent's Tearoom, was a commencement celebration to which the trainees brought their wives and sweethearts. The field representatives, shown above with their supervisors, institute instructors, are (from left, first row): Supervisor Anton Perry, Russell Greenfield, Division III, Samuel Strain, LeRoy A. Beavers, Supervisor Lonzie Jones, Division 112; Albert Doby, Paul Shields, Supervisor John Cochran, Division 114; Edward Spaight, Supervisor Nolan Payton, Division 113. Back row, Elliot Lewis, James W. King, Division 112; Albert Swinson, Jr. and Malachi Mondy, Division 114. The periodic Institutes, held throughout Golden State Mutual divisions, are a part of the firm's program for training management candidates—Photo by Irving Smith.

OPERATOR NOW BELIEVES AUTRY

Hollywood—The telegraph operator in a tiny desert railroad station at Laws, California, near Death Valley, wants to apologize to Gene Autry.

While he was receiving the regular afternoon reports from Keeler, another small station 86 miles southward on the narrow-gauge line, the key tapped out this message: "How are you, partner? This is Gene Autry."

It came out fast and clear and, of course, the operator thought that the Keller telegrapher was ribbing him. So he tapped back: "Fine, and this is Roy Rogers."

It wasn't until the following day that he discovered that the Formerly a telegrapher on the Frisco Line in Oklahoma, Autry still carries his operator's card and likes to send messages whenever he's in a telegraph office.

ALBERT J. McNEIL
Music Critic of the California Eagle

Guest Columnist
A. JEANNE JACKSON

It is an honor for me to have been named guest columnist during the absence of Albert McNeil. For his many readers I wish to say, "I hope you will not be disappointed in the material and the quality of same which will be presented in the foregoing articles.

During the months of July and August, the Greek Theater productions under the auspices of Gene Mann will present as its operatic musical "Miss Liberty," which starts July 3rd. Starring in this musical will be Mary McCarty in her sensational role of Maisie, and co-starring with her will be Odette Myrtil as the captivating, charming and hilarious Countess. On July seventeenth "Finian's Rainbow" with David Wayne in his original Broadway role of Og the leprechaun supported by Ella Logan, outstanding star of the musical stage in her Broadway role of Sharon. July 31 will mark a new hit well known to most, though it has not been presented at this theater before. I speak of "Rio Rita," starring comedian Pinky Lee, and John Raitt, star of "Oklahoma" and "Carousel." The popular "Desert Song" with Brian Sullivan, Metropolitan Opera star, who will appear as Red Shadow, will open on August 14. Closing the season will be "Gentlemen Prefer Blondes," starring Gertrude Neisen. This season should prove to be one of the most brilliant of the theater's productions.

The Hollywood Bowl season will open in grand style this summer, having as its initial performance "Faust" an opera written by Charles Gounod. I am sure that July will find this writer and thousands of others attending this dramatic opera. Included in the opera series will be "The Vagabond King," which will run for five nights starting August 15. Other artists appearing will be noted opera stars such as Stell Roman, soprano, Helen Traubel, noted Wagnerian soprano, Millitza Korjus at "A Night in Vienna." A new South American singer, Consuela Rubia, on August 24, will appear under Jose Iturbi's baton. Serge Koussevitzky will conduct the Beethoven Ninth Symphony on September 5.

EIGHT NOTES

On Tuesday, June 6, "The Creation" by Hayden will be presented at Hollywood high school by the Greater Los Angeles Chorus under the supervision of the Los Angeles Bureau of Music. Watch June 29 for Buell Thomas' recital. By the way, what happened to the new opera groups that were formed in Los Angeles recently?

Howard Choir Guest Artists On KFI Show

The John Howard Choir was the guest of Around the Town with Harry and Bob Hickock, over radio station KFI on Memorial Day. This was a 30-minute program with songs selected from the 150 Negro Spirituals, Gospel Songs, Folk Songs, Ballads and Hymns arranged for this group.

The weekly television show is presented by Burt Wheeler, each Tuesday from 2 to 3 p.m. over Channel 9. Your letters and cards are highly appreciated and you are urged to continue writing in your opinions.

On 'South Pacific'

Leland Hayward, its producer, should have lingered longer here to get a not-so-cheerful eye and earful of what's going on with "South Pacific" at the Philharmonic. Its pace the other night was murrder! The orchestra was "behind" the singers in many a number the performers knew darned well needed more zing! Props were pulled from stage too soon—almost pulling actors with them! Other amateurish mismanagement caused great lulls and coughs from an audience that should have been calling for encores—but didn't! (One major hunk of miscasting doesn't help things either!)

Divorce Law Tested

The test of a divorce law adopted by the California legislature in 1949 is in the making in the case of Ernest R. Perry against Mildred Perry, which was filed May 29, 1950.

According to this law if a person was a resident of the county of Los Angeles immediately prior to obtaining such a divorce or immediately became a resident of the county after obtaining the divorce, and did not reside out of the state for a period of 18 months, such a divorce is illegal.

Ernest Perry and Mildred Perry reside at 1175 East 40th street, Los Angeles. Mrs. Perry obtained a divorce from her former husband in Arkansas on July 12, 1949, and she and Perry were married on January 20, 1950. She says she was a resident of Los Angeles county at the time she applied for a divorce in Arkansas, and that she immediately came to Los Angeles to reside after the divorce was granted.

It seems like a complicated affair, even to the lawyers, and many are watching with interest to learn what will take place. H. L. Richardson is representing the plaintiff.

Chest X-ray Survey

The Los Angeles county-wide chest X-ray survey which began on March 22, will continue through December, 1950. General plans for conducting the survey have been drawn up, but there is need at present for more detailed plans for local communities.

The total county has been divided into sixteen smaller regions, to make local planning more effective. Region No. 2 includes Southeast Los Angeles, South Gate, Vernon, Walnut Park, Watts, Willowbrook, Bell, Bell Gardens, Compton, Florence, Huntington Park, Lynwood, and Maywood.

There will be a meeting in this region in the Lynwood Community Center at 7:30 p.m. on Friday, June 16.

Memorial Service for 30,000 Vets Planned at Sawtelle

Memorial services for the more than 30,000 veterans buried at the Veterans Administration Center Cemetery (Sawtelle) in West Los Angeles, will be held the morning of Tuesday, May 30, in the park area of the grounds.

A special guest will be Douglas Story, 1226 1/2 Brockton, West Los Angeles. Mr. Story, 104 years of age, is one of the 16 remaining Civil war veterans in the United States.

The program will begin at 10 o'clock and Rear Admiral Wilder D. Baker, Commandant of the Eleventh Naval District, San Diego, will make the principal address. Admiral Baker and other distinguished guests will be introduced by Colonel Robert A. Bringham, manager of the VA Center.

Glenn Ford, motion picture star, WW2 veteran, will read the traditional Gettysburg address. Music, for the 31st consecutive year, will be provided by the Elks Band of Santa Monica and Nell Plant, noted concert artist, will be soloist.

Savings Bonds purchased in the entire Southland during April were $14,203,585.19, with $10,134,177.69 of this in "E" Bonds.

Awarded Scholarship

WASHINGTON, D. C. — Miss Jeannie Ione Smith, who will graduate from Howard University with honors in June, has been awarded a tuition scholarship to the University of Wisconsin to do graduate work at that institution during the academic year 1950-51.

A native of Washington and a product of the District of Columbia public school system, Miss Smith is majoring in German and is president of the German Club. Her biography was listed in the 1948-49 edition of "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities." She is a member of Gamma Rho Chapter of Delta Phi Alpha, national German honor society, and is the recipient of several scholarships, one of which enabled her to go abroad during the summer of 1949.

DOCTOR DEVELOPS REMARKABLE HAIR and SCALP FORMULA

After many years of research and practice, Doctor Morris developed a remarkable formula for dry, scaly, itchy scalp, dandruff, unruly, excessive falling hair. It consists of a special medicated tar, oxyquinoline — two powerful antiseptics incorporated with other valuable ingredients.

This scientific combination does such fine work, that many doctors regard it highly and recommend it for many scalp troubles of local nature. This remarkable formula is known as "TAREX." Get it from your drug store. Use it on your short-looking hair and scalp for 7 short days. If you aren't delighted, if your hair doesn't look gloriously smooth, longer, straighter, lovelier—your $1.00 back. Upon receipt of $1.00, we will send "TAREX" anywhere postpaid. Derricks New Home Job Training at LASC

The McCarthy Company, city-wide realtors, welcomes Mr. and Mrs. S. Derrick to their new home at 13441 South Slater street, in Compton. They purchased their home through the McCarthy Company office at 12727 Wilshire Avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. Derrick are the parents of three children and have been residents of a California for 25 years.

The Willowbrook area affords a wide variety of homes, both new and used, at very attractive prices," says Charles Christian, the McCarthy representative in this sale.

Best possibilities for launching Los Angeles State College's work-study program are in the fields of civil service, business administration, social welfare, and recreation leadership. Dr. Howard S. McDonald, president, stated yesterday in a report to the college administrative staff on his 8,000-mile tour of job-training programs in Eastern and Mid-Western colleges.

Dr. McDonald is enthusiastic about instituting the work-study plan here whereby students divide their time between the classroom and the job in training for employment.

● GERTRUDE GIPSON

Roses are red,
Violets are blue,
I used to be pretty,
What happened to you.

FROM A NEWSGIRL SCRATCHPAD:

Don't know what happened to our gipsonette last week, but the above (we hope it's there) was sent in by Mr. Rich of Times magazine. . . . Orchids and raves to Libby Clark of the Courier staff for doing what most writers won't do (give praise to rival newswriters) (and she prints the name of the paper too) . . . Katherine Dunham's son and dance revue closed this week in New York, acclaimed the best of the season after 38 performances . . . Dinah Washington hailed Queen of the blues opens this Friday night at the Oasis. . . . The Three Rockets of the dancing fame featured in the new show at the Roxy theatre "in the apple" . . . Angelle Stratton seemingly refuses to cut those pretty locks of hers again. . . . Aha, our sis Lillie, says there's no truth at all to the rumor that "married men live longer than single men" it only seems longer. . . . Hear that striptease artists, Georgie Southern, is in danger of losing her cabaret license, and she was heard remarking "If that's taken away, they will strip me of my livelihood". . . . Betcha that westside cutie coming out of Garnetts the other even'g will look twice the next time she whispers "I'll Call You" softly to that other man in her life, cause that snatching and slapping she got from hubby who was looking her dead in the eye will long be remembered. . . . Atty. Walter Gordon, the ideal sport when on a party . . . SUDDEN THAWT: "The man who can't make a mistake, can't make anything." . . . Delores Martin, will replace Pearl Bailey in the current Broadway production "Arms and the Girl." . . . Nadine Cole has the kinda smile that's as heart-warming as a baby's hug. . . . Buck and Bubbles back from successful road tour. . . . One of the reasons Ramelle Bagnierise looks so well in her clothes is simply because she has so much class. . . . Al Hibbler's new waxing on Atlantic label "Danny Boy" is surely reason enough for those goose pimples we always get whenever we hear the number. . . . Elledge Penland can flash his dimpled smile and bring the old sun out from it's hiding any day. . . . We still can't figure out why a voice like that of Ernie Andrews can't get more pushing . . . the fella has a swelluva voice. . . .

NOTES, NEWS, AND NONSENSE

Louie Jordan on the move again with another platta that's typical in true fashion of the Jordan style, in other words it knocks me out. . . . Cupid really shot that arrow right in the heart of handsome John Pettigrew . . . he's got it bad and that ain't good. . . . Our pen pushing buddy, Floyd Snelson, wants to come in right here with a bit of news FOR MEN ONLY:

BROADWAY COPS BASHFUL . . . A red head ofay strip-teaser dancer parading in a hot spot on Swing (52) Street, barefoot to the neck told the cops she was elaborately clothed in G-string and bra when they lapped her act, had her cabaret license revoked. . . . The lovely piece of human anatomy was stripped of her means of earning an honest livelihood, she sobbed, on grounds that the "bumps" grinds and fancy gyrations of the midsection, and her curvy torso, are enough to make a man go home and throw rocks at his wife. . . . The decent city police were shocked to note she swung a tassel in an alarming manner, also she mingled too affectionately with the matpatrons.

The dainty hip-shaker denied the charges, and flew into a rage, upon learning her engagement had been banned by 'fuddy-duddy' censors. "Some folk just on't appreciate art," was her brusque retort.

DOWN MEMORY LANE . . . Imagine such artificial 'milquetoast' on Broadway . . . How well do I remember when a pretty sepia gal, (Jota) Cooke from Harlem, a cream colored chick, who was described as the 'beautiful body' who obviously had no bones, who turned herself every whichway and loose . . . appeared on the gay whiteway at the Cotton Club, (now the Latin Quarter) . . . and how the folks came from far and near (bot sex) to see what magic there is in the human frame.

Lew Leslie, famed producer of colored shows in his Blackbirds startled America and Europe with the prettiest line of luscious creole gals ever seen on the stage . . . with artistic movements. . . .

The famous all-colored musical "Shuffle Along" played 4 solid years on Broadway, and the clever toroso shake-dancer was the hit of the show . . . from whence the world's famous Josephine Baker danced her way to Paris and won international fame. . . . It's a long story, I could tell you plenty more.

OFF THE CUFF . . . Sugar Ray Robinson's pink, or is it orchid colored 1950 Cadillac convertible just out of the fob factory is a beauty . . . if any ladies rides in it, they must wear orchids. . . . JOE LOUIS, back in Harlem after his air cruise in South America.

So long, your pal, Floyd Snelson. . . .

There you have it . . . now back to the pen of G. G. . . . You talk about "sweet Georgia Brown" . . . well her name is Georgia, but her last name is not Brown . . . she is the eye-arresting waitress over at the Downbeat Grill . . . Vocalist Larry Darnell trying to patch up with his pretty spouse who recently sued him for non-support . . . Whether you look at her face or figure, the result from Claudia Ashton is still satisfactory . . . And for a closing thought remember "It's forty times easier to be tolerant of someone you don't like than of someone who doesn't like you."

HOLLYWOOD — Nicholas Ray, who is currently directing Ida Lupino in RKO Radio's "Mad With Much Heart," has agreed to let her give him acting instructions. He will play a bit part in "Mother of a Champion," the next Milmaker production that Miss Lupino will direct for TIMMIE ROGERS . . . Basso-comedian, heads the new show at Cafe Society in New York along with Mable Scott and Teddy Wilson.

Rogers Signed For Baltimore

NEW YORK CITY—Because of the sensation he is causing at Cafe Society Downtown, where he is currently being headlined, comic Timmie Rogers has been signed to headline the stage show at the Royal Theatre, in Baltimore, which debuts on June 16. The Maryland vaudeville mecca is considered one of the finest show cases in the country and has won a reputation for presenting only the top name.

Plane or Truck Ink Spots Wonder

LAS VEGAS—The age old rivalry between air and land has been befuddling Bill Kenny and the Ink Spots, who will arrive in Las Vegas to headline at the Thunderbird Hotel here next week. The singers' pickup wagon which they used to lug their personal belongings from date to date, was destroyed by fire several weeks ago on the Pennsylvania Turnpike and since then through out the nation, but also whether to replace the vehicle with another truck or to purchase a small plane to do the job.

ETHEL WATERS . . . still being hailed for her performance in "Member of the Wedding," just completed over 150 performances at the Empire Theatre this week and is still going strong.

Hawk a New Pied Piper

ROCKY MOUNT, N. C. — The fabled event took place in Hamlin Town thousands of years ago was reincarnated this week when the fans of a modern Pied Piper named Erskine Hawkins rented a Rocky Mount tobacco warehouse so that they could listen to the fateful, and rhythmic melodies of his Tuxedo Junction orchestra on June 13.

Local devotees of the Twentieth Century Gabriel leased the warehouse last week after they tried to rent one of the several dancehalls in this tobacco city for their gathering. Rocky Mount promoters, however, had already made plans to present other attractions on that date so the followers came up with the innovation of throwing their affair in the tobacco building.

Sarah Vaughn at The Carnival

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn. — Sarah Vaughn, she of the "Magic Voice," will make her first appearance in the Minneapolis-St. Paul twin cities area in opening a two-week engagement at the Carnival, this city's leading night club, on Thursday, June 8.

Despite the fact that she has never appeared in this area, the famed singing star has one of the largest followings of any artist as a result of the tremendous play the local disc-jockeys have accorded her Columbia and MGM recordings.

Johnny Moore's 3 Blazes Hit With New Discs

PENSACOLA, Fla. — Johnny Moore and his Three Blazers, who launched a southern one-niter tour here with a date at the Savoy Ballroom, appear to be in a "Blues" rut with their recordings, but they've no desire to get out of that rut just so long as those platters keep racking up new sales marks.

A local disc-jockey made the observation that Johnny and the Blazers first achieved prominence via their waxing of "Driftin' Blues." A short time later the group hit the jackpot again with "New Orleans Blues," then followed with "Johnny's Blues."

Thus, declared the platter-spinner, it's no coincidence that the Blazers should click in 1950 with an RCA-Victor best-seller, "Walkin' Blues," and a brand new release, "Misery Blues," that's being touted as a surefire disco hit.

WILD BILL MOORE . . . Still blowing that sax like mad and upsetting New York audiences with his swing-mad combo.

CUT RECORD . . . Nat and Marie Cole pull complete surprise with their recent new waxing. Maria, formerly vocalist with Duke Ellington band has the urge to return to show business again so as her first step she and her talented husband cut a couple of sides on Capitol label.

Buddy Johnson Acclaimed One Niter King

NEW YORK—Buddy Johnson, who was crowned "King of the One-Niter Circuit" at famous Carnegie Hall in New York last year, appears to be winning a new honor for himself as the No. 1 favorite interview subject of the nation's disc-jockeys, judging from the rave reports coming in on Buddy's tremendous popularity with the platter-spinners throughout the country.

The youthful composer-pianist-maestro won his laurels as "King of the One-Niter Circuit" in recognition of his standing as the bandleader who has played the most one-night stands and done the most consistent business on his road tours, according to a nationwide survey of dance promoters and ballroom operators.

Orioles On One Niters

NEW YORK—The high-flying Orioles, who have made musical history with an unprecedented number of record hits since they swept to nationwide popularity less than two years ago, are set to hit the southern one-niter circuit for their first extended tour of that territory, teeing off June 12 in Suffolk, Va.

The famed singing group, whose box office magnetism comes from their tremendous popularity on records, will play a total of 30 dates in the Southland, covering key localities in the states of Virginia, West Virginia, the Carolinas, Georgia and Alabama.

PROFILE

HOLLYWOOD—Marjorie Reynolds, who stands five feet, four inches, says it's wonderful to play opposite six-foot, four-inch Vincent Price in RKO Radio's "His Kind of Woman." Her reason: "Looking up at him gives a girl such a nice chin line."

BOBBE CASTON . . . The "Call Me Darling" vocalist, singing her torchants to the many nitelifers in top eastern niteries.

Discovery Discovers New Trio

Hearing Barbara Carroll and her Trio knocks a lot of theories of male superiority into a cocked hat. This girl has the fire of Shearing, the technical proficiency of Art Tatum, combined with a sensitivity for jazz which makes her work something especially exciting to hear. Discovery is proud to present Barbara Carroll's first recordings to a public we know will agree with our opinion that hers is modern jazz in the best tradition.

She has two of the best musicians on their particular instruments in the country—Herb Wasserman on drums and bongos and Danny Martucci on bases. Both of these fellows are important figures in the jazz scene.

Paris 300 Years Ago

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—A huge set, reproducing four square blocks of Paris of 1640, went under construction this week at Motion Picture Center under the supervision of Production Designer Rudolph Sternad for Stanley Kramer's next motion picture, "Cyrano de Bergerac."

Set sketches for "Cyrano," completed by Sternad's staff of eight artists, included a scale model covering streets and buildings to be shown, complete with interiors. Sets for the entire production will cover five complete stages on the lot.

Celebs Turn Out For Norma Miller's Bon Voyage Party

NEW YORK CITY—Friends and admirers, including some prominent personalities from the theatrical circle packed Smalls Paradise this past Thursday night to wish popular dancer and producer, Norma Miller and troupe a bon voyage on their sail to a number of engagements in South America.

Some of the celebs spotted in the immense crowd were Miss Ethel Waters, Edna Mae Harris, torch singer Marian Bruce, dancer Archie Savage of "South Pacific," (Flash) Riley, from the hit "Peter Pan," Dolores Martin, who has taken over Pearl Bailey's part in "Arms and the Girl," and a host of other well known entertainers, who made the evening pleasant with their performances.

At the end of the evening Norma Miller and her dancers gave the audience a surprise treat in the form of one of her special productions "Rhapsody in Blue," which was very colorful. Then she blinked back the tears and thanked everybody for their wholehearted good wishes and for making her feel like a real star.

John Gabriel Borkman At Orchid Gables Thursday, June 8

An experimental production of Henrik Ibsen's "John Gabriel Borkman" directed by Richard V. Morelli, staff member of the Pasadena Playhouse, opens June 8 at the Orchard Gables Repertory Theatre to play for a limited run of six weeks.

QUEEN of the Juke Boxes . . . Dinah Washington will headline the new show at the Club Oasis, Angel City welcomes the popular vocalist who returns to Los Angeles after an absence of more than three years.

MANTAN MORELAND . . . Top comedian now appearing on the Duffy's Tavern radio show. Mantán is also seen frequently on the TV reshooting of his old flickers.

Carter Guests On Sweet & Low

Benny Carter, "the Amazing Man of Music" will appear on the Sweet & Low show with his side-kick, Paul Vandervoort. The famous song writing team will be interviewed by D. J. Jack Low on this Thursday night show, (Sweet & Low runs Monday thru Saturday from 11:00 to 11:30 p.m. on KGFI).

Carter and Vandervoort have combined on disks for four different recording companies and have two songs in pictures to be released by Universal International and Twentieth Century Fox. Their biggest hit, "King Size Papa," recorded by Julia Lee for Capitol, sold over a half-a-million disks.

FRIGID

Dinah Queen of The Blues at Oasis Friday

Dinah Washington, "Queen of the Jukeboxes," opens at the Oasis, 3801 South Western, Friday night, June 9, for what is expected to be a most successful two week engagement.

Born Ruth Jones, 26 years ago in Tuscaloosa, Alabama, the singer with real feeling for the blues, was trained by her mother in Chicago at a very early age.

Winning contests at Chicago's Regal theatre and Savoy ballroom put ideas of a commercial carer into her head and although she was still in her third year of high school, she accepted a three week night club engagement.

In 1942 Ruth Jones' career ended and Dinah Washington's began. Jo Sherman, manager of Chicago's Garrick Lounge, changed her name while discussing advertising and billing for her engagement at his club. From there Dinah moved right on up that ladder to fame.

As Lionel Hampton's vocalist for three years, she earned $75 a week and now pays her chauffeur more than that. He Mercury recordings hit the million mark in record sales and while singing to an audience she has a curious way of seeming detached and absorbed in her song, yet holds her listeners as if by spiritual contact.

Also on the show at the Oasis is the Teddy Stewart combo, dancing Joel Turner and the Calvin Boze orchestra.

The Los Angeles Rams recently signed their first draft choice—fullback Ralph Pasuariello of Villanova—to a 1950 professional grid contract.
